E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PREL, TZ, US, WA, ZO, MZ, SF
SUBJECT: GENERAL WALTERS' MEETING WITH NYERERE

1. - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: OUR FEBRUARY 19 MEETING WITH PRESIDENT NYERERE BROKE NO NEW GROUND. NYERERE WAS A CORDIAL HOST THROUGHOUT AND OBVIOUSLY WANTS TO KEEP HIS RELATIONS WITH

US ON AN EVEN KEEL, BUT IN THE COURSE OF A RATHER CIRCULAR CONVERSATION HE ESPOUSED FAMILIAR POSITIONS ON NAMIBIA/ ANGOLA AND ADVANCED NO NEW IDEAS ON HOW THE PACE OF NEGOTIATIONS MIGHT BE ACCELERATED. END SUMMARY

3. I MET WITH PRESIDENT NYERERE AT MSASANI ON EARLY EVENING OF FEBRUARY 19. OTHERS ATTENDING INCLUDED FOREIGN MINISTER SALIM, PRESIDENTIAL ADVISORS JOAN WICKEN, JOSEPH BUTIKU, ANNAR CASSUM, AND ON OUR SIDE AMBASSADOR MILLER, DCM MACFARLANE, AND LCDR MARTINY. OUR DISCUSSION TURNED INITIALLY TO NAMIBIA/ ANGOLA--AND STAYED THERE FOR MOST OF THE 75 MINUTES.

4. NYERERE REHEARSED HIS STANDARD LINE ON ANGOLA, ARGUING THAT PREOCCUPATION WITH CUBAN WITHDRAWAL WAS SOLELY AN AMERICAN, NOT A SOUTH AFRICAN CONCERN--WHICH HE SAID HE HAD BEEN ABLE TO CONFIRM BOTH FROM SOUTH AFRICAN AND CONTACT GROUP SOURCES. I RESPONDED THAT THOSE WHO SO CONTENDED WERE WRONG. CUBANS IN ANGOLA REPRESENTED NO DIRECT THREAT TO THE U.S. ... AND, WHETHER THEY ADMITTED IT PUBLICLY OR NOT, THE CUBAN PRESENCE WAS INDEED OF GREAT CONCERN TO THE SOUTH AFRICANS. IF NYERERE WAS CORRECT IN HIS ANALYSIS, I SAID, HOW COULD ONE EXPLAIN THE FACT THAT THE ANGOLANS AND SOUTH AFRICANS HAVE STARTED [redacted]

MEETING--A PROCESS IN WHICH THE U.S. IS NOT A PARTICIPANT --AND COULD REACH A PEACE AGREEMENT WITH NO U.S. INVOLVE-MENT? IF THE SAG HAS NO CUBAN CONCERNS THEY COULD PRESS AHEAD TODAY. NYERERE HAD NO REJOINDER.

5. NYERERE AT VARIOUS POINTS REITERATED HIS EARLIER ARGUMENT THAT THE PROBLEMS OF SOUTHERN AFRICA WERE EXACERBATED BY U.S. SUPPORT OF SOUTH AFRICA (ALTHOUGH HE NEVER WENT SO FAR AS TO USE THE TERM "BLACKMAIL" WHICH SURFACED DURING HIS DECEMBER 27 CONVERSATION WITH THE AMBASSADOR). DRAWING ON HISTORICAL RECORD AND STATESIDE POLITICAL REALITIES, I SAID I COULD NOT ACCEPT THE PRO-POSITION THAT USG HAD TAKEN OR COULD TAKE SIDE OF SAG V. INDEPENDENT AFRICA, AND REITERATED THAT OUR COMMITMENT WAS TO SEE EARLIEST POSSIBLE IMPLEMENTATION OF RESOLUTION 435 AND PEACEFUL, WORKABLE REGIONAL SOLUTIONS. WE HAD NO QUARREL WITH THE PROPOSITION THAT SOUTH AFRICA WAS OCCUPYING NAMIBIA ILLEGALLY; PRACTICALLY, HOWEVER, THERE WOULD BE NO SETTLEMENT UNTIL ALL PARTIES-- INCLUDING SOUTH AFRICA--FELT THEIR FUNDAMENTAL INTERESTS SUFFICIENTLY PROTECTED. IN SOUTH AFRICA'S CASE, THIS MEANT CUBAN WITHDRAWAL.

6. NYERERE'S REJOINDER (AND HE STRESSED THAT HE WAS CONVEYING AN OFFICIAL ANGOLAN POSITION) WAS THAT (1) GOA

ACCEPTED PUBLICLY THE PRINCIPLE OF CUBAN DEPARTURE, AND (2) THAT THE CUBANS WOULD BEGIN LEAVING AS SOON AS SAG RROOPS WERE DOWN TO 1500 AND CONFINED TO BARRACKS, DURING PHASE III, BEFORE NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE. I SAID THAT WE HAD HEARD THIS FORMULATION BEFORE. IT WAS THE CLOSEST THING TO A NEW IDEA ADVANCED BY NYERERE ALL EVENING...BUT HE NEVER MOVED TO THE POINT OF A SPECIFIC TIMETABLE. ON FIVE OR SIX OCCASIONS,WHEN NYERERE CONCEDED OUR AGREEMENT ON BROAD OBJECTIVES, BUT NOT THE APPROACH THE USG HAD ADOPTED, WE PRESSED HIM FOR SPECIFIC IDEAS WHICH MIGHT ADVANCE THE PROCESS. ON EACH OCCASION,

HE HAD NOTHING TO OFFER AND MOVED THE CONVERSATION TO OTHER TOPICS.

7. I RAISED THE QUESTION OF POSSIBLE REFERRAL OF THE NAMIBIAN ISSUE TO THE UN SECURITY COUNCIL. I NOTED THAT THE SOUTH AFRICANS WOULD CERTAINLY REACT NEGATIVELY TO SUCH AN INITIATIVE, AND QUESTIONED HOW IT COULD--AGAIN, IN PRACTICAL TERMS--ADVANCE THE NAMIBIAN PEACE PROCESS. I ALSO RECALLED FOREIGN MINISTER BOTHA'S STATEMENT TO SECRETARY SHULTZ THAT THE CUBAN QUESTION IS THE LAST REMAINING PROBLEM IN THE WAY OF IMPLEMENTING 435. ALTHOUGH NYERERE IN THE PAST HAS EXPRESSED PROFOUND SKEPTICISM ABOUT THIS QUESTION, NYERERE DID NOT TAKE ISSUE WITH THE PROPOSITION.

8. MOZAMBIQUE. I REVIEWED THE RECENT HISTORY OF OUR BILATERAL RELATIONS WITH MOZAMBIQUE AND OUR EFFORTS TO PLAY A CONSTRUCTIVE ROLE IN FACILITATING BILATERAL CONTACTS BETWEEN MOZAMBIQUE AND SOUTH AFRICA. NYERERE'S REACTION TO THIS AT THE BUTIAMA MEETING WAS SHARPLY NEGATIVE, ARGUING THAT THE MOZAMBICANS WOULD NOT BE TALKING TO THE SAG AT ALL UNLESS THEY WERE FORCED TO DO SO BY WESTERN PRESSURES OR INDIFFERENCE. ON THIS OCCASION, HOWEVER, NYERERE SIMPLY DECLINED COMMENT.

9. OAU AND FLS MEETINGS. NYERERE DID NOT OFFER ANY CLUES ABOUT HIS APPROACH TO THE FORTHCOMING FLS MEETING IN LUSAKA. ON THE NAIROBI OAU MEETING, NYERERE SEEMED PLEASED BY THE DECISION TO CALL A CONFERENCE IN ADDIS "IN MAY OR JUNE" AND BY THE PROSPECTS THAT A QUORUM MIGHT BE MUSTERED PERMITTING A SATISFACTORY OUTCOME.

10. NYERERE SHOWED NO GIVE ON SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES OR HIS OWN PHILOSOPHICAL POSITION, BUT HE WAS CORDIAL THROUGHOUT. IT IS EVIDENT DESPITE OUR DISAGREEMENT ON IMPORTANT

QUESTIONS THAT OUR WORKING RELATIONSHIPS WITH HIS GOVERNMENT ARE GOOD AND HE WANTS THEM THAT WAY. AT THE END OF MEETING HE PRAISED AMBASSADOR MILLER AS"A GREAT AMBASSADOR." I REPLIED THAT I KNEW HE WAS, AND THAT WAS WHY OUR PRESIDENT HAD SENT HIM TO TANZANIA.
11. FOLLOWING MEETING WITH THE PRESIDENT, WE MET AT THE AMBASSADOR'S RESIDENCE WITH THE OTHER CONTACT GROUP AMBASSADORS. OUR SUMMARY OF THE MEETING WITH NYERERE WAS FOLLOWED BY SOME FAIRLY INCONCLUSIVE DISCUSSION OF THE "LINKAGE" QUESTION (THE DAR CG AMBASSADORS HAVE BEEN SUPPORTIVE ON THE CUBAN QUESTION BUT IT GIVES THEM SOME PROBLEMS LOCALLY). A COUPLE OF "NEW IDEAS" EMERGED: (1) THE CG SHOULD EXAMINE WHAT LIMITED PRACTICAL STEPS, WELL SHORT OF ECONOMIC SANCTIONS, MIGHT BE TAKEN TO PRESS FOR SAG COOPERATION ON NAMIBIA; (2)THE SAG OUGHT TO ENTER INTO A SERIOUS DIALOGUE WITH SAM NUJOMA, ON THE THEORY THAT HE IS LIKELY WINNER OF ANY FUTURE ELECTION AND WILL NEED TO COOPERATE WITH SOUTH AFRICA IN ANY EVENT.

12. COMMENT: THE PRINCIPAL PURPOSES OF MY DAR STOP WERE TO PERMIT NYERERE TO SPEAK HIS MIND AND TO REASSURE HIM PERSONALLY THAT THE USG CONTINUES TO ATTACH IMPORTANCE TO HIS VIEWS ON AFRICAN ISSUES. THE LATTER PURPOSE WAS SATISFACTORILY ACHIEVED. THE FIRST, HOWEVER, WAS LARGELY THWARTED BECAUSE NYERERE HAD VIRTUALLY NOTHING NEW TO OFFER ON PRACTICAL STEPS WHICH MIGHT ADVANCE OUR SHARED OBJECTIVES, AND PREFERRED TO LET ME DO MOST OF THE TALKING. IF YOU ACCEPT HIS BASIC PREMISES, HE IS A PERSUASIVE, IMPASSIONED AND FREQUENTLY A DISARMING AFRICAN SPOKESMAN. BUT I HEARD NOTHING THAT WOULD SUGGEST THAT, AT THE FORTHCOMING FLS MEETING, NYERERE WILL BE SHIFTING FROM ANY OF HIS STANDARD POSITIONS ON QUESTIONS OF CONCERN TO US.

13. GENERAL WALTERS REVIEWED FOREGOING PRIOR TO HIS DEPARTURE FOR NAIROBI.

1. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. BASED ON POLOFF'S CONVERSATION DURING THE PAST WEEK WITH OAU LIBERATION COMMITTEE ASSISTANT EXECUTIVE SECRETARY LABAN OYAKA (PROTECT), THE NEW YORK REPRESENTATIVE OF THE PAN AFRICANIST CONGRESS OF AZANIA GORA IBRAHIM (PRO-TECT), TANZANIAN FOREIGN MINISTER SALIM'S PERSONAL ASSISTANT (PROTECT), AND EGYPTIAN EMBASSY OFFICIALS (PROTECT), WE HAVE GATHERED A BETTER SENSE OF THE DYNAMICS AT THE FEBRUARY 10-12 MEETING IN ARUSHA OF THE OAU COORDINATING COMMITTEE FOR THE LIBERATION OF AFRICA. ALTHOUGH THERE WERE MINOR VARIATIONS IN THE ACCOUNTS SHARED BY THOSE IN ATTENDANCE, THE FOLLOWING POINTS WERE MENTIONED BY TWO OR MORE OF OUR SOURCES AND CAN BE USED TO SUPPLEMENT REPORTS REFTELS:
[redacted]

-- TANZANIAN FOREIGN MINISTER SALIM WAS ELECTED TO CHAIR THE MEETING AND RULED THE SESSIONS WITH A FIRM HAND, LIMITING DEBATE ON OCCASION AND ENSURING THAT ALL POINTS ON THE AGENDA WERE COVERED IN THE ALLOTTED PERIOD.

-- THE TOP PRIORITY FOR THE TANGOV APPEARED TO BE THAT THE MEETING RAN SMOOTHLY SO THAT A PRECEDENT COULD BE SET FOR THE VARIOUS FACTIONS OF THE OAU TO WORK TOGETHER ONCE AGAIN TOWARD SHARED GOALS. THE TANZANIANS HAD INSURED THAT THE POLISARIO WAS NOT IN ATTENDANCE AND THAT POTENTIALLY-DIVISIVE ISSUES WERE KEPT UNDER CONTROL. TANZANIA'S OBJECTIVES WERE MET IN THAT 21 MEMBER STATES OF THE LIBERATION COMMITTEE AND ELEVEN OTHERS AS OBSERVERS PARTICIPATED IN THE MEETING WITHOUT MAJOR DISRUPTION.

-- FOREIGN MINISTERS IN ATTENDANCE (TANZANIA, MOZAMBIQUE, ZAMBIA, NIGERIA, CAMEROON, AND ZIMBABWE, AS WELL AS THE KENYAN DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER) DOMINATED THE PROCEEDINGS. KODJO'S ROLE, AS WELL AS THAT OF OTHER OAU SECRETARIAT OFFICIALS, WAS KEPT TO A MINIMUM. ONE OBSERVER COMMENTED THAT KODJO WAS ON HIS BEST BEHAVIOR THROUGHOUT THE MEETING.

-- NIGERIAN FOREIGN MINISTER AUDU WAS PROBABLY THE MOST VOCAL OF DELEGATES. HE SURPRISED MANY BY THE VIRULENCE [redacted]

WITH WHICH HE ATTACKED THE U.S. ON SOUTHERN AFRICAN QUESTIONS. AUDU AND ZAMBIAN FOREIGN MINISTER GOMA WERE SAID TO HAVE BEEN THE KEY DRAFTERS IN THE HARSH COMMUNIQUE ISSUED AT THE CONCLUSION OF THE MEETING (REF B). SWAPO SECRETARY FOR FOREIGN RELATIONS MWESHINHANGA ALSO PLAYED A ROLE IN BEEFING UP THE COMMUNIQUE.

-- THE CALL IN THE COMMUNIQUE FOR AN IMMEDIATE SESSION OF THE UN SECURITY COUNCIL TO DISCUSS NAMIBIA FOLLOWED IN PART FROM A RECEPTION FOR THE DELEGATES HOSTED IN ARUSHA BY UN SECRETARY PEREZ DE CUELLAR. THE SECRETARY-GENERAL HAD INDICATED HIS WILLINGNESS TO HAVE THE UN PLAY A MORE ACTIVE ROLE AND SOME DELEGATES TOOK THIS AS AN INVITATION FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION BY THE UN.

-- THE AFRICA GROUP AT THE UN HAS BEEN NOTIFIED OF THE COMMUNIQUE'S CALL FOR AN IMMEDIATE SESSION OF THE UNSC. IT WILL BE THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE AFRICAN MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL TO IMPLEMENT THE LIBERATION COMMITTEE'S INSTRUCTIONS WITHOUT DELAY. OYAKA TOLD US THAT THE MAJORITY OF DELEGATES HOPED THAT THE SECURITY COUNCIL WOULD BE PERSUADED TO PASS A RESOLUTION REAFFIRMING UNSC 435 AND STRESSING THAT EXTRANEOUS ISSUES (I.E., LINKAGE) NOT BE USED TO DELAY IMPLEMENTATION OF 435.
-- THERE WAS AN ACTIVE DEBATE AS TO WHETHER SPECIFIC MENTION OR CONDEMNATION SHOULD BE MADE IN THE COMMUNIQUE OF THE CONTACT GROUP. IN THE END, NO REFERENCE WAS MADE. IT WAS APPARENT TO DELEGATES THAT THE CONTACT GROUP'S AND FLS' NEGOTIATING ROLES HAD BEEN EFFECTIVELY STYMIED BY THE CUBAN TROOP ISSUE WHICH WAS OUTSIDE THEIR PURVIEW. CON-

DEMNATION OF THE CONTACT GROUP AS A WHOLE WAS REJECTED AS COUNTER PRODUCTIVE IN THAT IT WAS ARGUED THAT THE OTHER CONTACT GROUP MEMBERS COULD BE THE MOST EFFECTIVE IN DISUADING THE U.S. FROM INSISTENCE ON LINKAGE.

-- A RESOLUTION ON NAMIBIA DRAWN MOSTLY FROM PREVIOUS OAU [redacted]

PRONOUNCEMENTS AND DRAFTED BY THE OAU SECRETARIAT WAS ADOPTED PRIOR TO CONSIDERATION OF THE COMMUNIQUE. THIS RESOLUTION WAS FAR LESS HARSH THAN THE COMMUNIQUE. IT "FIRMLY REJECTS AND CONDEMNS ALL ATTEMPTS BY THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION" TO ESTABLISH ANY LINKAGE BETWEEN THE CUBAN TROOPS IN ANGOLA AND THE ACHIEVEMENT OF INDEPENDENCE FOR NAMIBIA, BUT SIMPLY CALLS FOR THE UNSC "TO DISCHARGE ITS RESPONSIBILITIES."

-- THE WORDS "FRUSTRATED" AND "ANGRY" WERE REPEATEDLY USED BY OUR SOURCES TO CHARACTERIZE THE DISCUSSIONS ON NAMIBIA. NONE OF THE DELEGATES BROUGHT FORTH NEW SOLUTIONS, BUT THE PREDOMINANT VIEW WAS THAT THE CURRENT PATH WAS DOOMED TO FAILURE. DURING THE CLOSED SESSIONS, NOT ONE DELEGATE IS SAID TO HAVE SUGGESTED THAT THE U.S. WAS ACTING IN GOOD FAITH. THREE OF OUR SOURCES REMARKED THAT THE STRIDENCY OF THE DENUNCIATIONS OF THE U.S. WAS ALMOST UNMATCHED IN THEIR MEMORY OF OAU DELIBERATIONS ON SOUTHERN AFRICA. THERE WERE NO RESERVATIONS ON THE HARSH COMMUNIQUE.

-- THE ANGOLAN DELEGATION WAS HEADED BY ANGOLA'S AMBASSADOR IN DAR ES SALAAM, EUSEBIO S. JUNIOR. HE OFFERED ALMOST NO COMMENTS THROUGHOUT THE SOUTHERN AFRICAN DISCUSSIONS. AS OYAKA COMMENTED, "NO ONE KNEW WHETHER JUNIOR WAS SILENT BECAUSE HE KNEW WHAT WAS HAPPENING AND WAS TOLD NOT TO REVEAL IT...OR BECAUSE HE DIDN'T KNOW ANY MORE THAN THE REST OF US...AND NO ONE WANTED TO EMBARRASS JUNIOR BY ASKING." THE ANGOLAN DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER HAD BEEN SCHEDULED TO ATTEND THE MEETING BUT HAD FAILED TO SHOW AT THE LAST MINUTE. THE LACK OF ANGOLAN INPUT INTO THE DISCUSSIONS ADDED TO THE SENSE OF FRUSTRATION BY OTHER DELEGATES.

OCCURRED WHEN THE ANC AND PAC ARGUED OVER PROPOSED LANGUAGE FOR A RESOLUTION ON INTERNAL SOUTH AFRICA DEVELOPMENTS AND SPORTING LINKS. SALIM INSISTED THAT REPRESENTATIVES FROM BOTH ORGANIZATIONS JOINTLY AGREE ON LANGUAGE

WITH OTHER MEMBERS OF A DRAFTING COMMITTEE AND THAT THEIR DISPUTE BE KEPT OFF THE CONFERENCE FLOOR. TENSIONS WERE HIGH BETWEEN ANC DELEGATES HEADED BY TAMBO AND PAC REPRESENTATIVES. THIS EXTENDED TO SOCIAL EVENTS. THE TANZANIANS DID THEIR BEST TO INSURE THAT BOTH DELEGATIONS WERE TREATED EQUALLY AND WERE CRITICIZED FOR THIS PRIVATELY BY SEVERAL DELEGATIONS SYMPATHETIC TO THE ANC.

-- ALTHOUGH SOUTHERN AFRICAN ISSUES DOMINATED THE PROCEEDINGS, FRUSTRATIONS WERE ALMOST AS GREAT WHEN THE QUESTION OF OVERDUE ASSESSMENTS WAS DISCUSSED. A RESOLUTION CALLING FOR IMMEDIATE PAYMENT OF PAST-DUE CONTRIBUTIONS WAS PASSED. IT WAS DECIDED THAT PARTIAL PAYMENTS COULD BE MADE BY DONATIONS IN KIND. SEVERAL OFFICIALS INDICATED THAT, UNLESS MORE MONIES WERE RECEIVED SOON, THE OAU LIBERATION COMMITTEE WOULD BE REQUIRED TO CURTAIL ITS ACTIVITIES. CAMEROON FOREIGN MINISTER OUMAROU AMINOU MADE A SPECIAL APPEAL IN HIS CLOSING REMARKS THAT CONTRIBUTIONS BE BROUGHT UP TO DATE.

-- IN CONTRAST TO SEVERAL RECENT SESSIONS OF THE LIBERATION COMMITTEE, THERE WAS ALMOST NO DISCUSSION OF THE CANARY ISLANDS ISSUE.

-- NO DELEGATION OFFERED TO HOST THE NEXT SESSION. OYAKA SPECULATED THAT SALIM, AS CONFERENCE CHAIRMAN, AND HASHIM MBITA, AS OAU LIBERATION COMMITTEE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY, WOULD CALL FOR THE NEXT MEETING IN ABOUT SIX MONTHS. THERE WAS GENERAL AGREEMENT AMONG THOSE IN ATTENDANCE THAT EFFORTS SHOULD BE MADE TO ENSURE GREATER PARTICIPATION AT THE MINISTERIAL LEVEL IN FUTURE SESSIONS.

[redacted]

NIGERIAN VIEWPOINTS, IT WAS AGREED THAT THE US AND NIGERIA CAN AGREE TO DISAGREE ON THE TACTICAL ISSUES IN SOUTHERN AFRICA BUT NOT ON OUR ADHERENCE TO THE BASIC GOAL OF NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE. I WAS ASSURED THAT THE TOTALITY OF US-NIGERIAN RELATIONS IS MUCH LARGER THAN OUR DISAGREEMENT ON SOUTHERN AFRICA. I AM HOPEFUL THAT THE USEFUL MEETING REPRESENTS A CONTINUATION OF OUR DIALOGUE ON THE NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE PROCESS. END SUMMARY.

3. CURRENT STATE OF PLAY. IN MEETING 25 FEBRUARY WITH AMBASSADOR OLU JOLAOSO, DIRECTOR GENERAL FOR AFRICAN

AFFAIRS AT MINISTRY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS, I DISCUSSED THE CURRENT STATE OF PLAY IN SOUTHERN AFRICA, USING RELEVANT PARAGRAPHS REFTEL. JOLAOSO LISTENED QUIETLY, INTERRUPTING MY DISCUSSION AT THE POINT WHERE I ASSERTED THAT UNITA SEEMED TO BE STEPPING UP ITS ACTIVITIES IN ANGOLA WITHOUT NEW SOUTH AFRICAN SUPPORT. JOLAOSO CITED THE RECENT BOTHA STATEMENT IN WHICH HE ASSURED SOUTH AFRICAN SUPPORT TO "ANTI-COMMUNIST" MOVEMENTS IN SOUTHERN AFRICA. I TOLD JOLAOSO THAT OUR INFORMATION DID NOT INDICATE THAT BOTHA'S RHETORICAL POINT HAD BEEN TRANSLATED INTO ACTIONS. JOLAOSO SHRUGGED, BUT DID NOT PURSUE THE POINT.

4. THE LINKAGE PROBLEM. AT THE CONCLUSION OF MY PRESENTATION, JOLAOSO EXPRESSED RELIEF THAT FINALLY THE ANGOLANS ARE "SPEAKING FOR THEMSELVES". HE EMPHASIZED THAT NIGERIA'S POSITION ON ANGOLA AND THAT COUNTRY'S RELATIONS WITH THE CUBANS, THE AMERICANS AND THE SOUTH AFRICANS IS ONE OF SOLIDARITY WITH THE ANGOLANS. WHATEVER THE ANGOLANS WANT IS FINE WITH [redacted]

THE NIGERIANS. AT THIS POINT I REFERRED TO THE RECENT STATEMENTS BY PRESIDENT SHAGARI AND PROFESSOR AUDU WHICH NOT ONLY CAST DOUBT ON U.S. GOOD FAITH IN THE NEGOTIATIONS PROCESS BUT ALSO SEEMED TO PRESCRIBE SOLUTIONS ("NO LINKAGE") FOR THE ANGOLANS IN THEIR MANY-SIDED NEGOTIATIONS. I RECALLED FOR JOLAOSO OUR EARLIER UNDERSTANDING WHICH PROVIDED THE U.S. AND THE CONTACT GROUP THE OPPORTUNITY TO DEVELOP PRAGMATIC SOLUTIONS WHILE AGREEING ON A COMMON GOAL. AFTER REPEATING HIS EARLIER ASSERTION ON NIGERIA'S WILLINGNESS TO ACCEPT ANY SOLUTION SATISFACTORY TO THE ANGOLANS, JOLAOSO ASSERTED THAT IT IS THE CONSENSUAL VIEW OF THE FRONT LINE STATES AND NIGERIA THAT THE U.S. EMPHASIS ON LINKAGE HAS ESSENTIALLY CHANGED OVER THE LAST SEVERAL MONTHS. JOLAOSO NOTED THAT AT NO TIME HAVE THE FLS AND NIGERIA ACCEPTED THE LINKAGE. HE RECALLED THE FIRM LANGUAGE ON THAT POINT IN THE COMMUNIQUE SIGNED AT THE CONCLUSION OF THE VICE PRESIDENT'S VISIT. IN THE MEANTIME "LINKAGE" HAS SEEMINGLY MOVED FROM A "PARALLEL EFFORT" TO A "FIRM CONDITION". NIGERIA INSISTS THAT THE PRESENCE OF CUBAN TROOPS IN ANGOLA HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE.

5. CONTINUITY IN U.S. POLICY. AT THIS POINT, I ASSURED JOLAOSO THAT THE U.S. HAS NOT MISLED AFRICA IN ITS GOOD FAITH EFFORTS TO DEVELOP A SCENARIO FOR NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE. WE HAVE NEVER HIDDEN OUR OR RSA

CONCERN ABOUT THE PRESENCE OF CUBAN TROOPS, AND WE HAVE ALWAYS KEPT THE FLS AND NIGERIA INFORMED OF OUR PARALLEL STEPS TO RESOLVE THE COMPLICATED MIX OF PROBLEMS WHICH AFFECT THE NATIONAL SECURITY INTERESTS OF EACH OF THE COUNTRIES CONCERNED IN THE NAMIBIAN INDE-

PENDENCE PROCESS. WE HAVE CAREFULLY NOT USED THE WORD LINKAGE BUT PREFER TO LOOK AT IT AS A PRACTICAL PROBLEM AFFECTING THE SUCCESSFUL RESOLUTION OF THE NEGOTIATIONS FOR NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE. WE NOW FEEL RELATIVELY CERTAIN THAT WE HAVE AN UNDERSTANDING FOR SOUTH

AFRICAN WITHDRAWAL FROM NAMIBIA AND THAT THE ANGOLANS ARE WORKING DIRECTLY WITH SOUTH AFRICA ON THEIR CONCERNS. WE ARE NOW ONLY WAITING FOR THE ANGOLAN SCHEDULE FOR CUBAN WITHDRAWAL. WE REALIZE THAT THIS PRESENTS A NUMBER OF DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL PROBLEMS FOR PRESIDENT DOS SANTOS, AND WHILE WE REGRET THE DELAYS, WE BELIEVE THAT IT IS WORTH WAITING [redacted]

FOR THE ANGOLANS TO WORK THEIR PROBLEMS OUT.

6. JOLAOSO REPEATED HIS EARLIER ASSURANCES THAT THE VARIOUS BILATERAL NEGOTIATIONS, US-SOUTH AFRICA, US-ANGOLA, AND ANGOLA-SOUTH AFRICA, PRESENT NO PROBLEMS FOR NIGERIA. HOWEVER, NIGERIA CONTINUES TO VIEW THE LACK OF PROGRESS BY THE CONTACT GROUP IN DEVELOPING SOLUTIONS TO THE NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE ISSUE UNDER UNSC RES. 435 IS DUE ENTIRELY TO THE LINKAGE ISSUE. HE REFERRED TO THE CHORUS OF CONDEMNATION OF THE LINKAGE ISSUE FROM ALL OVER AFRICA AND DECLARED THAT SUCH UNIVERSAL DECLARATIONS SHOULD NOT BE IGNORED.

7. SOVIET/CUBAN TACTICS. I EXPRESSED SOME CONCERN AT THE WAY THIS CRESCENDO OF CRITICISM HAS DEVELOPED. WE FEEL WE HAVE KEPT THE AFRICAN STATES WELL INFORMED. DESPITE THIS, IT IS OBVIOUS THAT THE SOVIET UNION AND CUBA HAVE BEEN SUCCESSFUL IN MAKING THEIR CASE THROUGH THE AFRICAN STATES. JOLAOSO REJOINED IMMEDIATELY THAT NIGERIA HAS NOT BEEN TALKING ABOUT THE NAMIBIAN PROBLEM WITH THE SOVIET UNION. SO FAR AS NIGERIA IS CONCERNED, ITS POLICY REFLECTS NO SOVIET INFLUENCE. HE REPEATED THAT THE VIEW THAT LINKAGE HAD BLOCKED THE SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION OF THE NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE ISSUE IS A "PREVALENT PERCEPTION" QUITE INDEPENDENTLY DEVELOPED IN THE ABSENCE OF SOVIET INFLUENCE.

8. THE NEED FOR DIALOGUE. I NOTED SATISFACTION AT THE RESTATEMENT OF NIGERIA'S EARLIER POSITION INDICATING SUPPORT FOR ANY SOLUTION THAT WE CAN WORK OUT WITH THE ANGOLANS IS FINE WITH NIGERIA. I TOLD JOLAOSO THAT IF HIS COUNTRY IS SATISFIED THAT WE ARE WORKING TOWARD THE COMMON GOAL OF NAMIBIAN INDE- [redacted]

PENDENCE WE FIND IT STRANGE THAT NIGERIA'S PUBLIC STATEMENTS CALL INTO QUESTION OUR MOTIVATIONS IN PURSUING THE PROCESS. JOLAOSO REPORTED THAT THE PROTEST

DELIVERED IN WASHINGTON TO NIGERIAN AMBASSADOR, CHIEF A. Y. EKE, HAD BEEN RECEIVED IN LAGOS, AND THAT THE U.S. REACTIONS TO NIGERIAN PUBLIC COMMENTS HAD BEEN DISCUSSED "AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS". HE ASSURED ME THAT THERE WAS NO DESIRE TO CALL U.S. MOTIVES INTO QUESTION. HE HOPED THAT WE COULD AGREE THAT THE TOTALITY OF RELATIONS BETWEEN THE U.S. AND NIGERIA IS LARGER THAN THIS MATTER AND THAT WE CAN AGREE TO DISAGREE IN AREAS NOT RELATED TO OUR COMMON BASIC OBJECTIVES. IN INDICATING THAT I FIRMLY SHARED THIS POSITION, I EMPHASIZED THE NEED FOR CONTINUING CLOSE CONTACTS AND CONSULTATION BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES IN ORDER TO UNDERSTAND CLEARLY OUR POSITIONS. WE THEN WENT ON TO DISCUSS OTHER ISSUES WHICH WILL BE REPORTED SEPARATELY.

9. COMMENT: AS THE DEPARTMENT IS AWARE, THE NIGERIAN MINISTRY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS HAS BEEN NOTABLY UNAVAILABLE TO US ON ISSUES CONCERNING NAMIBIA IN RECENT MONTHS. I WOULD LIKE TO THINK THAT THIS MEETING WITH JOLAOSO REPRESENTS A RENEWAL OF THE CONTACT ON THE CRITICAL ISSUES CONCERNING THE NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE NEGOTIATIONS. IT SHOULD BE NOTED THAT MINISTER AUDU, IN A BRIEF INTERVIEW ON 27 FEBRUARY (BEING REPORTED SEPARATELY), TOOK A DECIDEDLY MODERATE LINE IN REPLY TO A NEWSMAN'S QUESTION ON NAMIBIA, INDICATING THAT PATIENCE IS NEEDED ("LATER LIBERATIONS BECOME HARDER AND HARDER..."). HE AVOIDED BLAMING THE U.S. OR THE CONTACT GROUP FOR THE LACK OF PROGRESS. WE HOPE THAT

JOLAOSO'S RELATIVE OPENNESS AND THE MINISTER'S MODERATION ARE INDICATIONS THAT THE NIGERIANS HAVE GOTTEN THE MESSAGE THAT WE ARE DISTURBED AT THE LEVEL OF CRITICAL POLEMIC WE HAVE BEEN HEARING FROM SENIOR OFFICIALS IN RECENT MONTHS. THE NIGERIANS ALSO HAVE BEEN WORKING TO GET THEIR MESSAGE ACROSS. AS YOU KNOW, THEY DISTRUST THE SOUTH AFRICANS ABSOLUTELY YND ABHOR THE IDEA OF CUBAN TROOP LINKAGE AS A "LATE STARTER" SERVING ONLY SOUTH AFRICAN AND U.S. INTERESTS AND DESIGNED TO HOLD UP THE INDEPENDENCE PROCESS. 2. SOME CONFUSION MAY HAVE ARISEN IN EMBASSIES OVER THE U.S. POSITION ON EL SALVADOR RESOLUTIONS BEFORE THE HRC. OUR POSITION IS TO SUPPORT THE CANADIAN DRAFT RESOLUTION, DESPITE SOME IMPERFECTIONS, PROVIDED THAT IT IS NOT AMENDED. WE ARE ACTIVELY WORKING TO DEFEAT AMENDMENTS WHICH MEXICO, SUPPORTED BY FRANCE, IS EXPECTED TO INTRODUCE. WE, OF COURSE, OPPOSE THE MEXICAN DRAFT RESOLUTION. U.S. SUPPORT FOR THE CANADIAN RESOLUTION IS A MAJOR SELLING POINT IN THAT SUCH SUPPORT COULD MAKE THE RESOLUTION, IF IT IS PASSED, MORE EFFICACIOUS IN LEADING TO

AN IMPROVED HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR. THE KEY VOTES WILL PROBABLY BE ON MEXICAN AMENDMENTS TO INTRODUCE POLITICAL ELEMENTS, WHICH, IF ADOPTED, WOULD CAUSE US TO VOTE AGAINST THE AMENDED CANADIAN RESOLUTION. PROCEDURAL VOTES MAY ALSO BE IMPORTANT, AND WE WILL NEED SUPPORT ON THESE AS WELL. IN PARTICULAR, WE ARE CONCERNED THAT THE MEXICANS MAY MOVE TO BRING THEIR RESOLUTION UP BEFORE THE CANADIAN RESOLUTION. (THE CANADIAN RESOLUTION HAS PRIORITY SINCE IT WAS PRESENTED FIRST, BUT THIS COULD BE REVERSED BY A MAJORITY VOTE.) WE SHOULD ASK GOVERNMENTS TO VOTE WITH US AGAINST SUCH PROCEDURAL MANEUVERS. VOTE IS EXPECTED MARCH 4 OR 7.

3. FOR TOKYO AND ISLAMABAD. IT SEEMS TO US WORTHWHILE TO CLARIFY OUR POSITION TO THE APPROPRIATE AUTHORITIES. WE HAVE EXPLAINED OUR POSITION TO JAPANESE AND PAKISTANI REPS HERE, BUT THEIR AUTHORITIES MAY NOT UNDERSTAND CORRECTLY.

4. FOR KIGALI. WE BELIEVE THAT A DEMARCHE WOULD BE IN ORDER, EMPHASIZING THE IMPORTANCE OF THE ISSUE TO US. WE WOULD HOPE FOR A YES VOTE, BUT CONTINUE TO EXPECT AN ABSTENTION.

5. FOR BEIJING. CHINESE ALTERNATE REP MA HAS INFORMED US THAT CHINA WILL ABSTAIN.

6. FOR BUENOS AIRES. ARGENTINE DELEGATION HAS INFORMED US THAT ARGENTINA WILL VOTE AGAINST THE CANADIAN RESOLUTION. BUT TO US THE CRITICAL VOTE WILL COME ON THE MEXICAN AMENDMENTS. IT MIGHT BE USEFUL TO POINT OUT TO GOA THAT IT IS IMPORTANT FOR ARGENTINA TO JOIN US IN VOTING

7. FOR KAMPALA. UGANDAN REP OTUNNU HAS POINTED OUT THAT HIS COUNTRY HAS IN THE PAST VOTED WITH MEXICO ON CENTRAL AMERICAN ISSUES. AS OUR RELATIONS WITH OTUNNU ARE EXCELLENT, WE SHALL PURSUE THE MATTER IN GENEVA AND ARE NOT ASKING FOR A DEMARCHE.
HOWEVER, COMMENTS ON THIS MATTER BY EMBASSY
KAMPALA WOULD BE APPRECIATED.

8. FOR NICOSIA. CYPRUS HAS IN THE PAST VOTED AGAINST US ON EL SALVADOR, BUT ONE MEMBER OF CYPRUS DEL SAID TO US THAT THEY HAD NEVER BEEN ASKED BY US TO TAKE A DIFFERENT POSITION.
REQUEST THOUGHTS OF EMBASSY NICOSIA ON WHETHER A DEMARCHE WOULD BE USEFUL OR WHETHER THIS ISSUE SHOULD BE PURSUED HERE.

1. C--ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF THE GOES HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION COMPLAINED LONG AND HARD TO POLOFFS ABOUT THE COMMISSION'S LACK OF SUPPORT AND AUTHORITY. END SUMMARY.

3. ON MARCH 8 POLOFFS LUNCHED WITH THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF THE GOES HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, BENJAMIN CESTONI, AND THE DIRECTOR FOR INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND HUMAN RIGHTS AT THE FOREIGN [redacted]

MINISTRY, SARA DE MOSIGLIA. CESTONI TOLD POLOFFS OF THE FRUSTRATION HE AND SOME OF THE OTHER EMPLOYEES AND MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION FEEL OVER THEIR LACK OF AUTHORITY AND SUPPORT. ALTHOUGH FORMED OVER THREE MONTHS AGO (DECEMBER 1), CESTONI CLAIMED THE COMMISSION STILL LACKS THE RESOURCES AND AUTHORITY TO DO ITS JOB. FOR EXAMPLE, THE COMMISSION HAS NO VEHICLES, AND ONLY BORROWED TYPEWRITERS. MINISTER OF THE PRESIDENCY DR. FRANCISCO GUERRERO "LENDS" CESTONI MONEY FROM THE CASA PRESIDENCIAL BUDGET TO PAY SALARIES AND EXPENSES. MORE IMPORTANTLY, THE COMMISSION STILL LACKS REAL AUTHORITY -- CESTONI SAID COMMISSION PRESIDENT FATHER FREDDY DELGADO COULD NOT EVEN GET INTO THE PRISON IN COJUTEPEQUE RECENTLY. CESTONI BLAMED THESE PROBLEMS ON THE LACK OF GOVERNMENTAL INTEREST AND SUPPORT, AND ON THE POORLY COORDINATED AND UNDER-BUDGETED SALVADORAN BUREAUCRACY. CESTONI POINTED OUT AS AN EXAMPLE THAT COMMISSION MEMBERS WERE NOT EVEN INVITED TO ACCOMPANY THE REST OF THE GOVERNMENT IN RECEIVING THE POPE ON MARCH 6, UNTIL HE HAD WRANGLED AN ELEVENTH HOUR INVITATION. THIS WAS IN SPITE OF THE FACT THAT HUMAN RIGHTS WAS ONE OF THE POPE'S MAIN THEMES ON HIS VISIT TO CENTRAL AMERICA. (NOTE: ALTHOUGH CESTONI NEVER SAID SO OUTRIGHT, THE PROBLEM OF THE COMMISSION'S LACK OF AUTHORITY IS SPECIFIC: IT HAS NO SPECIFIC AUTHORITY OVER THE MILITARY, EVEN THOUGH NATIONAL POLICE DIRECTOR COL. LOPEZ NUILA IS A COMMISSION MEMBER. THE INVESTIGATION OF DISAPPEARANCES ALMOST INEVITABLY INCLUDES THE POSSIBILITY OF ARMED FORCES INVOLVEMENT, AND IN SOME CASES LEADS TO SPECIFIC UNITS OR HEADQUARTERS. ON OTHER OCCASIONS COMMISSION [redacted]

MEMBERS HAVE TOLD EMBOFFS OF SEVERAL OCCASIONS WHEN THEY WERE NOT PERMITTED ENTRY TO ARMED FORCES FACILITIES OR WERE MET WITH BLANK DENIALS FROM COMMANDERS WHILE INVESTIGATING CASES.)

4. CESTONI'S BLEAK PICTURE OF THE COMMISSION'S OPERATION AND SUPPORT MOVED FOREIGN MINISTRY OFFICIAL MOSIGLIA TO COMMENT THAT THE COMMISSION IS REALLY JUST A FARCE. CESTONI DID NOT ARGUE. MOSIGLIA LAMENTED THE COMMISSION'S "LACK OF CREDIBILITY."

SHE SAID THE COMMISSION HAS DONE LITTLE TO HELP IMPROVE EL SALVADOR'S INTERNATIONAL IMAGE. FOR EXAMPLE, THE FOREIGN MINISTRY WAS DELUGED WITH LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS FOLLOWING THE FMLN TAKEOVER OF BERLIN IN EARLY FEBRUARY. THERE WAS ONE IMPORTANT ISSUE IN ALL OF THE INQUIRIES: ALLEGED AIR FORCE BOMBARDMENT OF THE CITY AND THE CIVILIAN POPULATION.. SHE NOTED THAT THE COMMISSION WAS QUICK TO GO TO BERLIN AND DENOUNCE GUERRILLA ATROCITIES, BUT THEIR REPORT DID NOT EVEN MENTION THE ALLEGED BOMBARDMENT. CESTONI READILY RECOGNIZED THE PROBLEM, AND BLAMED IT ON "DIFFERENCES OF OPINION AMONG COMMISSION MEMBERS" (READ: SOME MEMBERS' OBJECTIVITY IS QUESTIONABLE.) HE SAID HE SOMETIMES GIVES MONSIGNOR DELGADO FACTS ON A CASE, BUT DELGADO THEN "CHANGES THE FACTS AND SAYS WHAT HE WANTS." FOR EXAMPLE, CESTONI SAID HE HAD GIVEN DELGADO BACKGROUND ON THE RECENT SONSONATE MASSACRE, HOWEVER, IN STATEMENTS TO THE PRESS DELGADO VAGUELY ATTRIBUTED THE KILLINGS TO GUERRILLAS. (MEMBERS OF THE FOREIGN PRESS CONFIRMED THIS TO POLOFF.) CESTONI SAID HE HAS EVEN GONE SO FAR AS TO CAUTION MONSIGNOR DELGADO TO MAKE CLEAR TO THE PRESS WHETHER HE IS SPEAKING FOR THE

5. CESTONI ALSO COMPLAINED THAT THE COMMISSION KEEPS A TIGHT REIN ON HIS ACTIVITIES, AND DOES NOT ALLOW HIM TO SPEAK PUBLICLY FOR THE COMMISSION. HE REFERS PRESS INQUIRIES TO FATHER DELGADO, OCCASIONING THE PROBLEMS REPORTED ABOVE. CESTONI, WHO IS A SELF-AVOWED "RIGHTIST," SAID: "I HAVE THOUGHT OF SPEAKING OUT OR EVEN RESIGNING SEVERAL TIMES. I HAVE NOT DONE SO FOR TWO REASONS: FIRST, BECAUSE I WANT TO HELP MY GOVERNMENT, AND SECOND, BECAUSE I DO NOT WANT TO RISK BECOMING A HUMAN RIGHTS CASE MYSELF."

6. CESTONI SAID THAT THERE IS ONLY ONE WAY TO [redacted]

NOT A "TOY" (JUGUETE).

7. CESTONI SAID SOME OF HIS RESOURCE PROBLEMS WILL BE ALLEVIATED SOON WHEN THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY APPROVES THE COMMISSION'S BUDGET OF 703,668 COLONES (APPROX. 180,427 DOLLARS AT THE LEGAL PARALLEL MARKET RATE OF 3.9 COLONES EQUALS 1 DOLLAR). ACCORDING TO CESTONI, THE BUDGET ALLOWS 120,000 COLONES (APPROX. 31,026 DOLLARS) FOR PUBLIC RELATIONS AND PUBLICITY AND 25,000 COLONES (APPROX. 6,410 DOLLARS) FOR VEHICLES. HE POINTED OUT THAT THIS WILL NOT BE NEARLY ENOUGH MONEY TO ENABLE THE COMMISSION TO FUNCTION IN A CREDIBLE, EFFECTIVE MANNER.

8. THE COMMISSION NOW CONSISTS OF THE SEVEN COMMISSION MEMBERS AND A SECRETARIAT COMPOSED OF AN EXECUTIVE SECRETARY (CESTONI), 3 LAW STUDENTS, 3 SECRETARIES, 1 STATISTICIAN, 1 DRIVER, AND 1 MESSENGER. THE COMMISSION HAS AMPLE OFFICE SPACE IN THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S NEW OFFICE BUILDING. THE COMMISSION MEETS TWICE A WEEK, ON TUESDAYS AND THURSDAYS AT 12:30 P.M. A QUORUM IS ESTABLISHED WITH FOUR MEMBERS. CESTONI SAID ALL SEVEN MEMBERS ARE CONSCIENTIOUS ABOUT ATTENDANCE. THE COMMISSION SECRETARIAT IS OPEN ALL DAY FIVE DAYS A WEEK TO TAKE COMPLAINTS AND TESTIMONY.

Dear Senator Riegle:

Thank you for your letter of March 14, 1983 concerning the arrest and detention of Ms. Maria Cecilia Rodriguez Araya of Chile.

Maria Cecilia Rodriguez Araya, a regional coordinator of the Association of Families of Disappeared Persons, was arrested by police at Santiago's international airport on February 2. She was traveling to Madrid to attend a meeting of the organization. On February 11 an investigating judge formally charged her with infraction of Article 4, Section G of the Law on Internal Security. This section of the law prohibits the dissemination of false information detrimental to the government. Authorities allege that Ms. Rodriguez was carrying anti-government propaganda to the human rights conference in Spain.

We understand that the investigating judge of the Court of Appeals has concluded his preliminary inquiry into the case. Attorneys for the Vicariate of Solidarity, a church organization involved in the protection of human rights, are representing Ms. Rodriguez. Bail was approved for Ms. Rodriguez on March 14 and she has been released from detention. The case is continuing in the judicial process and her trial can be expected in the not too distant future.

We have expressed our concern about this case to the Chilean Embassy here in Washington. We also have asked our Embassy in Santiago to raise the matter with appropriate Chilean officials and to keep us informed concerning significant developments.

With cordial regards,

Sincerely,

Thomas O. Enders

1. [redacted] ENTIRE TEXT.

2. FOLLOWING IS TEXT OF BRITISH REPORT ON FEBRUARY 26 MEETING BETWEEN FCO ASSISTANT UNDER SECRETARY SQUIRE AND UN SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE AHTISAARI, AT WHICH SQUIRE CONVEYED CONTACT GROUP RESPONSE TO SYG PEREZ DE CUELLAR, AGREED AT FEBRUARY 24-25 AFRICA DIRECTORS MEETING IN OTTAWA. ADDRESSEES SHOULD PROTECT NOFORN STATUS OF THIS REPORT.

3. BEGIN TEXT:

AHTISAARI TOOK A PRECISE NOTE OF THE FIVE'S TALKING POINTS DRAFTED IN OTTAWA, AND PROMISED TO CONVEY THEM TO THE SECRETARY GENERAL BEFORE THE LATTER'S DEPARTURE FOR DELHI.

AHTISAARI SAID THAT PEREZ DE CUELLAR HAD MET THE SOUTH AFRICAN PERMANENT REPRESENTATIVE ON 24 AND 25 FEBRUARY. IN THE FIRST MEETING, HE HAORTED HIS IMPRESSIONS FROM IN THE FIRST MEETING, HE HAD REPORTED HIS IMPRESSIONS FROM HIS AFRICAN TOUR. HE HAD NO PROBLEM WITH THE CURRENT SERIES OF BILATERAL TALKS (I.E., BOTH THE US/ANGOLA AND SOUTH AFRICAN/ANGOLAN DIALOGUES) BUT STRESSED THE ANGOLANS' DIFFICULTY IN DISCUSSING CUBAN WITHDRAWAL WHILE THE SADF CONTINUED TO OCCUPY SOUTHERN ANGOLA. HE HAD TOLD VON SCHIRNDING THAT THE THREE MAIN PROBLEMS IN HIS VIEW REMAINED SOUTH AFRICAN DESTABILISATION (INCLUDING

ECONOMIC INTERFERENCE), APARTHEID AND LINKAGE. IN REPLY VON SCHIRNDING HAD SAID THAT THE SOUTH AFRICANS WERE CONCERNED TO PREVENT INCURSIONS FROM NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES INTO BOTH NAMIBIA AND SOUTH AFRICA. HE HAD CONFIRMED PRESS REPORTS OF INDIFFERENT PROGRESS IN THE CAPE VERDE TALKS, WHICH HAD BEEN PUT BADLY AT RISK BY RECENT INCREASED SWAPO ACTIVITY. HE HAD REPEATEDLY STRESSED THAT CUBAN WITHDRAWAL REMAINED THE PRINCIPAL BLOCK TO A SETTLEMENT. (WE SUGGESTED THAT THE SECRETARY GENERAL SHOULD PASS ON TO THE FRONT LINE THIS CLEAR EVIDENCE THAT CUBAN WITHDRAWAL REMAINED A SOUTH AFRICAN PRE-CONDITION.)

ON 25 FEBRUARY, VON SCHIRNDING TOLD THE SECRETARY GENERAL THAT THE SOUTH AFRICAN GOVERNMENT HAD ORIGINALLY INTENDED TO SEND THREE CABINET MINISTERS TO CAPE VERDE. THE DECISION HAD BEEN CHANGED BECAUSE OF THE UNACCEPTABLE LARGE-SCALE SWAPO INCURSION INTO NAMIBIA. IT WAS INCONCEIVABLE THAT AN ATTACK INVOLVING 800 PEOPLE IN 12 TO 14 GROUPS COULD HAVE TAKEN PLACE WITHOUT THE KNOWLEDGE OF THE ANGOLAN GOVERNMENT. NEVERTHELESS, THE SOUTH AFRICANS HAD SENT A DELEGATION TO THE MEETING. THIS INDICATED THAT THEY WERE SERIOUSLY LOOKING FOR A WAY TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM. THEY HAD MADE CLEAR THAT THE ANGOLANS SHOULD EXERCISE MAXIMUM RESTRAINT OVER SWAPO, AND HAD SUGGESTED THAT THIS SHOULD BE DISCUSSED AT THE FURTHER MEETING WHICH THE TWO SIDES AGREED TO HOLD. THE SOUTH AFRICANS HADSED TO DISCUSS THE MATTERS PREVIOUSLY ON THE AGENDA FOR THE CAPE VERDE MEETING. VON SCHIRNDING AGAIN SAID TO THE SECRETARY GENERAL THAT SCR 435 COULD NOT BE IMPLEMENTED UNTIL SUCH TIME AS THE CUBANS LEFT ANGOLA. THE SECRETARY GENERAL TOLD VON SCHIRNDING THAT HE WOULD TRY TO SPEAK TO DOS SANTOS IN DELHI: AND THAT HE WISHED TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH THE SOUTH AFRICANS, AND NOT SURPRISE THEM WITH NEW IDEAS.

AHTISAARI INDICATED THAT THE UN SECRETARIAT'S THINKING ON ANY ROLE THAT THE SECRETARY-GENERAL MIGHT PLAY IN HELPING

TO INTRODUCE MORE FLEXIBILITY INTO THE NEGOTIATIONS WAS STILL AT A VERY PRELIMINARY STAGE. NO DECISIONS HAD YET BEEN TAKEN. THE SECRETARY GENERAL'S AFRICAN TOUR HAD CREATED CERTAIN EXPECTATIONS: BUT HAD HAD THE BENEFIT OF ESTABLISHING A CLOSE RAPPORT BETWEEN PEREZ DE CUELLAR AND THE FRONT LINE STATES. SQUIRE SAID THE FIVE'S AGREED TALKING POINTS, THOUGH GENERAL, REFLECTED A CAREFUL REVIEW OF THE PRESENT SITUATION AND THE CURRENT STATE OF THE NEGOTIATIONS. ON THE POSSIBILITY OF A UN ROLE, AHTISAARI SUGGESTED THAT IF THE CAPE VERDE TALKS HAD FAILED AS A RESULT OF SWAPO INFILTRATION, THERE WAS PERHAPS A NEED FOR THE INVOLVEMENT OF AN OUTSIDE PARTY. SQUIRE REPLIED THAT WE NEEDED A CLEAR ASSESSMENT OF THE RESULTS OF CAPE VERDE. THE TIMING OF ANY MOVE TO BRING MATTERS TO A HEAD - WHETHER BY THE US, THE SECRETARY GENERAL, THE FIVE OR OTHERS - WAS CRITICALLY IMPORTANT. IN PARTICULAR, WE WOULD HAVE TO TAKE CARE TO WORK WITH THE TIDE IN ANGOLA. BUT, SO LONG AS DIRECT CONTACTS CONTINUED, OUTSIDE INVOLVEMENT WAS UNNECESSARY AND COULD BE HARMFUL. AHTISAARI EXPRESSED CONCERN THAT THE ANGOLANS MIGHT BE READY TO MOVE LONG BEFORE THE SOUTH AFRICANS. HE WAS WORRIED ABOUT THE POSSIBILITY OF A LONG DELAY BEFORE THE SOUTH AFRICANS WERE PREPARED TO GO AHEAD WITH IMPLEMENTATION.

AHTISAARI THOUGHT THAT THE SECRETARY GENERAL HAD SECURED A DEGREE OF SOUTH AFRICAN CONFIDENCE IN HIS IMPARTIALITY. THE SOUTH AFRICANS HAD PAID CAREFUL ATTENTION TO HIS ROLE IN THE FALKLANDS CRISIS. SQUIRE SAID THAT IT WAS VERY IMPORTANT FOR THE SECRETARY GENERAL TO PRESERVE THE EVEN-HANDEDNESS WHICH HAD CHARACTERISED HIS CONVERSATIONS IN AFRICA.

AHTISAARI SAID THAT THE SECRETARY GENERAL WOULD BE BACK

[redacted]

IN NEW YORK FROM ABOUT 10 TO 27 MARCH (BEFORE GOING ON TOUR FOR A FURTHER SIX WEEKS). HE AGREED THAT IT MIGHT BE USEFUL TO HOLD A FURTHER MEETING WITH PERMANENT REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FIVE DURING THIS PERIOD, THOUGH A FIRM DECISION COULD ONLY BE TAKEN NEARER THE TIME.

END TEXT.

EIGHT DAYS AFTER, TWO WELL-ARMED MEN IN OLIVE-GREEN FATIGUES FORCED TWO CAMPESINOS TO LEAD THEM TO MARCIAL CACERES, CIVIL FORCE (FUERZA CIVIL) COMMANDER OF THE LAS HOJAS CANTON (QUARTER OR REGION). THEY THEN PROCEEDED TO BEAT UP CACERES (NOT SEVERELY), WHO DECIDED TO ACCUSE THE COOPERATIVE MEMBERS.
4. ACCORDING TO ALEMAN'S SOURCES, CACERES THEN JOINED FORCES WITH LANDOWNER ALFONSO ARAUS AGUIRRE. ARAUS HAD RECENTLY FAILED TO GET THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE OF SAN ANTONIO DEL MONTE TO GRANT HIM THOROUGHFARE RIGHTS THROUGH LAS HOJAS CO-OP LAND. MARIO PEREZ, FRUSTRATED IN AN ATTEMPTED RAPE ON THE DAUGHTER OF ONE OF THE COOPERATIVE MEMBERS, ALSO JOINED THE ANTI-LAS HOJAS GROUP. THESE INDIVIDUALS SENT REPORTS TO THE CIVIL DEFENSE COMMANDER AND TO THE COMMANDER OF THE JAGUAR BATTALION OF SONSONATE DEPARTMENT (COL. ELMER GONZALEZ). THESE REPORTS DENOUNCED THE MAJORITY OF COOPERATIVE MEMBERS AS SUBVERSIVES.

5. ACTING ON THE TWO REPORTS, 200 MEN UNDER CAPTAIN FIGUEROA MORALES OF THE JAGUAR BATTALION CARRIED OUT AN OPERATION IN THE FOLLOWING CANTONS: EL JOBO, SANTA EMILIA, AGUA SANTA, LA RAMPLA, SAL RAJA, AND, OF COURSE, LAS HOJAS.

THE GUESTS WERE: MARIA JULIA HERNANDEZ, SECRETARY OF THE ARCHBISHOPRIC COMMISSION OF JUSTICE AND PEACE; PEDRO RAMOS, EL SALVADOR HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (CDHES); BORIS MARTINEZ, SOCORRO JURIDICO; AND RICARDO STEIN, UNIVERSITY CENTER FOR DOCUMENTATION AND INFORMATION (CUDI) OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN UNIVERSITY (UCA) (CUDI IS NOT A HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION PROPER, BUT MONITORS THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION AS AN INFORMATION CLEARING HOUSE.)

THE HUMAN RIGHTS REPRESENTATIVES WERE ESSENTIALLY UNIFIED IN THEIR OPINION AND ESPECIALLY IN THEIR OPPOSITION TO U.S. POLICY AND THE JUSTIFICATIONS FOR IT WHICH THE AMBASSADOR PUT FORTH.

5. THROUGHOUT THE CONVERSATION, EACH GUEST PRESENTED A COMPLEMENTARY ARGUMENT FOR HALTING U.S. MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO EL SALVADOR AND FOR NEGOTIATING WITH THE FDR/FMLN HERNANDEZ, SPEAKING FOR THE ARCHBISHOPRIC, PUT HER ARGUMENTS IN AN ECCLESIASTICAL FRAMEWORK, ADVOCATING NEGOTIATIONS TO ATTAIN PEACE AND SOCIAL JUSTICE. STEIN, SPEAKIN AS A SOCIAL SCIENTIST, COUCHED HIS ADVOCACY IN RELATIVELY SOPHISTICATED ACADEMIC ANALYSIS. RAMOS, SPEAKING FOR THE ADAMANTLY ANTI-GOVERNMENT CDHES, ARGUED FOR NEGOTIATIONS TO BRING ABOUT "STRUCTURAL CHANGES THROUGH SHIFTING BLOCS IN POWER," A PURELY MARXIST ANALYSIS. MARTINEZ, WHOSE SOCORRO JURIDICO HAS BEEN THE MOST OPENLY HOSTILE TO THE EMBASSY AND U.S. POLICY, REMAINED VIRTUALLY SILENT THROUGHOUT THE MEETING.

CRIMES BY THE SOLDIERY RANGE FROM RAPE AND ROBBERY TO CAPRICIOUSLY CLEARING BARS OF CUSTOMERS AT GUNPOINT. ABUSES OF THIS TYPE ARE MORE COMMON IN VILLAGES AND TOWNS SURROUNDING SAN VICENTE (SANTA CLARA, SAN ILDEFONSO, SAN ESTEBAN CATARINO, ETC.). THESE ARE MUNICIPALITIES WHERE THE SAN VICENTE BRIGADE DETACHES TROOPS WHICH ARE RELIEVED EVERY TWO WEEKS OR SO. IN THE MEANTIME, THESE TROOPS REMAIN OUT OF CONTROL AND DO WHAT THEY PLEASE.
[redacted] LABOFF ABOUT A POOR FARMER IN SAN ESTEBAN CATARINO WHO WAS CRIPPLED FOR LIFE WHEN A SOLDIER SHOT HIM WITH AN M-16 AFTER AN EXTORTION ATTEMPT FAILED.

4. [redacted] SAID THAT THE PREVIOUS COMMANDER, COL. NAPOLEON ALVARADO, KEPT THE ARMY UNDER STRICTER DISCIPLINE. IT NOW ACTS AS IF IT HAS THE RUN OF THE PLACE. [redacted] FEELS THAT NOTHING CAN BE EXPECTED FROM THE NEW COMMANDER, COL. CISNEROS, AND THAT SAN VICENTE IS BACKSLIDING IN ITS RELATIONSHIP WITH THE ARMY. BY LATE '82 THE PEOPLE HAD FINALLY BECOME SICK OF THE GUERRILLAS AND COL. ALVARADO WAS APPROACHABLE AND FORTHCOMING WITH THE CIVILIAN AUTHORITIES. [redacted] CANNOT FIGURE OUT WHY DEFMIN GARCIA REPLACED ALVARADO AT ALL. [redacted] HAS BEEN UNABLE TO GAIN ACCESS TO CISNEROS OR DEVELOP A WORKING RELATIONSHIP WITH THE COMMANDER.

5. CISNEROS HAS ALSO REFUSED TO RELEASE A NUMBER OF SCHOOL-AGE ADOLESCENTS HE RECENTLY ORDERED FORCIBLY IMPRESSED INTO THE ARMY. THE CONCERNED AND OUTRAGED PARENTS HAVE ASSIDUOUSLY PETITIONED THE CIVILIAN [redacted]

AUTHORITIES BUT NO ONE HAS BEEN ABLE TO CONVINCE CISNEROS TO RETURN THE CHILDREN. ACCORDING TO [redacted] CISNEROS IS A DANGEROUS ALCOHOLIC WHO CAN BE EXPECTED TO REACT VIOLENTLY AND IRRATIONALLY. HE ALSO FAVORS WRONG-HEADED SUBORDINATES WHO CARRY OUT ALL SORTS OF ABUSES. [redacted] BASICALLY FEARS THAT THE ARMY WILL START KILLING CAMPESINOS IF CISNEROS IS NOT TRANSFERRED SOON.

6. [redacted] TOLD LABOFF THAT

ALSO COMPLAINED THAT CISNEROS HAS BEEN USING PROPERTY TO QUARTER HIS TROOPS WITHOUT THE CIVIL ORITIES' PERMISSION.

RELATIONS BETWEEN THE CAMPESINOS AND THE ARMY.

EXPLAINED RELATIONS BETWEEN THE CAMPESIONS AND THE ARMY HAVE R BEEN VERY GOOF IN SAN VICENTE. THEY ARE NOW DEDLY WORSE. THE CAMPESINOS CLAIM THAT THEY HAVE AIRED OF SEEKING RELIEF FROM ABUSES, SUCH AS RAPE, H ARE NOW COMMONPLACE. ACCORDING TO THE CAMPESINO N, THE ARMY IN SAN VICENTE CONTINUES TO ACTIVELY SE THE CLAIMING OF LAND UNDER DECREE 207 OF THE RIAN REFORM (LAND TO THE TILLER PROGRAM). DUE TO HIS NUMEROUS ABUSES OF AUTHORITY, HE IS NOW LOCAL COMMANDER OF QUEZALTEPEQUE. BOTH ALSO CRITICIZED THE NOROTIOUS LOCAL COMMANDER OF TECOLUCA, REPORTEDLY A MAN WITH A VISCERAL HATRED OF CAMPESINOS.

B. CIVILIAN DEFENSE UNITS.

ACCORDING TO BOTH PRACTICALLY ALL THE SAN VICENTE MUNICIPALITIES COMPLAIN OF THE COST OF MAINTAINING THE CIVIL DEFENSE GROUPS. MOST OF THESE AREAS DEPEND ON AGRICULTURE FOR 75 PERCENT OF THEIR PROCEEDS AND HAVE DIFFICULTY MAKING ENDS MEET DUE TO VIOLENCE AND GUERRILLA THEFT. THEY ARE ALSO AFFECTED BY THE DECIDEDLY UNDIPLOMATIC WAY THE CIVILIAN DEFENSE DUES COLLECTORS GO ABOUT THEIR BUSINESS. THEIR TACTICS INCLUDE DEMANDS MADE AT GUNPOINT, AND OUTRIGHT THEFT. 9. VIOLENCE AND SUBVERSION

SAN ESTEBAN CATARINO, A VILLAGE ONLY 7 KMS. AWAY FROM SAN VICENTE, WAS TAKEN OVER BY GUERRILLAS FROM 1600 HOURS ON 3/27 UNTIL DAWN THE FOLLOWING DAY.

[redacted] THE GUERRILLAS SACKED THREE SAN ESTEBAN BUILDINGS AND CAPTURED CIVIL DEFENSE WEAPONS. [redacted] THAT THE GUERRILLAS ARE RETURNING TO POSITIONS THEY PREVIOUSLY HELD IN THE ENVIRONS OF SAN VICENTE, AND SAN ESTEBAN IS A VULNERABLE SPOT. SAN VICENTE HAS ALWAYS RECEIVED A LOT OF ATTENTION FROM THE GUERRILLAS. OF THE SIX LOCAL CAMPESINO COOPERATIVES ONLY TWO ARE ABLE TO SHOW A CLEAR PROFIT. OTHERS WERE DENIED CREDIT BY THE AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT BANK (BFA). (THEY DEFAULTED ON A LARGE LOAN DUE TO THE THEFT OF CATTLE AND PRODUCE BY THE GUERRILLAS.)

10. CURRENT AND ONGOING ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

THE ENDLESS STREAM OF DISPLACED PERSONS WHO ARRIVE IN SAN VICENTE HAS EXACERBATED THIS DEPARTMENT'S ALREADY ENDEMIC OVERPOPULATION, UNEMPLOYMENT, WELFARE AND HEALTH PROBLEMS. THE CITY IS SEEKING CREDITS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A NEW MARKET AND IT ALSO WANTS TO REBUILD THE SAN VICENTE HOSPITAL (BUILT CIRCA 1820). [redacted] PET PROJECT IS TO OBTAIN AID TO GIVE THE CITY A MACHINE THAT MAKES BRICKS -- THEY ALREADY HAVE ALL THE BASIC MATERIALS. [redacted] COMPLAINED

[redacted]

[redacted] HAS NO VOICE IN AID PROJECTS AND THAT THEIR VIEWS ON PRIORITY NEEDS ARE NOT TAKEN INTO CONSIDERATION. [redacted] POINTED OUT THAT THERE ARE MANY STRAY CHILDREN AND ADULTS IN THE CITY NOW AND HEALTH PROBLEMS ARE BECOMING SERIOUS. DUE TO THE INFLUX OF DISPLACED PERSONS, EVEN THE SAN VICENTE POOR FACED BY THIS NEW COMPETITION FOR WELFARE -- ARE NOW WORSE OFF. BOTH [redacted] SEE THE NEED TO GENERATE JOBS AND MAKE THE ECONOMIC PRODUCE. THEY SEE THE PRESENT SITUATION FOSTERINGAN UNHEALTHY DEPENDENCE ON WELFARE MEASURES AND GENERAL DISCONTENT

11. COMMENT

UNDER AID PROJECT 519-028 HEALTH AND JOBS FOR DISPLACED PERSONS, AID HAS PROJECTS OPERATING IN 11 MUNICIPALITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF SAN VICENTE, INCLUDING 24 PROJECTS WITHIN THE CITY OF SAN VICENTE. ALL PROJECTS FOR THE CITY OF SAN VICENTE AS IN ALL MUNICIPALITIES ARE APPROVED BY THE LOCAL MAYOR. THE SAN VICENTE PROJECTS INCLUDE HEALTH, STREET REPAIR, SANITATION AND LETRINIZATION. ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS, MAYORS HAVE REQUESTED ASSISTANCE FOR PROJECTS SUCH AS CONSTRUCTION OF MARKETS OR HOSPITAL BUILDINGS. THESE KINDS OF PROJECTS ARE BEYOND THE SCOPE OF THE DISPLACED PERSONS PROJECT, WHICH IS DESIGNED TO GENERATE EMPLOYMENT FOR UNSKILLED DISPLACED PERSONS AND MAY THUS ACCOUNT FOR [redacted] COMMENT THAT PROJECTS ARE NOT FULLY RESPONSIVE TO PRIORITIES [redacted] SUGGESTION REGARDING LOCAL BLOCK-MAKING PROJECT SOUNDS

1. SUMMARY: THE MEXICAN PRESS HIGHLIGHTS FMLN-FDR'S REJECTION OF PRESIDENT MAGANA'S ANNOUNCEMENT DURING THE POPE'S VISIT OF HIS GOVERNMENT'S INTENTION TO HOLD ELECTIONS IN 1983. THE FMLN-FDR SPOKESMAN IN MEXICO CALLED THE ELECTIONS "A MANEUVER BY THE U.S. GOVERNMENT TO STIFLE THE GAINS MADE BY THE REVOLUTIONARY FORCES." THE SAME SPOKESMAN SAID THAT FELIPE GONZALEZ COULD BECOME THE KEY POLITICAL MEDIATOR TO RESOLVE [redacted]

2. ON MARCH 7, THE MEXICAN PRESS GAVE PROMINENCE TO THE FMLN-FDR'S REJECTION OF MAGANA'S CALL FOR ELECTIONS IN DECEMBER. HECTOR OQUELI, REPRESENTATIVE OF THE POLITICAL DIPLOMATIC COMMISSION OF THE FMLN-FDR REPORTEDLY SAID DURING A PRESS CONFERENCE IN MEXICO THAT THE ADVANCEMENT OF ELECTIONS IN EL SALVADOR WILL NOT RESOLVE THE SALVADORAN CONFLICT. "THE ADVANCEMENT OF ELECTIONS IN EL SALVADOR ARE PART OF THE U.S. STRATEGY TO GAIN SUPPORT FROM THOSE U.S. CONGRESSMEN WHO ARE CRITICAL OF THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION'S DESIRE TO INCREASE MILITARY SPENDING IN THE AREA," OQUELI IS QUOTED AS SAYING.

3. DURING THE SAME PRESS CONFERENCE, OQUELI SAID THAT FELIPE GONZALEZ COULD MEDIATE THE CENTRAL AMERICAN CONFLICT, FOLLOWING THE FRAMEWORK ESTABLISHED AT THE CONTADORA MEETING. ACCORDING TO THE FMLN-FDR, GONZALEZ'S PPLAN WOULD FIRST DEAL ON BILATERAL ISSUES, E.G., WITH RESPECT TO NICARAGUA, THERE WOULD BE A MEETING BETWEEN NICARAGUA, HONDURAS, AND THE U.S.; WITH RESPECT TO EL SALVADOR, THERE WOULD BE A MEETING BETWEEN THE U.S., THE MAGANA GOVERNMENT AND THE FMLN-FDR REPRESENTATIVES. AFTER THESE BILATERAL CONFLICTS ARE RESOLVED, THERE WOULD THEN BE A MULTI-LATERAL MEETING TO RESOLVE OTHER ISSUES OF CONCERN, E.G., THE PRESENCE OF OUTSIDE MILITARY FORCES IN THE AREA. THESE EFFORTS, THE FMLN-FDR SOURCES SAID, WOULD STIFLE U.S. EFFORTS TO DIVIDE THE FMLN FROM THE FDR FORCES. (DRAFTED: GGUERRA-MONDRAGON) HIGH

1. ON MARCH 8 THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION ADOPTED RESOLUTION L.49/REV 1 INTRODUCED BY MEXICO CONCERNING HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE BY A VOTE OF 29-6(US)-8. URUGUAY MADE A STRONG STATEMENT IN SUPPORT OF CHILE. FRG NOTED THAT IT HAD CONSIDERED TABLING AN AMENDMENT ENDING THE SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM ON CHILE AND PLACING IT IN ITEM 12. AUSTRALIA EXPRESSED ITS SUPPORT FOR THIS IDEA. COLOMBIA, WHICH ABSTAINED, MADE A STATEMENT REGRETTING THE IMBALANCED NATURE OF THE RESOLUTION. COSTA RICE EXPLAINED THAT IT ABSTAINED IN THE HOPE THAT CHILE WOULD SOON RETURN TO A MULTIPARTY DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM. US EXPLANATION OF VOTE FOLLOWED THE LINES OF THAT DELIVERED AT 37TH UNGA (SEE 82 USUN 3950), EMPHASIZING US DESIRE THAT CHILE BE CONSIDERED UNDER ITEM 12 RATHER THAN UNDER SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM.

U.S. Is 'Concerned' Over New Delay in Salvadoran Trial

Associated Press

The State Department expressed concern yesterday over a new delay in trials of four national guardsman in El Salvador accused in the 1980 murders of four American churchwomen. An official said the United States "wants justice as rapidly as possible."

John Hughes, the department's chief spokesman, said an official on the staff of the U.S. Embassy in San Salvador will review court documents.

A U.S. official, speaking on the condition he not be named, said, "There just isn't any question that we are deeply concerned about reports coming out of there. We want to measure these reports against the facts." He said the embassy official would check reports that the judge's delay might have been the result of threats.

A court ruling Wednesday, in which the judge asked a lower court for more evidence to support accusations that the murdered women's van was robbed, could delay the trial of the guardsmen for months, court sources said.

United Press International added:

The exiled Salvadoran Human Rights Commission said in Mexico City that its president, Marianela Garcia Villas, was killed by the military during a visit to El Salvador to gather information on allegations of Army use of chemicals. The organization denied Army reports that Garcia was killed during a guerrilla attack on an Army patrol.

In San Salvador, a panel appointed by President Alvaro Magana gave him an amnesty plan designed to let leftist guerrillas participate in December elections.

2. BEGIN SUMMARY: ASSISTANT SECRETARY ENDERS MET ON MARCH 15 WITH THE CHILEAN LABOR LEADERS PARTICIPATING IN THE AFL-CIO CONFERENCE ON HUMAN AND TRADE UNION RIGHTS IN CHILE. THE UNION LEADERS INFORMED HIM OF THEIR VIEWS REGARDING TRADE UNION REPRESSION AND HUMAN RIGHTS CONFIDENTIAL

VIOLATIONS IN CHILE AND APPEALED FOR A MORE ACTIVIST U.S. APPROACH TO THE CHILEAN SITUATION. AMBASSADOR ENDERS REAFFIRMED U.S. CONCERN ABOUT THESE ISSUES AND OUR DESIRE FOR SIGNIFICANT IMPROVEMENTS, WHILE NOTING THAT IT WOULD BE INAPPROPRIATE FOR THE U.S. TO BECOME INVOLVED IN THE DEBATE OVER CHILEAN POLITICAL TRANSITION PROPOSALS. END

SUMMARY.

3. ASSISTANT SECRETARY ENDERS MET WITH FIVE CHILEAN LABOR LEADERS - EDUARDO RIOS, PRESIDENT OF THE UNION OF DEMOCRATIC WORKERS (UDT); HERNOL FLORES, SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE UDT; MANUEL BUSTOS, LEADER OF THE EXILE BASED CHILEAN LABOR COMMITTEE AND PAST PRESIDENT OF THE COORDINADORA NACIONAL SINDICAL (CNS); MIGUEL VEGA, PRESIDENT OF THE CNS; AND EUGENIO LOPEZ, SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE MINEWORKERS FEDERATION - PLUS AIFLD'S BILL DOHERTY AND ORIT SECRETARY GENERAL TULIO CUEVAS ON MARCH 15 FOLLOWING THE AFL-CIO SPONSORED CONFERENCE ON TRADE UNION REPRESSION IN CHILE.

4. ENDERS OPENED THE DISCUSSION BY STATING OUR AWARENESS OF THE DIFFICULT ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL SITUATION IN CHILE EPITOMIZED BY MORE THA 20 PERCENT UNEMPLOYMENT. HE NOTED THAT WE ARE WORKING WITH THE INTERNATIONAL BANKING COMMUNITY WHICH IS MOST INTERESTED IN FINDING A SOLUTION TO CHILE'S FOREIGN DEBT PROBLEMS, AND THAT THIS EFFORT PRESUMABLY WOULD HELP CREATE JOBS AND BENEFIT THE CHILEAN PEOPLE. IN RESPONSE, FLORES AND BUSTOS CITED UNEMPLOYMENT FIGURES IN EXCESS OF 30 PERCENT AND IN SOME AREAS MUCH HIGHER. THEY SEVERELY CRITICIZED PINOCHET'S ECONOMIC POLICIES. FLORES POINTED OUT THAT SALVADOR ALLENDE WAS DEPOSED PARTLY BECAUSE HIS GOVERNMENT HAD INCREASED CHILE'S FOREIGN DEBT TO DOLLARS 4 BILLION, CONFIDENTIAL

WHEREAS UNDER PINOCHET IT HAD REACHED THE FIGURE OF DOLLARS 18 BILLION. UNEMPLOYMENT, HE SAID, WAS NOW FIVE TIMES HIGHER THAN THE 6 PERCENT FIGURE UNDER ALLENDE. DOHE,TY ARGUED THAT ADDITIONAL CAPITAL FOR CHILE COULD ENRICH THE GOVERNMENT AND NOT THE PEOPLE. HE STRESSED THAT LANE KIRKLAND AND THE AFL-CIO ADVOCATE A FREEZE ON INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT IN CHILE AS LEVERAGE TO PROMOTE HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENT. THE CHILEAN LEADERS ARGUED THAT FOREIGN LENDING BE STOPPED SINCE THE BENEFIT TO THE PEOPLE WAS SMALL WHEREAS THE BENEFIT TO REGIME WAS CONSIDERABLE. AMBASSADOR ENDERS REPLIED THAT WITHOUT ADJUSTMENT OF THE FOREIGN DEBT IT WOULD NOT BE POSSIBLE TO REACTIVATE THE CHILEAN ECONOMY AND PROVIDE JOBS FOR CHILEAN WORKERS.

5. MANUEL BUSTOS MAINTAINED THAT RENEGOTIATION OF THE CHILEAN DEBT WOULD BE SEEN PRIMARILY AS AN AFFIRMATION OF SUPPORT FOR THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT. EDUARDO RIOS STRESSED THAT ALL CHILE'S PROBLEMS STEM FROM PINOCHET'S

POLICIES AND PERFORMANCE. HE DEPLORED THE EXPULSION OF BUSTOS FOR PROTESTING AGAINST THE DISASTROUS ECONOMIC SITUATION, AND SAID THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS CONCENTRATING THE ATTACK ON DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION LEADERS, THEREBY DANGEROUSLY POLARIZING THE COUNTRY. HE DESCRIBED THE EXILE RETURN PROGRAM AS A MOCKERY (BURLA). HE ASKED THAT THE USG MAKE A DEMARCHE TO THE GOC ADVOCATING THE RETURN OF BUSTOS AND OTHER POLITICALLY PROMINENT CHILEAN DEMOCRATS. DOHERTY ADDED THAT THE AFL-CIO WOULD BACK SUCH AN EFFORT TOTALLY. AMBASSADOR ENDERS INDICATED THAT ANY USG INTEREST IN THE RETURN OF BUSTOS WOULD BE INCORPORATED IN THE LARGER SCOPE OF U.S. CONCERN ABOUT CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES, SUCH AS EXILE RETURNES.

6. TURNING TO GENERAL HUMAN RIGHTS MATTERS, ENDERS AGREED WITH HIS VISITORS THAT THERE SEEMED TO HAVE BEEN LITTLE IN THE WAY OF SIGNIFICANT HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS IN CONFIDENTIAL

CHILE SINCE 1979. HE INDICATED THAT THE SITUATION MAY EVEN HAVE DETERIORATED IN SOME RESPECTS. REGARDING GOC AUTHORIZATION FOR THE RETURN OF EXILES, ENDERS NOTED OUR INTEREST IN THIS INITIATIVE, AND OUR DISAPPOINTMENT WITH RESULTS TO DATE. NEVERTHELESS, HE EXPRESSED OUR HOPE THAT THE GOC WOULD CONTINUE THE PROCEDURE AND PERMIT EVER GREATER NUMBERS TO RE-ENTER THE COUNTRY.

7. RIOS STATED THAT 1,200,000 CHILEANS WERE IN EXILE AND, AT THE PRESENT RATE OF RETURN, THE PROCESS WOULD TAKE MANY YEARS. OTHERS LATER MODIFIED THAT FIGURE SUBSTIANTALLY DOWNWARD WHEN REFERRING TO POLITICAL EXILES. HE SPECIFICALLY CRITICIZED THE CONTINUED EXCLUSION OF DEMOCRATIC LEADERS ZALDIVAR AND CASTILLO. WHY DOESN'T THE GOC, HE SUGGESTED, ANNOUNCE WHO CAN NOT RETURN TO CHILE AND PROVIDE GENERAL AUTHORIZATION FOR ALL THE REST? HE POINTED OUT THAT WHILE A CHILEAN COURT HAS DECIDED THAT BUSTOS SHOULD BE PERMITTED TO RETURN, THE MINISTER OF INTERIOR HAS SAID HE WILL NOT BE ALLOWED BACK UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES.

8. WARMING TO A MORE POLITICAL THEME, RIOS DESCRIBED THE PINOCHET REGIME AS THE WORST GOVERNMENT IN CHILEAN HISTORY, AND SAID THAT ALTHOUGH 1,200 UNIO LEADERS HAVE SIGNED PETITIONS CALLING FOR ECONOMIC CHANGE AND MEASURES TO RELIEVE POPULAR SUFFERING, NO GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL WILL MEET WITH THEM. AS AN ALTERNATIVE TO THE PRESENT SITUATION, RIOS ADVOCATED A "CLEAN" PLEBESCITE TO DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT SHOULD CONTINUE TO

GOVERN CHILE. HE THEN DESCRIBED THE PLAN OF A NEW MULTI-PARTY GROUP, FORMED WITHOUT COMMUNIST OR ULTRA RIGHT REPRESENTATION, WHICH CALLS FOR A 2 YEAR TRANSITION PERIOD DURING WHICH AN ELECTED ONE HOUSE CONGRESS WOULD CONFIDENTIAL

FUNCTION, TO BE FOLLOWED BY GENERAL ELECTIONS. HE STRESSED THAT THE OPPOSITION IS WILLING TO PROVIDE SPECIFIC ASSURANCES TO CONCERNED GROUPS THAT SOCIAL PEACE

WILL BE MAINTAINED AND NO VENGEANCE WILL BE TAKEN FOLLOWING THE RESTORATION OF DEMOCRACY. UNFORTUNATELY, RIOS SAID, THE GOVERNMENT HAS REMAINED SILENT REGARDING THE PROPOSAL AND WILL NOT CONSIDER SOLUTIONS TO THE PRESENT IMPASSE. BUSTOS INTERJECTED THAT IF THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY IS DELAYED INDEFINITELY, LEFTISTS AND EXTREMISTS WHO ARE PRESENTLY ORGANIZING AND WORKING, WILL GAIN GREATER STRENGTH AND BECOME A MAJOR POLITICAL FORCE.

9. IN RESPONSE, AMBASSADOR ENDERS STRESSED OUR COMMON DESIRE FOR SIGNIFICANT IMPROVEMENT IN THE HUMAN AND TRADE UNION RIGHTS SITUATION. HUMAN RIGHTS, HE SAID, CONSTITUTE A UNIVERSAL CONCERN WHICH EFFECTS US ALL AND ONE ON WHICH WE ARE ALL ENTITLED TO SPEAK OUT. IN CONTRAST, HOWEVER, HE WENT ON TO SAY THAT IT WOULD BE INAPPROPRIATE FOR THE U.S. TO BECOME INVOLVED IN THE DEBATE OVER SPECIFIC PROPOSALS FOR A CHILEAN POLITICAL TRANSITION, SINCE THAT WAS A PURELY DOMESTIC MATTER FOR CHILEANS TO DECIDE AMONG THEMSELVES.

10. THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY INQUIRED ABOUT THE PRESENT STATE OF THE TUCAPEL JIMENEZ MURDER INVESTIGATION. FLORES REPLIED THAT NOTHING HAS BEEN DONE TO 0RING THOSE RESPONSIBLE TO JUSTICE AND NO SUBSTANTIVE INVESTIGATION IS BEING PURSUED. WHILE THE GOVERNMENT AT FIRST TRIED TO QUALIFY THE MURDER AS A CRIME OF PASSION OR ROBBERY, MOTIVES SOON DISCREDITED BY THE GENERAL PUBLIC, IT HAS NEVER SERIOUSLY INVESTIGATED THE POLITICAL ASPECTS OF THE CRIME WHICH MANY IN CHILE BELIEVE WAS DELIBERATELY CARRIED OUT BY GOVERNMENT AGENTS. AMBASSADOR ENDERS SAID THE TIME HAS COME TO AGAIN EXPRESS OUR DISAPPOINTMENT CONFIDENTIAL

WITH THE LACK OF PROGRESS IN THIS INVESTIGATION.

11. BUSTO INFORMED THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY THAT THE OTHER FOUR UNION LEADERS WOULD BE RETURNING TO CHILE SHORTLY AND ASKED IF THIS MEETING COULD BE MENTIONED PUBLICLY. HE NOTED THAT PUBLIC RECOGNITION WOULD PROBABLY HAVE A MORE SERIOUS EFFECT ON THE GOC AND HELP PROVIDE GREATER PROTECTION FOR THE RETURNING UNION LEADERS. ENDERS ANSWERED THAT THE MEETING COULD BE PUBLICLY MENTIONED, ALTHOUGH HE DID NOT THINK IT WOULD BE HELPFUL IF U.S. VIEWS AS EXPRESSED IN THE MEETING WERE TO BE PUBLICLY AIRED.

12. AIFLD'S DOHERTY INFORMED AMBASSADOR ENDERS THAT SENATOR PERCY AND CONGRESSMAN ZABLOCKI, IN MEETING WITH THE UNION LEADERS, HAD EXPRESSED THEIR WILLINGNESS TO SEND A LETTER TO THE GOC REQUESTING THAT BUSTOS BE

ALLOWED TO RETURN TO CHILE. HE ASKED IF THE LETTER SHOULD BE SENT THROUGH THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE. THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY SAID HE THOUGHT THE LETTER SHOULD BE SENT DIRECTLY FROM THE LEGISLATORS TO GOC OFFICIALS. SHULTZ

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR

SUBJECT: WASHINGTON CONFERENCE ON LABOR REPRESSION IN CHILE

REF: (A) MADRID 2556 (NOTAL) (B) SANTIAGO 1390 (NOTAL)

1. (C) SUMMARY: IN THE WASHINGTON FOLLOW UP TO THE ICFTU CONFERENCE ON REPRESSION OF TRADE UNION RIGHTS IN CHILE, THE AFL-CIO, WHILE FAILING TO ELIMINATE ALL DIFFERENCES WITH OTHER MEMBERS OF THE ICFTU, LARGELY ACHIEVED ITS GOALS OF BRINGING CONDITIONS IN CHILE TO THE ATTENTION OF POLICY MAKERS, STRENGTHENING THE POSITION OF THE UNION OF DEMOCRATIC WORKERS (UDT) WITHIN THE ICFTU, AND PREVENTING ICFTU ENDORSEMENT OF MANUEL BUSTOS' UNITED FRONT CHILE LABOR COMMITTEE, BASED IN ROME. END SUMMARY.

2.(U) A TWO DAY CONFERENCE ON REPRESSION OF TRADE UNION RIGHTS IN CHILE CONVENED AT AFL-CIO HEADQUARTERS IN WASHINGTON MARCH 14 - 15 AS A FOLLOW-ON TO AN ICFTU-SPONSORED MEETING IN MADRID. THE CONFERENCE RATIFIED A DECLARATION PREPARED IN MADRID WHICH NOTED "WITH GREAT DISMAY AND INDIGNATION" CHILE'S TEN YEARS OF

MILITARY DICTATORSHIP. THE DECLARATION PROTESTED THE GOC'S ECONOMIC POLICIES WHICH IT BLAMED FOR AN UNPRECEDENTED REDUCTION IN NATIONAL INCOME, IMPOVERISHMENT OF THE POPULATION, AND FOR TURNING THE ARMED FORCES INTO A "WARTIME OCCUPATION ARMY AGAINST THE PEOPLE OF CHILE." THE ASSEMBLY CALLED UPON THE ICFTU AND THE TRADE CONFIDENTIAL

SECRETARIATS TO ADOPT MEASURES: (BEGIN QUOTE)

- -- TO FOMENT THE UNITY OF ACTION OF THE DEMOCRATIC TRADE UNION MOVEMENT OF CHILE -- WELCOMING ALL INITIATIVES ALREADY ADOPTED IN THIS DIRECTION -- AND TO STIMULATE UNDERSTANDING AMONG ALL DEMOCRATIC SOCIAL AND POLITICAL FORCES OF THE COUNTRY WITH THE OBJECTIVE OF DEFINING A DEMOCRATIC ALTERNATIVE TO THE DICTATORIAL REGIME OF PINOCHET.

- -- TO CONTINUE DENOUNCING TO THE ILO AND OTHER INTERGOVENMENT ORGANIZATIONS THE ABUSES OF THE CHILEAN MILITARY REGIME.

- -- IN CLOSE COLLOBORATION WITH THE INTERNATIONAL TRADE SECRETARIATS, TO COMMIT THE INTERNATIONAL DEMOCRATIC LABOR MOVEMENT TO ADOPT THE APPROPRIATE INITIATIVES

AGAINST THOSE TRANSNATIONALS THAT ARE PRESENTLY OPERATING IN CHILE IN CONFLICT WITH HUMAN AND TRADE UNION RIGHTS.

- -- TO INTENSIFY TRADE UNION ACTION THROUGH ALL MEANS IN ORDER TO ISOLATE POLITICALLY AND ECONOMICALLY THE DICTATORSHIP OF PINOCHET.

- -- TO OBTAIN THE COMMITMENT OF ALL AFFILIATED ORGANIZATIONS TO PUT PRESSURE ON THEIR RESPECTIVE GOVERNMENTS, WITH THE OBJECTIVE OF GUARANTEEING THAT ALL INTERNATIONAL, POLITICAL, ECONOMIC, AND FINANCIAL RELATIONS WITH CHILE ARE CONDITIONAL UPON THE RESPECT OF HUMAN AND TRADE UNION RIGHTS, INCLUDING THE RETURN OF EXILES. THE ASSEMBLY ALSO CALLS FOR THE SUSPENSION OF ALL MILITARY AID TO THE PRESENT REGIME. (END QUOTE)

3. (U) INTERNATIONAL PARTICIPATION: AFL-CIO PRESIDENT LANE KIRKLAND WAS FULL TIME CHAIRMAN OF THE MEETING, SUPPORTED BY INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS DIRECTOR IRVING BROWN CONFIDENTIAL

AND AIFLD EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR DOHERTY. ICFTU SECRETARY GENERAL VANDERVEKEN, AIDED BY LATIN AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVE ENZO FRISO AND ORIT SECRETARY GENERAL TULIO CUEVAS, HEADED THE NINETEEN INTERNATIONAL DELEGATES REPRESENTING DEMOCRATIC LABOR FEDERATIONS IN BELGIUM, CANADA, ECUADOR, EL SALVADOR, FRG, ISRAEL, ITALY, JAPAN, AND SPAIN. FIVE TRADE SECRETARIATS WERE ALSO REPRESENTED. THE CHILEAN DELEGATION INCLUDED UDT PRESIDENT EDUARDO RIOS; UDT SECRETARY GENERAL HERNOL FLORES; THE LEADER OF THE EXILE-BASED CHILE LABOR COMMITTEE, MANUEL BUSTOS; CNS PRESIDENT MIGUEL VEGA; AND SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE MINEWORKERS, EUGENIO LOPEZ.

4.(U) CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS: THE DELEGATES PRESENTED THEIR VIEWS ON MARCH 14 TO SENATOR PERCY AND REPRESENTATIVES ZABLOCKI AND BROOMFIELD DURING A MEETING AT THE RAYBURN OFFICE BUILDING. ASSISTANT SECRETARY ABRAMS MET WITH THE DELEGATES FOR A FREE RANGING DISCUSSION (OFF THE RECORD) OF HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES. ABRAMS SAID THAT WHEN THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION CAME INTO POWER THE GOC ANTICIPATED THAT THE USG WOULD IMMEDIATELY CERTIFY CHILE. THIS HAS NOT HAPPENED.

CHILE, HE SAID, WILL BE CERTIFIED WHEN HUMAN RIGHTS

UNCLASSIFIED

IMPROVEMENTS MAKE IT POSSIBLE TO CERTIFY. ABRAMS EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT THE GOC WOULD BE INFLUENCED BY PROGRESS NOW BEING MADE IN THE STATUS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN ARGENTINA, BRAZIL, AND URUGUAY. HE THEN EXPLAINED THIS ADMINISTRATION'S PRACTICE OF USING WHATEVER MEANS IS MOST EFFECTIVE TO OBTAIN IMPROVEMENTS IN HUMAN RIGHTS. IN COUNTRIES WHERE THE U.S. HAS INFLUENCE IT USES TRADITIONAL DIPLOMATIC CHANNELS: WHERE THE U.S. DOES NOT CONFIDENTIAL

HAVE INFLUENCE THEN THE ONLY RECOURSE TO THE U.S. TO INFLUENCE EVENTS IN A COUNTRY IS VIA PUBLIC STATEMENTS. HE ADDED THAT IF THERE IS A CONTINUING LACK OF RESPONSE FROM THE GOC ON HUMAN RIGHTS QUESTIONS THEN THIS WILL LEAD TO PUBLIC CRITICISM. ABRAMS ENDED HIS OPENING REMARKS BY TAKING ISSUE WITH ICFTU VANDERVEKEN'S RECENT REMARKS IN EUROPE LAMENTING THE END OF A U.S. HUMAN RIGHTS POLICY. ABRAMS STATED THAT THE ADMINISTRATION IS STILL SUFFERING FROM AN UNDESERVED REPUTATION THAT IT WOULD DROP HUMAN RIGHTS. THIS HAS NOT HAPPENED. NO AMBASSADORS ARE AS ACTIVE ON QUESTIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS AS ARE AMERICAN AMBASSADORS. ABRAMS WAS QUESTIONED ABOUT THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE DISTINCTION BETWEEN "AUTHORITARIAN AND TOTALITARIAN" GOVERNMENTS. IN RESPONDING TO THE QUESTION ABRAMS SAID THAT THE SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCE IS THAT SOME AUTHORITARIAN GOVERNMENTS HAVE BEEN FOLLOWED BY DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENTS AS IS HAPPENING NOW IN ARGENTINA BUT NO COMMUNIST TOTALITARIAN GOVERNMENT HAS EVER BEEN SUCCEEDED BY A DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT. THIS DIFFERENCE, HOWEVER, DID NOT HAVE MUCH IMPACT ON THE WAY OUR HUMAN RIGHTS POLICY IS CONDUCTED. THE ADMINISTRATION IS CONCERNED ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN ALL COUNTRIES. POINTS ABRAMS EMPHASIZED WERE GENERALLY WELL RECEIVED AND SEVERAL WERE REPEATED BY LANE KIRKLAND DURING CLOSING PRESS CONFERENCE. MARCH 15 PROGRAM CENTERED AROUND PRESS CONFERENCE AND SUBSEQUENT MEETING BETWEEN CHILEAN DELEGATES AND ASSISTANT SECRETARY ENDERS AT THE STATE DEPARTMENT. AMBASSADOR ENDERS LISTENED TO PRESENTATION BY RIOS FOR PROPOSED TRANSITIONAL GOVERNMENT. ENDERS NOTED THAT THE USG CAN LEGITIMATELY INTEREST ITSELF IN HUMAN AND TRADE UNION RIGHTS ISSUES SUCH AS THE LACK OF PROGRESS IN THE INVESTIGATION OF THE TUCAPEL JIMENEZ MURDER BUT THAT IT WOULD BE INAPPROPRIATE FOR HIM TO COMMENT ON THE INTERNAL POLITICAL PROPOSALS. HE

INDICATED THAT THE USG'S INTEREST IN THE EXPULSION OF BUSTOS FROM CHILE WOULD BE INCORPORATED IN THE LARGER SCOPE OF U.S. CONCERN OF HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES IN CHILE. IT WAS AGREED THERE WAS NO OBJECTION IF THE CHILEANS MADE PUBLIC THE FACT THAT A MEETING WITH ASSISTANT SECRETARY ENDERS HAD TAKEN PLACE. (SEPTEL WILL FOLLOW),.

5.(C) RESULTS OF THE CONFERENCE: PARTICIPANTS UNIVERSALLY SEEMED WELL PLEASED WITH THE CONFERENCE. THERE WAS GENERAL AGREEMENT THAT THE WASHINGTON SESSION WAS THE MORE IMPORTANT OF THE TWO SESSIONS AND THAT IT ACHIEVED ITS GOAL OF CALLING ATTENTION OF POLICY MAKERS TO CONTINUING REPRESSION IN CHILE.

- -- THE CHILEAN LABOR ATTACHE HAS INFORMALLY TOLD THE DEPARTMENT THAT THE GOC WILL PERMIT BUSTOS TO RETURN TO CHILE WITHIN THE NEXT FEW WEEKS. IF THE SUPREME COURT DOES NOT RULE IN FAVOR OF BUSTOS' APPEAL OF HIS EXPULSION ORDER THEN THE GOVERNMENT WILL INCLUDE BUSTOS IN THE NEXT LIST OF THOSE ALLOWED TO RETURN. AT THIS POINT WE ARE UNABLE TO CONFIRM THE REPORTED DECISION ON BUSTOS' RETURN OR IDENTIFY ITS SOURCE. IF TRUE, HOWEVER, THE GOC HAS PROBABLY RECOGNIZED THAT IT IS TO ITS ADVANTAGE TO HAVE BUSTOS IN CHILE RATHER THAN SERVING AS THE FOCUS OF AN EXILE LABOR COMMITTEE IN ROME, PARTICULARLY WHEN THAT COMMITTEE MIGHT ATTRACT BROAD SUPPORT FROM THE EUROPEANS. EVEN IN THE EVENT THAT BUSTOS DECIDES NOT TO RETURN TO CHILE, THE GOC'S PROJECTED ACTION WOULD REMOVE HIS "EXILE" STATUS AND IF HE DECIDED TO REMAIN OUTSIDE CHILE THIS WOULD UNDERCUT HIS POSITION AS REPRESENTATIVE OF DEMOCRATIC LABOR. FYI: IF LABOR ATTACHES INFORMATION ON BUSTOS' RETURN DOES NOT PROVE CORRECT, WE MAY CONSIDER ADVISABILITY OF MAKING SUBSEQUENT INQUIRY TO GOC CONFIDENTIAL

ON PROSPECTS FOR HIS RETURN SEE SEPTEL).

- -- THE CONFERENCE DID NOT RESOLVE POLICY DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE AFL-CIO AND OTHER MEMBERS OF THE ICFTU REGARDING CHILE. MOST EUROPEAN DELEGATES STILL SEEM

INCLINED TO CONTINUE PAST ICFTU POLICY OF SUPPORTING THE

CHILEAN COORDINADORA NACIONAL SINDICAL (CNS) IN SPITE OF THE HIGH DEGREE OF COMMUNIST PENETRATION IN THAT ORGANIZATION. THE AFL-CIO, IN CONTRAST, HAS LIMITED ITS SUPPORT TO THE UDT. THE ICFTU DID AGREE TO PROVIDE THE UDT SOME 50,000 DOLLARS ANNUALLY IN SUPPORT IN ADDITION TO THE STILL UNDERTERMINED FINANCIAL SUBSIDY GIVEN TO THE CNS. ALTHOUGH THE ICFTU AGREED NOT TO SUPPORT BUSTOS' CHILEAN LABOR COMMITTEE IN ROME, IT IS POSSIBLE THAT INDIVIDUAL FEDERATIONS MAY GIVE THAT ORGANIZATION SOME ASSISTANCE.

--- THE AFL-CIO'S HIDDEN AGENDA FOR THE WASHINGTON CONFERENCE WAS PARTLY TO CONVINCE THE EUROPEANS THAT THE AFL-CIO IS AS CONCERNED BY RIGHT WING AS BY LEFT WING OPPRESSION WHILE AT THE SAME TIME STRENGTHENING THE POSITION OF THE UDT AND PREVENTING ICFTU ENDORSEMENT OF BUSTOS' UNITED FRONT CHILE LABOR COMMITTEE IN ROME. IN THESE OBJECTIVES THE AFL-CIO WAS LARGELY SUCCESSFUL.

March 20

-- Carabineros broke up a protest demonstration in the poblacion "La Victoria" in San Miguel, arresting one individual. According to residents of San Miguel, instigators from outside the poblacion organized the demonstration and also attempted to recruit residents of "La Victoria" to participate in a larger demonstration in downtown Santiago on the 24th.

March 23

-- Security agents presumed to be CNI personnel arrested five members of CODEJU in their homes and are holding them incommunicado in an unidentified detention center. The five are Javier Saez Paiba, president of CODEJU, Patricia Torres, Ricardo Scheihing Villarroel, Cesar Fuenzalida, and Hernan Caceres Fuentes.

March 24

-- Bombs exploded in nine separate localities in Santiago, in what appears to be a coordinated action which ended in a street demonstration later in the day. The targets included a subway station, government-sponsored community centers and construction projects, and gas and water mains. As a result of the bombings, two youths were seriously injured and two adults and five children were slightly injured. (See Santiago 1708).

-- As approximately 7:00 p.m., a series of street demonstrations, organized by the coordinera Nacional de Pobladores, generally considered to be a Communist Party front, occurred at several localities in downtown Santiago. While the press estimated the demonstrators at about 1,000, they were easily contained by Carabinero units. Approximately twenty Carabineros and one journalist were injured. According to press sources, 217 men and 10 women were arrested.

-- In Concepcion, two buses were damaged by Molotov cocktails and a street demonstration was broken up by police using tear gas. Security forces arrested twelve demonstrators.

-- In Valparaiso, two electrical power outages occurred as a result of extremist actions and street demonstrations which took place in several parts of the city.

-- In Ancud, tires were damaged by "miguelitos."

-- In Valdivia, a large explosion occurred in the center of the city but did not cause any injuries or notable damage.

-- In Linares, four members of an alleged Communist Party cell were detained with "miguelitos" and subversive pamphlets in their possession. The four are Hector Darwin Lopez Mesa, Juan Castillo Reyes, Palmenio Salgado Cisterna, and Delia de las Mercedes Sepulveda Martinez.

-- Heriberto Mena Bastias, an alleged extremist who escaped from a prison in San Antonio last month, has been recaptured and is being punished by fifteen days in solitary confinement.

-- According to columnist Jack Anderson, a fellow prisoner has revealed the new identity of Michael Townley, who was given a false identity to protect him while he serves a prison sentence for the murder of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffit.

-- The prosecutor in the Nicolas Galanakis Tapia case has asked for Galanakis' expulsion from Chile.

March 26

-- Cristian Alberto Galaz Garcia, a journalism student who was reported missing by his parents after he was detained in downtown Santiago on March 23, has been released by security agents after a two-day detention.

-- The Archbishop of Santiago, Raul Silva Henriquez, requested and was denied permission to speak on Channel 13 concerning the expulsion of three foreign priests from Chile.

Barnes Amendment - Talking Points

The Foreign Assistance Act as amended in 1981 (sections 725 and 726) state that the U. S. shall not provide military assistance or sales to Argentina or Chile until the President certifies that both nations have made "significant human rights improvements".

The Barnes amendment stipulates that no assistance or sales may be provided to Argentina or Chile until a restoration of civilian government in both countries. It would also prohibit all security assistance for FY 84 and 85 in the event of certification before a civilian government is elected in October and takes office in January 1984. While the Administration is not planning to certify Chile in the foreseeable future, the case for Argentine certification is very strong and under active consideration.

General Objections

-- The proposed amendment, significantly changes the scope of the certification requirement and could negatively affect U.S. national interests. It makes certification dependent not only on improvement in the area of human rights but also on the form of government regardless of the situation with regard to human rights.

-- It would be viewed as outside interference and set a difficult precedent for our relations with many other countries in the world, including some in LA, which do not have elected civilian government.

-- Should we require that U.S. aid go only to democratically elected governments, we would have to cut relations with many nations in the world. Why, therefore, should we suddenly single out Argentina and Chile.

-- The intent of the certification requirement was to work for real human rights improvement in both countries. To impose this requirement now, changes the rules of the game. It is inconsistent with Congress' earlier position, which in the case of Argentina has already helped bring results.

Argentina

-- In Argentina there have been significant human rights improvements (no disappearances since 1981, accelerated release of political prisoners, freer press, renewed political party and labor union activity).

-- Most importantly, elections are scheduled for October 1983 with the transition to civilian government to follow in January 1984.

UNCLASSIFIED

-- Good relations with Argentina should further our interests in maintaining peace in the South Atlantic and Southern Cone. It would promote increased cooperation on hemispheric and global issues, and help prevent Soviet inroads into the area.

-- The Argentine military is committed to transferring power to a civilian government and will remain an important institutional force.

-- It is in our national interest now to develop a cooperative relationship with the Argentine military which will play an important role in future GOA policy and in the peaceful settlement of the Falklands/Malvinas and Beagle Channel disputes.

-- This amendment, if passed, would severely reduce our ability to exert a moderating influence and strengthen those who oppose nationalist adventurism and/or a closer identification with the non-aligned and the Soviet Union.

-- Certification would not signify a significant resumption of military sales to Argentina. This would be made as a case-by-case basis and reviewed in the context of our desire to maintain regional balance and support a peaceful settlement of the Beagle Channel dispute with Chile and the Falklands/Malvinas problem with the UK.

CHILE

-- We want to see further improvement in Chile's human rights performance. The fact that we are not proposing Chile certification at this time shows that we take certification requirements seriously. A rigid new certification condition now, however, is not the best way to achieve this objective.

-- It is in our national interest to work constructively for both democratic improvements within Chile and to maintain regional balance in the Southern Cone.

-- Imposition of an absolute requirement for a return to civilian government will be regarded as infringement on Chilean sovereignty. As such, it will reduce, not increase our leverage to promote further human rights improvements.

-- As such, it could provoke a strongly negative reaction, circumscribe our relations, and limit our ability to induce the GOC to take positive steps in other areas related to human rights.

UNCLASSIFIED

-- This new certification requirement would be seen as a repudiation of the Chilean Constitution. In a national plebiscite on September 11, 1980, the Chilean people approved their constitution by a 67 percent majority. The constitution specifies that President Pinochet will serve an eight year presidential term until 1989, with legislative elections to be held in 1990.

-- The practical impact of the amendment would be to prohibit any security assistance relationship with Chile until 1989, prevent cooperative contact with the Chilean military and remove our diplomatic flexibility in the conduct of bilateral relations.

PREPARED STATEMENT

I appreciate this opportunity to testify, Mr. Chairman. Before beinning my testimony, I ask that my prepared statement be includ d in the record.

PREPARED STATEMENT OF HON. GEORGE P. SHULTZ, SECRETARY OF STATE

Mr. Chairman: Thank you for this opportunity to testify.

On March 10, the President described very clearly the national security stake we ve in Central America and the Caribbean. Many factors are involved and the medies are complex, but the basic issues are relatively simple: Central America is transition, trying to resolve the tensions of the past by developing democratic in- itutions and workable reforms. Violent, anti-democratic minorities with close mili- ry and ideological ties to Cuba and the Soviet Union are attempting to disrupt is effort and seize power by force of arms. Central America is too close and of too uch strategic importance for us to stand idly by while that happens. Our security at stake, and our most basic principles are being tested.

It is not surprising that our consultations with a wide spectrum of the Congress er the last three weeks have convinced the President and all of us that a bipartin consensus on goals does as you suggested in fact exist. No one wants to see Comunist guerrillas take power in El Salvador. No one wants to see a second or third fourth Nicaragua in Central America. We are unanimous in wanting the outcome the crisis in the region to be peaceful and democratic.

So I would like to focus today on the means to achieve these common objectives. I uld like to review our regional strategy and explain why we believe the political ategy the President set forth in his March 10 speech can help end the war and oduce a democratic outcome in El Salvador. I will then discuss the resources we ed to make it work.

OUR REGIONAL STRATEGY

Our strategy proceeds from an analysis that recognizes, in fact emphasizes, that ere are legitimate social, economic and political grievances in many parts of the ion. For example, many of El Salvador's problems stem directly from failings of st Salvadoran governments—failings that often go back decades, but which must addressed now.

The second critical factor is the decision by Cuba with Soviet-bloc support to orga- e and arm guerrilla forces under Marxist-Leninist control. This tactic—and its ults—are evident in Nicaragua, which since 1979 has become a base for the export violence to its neighbors. Almost immediately after the Sandinista takeover in caragua, El Salvador became a target, with the expectation that Communist bloc ining and supplies would bring a quick military victory to Cuban-backed extrem- s.

Our conclusion is that we face two related challenges: to help alleviate longstand- political, economic, and social problems, and to help counter a Communist strat- which seeks to aggravate and exploit these problems and so to seize power by ce of arms.

The strategy we have developed is comprehensive and regional. Much of it has n elaborated in consultation with the region's democracies. It consists of six mu- ally reinforcing elements. Each is necessary to ensure the success of the whole. The first and critical component is support for democracy, reform and the protec- n of human rights. Violence feeds on the failure of local institutions to provide ponsive government, justice under law, or means to achieve peaceful social and nomic change. We know that democratic governments are far less likely to abuse ir citizens than dictatorial regimes whether of the right or left And we know t democracy cannot flourish in the presence of extreme inequalities in access to d, opportunity, or justice. We cannot hope to succeed unless we address these t-order concerns.

The second element is support for economic development. Underdevelopment, re- ion, and in the case of El Salvador, the guerrillas' "prolonged war" against jobs, sport, and crops create human hardship and misery that are being exploited by enemies of democracy. Three-quarters of the resources in support of our Central erican policy go to economic assistance

The third element is support for the security of the nations of the region. We must provide El Salvador and our other friends struggling for democracy enough military training and assistance to protect against the military power of the guerrillas so that non-military solutions can be found. Security assistance is not an end in itself, but a shield for the region's democratization and development.

The fourth element is to give the area hope in the future. That is why our economic efforts go beyond the traditional forms of assistance: the President's Caribbean Basin Initiative proposes unique long-term incentives to spur the sustained economic growth these countries have demonstrated in the past they are capable of achieving.

The fifth element is to deter the Sandinista attempt to promote a "revolution without frontiers," their phrase. We are providing essential economic and security support to Costa Rica and Honduras. And together with other democratic countries of the region, we are working to persuade the Sandinistas that they should come to the bargaining table ready to come to terms with their own society and their neighbors.

The sixth element is support for peaceful solutions. Internal reconciliation—through democratic elections, guarantees of personal security, and amnesty—can be an alternative to violence and the consequences of violence for all concerned. Similarly, regional agreements can strengthen democracy and reduce sources of conflict and militarization.

All six of these elements must be applied and sustained for the strategy to succeed. No amount of reform alone can bring peace so long as the guerrillas expect and seek military victory. No amount of economic assistance alone can suffice if the guerrillas can destroy basic infrastructures again and again with impunity. And even sustained government military superiority alone will not bring sustained peace in the absence of more freedom and of better opportunities for social and economic development.

THE SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR

Let me turn now to El Salvador. How is our strategy working there?

First, respect for human rights has grown slowly, but steadily. Political violence against non-combatants is a serious problem but is down markedly since our assistance began three years ago. Military operations have resulted in the capture of prisoners. The treatment of individuals in prison for security reasons has improved: international access to detained individuals is regular and prison facilities are cleaner and better-administered. Even so, the criminal justice system remains a major concern—one I will examine in greater detail in a moment.

Second, in three short years and despite determined guerrilla opposition, El Salvador's government has redistributed more than 20 percent of all arable land. Some 450,000 people—about one Salvadoran in every ten—have benefitted directly. Strong peasant organizations have emerged. An AID-financed study by independent consultants visiting El Salvador reported that: "Members of the team. . . . were under the impression that the conservative coalition that won the March 1982 election has attempted to annul the reforms. During two months of field work, however, we discovered that reforms were still very much alive." The recent extension of land reform legislation confirms this judgment. The distributive aspects of the reform, if continued at the present pace, can be completed this year.

Third, the general economic situation is poor. In the last four years, the Salvadoran economy has contracted by 25 percent. Overall unemployment is in the neighborhood of 40 percent. Imports of medicines and food have been hampered. To maintain even zero growth in real terms, El Salvador needs substantial assistance to import materials, intermediate goods, and essential agricultural inputs for which it lacks foreign exchange.

Part of the problem is that the international recession has depressed commodity and agricultural markets on which El Salvador depends for foreign exchange. But the more serious weak point is that since the failure of their 1981 so-called "final offensive" the guerrillas have moved against the economic infrastructure. They have destroyed 55 of the country's 260 bridges and damaged many more. The national water authority is carrying out 112 reconstruction projects to restore facilities damaged by guerrilla action. Two hundred forty-nine separate attacks have caused millions of dollars of damages to the telephone system. Electrical systems have suffered over 5,000 power interruptions in a 22-month period ending last November—an average of almost 8 a day. The eastern region was blacked out for over a third of the year in both 1981 and 1982. Thirteen crop-dusting planes have been destroyed o damaged since last October. Over 200 buses were destroyed in 1982 alone. Less than half the rolling stock of the railways remains operational.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

In short, guerrilla sabotage is depriving the people of El Salvador of food, water, transportation, light, sanitation and work.

It cannot be stressed enough that this guerrilla campaign of "rule or ruin" is contrary to the will of the overwhelming majority of Salvadorans. The Archbishop of El Salvador put it this way on March 18: "The population wants there to be peace. I do not see that the guerrillas, who have progressed militarily and in experience, have popular support. . . . There have been about four or five offensives and who knows how many more to come. But the people want [peace]."

This brings me to a fourth point. The military situation is not desperate, but could become so if we fail to help. The Salvadoran armed forces face the difficult task of fighting mobile and well-trained enemy units supported from the outside, while also protecting static targets and population and production centers. Ten days ago, we had to provide an emergency airlift of critically needed small arms ammunition. The Salvadoran soldier, when well-trained and well-led, is capable: guerrilla operations have for the most part been localized to certain areas of the country, and the government forces we have trained are performing effectively. The three U.S.-trained units conduct themselves professionally both on the battlefield and in their relations with non-combatant populations. But only 10 percent at most of the Salvadoran armed forces have received our training.

Fifth, democracy and reconciliation have made major advances this past year. The Constituent Assembly has engaged a wide and diverse political spectrum from ARENA on the right to Christian Democracy on the left. It has not been easy for often bitter political rivals to deal with each other in a parliamentary forum with the outside world watching skeptically. But gradually they are coming to listen to each other, moderate, compromise, accommodate. In addition to working on a new constitution, the Assembly has reached agreement on a Government of National Unity guided by the multi-party Pact of Apaneca, and proceeded seriously with land reform including the vital Land to the Tiller program.

As envisioned in the Pact of Apaneca, the Salvadoran Government has designated three high level Commissions: on the political process, on human rights, and on peace. The Peach Commission is specifically charged with developing measures of national reconciliation. Its members include a Catholic Bishop and two civilians, one a representative of the political parties, the other a former Foreign Minister. On March 17, this independent commission formally proposed legislation providing for a general amnesty.

It is this atmosphere—the yearning for peace, the viability of El Salvador's new democratic institutions, and what Archbishop Rivera has called "a desire for understanding more then revenge"—that gives impetus to the decision to hold Presidential elections this year—a decision greeted with hope and approval by all, including his Holiness Pope John Paul II, when it was announced.

In sum, despite continued human rights problems and troubled economic and security conditions particulary outside major population centers heartening progress has been made in political, economic and social reform. Essential groundwork has been laid for progress in national reconciliation.

RESOURCE NEEDS AND OBJECTIVES

Let me now turn to our resource needs and policy objectives.

Economic assistance is vitally needed to permit the purchase of essential imports and to help restore basic services and infrastructure disrupted by the guerrillas. It is needed to strengthen the agrarian reform and to help finance labor-intensive reconstruction that will provide work to those deprived of it by guerrilla sabotage. It is needed to help the private sector, now cut off from capital markets, regain access to credit for critical imports.

To accomplish these objectives, we are planning to provide El Salvador some $227 million in FY 1983 economic assistance, including economic support funds, development assistance and PL-480 commodity financing. This includes $67.1 million the President has proposed to reallocate for El Salvador from current funds. This additional assistance—for which no new appropriations are being sought—will be heavily committed to public services, medical needs, and food imports. A major component will support a comprehensive new program of services and reconstruction in two parts of the country most critically affected by the guerrilla war.

To continue building the kind of disciplined, skilled armed forces that can take and hold the initiative while respecting the rights of its people, we submitted to Congress on March 10 a notification of our intent to reprogram $60 million in FMS loan guarantees to El Salvador. We are also planning to reallocate to El Salvador $50 million in grant MAP funds from our January supplemental request. As with economic assistance, none of this increase will involve funds other than those previously requested.

We are not planning to send El Salvador advanced heavy weapons like the Soviet tanks acquired by Nicaragua. Nor have we any intention of Americanizing the fighting by introducing US combat advisors. Rather our emphasis is on greatly expanded training for Salvadoran soldiers, with all or most of the additional training taking place outside El Salvador if funds permit. The funds we have requested would enable us to train some 50 percent of El Salvador's main fighting units, compared to 10 percent until now. They would also help El Salvador's armed forces to increase force mobility with additional helicopters, small naval craft and trucks and to acquire necessary munitions and spare parts. Some of this military assistance will also be used for engineering equipment and medical supplies to provide relief for the people suffering from the effects of the guerrilla war.

Time is important to this objective. The more quickly we help these armed forces become more effective and responsible instruments of El Salvador's national policy, the sooner their shield will be available to protect the emerging democracy and developing economy we all seek. To quote Senator Jackson, "if you're going to have the ballot box free and open, there must be a shield behind which the people can participate."

Let me return here to one problem that is not primarily a question of resources: the deeply troubling ineffectiveness of El Salvador's system of criminal justice. It is true that this stems directly from the larger problem of violence. But it is equally true that efforts to protect human rights and instill respect for the law are gravely hampered if the courts are unable to bring cases to a timely and impartial conclusion.

The Salvadoran Peace Commission and Human Rights Commission together have a mandate to review all laws and procedures governing political crimes, and to make recommendations for improving the judicial system as a whole. Some problems may be subject to relatively prompt action: for example, increasing security for judges and other court officials or transferring jurisdiction over military offenders to military courts. Other problems, such as reviewing rules of evidence and substantive criminal law or upgrading case management, investigative techniques, and judicial administration will by their very nature take longer.

We have been asked for help in this delicate area and want to be of assistance. However, because El Salvador's judicial system is quite different from our own, specific recommendations will require more detailed knowledge and cooperative programs than we have now. We are working on both. And we hope that Latin American democracies, like Costa Rica and Venezuela, whose legal systems are closer to that of El Salvador, will also help.

NEGOTIATIONS

Let me now address the question of negotiations.

The President has emphasized our support for negotiations aimed at "expanding participation in democratic institutions—at getting all parties to participate in free, non-violent elections." We will not support negotiations that short circuit the democratic process and carve up power behind the people's back. We will support negotiations to help provide guarantees of electoral fairness and protection for voters and candidates of all persuasions.

For eighteen months, the government of El Salvador has been attempting to open democratic political processes to all political forces including the Marxist ones. The Peace Commission has the specific mandate to help incorporate all social and political groups in the elections this year. The President of the Constituent Assembly has called for the main political unit of the guerrillas, the Frente Democratico Revolucionario, FDR, to take part in the election.

As the President indicated, we are willing to help. Surely there will be interest in measures which would guarantee the personal security of candidates and their supporters, in the provision of observers to encourage fairness and discourage coercion or intimidation, and in specific ways to ensure access to media, an accurate tally, and—ultimately—respect for the results.

We will be making proposals to the Salvadorans on how we, the Organization of American States and other concerned countries can help to achieve each of these objectives. We are fully committed to this course.

We also support negotiations among countries, as the President has said, to strengthen democracy, to halt subversion, to stop the flow of arms, to respect bordera, and ... remove all the foreign military advisors—the Soviets, Cubans, East Germans, PLO, as well as our own—from the region." Eight democratic countries of the region, meeting in San Jose, Costa Rica in October 1982 called on Nicaragua to join them in pledging an end to cross-border support of guerrilla violence, a freeze on the growth of military arsenals, and freedom of action for peaceful democratic groups. Nicaragua refused to discuss these principles. The San Jose proposals, if accepted, would reduce East-West tensions in Central America and contribute to a regional political solution.

Discussion now centers on the possibility of a meeting of Foreign Ministers of the five Central American countries, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Guatemala, observed by the Foreign Ministers of five other countries within the region—Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Mexico, Panama, and Venezuela, the so-called five plus five meeting. This is what the President referred to in saying that a regional peace initiative is emerging. Nicaragua would be engaged in the process. Its good faith, or lack of it, will be tested.

REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND SECURITY

Pending a peaceful solution, we must also seek to bolster Honduras and Costa Rica, two democracies with troubled economies where major externally-directed terrorist incidents have occurred. These nations—on the borders of Nicaragua—feel most strongly the growing threat of Nicaraguan military power, which is fortified by some 2,000 Cuban and Soviet bloc military advisors.

Both Honduras and Costa Rica have democratic systems. Yet they too are prey to self-proclaimed Marxist "liberators" who despise democracy and attack reform. By strengthening these democracies and by helping them to pass through difficult economic times, we can help both countries to provide stability and hope even in the midst of regional crisis.

We therefore plan to provide an additional $101 million in economic assistance in fiscal year 1983 for Honduras, Costa Rica and Belize. With the critical $67.1 million in additional economic assistance for El Salvador, this is a region-wide economic assistance increase of $168 million, of which $65 million has been added to our January supplemental request. With respect to military assitance, we are increasing our January supplemental request for MAP funding by $20 million, mainly for Honduras, with some assistance for Costa Rica and the Panama Canal Area Schools. Thus, as called for by the President, total additional military assistance for Central America, including El Salvador, will be $130 million in fiscal year 1983.

CONCLUSION

Let me conclude, Mr. Chairman, with a final observation. The President eloquently set forth the reasons why the outcome of the current conflict in Central America is important to our national security. I would like to suggest an additional reason. Our Communist adversaries the world over depict the United States as a reactionary, status quo power standing in the way of legitimate aspirations for change. Their propaganda dismisses the relevance of political democracy to the problems of the developing world and asserts that we seek weak, unstable neighbors that we can dominate and exploit.

These assertions are lies. We are, in fact, allied with progressive forces working for economic development, reform, and democracy. We seek not weak, exploitable neighbors, but ones that are strong, secure, and independent. Nor is democracy irrelevant to the problems faced by the developing nations. Democracy, not Communism, is the best way to deal with their problems. That is what the struggle in Central America is all about.

BASIC ISSUES

Secretary SHULTZ. On March 10, the President described very clearly the national security stake we have in Central America and the Caribbean. Many factors are involved and the remedies are complex, but the basic issues are relatively simple. Central America is in transition, trying to resolve the tensions of the past by developing democratic institutions and workable reforms.

Violent, antidemocratic minorities with close military and ideological ties to Cuba and the Soviet Union are attempting to disrupt this effort and seize power by force of arms. Central America is too close and of too much strategic importance for us to stand idly by while that happens. Our security is at stake, and our most basic principles are being tested.

It is not surprising that our consultations with a wide spectrum of the Congress over the last 3 weeks have convinced the President and all of us that a bipartisan consensus on goals does, as you suggested, in fact exist. No one wants to see Communist guerrillas take power in El Salvador. No one wants to see a second or third or fourth Nicaragua in Central America. We are unanimous in wanting the outcome of the crisis in the region to be peaceful and democratic.

CENTRAL AMERICA STRATEGY

So I would like to focus today on the means to achieve these common objectives. I would like to review our regional strategy and explain why we believe the political strategy the President set forth in his March 10 speech can help end the war and produce a democratic outcome in El Salvador. I will then discuss the resources we need to make it work.

Our strategy proceeds from an analysis that recognizes, in fact emphasizes, that there are legitimate social, economic, and political grievances in many parts of the region. For example, many of El Salvador's problems stem directly from failings of past Salvadoran Governments, failings that often go back decades, but which must be addressed now.

The second critical factor is the decision by Cuba with Soviet-bloc support to organize and arm guerrilla forces under Marxist-Leninist control. This tactic, and its fruits, are evident in Nicaragua, which since 1979 has become a base for the export of violence to its neighbors. Almost immediately after the Sandinista takeover in Nicaragua, El Salvador became a target, with the expectation that Communist bloc training and supplies would bring a quick military victory to Cuban-backed extremists.

Our conclusion is that we face two related challenges: to help alleviate longstanding political, economic, and social problems, and to help counter a Communist strategy which seeks to aggravate and exploit these problems and so to seize power by force of arms.

The strategy we have developed is comprehensive and regional. Much of it has been elaborated in consultation with the region's democracies. It consists of six mutually reinforcing elements. Each is necessary to insure the success of the whole.

I might just refer, I believe each is necessary and insufficient by itself. So I think we have the old mathematical analogy for a proof that has to be both necessary and sufficient. So we need all of these elements working together to form a workable strategy.

CRITICAL COMPONENTS FOR WORKABLE STRATEGY

The first and critical component is support for democracy, reform and the protection of human rights. Violence feeds on the failure of local institutions to provide responsive government, justice under law, or means to achieve peaceful social and economic change. We know that democratic governments are far less likely to abuse their citizens than dictatorial regimes whether of the right or left. We know that democracy cannot flourish in the presence of extreme inequalities in access to land, opportunity, or justice. We cannot hope to succeed unless we address these first-order concerns.

The second element is support for economic development. Underdevelopment, recession, and in the case of El Salvador, the guerrillas' "prolonged war" against jobs, transport, and crops creates human hardship and misery that are being exploited by the enemies of democracy. Three-quarters of the resources in support of our Central American policy go to economic assistance.

The third element is support for the security of the nations of the region. We must provide El Salvador and our other friends struggling for democracy enough military training and assistance to protect against the military power of the guerrillas so that nonmilitary solutions can be found. Security assistance is not an end in itself, but a shield for the region's democratization and development.

The fourth element is to give the area hope in the future. That is why our economic efforts go beyond the traditional forms of assistance. The President's Caribbean Basin Initiative (CBI) proposes unique long-term incentives to spur the sustained economic growth these countries have demonstrated in the past they are capable of achieving.

The fifth element is to deter the Sandinista attempt to promote a "revolution without frontiers," their phrase. We are providing essential economic and security support to Costa Rica and Honduras. Together with other democratic countries of the region, we are working to persuade the Sandinistas that they should come to the bargaining table ready to come to terms with their own society and their neighbors.

The sixth element is support for peaceful solutions. Internal reconciliation, through democratic elections, guarantees of personal security, and amnesty, can be an alternative to violence and the consequences of violence for all concerned. Similarly, regional agreements can strengthen democracy and reduce sources of conflict and militarization.

All six of these elements must be applied and sustained for the strategy to succeed. No amount of reform alone can bring peace so long as the guerrillas expect and seek military victory. No amount of economic assistance alone can suffice if the guerrillas can destroy basic infrastructures again and again with impunity. Even sustained government military superiority alone will not bring sustained peace in the absence of more freedom and of better opportunities for social and economic development.

CENTRAL AMERICA STRATEGY—EL SALVADOR

Let me turn now to El Salvador. How is our strategy working there?

First, respect for human rights has grown slowly, but steadily. Political violence against noncombatants is a serious problem but is down markedly since our assistance began 3 years ago. Military operations have resulted in the capture of prisoners. The treatment of individuals in prison for security reasons has improved. International access to detained individuals is regular and prison facilities are cleaner and better administered. Even so, the criminal justice system remains a major concern, one I will examine in greater detail in a moment.

Second, in 3 short years and despite determined guerrilla opposition, El Salvador's Government has redistributed more than 20 percent of all arable land. Some 450,000 people, about 1 Salvadoran in every 10, have benefited directly. Strong peasant organizations have emerged. An AID-financed study by independent consultants visiting El Salvador reported that "members of the team were under the impression that the conservative coalition that won the March 1982 election had attempted to annul the reforms. During 2 months of field work, however, we discovered that reforms were still very much alive." The recent extension of land reform legislation confirms this judgment. The distributive aspects of the reform, if continued at the present pace, can be completed this year.

Third, the general economic situation is poor. In the last 4 years, the Salvadoran economy has contracted by 25 percent. Overall unemployment is in the neighborhood of 40 percent. These are staggering numbers, if you think about them at all.

Imports of medicines and food have been hampered. To maintain even zero growth in real terms, El Salvador needs substantial assistance to import materials, intermediate goods, and essential agricultural inputs for which it lacks foreign exchange.

GUERRILLA MOVE AGAINST ECONOMIC STRUCTURE

Part of the problem is that the international recession has depressed commodity and agricultural markets on which El Salvador depends for foreign exchange. But the more serious weak point is that since the failure of their 1981 so-called "final offensive" the guerrillas have moved against the economic infrastructure. They have destroyed 55 of the country's 260 bridges and damaged many more. The national water authority is carrying out 112 reconstruction projects to restore facilities damaged by guerrilla action. Two hundred forty-nine separate attacks have caused millions of dollars of damage to the telephone system. Electrical systems have suffered over 5,000 power interruptions in a 22-month period ending last November, an average of almost eight a day. The eastern region was blacked out for over a third of the year in both 1981 and 1982. Thirteen crop-dusting planes have been destroyed or damaged since last October. Over 200 buses were destroyed in 1982 alone. Less than half the rolling stock of the railways remains operational.

So if people say, can the guerrillas do anything, the answer is yes, they have done quite a lot. In short, guerrilla sabotage is depriving the people of El Salvador of food, water, transportation, light, sanitation and work.

It cannot be stressed enough that this guerrilla campaign of "rule or ruin" is contrary to the will of the overwhelming majority of Salvadorans. The Archbishop of El Salvador put it this way on March 18. "The population wants there to be peace. I do not see that the guerrillas, who have progressed militarily and in experience, have popular support. There have been about four or five of-want p[illegible] knows how many [illegible]e to come. But the people

MILITARY SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR

This brings me to a fourth point. The military situation is not desperate, but could become so if we fail to help. The Salvadoran armed forces face the difficult task of fighting mobile and well-trained enemy units supported from the outside, while also protecting static targets and population and production centers. Ten days ago, we had to provide an emergency airlift of critically needed small arms ammunition.

The Salvadoran soldier, when well-trained and well-led, is capable. Guerrilla operations have for the most part been localized to certain areas of the country, and the government forces we have trained are performing effectively. The three U.S.-trained units conduct themselves professionally both on the battlefield and in their relations with noncombatant populations. But I think both those points are worth noting. Only 10 percent at most of the Salvadoran armed forces have received our training.

Fifth, democracy and reconciliation have made major advances this past year. The Constituent Assembly has engaged a wide and diverse political spectrum, from ARENA on the right to Christian Democracy on the left. It has not been easy for often bitter political rivals to deal with each other in a parliamentary forum with the outside world watching skeptically. But, gradually, they are coming to listen to each other, moderate, compromise, accommodate. In addition to working on a new constitution, the assembly has reached agreement on a Government of National Unity guided by the multiparty Pact of Apaneca, and proceeded seriously with land reform including the vital Land to the Tiller program.

As envisioned in the Pact of Apaneca, the Salvadoran Government has designated three high level commissions, on the political process, on human rights, and on peace. The peace commission is specifically charged with developing measures of national reconciliation. Its members include a Catholic bishop and two civilians, one a representative of the political parties, the other a former foreign minister. On March 17, this independent commission formally proposed legislation providing for a general amnesty.

It is this atmosphere, the yearning for peace, the viability of El Salvador's new democratic institutions, and what Archbishop Rivera has called "a desire for understanding more than revenge," that gives impetus to the decision to hold presidential elections this year—a decision greeted with hope and approval by all, including His Holiness Pope John Paul II, when it was announced.

In sum, despite continued human rights problems and troubled economic and security conditions particularly outside major population centers, heartening progress has been made in political, economic, and social reform. Essential groundwork has been laid for progress in national reconciliation.

RESOURCE NEEDS AND POLICY OBJECTIVES

Let me now turn to our resource needs and policy objectives. Economic assistance is vitally needed to permit the purchase of essential imports and to help restore basic services and infrastructure disrupted by the guerrillas. It is needed to strengthen the agrarian reform and to help finance labor intensive reconstruction that will provide work to those deprived of it by guerrilla sabotage. It is needed to help the private sector, now cut off from capital markets, regain access to credit for critical imports.

To accomplish these objectives, we are planning to provide El Salvador some $227 million in fiscal year 1983 economic assistance, including economic support funds, development assistance and Public Law 480 commodity financing. This includes $67,100,000 the President has proposed to reallocate for El Salvador from current funds.

This additional assistance—for which no new appropriations are being sought—will be heavily committed to public services, medical needs, and food imports. A major component will support a comprehensive new program of services and reconstruction in two parts of the country most critically affected by the guerrilla war.

To continue building the kind of disciplined, skilled armed forces that can take and hold the initiative while respecting the rights of its people, we submitted to Congress on March 10 a notification of our intent to reprogram $60 million in FMS loan guarantees to El Salvador. We are also planning to reallocate to El Salvador $50 million in grant MAP funds from our January supplemental request. As with economic assistance, none of this increase will involve funds other than those previously requested.

We are not planning to send El Salvador advanced heavy weapons like the Soviet tanks acquired by Nicaragua. Nor have we any intention of Americanizing the fighting by introducing U.S. combat advisers. Rather our emphasis is on greatly expanded training for Salvadoran soldiers, with all or most of the additional training taking place outside El Salvador if funds permit.

The funds we have requested would enable us to train some 50 percent of El Salvador's main fighting units, compared to 10 percent until now. They would also help El Salvador's armed forces to increase force mobility with additional helicopters, small naval craft and trucks, and to acquire necessary munitions and spare parts. Some of this military assistance will also be used for engineering equipment and medical supplies to provide relief for the people suffering from the effects of the guerrilla war.

Time is important to this objective. The more quickly we help these armed forces become more effective and responsible instruments of El Salvador's national policy, the sooner their shield will be available to protect the emerging democracy and developing economy we all seek. To quote Senator Jackson, "if you're going to have the ballot box free and open, there must be a shield behind which the people can participate."

EL SALVADOR'S SYSTEM OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Let me return here to one problem that is not primarily a question of resources, the deeply troubling ineffectiveness of El Salvador's system of criminal justice. It is true that this stems directly from the larger problem of violence. But it is equally true that efforts to protect human rights and instill respect for the law are gravely hampered if the courts are unable to bring cases to a timely and impartial conclusion.

RELEASED
Project Human Rights

The Salvadoran Peace Commission and Human Rights Commission together have a mandate to review all laws and procedures governing political crimes, and to make recommendations for improving the judicial system as a whole. Some problems may be subject to relatively prompt action. For example, increasing security for judges and other court officials or transferring jurisdiction over military offenders to military courts. Other problems, such as reviewing rules of evidence and substantive criminal law or upgrading case management, investigative techniques, and judicial administration will by their very nature take longer.

We have been asked for help in this delicate area and want to be of assistance. However, because El Salvador's judicial system is quite different from our own, specific recommendations will require more detailed knowledge and cooperative programs than we have now. We are working on both. We hope that Latin American democracies, like Costa Rica and Venezuela, whose legal systems are closer to that of El Salvador, will also help.

NEGOTIATIONS

Let me address now the question of negotiations.

The President has emphasized our support for negotiations aimed at "expanding participation in democratic institutions, at getting all parties to participate in free, nonviolent elections." We will not support negotiations that short circuit the democratic process and carve up power behind the people's back. We will support negotiations to help provide guarantees of electoral fairness and protection for voters and candidates of all persuasions.

For 18 months, the Government of El Salvador has been attempting to open democratic political processes to all political forces including the Marxist ones. The Peace Commission has the specific mandate to help incorporate all social and political groups in the elections this year. The president of the Constituent Assembly has called for the main political unit of the guerrillas, the Frente Democratico Revolucionario [FDR] to take part in the election.

As the President indicated, we are willing to help. Surely there will be interest in measures which would guarantee the personal security of candidates and their supporters, in the provision of observers to encourage fairness and discourage coercion or intimidation, and in specific ways to insure access to media, an accurate tally, and ultimately, respect for the results.

We will be making proposals to the Salvadorans on how we, the Organization of American States and other concerned countries can help to achieve each of these objectives. We are fully committed to this course.

We also support negotiations among countries, as the President has said, "To strengthen democracy, to halt subversion, to stop the flow of arms, to respect borders, and to remove all the foreign military advisors, the Soviets, Cubans, East Germans, PLO, as well as our own, from the region."

Eight democratic countries of the region, meeting in San Jose, Costa Rica in October 1982 called on Nicaragua to join them in pledging an end to cross-border support of guerrilla violence, a freeze on the growth of military arsenals, and freedom of action for peaceful democratic groups. Nicaragua refused to discuss these principles. The San Jose proposals, if accepted, would reduce East-West tensions in Central America and contribute to a regional political solution.

Discussion now centers on the possibility of a meeting of foreign ministers of the five Central American countries, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, and Guatemala, observed by the foreign ministers of five other countries within the region, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Mexico, Panama, and Venezuela, this so-called five-plus-five meeting. This is what the President referred to in saying that a regional peace initiative is emerging. Nicaragua would be engaged in the process. Its good faith, or lack of it, will be tested.

ECONOMIES OF HONDURAS AND COSTA RICA

Pending a peaceful solution, we must also seek to bolster Honduras and Costa Rica, two democracies with troubled economies where major externally directed terrorist incidents have occurred. These nations, on the borders of Nicaragua, feel most strongly the growing threat of Nicaraguan military power, which is fortified by some 2,000 Cuban and Soviet bloc military advisers.

Both Honduras and Costa Rica have democratic systems. Yet they too are prey to self-proclaimed Marxist "liberators" who despise democracy and attack reform. By strengthening these democracies and by helping them to pass through difficult economic times, we can help both countries to provide stability and hope even in the midst of regional crisis.

We, therefore, plan to provide an additional $101 million in economic assistance in fiscal year 1983 for Honduras, Costa Rica, and Belize. With the critical $67.1 million in additional economic assistance for El Salvador, this is a regionwide economic assistance increase of $168 million, of which $65 million has been added to our January supplemental request.

With respect to military assistance, we are increasing our January supplemental request for MAP funding by $20 million, mainly for Honduras, with some assistance for Costa Rica and the Panama Canal area schools. Thus, as called for by the President, total additional military assistance for Central America, including El Salvador, will be $130 million in fiscal year 1983.

CONCLUSION

Let me conclude, Mr. Chairman, with a final observation. The President eloquently set forth the reasons why the outcome of the current conflict in Central America is important to our national security. I would like to suggest an additional reason.

Our Communist adversaries the world over depict the United States as a reactionary, status quo power standing in the way of legitimate aspirations for change. Their propaganda dismisses the relevance of political democracy to the problems of the developing world and asserts that we seek weak, unstable neighbors that we can dominate and exploit.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

These assertions are lies. We are, in fact, allied with progressive forces working for economic development, reform, and democracy. We seek not weak, exploitable neighbors, but ones that are strong, secure, and independent. Nor is democracy irrelevant to the problems faced by the developing nations. Democracy, not communism, is the best way to deal with their problems. That is what the struggle in Central America is all about.

I thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Senator KASTEN. Mr. Secretary, thank you very much.

The subcommittee this morning will operate on a 10-minute rule, and I will ask the subcommittee staff to operate the light system.

ELECTIONS IN EL SALVADOR

Mr. Secretary, many guerrilla leaders have said that true elections in El Salvador are impossible because of the attitude of the Government in power there. What makes you think that the Government would be willing to hold fair elections, and would, in fact, fair elections be impossible under the present circumstances?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, in the first place, an election was held that I think on the whole had astonishing results, so there is a piece of experience there. Second, they have declared their intention to do so, and, in fact, moved the date a little bit closer than had been originally scheduled.

Beyond that, their constituent assembly has been actively working on the ways in which this election would be held and the various commissions I referred to in my testimony are in various ways directed toward the problems of how to conduct a fair, open, free election. Perhaps the key ingredient, at least in the questions of whether or not this can come about, is whether there can be genuine negotiations with the guerrillas about entering the democratic process and taking part in these elections.

Obviously, no one can know what they will do, but it seems to me it is clear to everyone, and we must do everything we can to help produce the situation where there can be assurance of personal safety, and there can be a presumption of accepting the results, and there can be fair access to media, and so forth, and those are proper inducements for people to join this process and take advantage of amnesty.

Personally, I think as long as they feel they can win a military victory, they are unlikely to take part, but if they feel that that is in question, perhaps they will if what is offered is clear and has a solid basis for it.

Senator KASTEN. Well, let me see if I have this right. You say you would support negotiations on everything to do with the elections, in other words, access to media, security, et cetera. Now, are you saying that the Peace Commission is going to, in fact, contact the opposition parties? What would happen if the opposition parties want to talk now about power sharing, or even power sharing in terms of how the election would be held?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I think the idea of having an election, establishing a government, and then having a negotiation to share power in that government with the people who, by armed efforts, tried to make the election impossible is sort of counterproductive, and not a workable way to go about it.

We all know and subscribe to, as you said in your opening statement, the proper way to lend legitimacy to not only a government, but to participation by individuals in it, namely, by having a proper election. So it seems to me that negotiation over the electoral process is quite important and necessary. However, negotiation to develop a shared power government before the election is not appropriate.

THE CLERGY IN CENTRAL AMERICA

Senator KASTEN. Mr. Secretary, in testimony before our subcommittee a few weeks ago, we had some discussion of, in your words, so-called Marxist clerics. What is your reaction today to the Pope's visit to Central America in light of your criticism of Marxist clerics?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I do not think that I phrased my answer to questions on that subject with the greatest felicity. Nevertheless, the meaning that I had was that if members of the clergy take certain actions which, though not necessarily wanting them that way, result in an increase in Soviet power, in the development of a system like that, that is antithetical to basic religious objectives, because the record shows that such regimes are not sympathetic to freedom of worship.

That was the intent that I had, and I do not want to try to quote His Holiness on this subject, but it did seem to me that the reception that he got in Nicaragua was perhaps a marker, and his own comment about the importance of church people preaching about religious doctrine, and foregoing a kind of militant liberal church approach are very much to the point.

BALANCE BETWEEN ECONOMIC AND MILITARY ASSISTANCE

Senator KASTEN. Mr. Secretary, much of the public discussion on this issue has focused on the military aid and the dollar numbers plus possible restrictions by the Congress. However, you are also requesting a significant number of dollars, $168 million, for economic assistance overall, including some of the money that has already been appropriated, compared to $130 million in military assistance.

Are we finding ourselves for political reasons having to balance the military with some economic aid, or is there really a need for as much economic aid as the administration is asking for?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, there is certainly a need. I think you can see the need in terms of just the things that need to be reconstructed just by themselves. There is a need in terms of the depressed state of the economy, in part because of the damage to infrastructure, but also because of economic conditions generally.

So, there is a need there, without any doubt. I think a fair question is whether the use of these resources, say, to reconstruct bridges, just to take an example, is going to turn out to be worthwhile in the sense that what has been built can be destroyed, and here I think we see the interaction between the importance of providing a shield and the importance of providing help to developments in the economy.

JUDICIAL SYSTEM IN EL SALVADOR

Senator KASTEN. Mr. Secretary, a continuing concern of not only the Congress but clearly the American public, and I know it is of particular interest to a number of Members of this subcommittee, is the inability to bring to trial those accused in the murders of U.S. citizens, and the larger problem of the overall judicial system.

You talked briefly about that in your opening statement. It was with this concern in mind that last week I sent a telegram to the El Salvadoran Defense Minister in which I urged him to get the military involved and committed to bringing to trial those accused in the murders of U.S. citizens.

Can you give the subcommittee any additional information on the progress being made in this regard, and specifically what has come out of the meeting of the high command of the Salvadoran military last week? Are we in the process of making real progress in this important area of judicial reform?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I hope we are, and it is desperately needed. I do not have any answer to the critics other than to agree with them, and I say we hope we are. I know the old saying that the proof of the pudding is in the eating, so the proof of whether or not there is progress will be in whether or not things actually take place. It takes more than hope. It takes more than plans. It takes behavior in a court.

So, as I said in my testimony, we are working on it. We have been applying all of the good offices and sense of determination and pressure that we can. I do not think the results to date are remotely satisfactory, but I think there is a very considerable prospect of making genuine headway.

Senator KASTEN. Senator Inouye?

Senator INOUYE. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

MILITARY ASSISTANCE REQUEST

Mr. Secretary, I am certain that this subcommittee will be most responsive and favorably inclined to your request for economic—commodity—Public Law 480 or developmental assistance. The matter before this committee is the reprograming request submitted by the President for $60 million in military assistance. Therefore, I would like to focus most of my attention on the military aspect of this problem.

In the Congressional presentation, you have indicated that 60 percent of the $60 million would be used for immediate ammunition and spare parts replacement requirements. It has been reported rather widely in the press and by certain diplomats, however, that Salvadoran forces will not fight at night, and are often reluctant to leave their barracks, and this raises a question of how much ammunition they are actually using.

Second, recently it has been reported very widely that many of the guerrillas' weapons are captured, or even bought, from government troops.

Now, do you have any information as to these two charges?

Secretary SHULTZ. I think each of the points you make are important points, but I do not think they represent the true picture. The Salvadoran armed forces have fought, and will. I think particularly the ones that we train have sustained very high rates of casualties and kept going. They have managed to maintain protection of main population centers, so they have achieved a lot and they have distinguished themselves in quite a number of respects.

No doubt there are instances of the capture by guerrillas of American-supplied arms, but the vast bulk of the arms have been provided through the Soviet Union and Cuba and Nicaragua to the guerrillas. Some of those arms are American arms captured in Vietnam. They have been identified by serial numbers.

So, there have been some American arms that have come by that route.

AVAILABLE ARMS SUPPLY

Senator INOUYE. How many days' supply would you say is on hand in El Salvador at this time?

Secretary SHULTZ. I do not have an answer to that question. Obviously, it depends upon the rate at which it is being used. It is one of those things that is hard to estimate. I do know that we had to airlift some small arms ammunition a couple of weeks ago to keep their inventory up, so it is a definite problem.

Senator INOUYE. If we are not able to determine the rate of expenditure, how can we possibly determine the amount that they need?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, of course, Senator, in part the rate at which they expend has to be related to what they think is available to them, and I know you recall that in fiscal year 1982 I think our level of military aid was roughly $60 million, and in fiscal year 1983, under the continuing resolution under which we are operating, so to speak, they are operating, that level is about $25 million.

So, prudence, I suppose, suggests that you pace yourself, recognizing that it may be enough, but you do not want to run out.

GUERRILLA MILITARY SUCCESSES

Senator INOUYE. According to history, we have been training and providing subsistence to the Salvadoran armed forces now for over 30 years. In the past 2 years alone we have provided $117,500,000 in military assistance to this country. Yet, as noted by the March 15 presentation, the guerrillas have gained the military initiative. How has this happened?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I do not know about the military initiative. I think they have demonstrated a capacity to destroy. They have demonstrated a capacity to disrupt the countryside. They have not successfully disrupted the main population centers at all. They have not demonstrated capacity to take and hold a given area.

So, there is a certain initiative, no doubt, but I do not think that that is quite the word that should be applied to it. It must be said in the light of the history that you cite that the efforts that have been made are short of the mark.

The type of evidence that I think can be cited in support of the possibility of achieving things by further military efforts as well as economic efforts and the general strategy described is the fact that the recent U.S.-trained battalions have performed quite well in both senses that I mentioned in my testimony, and there has been a reasonable amount of progress in the nonmilitary aspects of those objectives.

Senator INOUYE. Well, I was quoting from the Department of State program justification, dated March 15, in which you said the guerrillas had gained the military initiative notwithstanding the support we are providing. What reason do you have to believe that we can do better next year than we have in the past 30 years?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I have tried to cite some of those reasons. I think there is evidence in terms of the performance of the U.S.-trained battalions. There is determination, renewed determination toward the democratic process. Maybe we are seeing the emergence of a brighter and stronger world economy which will help everybody, including El Salvador.

There are a number of things that can be helpful, but I do not come here saying that I have some sort of magic ability to give you a total assurance. I think it is a big problem. It is our problem. It is their problem. And there are things we can do about it, and I feel we should do them.

MILITARY SOLUTION IN EL SALVADOR

Senator INOUYE. Do you believe there is a military solution to this problem?

Secretary SHULTZ. No, sir.

Senator INOUYE. Don't you think——

Secretary SHULTZ. I think if I could explain just briefly, I think, as I said in my testimony, you have to approach this with a strategy that has a number of strands, and each strand is necessary. If all you have is a military program you are not going to succeed. You are going to have to have other things going as well. But I think a military component under the circumstances is essential.

NEGOTIATIONS IN EL SALVADOR

Senator INOUYE. What are your thoughts on discussions, negotiations or dialog—whatever word is appropriate—that are without condition? I ask this because in all of the presentations I have heard so far it appears that the United States is setting forth certain conditions. We will first have the elections before we negotiate. You must come in to share this election, otherwise we will not talk.

Don't you believe that this is an El Salvadoran problem that should be resolved in El Salvador by Salvadorans?

Secretary SHULTZ. Yes, sir, I do. I think negotiations about the electoral process, obviously, have to take place before the election and not after.

Senator INOUYE. Then why does the statement about the elections always come first?

Secretary SHULTZ. I did not make that statement. I said that the Peace Commission has a mandate—the Salvadoran Peace Commission which we are helping, and which we are supporting. But, as you properly point out, in the end we are not in a position to say do thus and so. It is up to them.

But one of their main tasks is to design that election so that all parties in El Salvador can participate, and in order to do that there is no doubt about the fact that they will have to have a dialog or whatever you want to call it about the ways in which that election will be conducted and the ways in which security will be assured and so on.

CIVIC ACTION PROGRAM

Senator INOUYE. I understand that the administration is planning to provide about $27 million for a civic action program by the Salvadoran armed forces. Is this a rebirth of the village pacification programs which we carried out unsuccessfully in Vietnam?

Secretary SHULTZ. It is an effort to say to the military forces that as an area is secured it is not enough to use, in your phrase, to think in terms of a military victory. You have to think in terms of a human victory, an economic victory, a psychological victory, a political victory, and that means that you need to give attention to the pattern of life and what it takes to improve it as an armed force is able to get control of an area.

I think that, to my mind, is a very good thing.

Senator INOUYE. Why put this program under the auspices of the armed forces? Why not civilians?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, the armed forces are there, and they represent an organized body, so I think it is a reasonably natural role for them, but presumably, as time goes on, it is basically a civilian governmental function surely.

Senator INOUYE. I have been advised that my time is up.

ADMINISTRATION NEEDS

Senator HATFIELD. Mr. Secretary, does the emergency aid request in this particular package combined with the regular 1984 request fulfill the administration's total needs, meeting the political, economic, military, social objectives, or has it been tempered to take into account certain negative political realities?

Secretary SHULTZ. I am not sure what negative political realities you are referring to. There are lots of them around. Could you be more explicit?

Senator HATFIELD. Perhaps we should start by saying list for us the positive political realities that exist in El Salvador. I think the negative political realities are obvious, the problems they are facing with the insurgency such as their problems of infrastructure being destroyed, their problems of trying to negotiate elections and various and sundry other political realities—not knowing how they are going to turn out.

Secretary SHULTZ. Exactly. The request represents our best estimate of the funds needed and usable in a constructive way in the time period involved to implement the strategy that is outlined. I am sure that more money—you could find reasons for more money, but I think that it is important to take the approach that you should only put in the funds that can be used in a reasonable manner.

El Salvador Project

Senator HATFIELD. So you think it will be sufficient to meet those objectives that you have set forth in your strategy?

Secretary SHULTZ. I think so.

MILITARY SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR

Senator HATFIELD. Mr. Secretary, Ambassador Hinton told the American Chamber of Commerce in San Salvador in October—in fact, October 29, 1982, to be precise—and I quote, "that El Salvador's army is slowly but surely winning the war."

At that point the Salvadoran army had suffered over 4,000 casualties and the civilian population had experienced somewhere between 3,500 and 8,000 politically-motivated deaths in a little over 1 year. Now, 5 months later, we get an assessment that we are possibly witnessing the danger of El Salvador losing the war—that is, the established government—unless the U.S. Government provides greatly increased amounts of military aid.

Could you give us briefly the conditions that have created this change of assessment between the time when Ambassador Hinton's cautiously optimistic statement was made and now, because a while ago you were indicating this aid is going to give us hope of improving the political-economic-social problems down there?

I am just wondering, considering this reversal from 5 months ago until today, how do we expect this to be turned around by this particular package?

Secretary SHULTZ. No doubt there are many causes of the fluctuations of fortunes. My belief is that a major one is a very sharp reduction in the annual rate of military aid coming from the United States, from an annual rate of around $60 million to an annual rate of around $25 million. When you do that to an armed force it is bound to have adverse consequences, particularly when the other side gets better organized and built up.

Senator HATFIELD. Considering what was already in the pipeline, do you attribute this reversal from Ambassador Hinton's assessment to your assessment solely and exclusively on that particular point?

Secretary SHULTZ. No, sir, I prefaced my comment on that point by saying that no doubt there are various factors that explain the tides in any war or battle. But the flow of resources to the respective sides and their estimate of what is likely must contribute and contribute importantly.

Senator HATFIELD. Mr. Secretary, I believe you indicated before to me and others that you believe the ultimate solution is political.

POLITICAL SOLUTION

Secretary SHULTZ. Yes, sir.

Senator HATFIELD. When you say "political" I am sure you include economic factors that undergird the political. If you were part of the insurgency, and you saw how much damage you were able to achieve against the established government in destroying the infrastructure, just in cold calculation, what would be the incentive to throw down your arms and give up this particular role that you now enjoy as a part of an insurgency?

This economic aid package is only looking at zero growth and maintaining the present status of almost economic collapse. What is the incentive of the insurgency to move to some kind of a change of mind?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, you ask it in terms of if I were part of the insurgency. If I were part of the insurgency, which I can't imagine, but nevertheless, if I were——

Senator HATFIELD. This is very hypothetical.

Secretary SHULTZ. Yes; it is very hypothetical.

Senator LEAHY. You do not have enough hair, Mr. Secretary.

Secretary SHULTZ. Gosh, my children keep telling me that, too, but who are you to talk?

Senator LEAHY. I know that. [Laughter.]

Secretary SHULTZ. I would like to think that I was part of that insurgency for reasons connected with the well-being of the people of El Salvador, and so if I saw that there were a chance for reform in human treatment or genuine assistance to economic growth and stability, to the development of a democratic process that I can participate in, I would like to think that would have a lot of appeal to me, if I felt that the amnesty and safety conditions were real.

Now whether the motivations of the Communist guerrillas are that or not I think is a very open question, and it seems to me more likely their object is to get control for themselves and to run the state in the manner that other Communist societies are run, in which case, if they believe that a military victory for them is possible, they are unlikely to take part.

At the same time, I think the likelihood of willingness to take part will be enhanced if it is shown that there is a determination and an ability militarily as well as in these other dimensions that I mentioned to resist their aggression.

UNCONDITIONAL NEGOTIATIONS

Senator HATFIELD. Mr. Secretary, if the ultimate solution is to be political, and if we have ways to at least engage in conjecture about what the motivations are in the guerrillas or in the insurgency, why not put them to the true test where they have offered to embark and engage in unconditional negotiations? Why are we so reluctant to move in testing their sincerity, testing their willingness to do that, putting them in that kind of situation?

It seems like we would get the offensive in that propaganda warfare, if it is only propaganda.

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, we think that we have the moral offensive in calling for elections, an electoral process, calling for them to take part in that, and willing to engage in a dialog to set up the conditions under which that could take place in a fair and open and safe manner.

I think in a sense the condition of being willing to negotiate about power-sharing is the obverse of that. So our condition is only to say that we do not intend to spend a lot of time negotiating over people shooting their way into the government because we are not going to go along with that.

RELEASED
El Salvador Appeal (1983)

into the ernment, but, on the other hd, I do not consider that the only issue to be discussed in negotiations is necessarily power-sharing at this particular point. Elections are a part of this whole program, and it seems to me to restrict it to the kind of a role that we are discussing now for the Peace Commission is narrowing the focus so much that we are leaving them the offensive again.

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I do not know. What would you suggest would be among the things discussed other than that covered? What do you have in mind?

Senator HATFIELD. I think there are probably many issues, and it is difficult for me to think in terms of being a member of the insurgency, like you, but if I were part of that I would think there would be all kinds of economic issues, all kinds of social issues, all kinds of matters affecting the future political direction of the country. I think there would be a lot of issues, not necessarily how many seats we would have in the constituent assembly or something of that kind.

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I think it is for the election to determine how many seats somebody has and for the electoral process to elicit from people what they believe the future road of the country should be and to go to the people and advocate their point of view, whatever it is.

So I would expect a wide variety of economic issues would be discussed and no doubt available information should be available to the people. So part of a discussion of a proper election would not be simply on the purely technical aspects of the election.

Senator HATFIELD. Of course, no one is predetermined to accept any conclusion on negotiations results. We do not go into negotiations saying we have to accept some kind of results. We can refuse unreasonable negotiations, if that turns into that.

It seems to me we ought to test their sincerity and get them on the defensive in this general feeling that I think the public has that we have restricted negotiations to only election procedures.

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I think that is the main point of the negotiations and I do not see that we are in a position to negotiate about what action a government will take after it has been elected. That is for the people who get elected to figure out.

Senator HATFIELD. My time is up.

PUBLIC SUPPORT FOR EL SALVADOR PROGRAM

Mr. Secretary, I just want to make one closing remark. I hope the administration is looking carefully at what kind of public support they have for this program. According to my mail it is diminishing very rapidly, and I do not think we can expect to come back year after year after year with more requests to continue a policy that seems not to be succeeding at this point, at least as we evaluate the period between 1982 and Mr. Hinton's evaluation and where we are today.

It seems like we are on a downward incline rather than upward.

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, if I could just comment on that, I think that there are measures of improvement that can be identified so that I do not think it is correct to describe the situation as one that has been in a genera e of deterioration. Quite to contrary, I think there are a nu r of things—and I refer to so of them in my testimony—that are on the plus side.

The big thing we have to do is really get a strong shield up there for these plus things to take hold.

Senator HATFIELD. Hopefully money will buy that.

Secretary SHULTZ. Money will help. Money never is the solution by itself. It takes people, and it takes determination, and it takes spirit, drive, encouragement, and sustainability. All of these things are very human qualities.

Senator HATFIELD. Senator Johnston?

HUMAN RIGHTS IN EL SALVADOR

Senator JOHNSTON. Mr. Secretary, I am very concerned about what it takes in the certification process to satisfy the United States as to progress in El Savador on human rights. In December 1980 four American nuns disappeared and were later found bound hand and foot, murdered, in a grave. Two labor leaders, Americans, have disappeared in the meantime, and no apparent progress has been made on any of those cases or on others involving U.S. citizens.

In October of last year Ambassador Hinton reported in a speech in El Salvador that 30,000 civilians have been killed since 1979, all noncombatants, and only 200 convictions had been obtained. Recently, as a matter of fact in March 1983, the bar of the City of New York issued a report on the criminal justice system in El Salvador. In this report they pointed out that the justice system is marked by corruption, intimidation, and inadequate training. In short, if you are rich in El Salvador you will never need to go to jail, but if you are anybody else, it is very difficult to obtain justice.

In 1982, this same report from the bar of the city of New York, commenting on the number of murders in 1982, reports that there are four sources for determining those murders—the Socorro Juridico reported 5,967; the Tutela Legal, 5,399; the Human Rights Commission 5,553—all of those based upon reports as to time and place of disappearance and other apparently objective, well-documented facts. Our Embassy admits only to 2,600, that based apparently on generally pro-government press reports. Even if it is the lesser number, it is still a huge number.

Now, with this kind of picture, with this kind of pattern, with this kind of report from the bar of the city of New York, it appears to me that little real progress is being made in human rights, fewer murdered, perhaps, down from 5,000 a year maybe to 3,000 or whatever the figure is, but still a huge number of murders.

As a lawyer concerned about due process, I do not want to tell the Salvadorans how to go about their business, but after a while, after over 2 years have passed in the cases of nuns and after months and months have passed on those of our labor leaders, the El Salvadorans are apparently thumbing their noses at us, and we know what kind of system they have. It seems like too much is too much and our patience ought to be exhausted.

Now my question is. Why shouldn't we now put more specific linkage between our aid and specific progress on human rights,

RELEASED
Salvadoran Human Rights Update
Central Intelligence Agency

specifically the nuns' cases, the labor leaders, and other issues involved in El Salvador?

Secretary SHULTZ. We should. I think this is—the things that you cite are—there is no way to stand up and say there is anything remotely acceptable about them. So it seems to me that we have to keep pushing very hard on all of these things and——

Senator JOHNSTON. I am not talking about pushing. I am saying no aid unless you have a trial within a certain period of time.

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I am for pressure on these things. I do not know if I want to get myself totally locked in where I have no room for maneuver, where we have no room for maneuver. But I will join anybody in condemning the lack of attention to the dignity of the individual as represented here, and I know we are very concerned about the nuns' case. We are very concerned about the labor leaders, and properly so.

But I think we have to be concerned about the vast numbers of Salvadorans as well as those, the Americans, who are involved. So I do not disagree with you.

Senator JOHNSTON. The problem is, it looks to me like all maneuver and no real pressure. After a certain period of time there ought to be pressure that says either you do it or you just do not get any more money.

Now specfically it has been recommended that there be—and I am again referring to this report of the bar of the city of New York, a new Ministry of Justice which would be a great step forward, that the Human Rights Commission ought to be given subpoena powers over military files and empowered to make investigations into security force personnel. It seems to me these kind of pressures, to demand as an incident of our aid that they do these things, ought to be done.

Secretary SHULTZ. These kind of procedural reforms are being worked on and proposed. The Peace Commission or the Human Rights Commission has been working on this. So that kind of thing is under way.

But I repeat what I said earlier in response to another question. The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and after all the procedural work and everything is out of the way, do people get apprehended and convicted if they are guilty and dealt with. That is the end point.

DETENTION OF AMERICAN VISITORS TO EL SALVADOR

Senator JOHNSTON. Mr. Secretary, on another subject involving human rights, I wanted to bring to your personal attention a series of events which occurred during the summer of 1982 trip to Central America by two sisters of St. Joseph who were part of a 13-member group visiting the Salvadoran refugee camps in Honduras. These two nuns happen to be from my State.

This group, upon entering Honduras, was detained for several hours by the Honduran military and was not allowed to make a phone call while they were held. All group members were very upset inasmuch as they had proper identification and were there with the permission of the local relief services. I wrote to Assistant Secretary Enders about this incident on February 18, 1983, and requested that an investigation into this incident be made by our local embassy.

To date, I have not received a reply. It is true that there was no violence involved in the sense of people being shot or tortured or injured, but I think it is the kind of incident that bears out investigation. I am wondering if you will speak to the proper authorities in your department and get a prompt report.

LETTER FROM THOMAS ENDERS

Secretary SHULTZ. I will speak to the proper authorities and get a prompt report. It is being investigated. I think it is a fair statement that the record in Honduras in these matters is pretty good, and so this is an incident. It is something that needs to be looked into, but it does not represent a pattern in Honduras. They do not have the degree of the problem that they have in El Salvador by any means.

[The letter follows:]

LETTER FROM THOMAS O. ENDERS

APRIL 9, 1983.

Dear Senator JOHNSTON: As I indicated to your Administrative Assistant on April 9, the American Embassy in Tegucigalpa has been actively inquiring into the incidents Sisters Redmond and Connell reported following their trip to Honduras last year. My interim reply to your original inquiry, I understand, was lost—at least temporarily—in the mails.

The passage of time between the occurrence and reporting of the incidents has complicated the process of investigation. Since our contacts with the San Pedro Sula local police have not sufficiently clarified the situation, our Ambassador, John Negroponte, is bringing this matter to the attention of the commanding officer of the Honduran Public Security Forces. Ambassador Negroponte sent us the following message on the situation as of April 9:

Embassy has been pursuing investigation with Honduran authorities orally since apprised of details of this issue by Honduran desk officer Dixon. Our efforts have been directed to San Pedro Sula office of DNI (the local police). Description of where subjects were detained seems to confirm that DNI was the branch of the military referred to in subjects' "Memorandum of Verbal Request to Senator Johnston." Official contacts have been unable so far to confirm fact of detention, much less any details.

Ambassador plans to send to the commanding officer of the Fuerza de Seguridad Publica (FUSEP) Colonel Daniel Bali Castillo on Monday, 4/11/83, a letter which reads as follows:

"I wish to inform you that the Department of State in Washington D.C. has asked me to investigate the circumstances concerning the detention of sisters Robin Cornell and Gay Redmond. Both are religious persons and are United States citizens. Apparently both sisters were detained by the Departmento Nacional de Investigacion (DNI) in San Pedro Sula during the month of December, 1982.

"We understand that sisters Connell and Redmond were detained on December 20 and held for several hours in the detention center on the roof of the DNI building in San Pedro Sula. We have been told that this occurred despite the fact that they had identification which established their United States citizenship and which indicated their association with local religious persons. They also stated that they were denied the opportunity to make phone calls while detained and were quite frightened by this incident.

"I would appreciate if you could look into the facts of this matter and advise me as quickly as possible."

We have every reason to believe that Honduran officials will conduct a serious investigation, and that they will be forthcoming with the results. Ambassador Negroponte is devoting his personal attention to the case. I would also like to assure you once again of my own concern and interest. You can expect more information from me in the near future.

Sincerely,

THOMAS O. ENDERS.

NUMBER OF ADVISERS

Senator JOHNSTON. Mr. Secretary, one final question. It has been suggested by Senator Inouye and others that we put a legislative limit of 55 Americans in El Salvador as part of our military training team. We spoke about this the other day, and you testified to it in your original statement, to the effect that you might not need more than 55 so long as you had the rest of the aid.

If you did not get the rest of the aid, you would need more than 55. I take it, then, if you get the rest of the aid or at least a reasonable amount to train Salvadorans in the United States that you would have no objection to putting a legislative limit of 55 American military advisers in El Salvador.

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, sir, we do not plan to have any military advisers working with them. These are trainers.

Senator JOHNSTON. Trainers or whatever you call them.

Secretary SHULTZ. So they are presumed not to be engaged in combat roles in a direct way. The number 55 sort of came out of the air, as I understand it. It was here when I got here, and nobody has been able to tell me exactly where it came from.

Senator JOHNSTON. Most numbers do around here.

Secretary SHULTZ. Anyway, it is a rough order of magnitude and, as I understand it, it has never been exceeded. Our numbers are about there at this moment. Obviously, if you say that training is essential—and the relatively good record of those who have been trained would suggest that it is essential—then you want to do it, and it takes money, and it takes money especially if you do it out of country. It is much more expensive.

If you do it out of the country, then the trainers are not in the country. But if you do not have the money to do it out of the country, then the implication is that you need more people to do it.

Now what kind of multiplier effect can take place as training proceeds, multiplier in the sense of you train future trainers, is a question in my mind. I know that that is what you ought to be trying to achieve, I think, in any training program, and presumably we are trying to achieve that.

Senator JOHNSTON. Thank you, Mr. Secretary.

Secretary SHULTZ. In other words, I am dancing around your legislative ceiling. I do not particularly like it.

Senator JOHNSTON. I know that.

Senator HATFIELD. Mr. Secretary, for the record, Walter Stoessel was the gentleman who in a closed meeting or briefing of this committee indicated that 55 was the number.

Secretary SHULTZ. Yes; but where did he get it from?

Senator HATFIELD. We never question where the State Department gets anything. [Laughter.]

Secretary SHULTZ. May I take that as a stipulation, Mr. Chairman?

Senator HATFIELD. That is a comment.

Senator LEAHY. That was the number we ended up with in Vietnam, Mr. Chairman.

Senator HATFIELD. The Chair now recognizes the Senator from New York, Mr. D'Amato.

PREPARED STATEMENT

Senator D'AMATO. Mr. Chairman, I would like to submit my statement for the record.

PREPARED STATEMENT OF HON. ALFONSE M. D'AMATO, U.S. SENATOR FROM NEW YORK

Mr. Chairman, Mr. Secretary, the Subcommittee on Foreign Operations meets today to review the President's request for a significant increase in U.S. assistance to the troubled nation of El Salvador and the region of Central America. Many do not realize the strategic importance of Central America to the United States. For example, 44 percent of our foreign trade passes through this region. In addition, a significant portion of U.S. oil imports travel through the Caribbean.

The increased activities of the Soviet Union and Cuba in the region present a clear and present danger to the interest of not only the United States but to all people committed to the principles of democratic government. We have only to look at events in Nicaragua to realize the potential impact of guerrilla activities in El Salvador and other nations in the region upon the people of Central America.

Some have proposed that the United States terminate all assistance to El Salvador. Clearly this would not be in the interest of the United States nor would it be in the interest of the people of El Salvador.

Nevertheless, serious questions remain with respect to the proper level of U.S. assistance to the troubled nation of El Salvador and the role of U.S. personnel in that country.

I look forward to hearing Secretary Shultz's assessment of the pending proposal and his response to a number of questions which I have with regard to the President's request.

INVESTIGATION OF MURDERS OF U.S. CITIZENS

Senator D'AMATO. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Secretary, I have supported the certification requirements that the government of El Salvador make a good faith effort to investigate the murders of American citizens before U.S. assistance is provided to that nation. Going a little further or following up my colleague from Louisiana, Senator Johnston, I have to indicate to you my deep concern that we are being given lip service and that condemning these acts serves little purpose if this matter continues to go unresolved—I am specifically disturbed over the circumstances surrounding the murders of the four American nuns.

It has become quite clear that, as Archbishop Rivera recently reported, the case of five National Guardsmen accused of killing the women is revived only when economic and military aid is sought by the Salvadoran Government. He said this should not be subject to foreign aid but that the purpose of the trial should be to achieve justice.

What are we going to do? Are we really saying that we are not in a position to say to the Salvadorans we want this matter resolved? We are tired. We are tired of the situation that is put on the front burner only when the American people and the Congress speak out and threaten the loss of aid. If that is the kind of people we are dealing with, what kind of social justice, what kind of long-term solutions can we expect and should our aid then go to this element?

Secretary SHULTZ. I can tell you what I say to them, and it is that in the end the American people will not continue support unless this human rights record is vastly improved and the judicial system is vastly improved. That is not threatening to cut off aid immediately or to say unless you act on this case we will do so and so—that kind of one-for-one relationship. But I think it is a fact that is what is going to take place no matter what.

I do not mind saying that because I believe that we just must get a better performance. I think there are definite signs and capacities to get a better performance, but, as I have said in response to several questions, I am not going to sit here and try to make excuses for that performance. I do not excuse it.

Senator D'AMATO. Well, Mr. Secretary, what, if anything, do you see coming about? What can we do, and what will be done with respect to this particular case? I do not believe that it is sufficient for us——

Secretary SHULTZ. What case are you speaking of?

Senator D'AMATO. The four nuns.

Secretary SHULTZ. As I understand it——

Senator D'AMATO. As recent as the Archbishop indicate, the Salvadoran authorities focus attention on the investigation only when the issue of U.S. assistance is raised. Thus, it appears as though these officials perceive of this matter only when it is politically expedient to do so.

I can speak on behalf of many of my constituents who are outraged over the delays in bringing this matter to justice. This case troubles them and troubles me very deeply. They have identified very clearly that there was a massive effort at covering up this situation. It was only because of an outcry that the Government undertook an investigation, pressure from this Government, and now there is another judicial glitch.

Now it is not good enough, I do not believe, Mr. Secretary, to say that we cannot become involved in the internal affairs of this nation when we are pouring, and we are asked to pour, hundreds of millions of dollars into that nation. I think we certainly can, and I think it represents to many of us the fine line that is important in saying who are we supporting. What kinds of people are these? Are they going to work with us?

If they want our money and, by the same token, say to us do not tell us how to run our court system, when it involves the loss of life of four American citizens, I think I would like to know what are we going to do with respect to this matter? Do you have any particular plans to bring pressure in connection with this particular case?

Secretary SHULTZ. Not only with respect to this particular case but with respect to cases in general. There is no doubt that there is widespread support in El Salvador for better handling of cases of this kind, and their own cases, which far outnumber those obviously involving U.S. citizens. There are plans under way and efforts being made for a reform of the judicial system to engage in the sort of procedural things Senator Johnston talked about, and I think there is a developing determination to make them work.

Clearly, this is a country that is in the process of rearranging itself. Whether it can do so successfully—which we believe it can is, of course, yet to be proven. The system of justice is one of the key ingredients that is in question. There are patterns there, and I think a developing willpower there.

CASE INVOLVING MURDERED NUNS

As far as the case of the churchwomen are concerned, the nuns, let me read to you the information that we had so I am a little careful on it because I know it is a case of great concern and importance.

On November 15—that is, last year—the judge ordered the churchwomen's case to trial, and on December 6 he appointed defense counsel for the five accused. Defense counsel then appealed the court order raising the case to a plenary jury trial stage, citing insufficient evidence. The appellate court ruled that the trial judge failed to provide the defense attorneys with formal notification prior to ordering the case to plenary—so you talk about procedures and lawyers.

Complying with the appellate court ruling on January 11, the judge formally notified the defense attorneys of his order raising the case to the trial state. Subsequently, the defense attorneys appealed the order raising the case to the plenary stage. They asked that the charges against the guardsmen be dropped for lack of evidence.

On Friday, March 11, the appellate court in San Vicente revoked a lower court motion raising the case to jury trial. They returned the case to lower court in—I cannot pronounce the word—Zacatecoluca for investigation and clarification of evidence.

In its decision, however, the appellate court confirmed the validity of the evidence presented against their defendants. In other words, the charge of aggravated homicide stands, and the appellate court's decision in no way changes the continued detention of the five ex-national guardsmen.

So, I know there have been reports that somehow the indictments have been thrown out or the people are free and so on. That is not the case. They were not thrown out. The charged have not been freed, and there is a presumption on the strength of the statement of the Attorney General that the trial will take place within 6 weeks to 3 months.

Now, what all of this legal business means exactly, I do not know. That is the kind of thing that lawyers engage in. Goodness knows, they sure engage in it in the United States. It is unbearable. I do not know how many of you are lawyers, but it is a problem you create for us.

Senator D'AMATO. Well, Mr. Secretary, I would suggest that this is a matter which is and should be of great concern to us.

Secretary SHULTZ. I agree with you.

Senator D'AMATO. Given the length of time—and the fact is this goes back to December 1980—and we are talking about legal parrying and thrusting, and I do not believe that this Congress should continue to feel that the requirements under the certification process that they are making—progress in this area, particularly as it

...answering.

I would suggest in whatever manner that would be appropriate diplomatically that they be told of this, and that they be told that those who have supported aid are looking very carefully, because I, for one, may not be so anxious or so ready to continue where I see good faith efforts have not been forthcoming.

LAND REFORM PROGRAM

One other question, Mr. Secretary, with respect to the land reform package. There has been some question with respect to whether or not the government indeed wants to—I understand the constituent assembly has recently reaffirmed support for the program, but what are the prospects that it will have sufficient funds to pay for these lands, or will that be an impediment and do you see a going forward?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I think it is going forward. That decision has been made. The process of redistriction has been quite pronounced. I think that is one of the elements of progress that can be cited and, as I said in my testimony, some 450,000 people have been directly affected, and if the rate of action is sustained, then it will be possible to complete the so-called Land of the Tiller program by the end of this year, so you will have created a different kind of situation where people own the land they till, and that gives them a different attitude, I am sure, toward this subject.

Peter McPherson, the Director of our AID program, has been digging into this explicitly. I would like, if I may, to ask him to make a comment about it.

Mr. MCPHERSON. Yes, Senator, you mentioned compensation. Under the so-called Helms amendment, the U.S. Government is prohibited from providing money to either plan for or to provide compensation for land reform or for land in El Salvador. Compensation is a bit of a problem because it would be in the interest of the program to be able to pay more faster. There is no question about that.

There has been some progress on that point. About 30 percent of the phase 1 program has been paid for in cash and bonds, and at this time there is quite an active market in bonds. That is not to say, Senator, that compensation is complete at this juncture, and it does remain a problem.

NUMBER OF TRAINERS

Senator D'AMATO. Mr. Chairman, I see my time has expired. I am wondering if the Secretary would address one question. The President has indicated we are not going to have American combat soldiers that would be sent to El Salvador. How would the pending proposal affect the level of U.S. personnel in El Salvador? You have not really quite addressed that.

Would there be any change in the level of troops in El Salvador as a result of the reprograming that you are asking for?

Secretary SHULTZ. We do not have any troops there.

Senator D'AMATO. American servicemen.

...have to adjust upward in addition to our embassy personnel but ... the trainers that have been the focal point of attention ... which includes ... [illegible] ... the total of
... million ... [illegible] ... the total ought to be possible to do this training out of the country and, therefore, you would not need to increase the number of trainers that are currently planned.

So, there is an interplay between the funding and the number of people needed to perform the function.

Senator D'AMATO. I think that is very important that the American public understand that the level of trainers or American personnel will not increase—that is what you are saying—if indeed these funds are made available because it will provide for training outside of El Salvador. Is that what you are saying?

Secretary SHULTZ. That is correct.

Senator D'AMATO. Thank you very much, Mr. Secretary.

Senator KASTEN. Senator Leahy?

Senator LEAHY. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

WASHINGTON POST ARTICLE

Mr. Secretary, before we start I wonder if I might put, Mr. Chairman, for the record—it will save me telling everybody tales about how people in Vermont feel about this—an article in this morning's Post by Mary McGrory entitled "A Vermont Town Plays the Tune," et cetera, et cetera. If that could be included in the record.

Senator KASTEN. The article will be included as part of the record.

1. IN RESPONSE TO REFTEL (A) REQUEST, EMBASSY HAS PREPARED THE FOLLOWING INDEX TO PART OF OUR FILES RELATING TO THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE. NOT INCLUDED ARE THE CHRONOLOGICAL FILES OF CABLE TRAFFIC AND CORRESPONDENCE AND THE AMBASSADOR'S EXDIS FILE. AS WE REPORTED IN REFTEL (B) REGARDING MICHAEL POSNER'S FOIA REQUEST, THE FILES ARE VOLUMINOUS AND WE WOULD NEED TDY HELP TO CONDUCT THE SEARCH.

2. THE TITLES OF THE FILES ARE SELF-EXPLANATORY EXCEPT FOR THE CONS 4 FILE WHICH IS SO-NAMED BECAUSE THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE BEGAN AS A CONSLAR MATTER. RESPONSE TO THE OTHER REQUESTS IN REFTEL WILL BE FORWARDED IN SEPTEL.

REF: A) BUENOS AIRES 1764; B) BUENOS AIRES 1560

1. MSGR. ANTONIO QUARRACINO, BISHOP OF AVELLANEDA NAMED EARLIER THIS MONTH HEAD OF THE LATIN AMERICAN BISHOPS CONFERENCE (CELAM) (REF A), FOUND HIMSELF THIS WEEK EMBROILED PUBLICLY WITH ONE OF ARGENTINA'S BEST-KNOWN HUMAN RIGHTS ADVOCATES. EMILIO MIGNONE, WHOSE DAUGHTER MONICA DISAPPEARED IN 1976, CHALLENGED QUARRACINO TO IDENTIFY "THOSE ALLEGED DISAPPEARED WHO ARE ALIVE AND OUT OF THE COUNTRY", AS HE IS REPORTED TO HAVE CLAIMED THERE WERE DURING A PRESS CONFERENCE IN HAITI LAST WEEK. SHOULD HE NOT CLARIFY HIS STATEMENT THE MIGNONES SAID THEY ARE READY TO START LEGAL ACTIONS AGAINST HIM FOR "FALSE TESTIMONY", CONCEALMENT, CALUMNY AND RELATED CHARGES.

2. THE CHALLENGE, SENT IN A REGISTERED LETTER WHICH HAS LEGAL STANDING IN COURT ACTIONS, CALLED ON THE BISHOP "TO ANNOUNCE PUBLICLY THE NAMES OF THOSE DETAINED-DISAPPEARED DENOUNCED ON THE LISTS OF THE PERMANENT ASSEMBLY FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, WHO, ACCORDING TO YOUR STATEMENT, ARE LIVING ABROAD". THE MIGNONES' LETTER GIVES QUARRACINO TEN DAYS TO CLARIFY THE MATTER.

3. COMMENT: THE DEMAND ON QUARRACINO IS THE LATEST OUTCROPPING OF A CONTINUING DISPUTE BETWEEN THE ARGENTINE HUMAN RIGHTS MOVEMENT AND PROMINENT MEMBERS OF THE CHURCH HIERARCHY. REMARKS BY CARDINAL ARAMBURU ON HIS RETURN FROM HAITI LAST WEEK SEEMING TO FAVOR AN AMNESTY LAW, ECHOING SIMILAR STATEMENTS BY QUARRACINO IN PORT AU PRINCE, PRODUCED DISPLEASURE IN THE MOVEMENT; ARAMBURU HAD AROUSED THE WRATH OF HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS LAST NOVEMBER WHEN HE DENIED THE EXISTENCE IN ARGENTINA OF COMMON GRAVES CONTAINING REMAINS OF PERSONS WHO DISAPPEARED IN THE DIRTY WAR. ARGENTINA'S OTHER CARDINAL, RAUL PRIMATESTA, HAS ALSO BEEN SINGLED OUT AS UNSYMPATHETIC TO THE CAUSE. THE MOTHERS OF THE PLAZA DE MAYO HAVE GONE SO FAR AS TO COMPLAIN WHILE IN ROME TO SEE THE POPE IN EARLY MARCH THAT THE ARGENTINE CHURCH HAD ABANDONED THEM (REF B). SHLAUDEMAN

2. LABOFF MET WITH SALVADORAN NATIONAL INDIAN ASSOCIATION (ANIS) LEADERS ADRIAN ESQUINO LIZCO AND ANDRES REFUGIO SANCHEZ ON 26 MARCH AT THE AIFLD RESIDENCE. ESQUINO AND SANCHEZ TOLD LABOFF THAT THEY EXPECT TO BE KILLED BY COL. ELMER GONZALEZ ARAUJO AT ANY MOMENT.

3. AFTER EXPLAINING THE SONSONATE KILLINGS TO VISITING AIFLD REGIONAL OFFICER MIKE VERDU, ESQUINO AND SANCHEZ [redacted]

ON THE MORNING OF 25 MARCH HE WAS SUMMONED TO THE OFFICES OF THE DEFENSE MINISTRY BY COL. CANAS. CANAS EXPLAINED TO ESQUINO HE HAD JUST RECEIVED A REPORT FROM SONSONATE DEPARTMENT COMMANDER, COL. GONZALEZ ARAUJO. THE REPORT STATES THAT ESQUINO LIZCO'S FATHER OWNS A CERTAIN AMOUNT OF LAND IN SONSONATE WHICH AT ONE POINT WAS CLAIMED BY PREVIOUS TENANTS UNDER 207 OF THE AGRARIAN REFORM (THE LAND TO THE TILLER PROGRAM). ACCORDING TO GONZALEZ ARAUJO'S REPORT, ESQUINO LIZCO TALKED THE TENANTS OUT OF CLAIMING HIS FATHER'S LAND AND PROMISED TO GET THEM ALTERNATE PLOTS TO OWN AND CULTIVATE. WHEN HIS PROMISE WAS NOT KEPT, GONZALEZ ARAUJO CLAIMS, THE INDIAN CAMPESINOS WHOM ESQUINO ALLEGEDLY DECEIVED DECIDED TO KILL ESQUINO LIZCO. COL. CANAS ALSO TOLD ESQUINO THAT GONZALEZ ARAUJO STATED HE WAS SUBMITTING THE REPORT OF HIS INVESTIGATION BECAUSE HE DOES NOT WANT TO BE BLAMED SHOULD SOMETHING HAPPEN TO ESQUINO LIZCO.

4. ESQUINO AND SANCHEZ ALSO TOLD LABOFF THAT THERE HAVE BEEN ATTEMPTS ON THEIR LIVES. CIVILIAN DEFENSE MEMBER AND SONSONATE KILLINGS PARTICIPANT MARIO PEREZ, ALLEGEDLY TOLD A SONSONATE WIDOW THAT HE HAD TWO BULLETS WITH THE NAMES OF ESQUINO AND SANCHEZ, RESPECTIVELY. DURING THE EVENING OF 23 MARCH, UNKNOWN INDIVIDUALS THREW HEAVY STONES ON THE ROOF AND PORCH OF SANCHEZ'S HOME IN AN EVIDENT ATTEMPT TO ROUSE HIM OUT. DURING THE WHOLE OF THE FOLLOWING DAY, ONE CIVILIAN AND TWO MEN IN UNIFORM SHOWED UP FREQUENTLY IN THE ENVIRONS OF ESQUINO'S HOUSE, EVIDENTLY LOOKING FOR HIM. ON 17 MARCH MORE THAN 14 MEN ARRIVED AND SURROUNDED ESQUINO'S HOME. FORTUNATELY FOR ESQUINO, HE NO LONGER SLEEPS

AT HOME AND WAS NOT THERE DURING ANY OF THESE OCCASIONS. HE NOW HAS A FRIEND SLEEPING AT HIS HOME WHO IS REPORTEDLY WELL ARMED. HE HOPES TO BE ABLE TO SHOOT ANY POSSIBLE ATTACKERS AND THUS SHOW PROOF OF A PLOT TO KILL ESQUINO. (LABOFF TOLD HIM THIS IS NOT A GOOD IDEA.)

4. ESQUINO SAYS GONZALEZ' STORY IS FALSE. HIS 105 YEAR-OLD FATHER HAS NEVER OWNED LAND. ESQUINO AND SANCHEZ ARE CONVINCED THAT COL. GONZALEZ ARAUJO IS USING

THE REVENGE STORY AS A CRAFTY BUT TRANSPARENT FABRICATION TO COVER HIMSELF SHOULD ESQUINO BE KILLED. ESQUINO AND SANCHEZ BELIEVE THAT THEY WILL BE KILLED OVER THE EASTER HOLIDAYS. DURING THIS PERIOD THE GOVERNMENT OFFICES WILL BE CLOSED AND GONZALEZ ARAUJO -- IF THAT IS HIS INCLINATION -- WILL HAVE PLENTY OF TIME AND LOTS OF OPPORTUNITY TO ARRANGE A HIT. LABOFF SUGGESTED TO ESQUINO AND SANCHEZ THAT, SINCE THEY HAVE GOOD RELATIONS WITH THE NATIONAL GUARD, THEY SHOULD ASK THIS INSTITUTION TO MAKE THEM SUPERNUMERARY VOLUNTEERS. THIS WILL ENABLE THEM TO DEPEND ON THE NATIONAL GUARD'S PROTECTION.
THE ANIS LEADERS' STRONG SENSE OF TRIBAL RESPONSIBILITY HAS HERETOFORE PREVENTED THEM FROM ABANDONING SONSONATE TO SEEK SAFETY.

BLANDON, AND LEADERS OF THE PARTIDO DEMOCRATA CRISTIANO (PDC). THEY ALSO TOURED THE EASTERN PART OF EL SALVADOR BY HELICOPTER, MET WITH THE COUNTRY TEAM, AND LUNCHED WITH PRESIDENT MAGANA. PUERTO DEL DIABLO. THEY ALSO SAW THE SAN LORENZO HYDROELECTRIC DAM PROJECT.

4. DEFENSE MINISTER
- CODEL FOWLER AND STAFFDEL HAYES-SKLAR, ACCOMPANIED BY THE AMBASSADOR AND THE AARMA, CALLED ON GENERAL JOSE GUILLERMO GARCIA AT THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE. THE SESSION, WHICH LASTED ABOUT 90 MINUTES, DEALT WITH A VARIETY OF ISSUES--INCLUDING GARCIA'S POSSIBLE RESIGNATION AND THE RAMIFICATIONS OF THE OCHOA REBELLION; PERFORMANCE OF THE ARMED FORCES; GUERRILLA RESUPPLY BY NICARAGUA; RELATIONS WITH GUATEMALA AND HONDURAS; HOW TO INSURE/GUARANTEE LEFTIST PARTICIPATION IN THE ELECTORAL PROCESS; AND PROBLEMS WITH THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM.

(A) POSSIBLE RESIGNATION: GARCIA STATED THAT THE PROBLEMS RAISED BY LTC OCHOA HAVE BEEN OVERCOME. THERE HAVE BEEN RUMORS ABOUT GARCIA'S RESIGNATION FOR TWO YEARS, YET HE IS STILL THE MOD. HE HAS NO PLANS TO RESIGN ANYTIME SOON, AND CERTAINLY WILL NOT DO SO AS A RESULT OF OCHOA'S DEMANDS. HE DESCRIBED OCHOA'S REBELLION AS A CLASSIC ACT OF INSUBORDIRATION THAT, IN "NORMAL" TIMES, WOULD HAVE RESULTED IN HIS BEING THROWN IN JAIL OR SHOT. HE UNDERSCORED ARENA'S ROLE IN THIS INCIDENT, AND ADMITTED THAT SOME OFFICERS WITHIN THE ARMED FORCES ARE POLITICALLY MOTIVATED, WHICH CAUSES PROBLEMS. HE THEN TALKED ABOUT AN AP OR UPI STORY (IT WAS UPI--HOWEVER, NO U.S. REPRESENTATIVE WAS IN COUNTRY WHEN THE STORY WAS FILED) WHICH CLAIMED GARCIA WOULD TRANSFER COLONEL BLANDON (1ST BRIGADE COMMANDER) AND COLONEL BUSTILLO (AIR FORCE COMMANDER) AT THE END OF THE

MONTH. HE STATED CATEGORICALLY THAT IT WAS NOT TRUE, THAT IT WAS PART OF AN ONGOING DISINFORMATION CAMPAIGN, THAT HE HAD REQUESTED A RETRACTION, AND THAT HE WOULD INITIATE A LAWSUIT.

(B) MILITARY PERFORMANCE: THE MILITARY SITUATION IS NOT GOOD. GUERRILLAS HAVE THE INITIATIVE (THEY CHOOSE WHEN, WHERE, AND HOW TO ATTACK) AND THE RESULTANT ADVANTAGE OF SURPRISE. THUS, THE ARMED FORCES MUST REACT TO GUERRILLA ACTIONS. HE ADMITTED THAT THERE WAS A NEED

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

DECLASSIFIED

DECLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

TO CHANGE TACTICS, BUT POINTED OUT THAT THIS WAS DIFFICULT TO IMPLEMENT. THE KEY, HE SAID, WAS TO ADAPT TO THE NEW TACTICS--NOT ADOPT THEM.

[redacted] GUERRILLA RESUPPLY: ASKED TO PROVIDE SPECIFIC EXAMPLES OF GUERRILLA RESUPPLY, GENERAL GARCIA GAVE TWO EXAMPLES. ONE WAS THE CAPTURE OF A NICARAGUAN PILOT WHOSE AIRPLANE, FULL OF ARMS AND AMMUNITION, WAS ON A RESUPPLY MISSION (THIS OCCURRED ABOUT JANUARY, 1981). THE OTHER WAS THE CAPTURE OF TARDENCILLAS, A NICARAGUAN WHO ALLEGEDLY WAS LEADING A COMBAT PATROL IN FEBRUARY, 1981. (THIS IS THE INDIVIDUAL WHO WAS BROUGHT TO WASHINGTON WITH GREAT FANFARE, AND SUMMARILY RECANTED HIS STORY.) ASKED TO PROVIDE RECENT EXAMPLES OF GUERRILLA RESUPPLY, GARCIA SAID HE COULDN'T. HE BELIEVES THAT NICARAGUANS HAVE BEEN KILLED IN COMBAT, BUT THERE IS NO WAY TO LEGALLY PROVE IT. HE SAID THAT THE BEST WAY TO STOP THE RESUPPLY FROM NICARAGUA WAS TO SUPPORT THE "CONTRA" EFFORT UNDERWAY IN NICARAGUA. THIS IS THE OPPORTUNE MOMENT TO GET RID OF THE SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT. IF IT IS NOT DONE NOW, HE SAID, IT WILL NEVER BE DONE.

[redacted] SECTION 02 OF 04 SAN SALVADOR 02843

(D) RELATIONS WITH GUATEMALA AND HONDURAS: GUATEMALA PROVIDES MORAL SUPPORT. THERE HAS BEEN AN EXCHANGE OF IDEAS FOR POSSIBLE COMBINED EFFORTS, BUT THIS IS STILL HYPOTHETICAL. COOPERATION WITH HONDURAS IS MORE EXTENSIVE, ESPECIALLY DURING OPERATIONS NEAR THE COMMON BORDER.

(E) ELECTORAL GUARANTEES: POINTING OUT THE ALLEGED ABUSES OF RIGHT WING DEATH SQUADS AND THE TREASURY POLICE, THE DELEGATIONS ASKED SEVERAL QUESTIONS CONCERNING HOW THE PARTICIPATION OF THE LEFT IN THE UPCOMING ELECTIONS COULD/WOULD BE GUARANTEED. GENERAL GARCIA POINTED OUT THAT THE ARMED FORCES FIGHT SUBVERSION IN GENERAL, BE IT FROM THE LEFT OR THE RIGHT. HE CLAIMED THAT "RIGHTISTS" HAD BEEN JAILED UNDER DECREE 507. HE SAID THAT THE ARMED FORCES HAD A MORAL RESPONSIBILITY TO GUARANTEE THE PARTICIPATION OF ALL NECESSARY SHOULD BE DONE BY OTHER GOVERNMENT AGENCIES (PEACE COMMISSION OR ELECTORAL COMMISSION). THE ARMED FORCES WOULD ENFORCE THE GUARANTEES.

(F) THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM: GENERAL GARCIA SAID THAT HE WAS IN AGREEMENT WITH THE CRITICISMS OF THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM, BUT IT WAS SOMETHING THAT WAS OUT OF THE MILITARY'S HANDS. CHANGES WERE NECESSARY, HE SAID, BUT WERE DIFFICULT AND WOULD BE SLOW IN COMING. LT. LOPEZ SIBRIAN IS A CASE IN POINT. THE MILITARY DID EVERYTHING THEY COULD, PROVIDED EVIDENCE, AND TURNED THE CASE OVER TO THE JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES AS IS REQUIRED. THE SYSTEM FAILED AND SET LOPEZ SIBRIAN FREE. THE PROBLEM IS WITH THE SYSTEM, AND THE ARMED FORCES CANNOT CHANGE IT.

(G) PRISONERS: GARCIA SAID THAT PRISONERS ARE CAPTURED. OFFICERS ARE INSTRUCTED TO DO SO, BUT NOT ALL OFFICERS AGREE WITH THIS POLICY. GUERRILLA PRACTICE OF CAPTURING AND QUICKLY RELEASING SOLDIERS UNHARMED HAS NOT LOWERED MORALE NOR WILLINGNESS TO FIGHT. GARCIA CLAIMED, CONFIDENTIALLY, THAT THE ARMED FORCES CONTINUALLY TURN PRISONERS BACK TO THE GUERRILLAS THROUGH THE RED CROSS, BUT DO SO WITHOUT PUBLICITY.

(H) CODEL FOWLER SUGGESTED THAT GARCIA, AS A GENERAL, SHOULD HAVE THE "LAST WORD," AND ASKED THAT HE OUTLINE WHAT THE MILITARY'S PRIORITIES WERE FOR THE PROPOSED AID. GARCIA POINTED OUT THE NEED FOR MOBILITY, WEAPONS, AMMUNITION, AND SUPPORT TO THE NATIONAL CAMPAIGN PLAN.

ONE MEASURE--A STAMP TAX--WOULD BRING IN 166 MILLION COLONES OF THE 219 MILLION THE PACKAGE IS SUPPOSED TO RAISE. REY PRENDES SAID THAT THE PACKAGE SHOULD BE APPROVED BY EVERYBODY--SO THAT EVERYBODY CAN SHARE THE BLAME--OR DEFEATED BY EVERYBODY.

OF REFORM DURING THE JUNTA, HAD BEEN SUCCESSFULLY PAINTED BY THE RIGHT WING PRESS OF EL SALVADOR AS ATTACKING THE MIDDLE CLASS' RIGHT TO PRIVATE PROPERTY. HE THOUGHT THAT CAMPESINO AND LABOR ORGANIZATIONS WERE ALREADY INCLINED TO VOTE PDC.

---ON THE LEFT AND ELECTIONS: THIS PART OF THE CONVERSATION WAS LET FOR THE MOST PART BY ALBERGUE AND MORALES ERLICH. YES, THE LEFT SHOULD PARTICIPATE IN THE ELECTIONS. ONLY THE FDR, AS OPPOSED TO THE FMLN, WOULD CONSIDER SUCH A MOVE. THE FMLN DOES NOT HAVE ELECTIONS ON ITS AGENDA. WERE THE FDR TO AGREE, THE FDR/FMLN WOULD SPLIT. THEREFORE, THEY SUGGESTED THAT A WELL THOUGHT PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN FOLLOWED UP WITH SWIFT ACTION MIGHT HAVE A CHANCE TO CAUSE THIS SPLIT.

LIVING IN THE SAME COUNTRY THEY ARE TALKING ABOUT. FOR THE U.S. THE IMPORTANT ITEMS ON THE AGENDA ARE THE KILLING OF THE NUNS AND THE TWO LABOR ADVISORS. THESE ARE NOT THE MOST IMPORTANT ITEMS FOR SALVADORANS. HERE PEOPLE ARE PREOCCUPIED WITH THEIR SURVIVAL, POLITICALLY AND ECONOMICALLY. FURTHER, NO CREDIT IS GIVEN FOR THE VAST CHANGES THAT HAVE TAKEN PLACE IN THE COUNTRY OVER THE PAST THREE YEARS, CHANGES WHICH WOULD NOT HAVE TAKEN PLACE IF THE COUNTRY HAD NOT GONE THROUGH ITS CRUCIBLE.

---ON CONDITIONS FOR U.S. ASSISTNACE: THE AMBASSADOR ASKED IF THEY (THE PDC) THOUGHT THE CONGRESS SHOULD ATTACH A CONDITION ON FURTHER U.S. ASSISTANCE INSISTING ON "DIALOGUE" WITH THE LEFT. MORALES ERLICH UNDERSTOOD THE REASON WHY CONGRESS IS FRUSTRATED AND WHY IT THEREFORE MIGHT WANT TO DO SUCH A THING. HE CAUTIONED THAT SUCH A MOVE WOULD UNDULY--AND UNNECESSARILY--COMPLICATE THE INTERNAL SITUATION IN THE COUNTRY. SUCH A DIALOGUE, WERE IT TO TAKE PLACE, WOULD BE ESSENTIALLY BETWEEN AN UNDEMOCRATIC ARMY AND AN EVEN LESS DEMOCRATIC GUERRILLA FORCE. WHAT WOULD BE THE FUTURE OF DEMOCRACY IN THAT KIND OF DIALOGUE? ON THE OTHER HAND, A STRONG EXECUTIVE, ELECTED IN A FREE ELECTION, COULD PROVIDE THE LEADERSHIP REQUIRED TO MOVE THE COUNTRY TO RECONCILIATION.

RICARDO STEIN ON 3/29/83 AT THE EMBASSY CONFERENCE ROOM. STAFFDEL MCCALL OPENED THE MEETING BY ANNOUNCING THAT SENATOR BYRD'S INCREASING CONCERN WITH THE SALVADORAN SITUATION SUGGESTED A NEED FOR A FIRST HAND REPORT. STAFFDEL EXPLAINED THEY WERE COMMISSIONED TO TALK TO AS MANY PEOPLE AS POSSIBLE IN EL SALVADOR. MCCALL THEN REQUESTED VIEWS ON WHERE EL SALVADOR IS TODAY AND WHERE IT IS GOING. FATHER ELLACURIA RESPONDED BY

HE THEN PROCEEDED TO READ FROM WELL-PREPARED NOTES A CAREFUL, ALMOST TAUTOLOGICAL, ANALYSIS OF THE SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR.

3. ACCORDING TO ELLACURIA'S "PERSONAL OPINION," REAGAN ADMINISTRATION POLICIES HAVE YIELDED SOME GOOD RESULTS BUT HAVE NOT SOLVED THE REAL PROBLEM IN EL SALVADOR. THE ADMINISTRATION HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL IN THAT THE FMLN HAS NOT ACHIEVED POWER, THERE IS A RELATIVE IMPROVEMENT IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION, AND THERE IS MORE ACTIVITY BY POLITICAL PARTIES. BUT, ON THE OTHER HAND, THE FMLN'S POSITION HAS NOT WEAKENED; ITS MILITARY STRENGTH IS LARGER THAN TWO YEARS AGO. NEITHER HAS ITS POLITICAL POTENTIAL DIMINISHED, NATIONALLY OR INTERNATIONALLY. IMPORTANT POLITICAL RESOURCES HAVE BEEN SQUANDERED IN A FUTILE SEARCH FOR A SOLUTION WHICH IS NOT NEARER NOW THAN BEFORE; INDEED, IT SEEMS FARTHER AWAY. THE COST OF THESE EFFORTS, HOWEVER, HAS BEEN TREMENDOUSLY HIGH.

4. ACCORDING TO ELLACURIA, PRESIDENT REAGAN'S NEW POLICY DOES NOT SOLVE THE PROBLEM OF EL SALVADOR BECAUSE IT RELIES ON A FAILED SCHEME. THE POLICY EMERGES FROM TWO ASSUMPTIONS: (1) THAT A MARXIST REGIME IS SO UNACCEPTABLE THAT ANYTHING, INCLUDING WAR AND REPRESSION, WOULD BE PREFERABLE; AND, (2) THAT THE NEGOTIATED PRESENCE OF THE FMLN IN A POWER-SHARING OR REPRESENTATION SCHEME WILL INEVITABLY USHER A MARXIST REGIME INTO POWER. REAGAN'S NEW POLICY IS CHARACTERIZED BY TWO METHODS: (1) TO SEEK THE PROGRESSIVE MILITARY DEFEAT OF THE FMLN, AND (2) TO SEEK A POLITICAL FACADE THAT IS ABLE TO LEGITIMIZE THE MILITARY STRUGGLE AND MUSTER NATIONAL CONSENSUS BEHIND IT.

5. ELLACURIA AFFIRMS THAT THIS POLICY WILL FAIL BECAUSE REAGAN'S ADMINISTRATION WILL NOT WEAKEN THE FMLN IN THE TIME IT HAS LEFT IN POWER. THERE IS ALSO NO REASON TO EXPECT A RAPID DECLINE IN THE INCREASING MILITARY POWER OF THE FMLN. TO IGNORE THOSE FACTS NECESSARILY IMPLIES CONTINUATION OF THE VIOLENCE AND CARNAGE. THIS POLICY ALSO CREATES CONDITIONS INADMISSIBLE FOR HOLDING FREE ELECTIONS: NECESSARY LEGAL INSTRUMENTS ARE MISSING; THERE WILL BE TOO LITTLE LIBERTY AND SECURITY FOR THE OPPOSITION;

AND, FINALLY, THE GOVERNMENT THAT WILL EMERGE FROM THE ELECTIONS WILL BE ABLE TO DO VERY LITTLE TO DEAL WITH THE REALITIES OF THE WAR.

6. ELLACURIA PROPOSES THAT THE U.S. ADMINISTRATION SHIFT POLICIES AND ATTEMPT A "PRE-DIALOGUE" WITH THE FMLN THROUGH A PERSONAL, OFFICIAL AND SECRET EMISSARY FROM PRESIDENT REAGAN. THE RATIONALE BEHIND THIS PROPOSAL, ELLACURIA STATED, IS THAT THE U.S. AND THE FMLN ARE THE TWO REAL PROTAGONISTS IN THIS CONFLICT. THE ADMINISTRATION WILL BE ABLE TO CONVINCE EVERYONE--EXCEPT ARENA--TO JOIN IN THE DIALOGUE. WITHOUT THIS INITIATIVE AS A FIRST STEP, A RAPID SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM WILL NOT BE POSSIBLE. AT ANY RATE, IT IS A MEASURE WHOSE VALUE HAS NOT BEEN TESTED YET AND SHOULD BE CAREFULLY CONSIDERED.
7. FOR THE OPPOSITION TO JOIN THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS, HOWEVER, CERTAIN CONDITIONS MUST BE MET. MILITARY AID TO EL SALVADOR SHOULD BE CONDITIONED TO THE CESSATION OF REPRESSION IN REAL TERMS, NOT ONLY IN THE GENERIC ASPECT OF HUMAN RIGHTS. IF REPRESSION

IS NOT EFFECTIVELY STOPPED, THE OPPOSITION WILL CONTINUE TO HAVE NO ALTERNATIVE BUT THE MILITARY SOLUTION.

8. AN INITIAL POINT IN THE PROPOSED PRE-DIALOGUE NEGOTIATIONS COULD BE TO AGREE ON THE CONCEPT OF A CLEAN WAR. THE ARMY WOULD STOP ALL MASSIVE BOMBING OF THE CIVILIAN POPULATION AND THE FMLN WOULD UNDERTAKE NOT TO HARRASS THE CIVILIAN POPULATION. AS A LAST POINT, NEGOTIATIONS SHOULD ALLOW THE FMLN TO HAVE ACCESS TO ALL OTHER PROGRESSIVE FORCES IN SALVADORAN SOCIETY. THIS PRE-DIALOGUE, THEN, IS IMPORTANT BECAUSE IT CAN LEAD TO OTHER, DEEPER FORMS OF DIALOGUE. THE ADMINISTRATION AND THE FMLN WOULD BE IN THE BEST POSITION TO FIND OUTWHAT EACH OTHER WANTS. ACCORDING TO FATHER ELLACURIA, THE FMLN IS NOW READY TO SPEAK SERIOUSLY WITH ANY SECTOR IN THIS COUNTRY WHICH IS NOT EXTREMELY RIGHTIST NOR TOO

AS IT NOW SPEAKS TO THE TOP HIERARCHY OF THE CHURCH. THERE IS NO LACK OF A WILL TO DIALOGUE WITHIN THE FDR/FMLN; BUT TO DO SO IN EL SALVADOR IS A CRIME. THEREFORE, TOP LEVEL DIALOGUE SHOULD BE THE FIRST STEP. ONCE THE U.S. AND THE FMLN GET TOGETHER, EVERYTHING ELSE WILL FALL IN PLACE.

9. ELLACURIA ADMITTED THAT, EVEN THOUGH THE FMLN IS WILLING TO NEGOTIATE, THE TWO MAIN GUERRILLA GROUPS--THE FPL AND THE ERP--MUST STILL BE CONVINCED THAT IT IS NOT NECESSARY TO CONTINUE THE WAR TO WIN. THIS COULD BE ACHIEVED IF THE ADMINISTRATION MAKES THE FIRST MOVE AND SENDS A SECRET PERSONAL EMISSARY OF PRESIDENT REAGAN TO MEET WITH THE FMLN.

10. MS. HAYES ASKED FATHER ELLACURIA WHETHER HIS PROPOSAL DID NOT CONDEMN THIS COUNTRY'S FUTURE TO BE DETERMINED BY THE U.S. AGAIN. SHE FURTHER STATED THAT THE ULTIMATE SOLUTION TO THIS CONFLICT SEEMS TO RESIDE ON CLEAR SUPPORT FOR THIS DIALOGUE ON THE PART OF THE SALVADORAN PEOPLE. FATHER ELLACURIA RESPONDED THAT FOR DIALOGUE TO TAKE PLACE IT IS ESSENTIAL TO STOP ARMY AND OLIGARCHICAL REPRESSION. THIS CAN BE ACHIEVED ONLY BY THE U.S. OR BY A VICTORIOUS FMLN. THE IMPROVEMENTS ALREADY ACHIEVED IN THIS FIELD ARE DUE TO U.S. PRESSURE ON THE ARMY AND ON ARENA. U.S. INTERVENTION IS A FACT OF LIFE, RICARDO STEIN INTERPOSED. IF THE U.S. HAD NOT STEPPED IN WHEN IT DID, THE FMLN WOULD HAVE WON. "INTERVENTION," HE CONTINUED, "IS A REALITY; LET US MAKE SOMETHING POSITIVE OUT OF IT."

11. FATHER ELLACURIA CLOSED BY SAYING THAT, EVEN THOUGH

[redacted]

THE OPPOSITION WILL DENOUNCE THE CREDIBILITY ASPECT OF THE ELECTIONS, THEY DO FOSTER HOPE THAT THE NEXT GOVERNMENT WILL BE A LITTLE ABLER TO NEGOTIATE FREELY. NONETHELESS, HE CONCLUDED, WHOEVER WINS THE ELECTIONS WILL NOT HAVE THE POWER TO MAKE CHANGES. THAT POWER WILL RESIDE, AS IT DOES NOW, IN THE ARMY, THE OLIGARCHY, AND THE U.S. EMBASSY. HINTON

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. WILLIAM P. CLARK
THE WHITE HOUSE

SUBJECT: Editorial Comment on El Salvador and the Human Rights Report

The following are editorial comments made by major U.S. newspapers on the subjects of El Salvador and the "Country Reports on Human Rights Practices for 1982."

I. EL SALVADOR

Between February 23 and March 17, 50 major U.S. dailies commented on the Administration request for increased aid for Salvador; the suggestion that more trainers may be sent; and application of the domino theory to Central America.

Slightly less than one-third of the papers (15 of 50) generally support present U.S. policy. Of the remaining 35 papers, fourteen called for some form of dialogue or negotiation; nine criticized the GOES and questioned our continued support; five opposed further U.S. military personnel involvement; eleven criticized Administration analysis of the situation (domino theory) and/or criticized U.S. policy in general. (NB: Total is more than 50 because some editorials made more than one major point, such as criticizing the GOES and opposing further military involvement.)

A. Favorable Comment Cites Communist Threat

Comment in support of current U.S. policy stressed the Soviet threat to the region. Several papers specifically mentioned Mexico as the "ultimate domino": "The Communists know El Salvador, in Communist hands, would position them better for the final attack on target Mexico" (Richmond NEWS LEADER); Mexico, with all of its internal problems, is the eventual target" (Detroit NEWS); "It should be obvious that we cannot tolerate a string of Soviet client states in Latin America" (Charleston [West Virginia] DAILY MAIL).

Three papers mentioned broadcasts on Radio Venceremos as proof that the "leftist insurgency in El Salvador is part of a wider regional conflict to topple other pro-U.S. governments" (Dallas TIMES HERALD). Also the Detroit NEWS and Washington TIMES. Three papers opposed "pluralism": "Communists do not enter coalition governments to share power but to seize power" (Memphis PRESS-SCIMITAR); "Let's not use the word [pluralism] to excuse a cop-o to communism" (Shreveport TIMES). The Pittsburgh PRESS made a like comment.

B. Critical Comment Focused on Four Themes

1. Dialogue or Negotiations Viewed Essential--Fourteen papers called for some form of dialogue between the factions in El Salvador: "Pope John Paul II had a better idea: 'sincere dialogue' between the government and the rebels.... It is the approach espoused by Mexico.... Surely there is merit in the advice..." (Chicago SUN-TIMES); "The Administration needs to dra the choices more clearly.... It is a case of negotiations vs. a all-out American commitment to a long, hard war with no guarante that El Salvador can salvage democracy at the end" (Des Moines REGISTER); "Short of 'power-sharing' with the left, negotiations will obviously have to include such weighty subjects as a cease-fire; an end to the state of siege; creation of an international peace-keeping force; confinement of armed forces to barracks and of guerrilla forces to encampment areas; security guarantees for candidates, voters, and campaign workers; access of all parties to the media; and a range of technical issues surrounding the election" (Boston GLOBE).

2. Administration Analysis Faulted--Ten papers cited lack of "clear thinking and straight talking" regarding the pres ent situation: "The Reagan administration...hit the panic butto (New York DAILY NEWS); "President Reagan's bombastic overstatements, his exaggerations and inconsistencies, have weakened his arguments...for more money to keep the war going in El Salvador" (Portland OREGONIAN); "The American public is confused.... With better vision, the administration and the Congress might be able to settle on a Central American policy which will be understood both here and there" (Ft. Worth STAR-TELEGRAM).

Others calling for a reassessment were the CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR, Detroit FREE PRESS, Minneapolis STAR AND TRIBUNE, Newar STAR-LEDGER, San Jose MERCURY, Salem [Oregon] STATESMAN-JOURNAL, Tucson DAILY STAR.

3. "Oppressive" Salvadoran Regime Blamed--Nine papers criticized the GOES and questioned continued American support fo a government that has "brutalized its own people...all the while being anti-Marxist" (Denver POST); "Pouring in more resources to prop up a government that has tenuous claim to popular support hardly serves Mr. Reagan's professed goal of protecting vital U. and Western interests" (Philadelphia INQUIRER); "What has been tried is military support for an oppressive government. It is n working" (St. Louis POST-DISPATCH); "Ironically, it is the oppre siveness of a regime like El Salvador's that provides the left with all the fuel needed to keep its campaign in high gear" (Cleveland PLAIN DEALER).

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Others critical of the GOES were the Albuquerque JOURNAL, Charleston (West Virginia) GAZETTE, Ft. Myers NEWS-PRESS, Louisville COURIER-JOURNAL, New York DAILY NEWS, Salt Lake City DESERET NEWS.

4. Increased Involvement of U.S. Military Personnel Opposed--Five papers condemned the use of more trainers or expanded missions for those now in-country. All tied this increase to the spectre of Vietnam: "The 'slippery slope' lesson of Vietnam is not unforgotten by many of us. We hope it is remembered by those who are mulling these next small steps down what could be a perilous path" (Atlanta JOURNAL); "Putting them [military advisers the State Department calls trainers] closer to combat areas is an extremely dangerous step that could open the way for another Vietnam. It should be nipped in the bud right now" (New York DAILY NEWS). The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Harrisburg PATRIOT, and Minneapolis STAR AND TRIBUNE made similar comments.

C. Marshall Plan for Central America

To date, we have received comment on this topic from only three papers: "A strong program of help for Central America as called for by Mrs. Kirkpatrick should be the centerpiece of U.S. policy" (CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR); "Ambassador Kirkpatrick's recommendation deserves unqualified support from Americans of every political persuasion" (Miami HERALD); "If so visible a figure as UN Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick is going to call for a Marshall Plan for Central America, it becomes a cruel joke if there's no money where her mouth is" (Baltimore SUN).

II. HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT

We have comment from nine papers on the "Country Reports on Human Rights Practices for 1982." Four papers praised its balance: "It is encouraging that more emphasis is being put on the uncivilized behavior of friendly nations as well as hostile ones" (Providence JOURNAL); "...comprehensive and balanced, sparing neither ally nor adversary in its criticism" (Detroit FREE PRESS).

Both the New York TIMES and the Louisville TIMES approved the report but felt it did not "make up for the President's own selective declarations."

Two papers were encouraged by gains in Latin America: "If there is any consolation in the surveys, it is the inching forward of freedom in Latin America" (San Diego UNION); "One of the bright spots mentioned...was Costa Rica" (Dallas TIMES-HERALD).

Two others mentioned continued abuses in the Soviet Union: "The Soviet record on human rights is abominable, but few around the world have spoken up in behalf of those it oppresses" (Chattanooga NEWS-FREE PRESS).

Most papers agreed human rights surveys are useful: "The truth is that America's ability to foster human rights is painfully limited. That does not mean, however, that the campaign in their behalf is unworthy or futile. One lesson of the past few decades is that public discussion does have some effect" (Detroit FREE PRESS); "This nation must continue to shine a bright light on the darkness of human rights violations--wherever they occur" (Dallas TIMES-HERALD).

Comprehensive Strategy for Central America

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Following is the prepared statement of Secretary Shultz before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, August 4, 1983.

I welcome this opportunity to discuss with you developments in Central America. Our policy toward Central America today is just as the President set it forth to the nation before the joint session of Congress on April 27. That night he identified our objectives as being to prevent a wider crisis and to bring about a lasting peace. And to achieve those ends, the President defined four activities to which we have committed ourselves: support for democracy, reform, and human rights; support for economic development; support for dialogue and negotiations among the countries of the region and within each country; and support for the security of the region's threatened nations as a shield for democratization, development, and diplomacy.

Every step we have taken since then is consistent with this comprehensive strategy. Let me sum up each element as it stands today and as it relates to the others and to the whole.

Before I do so, however, let me say that a key aspect of the President's statement of April 27 was his appeal for a bipartisan approach to Central America's increasing importance. With the counsel and support of many members of the Congress, the President has now named a National Bipartisan Commission on Central America headed by Henry Kissinger. Americans have begun to realize that we must pay more attention to our own neighborhood. An effort to look at the future, and to do so in a bipartisan spirit, has long been needed. I hope everyone will provide the commission as much assistance as possible as it begins its work.

Today, however, I want to discuss the current thrust of our four-part policy.

Support for Democracy, Reform, and Human Rights

First—and it belongs first—support for democracy, reform, and human rights: What we seek is a Central America more like Costa Rica than Cuba. We seek genuine democracy—not totalitarian charades but respect for human freedom and the rule of law, not repression but governments committed to the welfare of their own people.

Last year we observed with admiration Costa Rica's typically enthusiastic and meticulous national election. Today we are working with the Costa Rican Government, its prestigious Supreme Electoral Tribunal, and the new regional Center for Electoral Assistance to help other countries improve their electoral systems.

In 1981–82, we supported the transition to democracy in Honduras. Today defense of the constitutional democratic order in Honduras is a key objective.

In El Salvador, the Constituent Assembly elections a year ago last March were a stunning success, demonstrating that democracy can advance even in the face of guerrilla violence.

To help with the next Salvadoran elections, two prominent elections experts traveled to El Salvador in May accompanied by officers from the State Department and the Agency for International Development (AID). We have now developed a project to help provide technical assistance and international observers to support the coming elections. Our goal is to help the Salvadoran people build on the success of March 1982, not just the next time but many times in the future.

We are also working to help rebuild El Salvador's tragically inadequate criminal justice system. The Attorney General visited there in April to underline the importance we attach to legal reform in the development of a working democracy. Legal experts from a variety of U.S. agencies are following up and have visited Honduras and Costa Rica as well as El Salvador. In addition, at my invitation, Judge Harold G. Tyler is conducting a review of all materials available to us concerning the 1980 murder of four American churchwomen in El Salvador and will recommend further actions we might take to advance the prosecution of those responsible for this crime.

Democracy has not been the historical norm in most of Central America, and its construction will not be easy. But the amnesty in El Salvador, the scheduling of elections for a Constituent Assembly in Guatemala, the vibrancy of democracy in Costa Rica and Honduras—all are indications of the progress Central America is making.

What is happening in Central America will be further advanced by the President's democracy initiative. We have begun consultations—bipartisan, both at home and abroad—to build support for improved cooperation among political parties and other groups committed to democracy.

Economic Development

Second, economic development: Between 1960 and 1979, the nations of Central America had high per capita growth rates. But rising expectations clashed with outmoded and unresponsive political institutions; then economic slowdown brought additional conflict and instability. In recent years, falling prices of export commodities, rising import prices, the "rule or ruin" strategy of the guerrillas in El Salvador, and the growing uncertainty caused by Nicaragua's policies have created an acute economic crisis, increasing the region's vulnerability to communist strategies.

The United States has responded to these underlying economic problems with both generosity and imagination. Much of the $610 million in economic assistance budgeted for Central America this fiscal year is concentrated on stabilization efforts—to provide hard currency for essential imports to maintain production and employment. With the rest, AID is supporting about 120 individual development projects. To take just one critical area, the agrarian reform in El Salvador, our assistance has helped that program to benefit more than 500,000 persons or roughly 1 Salvadoran in every 10. Other AID projects are developing Costa Rica's northern zone, upgrading Honduras' forestry and livestock industries, and helping Guatemala's highland Indians. Regionwide, U.S. economic assistance is three times greater than our military aid.

Finally, we have worked hard with other nations and with you in the Congress to develop a new approach to assisting economic development—the Caribbean Basin Initiative (CBI). The CBI provides 12 years of free trade guarantees and incentives for investment in Central America and the Caribbean. It will be a powerful, long-term instrument for development and the creation of new jobs. The Congress passed the bill just a few days ago; the President will sign it shortly. The CBI is a good example of bipartisan cooperation in the national interest. I am confident its contribution will prove enduring.

Dialogue and Negotiations

Third, dialogue and negotiations: Our diplomacy is designed to help develop political solutions to Central America's national and regional problems. In Nicaragua, the new Sandinista regime did not respond to U.S. efforts at "constructive engagement." We then sought to resolve our differences through dialogue. And when bilateral approaches in 1981 and 1982 proved fruitless, we participated in the multilateral peace process launched last October in San Jose. From its beginning this year, we have supported the efforts of Colombia, Mexico, Panama, and Venezuela—the Contadora Group. That support continues today.

In El Salvador, we have consistently and systematically tried to facilitate reconciliation with those among the guerrillas and their associates who might prove willing to test their appeal in honest elections. We are now actively supporting the efforts of El Salvador's Peace Commission to open a dialogue with the Revolutionary Democratic Front (FDR)—the political arm of the guerrillas—to assure the safe participation of all parties in the democratic process.

Since his appointment by the President last April, your former colleague—now mine—Dick Stone [Richard B. Stone, Ambassador at Large and special representative of the President to Central America] has worked hard to encourage dialogue within El Salvador and in the region as a whole. He has met repeatedly with leaders of all the countries involved in the Contadora process, including the Nicaraguans. Last weekend, with the help of President Betancur of Colombia, Ambassador Stone had a first contact with a political representative of the Salvadoran guerrillas. We hope additional contacts will take place, and that they will facilitate a direct and detailed dialogue between the guerrillas and the Salvadoran Peace Commission.

Let me also note that there are important areas of convergence between the July 17 Cancun declaration of the Contadora presidents and the principles subscribed to by the United States last fall in the San Jose Final Act. The regional dialogue, though still very difficult, is gradually clarifying the essential conditions for democracy and peace.

Military Assistance and Cooperation

And, fourth, military assistance and cooperation: We seek a security shield, not as any kind of end in itself, but to provide the necessary protection for the political, economic, and diplomatic goals I have just described.

The military components of the President's policy have been carefully calculated to do just that. Two kinds of activities are involved—activities to help others defend themselves and activities to underline our own deterrent capability.

Military assistance is based on demonstrated needs in each country as measured against the threat to the country's security. The Administration's requests for fiscal year 1984 are as follows: for Belize—$500,000 in grant aid and $100,000 in training; for Costa Rica—$2 million grant aid and $150,000 for training; for El Salvador—$55 million in grants, $1.3 million in training, and $30 million sales credits; for Guatemala—no grant aid but $250,000 in training and $10 million in credit; and for Honduras—$40 million grant aid and $1 million for training.

Our readiness and deterrent capacity will be enhanced by the joint and combined exercises to take place with Honduran forces under the designation of "Big Pine II" in conjunction with fleet units. These exercises will serve two related objectives:

- To improve the training and readiness of our own forces and those of Honduras; and
- To provide a credible assurance to all parties that the United States has the capability to muster a protective shield in the face of any challenge to the inter-American system and our international legal obligations.

Evidence of Change

These are the elements of the policy. All four are essential to our strategy. And precisely because of the interplay among them, they give us both the strength and the flexibility to achieve results.

Our support for democracy is slowly having an impact. A basis is being laid for renewed and more equitable economic growth once the shooting stops. And a critical interplay is underway between the military and diplomatic aspects of our policy.

Nations as well as men need incentives to change their behavior. At least until recently, there has been no incentive for the Sandinistas, no incentive for the Salvadoran guerrillas, no incentive for Fidel Castro, and no incentive for the Soviets to believe that anything credible, anything difficult stood in the way of imposition of communist rule by armed force in El Salvador and in the rest of Central America. For what reason, then, would the Salvadoran far left be interested in participation in the political process? Why should the Sandinistas under such circumstances refrain from their "revolution without frontiers"? Why should Cuba act any differently in Central America than in Africa?

But something has now begun to happen. The evidence is there—in the interest in dialogue by the Salvadoran guerrillas, even in the words of Ortega [Daniel Ortega, Coordinator of Nicaragua's Junta of National Reconstruction] and Castro. Messages have been sent. By the solidarity among the Central American democracies, by the Contadora countries, by private remonstrances from Nicaragua's international supporters, by a popular insurgency inside Nicaragua, by the recent advances of the Salvadoran Armed Forces, and by the United States of America.

The substance of these messages is this: a victory by the far left and its foreign supporters through armed force is not in the cards. The people of Central America are intent on resisting that force. They are increasingly capable of doing so because of their own efforts and because the United States is helping them. The United States and Honduras, in our current military exercises, are demonstrating what cooperative training and deterrence are all about.

Our adversaries' options—which have so far stressed force—must be narrowed toward negotiation and dialogue. And I believe it is the responsibility of the Administration and the Congress to make certain that nothing is done to weaken the tools that can bring this about.

Our strategy is well constructed for the problems we face. It is sophisticated, realistic, and flexible. It is showing results. It deserves your support and that of the American people. ■

EVIDENCE OF VIOLATION OF THE NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY AND ARMED AGGRESSION ON THE PART OF A GROUP OF SUBVERSIVE ELEMENTS OF THE SANDINISTA NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT - 4 APRIL 1983.

IN ORDER TO ONCE AGAIN INFORM THE NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL PUBLIC OPINION MEDIA OF THE SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES WHICH NICARAGUAN REVOLUTIONARY LEADERS ARE CARRYING OUT IN COORDINATION WITH SUBVERSIVES OF THE SALVADORAN "FARABUNDO MARTI FRONT", THROUGHOUT THE HONDURAN TERRITORY, IN AN EVIDENT EFFORT TO SUPPORT OPERATIONS WITH THE END OF DESTABILIZING THE GOVERNMENTS OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN REGION, WE WISH TO PRESENT EVIDENCE OF THE DISRESPECT SHOWN BY THE SANDINISTAS WHICH THEY NATURALLY DENY IN ORDER TO DISSOCIATE THEMSELVES FROM ALL GUILT FOR THEIR IRRESPONSIBLE ACTIONS.

FACTS

ON SATURDAY, MARCH 26, AT 1600 HOURS OUR POLICE FORCES IN NACAOME, DEPARTMENT OF VALLE, WERE ALERTED BY RESIDENTS OF THE COMMUNITY TO THE EXISTENCE OF A GROUP OF SUBVERSIVE ELEMENTS ARMED WITH RIFLES, WEARING OLIVE-GREEN UNIFORMS AND BEARING MILITARY EQUIPMENT.

ON THE HILLS OF LAS CUEVITAS, APPROXIMATELY 5 KM FROM NACAOME, A GROUP OF SUBVERSIVES WERE TAKEN BY SURPRISE BY A POLICE PATROL. REALIZING THAT THEY WERE SURROUNDED, THEY OPENED FIRE WITH THEIR RIFLES AND FLED, LEAVING PART OF THEIR EQUIPMENT BEHIND.

THE OUTCOME OF THE ARMED CONFRONTATION BETWEEN THE POLICE FORCE AND THE SUBVERSIVES WAS THE DEATH OF ONE OF THE SUBVERSIVES AND THE ESCAPE OF THE REST OF THE GROUP, ONE OF WHOM WAS BADLY WOUNDED. HIS BODY WAS LATER FOUND BESIDE HIS WEAPONS AND MILITARY EQUIPMENT IN A STATE OF DECONPOSITION ON THE 28TH OF MARCH, AT 1400 HOURS, IN A PLACE KNOWN AS LOS ESTACONES.

CONCLUSIONS

A. THE AFOREMENTIONED DISCOVERY CONFIRMS THE FACT THAT THE SANDINISTAS ARE MAKING USE OF AN IMPORTANT STRETCH OF HONDURAN TERRITORY TO TRANSPORT MEN, WEAPONS AND OTHER SUPPLIES TO EL SALVADOR. THE POSSIBILITY THAT PART OF THIS CONTINGENT OF MEN AND ARMAMENTS IS BEING DESTINED TO REMAIN IN HONDURAN TERRITORY TO DESTABILIZE THE DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM CANNOT BE DISCARDED.

B. THE PURSUIT OF THE SUBVERSIVE ELEMENTS CONTINUES IN VIEW OF

CONCRETE INFORMATION THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN ABLE TO LEAVE HONDURAN TERRITORY FOR THEIR OPERATION BASES IN NICARAGUAN TERRITORY.

C. ACCORDING TO THE ESTIMATES OF THE DISTANCES COVERED WHICH APPEAR IN THEIR NOTEBOOKS, THE SUBVERSIVES, IN GROUPS OF 10-12, HAVE MADE USE OF THE ROUTE TO TRANSPORT PEOPLE AND SUPPLIES IN SUPPORT OF THE SALVADORAN SUBVERSIVES.

D. THE ROUTE IS THE FOLLOWING: FROM NICARAGUA TO HONDURAS THEY CROSS AT THE BLIND PASS BETWEEN GUASAULE AND EL ESTRIBO, CONTINUING ALONG THE HACIENDA LAS HORMIGAS, SAN BERNARDO, NAMASIGUE, HACIENDA SAN JOSE, PAYANA, SAN JERONIMO, JICARO GALAN, NACAOME, LANGUE, ARAMECINA; ENTERING EL SALVADOR THROUGH CONCEPCION DE ORIENTE. 2. SUMMARY: ON APRIL 8, HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION MEMBER MARIO LUIS VELASCO AND COMMISSION EXECUTIVE SECRETARY BANJAMIN CESTONI LUNCHED WITH THE AMBASSADOR AND EMBOFFS. IN RESPONSE TO THE AMBASSADOR'S QUESTION AS TO HOW THE U.S. MIGHT HELP THE COMMISSION FULFILL ITS OBJECTIVES, THE MEMBERS OUTLINED THE COMMISSION'S MAJOR NEEDS. THESE INCLUDE AN INVESTIGATIVE STAFF AND EQUIPMENT, FUNDS FOR PUBLICITY, AND FUNDS TO CONTRACT INDEPENDENT [redacted]

STUDIES OF HUMAN RIGHTS-RELATED ISSUES. THE COMMISSION HAS PROPOSED A BUDGET TO THE EMBASSY, AND MEMBERS EXPECT TO HAVE A RATIONALE WITH PRIORITIES FOR PRESENTATION TO THE DEPARTMENT DURING NEXT WEEK'S VISIT TO WASHINGTON. THE COMMISSION MEMBERS ALSO DISCUSSED AMNESTY, THE NEED FOR JUDICIAL REFORM, AND THE PROBLEM OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS AND THE ARMED FORCES. END, SUMMARY.

3. ON APRIL 8, HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION MEMBER MARIO LUIS VELASCO AND COMMISSION EXECUTIVE SECRETARY BENJAMIN CESTONI LUNCHED WITH THE AMBASSADOR, DCM, AND POLOFF. THE AMBASSADOR OPENED THE CONVERSATION BY ASKING VELASCO AND CESTONI FOR THEIR ASSESSMENT OF THE COMMISSION'S WORK TO DATE AND FOR THEIR OPINIONS ON WHAT THE COMMISSION NEEDS TO IMPROVE ITS PERFORMANCE.

4. VELASCO RESPONDED FIRST BY SAYING THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION IS WORKING WELL, AND ITS MEMBERS ARE DEDICATED TO IMPROVING HUMAN RIGHTS. HE THEN SAID COMMISSION NEEDS THE CONSISTENT MORAL BACKING OF THE UNITED STATES TO HELP ENSURE THE GOVERNMENT MAINTAINS ITS COMMITMENT TO HUMAN RIGHTS. THE AMBASSADOR REPLIED THAT THE COMMISSION COULD BE ASSURED OF CONTINUED U.S. SUPPORT OF ITS EFFORTS, AND ADDED THAT HE WAS CERTAIN PRESIDENT MAGANA WAS ALSO CONCERNED THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION ACHIEVE ITS OBJECTIVE.

5. VELASCO AND CESTONI THEN DISCUSSED WHAT THEY CONSIDERED TO BE THE COMMISSION MOST IMPORTANT RESOURCE NEEDS:

-- AN INVESTIGATIVE STAFF. AS THE COMMISSION HAS GAINED EXPERIENCE WITH SPECIFIC HUMAN RIGHTS CASES [redacted]

THEY HAVE FOUND THAT JUST TAKING TESTIMONIES FROM FAMILY MEMBERS OF DISAPPEARED PERSONS IS NOT ENOUGH. WHAT IS NEEDED ARE TRAINED INVESTIGATORS, PERHAPS LOCATED IN REGIONAL OFFICES EASILY ACCESSABLE TO THE RURAL POPULATION, WHO CAN GO TO LOCATIONS AND CONDUCT ADEQUATE INVESTIGATIONS. IN ADDITION, THE COMMISSION SHOULD BE EQUIPPED WITH ADEQUATE VEHICLES, CAMERAS, AND OTHER INVESTIGATIVE TOOLS THAT COULD BE USED TO BUILD A BODY OF EVIDENCE THAT WOULD STAND UP IN COURT.

COMMISSION'S BUDGET OF JUST OVER 700,000 COLONES TO BE INADEQUATE. (PRESIDENT MAGANA AND THE ASSEMBLY GAVE THEM WHAT THEY HAD ASKED FOR.) CESTONI HAS DRAWN UP A PRELIMINARY SUPPLEMENTAL BUDGET AND PRESENTED IT TO THE EMBASSY (SEPTEL). HE INTENDS TO REVISE IT AND TO DRAW UP A LIST OF PRIORITIES WITH THE OTHER COMMISSION MEMBERS FOR PRESENTATION TO THE DEPARTMENT DURING NEXT WEEK'S VISIT. THE AMBASSADOR SAID THE U.S. WOULD EXPLRE IN WHAT WAY IT COULD BEST BE OF ASSISTANCE TO THE COMMISSION. HE THOUGHT THE IDEA OF CONDUCTING INDEPENDENT STUDIES TO BE COMMENDABLE.

7. ON THE ISSUES OF AMNESTY AND JUDICIAL REFORM, CESTONI AND VELASCO SAID THEY THOUGHT THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION HAS A PERMANENT CONTRIBUTION TO MAKE. DR. JOSE MARIA MENDEZ (WHO IS EMBASSY ADVISOR ON THE CHRUCHWOMEN AND SHERATON CASES) IS DRAWING UP A DRAFT ARTICLE WHICH WOULD CREATE THE COMMISSION AS A PERMANENT

AT THE ASPECT OF THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM MOST IN ED OF REFORM IS THE PROCEDURES OF EVIDENCE. THESE ARE ITDATED, NOT ADMITTING TECHNICAL OR SCIENTIFIC PLICATIONS. JUDGES ARE SIMPLY NOT ORIENTED BY AINING TO MAKE LOGICAL DETERMINATIONS WHERE THE CODES
ACK PROVISIONS FOR ADMITTING EVIDENCE DERIVED BY MODERN ETHODS. THE AMBASSADOR COMMENTED THAT OUR EXPERIENCE
N THE CASES OF MURDERED U.S. CITIZENS UPHELD THAT ONCLUSION.

. THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT PRESIDENT MAGANA WAS XTREMELY INTERESTED IN PURSUING AMNESTY. HE SAID HE OPED THE COMMISSION WAS PREPARED TO ANNOUNCE IMMEDIATELY
THE RELEASE OF 30 POLITICAL PRISONERS FROM MARIONA PRISON THIS MONTH. CONVERSATION REVEALED THAT THE COMMISSION HAD NO RECOLLECTION OF HAVING RECEIVED FROM THE PRESIDENT A LIST OF PRISONERS DETAINED UNDER DECREE
507 WHO HAD RECENTLY BEEN RELEASED. CESTONI SAID HE HAD HEARD ABOUT IT FROM FAMILY MEMBERS OF THOSE RELEASED.
THEY AGREED TO FOLLOW UP IMMEDIATELY WITH THE PRESIDENT AND TO PUBLICIZE THE LIST.

9. VELASCO AND CESTONI SAID THE AMNESTY WAS STILL IN COMMITTEE AT THE ASSEMBLY; THEY HOPED THE ASSEMBLY WOULD PASS IT OUT SOON. CESTONI ARGUED THAT THE PROCEDURES OF THE AMNESTY WERE NOT AS IMPORTANT AS THE INTENDED RESULT -- A DECREASE IN VIOLENCE. THUS THE JOINT PEACE AND HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION BOARDS WILL HAVE TO MINIMIZE POTENTIAL PROBLEMS SUCH AS ARMED FORCES INTEREST IN AMNESTY RECIPIENTS AND REVENGE SEEKING AGAINST INDIVIDUALS IDENTIFIED AS FORMER GUERRILLAS.

[redacted]

10. THE AMBASSADOR SUGGESTED THAT THE RELEASE OF DECREE
507 POLITICAL PRISONERS PRESENTS SPECIAL PROBLEMS, ESPECIALLY BECAUSE THE CURRENT DRAFT AMNESTY LAW IS AMBIGUOUS ABOUT JUST WHO WILL BE RELEASED. CESTONI EXPLAINED THAT NOT ONLY DID THE AMNESTY REQUIRE CLARIFI-CATION ON THIS ISSUE, BUT DECREE 507 REQUIRES REFORM AS WELL. MOST IMPORTANTLY, THE 15 SECRET MILITARY TRIBUNALS ARE ACTIVE DUTY OFFICERS WITH NO PARTICULAR LEGAL EXPERIENCE, AND OTHER DUTIES, INCLUDING COMBAT. ONCE THESE OFFICERS HAVE REVIEWED CASES THEY PASS THEM TO THE SINGLE MILITARY JUDGE. ONE JUDGE IS SIMPLY NOT ENOUGH

UNCLASSIFIED

TO REVIEW THE OVER 700 CASES OF POLITICAL PRISONERS.
ANTICIPATING THE RELEASE OF SOME OF THE POLITICAL PRISONERS UNDER THE AMNESTY, THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSIO HAS SPOKEN WITH CANADIAN FOREIGN MINISTRY OFFICIALS ABOUT RESETTLEMENT IN CANADA. ACCORDING TO CESTONI, THE CANADIANS ARE RECEPTIVE TO THE IDEA.

11. VELASCO TOUCHED ON THE CENTRAL PROBLEM OF HUMAN RIGHT VIOLATIONS AND THE ARMED FORCES. HE SAID THAT MUCH OF THE PROBLEM IS DUE TO, "A LACK OF UNDERSTANDIN BETWEEN THE ARMED FORCES AND THE SALVADORAN PEOPLE.
THE LION IS NOT SO FIERCE AS IT SEEMS."
FOR EXAMPLE, WHEN THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION INVESTIGATED THE LAS HOJAS MASSACRE IN SONSONATE, (THE REPORT ON WHICH CESTONI CONFIRMED HAD BEEN GIVEN TO MINDEF) IT ONLY INTERVIEWED SURVIVORS AND WITNESSES
IT MADE NO ATTEMPT TO INTERVIEW THE ARMY, WHO THEY CLAIMED WAS RESPONSIBLE. THE SAME THING ALMOST HAPPENE
WITH THEIR INVESTIGATION OF THE DEATH OF MARIENELA
GARCIA VILLAS. AT FIRST THE COMMISSION HAD NOT WANTED TO INTERVIEW MEMBERS OF THE MILITARY, BUT HAD FINALLY DONE SO WITH GOOD RESULT. THE AMBASSADOR

HE HAD ALREADY MADE CONTACT WITH THE OFFICE OF PRESIDENTIAL PUBLIC RELATIONS. STANFIELD SAID THAT HIS GROUP INTENDED TO BE "COMPLETELY OPEN" WITH THE GOG, INCLUDING INFORMING THE GOVERNMENT THAT HIS TEAM WOULD ATTEMPT TO CONTACT GUERRILLAS IN THE COUNTRYSIDE. EMBOFF THEN TOLD STANFIELD THAT IT WAS NOT AT ALL CERTAIN THAT THE GOC WOULD ENJOY OR EVEN COUNTENANCE HIS GROUP MEETING WITH GUERRILLAS OR GUERRILLA FRONT GROUPS OPERATING CLANDESTINELY IN GUATEMALA. Honorable Barber B. Conable, Jr.

Dear Honorable Barber B. Conable, Jr.:

As an international businessman and a New York State resident, I would like to take this opportunity to express my views concerning the Human Rights Certification for Chile.

I do not believe that Congress, up to now, has fully heard the Chilean point of view regarding certification. I have recently travelled in Chile and have talked extensively with Chilean citizens of many political persuasions. I saw no indication that human rights were repressed. Instead, I saw groups of busy and industrious people striving to support their families, build a better community and improve the standard of living. This is no different from the expectations of citizens of the United States.

If the United States intends to be a major factor positively influencing and supporting the Latin American Governments, I urge you to see that the Chilean view on this subject be afforded fair and equal treatment in Congress. The perception in Chile is that the Administration and Congress has a distorted view of this sophisticated and mature nation.

Under the auspices of Human Rights, the U. S. bans exports to Chile of certain items either on the munitions control list or on the special commodities list. I hope that this is not part of a strategy to frustrate the Chileans. However, I believe that it reflects overreaction on the part of various government agencies to "limit technology exports" and regulate commerce.

Embargoes and export restrictions of items which can readily be purchased from European and Japanese allies and from Israel do not serve any useful purpose. This practice not only adds to an already unfavorable balance of trade but negatively impacts our friendship and political relations with these neighbors.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

I urge you to give fair and equal time to the Chilean point of view regarding human rights, to urge the Administration to certify Chile quickly and also to strive in Congress to stop the over control of exports by governmental bureaucracies.

Very truly yours,

Washington, D.C. 20520

Dear Mr. Loeffler:

Thank you for your letter of March 18 concerning El Salvador on behalf of your constituent, [redacted] PP

The number of U.S. trainers assisting the Salvadoran military remains below the Administration's self-imposed ceiling of 55. The average monthly number over the past two years has consistently stood below the ceiling. Neither the Salvadorans nor the Administration has sought an increased U.S. presence or combat role.

There are several important and fundamental distinctions between the character of the guerrilla insurgencies in Vietnam and El Salvador:

— El Salvador is experiencing an insurgency which began less than four years ago -- Vietnam's lasted some thirty years before it ended.

— El Salvador is a country which achieved independence more than a hundred and fifty years ago -- the Vietnam conflict reflected the after effects of a bitter colonial war in which the country was divided into North and South and where the communist government in Hanoi was able to portray its military intervention as being nationalistic in purpose.

— El Salvador's neighbors include democratic, free enterprise countries such as Honduras, Costa Rica and Mexico -- Vietnam is bordered on the north by the People's Republic of China, a country of one billion inhabitants which had long established its dominion throughout South East Asia.

— El Salvador is a country of five million people the size of Massachussetts -- the Vietnam conflict involved not only the 25 million inhabitants in South Vietnam, but extended through safe havens in Laos and Cambodia to North Vietnam and the People's Republic of China: a huge geographic area of well over a billion people.

The Honorable
Tom Loeffler,
House of Representatives.

United States Department of State

El Salvador is linked in a chain of contiguous nations fifteen hundred miles from the U.S. Mexican border -- the Vietnam conflict took place half way around the globe in South East Asia.

In the end, Vietnam fell not because of a domestic insurgency or popular support for communism, but because of direct armed aggression by forces from North Vietnam. While Nicaragua supports and directs the Salvadoran guerrilla movement, we do not anticipate that this would lead to actual military intervention by Sandinista forces.

There is, however, a disturbing parallel to be drawn between El Salvador and Vietnam. The establishment of a communist regime in South Vietnam resulted in the massive exodus of hundreds of thousands of refugees many of whom were resettled in the U.S. -- the implication vis-a-vis El Salvador and the Central American region forebodes a more numerous and direct impact on the United States.

The President has made clear that we are not going to Americanize the conflict by involving U.S. military personnel in combat in Central America. We recognize that there are serious economic, social and political problems in El Salvador and we support the Government of El Salvador in its efforts to bring about peaceful change. El Salvador has already achieved significant accomplishments: an ongoing land reform program which claims a half million beneficiaries thus far, and can expect an additional 35,000 by the end of this year; a sharp decline in political violence; and Constituent Assembly elections in which 80 percent of eligible voters participated. The Salvadoran people have demonstrated their desire for democratic change and the government of President Magana has and continues to be responsive. Preparations are underway for presidential elections by the end of this year -- open to all prepared to participate peacefully.

It should be emphasized that our assistance to El Salvador is principally economic, but to bring about meaningful change through the democratic process, there must be the military shield necessary to assure that reforms and the popular will of the people will not be menaced by violent minorities -- be they guerrilla insurgents or rightists.

Sincerely,

Powell A. Moore
Assistant Secretary for Congressional Relations

2. AS PROMISED, FOLLOWING ARE MY PERSONAL THOUGHTS TO YOU CONCERNING CONSIDERATIONS WHICH IMPACT ON YOUR PROPOSED NEXT STEPS IN THE LEBANON NEGOTIATIONS. AS YOU KNOW, SECRETARY HAS JUST RETURNED FROM MEXICO, WE HAVE HAD ONE MEETING WITH HIM, AND ARE MEETING WITH HIM AGAIN IN 45 MINUTES AFTER WHICH WE WILL COMMUNICATE AGAIN EITHER IN THIS CHANNEL OR BY PHONE.

3. IT APPEARS ALMOST CERTAIN THAT SECRETARY WILL BE VISITING MIDDLE EAST NEXT WEEK. THERE IS GROWING PRESSURE FROM SENIOR ADMINISTRATION SOURCES IN CONTEXT OF PRESS CRITICISM OF OUR HANDLING OF LEBANON (DIRECTED AT US NOT REPEAT NOT YOU) AND PEACE PROCESS ISSUES. UNDER CIRCUMSTANCES, SECRETARY BELIEVES AND WHITE HOUSE WILL PROBABLY INSIST ON VISIT BY SECRETARY TO ENGAGE WITH YOU IN LEBANESE NEGOTIATIONS. FINAL DECISION WILL PROBABLY BE TAKEN TOMORROW IN MEETING WITH PRESIDENT.

4. UNDER CIRCUMSTANCES WE ALL WISH TO ENSURE SECRETARY'S PERSONAL PARTICIPATION WILL BE AS PRODUCTIVE AS POSSIBLE. DRAWING ON HIS OWN EXTENSIVE NEGOTIATING EXPERIENCE HE DOES NOT REPEAT NOT WISH TO BE INJECTED INTO A SITUATION WHERE THERE IS AN ALREADY STRUCTURED AND HIGHLY VISIBLE CONFRONTATION WITH ISRAEL. HENCE OUR INSTRUCTIONS NOT REPEAT NOT TO MOVE AHEAD ON YOUR SCENARIO AS YOU PROPOSED. SPECIFICALLY, WE AGREE THAT THE LEBANESE SHOULD TABLE A DRAFT (SUBJECT TO YOUR VIEWS) BUT WE WOULD NOT COME OUT PUBLICLY OR PRIVATELY IN ALL-OUT SUPPORT OF THE LEBANESE POSITIONS. WE RECOGNIZE THAT THIS MIGHT RESULT IN A SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT LEBANESE DRAFT, AT LEAST IN SOME RESPECTS, THAN OTHERWISE WOULD HAVE BEEN THE CASE. SAM TELLS US THE ISRAELIS WANT AND EXPECT A LEBANESE DRAFT. IF ONE IS PUT ON THE TABLE TOMORROW, THE ISRAELIS COULD START PROCESS OF CONSIDERATION AND RESPONDING TO IT AND WE WOULD ENVISAGE YOU CONTINUING TO DISCUSS AND PRESS YOUR POINTS WITH BOTH SIDES.

5. A PROBABLE SCENARIO FOR A SECRETARIAL VISIT WOULD BE THE FOLLOWING:

-- ANNOUNCEMENT MADE BY WHITE HOUSE ON MONDAY. THIS WOULD SPECIFY THE SECRETARY'S PURPOSE WOULD BE TO WORK WITH YOU TO ACHIEVE POSITIVE RESOLUTION OF ISRAELI-LEBANESE NEGOTIATIONS. WE WOULD HOPE TO BE ABLE TO ANNOUNCE AT SAME TIME SECRETARY WOULD BE GOING TO CAIRO ON WAY TO ISRAEL AND LEBANON AND WOULD HAVE CHIEFS OF MISSION MEETING, PROBABLY ON WEDNESDAY.

-- SECRETARY WOULD PLAN TO STAY IN AREA FOR ABOUT TEN DAYS. WE WOULD NOT SUGGEST ANY OTHER VISITS BUT DEPENDING UPON TIME AVAILABLE AND RESULTS OF LEBANESE ENDEAVORS SUCH . VISITS WOULD OF COURSE BE POSSIBLE.

6. WE HAVE FULL UNDERSTANDING OF RISKS AND ADANTAGES OF SECRETARY'S INVOLVEMENT.

7. YOU SHOULD UNDERSTAND WE AGREE FULLY WITH YOU THAT THE ISSUE IS HOW RPT HOW BEST TO RESOLVE LEBANON IN THE NEAR FUTURE. WE AGREE WITH THE URGENCY. WE ARE REALLY TALKING ABOUT TACTICS WITHIN THE SAME TIME FRAME THAT YOU PROPOSED AND ALLOWING THE SECRETARY INITIALLY AT LEAST TO COME INTO THE GAME AS A MEADIATOR. OBVIOUSLY THERE ARE NO GUARANTEES THAT CONFRONTATION WILL NOT RESULT. OBIOUSLY WE WOULD SEEK TO AVOID THIS AND ACHIEVE AGREEMENT WITHOUT IT, IF POSSIBLE.

TAGS: SHUM, PINS, ELAB, ES
SUBJECT: (C) AD DENOUNCES "DISINFORMATION" ON LAS - HOJAS; ANIS SECGEN RETURNS

REF: SAN SALVADOR 3142

1. C--ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. A 4/16/83 FULL-PAGE AD IN LOCAL DAILY DENOUNCED LAS HOJAS AFFAIR AS PART OF A DISINFORMATION CONSPIRACY ACTUATED BY "DARK FORCES" SEEKING TO DISCREDIT THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES. MEANWHILE, UPON HIS RETURN FROM THE UNITED STATES, ANIS SECGEN ADRIAN ESQUINO LIZCO DESCRIBED TO LABOFF HIS TESTIMONY BEFORE CONGRESS. ESQUINO ALSO EXPRESSED CONTINUED CONCERN FOR HIS PERSONAL SAFETY IN VIEW OF FURTHER THREATS AGAINST HIM, HIS RELATIVES AND OTHER MEMBERS OF ANIS. END SUMMARY.

3. THE SELF-STYLED "CIVIC FORCES OF SONSONATE" PUBLISHED A FULL-PAGE AD IN THE 4/16/83 ISSUE OF ULTRA-CONSERVATIVE LOCAL DAILY "EL DIARIO DE HOY." THE AD, PURPORTEDLY WRITTEN BY SONSONATE RESIDENTS IN SOLIDARITY WITH THE ARMED FORCES AND THE SECURITY FORCES THERE, CLAIMS THAT THE LAS HOJAS INCIDENT WAS PART OF A PLAN TO DISCREDIT THE ARMED FORCES. THE AD EXPRESSED THE "ENERGETIC PROTEST OF THE SONSONATE CITIZENRY" AND AFFIRMS THE ARMED FORCES CONDUCTED THEMSELVES CORRECTLY. THE AD CONTAINED AN OBLIQUE BUT UNMISTAKABLE THREAT: THAT THE CITIZENS OF SONSONATE WILL REMAIN VIGILANT FROM NOW ON, AND WILL HOLD "THOSE FORCES OF DARKNESS" RESPONSIBLE FOR ANYTHING THAT MAY RESULT FROM THEIR EVIL INTENTIONS. EQUALLY THREATENING WAS THE AD'S REFERENCE TO SONSONATE'S SUPPORT FOR THE ARMED FORCES DURING THE 1932 CAMPESINO UPRISING (KNOWN IN SALVADORAN HISTORY AS "THE MASSACRE"). THE AD VOWED THAT

THE SONSONATE CIVILIANS AND MILITARY ARE "READY ONCE MORE TO SAVE OUR FATHERLAND, EL SALVADOR, EVEN AT THE COST OF OUR LIVES."

4. COMMENT: IT IS NOTEWORTHY THAT THE AD CLAIMED THE LAS HOJAS "INCIDENT" WAS PART OF A PLOT TO DISCREDIT THE ARMED FORCES. INDEED, THE AD ALMOST SUGGESTED SOMEONE ELSE WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE KILLINGS. THE AD'S REFERENCE TO THE INCIDENT SEEMS TO CONTRADICT THE VERSION RENDERED BY SONSONATE ARMY COMMANDER COL. ELMER GONZALEZ ARAUJO TO CONGRESSMAN OBERSTAR LAST MONTH. AT THAT TIME COL. GONZALEZ ARAUJO TERMED THE LAS HOJAS AFFAIR A MILITARY ACTION DIRECTED AGAINST AN ARMED GUERRILLA GROUP. EVIDENTLY, GONZALEZ ARAUJO NOW REALIZES THIS VERSION IS NOT LONGER TENABLE. SINCE GONZALEZ ARAUJO SEEMS UNABLE TO DIG HIMSELF OUT OF A HOLE WITHOUT ENLARGING IT CONSIDERABLY, HIS SUPPORTERS -- WHOEVER THEY MAY BE -- ARE REACHING FOR DEMONOLOGICAL TERMS AND BLAMING THE WHOLE AFFAIR ON THE "FORCES OF DARKNESS." END COMMENT.

5. UPON HIS RETURN FROM THE UNITED STATES, WHERE HE TESTIFIED BEFORE CONGRESS, NATIONAL SALVADORAN INDIAN ASSOCIATION (ANIS) SECGEN, ADRIAN ESQUINO LIZCO (REFTEL), PAID A VISIT TO LABOFF'S RESIDENCE. ESQUINO EXPRESSED HIS CONCERN REGARDING THE ABOVE-MENTIONED AD AND THE REPERCUSSIONS OF HIS PERFORMANCE BEFORE THE U.S. CONGRESS.

6. AFTER ALMOST TWO MONTHS OF EYE-OF-THE-HURRICANE INVOLVEMENT WITH THE HUMAN RIGHTS CASE OF LAS HOJAS, ESQUINO IS BEGINNING TO SHOW SIGNS OF NERVOUS STRAIN. UPON HIS RETURN FROM THE STATES HE WAS MET AT THE AIRPORT BY A NATIONAL POLICE PROTECTIVE DETAIL SENT BY NP CHIEF COL. LOPEZ NUILA. THIS UNEXPECTED RECEPTION PROMPTED THE UNDERSTANDABLY SKITTISH AND SUSPICIOUS ESQUINO TO SEEK LABOFF'S ASSURANCE THAT EVERYTHING WAS INDEED ALRIGHT. LABOFF SOUGHT TO CALM HIM DOWN AND ASSURED HIM THAT COL. LOPEZ NUILA WAS A WELL-MEANING AND TRUSTWORTHY MEMBER OF THE GOES HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION. ESQUINO THEREFORE COULD NOT BE IN BETTER HANDS. NP OFFICER GUARDING ESQUINO ASSURED LABOFF THAT THE DETACHMENT WOULD TAKE ESQUINO TO SONSONATE.

AND PASS THE BATON TO THE LOCAL NATIONAL POLICE UNIT TO AFFORD ESQUINO AND ANIS CONTINUED PROTECTION. ESQUINO WAS FURTHER CALMED BY THE NEWS THAT CAPTAIN FIGUEROA MORALES, THE ARMY UNIT LEADER DIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE SONSONATE KILLINGS, IS NOW UNDER HOUSE ARREST (SEPTEL).

7. ESQUINO INFORMED LABOFF THAT, DURING ESQUINO'S ABSENCE, INDIVIDUALS DRESSED IN CIVILIAN CLOTHES SHOWED UP FREQUENTLY IN THE ENVIRONS OF HIS HOUSE IN SONSONATE, EVIDENTLY SEARCHING FOR HIM. NOTWITH-STANDING THEIR GARB, ESQUINO'S ASSOCIATES IDENTIFIED THESE INDIVIDUALS AS ARMY RESERVISTS FROM CARRIZAL, A CANTON NEARBY TO ESQUINO'S HOME. THEIR NAMES ARE: VICTORIANO RAMIREZ, ADRIAN SANTIAGO NOLASCO AND MANUEL HERNANDEZ SANCHEZ. ANIS ASSOCIATES TOLD ESQUINO UPON HIS ARRIVAL THAT THESE INDIVIDUALS HAVE CARRIED OUT FREQUENT SEARCHES IN THE AREA AROUND ESQUINO'S HOME, AND AVAILED THEMSELVES OF SEVERAL RUSES TO ASCERTAIN ESQUINO'S PRESENCE IN SONAONATE. WHEN WORD GOT AROUND THAT ESQUINO WAS IN THE UNITED STATES, THESE NIGHT SEARCHES STOPPED.

8. ESQUINO TOLD LABOFF THAT HE MADE THE FOLLOWING POINTS TO THE MEMBERS OF CONGRESS WITH WHOM HE HAD SPOKEN: ANIS WAS SEEKING JUSTICE AND PROTECTION FROM THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT. ANIS DID NOT OPPOSE U.S. AID TO EL SALVADOR (INDEED, HE HAD VOLUNTEERED HIS OPINION THAT DOLS 110,000,000 WAS NOT ENOUGH AND SUGGESTED THAT DOLS 300,000,000 WOULD BE MORE ADEQUATE TO MEET SALVADORAN NEEDS). ALL ANIS DEMANDED WAS JUSTICE FOR THE VICTIMS AND THEIR WIDOWS AND ORPHANS, AS WELL AS CONTINUED PROTECTION FOR ANIS'S COOPERATIVE LANDS. ESQUINO SAID HE HAD PRAISED THE U.S. EMBASSY'S INTEREST IN THE LAS HOJAS AFFAIR TO HIS CONGRESSIONAL AUDIENCE. HE FURTHER STATED THAT HE HAD PHOTOS OF LABOFF SHAKING HANDS WITH ANIS LEADERSHIP PUBLISHED IN THE U.S. PRESS. ESQUINO SAID THAT BOTH REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS RECEIVED HIM WELL IN CONGRESS, AND THAT BOTH SIDES PRAISED HIS COURAGE AND POLITICAL PRUDENCE. HINTON

23. THREE BELTS, THREE PAIRS OF SOCKS, ONE UNDERPANT, ONE HANDKERCHIEF.

CONCLUSIONS

A. THE AFOREMENTIONED DISCOVERY CONFIRMS THE FACT THAT THE SANDINISTAS ARE MAKING USE OF AN IMPORTANT STRETCH OF HONDURAN TERRITORY TO TRANSPORT MEN, WEAPONS AND OTHER SUPPLIES TO EL SALVADOR. THE POSSIBILITY THAT PART OF THIS CONTINGENT OF MEN AND ARMAMENTS IS BEING DESTINED TO REMAIN IN HONDURAN TERRITORY TO DESTABILIZE THE DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM CANNOT BE DISCARDED.

B. THE PURSUIT OF THE SUBVERSIVE ELEMENTS CONTINUES IN VIEW OF

C. ACCORDING TO THE ESTIMATES OF THE DISTANCES COVERED WHICH APPEAR IN THEIR NOTEBOOKS, THE SUBVERSIVES, IN GROUPS OF 10-12, HAVE MADE USE OF THE ROUTE TO TRANSPORT PEOPLE AND SUPPLIES IN SUPPORT OF THE SALVADORAN SUBVERSIVES.

D. THE ROUTE IS THE FOLLOWING: FROM NICARAGUA TO HONDURAS THEY CROSS AT THE BLIND PASS BETWEEN GUASAULE AND EL ESTRIBO, CONTINUING ALONG THE HACIENDA LAS HORMIGAS, SAN BERNARDO, NAMASIGUE, HACIENDA SAN JOSE, PAYANA, SAN JERONIMO, JICARO GALAN, NACAOME, LANGUE, ARAMECINA, ENTERING EL SALVADOR THROUGH CONCEPCION DE ORIENTE. EO 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: ELAB PINT CI
SUBJECT: POSSIBLE NEW LEAD IN CASE OF TUCAPEL JIMENEZ ASSASSINATION

REF: SANTIAGO 1172

1.(S-ENTIRE TEXT).

2. SUMMARY: ACCORDING TO SEVERAL SOURCES, THE WEAPON USED TO KILL TUCAPEL JIMENEZ MAY HAVE BEEN FOUND, THE THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY REPORTEDLY HAVE A SIGNED DECLARATION FROM GALVARINO ANCAVIL HERNANDEZ WHO, WITH THE HELP OF THE INTER-GOVERNMENTAL COMMITTEE ON MIGRATION (CIM) IS NOW IN FRANCE. HE ALLEGEDLY ISSUED THE WEAPON USED TO KILL JIMENEZ. THE POLICE HAVE APPARENTLY FOUND A WEAPON WHERE INDICATED IN HIS DECLARATION, BUT BALISTIC TESTS ARE NOT CONCLUSIVE. ANCAVIL HAS REPORTEDLY IMPLICATED SEVERAL GOC OFFICIALS IN THE KILLING (UNDER A SO-CALLED DELTA PLAN). PUBLIC KNOWLEDGE OF THIS POTENTIAL BREAKTHROUGH COULD BE VERY DAMAGING TO THE GOC. SOME OF THOSE REPORTEDLY INVOLVED HAVE ALREADY BEEN IN THE PRESS AS TARGETS OF A JUDICIAL

THROUGH. (JIMENEZ, DEPARTEMENT WILL RECALL, WAS THE UDT AND ANEF PRESIDENT AND DEMOCRATIC LABOR LEADER WHO WAS MURDERED ON FEBRUARY 25, 1982.) SIGNORELLI SAID A FORMER JUNIOR ARMY OFFICER WITH DIRECTORATE GENERAL OF RECRUITMENT AND MOBILIZATION OF THE ARMED FORCES, GALVARINO ANCAVIL HERNANDEZ, WAS LOANED OUT TO THE NATIONAL INFORMATION CENTER (CNI) WHERE HE WAS INVOLVED IN WEAPONS REGISTRATION. HE HAD CONFESSED TO A PRIEST THAT HE KNEW WHO KILLED TUCAPEL JIMENEZ, HOW IT WAS DONE, AND EVEN THAT HE HAD A ROLE. HE ALLEGEDLY TOLD THE PRIEST HE HAD ISSUED THE GUN. ANCAVIL SIGNED A NOTARIZED DECLARATION NOVEMBER 17, 1982 ON THE RECOMMENDATION OF THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY, RELATING THE "FACTS" INCLUDING THE NAMES OF FIVE CNI AGENTS WHO HE CLAIMED WERE THE ASSASSINS, AND THE CURRENT LOCATION OF THE WEAPON USED; HE ALSO CLAIMED THAT INTERIOR MINISTER MONTERO, CNI CHIEF GORDON, AND UNDERSECRETARY OF GOVERNMENT HORMAZABAL ARE AMONG THOSE WHO HAD APPROVED OF A SO-CALLED DELTA PLAN TO PREVENT JIMENEZ OR OTHER LABOR LEADERS FROM UNITING THE LABOR OPPOSITION TO PINOCHET. ANCAVIL ASKED FOR ASYLUM FOR HIMSELF AND HIS FAMILY IN FRANCE, WHERE THEY WENT ON JANUARY 25, 1983. ACCORDING TO SIGNORELLI, THE ORIGINAL OF ANCAVIL'S DELCARATION IS IN THE HANDS OF THE [redacted] AND THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY HAS A COPY.

4. SIGNORELLI SAID THAT HE LEARNED OF THE VICARIATE'S

SECRET

INVOLVEMENT, AND ASKED VICARIATE STAFF MEMBERS FOR A COPY OF THE DECLARATION. AFTER WEEKS OF FRUSTRATION, HE HAD RECENTLY SEEN A PORTION OF THE DOCUMENT FROM WHICH HE HAD TAKEN NOTES, BUT THE VICARIATE REFUSED TO PROVIDE A COPY. IN THE INTERIM, HOWEVER, THE VICARIATE HAD PROVIDED INFO ON THE WHEREABOUTS OF THE WEAPON. SIGNORELLI AND HIS LAW PARTNERS THEN ALERTED THE POLICE (INVESTIGACIONES) WHO LOCATED THE WEAPON, WHICH IN TURN WAS IDENTIFIED AS ISSUED BY THE INDIVIDUAL WHO HAD REPORTEDLY RECEIVED ASYLUM IN FRANCE.

5. THE EMBASSY HAS DEVELOPED FROM SEVERAL SOURCES THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION:

--AN INDIVIDUAL NAMED GALVARINO ANCAVIL HERNANDEZ SOUGHT AND OBTAINED ASSISTANCE FROM THE INTER-GOVERNMENTAL COMMITTEE ON MIGRATION (CIM) TO ENTER FRANCE. HE DEPARTED CHILE JANUARY 25, 1983. ANCAVIL HAD APPROACHED CIM AT THE SUGGESTION OF THE [redacted] ANCAVIL HAD GONE TO [redacted] THE VICARITE OF SOLIDARITY

(WE ARE NOT CERTAIN OF THE SEQUENCE) WITH ALLEGED INFORMATION ON THE JIMENEZ MURDER. HE SIGNED A DECLARATION BEFORE A NOTARY (WE DO NOT KNOW WHERE) WHICH CONTAINS INFO SUBSTANTIALLY SIMILAR TO THAT RELATED TO SIGNORELLI;

--THE VICARIATE HAS A COPY OF THE SIGNED DECLARATION.

--THE SAME VICARIATE SOURCE OPINED THAT PARTICULARLY THE PORTION OF THE DECLARATION DEALING WITH THE WEAPON ALLEGEDLY USED IN THE MURDER SEEMED TO BE AN IMPORTANT NEW DEVELOPMENT IN THE CASE. 6. ORIGINALLY SIGNORELLI SIAD HE WOULD PROVIDE US A COPY OF HIS NOTES. LATER,HE SAID THAT AFTER CONSULTING WITH HIS PARTNERS IT WAS DECIDED THAT THE MATTER WAS TOO DELICATE. WE CHOSE NOT TO PRESS HIM. THEN, ON APRIL 22, SIGNORELLI AND ONE OF HIS PARTNERS, JORGE SAAVEDRA, REQUESTED MEETING WITH EMBOFF. SAAVEDRA EXPRESSED CONCERN THAT EMBASSY'S INQUIRIES MIGHT CAUSE OTHERWISE COOPERATIVE SOURCES TO REFRAIN FROM HELPING THEM IN THE CASE. HE REFERRED TO BOTH THE CIM AND VICARIATE SOURCES AS BEING AFRAID THE GOC MIGHT FIND OUT ABOUT THEIR ROLES IN THE LATEST DEVELOPMENTS.
EMBOFF ASSURED SAAVEDRA THAT OUR INQUIRES HAD BEEN DISCREET AND THAT BOTH OF THESE SOURCES HAD APPEARED WILLING TO TALK TO US. NEVERTHELESS, THE EMBASSY HAD NO INTENTION OF INTERFERING IN THE CASE. SAAVEDRA RESPONDED POSITIVELY THAT THE THREE JIMENEZ LAWYERS WOULD BE PLEASED TO KEEP THE EMBASSY INFORMED OF DEVELOPMENTS. HE SAID THEY HAD MET APRIL 21 WITH CARDINAL SILVA WHO, ACCORDING TO SAAVEDRA, WAS UNAWARE OF THE VICARIATE'S ROLE. SAAVEDRA SAID SILVA ASSURED HIM THAT HE WOULD URGE THE VICARIATE TO COOPERATE WITH THEM. FINALLY, SAAVEDRA SAID THE ANCAVIL DECLARATION COVERS MUCH MORE THAN THE JIMENEZ ASSASSINATION. IT REPORTEDLY CONTAINS ALLEGATIONS ABOUT POSSIBLE CNI INVOLVEMENT IN A NUMBER OF ASSASSINATIONS.

7. COMMENT: EMBASSY VIEWS THE DEVELOPMENT AS A POSSIBLE IMPORTANT BREAKTHROUGH IN THE CASE,BUT IN THE ABSENCE OF ADDITIONAL INFORMATIN FROM THE SUPPOSED DECLARATION AND CONFIRMATION OF ALLEGATIONS THEREIN,

WE AREUNABLE TO PROPERLY EVALUATE IT. WE ARE PUZZLED BY DENIAL OF ANY ROLE; THIS STORY MAY BE HEARSAY FROM AN UNTESTED AND LOW-LEVEL SOURCE(ANCAVIL) BUT IT IS STILL POTENTIALLY EXPLOSIVE AND DAMAGING

TO THE GOC. WE THINK THAT SOONER RATHER THAN LATER MUCHIF NOT ALL OF THE FOREGOING WILL BEGIN LEAKING OUT TO THE PUBLIC IN GENERAL. WE KNOW THAT HERNOL FLORES, SUCCESSOR TO JIMENEZ AS ANEF PRESIDENT, HAS ALREADY TOLD SEVERAL OF HIS CONTACTS SOME OF IT, BUT HE DOES NOT KNOW THE DETAILS.

Senator Barry Goldwater

Dear Senator Goldwater,

It is reported that Rene Riquelme Maturana, who lives in Santiago, was arrested last Spring. Government authorities said he had painted a car for some persons who were charged with being subversive to the present regime. He is incarcerated in the Santiago Prison, Centro de Rehabilitacion.

This prisoner is suffering from arthritis and has some severe heart problems. He is 61 years old and has not been active in politics. He is greatly needed by his friends and family.

I know of your concern for human rights and the violation of same, and for people who are unjustly incarcerated. I feel that we need to bring moral pressure and a bit of embarrassment to the authorities who are trying to improve their image on human rights, and continue open relationships with the United States government. Several prisoners with questionable charges have been released when authorities know that they have people concerned about justice and their rights in the United Stages. I would appreciate it if you could give me any further information on this matter: the legal status of the prisoner, whether he has been brought to court, whether there are formal charges against him, and when there might be a possibility of his release.

Sincerely,

George L. Tolman

Re: Letelier v. LAN-Chile

Dear Tom:

Enclosed please find a copy of our answering brief served on April 22 in connection with the attempt by judgment creditors against the Republic of Chile to execute their judgment against LAN-Chile assets including its aircraft in the United States. I had called George Bouton's attention to this matter a couple of weeks ago (you were out of the office) and he asked that we send on a copy of our response.

As you can see from our brief, it is undisputed that LAN-Chile is a legally separate entity from the Republic and is responsible for its own obligations and not for the obligations of the Republic under the law of Chile. We believe that a precedent allowing execution against state-owned enterprises, particularly enterprises in international aviation, to satisfy tort judgments against their government, would be legally unfounded and severely detrimental to international aviation relations. Attaching aircraft or assets of Aeroflot, CAAC or even Air France for debts of their respective governments would not be beyond the realm of possibility if such a precedent is established.

I hope you will find our brief interesting on the subject and I look forward to discussing it with you.

Sincerely,

Robert Reed Gray

GATHERING MATERIAL FOR THE COMMITTEE, THREE OF THEM HAVE ALREADY VISITED NICARAGUA - ROBERTO RODRIGUEZ, UNIDAD CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT, SOCIALIST MONTERO AND VALVERDE. SOURCE AT LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY TOLD POLOFF THAT MALAVASSI REFUSED TO GO. OTHER COMMITTEE MEMBERS ARE SCHEDULED TO GO TO BOTH EL SALVADOR AND TO THE U.S. EXACT DATES ARE NOT YET SCHEDULED. THE COMMITTEE HAS A BUDGET TO CONDUCT THEIR STUDY. WHILE THEIR PRECISE ASSIGNMENT REMAINS FUZZY, THE PRINCIPAL TASK, APPARENTLY, IS TO GATHER INFORMATION FOR FORMULATION OF A PEACE PLAN FOR CENTRAL AMERICA. WHAT FORM THE COMMITTEE'S FINAL REPORT WILL TAKE IS, AS YET, UNSPECIFIED.

2. THE FMLN/FDR SPOKESMEN APPEARED FOR THEIR HEARING WIT XEROX HANDOUTS. THEIR VERBAL PRESENTATION CLOSELY FOLLOW ED THE PRINTED MATTER IN CONTENT. GENERALLY THEY LAMBAST ED U.S. POLICY, NOT ONLY IN EL SALVADOR, BUT IN CENTRAL AMERICA IN GENERAL. THERE WERE NO SURPRISES. U.S. CENTRA AMERICAN POLICY WAS CRITICIZED FOR BEING HEGEMONISTIC AND IMPERIALISTIC. THE SPOKESMEN CALLED FOR BILATERAL MEETINGS BETWEEN USG AND GRN AND HONDURAS AND GRN AND DISCOUNTED NEED FOR REGIONAL MULTILATERAL NEGOTIATIONS. THE PRAISED EFFORTS OF THE CONTADORA FOUR IN THEIR SEARCH FOR SOLUTIONS THROUGH BILATERAL MEETINGS. THE PANAMA MEETING OF THE AREA'S FOREIGN MINISTERS AND CONTADORA FOUR WAS CAST AS A BILATERAL.

-- THE FMLN/FDR REPRESENTATIVES VOWED TO FIGHT ON UNTIL U.S. CEASES MILITARY AND POLITICAL "INTERVENTION" IN EL SALVADOR. THEY REJECTED ANY SOLUTION WHICH, THEY CLAIM, IGNORES REALITIES AND THE RIGHT OF SELF-DETERMINATION, I.E., ANY SOLUTION IN WHICH THEY AREN'T GRANTED A SHARE OF POWER. THEY CLAIM THE U.S. HAS PLAYED THE "SALVADOR CARD" IN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN GAME, THE OBJECT OF THAT GAME BEING A MILITARY VICTORY. THEY CHARACTERIZED THE UPCOMING ELECTIONS AS JUST PART OF THE SAME GAME PLAN.

-- THE FMLN/FDR SPOKESMEN REITERATED OFFER TO ENTER INTO NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE GOES WITHOUT PRE-CONDITIONS. THEY TOLD COSTA RICAN DEPUTIES THAT SUCH NEGOTIATIONS HAVE BEEN URGED BY UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY, NON-ALIGNED MOVEMENT AND U.S. CONGRESSMEN.

3. A HANDOUT DISTRIBUTED BY AGUINADA AND VILLACORTA GAVE STATISTICS ON FMLN PROGRESS IN THE SALVADORAN CONFLICT FO FIRST QUARTER OF THIS YEAR: 1221 "ENEMY" DEAD, 126 PRISONERS, SOME 1,000 ASSORTED ARMS, 267,860 ROUNDS OF AMMUNITION, 17 RADIOS, AND VARIOUS ODDS AND ENDS OF EQUIP MENT AND SUPPLIES CAPTURED.

4. NEITHER THE DEPUTIES, NOR THE PRESS FOLLOWING THE MEETING, ASKED ANY HARD QUESTIONS. AT PRESS CONFERENCE THE PAIR CLAIMED THEIR ORGANIZATIONS WOULD NOT PARTICIPAT IN THE SCHEDULED ELECTIONS UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES. WHEN ASKED ABOUT SOURCES OF SUPPORT THEY MENTIONED VARIOUS CHURCH GROUPS. THEY CHARACTERIZED THE SALVADORAN ARMY AS PAMPERED BY U.S. GOES TROOPS IN THE FIELD RECEIVE "COKES" AND "KENTUCKY FRIED CHICKEN" DELIVERED TO THEM BY HELICOPTERS AT LUNCHTIME.

This letter is in regards to a 61 year old man who lives in Santiago, Chile Jaime Espindola Manzano

He was arrested last spring for leaving a car for persons charged with subversive activities He has not been active in politics

I realize that he is one of many many cases, but we do have the attorney's motion and this might bring new evidence to other questions.

Has he been brought to court? — or what charges? What is the legal status?

I would appreciate any help you can give me concerning this man

24TH, 1982. IT IS OUR UNDERSTANDING THAT THIS GROUP SPENT ONE DAY IN THE FIELD, ACCOMPANIED BY GUATEMALAN ARMY OFFICERS. THIS, WE PRESUME, CONSTITUTES MR. GOLDMAN'S "INVESTIGATIVE FIELD TRIPS" MENTIONED IN REFTEL. IN FAIRNESS TO GOLDMAN, HOWEVER, WE MUST ADD THAT HE HAS VISITED GUATEMALAN REFUGEE CAMPS ON THE MEXICAN SIDE OF THE BORDER ON TWO DIFFERENT OCCASIONS.

5. FOR OTTAWA'S INFORMATION, BEFORE AND SINCE THE DEPARTURE OF THE AMERICAS WATCH TEAM WE HAVE VISITED THE FOLLOWING AREAS OF HUMAN RIGHTS INTEREST. THIS LISTING IS BUT A PARTIAL ONE, REFLECTING TRIPS TO CONFLICT ZONES MADE WITH THE SOLE INTENTION OF INVESTIGATING THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION; INDEED, MANY OF THESE TRIPS WERE MADE BECAUSE OF CONCERNS VOICED BY AMERICAS WATCH, CONGRESSMAN CLARENCE LONG AND OTHER INTERESTED PARTIES.

4. WHILE THE AMERICAS WATCH TEAM WAS IN GUATEMALA, MUCH OF THEIR TIME WITH EMBASSY STAFF WAS SPENT DISCUSSING THE PITFALLS AND DIFFICULTIES OF HUMAN RIGHTS INVESTIGATIONS IN THE GUATEMALAN COUNTRYSIDE. THUS, WE ARE SOMEWHAT BEMUSED BY MR. GOLDMAN'S STATEMENT THAT WE "REFUSED TO INVESTIGATE" WHEN OUR INVESTIGATIONS FORMED THE BASIS OF DISCUSSION.

6. AREAS OF INTEREST TO AMERICAS WATCH: THE ENTIRE REGION OF NORTHERN EL QUICHE, A DEPARTMENT OF GUATEMALA. THE VILLAGES VISITED INCLUDE SAN JUAN

IXCAN, XALBAL AND SANTIAGO IXCAN. AS FAR AS WE KNOW, NO REPRESENTATIVES OF AMERICAS WATCH HAVE BEEN IN THIS AREA.

7. AREAS OF INTEREST TO CONGRESSMAN LONG: AGAIN, NORTHERN EL QUICHE. THE VILLAGES INCLUDE SAN ALFONSO, SANTO TOMAS, SANTA MARIA DOLORES AND SANTIAGO IXCAN. CONGRESSMAN LONG DECLINED TO VISIT THIS AREA WHILE IN GUATEMALA. THE EMBASSY HAS INVESTIGATED THIS AREA EXTENSIVELY.

8. AREAS OF INTEREST TO THE EMBASSY OR OTHER INTERESTED PARTIES: THE DEPARTMENT OF EL PETEN,

INCLUDING THE VILLAGES OF POPTUN, LA LIBERTAD, JULEQUE AND LAS CRUCES. THE DEPARTMENT OF EL QUICHE, INCLUDING NEBAJ, SAN JUAN COTZAL, JOYABAJ, CHICHICASTENANGO, SANTA CRUZ DEL QUICHE, XEABAJ, CHAJUL AND THE VILLAGES NOTED IN PARAS 6 AND 7. THE DEPARTMENT OF CHIMALTENANGO, INCLUDING CHOATALUM, SAN MARTIN JILOTEPEQUE, SAN JOSE POAQUIL, COMALAPA, SAN ANDRES ITZAPA AND PATZUN. THE DEPARTMENT OF HUEHUETENANGO, INCLUDING HUEHUETENANGO CITY, NENTON AND THE ENTIRE BORDER REGION. MANY OF THESE SITES HAVE BEEN VISITED ON MORE THAN ONE OCCASION; ALL WERE VISITED BECAUSE OF THE NECESSITY FOR ON-SITE HUMAN RIGHTS INVESTIGATION. ALMOST ALL ARE IN ZONES OF CONTINUED WARFARE BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA AND THE REVOLUTIONARY GUERRILLAS.

9. THESE INVESTIGATIONS DO NOT ALWAYS ABSOLVE THE GOVERNMENT OF CULPABILITY. MR. GOLDMAN WAS CORRECT TO NOTE THAT BOTH SIDES IN GUATEMALA'S WAR HAVE BEEN GUILTY OF KILLING INNOCENTS. OUR POINT HAS BEEN THAT THE GUATEMALAN ARMY HAS BEEN CHANGING ITS TACTICS AND IMPROVING ITS BEHAVIOR SINCE THE COUP D'ETAT OF MARCH 23, 1982; MR. GOLDMAN'S POINT OF VIEW SEEMS TO BE THAT THE ARMY HAS A POLICY OF SYSTEMATIC TERROR WHILE THE GUERRILLAS USE A MORE SELECTIVE BRAND OF INDIVIDUAL MURDERS. WE REJECT THE FORMER ASSERTION; THERE IS AMPLE EVIDENCE FOR THE SECOND.

10. FINALLY, TWO BRIEF POINTS. MR. GOLDMAN WAS WELL AWARE THAT THE EMBASSY PERFORMED AND CONTINUES TO PERFORM ON-SITE HUMAN RIGHTS INVESTIGATIONS. THE REASONS HE CHOSE TO DENY THIS ARE BEST ADDRESSED TO HIM. AS FOR OUR SILENCE ON THE AMERICAS WATCH REPORT OF NOVEMBER, 1982, WE FELT THAT ITS TONE, CONTENT AND BIAS DID NOT MERIT A REPLY. WE HAVE, OF COURSE, REPLIED TO OTHER INTERESTED GROUPS AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE OF CONGRESSIONAL RELATIONS
DEPARTMENT OF STATE
2201 C. STREET N.W.
WASHINGTON D.C. 20520

Dear Mr. Secretary,

In view of recent indications that the US. Government may resume military sales and other assistance to Argentina, but not to Chile, we who are doing business in Chile feel strongly that the same treatment should be given to both countries.

Equal treatment will help to maintain an optimum balance in this part of the hemisphere, and would undoubtedly have a most salutary effect on the trend towards enhanced democratic institutions and practices in both countries.

We, therefore, repectfully urge you to lend your valuable support toward those policies which will bring about equal treatment and an improved democratic environment in our part of the world.

Looking forward to hearing from you in due course and thanking you in advance, I remain respectfully yours.

GUATEMALA 3091 REPORTED OUR APRIL 19 INVESTIGATION OF THIS LAST INCIDENT AND FOUND IT BE FALSE. [redacted] INFORMED THAT SOME OF HIS LOCAL "SOURCES" MAY BE UNSOUND. END SUMMARY. B6

3. [redacted] HAVE MADE CONTACT WITH A NUMBER OF SOURCES IN THE "HUMAN RIGHTS FIELD" IN GUATEMALA AND HE FEELS COMPELLED TO REPORT HIS FINDINGS TO CONGRESSMAN LOWRY. THE FIRST INCIDENT [redacted] CONCERNS AN ALLEGED MASSACRE OF SOME 300 PEOPLE NEAR QUIEJ CHIP, CHIANTLA, HUEHUETENANGO. ACCORDING [redacted] THE ARMY WAS USING MASSED CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS TO FLUSH OUT GUERRILLAS IN HUEHUETENANGO, THE ARMY FOLLOWING THE PATROLS LIKE RIDERS TO THE HOUNDS. AFTER "TWO OR THREE DAYS OF THIS" THE CIVIL DEFENSE PATROL ALLEGEDLY RAN UP AGAINST A LARGE GROUP OF PEOPLE FLEEING UP A MOUNTAINSIDE. THE ARMY THEN PURPORTEDLY CUT DOWN THE ENTIRE LOT, CALLING IN A HELICOPTER TO ASSIST IN THE SLAUGHTER. THIS INCIDENT IS ALLEGED TO HAVE TAKEN PLACE ON APRIL 19 OR SLIGHTLY BEFORE. 1. (U) SUMMARY: MAY DAY 1983 SAW FEWER ARRESTS THAN LAST YEAR (50 TO 60 IN SANTIAGO VS. 100 LAST YEAR), BUT THE POLICE WERE FIRMER IN BREAKING UP ONE UNAUTHORIZED DEMONSTRATION. PRESIDENT PINOCHET PRESIDED OVER THE OFFICIAL CELEBRATION WHICH WAS A ROUTINE AFFAIR. THE UNION OF DEMOCRATIC WORKERS (UDT), JOINED BY TWO OTHER DEMOCRATIC LABOR ORGANIZATIONS, HELD A PEACEFUL MEETING AT THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE NATIONAL PUBLIC EMPLOYEES ASSOCIATION (ANEF). THEY ENDORSE THE NATIONAL STRIKE MAY 11 CALLED FOR BY THE COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC), BUT THE UDT URGED IT BE CONVERTED INTO A NATIONAL DAY OF SOCIAL PROTEST, WITH A VARIETY OF POSSIBLE PROTEST

MEASURES. THE CATHOLIC CHURCH SPONSORED A MAY DAY CELEBRATION APRIL 30 TO HONOR RETIRING CARDINAL SILVA.

2. (C) THE USE OF FORCE TO BREAK UP A DEMONSTRATION, INCLUDING THE BEATING UP OF MEMBERS OF THE NEWS MEDIA, INDICATES THE GOC CONTINUES TO GIVE HIGHER PRIORITY TO

INTERNARL SECURITY THAN TO ITS IMAGE. END SUMMARY.

3. (U) MAY DAY 1983 WAS CLOSE TO A REPETITION OF 1982. APPROXIMATELY 50 TO 60 PERSONS WERE DETAINED FOLLOWING AN ABORTIVE EFFORT ORGANIZED BY THE NATIONAL LABOR COORDINATOR (CNS) TO HOLD AN UNAUTHORIZED RALLY AT THE PLAZA DE ARTESANOS, NOT FAR FROM THE CENTER OF SANTIAGO. SIMILAR TO THE POLICE ACTION LAST DECEMBER TO BREAK UP ANOTHER RALLY (REF C), MEN IN CIVILIAN DRESS, WIDELY ASSUMED TO BE MEMBERS OF A SPECIAL POLICE SQUAD, MOVED IN ON THE CROWD WITH CLUBS AND RUBBER TRANCHENS BEFORE THE RALLY GOT STATED AND BEAT SEVERAL PEOPLE INCLUDING MEMBERS OF THE PRESS. THERE WERE NO REPORTS OF SERIOUS INJURIES, HOWEVER. SOME OF THE CROWD (300 OR SO) SHIFTED LOCATIONS TO ANOTHER PARK. THERE UNIFORMED POLICE DISPERSED THEM AND DETAINED 50 PR 60. MOST OF THOSE DETAINED WERE RELEASED LATER IN THE DAY, BUT 17 REPORTEDLY REMAINED IN CUSTODY MAY 2. THERE WERE REPORTS ALSO OF MINOR DPTURBANCES IN OTHER CITIES AND A FEW ARRESTS.

4. (U) OTHERWISE, PRESIDENT PINOCHET PRESIDED OVER THE OFFICIAL MAY DAY FESTIVITIES, ATTENDED BY 3,000 LABOR AND BUSINESS REPRESENTATIVES. THE PRESIDENT, HEADING A LIST OF SPEAKERS INCLUDING LABOR MINISTER MARDONES AND UNION LEADER PEDRO BRICENO, DID NOT ANNOUNCE ANY NEW INITIATIVES. HE DENOUNCED BUSINESSMEN WHO VIOLATE THE LABOR LAW AND UNION LEADERS WHO ENGAGED IN POLITICS. MARDONES SAID THE WORST OF THE ECONOMIC CRISIS WAS BEHIND, THAT THE LABOR PLAN WAS CONFIDENTIAL

BRICENO CALLED FOR UNSPECIFIED REVISIONS IN THE LABOR PLAN WITH INPUT FROM LABOR. HE, TOO, DENOUNCED THOSE EMPLOYERS WHO VIOLATE THE LAW. HE ALSO CALLED FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE TRIPARTITE LABOR COUNCIL, WHICH HAS BEEN ON THE BOOKS BUT NO IMPLEMENTED SINCE 1978.

5. (LOU) MEANWHILE, THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF PUBLIC EMPLOYEES (ANEF) HOSTED A GATHERING OF OPPOSITION UNION, INCLUDING THE UNION OF DEMOCRATIC WORKERS (UDT), THE UNIFIED WORKERS FRONT (FUT) AND THE CONFEDERATION OF PRIVATE WORKERS (CEPCH). ANEF PRESIDENT HERNOL FLORES PAID HOMAGE TO TUCAPEL JIMENEZ, THE ASSASSINATED ANEF LEADER. ANEF FOUNDER CLOTORIO BLEST, NOW 83, REMINISCED. FORCES AND SUPPORTED THE CALL FOR A NATIONAL STRIKE. UDT PRESIDENT RIOS ATTACKED THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT FOR DESTROYING THE GAINS MADE BY LABOR SINCE 924. HE ATTACKED HARSHLY FORMER LABOR MINITER PINERA FOR AUTHORING THE LABOR PLAN (PINERA'S FATHER WAS IN ATTENDANCE AND APPLAUDED RIOS' REFERENCE TO THE FORMER LABOR MINISTER). RIOS APPEALED TO PRESIDENT PINOCHET TO HOLD A NEW PLEBISCITE TO DETERMINE IF THE CHILEAN PEOPLE STILL WANT HIM TO CONTINUE IN POWER, THUS REPEATING THE MESSAGE CONTAINED IN THE JANUARY 31, 1983 LETTER SENT TO PINOCHET BY 1,197 DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION UNION LEADERS (REF B). RIOS AND THE UDT SUPPORTED THE CALL FOR A STRIKE IN PRINCIPLE BUT PREFERRED TO CONVERT IT INTO A SO-CALLED NATIONAL DAY OF SOCIAL PROTEST IN WHICH THE ORGANIZATIONS NOT ABLE OR WILLING TO ENGAGE IN AN ILLEGAL STRIKE COULD CHOOSE ANOTHER FORM OF ACTION, E.G. WORK SLOWDOWN, FASTING, OR MASSIVE "SICK" LEAVE. THE MEETING ENDED PEACEFULLY, WITHOUT INCIDENT, ALTHOUGH TWO BUSLOADS OF POLICE AND A WATER CANOON WERE NEARBY.

6. (U) ON APRIL 30, THE CATHOLIC CHURCH'S LABOR VICARIATE HOSTED A CELEBRATION. THAT GATHERING, TO HONOR

CARDINAL SILVA, WHO WILL RETIRE SOON, WAS ATTENDED BY 3-4,000 GUESTS. THE CARDINAL SAID: "THERE ARE THOSE WHO HAVE CRITICIZED ME FOR INVOLVING MYSELF IN AREAS THAT ARE NONE OF MY BUSINESS, BUT FOR ME IT HAS ALWAYS BEEN AN IRREFUTABLE TASK TO DEFEND THE COMPETENCE OF THE CHURCH IN THESE (LABOR AND HUMAN RIGHTS) FIELDS."

7. (C) COMMENT: AS WAS THE CASE LAST DECEMBER, THE APPEARANCE OF MEN IN CIVILIAN DRESS, MOST LIKELY MEMBERS OF THE POLICE, TO CRACK HEADS, INCLUDING THOSE OF SOME MEMBERS OF THE NEWS MEDIA, SUGGESTS THE GOC HAS GREATER INTEREST IN CROWD CONTROL AND INTERNAL SECURITY THAN IN ITS DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL IMAGE. -- My return to Washington provides an important opportunity to determine the prospects for certification for either or both of the two countries.

-- As I have explained before, the rapid changes in Argentina are creating different attitudes toward that country, while the perception of Chile by many in Washington is that there has been little or no positive change in the last two years; some critics even claim that the government is becoming harder.

-- The Administration remains committed to the objective of restoring military cooperation with both countries, but that objective can only be achieved within the reality of the circumstances and means available to us.

-- There are obviously things that could change in Chile that would facilitate that closer cooperation sought by both our governments, just as there are events or trends that make cooperation more difficult.

-- The Administration has never tried to use the certification requirement as an instrument of pressure, and any ideas that we have as to what could facilitate cooperation are not demands or conditions, but rather our views regarding changes that would most effectively answer reasonable doubts that moderate US sectors may have about the situation here.

-- For example, the practice of forced exile is very controversial in the US and many Western countries, in large part because of the use of it by the Soviet Union. Anything that might be done to permit the return of larger numbers and more significant figures to return to Chile would therefore be positive, in order to overcome the concern that the Exile Commission was largely a symbolic gesture.

-- Further, anything that demonstrates that non-violent political dissent is tolerated, rather than being treated on the same basis as extremist violence, will be helpful to overcome doubts about the intention and ability of the government to distinguish political opposition from subversion. This is particularly important in connection with what are perceived as flagrant violations of individual rights, such as torture or police mistreatment in secret detention facilities not subject to effective judicial review, which cannot be accepted by any civilized government.

-- Finally, any steps that show progress toward a new and open political system would be very helpful, since they help illustrate the commitment of the government to achieve a real transition which gradually provides greater participation and liberty. Implementation of the municipal reforms and election of CODECO members could be such a useful step, consistent with the government's own plans and declarations.

-- Let me reiterate that these ideas are not any US scheme as to what is best for Chile, but simply our views of what could help bring about more positive understanding for the need for closer cooperation, especially among moderate groups in Congress.

-- Needless to say, events or trends that seem to move in opposite directions can only defeat that purpose, and make it harder for us to cooperate to strengthen the security of both countries.

CHILE: DOMESTIC SITUATION/FOREIGN POLICY

The Pinochet Government, which has directed a long term program of economic and political restructuring in Chile since 1973, still seems firmly entrenched. Nevertheless, there is rising popular discontent fueled by serious economic problems and opposition political groups, and pressures for change toward a more representative system are building up. The first Congressional elections are not scheduled until 1990, political parties remain banned and even elements of the conservative government coalition favor some transitional moves. Two wide ranging political opposition groupings, PRODEN (National Development Project) and the MULTIPARTIDARIA non-marxist multi-party coalition, have been formed recently. These groups seek to assemble broad-based popular movements advocating the return of democratic government and a major overhaul of economic policy. Pinochet has rejected their aims, but has countered with the creation of a commission to write new organic laws relating to elections, political parties, etc.

After significant improvement in the human rights situation from 1976-79, there has been little improvement since 1980. Demonstrations protesting economic and political conditions have increased recently, resulting in numerous arrests. While most of those detained are released shortly thereafter, activists have been charged, some have been internally banished and a few have been sent into foreign exile. A commission set up in October to review the cases of exiles who wished to return to Chile, has been disappointing. To date about 350 of the estimated 10,000 exiles have been authorized to return and the lists have not included politically prominent persons.

Despite Pinochet's increasing problems, there is no indication yet that he has lost significant support among the military. Neither is there at present any evidence that the President is contemplating any kind of a political opening or dialogue with his detractors. While terrorist activity continues, mainly in the form of bombings and robberies, the problem is not now of major proportions.

DECL: OADR

Chilean real economic growth, which had averaged 7 percent during the 1976-1981 period, declined in 1982 by about 13 percent. Unemployment rose to approximately 25 percent, and the number of business failures became ominous. Inflation, which had hovered around zero in the early months of 1982, jumped to over 40 percent in the second half of the year but is expected to stabilize at about 20 percent in 1983. Servicing Chile's external debt of more than $18 billion became increasingly troublesome. Nevertheless, the Government remained committed to free market economic policies while showing greater flexibility in interpreting the model.

In 1983 Chile has faced a severe liquidity crisis because of a bunching of debt repayments and an erosion of confidence in Chile following the Government's intervention of a number of financial institutions in January. To stem reserve losses and allow time to reschedule $3 billion in 1983-84 repayments, the GOC announced a 90-day standstill on debt repayments effective February 1. Although replacement of the economic team in mid-February temporarily delayed progress of the debt renegotiations, announcement of a pragmatic emergency economic plan on March 22, which included a temporary increase in tarrifs and a domestic debt refinancing program, helped restore the momentum. Since then, the GOC has made substantial progress on the debt restructuring and on a $1.46 billion medium term loan. Chile must still cover its short-term borrowing needs of about $450 million through July 15.

The Bank Advisory Group has approved in principle a $180 million short-term loan and Chile is seeking $300 million from the BIS and some official USG assistance. Their request for an ESF loan from Treasury was turned down last month; they are now inquiring about the possibility of a gold backed loan from the Federal Reserve Bank.

After signing an IMF Standby Agreement in January, Chile missed its March targets on domestic credit expansion and international reserves. The IMF has agreed to seek a waiver from the Board if the GOC were in compliance with its shadow program by June 30, and if the commercial banks had a written agreement to provide the medium term loan.

CONFIDENTIAL

The U.S. Government has authorized $144.5 million in CCC in blended agricultural credits and CCC credit guarantees. EXIM Bank is optimistic about obtaining board approval for a $50 million medium term credit program. We have expressed strong support for Chile and its economic model in our continuing discussions with the international banking community.

While Chilean-US relations have improved greatly during the past two years, efforts to fully normalize them have been impeded by Chile's lack of meaningful human rights progress and our continuing legislative ban on security assistance and military sales. The Presidential certification to the Congress necessary for the resumption of such assistance and sales requires, among other things, significant human rights progress and Chilean cooperation in bringing the Letelier/Moffitt assasins to justice. To date we have not been able to justify certification on these issues. A Customs investigation of illegal exports to Chile, has added a new complication to the certification question.

The Chilean Government feels isolated internationally and remains apprehensive about Argentine intentions in the Beagle Channel area. Not surprisingly it has entered into an increasingly closer relationship with the United Kingdom where it is obtaining military material unavailable from the United States. Nevertheless, the Chileans support us on most security, political and economic issues. Chile's strongly anti-Soviet/Cuban foreign policy and its market oriented economic policies facilitate bilateral hemispheric and global cooperation. The GOC agrees with the US on Central American issues and supports us on maintenance of Israeli representation in international organizations. On the question of a Bolivian outlet to the sea, the US continues to believe that the best hope for an agreement lies in renewed bilateral discussion. Unfortunately, Chile and Bolivia have held no talks on this matter since Bolivia broke off diplomatic relations in 1978.

HAD COMPLETED CUSTOMS CLEARANCES AND WAS SLEEPING ON SALVADORAN SIDE OF BORDER AT TIME OF ATTACK. HIS TRUCK WAS COMPLETELY DESTROYED BY INCENDIARY BOMBS.

2. MONTERO IDENTIFIED ABOUT HALF OF THE FIFTEEN GUERRILLAS WHOM HE PERSONALLY HEARD SPEAK AS NICARAGUANS. HE HAS BEEN AN EMPLOYEE OF THE COSTA RICAN OWNED ARWEST TRUCKING COMPANY FOR TEN YEARS, AND HAS BEEN MAKING THE RUN FROM PANAMA TO MEXICO DURING THIS TIME. IT IS THEREFORE A PRETTY GOOD BET THAT HE RECOGNIZES VARIOUS CENTRAL AMERICAN ACCENTS. MONTERO ALSO SAID THAT THE COMMANDER OF THE GUERRILLA GROUP WAS CUBAN (WE DO NOT KNOW WHAT EXPERTISE HE HAS TO MAKE THAT CALL). HE FURTHER OBSERVED THAT FOUR WOMEN IN THE GROUP WITH WHOM HE CAME INTO CONTACT DID NOT APPEAR TO BE CENTRAL AMERICANS -- BLUE-EYED, ETC., AND THEY CAREFULLY AVOIDED SPEAKING IN THE PRISONER'S PRESENCE.

3. MONTERO ALSO TOLD HIS EMPLOYER THAT THE GUERRILLAS FINISHED OFF THEIR WOUNDED RATHER THAN SEE THEM CAPTURED AND BURNED THE BODIES. THIS MAY CONFIRM THAT FOREIGNERS WERE IN THE ATTACKING GROUP, AND GUERRILLAS WERE ANXIOUS TO ELIMINATE POSSIBILITY OF THEIR DETECTION. MCNEIL

Analysis

While the two tables summarized above are largely self-explanatory, I would like to draw your attention to the following points:

1. INDIVIDUAL ARRESTS: Individual arrests over the past three years have shown a steady downward trend: 678; 646; and 312 (see Table I).

2. MASS ARRESTS: The trend on mass arrests has been uneven: 451; 263; and 901 (see Table II). However, the great majority of the arrests can be explained by specific and isolated events, such as illegal political demonstrations or illegal seizures of vacant land, most of which have been sponsored or encouraged by the extreme Left. Reference to Table II clearly demonstrates the relationship between illegal protest acts, mass arrests and a consequent "hyping" of human rights violations statistics. For example:

-- March 1980 (144 arrested) - demonstration for the Dia de la Mujer.

-- June 1980 (150 arrested) - hunger march.

-- May 1981 (239 arrested) - May Day demonstrations.

-- January 1982 (91 arrested) - funeral of Eduardo Frei.

-- March 1982 (198 arrested) - tomo de terreno.

-- October 1982 (163 arrested) - university student demonstrations.

-- December 1982 (211 arrested) - multigremial demonstrations of agricultural producers in Temuco and CNS workers in Santiago in early December plus street demonstration on December 15.

-- February 1983 (130 arrested) - tomo de terreno and illegal strike at MADECO.

-- March 1983 (302 arrested) - street demonstration on March 24.

In almost all cases, demonstrators were released without charges in periods ranging from a few hours to the maximum period of five days detention without charge.

3. RELEGATIONS: The trend for administrative relegations has been uneven: 106; 60; and 66 (see Table I). Once again, however, a relationship can be discerned between illegal demonstrations and relegations. For example:

-- October 1982 - 5 relegated for university student demonstration.

-- December 1982 - 15 relegated for street demonstration.

-- March 1983 - 34 relegated for street demonstration.

4. EXPULSIONS: In the case of administrative expulsions, the yearly totals are so small (1, 6 and 4) as to be statistically meaningless. However, once again a relationship with illegal activities may be discerned. For example:

-- 1981 - 4 of the 6 were expelled for signing a petition supporting the illegal CNS.

-- 1982 - 3 of the 4 were expelled for participating in the December multigremial demonstrations.

5. TORTURE: Complaints of torture registered with the Vicaria have shown a downward trend the past three years: 100; 68; and 57 (see Table I).

6. POLITICAL PRISONERS: Although Table I would indicate an increase in the number of political prisoners in Chile, our sources at the Vicaria say the monthly and annual variations in the statistics are more closely related to the rapidity or slowness of the judicial process than anything else.

Attachments

Copies of cables by Mary Porto and Ed Vazquez have been included to clarify statistical differences between the monthly reports of the Vicaria and the Commission and to throw light on other aspects of the statistical picture. A memo from Mary Porto on MIRistas killed or captured in the past twenty months is included to help explain the background of Commission claims of phony enfrentamientos.

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PGOV, PREL, SHUM, CI
SUBJECT: FOREIGN MINISTER SCHWEITZER ON DOMESTIC POLITICS, FOREIGN RELATIONS AND HUMAN RIGHTS

1. S - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. WE HAD ANOTHER LONG AND FRANK CONVERSATION ON MAY 3 WITH FOREIGN MINISTER SCHWEITZER, IN ORDER TO RESPOND TO HIS EARLIER REQUEST FOR OUR IDEAS ON THOSE AREAS IN WHICH CHANGES MIGHT IMPROVE FOREIGN PERCEPTIONS OF CHILE AND THUS CONTRIBUTE TO CLOSER COOPERATION WITH THE US AND OTHER WESTERN GOVERNMENTS. WE MADE CLEAR FROM THE OUTSET THAT OUR THINKING ON SUCH SENSITIVE INTERNAL AFFAIRS WAS BEING OFFERED IN THE SPIRIT OF OPEN DIALOGUE THAT HE HAD ASKED FOR, AND THAT THERE WAS NO INTENT TO USE CERTIFICATION AS A MEANS TO IMPOSE CONDITIONS OR DEMANDS.

3. THE THREE SPECIFIC AREAS WHICH WE MENTIONED AS HAVING MAJOR POTENTIAL FOR IMPROVEMENT WERE THE RETURN OF EXILES, GREATER TOLERANCE FOR NON-VIOLENT POLITICAL DISSENT (INCLUDING MEASURES TO PREVENT PHYSICAL ABUSE OF PEOPLE

DETAINED OUTSIDE THE NORMAL JAIL SYSTEM), AND IMPLEMENTATION OF CONCRETE TRANSITION MEASURES THAT WOULD PERMIT GREATER PUBLIC PARTICIPATION, SUCH AS THROUGH ELECTED MUNICIPAL COUNCILS. WE ALSO NOTED THAT IN THE ABSENCE OF NEW POLITICAL INITIATIVES AND CONSISTENT GOC POLITICAL MANAGEMENT, THE COURSE OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS WOULD BE LARGELY DETERMINED BY

THE DISCONTENT AND FRUSTRATIONS GENERATED BY THE RECESSION, WITH THE RESULTING EROSION OF GOVERNMENT SUPPORT THAT INTERIOR MINISTER MONTERO HAD RECENTLY DESCRIBED IN HIS SPEECH TO THE CONFERENCE OF MAYORS.

4. SCHWEITZER ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE PRESENT SITUATION WAS VERY DIFFICULT AND DANGEROUS. HE ACCEPTED OUR COMMENTS IN THE SPIRIT INTENDED AND SAID HE WOULD NOT TAKE REFUGE IN THE POSITION THAT FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS HAD NO ROLE IN DOMESTIC AFFAIRS. BUT WE MUST UNDERSTAND, HE WENT ON, THAT THE GOVERNMENT WAS BEING CONFRONTED BY AN ESCALATING CAMPAIGN OF CRITICISM AND ATTEMPTED DEMONSTRATIONS WHICH THEY HAD REASON TO BELIEVE WOULD CONTINUE INTO SEPTEMBER, CULMINATING WITH THE TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE TAKEOVER. THE VIOLENT DEMONSTRATION IN MARCH, THE INCIDENTS ON MAY DAY AND NOW THE CALLS BY THE COPPER WORKERS FOR A NATIONAL STRIKE ON MAY 11 WERE OF GREAT CONCERN TO THE GOVERNMENT, AND MANY GOC LEADERS BELIEVED THAT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD HAVE TO TAKE DIRECT PREVENTIVE MEASURES TO KEEP THINGS FROM GETTING OUT OF HAND. WHILE HE AND OTHERS IN THE CABINET WERE TRYING TO HOLD THE LINE, TO KEEP INTERNAL SECURITY MEASURES WITHIN THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM, THE PRESIDENT AND OTHER OFFICIALS WERE MORE SENSITIVE TO THE SERIOUS RISK THAT LARGER, MORE SUCCESSFUL DEMONSTRATIONS COULD SET OFF A CHAIN OF EVENTS THAT WOULD BE VERY DANGEROUS.

5. SCHWEITZER WENT ON TO SAY THAT HE FULLY UNDERSTOOD THE

NEED FOR THE GOVERNMENT TO ACT SO AS TO REGAIN THE POLITICAL INITIATIVE. A NEW LIST OF EXILES APPROVED FOR RETURN WOULD SOON BE RELEASED, AND THIS PROCESS WOULD CONTINUE, DESPITE THE FACT THAT NO ONE HAD ANYTHING GOOD TO SAY ABOUT IT. HE WAS ALSO TRYING, WITH OTHERS, TO PROCEED WITH THE VARIOUS REFORM PROGRAMS THAT WERE ESSENTIAL TO LAY THE BASIS FOR A STABLE DEMOCRACY. THE FERNANDEZ COMMISSION WOULD BE A VALUABLE MECHANISM TO ENCOURAGE THE PARTICIPATION OF SECTORS OUTSIDE THE GOVERNMENT IN PLANNING THE TRANSITION. AND HE WAS VERY AWARE OF THE ENORMOUS POLITICAL COST OF ALLEGED ABUSES OF DETAINEES, EVEN THOUGH HE BELIEVED THAT MANY SUCH ALLEGATIONS WERE POLITICALLY-MOTIVATED INVENTIONS. HE CONCLUDED BY SAYING THAT HE BELIEVED THAT THE US AND CHILEAN OBJECTIVES WERE VERY SIMILAR, IN THAT BOTH GOVERNMENTS WANTED TO SEE A PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY, AND THAT WE SHOULD BE PATIENT AND HAVE CONFIDENCE THAT POSITIVE CHANGES COULD BE ACCOMPLISHED.

6. COMMENT: AS IN OUR PREVIOUS CONVERSATIONS, SCHWEITZER

WAS VERY OPEN AND PREPARED FOR CANDID DISCUSSIONS. HIS DESCRIPTION OF THE DECISION-MAKING PROCESS WITHIN THE GOVERNMENT RINGS TRUE, GIVEN THE TOP PRIORITY THAT THE PRESIDENT OBVIOUSLY GIVES TO MAINTAINING HIS CONTROL. THE BELIEF THAT THE OPPOSITION IS GATHERING ITS STRENGTH FOR A MAJOR CAMPAIGN, AIMED AT THE SEPTEMBER 11 ANNIVERSARY, IS SOMETHING WE HAVE BEEN HEARING LATELY, THOUGH WE ARE LESS SURE THAT THE COPPER WORKERS' CALL FOR A PROTEST ON MAY 11 IS PART OF A COORDINATED STRATEGY. BUT OF MORE CONCERN IS THE APPARENT INABILITY OF THE GOVERNMENT TO DEVELOP A POSITIVE STRATEGY OF ITS OWN, AND BEING COMPELLED TO RESPOND TO EVENTS RATHER THAN TRYING TO INFLUENCE THEM. THEBERGE

2. AT THE REQUEST OF GENERAL SANTIAGO SINCLAIR, MINISTER SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE PRESIDENCY, I MET WITH HIM AT LA MONEDA OVER LUNCH YESTERDAY (MAY 5). THE GENERAL WAS VERY FRIENDLY AND THE CONVERSATION WAS CORDIAL THROUGHOUT. HE SAID THAT HIS GOVERNMENT WANTED TO MAINTAIN GOOD RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES. IN AN ASIDE, HE STATED THAT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT WASNTED ALSO TO HAVE CORDIAL RELATIONS WITH THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, AND HE CONFIDED THAT HE BELIEVED THAT THE NEXT ARCHBISHOP OF SANTIAGO, THE REPLACEMENT OF CARDENAL SILVA, WOULD BE A MODERATE BISHOP AND NOT HOSTILE TO THE GOVERNMENT. HE EXPRESSED THE APPRECIATION OF THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT FOR THE HELPFUL ATTITUDE OF THE USG IN THE EXTERNAL DEBT RENEGOTIATIONS.

(SEE 2549), AND WANTED TO HEAR DIRECTLY WHAT I THOUGHT HIS GOVERNMENT COULD DO TO IMPROVE CHILE'S INTERNATIONAL IMAGE. I RESPONDED BY SAYING THAT PERHAPS THE SINGLE MOST EFFECTIVE STEP THAT THE GOVERNMENT COULD TAKE WOULD BE TO DEMONSTRATE ITS COMMITMENT TO THE POLICY OF ALLOWING EXILES TO RETURN. SO FAR, I SAID, THE SMALL NUMBERS AND ABSENCE OF POLITICALLY SIGNIFICANT PERSONALITIES HAD BEEN A DISAPPOINTMENT WITHIN AND OUTSIDE OF CHILE. IF THE GOVERNMENT RELEASED A LARGE LIST, PERHAPS A THOUSAND, AT THE EARLIEST MOMENT, THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE CHILEAN GOVENMENT'S COMMITMENT TO ITS EXILE RETURN POLICY WOULD BE EVIDENT. HE THOUGHT THAT THIS WAS AN IDEA WITH MERIT WHICH HE SAID HE WOULD TAKE UP WITH THE PRESIDENT.

4. HE THEN POSED THE QUESTION OF WHAT ELSE COULD THE GOVERNMENT DO. I SAID THAT ANY CONCRETE STEP THAT WAS TAKEN BY THE GOVERNMENT WHICH DEMONSTRATED ITS INTENTION OF RETURNING CHILE TO DEMOCRACY WOULD BE WELL RECEIVED IN THE UNITED STATES AND OTHER DEMOCRATIC COUNTRIES. HE SAID THAT THE MUNICIPAL LEGISLATION, ESTABLISHING LEGISLATIVE COUNCILS CONSISTING OF REPRESENTATIVES OF ORGANIZED SECTORS OF EACH COMMUNITY, WAS ALREADY DRAFTED AND WAS BEING CONSIDERED FOR APPROVAL. I ASKED WHETHER THESE BASE ORGANIZATIONS WOULD ELECT THEIR REPRESENTATIVES, AND HE SAID THAT THEY WOULD. I SAID THAT IT WAS ESSENTIAL THAT DEMOCRATIC AND UNRESTRICTED ELECTIONS BE ALLOWED UNDER THE LEGISLATION, SO THAT THE PEOPLE'S WILL IS EXPRESSED AT THE LOCAL LEVEL. IF THAT HAPPENED, IT WOULD BE AN IMPORTANT STEP FORWARD ON THE TRANSITIONAL PATH.
5. I TOLD GENERAL SINCLAIR THAT RECENTLY I HAD NOTED A SERIOUS DETERIORATION OF SUPPORT FOR THE GOVERNMENT, A LOSS OF CREDIBILITY AND A DEEP CONCERN ABOUT THE APPARENT ABSENCE OF A TRANSITION STRATEGY ON THE PART OF SERIOUS

GOVENMENT SUPPORTERS WHO WANTED A PEACEFUL, ORDERLY RETRUN TO DEMOCRACY IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CONSTITUTION. THIS WAS THE BUSINESS OF THE GOVERNMENT, OF COURSE, AND I WAS ONLY RELAYING WHAT I HAD HEARD FROM SEVERAL PROMINENT SUPPORTERS OF THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT. WHILE NO DOUBT THE ECONOMIC RECESSION HAD ACCELERATED THE DECLINE IN GOVERNMENT SUPPORT, IT APPEARED THAT THE GOVERNMENT WAS SUFFERING ALSO FROM A LONG-TERM EXHAUSTION WHICH WAS A FUNCTION OF TIME IN POWER.
6. I ADDED THAT, IN OUR VIEW, THE INTEREST IN A STABLE DEMOCRACY COULD ONLY BE DAMAGED BY A POLARIZATION OF THE SOCIETY WHICH LEFT THE MILITARY ISOLATED AND DISCREDITED. THAT WAS A DANGER WHICH REQUIRED THE MOST THOUGHT BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT AND ARMED FORCES. RESTORATION OF DEMOCRATIC PROCESS WAS A WAY TO AVOID SUCH AN UNHAPPY PROSPECT. GENERAL SINCLAIR REPLIED THAT HE AGREED WITH MUCH OF WHAT I HAD SAID AND THAT HE APPRECIATED MY FRANK COMMENTS AND EVIDENT DESIRE TO BE HELPFUL.

7. COMMENT: SINCLAIR'S INTEREST IN HAVING THIS CONVERSATION AND HIS APPARENT RECEPTIVITY TO WHAT I SAID LEAVES ME WITH THE IMPRESSION, AS DID THE EARLIER DISCUSSION WITH SCHWEITZER, OF DEEP CONCERN WITH THE GOVERNMENT ABOUT ITS DECLINING POPULARITY AND SUPPORT. BOTH MEN SEEM TO BE GROPING FOR APOLITICAL STRATEGY TO ARREST THE DRIFT OF RECENT MONTHS. THEIR EVIDENT INTEREST IN OUR VIEWS MAY MEAN THAT THEY ARE LOOKING FOR IDEAS AND ARGUMENTS TO USE IN OVERCOMING THE RESISTANCE OF THE PRESIDENT AND OTHER GOVERNMENT SECTORS TO TAKING NEW MEASURES.

Civ. A. No. M 18-302 REPLY BRIEF IN SUPPORT OF JUDGMENT CREDITORS' MOTION FOR APPOINTMENT OF RECEIVER FOR INTERESTS OF CHILE IN UNITED STATES COMMERCIAL ASSETS OF LAN-CHILE AIRLINE

The Judgment Creditors submit this reply brief in support of their motion for appointment of a receiver for the property interests of the Republic of Chile in United States commercial assets of the LAN-Chile airline operation and in opposition to the "cross motion" in which LAN-Chile seeks invalidation of the judgment against Chile, the striking of certain evidentiary exhibits, and related relief.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

Despite the plethora of argument contained in LAN-Chile's 87 page brief and its several dissertations on Chilean law, the Judgment Creditors submit that the questions presented on their motion for receivership remain clear.

(1) Since Chile caused LAN-Chile to play a key role in the wrongful activity on which the judgment is based, should LAN-Chile be treated as an alter ego of Chile for purposes of enforcement of the judgment?

(2) If LAN-Chile were to be treated as a separate jural entity, despite Chile's use of its United States assets and facilities in the wrongful activity, does Chile nonetheless have an equitable interest in those assets which may be subjected to some form of execution?

(3) Has Chile lost its claim to sovereign immunity for those assets as a result of its use of the assets in commercial activity which formed a part of the basis for the judgment?

(4) If Chile has an interest in the assets and that interest is without sovereign immunity, is receivership an appropriate means to execute on that interest?

We submit that each of the foregoing questions should clearly be answered in the affirmative.

Before proceeding to reply to LAN-Chile on these issues, we deal with LAN-Chile's cross-motion, since that motion, however frivolous, purports to attack the judgment itself and the constitutionality of its application to assets held by LAN-Chile.

I. LAN-CHILE'S CROSS-MOTION TO SET ASIDE OR INVALIDATE THE JUDGMENT AGAINST CHILE AND TO STRIKE EVIDENTIARY EXHIBITS IS DEVOID OF MERIT

LAN-Chile maintains that it would be "unconstitutional" to enforce a judgment against Chile in such a manner as to deprive LAN-Chile of assets or capital which reflect Chile's equity investment in the airline. Memorandum of Law in Opposition to Judgment Creditors' Motion to Appoint a Receiver (hereinafter "LAN Br.") 75-77. LAN-Chile also suggests that the judgment against Chile should be set aside because Judge Green considered the prior sworn testimony of the confessed Chilean agent, Townley, rather then seeking to compel his production from the federal witness protection program. LAN Br. 11-12, 77. Desperation may explain resort to arguments of this caliber.

Chile is a judgment debtor under a final judgment that it carried out a conspiracy to kill Orlando Letelier and Ronni Karpen Moffitt. That judgment has been registered in this district under 28 U.S.C. § 1963. This proceeding is being held to determine whether LAN-Chile holds property of the judgment debtor. This court has jurisdiction to make that determination, and LAN-Chile does not deny that this is so. LAN-Chile is entitled to due process of law in proceedings leading to a determination that it is equitably owned by Chile and that it is and was an instrumentality of Chile which directly participated in the murders. LAN-Chile is receiving due process of law in connection with the resolution of those questions, the only ones before this Court and the only ones on which it is entitled to a hearing.

Thus, the entire labored discussion at LAN Br. 75-82 is beside the point. However, common law lawyers, like common law judges, have the right -- and perhaps the duty -- to spear a red herring, cf., United States v. Cheung Kia Ping, 555 F.2d 1069, 1073 (2d Cir. 1977), and we therefore reply to LAN-Chile's efforts to assert claims that belonged to its alter ego-parent, Chile, in the now-concluded District of Columbia litigation.

A. LAN-CHILE'S CHALLENGE TO THE JUDGMENT IS FRIVOLOUS

While a garnishee may be allowed to attack a judgment which is wholly void for lack of jurisdiction (see Morris v. Jones, 329 U.S. 545 (1947); Milliken v. Meyer, 311 U.S. 457 (1940); Covington Indus., Inc. v. Resintex A.G., 629 F.2d 730 (2d Cir. 1980)), Judge Green clearly had jurisdiction to decide her own jurisdiction over Chile under the FSIA, 28 U.S.C. § 1605(a)(5), and she made her decision in light of memoranda of law which had been submitted on Chile's behalf. DeLetelier v. Chile, 488 F. Supp. 665, 674 (D.D.C. 1980). See Chilean Memorandum of Law attached as Exhibit B to Supplementary Affidavit of John J. Privitera ("Supp. Privitera Aff."). Since the matter was actually litigated and expressly decided, and since Chile elected to take no appeal, there can be no challenge to the court's jurisdiction on such grounds. See Chicot County Drainage District v. Baxter State Bank, 308 U.S. 371 (1940); Durfee v. Duke, 375 U.S. 106 (1963); Lambert v. Conrad, 536 F.2d 1183 (7th Cir. 1976).

Under Rule 60(b), Fed. R. Civ. P., a motion to set aside the judgment can only be made to "relieve a party or his legal representative" in the action and in the Court in which the judgment was rendered.* More than one year has now elapsed since the judgment, therefore, Chile could base such a motion only upon the extremely narrow ground of Rule 60(b)(6) which requires that exceptional circumstances exist to justify such relief, which do not include technical error

* See Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b) advisory committee note; 7 Moore's Federal Practice ¶ 60.28[1] at 387.

 I.e., the motion must be based upon a reason other than those stated in Rule 60(b)(1)-(5), and "the other reason must be such as to justify relief". See 7 Moore's Federal Practice ¶ 60.27 [1] at 343.

which might have justified reversal on appeal.* 7 Moore's Federal Practice ¶ 60.27[1] at 348. In any case, having elected to deny in these proceedings that it is an alter ego of Chile, LAN-Chile cannot now ask that it be identified with Chile for purposes of a motion to set aside the judgment. "[T]he corporate veil is never pierced for the benefit of the corporation or its stockholders. . . . [H]aving elected to take the advantages of incorporation, it is not inequitable to subject [a sole shareholder] to the disabilities consequent upon his election." Boise Cascade Corp. v. Wheeler, 419 F. Supp. 98, 102 (S.D.N.Y. 1976), aff'd without opinion, 556 F.2d 554 (2d Cir. 1977), citing Colin v. Altman, 39 A.D.2d 200, 202, 333 N.Y.S.2d 432, 433-34 (1st Dept. 1972). Just as Chile defaulted in the action before Judge Green, it has defaulted again in this proceeding and thus there can be no question of a challenge to the validity of the judgment.

* Cf. In re Uranium Antitrust Litigation, 617 F.2d 1248, 1256 n. 32 (7th Cir. 1980), where wholly-owned subsidiaries of a judgment debtor were allowed to participate in an interlocutory appeal from entry of the judgment. Here LAN-Chile seeks to make a collateral attack on the judgment, the time for appeal having long since passed.

B. TOWNLEY'S PRIOR SWORN TESTIMONY BEARS INDICIA OF RELIABILITY, WAS FULLY ADMISSIBLE IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, AND IS ADMISSIBLE HERE

In stating that she would consider Townley's prior sworn testimony in the criminal proceedings, Judge Green ruled that he had become unavailable as a witness because he had been placed for his own protection in the federal witness protection program. DeLetelier v. Chile, 502 F. Supp. 259, 261 n. 3 (D.D.C. 1980). See Fed. R. Evid. 804(b)(3). Judge Green was clearly justified in her conclusion, particularly in view of the fact that Chile, Townley and the other defendants had all defaulted in the action and, under the usual rule, were deemed to have confessed the allegations of the complaint. See 6 Moore's Federal Practice ¶ 55.03[2]; Whittlesey v. Weyerhauser Co., 640 F.2d 739, 742 (5th Cir. 1981). In derogation of that usual rule, the FSIA, 28 U.S.C. § 1608(e), does require a claimant to prove his case against a defaulting sovereign, but only "by evidence satisfactory to the court," a discretionary standard which gave Judge Green ample authorization for her decision.* As a defendant in the action, Townley had steadfastly refused to take part in the proceedings, refused to comply with discovery requests and was threatened with contempt -- a threat which could hold little terror for Townley since he was already lodged in federal prison under a secret identity in the witness protection program. See Supp. Privitera Aff. ¶¶ 4-11. His testimony was admissible against him as an admission of a party opponent under Fed. R. Evid. § 801(d)(2)(A) and against the Republic of Chile because it was the testimony of an agent of the Republic. Indeed, Townley's personal letters (see the original Privitera Affidavit, Exhibit D; Supp. Privitera Aff. ¶ 13 and Exhibit C) demonstrate that Townley's legal fees were paid by the Republic of Chile, that Townley made a decision to refuse to give further testimony in order to serve Chile, and that he continues to comport himself as an agent of Chile. Judge Green was thus fully justified in concluding that he was "unavailable," thus making his evidence admissible against any party in the proceeding. Fed. R. Evid. 804(b)(3). Moreover, since Townley was subject to extensive cross-examination in the criminal proceeding (see original Privitera Aff. Exhibit A), his testimony had "circumstantial guarantees of trustworthiness" sufficient to render it admissible under Fed. R. Evid. 803(24). Indeed, Chile itself offered some corroboration of Townley's testimony since, while denying its own responsibility, it indicated in a memorandum of law filed with Judge Green that it had dismissed the head of DINA, General Contreras, and two other DINA officials whom Townley identified as responsible for the Letelier mission. Supp. Privitera Aff. Exhibit B, ¶ 8, p. 4.

While the question of the admissibility of Townley's prior testimony thus cannot affect the basis for the judgment or the validity of findings of fact which Judge Green made against Chile, she was quite correct in admitting the testimony and it is also fully admissible in these proceedings on the question whether LAN-Chile should be deemed an alter ego of Chile.* On the alter ego issue, the testimony before the Grand Jury of LAN-Chile's own assistant station manager, Fernando Cruchaga (Privitera Aff. Exhibit D), is also admissible here against LAN-Chile pursuant to Fed. R. Evid. 801(d)(2)(D), since Cruchaga testified while an agent

* If the Court is not prepared to adopt Judge Green's conclusion that Townley should be regarded as unavailable, the Judgment Creditors would be prepared to seek his production by the United States Marshal's Service on writ of habeas corpus ad testificandum, but we believe this would prove to be a vain act.

of LAN-Chile concerning matters within the scope of his employment -- the airline's assistance to Chilean agent Townley and its transport of packages for him. See Mahlandt v. C. THERE IS NOTHING "UNCONSTITUTIONAL" ABOUT ENFORCING THE JUDGMENT AGAINST A GARNISHEE -- LAN-CHILE -- WHICH EITHER (1) HAS COMPORTED ITSELF AS AN ALTER EGO OF THE JUDGMENT DEBTOR OR (2) HAS PROPERTY WHICH THE JUDGMENT DEBTOR WOULD BE ENTITLED TO CLAIM

LAN-Chile argues at length that it would be "unconstitutional" to subject it to the consequences of a judgment which was entered against another party, the Republic. LAN Br. 75-81. According to LAN-Chile, since it was not sued as a defendant in the District of Columbia proceeding (id. 13-15), it and the assets in its possession should be entirely insulated from the effects of the judgment. The argument misses the point. The Judgment Creditors seek to extract assets from LAN-Chile on one of two grounds: either (1) LAN-Chile is an alter ego of Chile, whose separate identity should properly be disregarded; or (2) while LAN-Chile may be a separate entity, it is wholly owned by Chile, and Chile as the equitable owner of its assets, would be entitled to withdraw those assets and assign them to its creditors. It is irrelevant whether the fictional entity, LAN-Chile, could be held liable as a co-conspirator in the wrongdoing on which the judgment is based.*

There is nothing "unconstitutional" about the Judgment Creditors' effort to establish in this proceeding that LAN-Chile should be regarded as the alter ego of Chile. The Court has jurisdiction over LAN-Chile to determine, in accordance with due process, whether it is an alter ego of Chile. In the very case on which LAN-Chile relies, Zenith Corp. v. Hazeltine Research, Inc., 395 U.S. 100 (1969), the Supreme Court was prepared to assume that a judgment against one corporate affiliate may well operate as a judgment against another corporate affiliate provided that the enforcing court has jurisdiction of the latter and determines that it is in fact an alter ego of the affiliate against which the judgment was initially rendered. Id. at 111. Cf. Bruezewski v. United States, 181 F.2d 419, 423 (3d Cir. 1950) (third party was bound because in privity with judgment debtor).*

* The airline's involvement in the wrong is relevant as showing that airline personnel sought to facilitate the secret mission of Chilean agents, in effect operating the airline as the alter ego of the state for purposes of such secret activity. See Point II A, infra. Chile's use of commercial assets of the airline operation in the wrongful activity on which the judgment is based is also relevant as depriving those assets of sovereign immunity under 28 U.S.C. § 1610(a)(2). See Point II C, infra.

Nor does LAN-Chile have a "constitutional" ground for complaint if the Court concludes that it should indeed be treated as a separate entity but that Chile, as its sole owner, has equitable ownership of its assets and the right to withdraw them for the benefit of its creditors. Any inconvenience that LAN-Chile would experience as the result of loss of its United States assets would come not because it is being held "liable" under the judgment but because Chile is liable and Chile is paramount owner of the LAN-Chile assets. While LAN-Chile may wish to be recognized as a separate fictional entity, it cannot deny the reality that Chile, its owner, has the right to withdraw its United States assets and use them to discharge its obligation to the Judgment Creditors. If Chile is unwilling to exercise its rights in that regard, an equity court, sitting in the United States, may assign those rights in respect of United States assets to a receiver. See Point II B, infra.

* Nominally separate corporations were found to be alter egos of the judgment debtor for purposes of execution upon the judgment in Central National Bank & Trust Co. of Des Moines v. Wagener, 183 N.W.2d 678 (Iowa 1971) and Central Fibre Prods. Co. v. Lorenz, 66 N.W.2d 30 (Iowa 1954).

II. THE JUDGMENT CREDITORS' MOTION FOR APPOINTMENT OF A RECEIVER SHOULD BE GRANTED BECAUSE CHILE POSSESSES A PROPERTY INTEREST IN LAN-CHILE ASSETS WHICH LACKS SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY AND IS PROPERLY SUBJECT TO RECEIVERSHIP

Although both sides have submitted extensive arguments concerning the relationship of LAN-Chile to the Chilean state under Chilean law, the Court, in deciding the question whether the Republic of Chile should be deemed to have a property interest in commercial assets of the LAN-Chile airline operation located in the United States, will necessarily apply United States law, including United States principles of comity and choice of law. See Hilton v. Guyot, 159 U.S. 113, 163 (1895). While those principles may, upon analysis, direct the Court to consider foreign law and to fashion rights under United States law which are "homologous" to those which Chilean law would provide (see Guinness v. Miller, 291 Fed. 769, 770 (S.D.N.Y. 1923) (L. Hand, J.), aff'd, 299 Fed. 538 (2d Cir. 1924), modified on other grounds, 269 U.S. 71 (1925)), the rights which are thus enforced are nonetheless rights under United States law, (see, e.g., Cavers, Comment: The Two Local Law Theories, 63 Harv. L. Rev. 822 (1950)), which must reflect United States policy. Chilean law, of its own force, has no effect in the United States. "No law has any effect, of its own force, beyond the limits of the sovereignty from which its authority is derived." Hilton v. Guyot, supra, 159 U.S. at 163 (1895).

Historically, our courts have recognized that a corporation or other artificial person was but a fiction of the sovereign which created it -- indeed, a fiction which would ordinarily be deemed to exist only within the actual territory of that sovereign and which would be denied recognition outside those bounds. E.g., Bank of Augusta v. Earle, 13 Pet. 517, 588 (1839) (Taney, C.J.).*

* Indeed, the Supreme Court's early interpretation of the Constitution called for disregard of the corporate fiction

(footnote continues)

If that early brand of judicial realism were applied today, of course, the fiction of LAN-Chile would have to be disregarded altogether and its assets would be deemed the property of the Chilean state, pure and simple.

Since the mid nineteenth century, however, as the transaction of business in corporate form increased, our courts grew far more willing to recognize the fictional for purposes of suit under the diversity jurisdiction, holding that a corporation was not a "citizen" of a state but permitting it to sue in federal court as nominal representative of its shareholders, provided that the citizenship of each of the shareholders was diverse from that of the opposing parties. See Commercial Railroad Bank of Vicksburg v. Slocomb, 14 Peters 60 (1840) (diversity absent where some corporate shareholders were citizens of same state as opposing party). Later cases held that a corporation was capable of being treated as a "citizen" of the state of its incorporation, Louisville, C. & C.R.R. v. Letson, 2 How. 497, 558 (1844), and sought to rationalize that conclusion on the theory that "the presumption arising from the habitat of a corporation in the place of its creation [was] conclusive as to the residence or citizenship of those who use the corporate name." Marshall v. B. & O. R.R., 16 How. 314 (1853). See McGovney, A Supreme Court Fiction: Corporations in the Diverse Citizenship Jurisdiction of the Federal Courts, 56 Harv. L. Rev. 853, 1090, 1225 (1943). Although a corporation organized under state law is now deemed a citizen for purposes of the diversity jurisdiction (28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)), the Court has always maintained that a corporation is not a "citizen" for purposes of the privileges and immunities clause. See Hemphill v. Orloff, 277 U.S. 537, 548-550 (1928).

entities created by states and foreign nations. Whereas grant of a corporate charter with limitation of liability had been a privilege reserved for the few, "the advent of laws of general incorporation, which swept the country in the late 19th century" made the privilege of limited liability available to all. See Western & Southern Life Ins. Co. v. State Board of Equalization of California, 451 U.S. 648, 659 (1981), citing Louis K. Liggett Co. v. Lee, 288 U.S. 517, 557-564 (1933) (Brandeis, J. dissenting). In 1886 the Supreme Court thought it so clear that a corporation created by a state was a "person" entitled to equal protection of that state's laws that it declined to hear argument on the point. Santa Clara County v. Southern Pac. R.R., 118 U.S. 394, 396 (1886). But the Court adhered to the view that corporations were creatures of the state which created them and had no absolute right to be recognized for the transaction of business in other states. E.g., Paul v. Virginia, 75 U.S. 168, 181 (1868); Asbury Hospital v. Cass County, 326 U.S. 207, 211 (1945). Thus, although a state's domestic corporation had to be treated as a "person" under the 14th amendment, a foreign corporation which was denied a license to do business in the state was not a "person" entitled to equal protection (Philadelphia Fire Ass'n. v. New York, 119 U.S. 110, 116-18 (1886)), even though the corporate stockholders may themselves be persons whose rights in the corporate assets are subject to constitutional protection. Today the states may continue to attach rational conditions to their recognition of foreign corporations. See Western & Southern Life Ins. Co. v. State Board of Equalization of California, supra, 451 U.S. at 667-68.

The foregoing historical discussion suggests the terms and the basis upon which wholly-owned commercial entities of foreign states may claim to be treated as separate jural entities. Our courts would doubtless agree with the statement of Lord Wilberforce in his separate opinion in Playa Larga v. I Congreso del Partido, [1981] 3 W.L.R. 328, 332, that "[s]tate controlled enterprises, with legal personality, ability to trade and to enter into contracts of private law, though wholly subject to the control of the state, are a well-known feature of the modern commercial scene. The distinction between them and their governing state may appear artificial: but it is an accepted distinction in the Law of English and other states," citing C. Czarnikow Ltd. v. Centrale Handler Zagramacznego Rolimpex [1979] A.C. 351. Nonetheless, the distinction should not be applied slavishly or blindly.

In the context of private corporations, the courts have long recognized that . . . "a corporation is at bottom but an association of individuals united for a common purpose and permitted by law to use a common name." A.A. Berle, The Theory of Enterprise Entity, 47 Colum. L. Rev. 343, 352 (1947). The principal reason of policy for allowing separate incorporation is the incentive for investment which results from giving the company of shareholders the benefit of limited liability. H. W. Ballantine, Ballantine on Corporations § 1 at 4 (Rev. Ed. 1946). When a sovereign enters the marketplace as a commercial trader, he too subjects himself to claims of liability (see II C, infra and thus even for a sovereign the principal reason of policy for using a separate state entity as a trading corporation is to limit liability to the enterprise itself (see, e.g., Playa Larga, supra), making the enterprise itself responsible for its commercial success or failure and permitting the state to scrutinize its performance as that of a single unit. See Supp. Velasco Aff. ¶ 7. There appears to be no reason of policy why either a company of private investors or a foreign sovereign, having placed their assets under the aegis of a separate corporate person for purposes of trade, should not be able to withdraw those assets again in order to answer for their debts. The word

"person" itself comes from the Greek word for the masks worn by actors in the early Greek drama (see Oxford Shorter English Dictionary) and the fact that a foreign government has assumed a separate persona for purposes of trade cannot prevent it from lowering the mask if it should wish to do so. Thus, although a 1969 decree of the President of Chile states that LAN-Chile is to be deemed an autonomous juridical person (Velasco Aff. Ex. A, Supp. Velasco Aff. ¶ 4), that does not require United States courts to conclude that the property of the airline operation is beyond the reach of Chile or that Chile has no interest in that property.

A. SINCE CHILE CAUSED LAN-CHILE TO PLAY A KEY ROLE IN THE WRONGFUL ACTIVITY ON WHICH THE JUDGMENT IS BASED, COMITY TOWARD CHILE DOES NOT REQUIRE THE COURT TO TREAT LAN-CHILE AS A SEPARATE ENTITY AND IT SHOULD BE IDENTIFIED WITH CHILE AS AN "ALTER EGO" FOR PURPOSES OF ENFORCEMENT OF THE JUDGMENT.

In First National City Bank v. Banco para el Comercio Exterior, 658 F.2d 913 (2d Cir.), cert. granted, ___ U.S. ___, 103 S.Ct. 253 (1982) (hereinafter "Bancec"), the Court of Appeals evidenced a recognition of the fictional nature of the separate personality attributed to foreign state agencies and suggested that the fiction would be recognized only for "some purposes."

> [A]n instrumentality of a government is not necessarily an alter ego of that government for all purposes. If the instrumentality has been created as a separate and distinct juridical entity under the laws of the state that owns it, we will normally respect its independent identity for a number of purposes. . . .
> "We will, on the other hand, ignore the statutory distinction between the state and its instrumentality when the subject matter of the counterclaim assertible against the state is state conduct in which the instrumentality had a key role." 658 F.2d at 918.

Here, of course, the alter ego doctrine would be applied in order to enforce a judgment upon assets of an instrumentality which the foreign sovereign used in a key role in the wrongdoing on which the judgment is based, not in order to state a counterclaim against the instrumentality. But the standard for applying the doctrine, if different at all in this context, should be more lenient in favor of the judgment creditors, since an instrumentality which allows itself to be used as a tool for the commission of a wrong must expect to continue to serve as its sovereign's tool when it comes time to pay the judgment which results from that activity.

It is not seriously disputable that LAN-Chile played a "key role" in the subject matter of the claim. Judge Green found as a fact that "[u]ncontradicted testimony demonstrated that facilities and personnel of LAN-Chile Airlines, a foreign air carrier owned and operated by the government of Chile, were used by Townley in connection with the preparation and carrying out of the assassination of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt." DeLetelier v. Republic of Chile, supra, 502 F. Supp. at 262.* Judge Green's findings also established that Townley was acting within the scope of his employment as an agent of DINA, (Id. at 262, 266) had been dispatched on his mission by officers of that organization, effected a rendezvous with other agents at Kennedy Airport, (Id. at 262) and reported on the results and consequences of his mission to high officials, including General Contreras, the head of DINA. Id. at 264. Excerpts from prior testimony of Townley and LAN-Chile's assistant station manager, Cruchaga established that LAN-Chile personnel were used: to effect the rendevous between DINA agents Towneley and Fernandez at Kennedy Airport (Privitera Aff., ¶¶ 13, 14, Exhibit A, pp. 9-10; Exhibit B, p. 12, 13, 16); to aid in Townley's rental of a car under a false name (id., ¶ 19, Exhibit A, p. 12, 58, Exhibit B, pp. 13-15, 25); to obtain tickets for Townley in false names (id., ¶¶ 12, 22, Exhibit A, pp. 7, 47, 50, 65); to provide a comfortable meeting place within LAN-Chile headquarters for co-conspirators Townley and Fernandez, (id., ¶ 17, Exhibit A, p. 42); to upgrade co-conspirator Fernandez's ticket to first class without payment, (id., Exhibit A, pp. 9, 10, Exhibit B, pp. 12-13); to assist General Manual Contreras Sepulveda, the former Director of DINA and one of the individuals who ordered the assasination, in a large cash transaction in the United States which probably resulted in cash payments to Cuban exile members of the conspiracy (id., ¶ 24, Exhibit C, p. 7); and probably to transport Townley's false documentation back to Chile and to fraudulently place an I-94 form relating to Townley's presence in the United States in a batch of I-94 forms of outgoing passengers on an Iberia Airlines flight a few days before the assassination, (id., ¶¶ 20, 21, Exhibit A, pp. 14, 17, 20, 45-49; Exhibit C, pp. 4-5); and that Cruchaga and LAN-Chile pilots and other personnel undertook to hand-carry packages for Townley which, in fact, contained explosives, electronic bomb components and the like used in the assassination. See footnote on p. 24, infra.

* Contrary to LAN-Chile's rather frivolous suggestion (LAN Br. 13), this finding of Judge Green was not idle comment on the evidence but was a holding that the evidence had "demonstrated" something i.e., that Chilean agents used LAN-Chile facilities.

LAN-Chile argues that it has not been proved that its pilots and personnel knew what was in the packages which they transported for Townley and other Chilean agents other than "peanut butter and printed matter" (LAN Br. 5) and that Fernando Cruchaga, LAN-Chile's assistant station manager in New York, "testified that he did not know that Townley or the other Chileans allegedly involved were, in fact, DINA agents." Id. at 17. This argument misrepresents the record, however. Cruchaga conceded in his testimony before the grand jury that "I suspected that he [Townley] was working for the government," although Cruchaga insisted, "I never suspected that he was working for DINA." Privitera Aff. Exhibit B, p. 18. In explaining how he knew Townley worked for the Chilean government, Cruchaga gave as one reason his discovery that Townley was traveling under a false name. "Really, at that point I suspect he was an official of the government. I don't know if the jury knows that the government of the United States, in certain cases of security, a man is allowed to come to the country with another name." Id. at 25. Townley himself testified that Cruchaga "was aware that I was an agent for DINA." Privitera Aff. Exhibit A, p. 4. He later qualified that testimony by stating, "He [Cruchaga] knew that I worked for the government.

I don't know if he specifically inferred DINA to himself." Id. at 58.

Cruchaga's impression that Townley worked for the Chilean junta was doubtless reinforced by the fact that some of the packages transported for Townley contained "anti-communist material." Id. at 9. But Cruchaga did not think the packages contained only "peanut butter and printed matter," as LAN-Chile now asserts (LAN Br. 5), since he testified that some of the packages contained "electronic equipment" Id. at 5.*

While LAN-Chile argues that Townley sought to ingratiate himself with pilots and other personnel so as to obtain personal favors (LAN Br. 5, 16), he was doing so on behalf of DINA and he was able to obtain their cooperation at least in part because he let it be understood that he was a government agent.

* LAN-Chile quotes Congressman Burton as having concluded that Townley "did not transport explosives used in the Letelier assassination on LAN-Chile aircraft." LAN Br. 18. This is a gross misstatement of fact. With the exception of a plastic explosives component, by Townley's own admission, all of the components of the bomb used in the assassination, including dynamite, modified electronic devices and detonation devices, were transported on LAN-Chile facilities. The plastics explosives component, supplied by members of the Cuban Nationalist Movement, was later replaced by Townley and sent to the Cubans using LAN-Chile facilities after the assassination along with $1,500 in cash. See Privitera Aff. ¶¶ 6, 7, 8 & 23 and testimony there cited.

An investigative committee of the House of Representatives was not able to find evidence that higher officials of the airline knew that pilots and other personnel were being used to transport explosives and bomb components for DINA,* but that does not bind the judgment creditors and is not relevant. Whether LAN-Chile's higher management -- who had been personally appointed by decree of General Pinochet (Certificate of Secretary General of LAN-Chile annexed hereto as Exhibit A; Velasco Aff. ¶ 10, Exhibit F, Supp. Velasco Aff. ¶ 5(e)) -- would have had the courage or the inclination to direct airline personnel not to cooperate with DINA agents is most doubtful; the Junta's own involvement in lawless activity, such as the murder of President Allende and other officials, set an example for the personnel of the entire government, and we simply do not know whether higher airline officials were drawn into the extra legal activities. Professor Velasco has impeccable credentials as an international legal scholar which far exceed the cumulative careers of the experts proferred by LAN-Chile. Professor Velasco now is domiciled in the United States, where he is free to express his opinion, and he does so contrary to the interests of a military junta which has, as the record in this case shows, pursued and murdered articulate refugees. LAN-Chile's experts live in a country which has been under an officially declared state of siege for nearly ten years and in which thousands of people have been killed or have "disappeared" because of their beliefs. The Court may take judicial notice that the governing junta has purged the country of all contrary opinion, especially opinions which might be expressed in the form of an affidavit for extra-territorial publication in a case where the junta has a financial and political interest. State, 217 N.W. 412, 194 Wis. 636 (1928) and it is not unreasonable to hold the LAN-Chile entity responsible for the consequences of its personnel's belief that they should further secret missions of the state. While LAN-Chile argues that cooperation in slipping packages through customs violates LAN-Chile's normal operating directives (LAN Br. 61, Del Campo aff. ¶ 17, Ex. D), the relevant directives which LAN-Chile has attached to the Del Campo affidavit are dated August 31, 1977 to August 10, 1977, and October 6, 1980, well after the assassination of the victims in this case, which took place on September 21, 1976.* LAN-Chile's directives to its personnel are thus an example of efforts to modify administrative practices after a scandal has occurred.

Moreover, at the time when DINA sent Townley and other operatives on their missions, article 14 of the decree law of 1969 specifically provided that agents of Chile were to fly the LAN-Chile airline or be denied reimbursement for

LAN-Chile also seeks to evade the whole question of its key role in Chile's wrongdoing, arguing that the Court should not even reach the question of that role since LAN-Chile has a long history of operation as a separate enterprise in other respects. LAN Br. 61. However, LAN-Chile has declined to give the Judgment Creditors their requested discovery on that issue and its selective revelation of facts can carry little weight on an issue "where motive and intent play leading roles, the proof is largely in the hands of the alleged conspirators, and hostile witnesses thicken the plot." Poller v. Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., 368 U.S. 464, 473 (1962). Moreover, LAN-Chile

* While LAN-Chile's affiant, del Campo, states that "government employees purchase airline tickets from commercial travel agents and may fly on whatever carrier they wish" (del Campo Aff. ¶ 90), he simply ignores the prior provision of the Law which required government employees, such as Townley and other DINA agents, to fly Lan-Chile. That provision was set aside by decree at the same time General Pinochet named six individuals to exercise the power of LAN-Chile's board of directors. See Supp. Privitera Aff. ¶ 2, and Exhibit A, Appendix B.

misses the point that a foreign state entity may be treated as a separate entity for some purposes and an alter ego for others. It is only comity toward Chile which requires our courts to attribute separate juridical existence to LAN-Chile. Hilton v. Guyot, supra, 159 U.S. at 163-64. Since Chile has chosen to involve its airline in nefarious activities of the Chilean state which cut across normal corporate organization, no breach of comity occurs if the airline is identified with its sole owner for purposes of those activities. LAN-Chile cannot deny that Chile has the right and the power to dispose of LAN-Chile as it may see fit and, in causing the airline to deviate from its corporate purpose to serve the supposed interests of the state, Chile, through DINA, has pierced any corporate veil by its own acts, leaving it to our courts merely to recognize that fact.

B. EVEN IF LAN-CHILE IS DEEMED TO BE A SEPARATE JURIDICAL PERSON, CHILE NONETHELESS IS THE EQUITABLE OWNER OF ITS ASSETS

While counsel for LAN-Chile argue that Chile has no "property interest" in the airline's assets (LAN Br. 63), it is indisputable that LAN-Chile is a wholly-owned commercial enterprise of the Chilean state under the "supervigilencia" of the President; that he has appointed its governing board by special decree; and has the right and power under Chilean organic law to enter other decrees which could terminate the airline's existence or withdraw or otherwise dispose of its assets. Supp. Velasco Aff. ¶¶ 5, 6, 9. United States law recognizes that, even though a corporation is validly created and existing, the shareholders are the equitable owners of the corporate assets. E.g., Camp v. Gress, 250 U.S. 308, 320 (1919) (sole shareholder was "equitable owner with power to require an immediate conveyance of the legal title"); Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. v. Sheehan, F. Supp. 1010, 1012 (E.D. Mo. 1943) App. Dismissed 144 F.2d 252 (8th Cir. 1944); Suffolk Plastic Surfaces, Inc. v. Manor Cabinet and Building Supply Corp., 208 N.Y.S.2d 100, 102 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1960). A sole shareholder, or all shareholders together by unanimous agreement, may bind the corporation or dispose of its assets, even in a manner which constitutes waste or violates the by-laws. See Bangor Punta Operations, Inc. v. Bangor & A.R. Co., 417 U.S. 703, 710-11 (1974); L.R. Schmaus Co. v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, 406 F.2d 1044, 1045 (7th Cir. 1969). While LAN-Chile argues that application of these cases would be "parochial" (LAN Br. 47), the evidence is clear that Chile has power over LAN-Chile's assets which is as great as or greater than that which a sole shareholder would have over the assets of an American corporation. Moreover, the evidence shows that LAN-Chile is in fact quite closely controlled by the state, e.g., the President of the Republic has personally interfered in its organization to appoint named individuals to manage it at his pleasure. Velasco Aff. ¶ 9, Exhibits E, F; Supp. Velasco Aff. ¶¶ 5(e), 11. Clearly there is no reason of policy why this Court should afford LAN-Chile a greater privilege of independence against its owner than an American corporation would have. This Court's decision as to equitable ownership of United States assets is a matter of United States law which should reflect foreign legal relationships but must also reflect the policy of our own law.

Assuming that LAN-Chile is to be deemed a separate entity, Chile nonetheless has equitable rights to withdraw the United States assets of the airline operation assets - equitable rights which our courts would sustain if Chile sought to regain the assets from local LAN-Chile management, and equitable rights which this Court may properly assign to a receiver for the benefit of creditors.

In opposition to the theory of equitable ownership, LAN-Chile cites language from Brock v. Poor, 216 N.Y. 387, 401, 111 N.E. 229 (1915), that "even complete ownership of capital stock does not operate to transfer the title to corporate property and that ownership of capital stock is by no means identical with or equivalent to ownership of corporate property." That statement, however, is correct only as far as it goes. That case held that a claim that managers of a corporation have looted and plundered the corporation must be brought derivatively, by the shareholders in the name of the corporation, not by the shareholders in their own name. Good order, of course, requires that result. Creditors of the corporate entity may have claims which are superior to the equity-owner's right to withdraw the assets of the corporation, and a recovery must therefore first be made on behalf of the corporation and then shared by participants in the corporation as their interests may appear. The quoted language was repeated in Torrey Delivery, Inc. v. Chautauqua Truck Sales & Service, Inc., 47 A.D.2d 279, 282, 366 N.Y.S.2d 506, 510 (N.Y. App. Div. 1975), where it was simply held that sale of a corporation itself did not trigger a right of first refusal with respect to corporate property on which an option had been given, although the court recognized that the shareholders were "the ultimate or equitable owners" of corporate assets. Finally, the same language was again quoted by Judge MacMahon in Boise Cascade Corp. v. Wheeler, 419 F. Supp. supra at 101-02, where he held that a sole shareholder was in effect estopped to disregard the corporate form which he had assumed, that corporate entity being an indispensable party in the contract dispute there at issue. All of these cases are consistent with the essential principle that the sole shareholder has equitable ownership of corporate assets.

The other cases upon which LAN-Chile relies (LAN Br. 72) are also distinguishable. Thus, in Kingston Dry Dock Co. v. Lake Champlain Transp. Co., 31 F.2d 265 (2d Cir. 1929), the court held that a subsidiary corporation was not liable for a debt contracted by its parent company -- but the court left the plaintiff free to sue the parent, and it is clear that if the plaintiff sued and obtained judgment against the parent it would have been free to levy in execution of that judgment upon the parent's ownership interest in the subsidiary -- either the shares of stock reflecting that ownership or, if the shares were unavailable, then upon the subsidiary's assets. See, e.g., Udel v. Udel, 82 Misc.2d 882, 370 N.Y.S.2d 426 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1975) (use of receiver to extract assets from corporation whose sole shareholder was the judgment debtor) (cited in Judgment Creditors' Main Brief at 21); Ricker v. American Zinser Corporation, 506 F. Supp. 1 (E.D. Tenn. 1978), aff'd without opinion, 633 F.2d 218 (6th Cir. 1980), is simply another case in which the plaintiff was held to have no case on the merits against a corporate subsidiary. In American Anthracite and Bituminous Coal Corporation v. American S.S. Co., Inc., 131 F. Supp. 244 (E.D. Pa. 1955), and Packer v. Caesars World, Inc., 54 A.D.2d 676, 387 N.Y.S.2d 851 (N.Y. App. Div. 1976), the courts vacated pre-judgment attachments of ships owned by the corporate subsidiaries of parties against which claims had been pleaded. Neither case suggested that such a ship could not be reached after judgment as the equitable property of the judgment debtor. Rather, both suggested that pre-judgment attachment is an extraordinary remedy which will be narrowly applied, to tie up assets which are directly owned by the defendant but not assets whose legal title is held by a subsidiary.

In the context of default or where a judgment of liability has been rendered, courts will proceed to freeze and seize assets held in the name of the judgment debtor's wholly-owned subsidiary. Thus, the Hon. Prentice H. Marshall of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois concluded in In Re Uranium Antitrust Litigation that the assets of wholly-owned subsidiaries of defaulting defendants were equitably owned by those defendants and entered injunctions against those subsidiaries, forbidding them to transfer their assets. Without purporting to pierce the corporate veil, Judge Marshall held that a subsidiary, "Rio Algom Corporation, in my judgment, and in equity, is an asset of defaulting defendant Rio Algom Limited. The mine which Rio Algom Corporation owns in Utah, in equity, is an asset of defaulting defendant Rio Algom Limited. . . ." See page 9 of the transcript of unreported decision annexed hereto as Exhibit B. As a measure of "equitable sequestration of the assets of Rio Algom Limited," the court then entered an injunction freezing the United States assets of that company's wholly-owned subsidiary pending establishment of the amount of damages. That injunction and others were then affirmed on appeal by the Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, which took note of the fact that the subsidiaries (which were allowed to participate in the appeal) "were found to be 'assets' of the defaulters and thus subject to execution on the judgment, after damages are determined." Id., 617 F.2d 1248, 1256 n.32 (7th Cir. 1980). The logical and practical result reached by Judge Marshall and the Seventh Circuit respected the fiction of separate corporate personality but recognized that there is no corporate barrier or veil which denies a judgment debtor his equitable right to control or extract the assets which he has invested in his wholly-owned corporation, an equitable right of ownership which is of course subject to post-judgment execution.

C. CHILE'S INTEREST IN THE COMMERCIAL UNITED STATES ASSETS OF LAN-CHILE IS WITHOUT IMMUNITY FROM EXECUTION BECAUSE CHILE USED THOSE ASSETS IN COMMERCIAL ACTIVITY WHICH FORMS A PART OF THE BASIS FOR THE JUDGMENT.

LAN-Chile argues that since the Court which entered judgment against Chile premised its jurisdiction on the so-called "non-commercial tort" provision of 28 U.S.C. § 1605 (a)(5), the LAN-Chile assets which Chilean agents used in perpetrating the scheme must retain their sovereign immunity because they were not, in the words of the statute, "used for the commercial activity upon which the claim is based." § 1610(a)(2). LAN Br. 26, 27. That is, LAN-Chile argues that since judgment was entered under the "noncommercial tort" provision, none of the activities on which the judgment is based can have been commercial activities. According to LAN-Chile, the "non-commercial tort" provision of 1605(a)(5) and the "commercial activity" provision of 1605(a)(2) constitute "mutually exclusive" bases for the entry of judgment, and a claim which is based partly on commercial activities and partly on non-commercial activities can be brought under neither provision.

A glance at the statute demonstrates the absurdity of that argument. Paragraph (2) of section 1605(a) authorizes claims "based upon a commercial activity. . . ." Paragraph

(5) of the same section authorizes claims "not otherwise encompassed in paragraph(2) above, in which money damages are sought against a foreign state for personal injury or death, or damages to or loss of property, occurring in the United States. . . .". A claim for money damages for personal injury or death which is based in part upon commercial activity and in part on non-commercial activity is not "encompassed" in paragraph 2, which concerns purely commercial activity, and therefore, under the plain language of the statute, it may be brought under paragraph(5). The term "encompass" is defined as "to encircle, surround, bound on all sides," "to form a circle about," "to go all round," "to surround entirely." Oxford Shorter English Dictionary. If some commercial activity is included as the basis for a claim but the claim is not wholly "encompassed" within the commercial activity provisions, it may simply be brought under the broader terms of paragraph (5).

The commercial activities which were used to effectuate the conspiracy -- the transport of explosives, electronic bomb components and secret agents by use of commercial airline facilities -- formed only a part of the activities on which the judgment was based. Since that claim was not wholly "encompassed" in the commercial activity exception, it was properly brought under paragraph (5).

UNCLASSIFIED

The only case LAN-Chile cites (LAN Br. 27) for its argument that Section 1605(a)(2) and 1605(a)(5) refer to "mutually exclusive" kinds of activity, De Sanchez v. Banco Central de Nicaragua, 515 F. Supp. 900, 914 (E.D. La. 1981), holds nothing of the sort, since it merely held that activities of a central bank in regulating foreign currency transactions were not a commercial activity. Id. at 909-910. Far from suggesting that the bases of jurisdiction enumerated under Section 1605(a) are mutually exclusive, the Court held that it had jurisdiction under two different paragraphs, (3) and (5). Id. at 912.

In support of its argument that activities which are partly commercial may not form part of the basis for a claim under Section 1605(a)(5), LAN-Chile places principal reliance on a paragraph from a student note published in 1978 in the Valparaiso (Indiana) Law Review, in which the student author discussed the "noncommercial tort" provision of the FSIA and, without citation of authority other than the text of the statute, concluded that, under "section 1605(a)(5), "[o]nly non-commercial torts may be sued upon, and [under section 1610(a)(2)] only commercial property of the foreign state is executable in aid of the tort judgment. The requirements that the property of the foreign state must be commercial and also the basis of the claim will preclude judgment enforcement. Thus no property of the foreign state will ever be subject to execution under the Act for satisfaction of a non-commercial tort judgment, unless the sovereign waives immunity." The Problem of Execution Uniformity Under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act of 1976 and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 69, 12 Val. L. Rev. 569, 578 (1978). The student's error was in accepting the term "non-commercial tort" as a shorthand definition of the kind of tort which may be sued upon pursuant to §1605(a)(5). As pointed out above, that paragraph itself refers not to "non-commercial torts" but to torts not otherwise "encompassed" in the "commercial activity" provision. Thus, in predicting that "no property of the foreign state will ever be subject to execution . . . for satisfaction of a non-commercial tort judgment," the author simply overlooked the fact that a judgment under Section 1605(a)(5) might be based, as here, on a combination of commercial and non-commercial activities.

Nor can LAN-Chile take comfort from the recent letter from representatives of the ABA Section of International Law in which they urge the State Department's Legal Adviser to Support a broadening of the execution provisions of the FSIA to permit satisfaction of any valid judgment against a foreign state by execution upon its commercial assets in general, whether or not used in the activity in which the judgment is based. See LAN Br. at 28 and letter annexed thereto. While that letter laments the fact that "there is no express provision for execution on a tort judgment under Section 1605(a)(5) except in the case of an insurance policy," we have already established that, despite the absence of an express provision geared to paragraph 5 alone, the literal terms of the statute do authorize execution in the instant case. The fact that disinterested legal scholars seek to amend the statute to assure a just result does not imply that interpretation of the statute as it presently stands will not yield a similar just result. See United States v. Gordon, 638 F.2d 886 (5th Cir.) cert. denied 452 U.S. 909 (1981). (Section of Controlled Substances Act amended to incorporate another section "does not establish that it was not incorporated before the amendment" by the original language). See also United States v. Wise, 370 U.S. 405, 411 (1961).

Moreover, the Court should recall that in interpreting the FSIA the court is not interpreting a narrow statute but rather a codification of the restrictive theory of sovereign immunity, a statute which was intended to carry that theory a step further, to authorize execution of judgments upon the commercial assets of foreign sovereigns. Texas Trading v. Republic of Nigeria, 647 F.2d 300 (2d Cir. 1981), cert. denied, 454 U.S. 1148 (1982). Thus, it is a statute which should be interpreted "not technically and restrictively, but flexibly to effectuate its remedial purposes." Blue Chip Stamps v. Manor of Drug Stores, 421 U.S. 723, 748 (1975) (Rule 10b-5), quoting Affiliated Ute Citizens v. United States, 406 U.S. 128, 151 (1972). See Gomez v. Toledo, 446 U.S. 635, 639 (1980) (42 U.S.C. § 1983). The lodestar of the restrictive theory has always been that when the state descends into the commercial arena it must subject itself to liability. See Bank of the United States v. Planters Bank of Georgia, 9 Wheat 904, 907 (1824 Marshall, C.J.). "[W]hen a government becomes a partner in any trading company, it divests itself, so far as concerns that company, of its sovereign character, and takes that of a private citizen"; Ohio v. Helvering, 292 U.S. 360, 369 (1934) ("When a state enters the marketplace seeking customers it divests itself of its quasi sovereignty pro tanto, and takes on the character of a trader."); Victory Transport Inc. v. Comisaria General de Abasteciomentos y Transportes, 336 F.2d 354, 360-62 (2d Cir. 1964), cert. denied, 381 U.S. 934 (1965). The commercial exception to sovereign immunity under the FSIA should thus be given "a broad interpretation" in light of "Congress' concern with providing 'access to the courts' to those aggrieved by the commercial acts of a foreign sovereign." In re Rio Grande Transport, Inc., 516 F. Supp. 1155, 1162-1163 (S.D.N.Y. 1981) (Pierce, J.), citing Texas Trading & Milling Corp. v. Federal Republic of Nigeria, supra, 647 F.2d at 313.

LAN-Chile argues in the alternative that Chile's use of the airline to import assassins and bomb components was not "commercial" if its purpose was assassination (LAN Br. 29) -- but the statute itself makes clear that the "commercial character of an activity shall be determined by reference to the nature of the course of conduct or particular transaction or act, rather than by reference to its purpose." 28 U.S.C. § 1603(d). The role of LAN-Chile assets in the wrongful activities was simply a transportation role -- the transport of agents, explosives and bomb components. Nor is it significant whether Chile paid LAN-Chile something extra for the aid its pilots and personnel gave Townley in transporting the packages. When Chile dispatched its agents on their missions into the United States, the applicable decree provided that those agents should fly on the state airline or pay for their own transportation. Thus Chile institutionalized the commercial use of the state airline as a part of such schemes.

UNCLASSIFIED

For its alternative claim that its transport of agents and explosives should not be deemed "commercial activity," LAN-Chile cites two cases, Arango v. Guzman Travel Advisors' Corp., 621 F.2d 1371 (5th Cir. 1980) and Perez v. The Bahamas, 482 F. Supp. 1208 (D.D.C. 1980), aff'd, 652 F.2d 186 (D.C. Cir.), cert. denied, 454 U.S. 865 (1981) (LAN Br. 29-32), but neither provides any support. Perez was a claim against the Bahamas for wrongful death caused by shots from a Bahamian police boat on the high seas. In disclaiming jurisdiction the district court stated, "[p]olice enforcement of Bahamian fishing law does not become commercial because it may have some commercial purpose or goal." 482 F. Supp. at 1210. In Arango, the Fifth Circuit held that acts of personnel of the Dominican national airline in forcing passengers who had been denied entry into the Dominican Republic to reboard the aircraft and leave the country were not commercial since "Dominicana [airline] was impressed into service to perform these functions. . . ." 621 F.2d at 1379. That is, airline personnel took on a kind of police role in forcing the passengers to re-board the aircraft.* In transporting agents and packages in this case, LAN-Chile was performing no police function. Indeed, the transport of passengers and cargo is the quintessential function of a commercial airline. The fact that LAN-Chile's commercial activities were being used by its owner for sinister political purposes is not relevant. As the Court of Appeals held in Texas Trading & Milling Corp. v. Nigeria, supra, 647 F.2d at 310, a foreign government's purchases of cement are commercial; the government's purpose for buying the cement, " -- to build roads, army barracks, whatever -- is irrelevant."*

* The Fifth Circuit also expressed the view that the expulsion was an act of state whose legality could not be placed in question in our courts. 621 F.2d at 1380.

Finally, LAN-Chile contends that while Chile may have no sovereign immunity in respect of assets of the airline operation which it used in the conspiracy, LAN-Chile should nevertheless have immunity. However, sovereign immunity is a privilege of the foreign sovereign itself, which it may waive on behalf of itself and any of its lesser

* We note one argument that LAN-Chile does not make -- the claim that the Judgment Creditors may levy only upon the particular assets -- the particular airplane, telephone, departure lounge furniture, etc. -- that were used by Chilean agents in the wrongful scheme. The legislative history makes clear that when a commercial activity forms the basis for a claim (or part of the basis for a claim) all of the assets used in that commercial activity in general are without sovereign immunity from execution for purposes of that claim. H. R. Rep. No. 94-1487 at 28.

state entities. H.R. Rep. No. 94-1487 at 28-29; Banco de Espana v. Federal Reserve Bank, 28 F. Supp. 958, 972 (S.D.N.Y. 1939) aff'd, 114 F.2d 438, 445 (2d Cir. 1940). Since the greater must include the less, the loss of immunity of the sovereign itself in respect of particular commercial assets must necessarily involve the loss of any immunity that a lesser entity of that same sovereign might have claimed in respect of those assets. Just as LAN-Chile can assert no sovereign immunity against Chile, it can assert no immunity when this Court enforces Chile's equitable right to withdraw the assets of the airline operation for the benefit of its creditors.

D. RECEIVERSHIP IS AN APPROPRIATE ENFORCEMENT REMEDY WHERE THE RECEIVER MUST EXERCISE EQUITABLE OWNERSHIP RIGHTS TO GAIN POSSESSION OF ASSETS HELD IN THE NAME OF A NOMINAL THIRD PARTY.

In opposing receivership, LAN-Chile suggests that the Judgment Creditors should have attempted "execution or some other means of enforcement" and argues that receivership is "a remedy of last resort, [which] should not be employed absent a compelling showing that no other remedy exists." LAN Br. 83. If LAN-Chile means that the Judgment Creditors should have sought and executed upon other United States assets of Chile which lack sovereign immunity then it has failed to suggest what those assets might be, and they may well be as rare as the golden fleece. If LAN-Chile means that we should have sought execution directly upon assets of the airline operation, then this too is absurd since LAN-Chile claims that it has independent title to those assets, and in the face of such an encumbrance, a sheriff's sale of the equitable interest of Chile in the airline assets would have been likely to yield little return. A receiver is highly appropriate because a receiver can exercise the equitable ownership interests of Chile to clear title and gain direct possession.* Receivership procedure is also more orderly than would be a disruptive search of Kennedy and other airports for LAN-Chile assets. LAN-Chile argues that "This Court has been provided with no reason to conclude that LAN-Chile would not comply with less drastic procedures" (LAN Br. 83-84), but receivership is the effective remedy which the law authorizes, and there is no reason for the court to fashion "less drastic" remedies since the Judgment Creditors are entitled to payment now without

---

* Receivership is clearly preferable where the judgment debtor's assets are complex and of uncertain value, so that they must first be monitored and untangled, marshalled and liquidated. 6 Weinstein-Korn-Miller, op. cit. supra, ¶ 5228.04; People v. Bergman, 55 A.D.2d 542, 389 N.Y.S. 2d 589 (1st Dep't 1976), appeal dism'd 41 N.Y. 2d 1007, 395 N.Y.S. 2d 450 (1977).

conditions, and since LAN-Chile has demonstrated that it will flout court orders, such as the 5222 restraining notices previously served.

If an appointment of a receiver were "a last resort" for enforcement of a judgment as LAN-Chile argues (LAN Br. §3), then it would be fully appropriate here as it is hard to imagine another effective remedy -- and one that will make LAN-Chile's assets throughout the United States subject to execution, up to the amount due on the judgment. See 28 U.S.C. § 754. However, LAN-Chile errs in placing reliance on Bracco v. Lackner, 462 F. Supp. 436, 456 (N.D. Calif. 1978). Although that case referred to receivership as a "last resort," it did not concern enforcement of a money judgment but rather the prejudgment remedies federal courts will use to enforce federal law, and the court there found that a preliminary injunction, rather than receivership of a nursing home, would be sufficient to avert irreparable harm.

In the instant case we are seeking to enforce a federal money judgment pursuant to Rule 69, Fed. R. Civ. P., which incorporates New York procedure for the enforcement of judgments. Receivership for such purposes in New York is not a remedy of last resort. Indeed, under the predecessor statute, the Civil Practice Act, appointment of a receiver for enforcement of a judgment was mandatory if the judgment creditor requested it. Smith v. Smith, 187 Misc. 669, 64 N.Y.S.2d 221 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1946). As part of the statutory revision of 1962 receivership was made discretionary, but it is clear beyond peradventure that the discretionary standard is met in this case, in view of the sovereign immunity of the judgment debtors' other assets and the encumbering claims of LAN-Chile to the commercial airline assets.

Under the CPLR, there is no priority among the enforcement devices which would require a prior, vain attempt at execution. No enforcement device "need be used before the other. The Creditor turns to whichever suits his need whenever the need arises." CPLR, McKinneys Commentary, C 5201:1. The appointment of a receiver under §5228(a) may be employed prior to, after, or in conjunction with other enforcement devices. 6 Weinstein-Korn-Miller, New York Civil Practice ¶5228.03, 5228.17.

In opposing the appointment of Judgment Creditor Michael Moffitt, LAN-Chile argues that while he may have a knowledge of "macroeconomic theory," he may lack experience in "running a business" and knowledge of "the workings of the airline industry." LAN Br. 87. However, Michael

DECLASSIFIED

Moffitt's task under the proposed receivership order will be to marshall and sell the United States assets of the airline. If an agreement were reached with LAN-Chile personnel about continuing operation of the airline while the judgment is being paid, then that agreement would be subject to Court approval and, in all likelihood, Michael Moffitt would have the advice and assistance of LAN-Chile personnel in continuing operations. The Judgment Creditors hope that appointment of a receiver will result simply in payment of the judgment. If it does not, then Michael Moffitt is fully qualified to perform the tasks set forth in the proposed receivership order. It is also highly appropriate that he be given a hand in the enforcement of the judgment. He survived the explosion which killed his wife and he possesses qualities of character -- courage and a persistent belief in the efficacy of our system of Justice -- which equip him well for the task ahead. Finally, appointment of a Judgment Creditor receiver will permit a saving of the fees of up to 5% usually charged by a receiver (CPLR 5228), and such appointment reflects the usual practice. See cases cited, Judgment Creditors' Main Br. at 37.

CONCLUSION

This case concerns the resolve of our Courts to enforce basic tenets of order and law against the terrorist impulses of the present government of a Sister Republic -- unbridled impulses which led to an outrage on the streets of our capital itself. Despite the traditional respect we have had for Chile, there can be no doubt of our Courts' resolve to enforce the law; nor can there be doubt that the quiet and firm enforcement of the judgment will have a deterrent effect; will be recognized as just; and will help to consign this festering incident to past history.

While our Courts give proper deference to the sovereign status of foreign governments, there can be no immunity for acts of international terrorism committed on our territory. We must also recognize that, with increasing state involvement in commercial activities, there must be a broad exception to the doctrine of sovereign immunity which will not only make foreign governments liable for their commercial activities but will make the commercial assets of foreign sovereigns answerable for those liabilities.

The FSIA, as presently conceived, makes a foreign sovereign's commercial assets in the United States subject to execution if the assets were used in an activity which gave rise to the claim, and it is entirely logical and just that when foreign sovereigns use their United States commercial activities in a damage-causing endeavor they should expect to pay the judgment from the proceeds of the assets used in the related activity. While foreign state trading enterprises may be allowed to benefit from separate juridical personality for many purposes, if the foreign state which uses that persona for trade is itself able to control the entity and use its assets in a damage-producing scheme, then our courts should recognize the reality that the foreign state has equitable ownership of those assets and should subject its interest in them to execution to satisfy a judgment for the damages so caused.

For the reasons set forth above and in our main brief, the Judgment Creditors' motion should be granted.

THE COURT: Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen.

Let me get my papers organized.

I suppose that we should just follow the agenda that we have. Before I get to the rulings on outstanding motions, though, let me make a brief inquiry -- Is Mr. Brown here?

MR. BROWN: Yes, your Honor.

THE COURT: Mr. Brown, you delivered to me the other day an order directed to Rio Algom Limited with respect to the shares of Atlas Alloys.

As I read that order, it is directed solely to Limited; is that correct?

MR. BROWN: That is correct, your Honor.

THE COURT: So that it is a default order, in essence, because Limited has not been here.

MR. BROWN: That's correct.

THE COURT: Okay. That was my impression of it.

MR. BROWN: We have that recurring issue, your Honor.

THE COURT: Pardon?

MR. BROWN: We have that recurring issue if Limited should give orders to someone to do something in violation of that order.

THE COURT: Oh, I understand that.

MR. BROWN: Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. This is the 20th. Do you want an executed copy of that order?

MR. BROWN: Yes, your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BROWN: Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: That takes care of that. All right.

The items that we have on the agenda for ruling, I had really hoped to be able to get something written for you, but the conditions that have existed around here the last 30 days have really just not permitted it.

I don't know that the out of towners are aware of it, but it is alleged, at least, that we are in a somewhat critical situation in this District respecting certain pending criminal cases, vis-a-vis the Speedy Trial Act. I shan't make any comments on the validity of that assumption, but needless to say there has been a substantial amount of frenzied activity around here the last few weeks, and I have been affected by it to an extent that I have not been able to produce anything in writing for you.

I am, however, prepared this afternoon to rule on the several matters which are still before me.

One of them, as I understand it, has been withdrawn in part.

If the prevailing parties are not satisfied with the oral remarks that I make this afternoon, with respect to the rulings, they may submit proposed findings and conclusions in general conformity with the decisions that I render.

If they are satisfied with what I say this afternoon, as to its general adequacy, then they may just prepare a draft order and submit it in conformity with the ruling.

Insofar as the various discovery items are concerned, that are on Item A of the agenda, it would seem to me that the rulings that I make can just be incorporated in the pretrial order which flows from today's session.

We will take them up in the order in which they appear on the agenda.

Item A-1 is Westinghouse's motion for relief with respect to Rio Algom Corporation, which I take it is the motion which was heard in May by Westinghouse for preliminary injunctive relief against Rio Algom Corporation.

At the outset, although I find the debate over the so-called Jenner & Block invoice an interesting one with respect to the attorney-client privilege and its ramifications, I have not found it necessary to resolve that issue. I had not considered that invoice in arriving at the findings and conclusions and result that I have arrived at with respect to the motion for relief against Rio Algom Corporation.

As I perceive the situation respecting Rio Algom

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

Corporation, it is in my judgment in all essential respects the same as the situation which obtained earlier in respect to Atlas Alloys, with the single exceptional circumstance, and that is that Rio Algom Corporation is, in addition to being an asset of defaulting defendant Rio Algom Limited, also a defendant in this action. And, as a consequence of that situation, it is important that Rio Algom Corporation not be affected in its ability to defend itself with respect to the charges which have been made against it, and which it -- in respect to which it has seen fit to appear and defend, indeed to defend very vigorously.

But the injunctive relief which the plaintiff Westinghouse seeks against Rio Algom Corporation, in my judgment, will in now way impair its ability to defend itself.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

The basic facts insofar as this motion are concerned, are these: In January of this year, after extensive briefing over an extended period of time, we reached the conclusion that a default judgment should be entered against Rio Algom Limited and other defaulting defendants. And a final judgment in respect to liability was entered in January of this year against Rio Algom Limited and other defaulting defendants.

Later in January, on January 15 and January 24, in aid of that judgment on liability, and to preserve the Court's jurisdiction and to preserve the plaintiff's ability to recover whatever judgment it may ultimately attain, we entered first a temporary restraining order and then a preliminary injunction which in essence restrained the defaulting defendants from removing assets from the jurisdiction of the Court; that is to say, from the jurisdiction of the United States of America.

It came to pass shortly thereafter that evidence was submitted to us in respect to a pattern of conduct on the part of Rio Algom Limited and its wholly-owned subsidiary Atlas Alloys which clearly demonstrated that the preliminary injunction order which had been in my judgment appropriately entered and served had been violated by Rio Algom Limited in conjunction with Atlas Alloys.

Rio Algom Corporation is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Atlas Alloys, which in turn is a wholly-owned subsidiary of defaulting defendant Rio Algom Limited. And as such, Rio Algom Corporation is, in my judgment, an asset of Rio Algom Limited. And it can't avoid the consequences of being an asset of Rio Algom Limited merely because it also enjoys some or it also enjoys separate corporate identity and also finds itself an accused conspirator on the merits of this case.

The evidence which has been adduced demonstrates that following the issuance of the injunction, there were some financial transactions engaged in by Rio Algom Corporation at the direction of officers of Rio Algom Limited who are also officers of Rio Algom Corporation.

The interlock is significant; indeed, so significant that when the president of Rio Algom Corporation testified here, he referred to those officers of Rio Algom Limited who are stationed in Canada as his financial people or his financial officers.

And he acknowledged that the financial decisions of Rio Algom Corporation, the real substance of those financial decisions, are made by persons who are officers of defaulting defendant Rio Algom Limited and are up in Canada.

Commencing in 1977, after the decision was made by Rio Algom Limited, to default in this action, a change was made with respect to the method of payment paid by American customers to Rio Algom Corporation for uranium mined by it in its mine in Utah. Rather than being paid directly to Rio Algom Corporation and deposited in American bank accounts, a change was effected by which those American customers make their payments now to a bank account in Canada.

As I say, Rio Algom Corporation, in my judgment, and in equity, is an asset of defaulting defendant Rio Algom Limited. The mine which Rio Algom Corporation owns in Utah, in equity, is an asset of defaulting defendant Rio Algom Limited, and when the value of that mine is converted by sale to cash, and the cash is then directly deposited out of the United States, in effect, Rio Algom Limited is withdrawing from the jurisdiction of the United States of America significant assets, and I believe that that type of transaction falls within the scope of the power of this Court under Rule 18(a) and under Rules 64 and 69 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure to restrain that dissipation of assets and to prevent the dissipation which, in turn, would frustrate the ability of the plaintiff Westinghouse to enforce the money judgment which it will ultimately obtain against the defaulting defendants.

Now, the argument has been made before in the Atlas Alloys situation, although it is made much more strenuously here, that Westinghouse has not effectively established what its anticipated measure of damages will be with respect to the default judgment on liability which it has obtained against the defaulting defendants. It's true that it has not. Indeed, at one of the hearing on this motion for preliminary relief, I called upon Westinghouse to advise me as to when it would be prepared to proceed to prove up its damages. I was advised by Mr. Leisure that they would be prepared in the fall.

I notice now -- and this is said really just in passing -- that one of the items that the non-defaulting defendants, presumably including Rio Algom Corporation, wish to be heard upon today is a briefing schedule to vacate that tentative setting of a damage trial against the defaulting defendants, which we have suggested for September of 1979.

The effect, then, is -- and we will come to that in due course this afternoon -- the effect is that, in one breath, the defendants are asserting Westinghouse has not established what its damages will be, and, in the next breath, they take the position that Westinghouse should not be permitted to establish what its damages have been.

UNCLASSIFIED

I believe that the showing which has previously been made and which has again been made with respect to this particular motion addressed against Rio Algom Corporation is quite adequate to demonstrate a strong probability that the Westinghouse recovery will reach well into the hundreds of millions of dollars in this case at least insofar as the defaulting defendants are concerned.

The dollar amounts that are involved here, when placed against the anticipated recovery by Westinghouse against the defaulting defendants, almost border upon de minimis.

But the fact that the recovery by Westinghouse may move into the hundreds of millions of dollars, might even approach billions of dollars, is no reason to permit a defaulting defendant such as Rio Algom Limited, through its wholly-owned subsidiaries, Atlas Alloys and Rio Algom Corporation, to withdraw significant assets from this country, valued in the millions of dollars.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

I think it clear that Westinghouse in seeking this preliminary injunctive relief has met the first standard imposed by the Court of Appeals for this Circuit with respect to preliminary injunctive relief; that is to say, it has demonstrated a strong likelihood of success on the merits with respect to the equitable sequestration of the assets of Rio Algom Limited.

The day is soon forthcoming when a money judgment will be entered against Rio Algom Limited and Westinghouse will be entitled to enforce that judgment.

The second standard in this Circuit is a--second and third, are a balancing of harm, harm to the plaintiff if relief is not granted; harm to the defendant if the relief is granted.

Insofar as the plaintiff is concerned, I think the harm is clear. Assets will be removed from the country and they will not be available for recovery at a later time.

Indeed, while Canada, which is the home of Rio Algom Limited, has not yet taken the step to which I am about to refer, it is my understanding from the materials which have been submitted to me that the Commonwealth of Australia has adopted legislation prohibiting any person or any official in Australia from enforcing in any way or assisting in the enforcement in any way of the default judgment which has been entered.

UNCLASSIFIED

In short, there has developed here, it is regrettable, but there has developed here not only a pattern of resistance on the part of the defaulting foreign corporations, not only a pattern as I have previously characterized it of obduracy on their part and a total resistance to any acknowledgment of the exercise of this Court's jurisdiction; but the same pattern has now begun to emerge with respect to the countries of incorporation of certain of the defendants.

In these circumstances, Westinghouse being an incipient judgment creditor in a substantial amount, being a domestic corporation of the United States of America, is entitled, in my judgment, to the equitable assistance of a United States District Court in aid of the judgment which it will soon obtain. And that if that relief is not accorded to it, it clearly will suffer irreparable harm.

Turning to the harm with respect to Rio Algom Corporation, and it is here, I believe, that its dual capacity emerges; as I have said, it is here in two ways. It is here as an asset of defaulting defendant Rio Algom Limited; it is also here as a defendant on the merits of the anti-trust conspiracy with which it has been charged. It is imperative that it not be hampered in its defense of those charges; but the relief which Westinghouse seeks against it will not, in my judgment, in any way impair Rio Algom Corporation from defending itself; indeed, it will not inflict any harm upon Rio Algom Corporation other than to prevent it at the instance and direction of the officers of Rio Algom Limited from removing assets from the United States.

The funds which it generates from the sale of its uranium will be available to it for its regular business. The funds will be available to it for the defense of this action. A certain amount of supervision will be exercised over it with respect to the disbursement of its funds, but in no way are the funds being taken from it.

Turning to the fourth and final consideration in this Circuit, namely, the question of public interest, this is a sort of an ephemeral standard. In one instance, the Court of Appeals for this Circuit has directed us that we should not issue preliminary injunctions unless it is in the public interest to do so. In other instances, the test has been stated in terms that the injunction should not be issued if it is contrary to the public interest.

It seems to me that regardless of where we put the negative in the standard, the standard is not as far as this situation is concerned.

We have here a case that directly involves the economic health of this nation with respect to its energy supply. It is a case clearly affected with the public interested, from both sides, not just from Westinghouse's side, but from both sides. It goes to the question of the existence or non-existence of a free market with respect to the production and sale of uranium.

And in making these remarks, I have in no way lost sight of the counterclaims which have been made by the non-defaulting defendants against Westinghouse in which they accuse Westinghouse of antigrowth, anticompetitive behavior. But clearly, this is a lawsuit in which there is a distinct public interest. And it is a lawsuit which is committed to the jurisdiction of this Court, indeed, the exclusive jurisdiction of this Court.

In those circumstances, as I have said on an earlier occasion, it cannot be contrary to the public interest; indeed, it must be in the public interest for a United States District Court to do that which is within its power to do, to see to it that subject matters which are committed to it over which it has jurisdiction are adjudicated in an orderly way.

I realize that the defaulting defendants disagree with my exercise of jurisdiction. I know that. If they didn't disagree with it, I assume they would be here. But after very thoughtful consideration and after what I have previously characterized as a vicarious representation far exceeding that which I have ever seen accorded to a defaulting defendant, we came to the conclusion that we have jurisdiction over these people; that we had jurisdiction of the subject matter; and that the plaintiff in light of the defaulting defendants' failure to appear are entitled to the relief that they seek.

In having reached those conclusions, it is incumbent, I believe, in the public interest for any District Judge to take those steps which are available to him or her fairly to enforce the judgment of the Court. And this is particularly true when the harm which will be done to Rio Algom Corporation in this situation is, in my judgment, minimal.

One final specific comment, and that is the reliance of Rio Algom Corporation upon the De Beers case, 325 United States 212. The situation there was markedly different than the situation here. There, the plaintiffs sought pretrial, prejudgment relief, somewhat akin to the relief sought here, against an active defendant who did not occupy the dual position that Rio Algom Corporation occupies here. The injunction which is being entered against Rio Algom Corporation today is not being entered against it as a defendant in the conspiracy charge which has been made against it in which it is here defending. It is being entered against it in its capacity as a wholly-owned subsidiary of, a wholly-owned subsidiary of a defaulting defendant.

will be granted, in accord with the prayers that appear at Pages 6 and 7 of the order to show cause, subparagraphs c through h inclusive, with the exception that subparagraph g, in light of some of the experiences that we have had in this case, I believe subparagraph g should be modified to raise the dollar amount from 10,000 to $20,000 per transaction.

But the presumption, and I am going to strike out "irrebuttable", I don't know that it is an unrebuttable presumption by any means, but the presumption that multiple transfers to the same transferee on the same day in aggregate amounts exceeding $20,000 are outside the ordinary course of business, that language may stand. So that Rio Algom Corporation will be enjoined from effecting transfers of its United States assets to Canada.

Rio Algom Corporation will be required to receive or deposit the revenues of its Utah mining operations and other business in United States banks. It will be forbidden from making deposits in bank accounts outside the United States. It will be forbidden from making transfers in any amount directly or indirectly to defaulting defendant Rio Algom Limited or its affiliated companies without 20 days' prior notice to the Court and to the plaintiff.

It will be forbidden from making transfers to any other person in amounts exceeding $20,000 or outside the ordinary course of business without 20 days' prior notice to the Court and plaintiff, there being a presumption that multiple transfers to the same transferee on the same day in an aggregate amount exceeding $20,000 are outside the ordinary course of business.

And the officers and employees of Rio Tinto's Inc. Corporation Limited and Rio Algom Limited are forbidden from making withdrawals from or serving as signatories with respect to the bank accounts of Rio Algom Corporation.

EO 12356: DECL: OADR

SUBJECT: PROPOSED NATIONAL STRIKE CONVERTED INTO PROPOSED DAY OF NATIONAL PROTEST

REFS: A) SANTIAGO 2436; B) SANTIAGO 2505

1.(C-ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: THE NATIONAL WORK STOPPAGE CALLED FOR MAY 11 BY THE COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC) HAS BEEN DEFERRED. INSTEAD, MAY 11 WILL BE PROMOTED AS A DAY OF NATIONAL PROTEST, WITH OPPOSITION LABOR FORCES AND OTHERS ENGAGING IN SUCH ACTIVITIES AS WORK SLOWDOWNS, FASTING, KEEPING CHILDREN HOME FROM SCHOOL, REFUSING TO USE COMPANY TRANPORTATION AND POUNDING POTS AND PANS AT AN AGREED HOUR. THE CHANGE IN PLANS WAS PROMPTED BY THE LEADERS OF THE UNION OF DEMOCRATIC WORKERS (UDT), WHO SAW ENTHUSIASM FOR THE STRIKE WANING, EVEN IN THE COPPER CONFIDENTIAL

SECTOR. FEAR OF STRONG GOC REPRISALS WAS ALSO A FACTOR, SINCE GOC LEADERS BELIEVE AND HAVE WARNED THAT THE PROPOSED STRIKE WAS PART OF AN ORCHESTRATED INTERNATIONAL CAMPAIGN CULMINATING ON SEPTEMBER 11 (THE TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF ALLENDE'S DOWNFALL) WITH A MAJOR CONFRONTATION BETWEEN THE GOC AND THE OPPOSITION FORCES.

WHILE DENYING ANY KIND OF CONSPIRACY, OPPOSITION LABOR LEADERS MAY NOW BE CONSIDERING FURTHER ACTION ON JUNE 11, DEPENDING ON THE RESULTS OF MAY 11. FOR THE TIME BEING THE POSSIBILITIES FOR A CONFRONTATION APPEAR LESS THAN WHAT WOULD HAVE BEEN THE CASE WITH A NATIONAL STRIKE BUT TENSIONS ARE NONETHELESS GROWING. END SUMMARY.

3. THE CHILEAN COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC) HAS DECIDED TO CONVERT THE PROPOSED NATIONAL STRIKE FOR MAY 11, 1983 (REF A) INTO A DAY OF NATIONAL PROTEST ALONG THE LINES OF THAT PROPOSED ON MAY 1, BY UNION OF DEMOCRATIC WORKERS (UDT) PRESIDENT EDUARDO RIOS (REF B). THE STRIKE WILL BE POSTPONED RATHER THAN CANCELLED. INSTEAD, THE CTC AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS WISHING TO PROTEST THE GOVERNMENTS POLITICAL, ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL POLICIES WILL ENCOURAGE THEIR MEMBERS TO ENGAGE IN SUCH ACTS AS WORK SLOWDOWNS, FASTING, REFUSAL TO USE COMPANY TRANSPORTATION, KEEPING CHILDREN HOME FROM SCHOOL FOR THE DAY AND AT 8 PM BANGING PANS (A SYMBOLIC GESTURE WIDELY USED PRIOR TO THE OVERTHROW OF ALLENDE). THE GOAL WILL BE TO DEMONSTRATE WIDESPREAD DISCONTENT IN A VISIBLE WAY WITHOUT CONFRONTING THE GOC DIRECTLY AND THUS LESSENING THE RISK OF REPRISAL.

4. THE CTC DECISION WHICH WILL BE FORMALLY ANNOUNCED MAY 9 IS IN PART A FACESAVING MEASURE. FOLLOWING EARLY ENTHUSIASM WITHIN MUCH OF THE COPPER SECTOR FOR THE STRIKE, WORKER SUPPORT BEGAN ERODING AS THE REALIZATION SET IN THAT THE CONFIDENTIAL

STRIKERS COULD END UP BEING FIRED FOR ENGAGING IN AN ILLEGAL STRIKE (DURING A PERIOD OF SEVERE ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES, THE COPPERWORKERS REMAIN A RATHER PRIVILEGED GROUP WITH JOB STABILITY AND GENERALLY BETTER WAGES AND BENEFITS THAN OTHER LABOR SECTORS. WITH HIGH UNEMPLOYMENT THERE IS A LARGE MANPOWER SOURCE TO REPLACE MALCONTENTS).

5. THE UDT AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS WHILE JOINING THE SPIRIT OF THE CALL FOR A NATIONAL STRIKE, HAD BEEN IRRITATED THAT THEY HAD NOT BEEN CONSULTED BEFOREHAND. RIOS AND OTHERS REASONED THAT WHILE A NATIONAL STRIKE MIGHT AT SOME TIME BE APPROPRIATE IT WOULD HAVE TO BE CAREFULLLY PLANNED AND THE CONSEQUENCES AND GOALS CONSIDERED BEFORE UNDERTAKING SUCH AN EXTREME MEASURE.

6. CTC PRESIDENT SEGUEL AND SECRETARY GENERAL CARAVAJAL OBVIOUSLY FEELING UNDER PRESSURE, CALLED ON THE EMBASSY TWICE DURING THE WEEK (MAY 2 AND 4). SEGUEL, PARTICULARLY CAME ACROSS AS A DEDICATED SINCERE INEXPERIENCED YOUNG LEADER WHO REALIZED HE HAD GOTTEN INTO A DIFFICULT SITUATION. HE TOLD US THE GOAL OF THE CTC WAS TO GET A DIALOGUE GOING WITH THE GOC. AS ONE OF THE LARGEST LEGAL LABOR ORGANIZATIONS, THE CTC HAD A MORAL RESPONSIBILITY TO SPEAK OUT ON BEHALF OF ALL CHILEAN WORKERS. WE OBSERVED THE CALL FOR A NATIONAL STRIKE WOULD BE A CHALLENGE TO GOC AUTHORITY. PUBLIC AND PRIVATE STATEMENTS INDICATED THE GOC WOULD BE VERY TOUGH, ALTHOUGH WE DID NOT KNOW WHAT MEASURES WOULD BE TAKEN. SEGUEL RESPONDED THAT ALL OTHER EFFORTS TO MEET WITH GOC REPS HAD FAILED. REPEATED CALLS AND LETTERS TO THE LABOR MINISTER AHD GONE UNANSWERED. THE CODELCO (NATIONAL COPPER COMPANY) MANAGEMENT WOULD NOT MEET WITH THE CTC. ON MAY 2, SEGUEL SENT A LETTER TO PRESIDENT PINOCHET AGAIN URGING A MEETING. SEGUEL FOLLOWED UP WITH STATEMENTS TO THE PRESS THAT THE CTC WANTED A DIALOGUE. HE DID NOT EXPECT PINOCHET TO RESPOND.

7. RIOS TOLD LABATT MAY 5 THAT THE UDT AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS WOULD SEND LETTERS MAY 6 TO THE CTC OFFICIALLY REQUESTING DEFERRAL OF THE STRIKE IN ORDER TO PERMIT THE ORGANIZATIONS TO CONSULT MORE FULLY WITH THEIR AFFILIATES. HE SAID A PROTEST

COMMITTEE WOULD BE FORMED TO COORDINATE PROTEST ACTIVITIES. HE HAD HEARD FROM SOURCES WITHIN THE GOC THAT MINISTER OF INTERIOR MONTERO BELIEVED THE PROPOSED NATIONAL STRIKE WAS PART OF AN INTERNATIONAL CONSPIRACY AGAINST THE GOC. THE SO-CALLED CONSPIRACY WAS BASED ON THE FACT THAT THE ICFTU DAY OF SOLIDARITY WITH CHILE CONFERENCE HELD IN MADRID BEGAN ON MARCH 11. NOW THE STRIKE FOR MAY 11. MONTERO APPARENTLY BELIEVES THERE WILL BE A SERIES OF ACTIONS LEADING UP TO A MAJOR CONFRONTATION BETWEEN THE OPPOSITION AND THE GOC ON SEPTEMBER 11, 1983, THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE 1980 PLEBISCITE, AND THE FALL OF ALLENDE IN 1973.

8. ACCORDING TO RIOS, MONTERO'S CONCERN WAS HEIGHTENED BY THE DECLARATION OF SUPPORT FOR THE STRIKE ISSUED BY PRODEN (NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT PROJECT), AN OPPOSITION SOCIAL ACTION CONFIDENTIAL

GROUP CUTTING ACROSS VARIOUS POLITICAL, PROFESSIONAL, AND WORKER TENDENCIES (INCLUDING THE UDT). (EMBASSY COMMENT: PRODEN HAS BECOME INCREASINGLY ACTIVE IN TRADE UNION MATTERS - VERY VISIBLE AT RECENT UDT AND AFFILIATE ACTIVITIES. IN ONE OF THE TWO CALLS ON THE EMBASSY BY CTC LEADERS, PRODEN ACTIVIST CARLOS DUPRE WAS PRESENT. PRODEN APPEARS EAER TO CONVERT LABOR ACTIVITIES INTO MEASURES TO ENHANCE PRODEN'S STATUS. MONTERO IS NOT THE ONLY ONE TO BE CONCERNED ABOUT PRODEN. THE LEADERS OF THE TRADITIONAL PARTIES, PARTICULARLY THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY (PDC), HAVE NOT FIGURED OUT HOW TO DEAL WITH THE ORGANIZATION. END COMMENT).

9. RIOS SAID THAT THERE WAS NO CONSPIRACY HE KNEW OF. THE MAY 11 DATE WAS SELECTED ARBITRARILY, THAT ORIGINALLY THE CTC THOUGHT OF MAY 9. HOWEVER, NOW THAT THE IDEA HAD BEEN RAISED, RIOS THOUGHT IT MIGHT BE WORTH CONSIDERING ANOTHER PROTEST ACTION FOR JUNE 11. HE WOULD EXPLORE THIS WITH HIS COLLEAGUES.

10. EMBASSY COMMENT: THE VARIETY OF PROTEST MEASURES NOW PROPOSED FOR MAY 11, SHOULD BE LESS CONFRONTATIONAL THAN A NATIONAL STRIKE WOULD HAVE BEEN. BUT WE EXPECT THAT GOC LEADERS WILL CONTINUE TO REGARD SUCH ACTIVITIES, REGARDLESS OF ORIGIN OR INTENTION, AS EXTREMELY SERIOUS. THE ENTHUASTIC SUPPORT OF RADIO MOSCOW AND OF COMMUNIST LABOR GROUPS WILL LEND CREDENCE TO THE SUSPICION THAT PINOCHET'S OPPONENTS ARE PREPARING FOR A MAJOR TEST OF STRENGTH. UNDER SUCH CIRCUMSTANCES, INTERNAL SECURITY CONSIDERATIONS WILL PREVIAL OVER THE RISK OF ADVERSE FOREIGN REACTION, AND THERE IS LITTLE DOUBT THAT THE GOC WILL BE PREPARED TO TAKE ACTIONS AGAINST THE LEADERS OR PARTICIPANTS IN PROTEST ACTIONS INVOLVING UNAUTHORIZED ASSEMBLAGES, MARCHES OR VIOLENCE. ACCORDING TO THE SURVIVORS, THEY WERE SHOT BY UNIFORMED SOLDIERS. BOTH INCIDENTS WER OBVIOUSLY DIRECTED AGAINST THE AMNESTY. IT REMAINS TO BE SEEN IF VIOLENCE AGAINST AMNESTY RECIPIENTS CAN BE CONTROLLED. END SUMMARY.

3. THIS REPORT IS BASED ON SEVERAL SOURCES INCLUDING SALVADORAN HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS, THE NATIONAL POLICE, PRESS REPORTS, AND SALVADORAN AND AMERICAN JOURNALISTS. AS IS THE CASE WITH ALL "DEATH SQUAD" KILLINGS, IT IS NOT POSSIBLE TO PRESENT A DEFINITIVE VERSION OF "THE TRUTH."

4. ON MAY 6 AT ABOUT 9:15 P.M. AN AMERICAN TELEVISION NETWORK RECEIVED AN ANONYMOUS CALL REPORTING THAT A BODY COULD BE FOUND IN THE PARKING LOT OF THE CAMINO REAL HOTEL, HEADQUARTERS OF THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS CORPS IN EL SALVADOR. THE BODY OF A YOUNG SALVADORAN MALE, WITH A BLOW TO THE HEAD AND WITH SIGNS OF STRANGULATION, WAS FOUND IN A POOL OF BLOOD BESIDE A PARKED CAR WITH ITS HEADLIGHTS TURNED ON. THE YOUTH WAS DRESSED IN ILL-FITTING BUT CLEAN AND PRESSED MILITARY FATIGUES WITH "FMLN" SEWN ON ONE POCKET.

5. TACKED TO THE BODY WAS A NOTE FROM THE "SPECIAL EL AMATILLO COMMANDOS OF THE SECRET ANTI-COMMUNIST ARMY (ESA)." (NOTE: EL AMATILLO IS THE SALVADORAN-HONDURAN BORDER CROSSING ATTACKED BY GUERRILLAS ON APRIL 29.) THE NOTE STATED THE FOLLOWING:

WHETHER THEY WERE KILLED AT THE TWO GARBAGE DUMPS WHERE THEY WERE FOUND THE NEXT MORNING, OR IF THEY WERE EXECUTED ELSEWHERE. THE TENTH BODY WAS FOUND ON A MEJICANOS STREET CORNER. SOLDIERS HAD ALLEGEDLY CAPTURED HIM THE NIGHT BEFORE AS WELL.

3. COMMENT. WHETHER OR NOT THESE TWO CASES ARE RELATED, THEY ARE VARIATIONS OF "DEATH SQUAD" POLITICAL VIOLENCE. OVER FORTY BODIES HAVE TURNED UP AT THE TWO GARBAGE DUMPS NEAR NARIONA SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE YEAR, VIRTUALLY ALL OF THEM ANONYMOUS KILLINGS LIKE THOSE OF MAY 7. THE ESA KILLING IN THE CAMINO REAL PARKING LOT IS AN OMINOUS RECURRENCE OF THE PUBLIC DEATH SQUAD ATROCITIES WHICH INTENTIONALLY SOWED TERROR AMONG THE URBAN AND RURAL POPULATION, UNTIL THE TACTIC VIRTUALLY DISAPPEARED IN 1981. THE ESA, ALONG WITH THE MAXIMILIANO HERNANDEZ [redacted]

-- THE ESA IS NOT MADE UP OF MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES, AND THEREFORE IS NOT WILLING TO FOLLOW ORDERS WHICH TIE THEIR HANDS IN THE FIGHT AGAINST THE GUERRILLAS. WE WILL STOP OUR ACTIVITIES ONLY IF THE LEFTIST GUERRILLAS LAY DOWN THEIR WEAPONS.

4. ON MAY 8, EIGHT BODIES AND TWO SURVIVORS APPARENTLY LEFT FOR DEAD, WERE FOUND IN THREE LOCATIONS AROUND THE POOR MEJICANOS DISTRICT OF SAN SALVADOR AND NARIONA PENITENTIARY ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF TOWN NEARBY. ALL HAD GUNSHOT WOUNDS, AND AT LEAST THREE HAD BEEN SEVERELY MUTILATED. SIX OF THE TEN YOUNG MALES HAVE BEEN IDENTIFIED. TWO OF THE DEAD WERE RECENTLY RELEASED POLITICAL PRISONERS. ACCORDING O THE SURVIVORS (WHO ARE IN HIDING AND WHOSE IDENTITIES ARE UNKNOWN TO US), UNIFORMED SOLDIERS PICKED UP NINE OF THEM ON THEIR WAY HOME FROM A FUNERAL IN MEJICANOS THE NIGHT OF MAY 7. AFTER ACCUSING THEM OF BEING SUBVERSIVES, THE SOLDIERS SUMMARILY SHOT THEM. IT IS NOT CLEAR

CREDIT FOR HUNDREDS OF SIMILAR ASSASSINATIONS. THE LAST TIME SUCH A DEATH SQUAD MADE ITSELF NATIONALLY KNOWN WAS IN MARCH 1982 WHEN THE HERNANDEZ MARTINEZ BRIGADE DISCLAIMED RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ASSASSINATION OF PCN IDEOLOGUE "NEGRO" RODRIGUEZ. WHOEVER WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE SOPHISTICATED PARKING LOT KILLING, THE PERPETRATORS KNEW WHAT THEY WERE DOING. LEAVING THE BODY AT THE CAMINO REAL GUARANTEED THE INSTANT ATTENTION OF THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS CORPS. THE NOTE THREATENING THE PDC DEPUTY REVEALED A CLOSE KNOWLEDGE OF NATIONAL POLITICS, AND SPECIFICALLY OF MAZIER'S SPEECH AT THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY ON MAY 4, WHERE HE WARNED OF DEATH SQUAD VIOLENCE AGAINST AMNESTY RECIPIENTS. BOTH OF THESE INCIDENTS WERE DIRECTED AGAINST THE AMNESTY. WE HAVE HEARD FROM TWO SOURCES THAT AT LEAST SOME OF THE RECENTLY RELEASED POLITICAL PRISONERS ARE IN HIDING AND FEAR FOR THEIR LIVES. NATIONAL POLICE DIRECTOR COL. LOPEZ NUILA, WHEN QUESTIONED ABOUT INVESTIGATION INTO THE PARKING LOT KILLING SAID, "WE WOULD LIKE TO CAPTURE THE GROUP RESPONSIBLE." DETECTIVES ASSIGNED TO THE CASE WERE NOT PARTICULARLY ENTHUSIASTIC. AS NOTED PARAGRAPH 9 REFTEL, IT REMAINS TO BE SEEN IF VIOLENCE AGAINST AMNESTY RECIPIENTS -- AS AGAINST OTHERS -- CAN BE CONTROLLED. THE KILLINGS NEAR MEJICANOS DEMONSTRATE THAT SUMMARY ASSASSINATIONS BY ANONYMOUS DEATH SQUADS CONTINUE. THE PARKING LOT KILLING INDICATES THAT SELF-ATTRIBUTED DEATH SQUAD TERRORISM, AND THOSE WHO CONDUCT IT, ARE STILL WITH US. THE IRONY OF THIS VIOLENCE IS THAT THE ULTIMATE BENEFICIARY WILL BE THE LEFT. HINTON

FIAT OPENED FIRE WITH HANDGUNS. POLICE RETURNED THE FIRE AND THE TWO FUGITIVES WERE KILLED, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID.

2. (U) VICENTE SAADI, A LEADER OF THE PERONIST LEFT, FIRST RAISED THE ALARM ABOUT THE ALLEGED MAY 14 KIDNAPPING OF OSVALDO CAMBIASSO, DESCRIBED AS A LEFTWING PERONIST MILITANT. THE PERMANENT ASSEMBLY FOR HUMAN RIGHTS SAID CAMBIASSO WAS WITH JUSTO JAVIER CORREA, LATER IDENTIFIED AS EDUARDO PEREYRA ROSSI, WHEN HEAVILY ARMED CIVILIANS WERE SEEN TO TAKE THEM FROM THE MAGNUM BAR IN ROSARIO THE MORNING OF THE 14TH. SAADI, TOGETHER WITH HUMAN RIGHTS SPOKESMEN AND POLITICIANS FROM OTHER PARTIES, TOLD A PRESS CONFERENCE FOLLOWING RELEASE OF THE POLICE COMMUNIQUE YESTERDVAY THAT THE DEATHS OF CAMBIASSO AND PEREYRA ROSSI WERE "A CLEAR CASE OF MURDER BY THE PARAPOLICE OR PARAMILITARY GROUPS". THEY SAID THEY HAD BEFB TOLD TWO A (#)OFFICERS, PATI ANDG (#) ALCANTAAU, WERE IN CHARGE OF THE OPERATION.
THEY PINNNED RESPONSIBILITY FOV THE KILLINGS ON THE 2ND ARMY VGORPS, HEADQUARTERED IN ROSARION AND SAID THE ENTIRE MILITARY GOVERNMENT IS AN ACCOMPLICE.

3. (U) PRESIDENT REYNALDO BIGNONE, QUESTIONED ABOUT THE AFFAIR BY THE PRESS YESTERDAY ON HIS RETURN TO BUENOS AIRES FOLLOWING A PROVINCIAL TOUR, SAID HE ACCEPTED THE POLICE VERSION OF THE SHOOTING. "THERE WAS NO KIDNAPPING BY SECURITY ORGANS," HE SAID, " THE GOVERNMENT IS EXPLAINING ITS ACTIONS AND IS NOT TRYING TO HIDE THEM, AS EXPLAINED IN THE POLICE COMMUNIQUE."

THAT STATEMENT GAVE BOTH A BRIEF OFFICIAL ACCOUNT OF THE EPISODE IN WHICH CAMBIASSO AND PEREYRA DIED AND DETAILS ON THEIR POLICE RECORDS. AFTER THE SHOOTING, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID,FINGERPRINTS OF THE VICTIMS ESTABLISHED THEIR IDENTITIES. CAMBIASSO IS A 42-YEAR-OLD CHEMICAL ENGINEER WHO WAS SENTENCED TO 11 YEARS IMPRISONMENT IN 1971 ON SEVERAL COUNTS OF HAVING USED ARMS IN CRIMINAL ACTS. CORREA, IT SAID, WAS ACTUALLY PEREYRA ROSSI, WHO WAS CHARGED 10 YEARS AGO WITH ILLEGAL ARMS POSSESSION AND FORGERY OF DOCUMENTS. PEREYRA ROSSI, ACCORDING TO THE POLICE, WAS SUBSEQUENTLY HEAD OF THE MONTONEROS' "SOUTHERN COLUMN"

PARAMILITARY ORGANIZATION IN 1976, THEIR GENPERAL PRESS SECRETARY IN 1977-79, HEAD OF "SOUTHERN ZONE" OPERATIONS FOR THE MONTONEROS IN 1980, AND PROPAGANDA CHIEF FOR THE ORGANIZATION IN MEXICO THE FOLLOWING YEAR. IN ADDITION TO HAVING RETURNED TO ARGENTINA PRIOR TO HIS DEATH, THE POLICE SAID PEREYRA ROSSI HAD BEEN HERE IN 1979 TO PARTICIPATE IN THE MONTONEROS "COUNTER-OFFENSIVE CAMPAIGN" OF THAT YEAR. THE COMMUNIQUE SAID CAMBIASSO AND PEREYRA ROSSI HAD USED A 9-MM AND A 38 CAL. PISTOL IN THEIR FIGHT WITH THE POLICE. A FEDERAL JUDGE IS NOW INVESTIGATING, IT SAID.

4. [redacted] THE AFFAIR HAS THE POTENTIAL FOR FURTHER DIPLOMATIC DIFFICULTIES WITH ITALY, WHOSE GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN HIGHLY CRITICAL OF THE GOA'S APRIL 28 "FINAL REPORT" ON THE CONDUCT OF THE WAR AGAINST SUBVERSION. CAMBIASSO APPARENTLY WAS A NATURALIZED ARGENTINE OF ITALIAN ORIGIN AND WHEN HIS KIDNAPPING WAS ALLEGED, THE ITALIAN CONSUL IN ROSARIO MADE REPRESENTATUNENS. THE MAY 17 PRESS REPORTED THE CONSUL, ANTONIO D'ANDRIA, MET AGAIN WITH OFFICIALS OF THE 2ND ARMY CORPS TO SEEK ADDI-TIONAL INFORMATION ON WHAT HAPPENED.

MEMORANDUM

FOR: Interagency Working Group on Judicial Reform

FROM: AID, GC/LAC: Robert Meighan

SUBJ: Resources Relating to Judicial Reform in Central America

The attached list of resources--human and institutional--potentially to be employed in our efforts to improve judicial systems in Central America, has been augmented somewhat since the IG meeting on May 16. The list includes some experts in Latin American criminal justice systems, even though AID cannot support assistance in areas related to law enforcement..

The experts we have contacted to broaden our list of potential resources have uniformly cautioned against our pursuing any proposed programs, including assessment teams, with visible USG involvement, especially in El Salvador. There seems to be consensus that something useful can be done if developed with care and sensitivity; that the regional approach (as opposed to focusing on El Salvador) is likely to be the only way to achieve desired objectives; and that wherever possible, we should work through private or international institutions in preference to direct assistance exclusively to governments.

Several people suggested that the best way to embark on a program in a particular area such as reform of codes, improvements in legal education, etc., would be to organize regional conferences on these topics, sponsored by either an international organization or university(s) or other private institutions from one or more of the invited countries. This would avoid highlighting the problems or deficiencies of any single state, facilitate discussion among people from different countries on common problems and the sharing of the experience of those countries which may be further advanced in certain areas, and provide a neutral setting in which to begin developing concrete programs to address specific problems.

It was recommended that assessment teams not be sent under AID or State Department auspices, but that they be sub-contracted through an intermediary organization such as a U.S. university or a regional institution. (Indeed, the willingness of many of these experts to serve on a team would depend upon the stated objectives and the sponsorship: the less apparent the USG involvement, the more likely these people are to participate.) Another suggestion was that people selected for assessment teams going to El Salvador should begin their orientation to the problems by contacting and consulting with Salvadoran lawyers and judges in exile here or in other Central American countries.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

We should continue to seek to determine what relevant activities may already have been initiated in the area, and encourage (as appropriate) participation in--or at least awareness of--those activities by legal professionals from the Central American countries. For example, one of the research projects being supported under the AID grant to the Inter-American Institute of Human Rights (IIDH) is concerned with problems adversely affecting the administration of criminal justice in Latin American countries. A brief description of the project, including a provisional list of experts who will plan and carry out the research, is attached. (See also resource list--Experts: Eugenio Raul Zaffaroni.)

As agreed at the last IG meeting, we are moving ahead to encourage submission of project proposals by two Costa Rican institutions: the Colegio de Abogados, which has proposed organizing a regional seminar on legal reform topics, including the role of the bar; and the Law School of the University of Costa Rica, which may be able to provide, through its existing programs, expanded educational opportunities for legal professionals in other Central American countries.

It occurs to us that we should also be giving some thought to how we would respond if the request from the GOES is not of a nature requiring the assistance of a team of experts, but rather turns out to be a proposal for a home-grown project, such as a study of the problems of the judicial system by people from one or more Salvadoran universities (a possibility mentioned by a member of the new Human Rights Commission during their Washington visit).

We note a recent (May 11) cable from Honduras reiterating their request for assistance on developing programs of investigative training and technical support for prosecutors and courts. Any team organized to provide assistance in these areas, as well as in legal education (mentioned in an earlier communication), should visit both El Salvador and Honduras.

POTENTIAL RESOURCES FOR AID ASSISTANCE IN JUDICIAL REFORM

Experts

Santiago Oñate: Mexican citizen, law professor and expert in legal education; presently head of research in Mexico's Ministry of Justice; has done research into factors that influence the length of criminal trials; vice president of the Interamerican Legal Services Association (ILSA); recently returned to Mexico following a year and a half at the University of Wisconsin Law School teaching comparative law. He would be agreeable to serving on an assessment team.

Gerhardt Mueller: U.S. citizen; internationally respected professor of criminal law; presently teaches at Rutgers University; formerly head of the United Nations Crime Prevention Control Bureau.

Eugenio Raúl Zaffarone: an Argentine judge, currently residing in San Jose, Costa Rica where he is directing a research project on Human Rights and the Penal System of Latin America under the auspices of the Inter-American Institute of Human Rights. The study deals principally with two problems affecting the administration of criminal justice: excess repression in carrying out the law enforcement function, and the inefficiency of the system resulting in prolonged detention without trial and other injustices.

Jorge Montero: Costa Rican lawyer and director of ILANUD, which is undertaking a study similar to the Institute project described above, focused on barriers and inefficiencies which inhibit speedy trials.

Luis Bates: Chilean lawyer and law professor, with expertise in legal education and documentation; a member of the ILSA board, served as its Technical Advisor and set up a Documentation Center in Santiago. He also operated a legal assistance service in the Central Prison of Santiago. There is some question re his availability, since he has returned to private practice.

Dennis O. Lynch: (U.S.), University of Miami Law School. Prof. Lynch is thoroughly familiar with Latin American legal systems, and has worked under contract to AID on two previous occasions preparing analyses of judicial systems and attendant problems in Colombia and Nicaragua.

Sonia Picado, Dean
Enrique Castillo, Professor, University of Costa Rica Law School; both have expertise in legal education; Castillo might also be helpful on procedural issues.

Oscar Salas, Cuban-American jurist, said to be particularly skilled at helping institutions to implement programs.

Assistance in the Area of Criminal Justice:

Even though AID is precluded from providing assistance to activities relating to law enforcement, we have nonetheless identified the following people who have expertise in the area of criminal justice to be considered for inclusion in the team(s) going to El Salvador and Honduras:

Luis Salas (Cuban-American), Criminal Justice Department, Florida International University; has worked as a consultant to U.N. in Latin America, with LEAA and as a U.N. Coordinator with ILANUD.

Jose Maria Rico (Spain), University of Montreal; associated with the International Center of Criminology, established at the university. Rico is said to be, among other things, an excellent advisor on court management, as well as on training of people involved in the criminal justice system.

Orlando Contreras Pulido (Venezuela), lawyer; head of a mayors' organization in Venezuela.

SUBJECT: DRAFT REPORT OF THE RICHARD/SMITH VISIT TO EL SALVADOR

1. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. FOLLOWING IS A DRAFT REPORT FOR YOUR COMMENT OF THE RICHARD/SMITH MISSION TO EL SALVADOR. IT WAS PREPARED BY SMITH.

3. TITLE: ASSIGNMENT OF LEGATT OR OTHER JUSTICE OFFICIAL TO EMBASSY SAN SALVADOR; VISIT OF RICHARD AND SMITH, MAY 20, 1983.

4. SUMMARY. THE JUSTICE/STATE TEAM, HEADED BY DEPUTY ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL MARK RICHARD, CONDUCTED EXTENSIVE MEETINGS WITH EMBASSY AND SALVADORAN OFFICIALS ON FRIDAY, MAY 21 CONCERNING THE POSSIBILITY OF AN ASSIGNMENT OF A LEGATT OR OTHER JUSTICE OFFICIAL TO THE EMBASSY IN SAN SALVADOR. THE TEAM REPORTED THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S INITIAL INCLINATION THAT A LAWYER WITH PROSECUTORIAL EXPERIENCE SHOULD BE ASSIGNED RATHER THAN AN INVESTIGATOR. THE AMBASSADOR AND THE EMBASSY EMPHASIZED THE PRIMARY NEED FOR AN INVESTIGATOR TO PURSUE THE CASES. SUCH INDIVIDUAL WOULD HAVE RESPONSIBILITIES TO FOLLOW THE CASES IN SALVADORAN COURTS, PRESSURE THE SALVADORANS WHEN APPROPRIATE, AND ALSO HAVE A ROLE IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE JUDICIAL REFORM AID PROGRAM. BY THE END OF THE DAY IT WAS APPARENT TO THE TEAM THAT THE EMBASSY'S NEEDS COULD BEST BE MET BY TWO PEOPLE, AN INVESTIGATOR AND A LAWYER. FISCAL GENERAL RIVERA SAID THAT, ALTHOUGH HE HAD TO CHECK THE MATTER WITH THE PRESIDENT, HE ANTICIPATED NO OBJECTION FROM THE GOES ABOUT THE ASSIGNMENT OF SUCH A PERSON OR PERSONS TO THE EMBASSY. CONCERNING SPECIFIC CASES, THE TEAM FOCUSED PRINCIPALLY ON THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE AND THE DIFFICULTY OF INTRODUCING SUCH FBI EVIDENCE AS THE BALISTICS TEST. SEVERAL POSSIBILITIES WERE EXPLORED WITH THE FISCAL GENERAL AND WITH EMBASSY LEGAL ADVISER MENDEZ, WHO DO NOT AGREE ON THE BEST APPROACH. THE EMBASSY WILL CONVENE A MEETING OF RIVERA AND MENDEZ TO REACH AGREEMENT. THE TEAM ALSO DISCUSSED THE POSSIBILITY OF HAVING THE LAWYER ASSIGNED TO THE EMBASSY, AND PERHAPS OTHER LAWYERS FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, SERVE ON A TEAM WITH A SALVADORAN LAWYER APPOINTED AS ACCUSADOR PARTICULAR ON BEHALF OF THE FAMILIES OF THE MURDERED AMERICANS. IT WAS AGREED THAT THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE WILL CONTINUE TO EXPLORE THE PERSONNEL QUESTIONS; DEPARTMENT OF STATE WILL CONSULT WITH THE FBI IMMEDIATELY TO DETERMINE WHETHER A LIST OF FBI EVIDENCE COULD BE TURNED OVER THE SALVADORANS AND THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE WILL FINISH THE NOTE WHICH SUGGESTS NEXT STEPS IN THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE TO THE GOES. END SUMMARY.

5. ON MAY 21, 1983 A JUSTICE/STATE TEAM LEAD BY DEPUTY ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL MARK RICHARD MET WITH AMBASSADOR HINTON, OFFICIALS OF THE US EMBASSY, SALVADORAN FISCAL GENERAL RIVERA, EMBASSY LEGAL ADVISER MENDEZ, AND OTHERS TO DISCUSS THE ASSIGNMENT OF A LEGATT AND/OR PROSECUTOR TO THE EMBASSY TO ASSIST IN THE CASES OF THE MURDERED MISSING AMERICANS AND THE AID PROGRAM FOR JUDICIAL REFORM. IN ADDITION TO MR. RICHARD, DEPARTMENT OF STATE ASSISTANT LEGAL ADVISER JEFFREY SMITH, DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, CRIMINAL DIVISION ATTORNEY JORGE RIOS-TORRES; PANAMA LEGATT JOHN GRANT, MEXICO CITY ASSISTANT LEGATT JOHN WALSER, AND DEA AGENT RICHARD CANAS COMPRISED THE STATE/JUSTICE TEAM. FOLLOWING IS A SUMMARY OF THEIR DISCUSSIONS.

6. DISCUSSION WITH POLITICAL SECTION.. THE TEAM BEGAN ITS DAY WITH A MEETING WITH THE POLITICAL SECTION. MR. SMITH SUMMARIZED THE MEETING BETWEEN THE ATTORNEY GENERAL AND THE ACTING SECRETARY IN WHICH THE ATTORNEY GENERAL SAID IT WAS HIS BELIEF THAT THE EMBASSY'S NEEDS COULD BETTER BE SERVED BY A LAWYER WITH PROSECUTORIAL ABILITIES THAN AN INVESTIGATOR. POLCOUNS MACK POINTED OUT THAT THE EMBASSY HAD DONE MUCH MORE THAN FOLLOW THE CASES AND PRESSURE THE SALVADORANS. THE EMBASSY HAD BROKEN THE CASE THROUGH HARD INVESTIGATIVE WORK. IT WAS AGREED THAT THIS NEED FOR INVESTIGATIVE WORK WOULD CONTINUE AND THAT SOMEONE WITH "STREET SMARTS" WHO COULD RUN SOURCES WAS NEEDED. ACCORDING TO MACK, THERE IS SOME RISK ASSOCIATED WITH THIS JOB. THE GROUP ALSO DISCUSSED WHETHER SOMEONE COULD PERFORM THIS FUNCTION ON CONTRACT, SUCH AS GORDON ELLISON, THE INVESTIGATOR FOR AIFLD. MR. RICHARD ASKED ABOUT THE LENGTH OF THE TOUR, TO WHOM HE REPORTED, AND WHETHER THIS INDIVIDUAL WOULD BE EXPECTED TO OPERATE ON THE STREET. MR. MACK RESPONDED THAT THE INDIVIDUAL SHOULD REMAIN AT THE EMBASSY LONG ENOUGH TO SEE THE CASES THROUGH; THAT IT WAS TOO EARLY TO SAY TO WHOM HE SHOULD REPORT BUT THAT IT SHOULD CERTAINLY NOT BE THE GOES; AND THAT THE INDIVIDUAL WOULD NEED TO OPERATE ON THE STREET AND ACCORDINGLY WOULD NEED MONEY AND SECURITY, NEITHER OF WHICH WAS A PROBLEM. MR. RICHARD RAISED THE QUESTION OF WHETHER A JUSTICE DEPARTMENT ATTORNEY COULD SERVE AS ACCUSADOR PARTICULAR IN THESE CASES. HE SAID HE FAVORED SUCH A MOVE BECAUSE IT WOULD GIVE THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT ATTORNEY A LEGAL POSITION AND SOME STANDING BEFORE THE SALVADORAN COURTS. WITH RESPECT TO THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE, THE GROUP ALSO DISCUSSED THE RECENT REQUEST FROM JUDGE RAUDA TO THE CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE ARMY TO MAKE THE GUARDSMEN'S RIFLES AVAILABLE TO THE NATIONAL POLICE FOR FORENSIC EXAMINATION. BECAUSE THE FBI HAS CONDUCTED THIS EXAM AND BECAUSE THE SALVADORANS DO NOT HAVE THE CAPACITY TO DO SO, THERE WAS DISCUSSION AS TO HOW THE FBI BALISTICS EXAMS COULD BE MADE AVAILABLE IN A FORM SO AS TO BE ADMISSIBLE IN SALVADORAN COURTS.

7. DISCUSSIONS WITH FISCAL GENERAL RIVERA. THE GROUP THEN MET WITH FISCAL GENERAL RIVERA. RIVERA SAID THAT, WITH RESPECT TO THE ASSIGNMENT OF A LEGATT OR OTHER PROSECUTOR, HE FORESAW NO PROBLEM BUT WANTED TO CHECK

WITH THE PRESIDENT. THE BULK OF THE DISCUSSION WITH THE FISCAL GENERAL WAS ON THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE AND EFFORTS TO HAVE THE FBI BALISTICS EVIDENCE MADE ADMISSIBLE. RIVERA SAID THAT THE SALVADORAN CODE DEMANDED THAT THE BALISTICS EXAMS BE ORDERED BY THE JUDGE AND CONDUCTED IN EL SALVADOR. HE SAID THAT HIS OFFICE COULD ONLY REQUEST THAT EVIDENCE BE COLLECTED; IT HAD TO BE ORDERED BY THE JUDGE. CONCERNING THE FBI BALISTICS TESTS, FISCAL GENERAL SAID HE WISHED TO HAVE AN INFORMAL DISCUSSION WITH THE SUPREME COURT AS TO HOW BEST TO HAVE THE EVIDENCE INTRODUCED. HE SAID THAT THE QUESTION OF HAVING THE FBI TESTS ADMITTED RAISED DELICATE INTERNAL POLITICAL PROBLEMS AND HE WISHED TO PROCEED CAREFULLY. MR. RICHARD SUGGESTED THAT THEY MIGHT CONSIDER HAVING THE TESTS PERFORMED AT THE SALVADORAN EMBASSY IN WASHINGTON, AN IDEA RIVERA FOUND ATTRACTIVE. THE TEAM POINTED OUT TO RIVERA THAT MOVING THE MICROSCOPE THAT PERFORMED THE BALISTICS EXAM FROM WASHINGTON TO EL SALVADOR WOULD BE VERY COSTLY AND COULD DAMAGE THE MICROSCOPE'S OPTICS. THEREFORE THEY URGED THAT SOME METHOD BE FOUND TO HAVE THE TEST ALREADY RUN ADMITTED OR HAVE THE TESTS PERFORMED AGAIN IN WASHINGTON BUT THIS TIME UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE COURT. RIVERA SUGGESTED THAT THE NATIONAL POLICE MIGHT BE PERSUADED TO ADOPT THE FBI EVIDENCE AS THEIR OWN. UNDER HIS APPROACH, THE POLICE WOULD RESPOND TO JUDGE RAUDA'S REQUEST FOR A BALISTICS EXAM BY SAYING THAT THEY DID NOT HAVE THE TECHNICAL CAPACITY TO PERFORM THE BALISTICS TEST AND THEREFORE HAD ASKED THE FBI TO CONDUCT IT." THE NATIONAL POLICE WOULD THEN SAY THAT THEY ASSUME THE FBI TESTS ARE VALID AND THAT THE COURT SHOULD THEREFORE ENTER THEM INTO THE RECORD. THE TEAM RECOGNIZED THIS AS A POSSIBILITY AND ASKED RIVERA HOW QUICKLY HE COULD CONSULT WITH THE SUPREME COURT. HE SAID THAT HE HOPED TO DO SO WITHIN THE NEXT FEW DAYS. THE TEAM VOLUNTEERED TO GIVE RIVERA THE LIST OF EVIDENCE IN THE CASE WHICH THE FBI HAS COMPILED. THE FISCAL GENERAL SAID HE DID NOT HAVE THAT LIST AND WOULD APPRECIATE IT. THE TEAM PROMISED TO PROVIDE IT AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

8. MEETING WITH AMBASSADOR HINTON. AMBASSADOR HINTON EMPHASIZED TO THE TEAM THAT THE EMBASSY'S PRINCIPAL NEED WAS FOR A FIRST CLASS INVESTIGATOR. AN ATTORNEY/ PROSECUTOR WAS NOT NEEDED TO PROD THE SALVADORANS TO PURSUE THE CASES, AS THE EMBASSY HAD BEEN AND WOULD CONTINUE TO CARRY OUT THAT RESPONSIBILITY. THE AMBASSADOR SAID THAT THIS INDIVIDUAL WOULD ALSO HAVE SOME RESPONSIBILITY TO WORK ON THE JUDICIAL REFORM ASSISTANCE PROGRAM. MR. RICHARD REPLIED THAT THE INVESTIGATIVE FUNCTION WAS NOT SOMETHING THAT JUSTICE HAD TRADITIONALLY DONE. AMBASSADOR HINTON RESPONDED THAT IT WAS NOT TRADITIONALLY WHAT A FOREIGN SERVICE OFFICER HAD DONE EITHER BUT THAT EL SALVADOR WAS A VERY SPECIAL CASE WITH SPECIAL NEEDS. HE EMPHASIZED THAT THE SUCCESSFUL PROSECUTION OF THESE CASES WAS A CRUCIAL ELEMENT OF OUR POLICY TOWARD EL SALVADOR.

9. AMBASSADOR HINTON REVIEWED THE SPECIFIC CASES. IN THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE HE NOTED THAT THERE WAS NOT MUCH NEED FOR AN INVESTIGATOR UNLESS SOME OF THE UNANSWERED LEADS, PARTICULARLY THOSE THAT SOME BELIEVE SUGGEST HIGHER LEVEL INVOLVEMENT, ARE TO BE PURSUED. IN THE SHERATON CASE HE SAID THAT THERE WERE MAJOR INVESTIGATIVE QUESTIONS YET TO BE RESOLVED. HE SAID THERE WERE OUTSTANDING LEADS AND THAT THE CASE MUST BE ENTIRELY REINVESTIGATED. THESE SHOULD START, HE NOTED, WITH AN EFFORT TO LOCATE AND QUESTION CAPTAIN AVILA WHOM HE BELIEVED TO BE IN EL SALVADOR.

10. ON THE CUELLAR CASE, THE AMBASSADOR SAID THE EMBASSY WAS 75 TO 90 PERCENT CERTAIN WHO DID IT. HE SAID THERE WAS EVIDENCE TO BE FOUND BUT MUCH INVESTIGATIVE WORK REMAINED. ON THE KLINE CASE, THE AMBASSADOR SAID THAT IT WAS CHIEFLY A PROSECUTORIAL CASE. CONCERNING THE SULLIVAN CASE, THE AMBASSADOR SAID THAT PROSPECTS FOR SUCCESSFUL PROSECUTION LOOK DIM IN THE ABSENCE OF A CONFESSION. HE EMPHASIZED, HOWEVER, THAT THERE COULD ALSO BE FUTURE INVESTIGATIONS INVOLVING MISSING OR MURDERED AMERICANS.

11. MR. RICHARD SAID THAT HE UNDERSTOOD THAT MESSRS. BROWNFIELD AND GITTENGER HAD IN FACT BROKEN THESE CASES BY ACTIVE INVESTIGATION AND ASKED WHY THEY SIMPLY COULDN'T BE REASSIGNED TO SAN SALVADOR. AMBASSADOR HINTON SAID THAT WAS A POSSIBILITY BUT IT WOULD NOT BE IN THEIR BEST CAREER INTEREST IN THE FOREIGN SERVICE, EVEN IF THEY AGREED TO DO SO. MR. RICHARD SAID IT SOUNDED MORE LIKE THE RESPONSIBILITY CARRIED OUT BY DEA AGENTS WHO WERE OPERATIONAL OVERSEAS. THE AMBASSADOR CLOSED BY SUGGESTING THAT PERHAPS TWO PEOPLE WERE NEEDED, ONE INVESTIGATOR AND ONE ATTORNEY.

12. LUNCH WITH MENDEZ. DURING LUNCH AT THE POLCOUNS' HOUSE, EMBASSY LEGAL ADVISER MENDEZ SAID THAT THE FAMILIES COULD GIVE A POWER OF ATTORNEY TO A DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE LAWYER WHO COULD IN TURN APPOINT AN ACCUSADOR PARTICULAR TO REPRESENT THEM. THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE LAWYER, PRESUMABLY THE ONE ASSIGNED TO THE EMBASSY, COULD THEN GIVE INSTRUCTIONS TO THE ACCUSADOR AND PROVIDE DIRECT INVESTIGATIVE AND ADMINISTRATIVE SUPPORT. MENDEZ EMPHASIZED THAT THIS MUST BE DONE PRIOR TO THE VISTA PUBLICO PORTION OF THE TRIAL. MENDEZ BELIEVED THAT THIS WOULD BE A MAJOR STEP FORWARD AND VERY HELPFUL. HE SAID THAT THE ASSIGNMENT OF SUCH AN ATTORNEY TO THE EMBASSY WOULD BE HELPFUL EVEN IF THE FAMILIES DON'T ASK HIM TO APPOINT AN ACCUSADOR. ON AN UNRELATED POINT, MENDEZ SAID THAT THE GOVERNMENT COULD SET ASIDE A NOT-GUILTY VERDICT IF THERE WAS BEEN SUBORDINATION OR OTHER IMPROPER INFLUENCE OF THE DECISION OF THE COURT.

13. CONCERNING THE FBI EVIDENCE AND THE ADMISSION OF THE BALISTICS TEST, MENDEZ DISAGREED WITH THE FISCAL. MENDEZ SUGGESTED THAT AN FBI TECHNICIAN TRAVEL TO SALVADOR WHERE HE WOULD BE SWORN IN AS A WITNESS BEFORE JUDGE RAUDA AND ASKED TO CARRY OUT THE BALISTICS EXAM. THE TECHNICIAN COULD THEN RETURN TO WASHINGTON, CONDUCT THE EXAM, AND RETURN TO THE COURT IN SALVADOR TO REPORT HIS FINDINGS. THIS COULD BE DONE NOT ONLY FOR THE BALISTICS TEST BUT ALSO FOR ANY OTHER TECHNICAL TEST NECESSARY TO BE RUN BY THE FBI. WE RECOGNIZE THAT THERE MAY BE SOME TESTS, SUCH AS THE ACCELERANT USED TO BURN THE VAN IN WHICH THIS WOULD NOT BE POSSIBLE AS THE TESTS HAD CONSUMED ALL OF THE AVAILABLE EVIDENCE.)

14. MEETING WITH AID MISSION. THE TEAM ALSO MET WITH THE DIRECTOR, AID MISSION, TO DISCUSS THE ROLE THAT THE INVESTIGATOR/ ATTORNEY MIGHT HAVE IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE JUDICIAL REFORM PROGRAM. THE AID DIRECTOR SUGGESTED THAT THE MISSION WOULD NEED SOME ASSISTANCE IN ADMINISTERING THE PROGRAM. HE SAID THAT AID HAS NOT CONDUCTED A PROGRAM LIKE THIS BEFORE AND THAT IT WAS IMPERATIVE TO DEVELOP A STRATEGY. HE SAID THAT IT MIGHT BE NECESSARY TO SECURE SOME EXCEPTION TO SECTION 660 OF THE FOREIGN ASSISTANCE ACT WHICH BARS ASSISTANCE TO INTERNAL POLICE FORCES. UNDER THIS PROHIBITION AID CAN NOT EVEN PROVIDE TRAINING TO FOREIGN POLICE ORGANI-ZATIONS ON THE IMPORTANCE OF RECOGNIZING HUMAN RIGHTS. HE SAID AID WAS GIVING SOME CONSIDERATION TO ASSIGNING THE AID LEGAL ADVISER FROM TEGUCIGALPA TO SAN SALVADOR. HE SAID IT MIGHT ALSO BE NECESSARY TO HIRE A LOCAL ATTORNEY. HE SAID THAT IF AN ATTORNEY WERE ASSIGNED TO THE EMBASSY HE CLEARLY WOULD HAVE SOME ROLE IN DESIGNING AND CARRYING OUT THIS PROGRAM, DEPENDING ON WHEN HE WAS AVAILABLE AND HOW MUCH TIME HE WOULD HAVE.

15. AT THE END OF THE DAY THE TEAM MET WITH POLCOUNS AND AGREED:

--SMITH WOULD CHECK WITH FBI HEADQUARTERS TO OBTAIN THEIR PERMISSION TO PASS THE LIST OF FBI EVIDENCE TO THE FISCAL GENERAL.

--DEPARTMENT OF STATE WOULD FINISH THE COMMUNICATION TO THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR CONCERNING NEXT STEPS IN THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE.

--THE EMBASSY WOULD ARRANGE A MEETING AS SOON AS POSSIBLE BETWEEN MENDEZ AND THE FISCAL GENERAL TO REACH AGREEMENT ON THE PROCEDURES FOR SEEKING INTRODUCTION OF THE FBI EVIDENCE. IT WILL ALSO BE NECESSARY TO BRING THE NATIONAL POLICE INTO THESE DISCUSSIONS AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE.

--JUSTICE WILL REVIEW THE QUESTION OF ASSIGNING ONE OR TWO PERSONS TO THE EMBASSY AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. JUSTICE WILL ALSO CONSIDER WHETHER IT WOULD BE APPROPRIATE TO EXPLORE VARIOUS ARRANGEMENTS WITH THE FAMILIES UNDER WHICH A DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE LAWYER COULD WORK WITH AN ACCUSADOR PARTICULAR TO REPRESENT THE FAMILIES IN THE SALVADORAN COURTS.

16. THIS CONCLUDES THE DRAFT MEMORANDUM. COMMENTS OF ADDRESSEES ARE SOUGHT ASAP.

UNITY

1. (C) SUMMARY: THE SOCIALIST MOVEMENT IN CHILE, NEVER TRULY UNITED EVEN IN THE HEYDAY DURING THE ALLENDE YEARS, HAS BECOME EVEN MORE FRAGMENTED DURING THE DECADE SINCE 1973. BUT ATTEMPTS TO RESTORE THE BASIS FOR A SOLID SOCIALIST PARTY PERSIST, MOST RECENTLY IN AN APRIL 26 DECLARATION FROM MADRID, ON THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ORIGINAL SOCIALIST PARTY OF CHILE (PS). LIKE THE CONFIDENTIAL

PREVIOUS TRIES, THE CURRENT EFFORT SEEMS CONDEMNED TO FAIL, UNDERDMINED BY VARIOUS IDEOLOGICAL AND PERSONAL DIFFERENCES. PARALLEL EFFORTS TO PROMOTE UNITY BY OTHER SOCIALIST GROUPS ARE ALSO FALTERING, THOUGH THE "SOCIALIST CONVERGENCE" PROMOTED BY SMALL CHRISTIAN SOCIALIST GROUPS MAY BE ABLE TO PUT TOGETHER A BROADLY

ACCEPTABLE INTELLECTUAL DOCTRINE. STILL, THE PRESSURES OF MARXIST DIALECTICS AND PRACTICAL POLITICS WILL CONTINUE TO STIMULATEEFFORTS TO BRING TOGETHER THE VARIOUS SOCIALIST FACTIONS, DESPITE THE DISCOURAGING RECORD OF PAST FAILURES. END SUMMARY.
2. (LOU) INTRODUCTION: THE MOST DESIRABLE POLITICAL VEHICLE OF THE CHILEAN SOCIALIST MOVEMENT, THE SOCIALIST PARTY OF CHILE (PS) HAS BEEN PLAGUED BY INTERNAL DIVISIONS THROUGHOUT ITS FIFTY-YEAR HISTORY AND THE SITUATION HAS WORSENED SINCE IT WAS OUTLAWED FOLLOWNG THE MILITARY TAKEOVER IN 1973. A NATURAL CONSEQUENCE OF ITS ILLEGAL STATUS AND INTERNAL DIVISIONS HAS BEEN AN OVERALL DECLINE IN ACTIVE SUPPORTERS. SINCE 1981, THERE HAVE BEEN AT LEAST FOUR EFFORTS TO PATCH UP THESE DIVISIONS, BUT EVEN THE UNITY EFFORTS HAVE BEEN DIVIDED BETWEEN CHRISTIAN SOCIALIST GROUPS, SUCH AS THE IZQUIERDA CRISTIANA (IC) AND THE TWO WINGS OF THE MOVIMIENTO DE ACTION POPULAR UNITARIO (MAPU AND MAPU/OC), AND THE SECULAR SOCIALIST GROUPS, HEADED BY PS EXILE LEADERS RAUL AMPUERO, ANICETO RODRIGUEZ, CARLAS ALTAMIRANO AND CLODOMIRO ALMEYDA, PLUS A HOST OF SMALLER OFFSHOOTS (REF A).
3. (C) LATEST PS UNITY EFFORT: ON APRIL 25, SEVEN SECULAR SOCIALIST GROUPS USED THE OCCASION OF THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF THE PARTY TO MAKE YET ANOTHER EFFORT AT UNITY. IN A DECLARATION ISSUED FROM MADRID BY THE COMMITTEE FOR SOCIALIST UNITY (CUP), WHICH REPORTEDLY REPLACED THE PERMANENT LIAISON

COMMITTEE FOR SOCIALIST UNITY, SEVEN SECULAR SOCIALIST FACTIONS SIGNED A DECLARATION OF UNITY. THEY WERE THE: MOVEMENT FOR SOCIALISM (MAS); POPULAR SOCIALIST UNION (USOPO); GROUP FOR CONSENSUS; SECTION F POLITICIANS AND NTELLECTUALS; SECTION OF THE 24TH CONGRESS OF CARLOS ALTAMIRANO; A FACTION SUPPORTING ANICETO RODRIGUEZ; AND A FACTION O THE ALMEYDA GROUP. A NUMBER OF MORE RADICAL SPLINTER GROUPS WERE LEFT OUT OF THE EFFORT BECAUSE OF THEIR ADHERENCE TO ARMED VIOLENCE AND/OR THEIR LINKS WITH THE MIR AND THE COMMUNISTS.
4. (U) DELCARATION OF UNITY: THE SEVEN GROUPS AGREED ONLY ON A VERY GENERAL UNITY DOCUMENT WHICH STRESSED THAT:
--ADHERENCE TO THE MARXIST METHOD OF INTERPRETING REALITY SHOULD CONTINUE;
--SOCIALISM IS THE CORRECT POLITICAL ALTERNATIVE FOR CHILE BECAUSE IT DEVELOPS THE STRATEGY OF WORKERS' FRONTS IN ACCORDANCE WITH PREVIOUS CONGRESS DECLARATIONS;
--SOCILAISTS, AS THE REPRESENTATIVES OF BOTH

MANUAL LABORERS AND INTELLECTUCALS, SHOULD LEAD "THE PEOPLE AND THEIR ORGANIZATIONS TOWARD A FULL DEMOCRACY." --THE SOCILAIST MOVEMENT IS DEMOCRATIC, AUTONOMOUS AND NATIONAL AND ITS AIM IS TO SOCIALIZE THE PRODUCTIVE APPARATUS AND TO UTILIZE SOCIALIST PLANNING; --UNITY IS THE KEY IN THE STRUGGLE FOR DEMOCRACY.
5. (U) OTHER UNITY EFFORTS; THE SOCIALIST CONVERGENCE: AT THE SAME TIME THE CUP DECLARATION WAS BEING SIGNED IN MADRID, OTHER SOCIALIST UNITY EFFORTS WERE MAKING NEWS IN CHILE. THE "SOCIALIST CONVERGENCE" OF THE CHRISTIAN SOCIALIST GROUPS (TH IC, MAPU ANDMAPU/OC) ALSO ISSUED A DECLARATION STATING THAT, IN THEIR OPINION, A MAJORITY CONSENSUS ALREADY EXISTS FOR CHANGING THE INSTITUTIONS OF THE FUTURE PROPOSED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

TO AID THIS CONSENSUS, THE CONVERGENCE ACCEPTED THE MULTIPARTIDARIA, AN ADHERENCE SOUGHT BY THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS (PDC). AND THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS (PSD) SINCE MID-QOIW, BUT STRESSED THE NEED TO WIDEN AND DEEPEN THE SECTORS REPRESENTED. WHAT THE CONVERGENCE PROPOSED

WAS "A GREAT BLOC FOR CHANGE, POPULAR AND DEMOCRATIC IN CONTEXT, THAT WOULD EFFECTIVELY PROMOTE POLITICAL, ECONOMIC, SOCIAL AND CULTURAL TRANSFORMATIONS" IN CHILE. FINALLY, THE DECLARATION DROVE ITS POINT HOME BY CALLING FOR A TOTAL DEMOCRATIZATION OF CHILEAN SOCIETY INCLUDING "THE SUBORDINATION OF THE ARMED FORCES TO POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY."

7. (C) CONCLUSION: WHILE A GENUINE DESIRE FOR UNITY AMONG THEMANY PS FACTIONS PERSISTS, SO DO THEIR DIVISIONS OVER SUCH FUNDAMENTAL ISSUES AS: ARMED ACTION VS PEACEFUL STRUGGLE; MARXISTS-LENINISTS VS MARXISTS THEORETICIANS; RELATIONS WITH THE EXTREME LEFT; ADHERENCE TO DEMOCRATIC COALITION EFFORTS; AND PERSONAL ELEMENTS IN THE STRUGGLE BETWEEN THE INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL LEADERSHIPS OF THE FACTIONS. EVEN THE UNITY EFFORTS ARE DIVIDED, BETWEEN SECULAR AND CHRISTIAN EFFORTS AT A CONVERGENCE, ALTHOUGH THE CHRISTIAN SOCIALISTS OF THE SOCIALIST CONVERGENCE APPEAR NEARER TO SOME SORT OF INTELLECTUAL UNITY THAN THE MORE POLITICALLY-MINDED SECULARISTS. THE UPSHOT OF ALL THIS IS THAT, WHILE HOPES FOR PS UNITY ARE CONSTANTLY BEING SHATTERED, MANY OF THEM STILLBORN FROM THEIR MOMENT OF INCEPTION, AS APPEARS TO BE THE LATEST EFFORT FROM MADRID, ATTEMPTS TO GAIN UNITY WILL CONTINUE.

DIRECTOR OF RADIO SANDINO CAUTIONED THEM AGAINST USING ANYTHING NOT SAID DURING THE ACTUAL BROADCAST.

3. "END" DEVOTED A LENGTHY PAGE ONE STORY TO THE INTERVIEW, REPEATING MANY OF THE AMBASSADOR'S ARGUMENTS AND ONLY DISTORTING GROSSLY TWO KEY POINTS, ONE OF THE TWISTS WAS USED BY "END" FOR THEIR HEADLINE WHICH CLAIMED THAT "QUAINTON ADMITS SUPPORT FOR THE COUNTERREVOLUTION".

ACCORDING TO "END" THE FACT THAT THE AMBASSADOR RAISED THE SUBJECT OF ALLEGED NICARAGUAN SUPPORT FOR THE GUERRILLAS IN EL SALVADOR WAS "A CLEAR ADMISSION THAT THE USG IS HELPING THE SOMOCISTA COUNTERREVOLUTION." IN ANOTHER WILD LEAP OF LOGIC, "END" SAID THAACKNOWLEDGING THE CONSTRUCTION OF A LARGE US MILITARY BASE IN HONDURAS, QUAINTON CONTRADICTED HIS ASSERTION THAT THE USG DID NOT WISH TO OVERTHROW THE GRN.

4. "BARRICADA" COVERAGE WAS LESS PROMINENT, MORE EXTENSIVE AND MORE CONFUSING. THE REPORT OF THE RADIO INTERVIEW ITSELF WAS BRIEF AND SARCASTIC, REFERRING TO THE AMBASSADOR'S "INSOLENT" AFFIRMATION THAT THE US BASE IN HONDURAS WOULD BE "DEFENSIVE", AND ASSERTING THAT HIS COMMENTS ON THE BORGE VISA CASE WERE "CONTRADICTORY".

5. "BARRICADA" ALSO CARRIED A LONG COMMENTARY WHICH SAID QUAINTON'S "LIES" ABOUT NICARAGUA, FOR EXAMPLE ABOUT THE LACK OF FREE EXPRESSION, WERE EXPOSED BY HIS RIGHT TO SPEAK FREELY ON RADIO SANDINO TO SPREAD HIS "CONCEPTS OF IMPERIALISM AND EXPLOITATION." ACCORDING TO THE ARTICLE, THE AMBASSADOR'S REMARKS JUSTIFIED CALLING SUCH PEOPLE "ENEMIES OF HUMANITY".

6. FINALLY A "BARRICADA" SIDE-BAR RESERVED FOR SATIRICAL COMMENTS

NOTED THAT AT TIMES QUAINTON SEEMED TO BE RUNNING THE RADIO INTERVIEW, QUOTED SEVERAL GROSS DISTORTIONS OF THE AMBASSADOR'S COMMENTS, AND OPINED THAT THE PLUG SHOULD HAVE BEEN PULLED ON THE SHOW.

7. INDEPENDENT "LA PRENSA" WHICH CAME IN FOR HEAVY CRITICISM DURING THE RADIO SANDINO INTERVIEW, AND WHICH WAS NOT INVITED TO BE PRESENT, OBTAINED A RECORDING OF THE INTERVIEW FROM THE PAO. "LA PRENSA" DEVOTED ITS PAGE ONE STORY TO THE INTERVIEW UNDER THE HEADLINE "QUAINTON RESPONDS" AND REPRODUCED

TAGS: SNAR, PINT, ES
SUBJECT: DUARTE'S VISIT TO DEPARTMENT

1. ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY-IN A MAY 18 MEETING WITH HA ASSISTANT SECRETARY ELLIOTT ABRAMS EL SALVADORAN CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC LEADER NAPOLEON DUARTE SAID THAT HE EXPECTED TO WIN THE DECEMBER PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS. DUARTE SAID THAT HE FAVORED POSTPONEMENT OF THE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS BECAUSE THIS WOULD GIVE THE NEWLY ELECTED PRESIDENT TIME TO IMPROVETHE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION AND THUS IMPROVE THE POSSIBILITIES OF LATER INDUCING THE LEFT TO PARTICIPATE IN LEGISLATIVE ELECTIONS. DUARTE TRACED THE ORIGINS OF THE DEATH SQUADS IN EL SALVADOR AND EXPLAINED WHY THERE HAS BEEN A RECENT UPSURGE IN THEIR ACTIVITIES. DUARTE SAID THAT LOPEZ SIBRIAN HAS BENEFITED FROM A WELL DEVELOPED SYSTEM OF PROTECTION IN EL SALVADOR AND BLAMED AIFLD FOR INSISTING ON PROSECUTION OF LOPEZ SIBRIAN WITHOUT SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE

ADMISSABLE UNDER SALVADORAN LAW. DUARTE EXPRESSED SERIOUS DOUBTS ABOUT THE LEFT'S WILLINGNESS TO PARTICIPATE IN SERIOUS NEGOTIATIONS AT THE PRESENT TIME AND OPINED THAT IT WILL NOT BE POSSIBLE TO SEPARATE GUILLERMO UNGO FROM THE MORE EXTREME ELEMENTS IN THE FDR. DUARTE ALSO CRITICIZED THE US FOR HISTORICALLY SUPPORTING RIGHT WING MILITARY GOVERNMENTS IN LATIN AMERICA. HE ATTRIBUTED NASCENT ANTI-AMERICANISM IN EL SALVADOR TO EXCESSIVE PRESSURE PLACED ON THE COUNTRY BY LIBERAL CONGRESSIONAL FIGURES, BUT ADDED THAT SOME HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS HAS OCCURRED ONLY BECAUSE OF US PRESSURE. END SUMMARY.

3. IN A MEETING MAY 18 WITH ASSISTANT SECRETARY ELLIOTT ABRAMS AND OTHER HA OFFICERS CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC LEADER NAPOLEAN DUARTE SAID THAT HE WAS CURRENTLY ON A TRIP TO THE US, VENEZUELA AND EUROPE TO DISCUSS WITH KEY PEOPLE THE SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR, INCLUDING HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS. DUARTE SAID THAT EL SALVADOR HAS A "STRUCTURE" THAT HAS CREATED AN ENVIRONMENT FOR VIOLENCE FROM ONE SIDE WHICH HAS SPARKED A VIOLENT REACTION FROM THE OTHER SIDE AND THUS THE VIOLENCE HAS FED UPON ITSELF AND GROWN IN INTENSITY. "WE LIVE IN A JUNGLE AND WE HAVE TO BUILD UP OUR MORALS AND VALUES AND FOR THIS WE NEED DISCIPLINE." DUARTE ADDED THAT SALVADOR NEEDS A STRONG GOVERNMENT THAT CAN PUT EVERYONE UNDER THE LAW. IF THIS CAN BE ESTABLISHED, THEN THE PEOPLE CAN BE SHOWN THAT FIGHTING IS NOT THE ONLY WAY TO RESOLVE PROBLEMS.

4. ELECTIONS: ASKED HOW HE EXPECTED TO DO IN THE ELECTIONS, DUARTE RESPONDED THAT HE THOUGHT HE WOULD WIN. A RECENT POLL GAVE THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS 37 PERCENT OF THE VOTE AND ARENA SOME 16-18 PERCENT. DUARTE SAID HE HAD

OFFERED THE VICE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION TO FOREIGN MINISTER FIDEL CHAVEZ MENA, BUT CHAVEZ MENA HAD NOT YET ACCEPTED IT.

5. DUARTE SAID HE FAVORED PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS ALONE IN DECEMBER FOLLOWED BY CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS. ALTHOUGH THIS WOULD BE MORE EXPENSIVE FOR THE GOVERNMENT, IT WOULD GIVE THE NEWLY ELECTED PRESIDENT TIME TO RESOLVE THE PROBLEM OF ABUSES OF AUTHORITY WITHIN THE SECURITY FORCES AND THUS INCREASE THE CHANCES THAT THE LEFT WOULD BE WILLING TO PARTICIPATE IN THE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS THAT WOULD BE HELD LATER.

6. DEATH SQUADS: DUARTE SAID THAT THE ARMY IS NOT THE ONLY ORGANIZATION RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH SQUADS. IN 1986 THE DEATH SQUADS STARTED WHEN PEOPLE COMPLETELY OUTSIDE OF THE ARMY TRIED TO HIRE MILITARY MEN TO LAUNCH A COUP. THE ORGANIZERS OF THESE DEATH SQUADS PAID FOR SPECIFIC PERSONS TO BE KILLED, BUT THEY ALSO WANTED TO CREATE A GENERAL ATMOSPHERE OF TERROR IN THE COUNTRY. THEN THE NATIONAL GUARD REALIZED THAT THEY TOO COULD KILL PEOPLE AND BLAME THE DEATH SQUADS. OTHER PEOPLE WITHIN THE ARMY THEN

ALSO BEGAN TO DRESS IN CIVILIAN GARB WHILE CARRYING OUT KILLINGS. IN EVERY TOWN THE SECURITY FORCES HAD A LIST OF PEOPLE WHOM IT WANTED TO ELIMINATE, INCLUDING LEFTISTS AND PEOPLE WHO WERE TARGETTED FOR PERSONAL OR FINANCIAL REASONS. SOME PEOPLE PAID THE SECURITY FORCES TO HAVE THEIR ENEMIES ELIMINATED, BUT MOST MURDERS WERE DONE SIMPLY AS FAVORS FOR FRIENDS AND RELATIVES. DUARTE STATED HIS BELIEF THAT A SPECIFIC MURDER WHICH WAS A PAID KILLING WAS THAT OF ARCHBISHOP ROMERO.

7. DUARTE SAID THAT THE DEATH SQUADS HAVE NEVER REALLY DISAPPEARED IN EL SALVADOR. DURING THE PAST YEAR OR SO THEY HAVE SIMPLY REDUCED THEIR ACTIVITY SOMEWHAT AND

STOPPED LEAVING NOTES IDENTIFYING WHICH GROUPS WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR VARIOUS KILLINGS. NOW, HOWEVER, IN ORDER TO CREATE A NEW ATMOSPHERE OF TERROR WITHIN THE COUNTRY, THEY HAVE BEGUN TO PICK UP THEIR ACTIVITY AND AGAIN LEAVE NOTES. ASKED WHETHER ANOTHER OBJECTIVE OF THE DEATH SQUADS MIGHT BE TO ALIENATE US PUBLIC OPINION SO AS TO LEAD TO A CUTOFF OF US ASSISTANCE TO SALVADOR, DUARTE RESPONDED AFFIRMATIVELY BECAUSE THE EXTREME RIGHT HAD RESENTED US EFFORTS TO INHIBIT ITS ABILITY TO KILL ANYONE IT CONSIDERS TO BE A SUPPORTER OF THE EXTREME LEFT.

8. ASKED WHY RIOS MONTT OF GUATEMALA WAS ABLE TO ELIMINATE THE DEATH SQUADS SO QUICKLY AND EL SALVADOR HAD NOT, DUARTE RESPONDED THAT RIOS MONTT HAD THE POLITICAL WILL TO DO IT. "IT CAN BE DONE AND I WILL DO IT," HE SAID, REFERRING TO HIS EXPECTATION TO BE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF EL SALVADOR IN THE DECEMBER ELECTIONS. ASKED WHETHER HE WOULD BE ABLE TO CONTROL THE SECURITY FORCES AND WHETHER THE SECURITY FORCES COULD CONTROL ALL OF THEIR MEN, DUARTE RESPONDED THAT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD HAVE TO CONTROL BOTH THE MILITARY AND THE CIVILIANS. HE SAID THAT THE GOVERNMENT KNOWS WHO THE LEADERS OF THESE DEATHS SQUADS ARE. DUARTE ADDED THAT IT WAS ALSO ESSENTIAL TO CONTROL THE ARMED FORCES: NOT ONLY WAS VERTICAL DISCIPLINE ESSENTIAL BUT IT WAS ALSO IMPORTANT TO CHANGE THE CONCEPT OF THE ARMED FORCES AS AN INTERNAL SECURITY FORCE. AT THE PRESENT TIME THE ARMY WAS THE MOST POWERFUL FORCE IN SALVADOR AND HAD AN OFFICER IN EVERY DEPARTMENT. THAT OFFICER WAS "KING" OF HIS DEPARTMENT AND HAD ABSOLUTE POWER THERE TO INITIATE ACTION AND EXERCISE LEADERSHIP. THIS SAME PATTERN CONTINUED DOWN THROUGH THE SMALLER TOWNS.

9. DUARTE SAID THERE WAS AN INCREASED THREAT OF VIOLENCE NOW, BECAUSE THE EXTREME RIGHT IS AFRAID THAT THEY ARE LOSING CONTROL OF THE COUNTRY. THE EXTREME RIGHT HAD

THOUGHT THAT BY FORCING A CHANGE IN THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE THEY WOULD BE ABLE TO KEEP CONTROL.

10. LOPEZ SIBRIAN: DUARTE SAID THE REASON THAT IT HAS BEEN SO DIFFICULT TO ARREST LOPEZ SIBRIAN IS BECAUSE HE IS THE BENEFICIARY OF A SYSTEM OF PROTECTION THAT HAS DEVELOPED DURING THE PAST 50 YEARS. DUARTE SAID THAT HE HAD TOLD BILL DOHERTY OF AIFLD NOT TO INITIATE ACTION AGAINST LOPEZ UNTIL HE HAD SUFFICIENT PROOF. INSTEAD, DOHERTY MADE THE MISTAKE OF THINKING THAT THE CONFESSIONS OF THE TWO ACTUAL KILLERS WOULD BE ENOUGH TO IMPLICATE LOPEZ. BUT CONFESSIONS OF DEFENDANTS IMPLICATING OTHERS ARE NOT ADMISSABLE UNDER SALVADORAN LAW. DUARTE SAID HE WAS URGED DOHERTY TO PUBLICLY RELEASE THE OTHER EVIDENCE HE HAS.

11. UNGO: DUARTE SAID IT WAS NOT POSSIBLE TO SEPARATE GUILLERMO UNGO FROM THE GUERRILLAS. DUARTE SAID THAT HE AND UNGO GREW UP TOGETHER AND DUARTE KNOWS HIM WELL. UNGO IS NOW TOO COMMITTED TO THE COMMUNIST SIDE. DUARTE AGREED WITH ABRAMS THAT THE COMMUNISTS MIGHT KILL UNGO IF

DECLASSIFIED UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED DECLASSIFIED

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1984)

HE TRIED TO WITHDRAW FROM HIS SUPPORT OF THE COMMUNISTS.

12. NEGOTIATIONS: DUARTE SAID THAT THE EXTREME LEFT HAS NO DESIRE TO NEGOTIATE ABOUT THE ELECTORAL PROCESS. INSTEAD, THEY WANT ONLY A "TACTICAL DIALOGUE" FOR PUBLICITY PURPOSES TO WEAKEN THE GOES, PARTICULARLY IN THE EYES OF THE AMERICAN PUBLIC. DUARTE ADDED THAT IN 1981, WHEN HE WAS PRESIDENT OF EL SALVADOR AND THE GUERRILLAS WANTED TO TALK TO HIM, HE SENT A REPRESENTATIVE TO PANAMA TO TALK TO THEM AND ON ONE OTHER OCCASION HE SENT A REPRESENTATIVE TO COSTA RICA TO TALK WITH THE FDR. HE FOUND OUT, HOWEVER, THAT THE GUERRILLAS DID NOT REALLY WANT A DIALOGUE: THEY ONLY WANTED THE RESIGNATION OF THE GOVERNMENT.

13. THE WAR EFFORT: DUARTE SAID THAT HE DOES NOT BELIEVE IN A MILITARY WAR, ONLY A POLITICAL WAR. MILITARILY, HOWEVER, THE SITUATION IS WORSE THAN WHEN HE LEFT THE GOVERNMENT. AT THAT TIME THERE WERE 5,000-7,000 GUERRILLAS AND NOW THERE ARE 10-15,000. THERE HAS ALSO BEEN AN INCREASE IN THE QUALITY OF THE GUERRILLA WAR EFFORT. THEY ARE NOW TAKING MORE INITIATIVE, AND THEY HAVE A STRATEGY, IN DRAMATIC CONTRAST TO THE ARMY. HOWEVER, THE LEFT'S STRATEGY HAS NOT BEEN WORKING VERY WELL. THEY WANTED TO HAVE A "POSITION WAR" (AN APPARENT REFERENCE TO SEIZING AND HOLDING TERRITORY), BUT THE ARMY HAS DEMONSTRATED THAT IT CAN ALWAYS FORCE THE GUERRILLAS OUT OF ANY AREA EVEN THOUGH THE GUERRILLAS HAVE DEMONSTRATED THAT THEY CAN ALWAYS RETURN ONCE THE ARMY LEAVES. THE ARMY IS UNABLE TO PERMANENTLY CONTROL AN AREA THAT THE GUERRILLAS WANT. "THE FIELDS ARE IN THE HANDS OF THE GUERRILLAS AND THE CITIES IN THE HANDS OF THE GOVERNMENT." ASKED WHETHER HE EXPECTED TO SEE AN IMPROVEMENT UNDER THE NEW MINISTER OF DEFENSE, VIDES CASANOVA, DUARTE RESPONDED THAT VIDES MUST OVERCOME THE PROBLEMS OF DISCIPLINE AND INTERNAL DIVISIONS IN THE ARMY.

14. NASCENT ANTI-AMERICANISM: DUARTE SAID THAT THERE IS SOME ANTI-AMERICANISM IN EL SALVADOR BECAUSE, WHILE US OBJECTIVES THERE HAVE BEEN GOOD, US METHODS FOR ACHIEVING THOSE OBJECTIVES HAVE SOMETIMES BEEN BAD. DUARTE

SPECIFICALLY CITED INCIDENTS WHERE THE US HAS GIVEN EL SALVADOR 30 DAYS OR SO TO PREPARE A PROGRAM. HE SAID HE HAS TALKED TO PEOPLE LIKE THE DANTE FASCELLS AND CHRISTOPHER DODDS IN CONGRESS AND WHILE THEY WANT TO HELP THEY ALSO WANT TO KEEP THE PRESSURE ON. THIS LEADS TO RESENTMENT. NONETHELESS, DUARTE VOLUNTEERED THAT SOME PROGRESS HAS OCCURRED IN EL SALVADOR, SUCH AS IN THE NUNS' CASE, ONLY BECAUSE THE US HAS KEPT UP THE PRESSURE.

15. CHURCH: DUARTE SAID THAT ARCHBISHOP RIVERA Y DAMAS HAS "MATURED" A LOT. WHEN HE FIRST ASSUMED OFFICE HE WAS COMPLETELY SURROUNDED BY LEFTIST PRIESTS. NOW, HOWEVER, HE HAS BECOME MORE INDEPENDENT AND HAS REDUCED THE INFLUENCE OF THE LEFT ON HIM. HE NOW ALSO BLAMES THE EXTREME LEFT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.

16. ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE: DUARTE SAID THAT SALVADOR IS RECEIVING A CREDIT LINE OF $50,000,000 FROM ARGENTINA, SOME $2-5,000,000 FROM GERMANY AND AN UNSTATED AMOUNT FROM VENEZUELA AND MEXICO. THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY ITSELF IS RECEIVING NO ASSISTANCE.

17. COMMENT: WHILE DUARTE EXPRESSED CONFIDENCE THAT THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS WOULD WIN THE UPCOMING PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS, NOTHING HE SAID SUGGESTED THAT HE BELIEVES THAT THERE IS ANY SHORT-TERM SOLUTION, POLITICAL OR MILITARY, TO EL SALVADOR'S CIVIL STRIFE. SHULTZ

SUBJECT: CODEL NELSON MEETING WITH JUNTA MEMBER RAMIREZ

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: DURING THEIR JUNE 4 VISIT TO NICARAGUA (REFTEL), CODEL NELSON MET WITH GRN JUNTA MEMBER SERGIO RAMIREZ MERCADO. THEY QUESTIONED HIM ABOUT SOLUTIONS TO THE CENTRAL AMERICAN CONFLICT INCLUDING GRN SUPPORT FOR THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS, THE STATE OF CIVIL LIBERTIES IN NICARAGUA, AND GRN RELATIONS WITH THE SOVIET BLOC AND THE US. END SUMMARY.

3. AS THE LAST ITEM ON THE AGENDA OF THEIR JUNE 4 VISIT TO

NICARAGUA. CODEL NELSON MET WITH GRN JUNTA MEMBER SERGIO RAMIREZ MERCADO. RAMIREZ GREETED THE CODEL BY SAYING THAT HE ALWAYS HAD AN OPEN DOOR FOR CONGRESSMEN AND HAD HAD TALKS WITH SOME 40 TO 50 CONGRESSMEN IN THE LAST FOUR YEARS. IN RESPONSE TO QUESTIONS POSED BY CODEL MEMBERS, RAMIREZ EXPRESSED HIS VIEWS ON THE FOLLOWING TOPICS.

4. SOLUTIONS TO THE CENTRAL AMERICAN CONFLICT: EL SALVADOR IS EXPERIENCING A MILITARY/POLITICAL CONFLICT AND THE GOES WITH USG ASSISTANCE CANNOT IMPOSE A MILITARY SOLUTION. THE GRN WANTS PEACE QUICKLY IN CENTRAL AMERICA THROUGH NEGOTIATIONS. THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS ARE NOT CRIMINALS AND HAVE A RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE AFFAIRS OF THAT COUNTRY. THE GRN SUPPORTS THAT PARTICIPATION. THE SITUATIONS IN EL SALVADOR AND NICARAGUA ARE SOMEWHAT SIMILAR (E.G., THE DESTRUCTION OF ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE AND LOSS OF LIFE), BUT WITH ONE BIG DIFFERENCE THE GRN WILL QUICKLY DEFEAT THE "COUNTERREVOLUTIONARIES", BUT UNLESS THERE ARE NEGOTIATIONS, THE CONFLICT IN EL SALVADOR WILL GO ON AND ON. THE GRN REJECTS THE ACCUSTION THAT IT IS SUPPLYING OR TRANSHIPPING ARMS TO SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS: THE USG HAS NOT PROVEN THAT ALLEGATION AND UNDER THE US JUDICIAL SYSTEM, ONE IS INNOCENT UNTIL PROVEN GUILTY BY A PREPONDERANCE OF EVIDENCE.

5. CIVIL LIBERTIES IN NICARAGUA: THE MISKITO INDIANS WERE REMOVED FROM THEIR ANCESTRAL HOMELANDS FOR SECURITY REASONS MANY OTHERS IN THE DEPARTMENTS ALONG THE HONDURAN BORDER WERE RELOCATED AS WELL, NOT JUST MISKITOS. THE NEWSPAPER LA PRENSA IS CENSORED BECAUSE OF THE STATE OF EMERGENCY. THE THREAT OF WAR HAS IMPOSED A NEW SET OF ELEMENTS ON THE

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NICARAGUAN DOMESTIC SCENE WHICH ARE NOT PERMANENT. IF THE US FACED AN ATTACK OF 600,000 ON ITS NORTHERN BORDER, THE U WOULD NOT ALLOW A NEWSPAPER TO SUPPORT THAT ATTACK. AN EX-LA PRENSA OFFICIAL IS NOW THE HEAD OF THE INSURGENT RADIO 15TH OF SEPTEMBER. THE GRN HAD NOT RENEGED ON ITS COMMITMEN TO ELECTIONS: IT HAD ANNOUNCED IN AUGUST 1980 THAT ELECTION WOULD BE HELD IN 1985 AND IT CONTINUES TO ADHERE TO THAT SCHEDULE. ELECTIONS COULD NOT HAVE BEEN HELD IN THE PAST NOR AT THE PRESENT TIME BECAUSE THE ELECTORAL INFRASTRUCTUR DOES NOT EXIST. THE FSLN COULD HAVE IN THE PAST, COULD TODA AND WILL IN THE FUTURE WIN ANY ELECTIONS. THE FIRST ELECTIO

WILL BE TO CHOOSE A NATIONAL CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY, WHICH WILL DRAFT A CONSTITUTION. ALL POLITICAL PARTIES PRESENTLY IN EXISTENCE AND THOSE THAT WILL BE FORMED BETWEEN NOW AND THE HOLDING OF ELECTIONS WILL BE ABLE TO PARTICIPATE IN THE ELECTIONS. THERE WILL BE A SECRET BALLOT. COUNCIL OF STATE DELEGATIONS ARE PRESENTLY STUDYING WESTERN EUROPEAN AND SOUTH AMERICAN ELECTORAL SYSTEMS TO AID IN THE DRAFTING OF A NICARAGUAN ELECTORAL LAW. IT HAS NOT BEEN DECIDED WHETHER THE NICARAGUAN ELECTORAL SYSTEM WILL BE BASED ON DISTRICTS OR LISTS. THERE ARE NO "PRISONERS OF CONSCIENCE" IN NICARAGUA; DUE PROCESS DOES EXIST. IT IS FALSE THAT THE GRN PROHIBITED THE TEACHING OF CATECHISM IN CATHOLIC SCHOOLS (REFTEL). (NOTE: RAMIREZ CLAIMED HE WAS NOT AWARE OF PRIOR CENSORSHIP OF LIVE MASSES AND THE SUBSEQUENT INABILITY OF RADIO CATOLICA TO BROADCAST MASSES. END NOTE).

6. NICARAGUAN RELATIONS WITH THE U.S. AND THE SOVIET UNION: NICARAGUA IS NOT RUNNING INTO THE ARMS OF THE SOVIET BLOC. IT MAINTAINS BROADER RELATIONS WITH THE U.S. THAN MOST PEOPLE REALIZE. NICARAGUAN RELATIONS WITH THE USSR ARE NO CLOSER THAN BRAZILIAN AND MEXICAN RELATIONS WITH THE USSR.NICARAGUA HAS NO SECRUTIY TREATIES OR DEFENSE PACTS WITH THE USSR. IT WAS NOT THE USSR WHO BOUGHT THE SUGAR THAT THE U.S. DECLINED TO BUY: IT WAS ALGERIA. NICARAGUAN PETROLEUM COMES FROM MEXICO AND VENEZUELA. NICARAGUA BUYS AUTO PARTS, INSECTICIDES AND MANY OTHER PRODUCTS FROM THE U.S. IT TRIED TO BUY HELICOPTERS IN SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, UNTIL THEY WERE IMPOUNDED BY THE USG. NICARAGUA SELLS ITS MEAT, SEAFOOD AND BANANAS TO THE U.S. THE GRN IS STUDYING

COMPANY FOR ITS PROPERTIES THAT WERE NATIONALIZED AFTER THE REVOLUTION. NICARAGUA HAS PAID MORE THAN $100 MILLION IN DEBT SERVICE SINCE THE REVOLUTION AND HAS RECENTLY RENEGOTIATED ITS FOREIGN DEBT WITH 12 U.S. BANKS. SEVENTY PERCENT OF THE NICARAGUAN ECONOMY REMAINS IN PRIVATE HANDS. THE THIRTY PERCENT IN GRN HANDS REPRESENTS FORMER SOMOZA HOLDINGS. THE LARGEST SUGAR PRODUCER IN NICARAGUA IS THE PELLAS FAMILY, WHO PROTESTED TO AMBASSADOR QUAINTON WHEN THE NICARAGUAN SUGAR QUOTA WAS CUT. THE GRN HAS HELPED THE PELLAS FAMILY SEEK FINANCING FROM BRAZIL AND SPAIN TO EXPAND ITS SUGAR PRODUCTION CAPACITY. NICARAGUAN PETROLEUM IS PROCESSED BY ESSO. ESSO, TEXACO, SHELL, AND CHEVRON DISTRIBUTE GASOLINE IN NICARAGUA. THERE HAS BEEN NO SINGLE ACT OF HOSTILITY AGAINST A U.S. COMPANY SINCE THE REVOLUTION.

7. COMMENT: RAMIREZ HAD QUICK AND SEEMINGLY PLAUSIBLE ANSWERS FOR ALL OF THE CONGRESSMEN'S QUESTIONS. HOWEVER, HAVING JUST LUNCHED WITH DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITON LEADERS, WHO *TOLD OF POLITICAL PRISONERS, LACK OF BASIC RIGHTS, AND CAPRI-*CIOUS CONFISCATIONS, THE CONGRESSMEN FOUND THAT RAMIREZ' REMARKS RANG A BIT HOLLOW.

SUBJECT: CODEL NELSON

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: DURING THEIR JUNE 4 VISIT, CODEL NELSON MET WITH ARCHBISHOP OBANDO Y BRAVO AND GRN JUNTA MEMBER SERGIO RAMIREZ, RECEIVED A SANDINISTA MILITARY BRIEFING AND LUNCHED WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF THE PRIVATE SECTOR, OPPOSITION POLITICAL PARTIES AND THE INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER LA PRENSA. THE SANDINISTAS FOCUSED THEIR PRESENTATIONS ON ALLEGED US SUPPORT FOR ANTI-SANDINISTA INSURGENTS, BUT THE CONGRESSMEN QUESTIONED THE GRN ON ITS INVOLVEMENT WITH THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS AND ON THE DETERIORATION OF BASIC HUMAN RIGHTS AND CIVIL LIBERTIES IN NICARAGUA. END SUMMARY.

TEAM BRIEFING, IN WHICH THE CONGRESSMEN RECEIVED AN OVERVIEW OF THE INTERNAL POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC SITUATION. THE CODEL MET WITH ARCHBISHOP MIGUEL OBANDO Y BRAVO. THEY QUESTIONED HIM ABOUT SANDINISTA PRESSURES ON THE CHURCH AND ITS SCHOOLS AND ABOUT THE RELIGIOUS AND IDEOLOGICAL ORIENTATION OF FSLN LEADERS AND THE NICARAGUAN PEOPLE. THE ARCHBISHOP TOLD THEM THAT UNDER SOMOZA, MOBS HAD NEVER ATTACKED CHURCHES AND PRIESTS AS HAD BEEN DONE BY THE SANDINISTAS. HE LAMENTED THAT LIVE MASSES COULD NO LONGER BE BROADCAST ON RADIO CATOLICA BECAUSE OF THE GRN'S PRIOR CENSORSHIP REQUIREMENTS. THE ARCHBISHOP CHARGED THAT THE GRN'S REQUIRED EDUCATIONAL CURRICULUM WAS MATERIALISTICALLY ORIENTED AND LEFT NO TIME FOR THE TEACHING OF SPIRITUAL MATTERS DURING THE NORMAL SCHOOL HOURS. HE SAID SOME OF THE FSLN MEMBERS WERE CATHOLICS, BUT THE TOP LEADERS WERE MATERIALISTIC. THE NICARAGUAN PEOPLE, HE SAID, WERE VERY RELIGIOUS; EVERYONE HAD AGREED THAT SOMOZA MUST GO AND THE CHURCH HAD SUPPORTED HIS OUSTER, AS WELL. BUT SINCE THE REVOLUTION, MANY FORMER SANDINISTAS AND OTHERS WHO OPPOSED SOMOZA HAD LEFT THE COUNTRY BECAUSE OF THEIR DISENCHANTMENT WITH THE FSLN LEADERSHIP. IN RESPONSE TO A QUESTION ABOUT HIS ATTITUDES TOWARD THE ANTI-SANDINISTA INSURGENTS, OBANDO Y BRAVO QUOTED SAINT THOMAS, SAYING THAT HE WAS A PEACEFUL MAN, WHO ABHORRED VIOLENCE, BUT VIOLENCE WAS JUSTIFIED IF ALL PEACEFUL MEANS HAD BEEN EXHAUSTED. HE ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT IT WAS OFTEN DIFFICULT TO TELL WHEN THE POINT HAD BEEN REACHED.

4. THE CODEL NEXT MET WITH SANDINISTA ARMY POLITICAL CHIEF, COMANDANTE DE BRIGADA HUGO TORRES, WHO GAVE THE STANDARD EXPOSE ON THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE TWO-FRONT ANTI-SANDINISTA INSURGENT CAMPAIGN, THE RESULTANT PROPERTY DAMAGE AND LOSS OF HUMAN LIFE, AND US AIR AND SEA INCURSIONS INTO NICARAGUAN TERRITORY. CONGRESSMAN NELSON POINTED OUT THAT TORRES' DES-

CRIPTION OF THE DESTRUCTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY IN NICARAGUA WAS VERY SIMILAR TO THE SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR AND ASKED WHY THE GRN SUPPLIED AND TRANSHIPPED ARMS TO THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS. TORRES REPLIED THAT THAT ALLEGATION HAD NOT BEEN PROVEN.

5. THE CODEL LUNCHED WITH LEADERS OF THE PRIVATE SECTOR, OPPOSITION POLITICAL PARTIES, AND THE INDEPENDENT DAILY LA PRENSA. THE LEADERS TOLD OF THE DIFFICULTIES OF DOING BUSINESS IN NICARAGUA TODAY, ARRESTS OF POLITICAL AND BUSINESS LEADERSN

AND THE VAGARIES OF CENSORSHIP. VIOLETA CHAMORRO, FORMER GRN JUNTA MEMBER AND WIDOW OF MARTYRED LA PRENSA EDITOR PEDRO JOAQUIN CHAMORRO, OFFERED A TOAST TO THE CODEL, STATING THAT SHE HAD JOINED THE GRN IN HOPES OF A DEMOCRATIC FUTURE FOR NICARAGUA, BUT THAT HOPE HAD BEEN BETRAYED AND SHE WOULD CONTINUE TO FIGHT FOR FREEDOM IN NICARAGUA. JAIME BENGOECHEA, CHAMBER OF INDUSTRIES DIRECTOR, OFFERED ANOTHER TOAST AND ASKED THAT THE DEMOCRATIC ASPIRATIONS OF THE NICARAGUAN PEOPLE NOT BE ABANDONED BY THE US IN THE SEARCH FOR A SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEMS OF CENTRAL AMERICA.

6. THE CODEL'S FINAL MEETING WAS WITH GRN JUNTA MEMBER SERGIO RAMIREZ MERCADO (SEPTEL).

7. COMMENT: THE CODEL SEEMED TO ENJOY THEIR MEETINGS WITH ARCHBISHOP OBANDO Y BRAVO AND OPPOSITION LEADERS, WHILE THEY HIT THE SANDINISTAS HARD ON THEIR SUPPORT FOR THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS AND THE DECLINE OF CIVIL LIBERTIES IN NICARAGUA. THE CODEL RECEIVED AN ACCURATE VIEW OF THE PROBLEMS AND CONCERNS OF THE INTERNAL DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION AND OF THE SANDINISTAS' ABILITY TO GIVE A SLICK, ONE-SIDED PRESENTATION OF THE FACTS.

2. DURING THE PRESS CONFERENCE AT THE FOREIGN PRESS ASSOCIATION IN MEXICO CITY, THE FMLN/FDR RELEASED THE FOLLOWING JOINT STATEMENT: "WE HAVE SENT A MESSAGE TO MR. STONE PROPOSING THAT WE START A DIRECT DIALOGUE IN WHICH WE CAN DISCUSS THE PATHS TOWARD A POLITICAL SOLUTION, AND THAT THIS TAKE PLACE ON U.S. TERRITORY AND IN THE PRESENCE OF WITNESSES FROM THAT COUNTRY'S CONGRESS. IN THIS DIALOGUE, IT IS NECESSARY TO HAVE THIRD PARTY WITNESSES. WE CONSIDER IT TO BE CONVENIENT THAT THE DIALOGUE TAKE PLACE WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF A FORUM WHERE ALL PARTIES FEEL A SPIRIT OF TRUST AND SECURITY. THE CONTADORA GROUP COULD BE PART OF THIS FORUM SINCE THEY CONSTITUTE A REALISTIC AND OBJECTIVE GROUP IN THE ATTAINMENT OF PEACE." MOREOVER, "OTHER INITIATIVES OF GOOD OFFICES ARE NOT EXCLUDED."

3. THE STATEMENT ALSO SAID THAT AMBASSADOR STONE WOULD HAVE TO BE CONSIDERED "AS A REPRESENTATIVE OF ONE OF THE PARTIES DIRECTLY INVOLVED IN OUR WAR, AND NOT AS A MEDIATOR". AT ANY ACTUAL NEGOTIATIONS, THE STATEMENT MAINTAINS THAT THE EL SALVADOR GOVERNMENT AND THE U.S. SHOULD SIT TOGETHER ON ONE SIDE OF THE TABLE. AS PRINCIPAL SPOKESMAN DURING THE PRESS CONFERENCE, RUBEN ZAMORA ADDED PERSONAL VIEW THAT CONDITIONS ARE STILL NOT COMPLETELY RIPE, BUT THEY ARE "RIPENING" TOWARDS A NEGOTIATION. CONTRIBUTING FACTORS IN HIS VIEW WERE THE CONTADORA GROUP'S EFFORTS AND THE RECENT U.N. SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION.

4. AFTER THE MESSAGE HAD BEEN DELIVERED TO STONE, THE FMLN/FDR REPRESENTATIVES REPORTEDLY SAID, IT WAS ALSO

NATIONAL SECURITY LOG - JUNE 12-18, 1983

June 12:

-- The National Council of Ground Transportationists announces its support for the upcoming June 14 protest.

-- The "multipartidaria" joins the protest.

June 13:

-- On the eve of the second national protest day to be called by the labor organizations as a demand for the restoration of democracy in Chile, demonstrators gathered in small groups in various sites in Santiago, then were later disbanded by carabineros. No arrests were reported, though some journalists and demonstrators were beaten by the police.

June 14:

-- The "National Day of Protest" is carried out by means of peaceful protests during the day, with much student participation.

-- A group of seven lawyers and law students is detained at El Palacio de los Tribunales. The seven are Roberto Morales Puelma, Carmen Hermosilla Molina, Pedro Munoz Solís, Jaime Figueroa, Jorge Arratia and Sergio Aquiló.

-- The protestors turned to acts of violence during the night, including the scattering of "miguelitos", robbery, dynamiting of train tracks, bombing of buses, and the deliberate burning down of the Huerfanos Theatre.

-- Throughout the country, 1351 people were detained, dozens were wounded, including several carabineros, and four were left dead.

-- Though he claims the communists are behind the violent acts of protest, and he had only called for a peaceful demonstration, Rodolfo Seguel, labor organizer, is arrested.

June 15:

-- Rodolfo Seguel is released, but awaits trial for infringement upon the State Security Law.

-- A recurso de amparo was presented on behalf of the lawyers and law students detained yesterday. The seven were later released.

-- President Pinochet states that the Committees for Human Rights and Against Torture are comprised mostly of Communists.

-- Critics of Pinochet worldwide in Mexico, France, England, the US Spain and Italy have indicated their support of yesterday's demonstrations.

2. WE CAN CITE, THEREFORE, THREE SEPARATE OCCASIONS ON WHICH THE PEACE COMMISSION HAS INVITED THE FDR TO TALK AND THE COMMISSION HAS OFFERED TO GO ANYWHERE INCLUDING NICARAGUA AND CUBA FOR SUCH TALKS. WE REMIND THE DEPARTMENT THAT BECAUSE THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR DOES NOT WISH TO GIVE BELLIGERENT STATUS TO THE FDR/FMLN, THEY HAVE BEEN CAREFUL TO ISSUE ALL INVITATIONS IN THE NAME OF THE PEACE COMMISSION. THE DEPARTMENT'S PRESS GUIDANCE SHOULD ALSO REFER TO THE INVITATION OF THE PEACE COMMISSION, NOT OF THE GOES.
3. BEGIN TEXT:

- WHEN RECENTLY WE INVITED EVERYONE, INCLUDING THE FDR, TO INITIATE A CONSTRUCTIVE REFLECTION, WE DID IT BECAUSE WE ARE CONVINCED OF OUR SUPPORT, IMAGE, CHARACTER AND CREDIBILITY. WE HAVE SAID THAT WE DO NOT SHY AWAY FROM CONVERSATIONS. ON THE CONTRARY WE SEEK THEM OUT TO PROMOTE THE INCORPORATION OF ALL INTO THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS. IN THIS PROCESS, WHICH IS DYNAMIC, ELECTIONS HAVE BEEN PLANNED IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

- DOES THE FDR WANT TO PARTICIPATE IN THEM? WE ARE READY TO DIALOGUE ABOUT THAT PARTICIPATION, HERE OR WHEREVER IS BELIEVED TO BE MORE APPROPRIATE. IF THE FDR FEELS MORE AT HOME IN NICARAGUA OR CUBA, LET THEM TELL US, EVEN THOUGH IT WOULD BE IRONIC TO CARRY OUT CONVERSATIONS ABOUT DEMOCRATIC ELECTIONS IN COUNTRIES WHOSE GOVERNMENTS HAVE DENIED THEIR PEOPLE THE FUNDAMENTAL RIGHT TO VOTE.

- BUT DIALOGUE WILL BE DIFFICULT AND STERILE, AS THE POPE TELLS US "WHEN SOME PARTIES ARE FED BY IDEOLOGIES THAT, IN SPITE OF THEIR DECLARATIONS, OPPOSE THE DIGNITY

THE ICFTU DEMANDS THE IMMEDIATE RELEASE OSE DETAINED DURING THE JUNE 14 DEMONSTRATIONS.

IN A TELEGRAM TO GENERAL PINOCHET, JOHN VANDERVEKEN EXPRESSES INDIGNATION AT THE VIOLENT ABDUCTION AT 2.A.M. IN THE NIGHT OF JUNE 15 BY MEN IN CIVILIAN CLOTHES OF RODOLFO SEGUEL AND HERNAN GARREDO. THEY ARE RESPECTIVELY THE PRESIDENT AND THE DRIVER OF THE COPPER WORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC). VANDERVEKEN SAID THAT THIS INCIDENT IS FURTHER PROOF THAT CHILE IS A POLICE STATE. THE TWO MEN'S PRESENT WHEREABOUTS ARE UNKNOWN. VANDERVEKEN HAS ALSO ASKED FRANCIS BLANCHARD, DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE ILO, TO INTERVENE URGENTLY WITH THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT IN ORDER TO PROTECT THE TWO MEN'S LIVES AND LIBERTY.

Dear Mr. Wolf:

Thank you for your letter of June 17, 1983 inquiring into human rights questions in Haiti, Korea, Chile and Malawi.

Our information on Park Ki-Rae in Korea generally conforms with that given by your constituent. According to the most recent information available to the Department, Mr. Park was being held in prison in Seoul. (As a point of interest, it may be noted that Mr. Park was born and educated in Japan and that his family still lives there). Copies of your constituent's correspondence are being forwarded to our Embassy in Seoul.

Regarding the case of Orton and Vera Chirwa, they were convicted on May 5 on treason charges by a traditional court in Malawi, and they received a death sentence. However, the Chirwas have filed an appeal of their sentence, and the appeal is to be heard by the National Traditional Appeals Court. A final decision date on the appeal is not known, but we understand that the appeal process can take several months. We understand that the Chirwas son, Fumbani, also is being held by the Malawi authorities.

Our Ambassador to Malawi has made known to high officials of the Malawian government our deep concern in the Chirwas' case, in particular the human rights aspects, and our interest is seeing that full due process is followed. Our Embassy in Malawi and we in the Department will continue to closely monitor all developments in the case.

The Honorable
Frank R. Wolf,
House of Representatives.

UNCLASSIFIED

In regard to the recent arrest of Frederic Denise and Antoine Phanor and three other individuals, Assistant Secretary for Human Rights and Humanitarian Affairs Elliott Abrams expressed our concern over these arrests to Haitian Ambassador Fritz Cineas, and our ambassador in Port-au-Prince has raised the issue with both the Foreign Minister and Minister of Interior.

The five were officially accused by Haitian government prosecutors of subversive actions and conspiracy to undermine the security of the state at a June 6 hearing at the civil court. The government's charges are being studied by a judge of inquiry who will decide whether or not to return an indictment. In the meantime the detainees, all apparently in good health, have been transferred from the Casernes Dessalines (internal security police headquarters) to the national penitentiary awaiting the judge's decision. While in the penitentiary, the arrestees will have access to family and can receive mail and personal items. We have received assurances from the government of Haiti that they will not be mistreated.

We have no information in our files on Raul Flores Castillo, Jose Luis Azocar Rocha and Blanca Rosa Carrasco Ahumada. I have therefore sent a copy of your correspondence to our Embassy in Santiago with a request that they communicate with you directly concerning your inquiry.

With cordial regards,

Sincerely,

Powell A. Moore
Assistant Secretary for Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs

SUBJECT: D'AUBUISSON CALLS FOR UNITY AGAINST A COMMON ENEMY

1. SUMMARY. A LEADING LOCAL DAILY PUBLISHED AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY PRESIDENT AND ARENA LEADER MAJOR ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON IN ITS 6/17/83 ISSUE. D'AUBUISSON EXPLAINED IN THE INTERVIEW THAT EL SALVADOR'S PLIGHT COULD NOT BE CALLED A CIVIL WAR BUT RATHER, THE RESULT OF INTERNATIONAL COMMUNIST AGGRESSION. THE DAILY ALSO REPORTED D'AUBUISSON'S 6/16/83 TELECAST TO THE NATION IN WHICH HE ASKED OTHER DEMOCRATIC POLITICAL PARTIES TO UNITE IN A COMMON FRONT AGAINST THE REAL ENEMY, THE GUERRILLAS. END SUMMARY.

2. ULTRA-CONSERVATIVE LEADING LOCAL DAILY EL DIARIO DE HOY PUBLISHED AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY PRESIDENT AND ARENA LEADER MAJOR ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON IN ITS 6/17/83 ISSUE. D'AUBUISSON WAS QUOTED AS STATING THAT EL SALVADOR IS NOT UNDERGOING A CIVIL WAR BUT RATHER "AN ACT OF MARXIST AGGRESSION AGAINST THE PEOPLE OF EL SALVADOR." HE AFFIRMED THAT IT

TEXT OF TELEGRAM 83SAN SA006515

IS NECESSARY FOR THE SALVADORANS TO ADOPT A POSTURE OF SELF-DEFENSE AGAINST THIS FOREIGN AGGRESSION. MAJOR D'AUBUISSON TOLD NEWSMEN THAT A DISINFORMATION CAMPAIGN AT AN INTERNATIONAL LEVEL HAS PLACED EL SALVADOR IN DIRE STRAITS. HE CRITICIZED FOREIGN CORRESPONDENTS WHO DO NOT SEEK OUT THE TRUTH BUT RATHER WAIT IN HOTELS UNTIL IT IS TIME TO LISTEN TO RADIO VENCEREMOS, THE INSURGENTS' CLANDESTINE RADIO.

3. IN ANOTHER ITEM IN THE SAME ISSUE OF THE DIARIO DE HOY, THE DAILY REPORTED D'AUBUISSON'S PUBLIC TELECAST ON THE EVENING OF 6/16/83. THE ARTICLE REPORTS THAT D'AUBUISSON CALLED UPON ALL SALVADORAN DEMOCRATS TO WORK TOGETHER TO DEFEAT THE COMMON ENEMY: THE FDR-FMLN GUERRILLAS. SPECIFICALLY, D'AUBUISSON URGED ALL SALVADORANS TO COME FORWARD AND JOIN THE CIVIL DEFENSE UNITS IN SUPPORT OF THE ARMED FORCES' EFFORT AGAINST SUBVERSION. THE NEWS ITEM REPORTS THAT, DURING THE TELECAST, D'AUBUISSON CALLED UPON ALL POLITICAL PARTIES REPRESENTED IN THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY TO HELP FULFILL THE WILL EXPRESSED BY THE SALVADORANS ON THE 3/28/82 NATIONAL ELECTIONS. D'AUBUISSON REPORTEDLY STATED THAT THIS SHOULD BE DONE BY WORKING AS "A TEAM TO DEFEND THE FATHERLAND FROM THE IMPETUOUS ATTACK OF COMMUNISM."

4. ANOTHER LOCAL DAILY, THE MODERATELY CONSERVATIVE LA PRENSA GRAFICA, PUBLISHED D'AUBUISSON TELECAST SPEECH IN FULL IN ITS 6/17/83 ISSUE. THE SPEECH IS A DECISIVE CALL FOR THE UNITY OF ALL PARTIES REPRESENTED IN THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY. IT URGES THEM TO LAY ASIDE MATTERS OF "SECONDARY IMPORTANCE" AND TO MEET TOGETHER TO ADOPT A PLAN OF ACTION WHICH WILL RESULT IN THE GREATER UNITY OF THE SALVADORAN PEOPLE AGAINST THEIR COMMON ENEMY. D'AUBUISSON STATED THAT HE FELT THAT THE LEADERSHIP OF OTHER POLITICAL PARTIES IS AS CONCERNED AS HE IS ABOUT THE SITUATION AND TRUSTS THAT HIS CALL FOR NATIONAL UNITY WILL BE HEEDED AND PUT INTO EFFECT. OTHERWISE, D'AUBUISSON WARNED, "WE FACE THE IMMINENT DANGER OF A TOTALITARIAN GOVERNMENT--LIKE THAT OF NICARAGUA"--BEING SET UP IN EL SALVADOR. BLEAKLEY

SUBJECT: NEW TWISTS IN THE LAS HOJAS CASE

REF: (A) SAN SALVADOR 03999, (B) SAN SALVADOR 03509,
(C) SAN SALVADOR 01661

1. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. DURING A MEETING AT AIFLD HEADQUARTERS, NATIONAL INDIAN ASSOCIATION OF EL SALVADOR (ANIS) SECRETARY GENERAL, ADRIAN ESQUINO LIZCO, TOLD LABOFF THAT ANIS TREASURER FERMIN GARCIA GUARDADO WAS ARRESTED UNDER SUSPICION OF ATTEMPTED MURDER ON 6/24/83 IN SONSONATE DISTRICT. ESQUINO LIZCO ALSO INFORMED LABOFF THAT ESQUINO'S ELDEST SON DISAPPEARED ON THE EVENING OF 6/23/83, SHORTLY AFTER RETURNING HOME TO SAN ANTONIO DEL MONTE (SONSONATE) FROM HIS JOB IN THE CAPITAL. THIS LAST ITEM TURNED OUT TO BE A FALSE ALARM. ESQUINO JR. TURNED UP SAFE AND SOUND ON 6/25/83.

3. FERMIN GARCIA GUARDADO IS THE FATHER OF ONE OF THE VICTIMS OF THE LAS HOJAS MASSACRE OF 2/22/83 (REFTEL B). HE TRAVELED WITH ESQUINO LIZCO TO THE U.S. LAST APRIL AND MET WITH SENATOR KENNEDY AND OTHER MEMBERS OF CONGRESS TO TESTIFY ON THE LAS HOJAS CASE (REFTEL A). LABOFF AND SALVADORAN COMMUNAL UNION (UCS) LEGAL ADVISOR, JOSE MARIA MENDEZ, JR., CALLED SONSONATE AUTHORITIES AND WERE ABLE TO ASCERTAIN THAT GARCIA GUARDADO HAD BEEN DETAINED FOR SUSPICION OF ATTEMPTED MURDER ON THE PERSON OF ONE SERMENO. SERMENO, ONE OF THE SUSPECTED FINGERMEN IN THE LAS HOJAS MASSACRE, WAS WOUNDED IN A GUNFIGHT IN MARCH. MENDEZ BELIEVES THAT THE CHARGES AGAINST GARCIA GUARDADO ARE FALSE AND MAY INDICATE AN ATTEMPT TO INTIMIDATE ANIS INTO BACKING OFF THIS LAS HOJAS COURT CASE.

4. AS WAS PREVIOUSLY REPORTED, TESTIMONIES HAVE BEEN TAKEN FROM ALL WITNESSES (INCLUDING SURVIVORS, WIDOWS AND ORPHANS) IN THE LAS HOJAS CASE, AND THE CASE WOULD APPEAR RIPE FOR ELEVATION TO THE TRIAL STAGE (PLENARIO). OFFICIAL EVIDENCE INCLUDES THE REPORT OF THE GOES HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION ON ITS INVESTIGATIVE FINDINGS AND THE [redacted] OFFICIAL RECORDS OF THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE OF SAN ANTONIO DEL MONTE, WHO REGISTERED THE DEATHS OF THE VICTIMS. ON 6/21/83 BENJAMIN CESTONI, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE GOES HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, TOLD LABOFF THAT HE FELT THAT THERE WAS ENOUGH EVIDENCE AT THAT TIME TO WARRANT THE JUDGE ORDERING THE ARREST OF THE SUSPECTS IDENTIFIED BY WITNESSES. CESTONI COULD ONLY SPECULATE THAT THE JUDGE IN SONSONATE WAS AFRAID TO ORDER THE PROCEDURALLY CORRECT DETENTIONS. UCS LEGAL ADVISOR MENDEZ TOLD LABOFF THAT HE HAD WARNED ANIS BEFOREHAND THAT A REPRISAL (GARCIA'S ARREST) COULD BE IN THE WORKS. MENDEZ IRONICALLY COMMENTED THAT JUST WHEN THE STATE HAS ENOUGH EVIDENCE TO ARREST MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES AND INFLUENTIAL LANDOWNERS, IT ARRESTED INSTEAD THE FATHER OF ONE OF THE VICTIMS, WITH FRAMED-UP CHARGES.

5. UPON BEING ADVISED OF GARCIA'S ARREST, POLCOUNS IMMEDIATELY CONTACTED PRESIDENTIAL MINISTER FRANCISCO GUERRERO. DATT CASH WAS ALSO NOTIFIED AND HE CONTACTED THE CHIEF OF THE NATIONAL GUARD, COLONEL MONTES. (COMMENT: LABOFF WAS INFORMED THAT GARCIA GUARDADO WAS ARRESTED BY THE NATIONAL GUARD IN SONSONATE. END COMMENT.)

6. ON 6/27, PRESIDENTIAL MINISTER FRANCISCO GUERRERO TOLD CHARGE AND POLCOUNS THAT FERMIN GARCIA GUARDADO'S ARREST WAS LEGALLY CORRECT. SINCE THE CASE IS ALMOST CERTAINLY BASED ON TRUMPED-UP EVIDENCE HE, GUERRERO, PROMISED TO TALK TO THE JUDGE AND HAVE THE CHARGES AGAINST GARCIA DROPPED. GUERRERO TOLD EMBOFFS THAT HE BELIEVED GENERAL GONZALEZ ARAUJO SHOULD BE REMOVED FROM HIS POST AS MILITARY COMMANDER OF SONSONATE DEPARTMENT.

7. COMMENT: DURING A MEETING WITH ANIS REPS AND WITH DEFENSE MINISTER VIDES CASANOVA LAST MONTH, SONSONATE MILITARY COMMANDER COL. ELMER GONZALEZ ARAUJO TRIED TO "MAKE PEACE" WITH ANIS LEADERS. WHEN ESQUINO LIZCO TOLD HIM THAT HE COULD NOT MAKE PEACE WITH THE MURDERER OF HIS BROTHERS WITHOUT JUSTICE BEING DONE, GONZALEZ ARAUJO WARNED HIM--IN THE DEFMIN'S PRESENCE--THAT HE HAD SPENT 10,000 COLONIES (OVER DOLS 2,564 U.S.) FOR HIS DEFENSE LAWYERS. AS PREVIOUSLY REPORTED, GONZALEZ ARAUJO GAVE THE ORDER FOR THE "MILITARY ACTION" THAT LED TO THE MASSACRE IN LAS HOJAS. DURING THE MEETING (ANIS LEADERS LATER REPORTED) GONZALEZ ARAUJO WARNED THE ASSOCIATION MEMBERS THAT IF THEY DID NOT DESIST FROM PRESSING CHARGES AGAINST HIM, THEY, AND NOT HIM, WOULD COME OUT LOSERS. END COMMENT. HINTON

SUBJECT: (U) MAGANA'S JULY 1ST SPEECH

1. (U) ON JULY 1, PRESIDENT MAGANA APPEARED BEFORE THE SALVADORAN CABINET, MEMBERS OF THE INDEPENDENT AGENCIES OF THE GOVERNMENT, THE ASSEMBLY, AND THE DIPLOMATIC CORPS TO RENDER AN ACCOUNTING OF HIS 14-MONTH ADMINISTRATION. HIS SPEECH WAS PRUDENT AND BALANCED, AND BROKE LITTLE NEW GROUND. HE WAS MOST FORCEFUL ON DEVELOPMENT OF INSTITUTIONAL DEMOCRACY AND REJECTION OF
CONFIDENTIAL
CONFIDENTIAL

POWER-SHARING NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE FAR LEFT. HE ALSO DISCUSSED HIS RECENT VISIT TO WASHINGTON, AND NOTED HIS DENUNCIATION IN THE OAS AGAINST AGGRESSION BY CUBA, NICARAGUA AND THE SOVIET BLOC. HIGHLIGHTS FOLLOW.

2. (U) GOVERNMENT OF NATIONAL UNITY. THE EFFORT AT REACHING A BROAD GOVERNMENT CONSENSUS HAS WORKED "SURPRISINGLY WELL" IN PURSUING HIS ADMINISTRATION'S GOALS: PEACE, HUMAN RIGHTS, ECONOMIC RECOVERY, DEMOCRACY, AND STRENGTHENING THE REFORMS. HIS ADMINISTRATION HAS SEEN AN END TO "PRESIDENTIALISM" AND "PERSONALISM" AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF STRONGER INSTITUTIONS AND SEPARATION OF POWERS.

3. (U) ELECTIONS: MAGANA LOOKS FORWARD TO HOLDING FREE, HONEST ELECTIONS THIS YEAR AND TO TURNING POWER OVER TO WHOMEVER THE PEOPLE ELECT. "ELECTIONS WITH THE PARTICIPATION OF ALL SALVADORANS WITHOUT DISTINCTION, ARE THE ONLY REAL WAY TO ACHIEVE A DEFINITIVE PEACE AND AT LAST ESTABLISH A PLURALISTIC SYSTEM WHICH WILL STRENGTHEN DEMOCRACY."

4. (U) HUMAN RIGHTS. MAGANA HIGHLIGHTED THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, WHICH HE CREDITED WITH THE NEW AMNESTY LAW. HE EMPHASIZED THE CURRENT EFFORT AT JUDICIAL REFORM, INCLUDING THE RECENT REPORT BY SALVADORAN LAWYERS RECOMMENDING CHANGES IN THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM. HE NOTED THAT ONE ASPECT OF JUDICIAL REFORM ALREADY ACHIEVED IS THE FREEDOM OF THE JUDICIARY FROM [redacted]

PRESSURE BY THE EXECUTIVE. HE EMPHASIZED THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE JUDICIARY AND THE OFFICE OF THE PROSECUTOR GENERAL.

5. (U) NEGOTIATIONS. MAGANA NOTED THAT THE PEACE COMMISSION HAS INVITED "ALL POLITICAL SECTORS" TO PARTICIPATE IN THE COMING ELECTIONS. MAGANA REJECTED NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE FAR LEFT FOR POWER SHARING AS "TREASON" TO THOSE WHO ELECTED HIM. SUCH NEGOTIATIONS WOULD "OPEN THE DOOR TO CHAOS IN

6. (U) THE ECONOMY. ECONOMIC ACTIVITY HAS STABILIZED SINCE THE END OF 1982. NAGANA UNDERSTANDS THE SACRIFICES WHICH THE VARIOUS SECTORS ARE MAKING AND ASKS THEIR UNDERSTANDING OF THE FISCAL AND MONETARY DISCIPLINE NECESSARY TO STRENGTHEN THE ECONOMY.

7. (U) THE ECONOMIC AND AGRARIAN REFORMS. NAGANA REITERATED THE IMPORTANCE OF THE REFORMS AS REAFFIRMED IN THE PACT OF APANECA AND AS RATIFIED BY THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY WHEN IT WAS FIRST CONVENED. HE STRESSED THAT THE REFORMS SHOULD NOT ONLY BE EVALUATED IN TERMS OF ECONOMIC EFFICIENCY, BUT ALSO IN TERMS OF SOCIAL PARTICIPATION AND AS A WAY TO RELIEVE THE TENSIONS WHICH GAVE RISE TO THE PRESENT CONFLICT.

10. (U) THE CONSTITUTION. MABANA CONGRATULATED AND THANKED THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY FOR ITS EFFORTS TO FINISH THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH WILL CONTAIN FUNDAMENTAL GUARANTEES AND WHICH WILL MAKE THE OBJECTIVES OF THE GOVERNMENT OF NATIONAL UNITY A PERMANENT REALITY.

11. (C) COMMENT: MABANA'S PRESENTATION HAS A CAREFULLY DRAFTED POLITICAL SPEECH, WITH SOMETHING FOR ALMOST EVERYONE AND A LIGHT TOUCH ON CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES. THE REMARK THAT JUDICIAL REFORM PRECLUDES PRESSURE FROM THE EXECUTIVE MAY HAVE BEEN MEANT FOR US. WE HAD ALSO HOPED FOR SOME STATEMENT ON REVISION OF DECREE 507, A DRAFT OF WHICH WE HAVE POUCHED TO THE DEPARTMENT. BUT WE ARE INTRIGUED BY MABANA'S EMPHATIC STATEMENT THAT IN THE SEARCH FOR PEACE ONLY POWER-SHARING NEGOTIATIONS ARE RULED OUT. THIS WOULD SEEM TO LEAVE MUCH ROOM FOR DIALOGUE WITH THE LEFT. HINTON

2. BEGIN TEXT. THROUGH THE INITIATIVE OF PRESIDENT MONGE, A MEETING HAD BEEN ARRANGED ON JULY 9 BETWEEN THE SPECIAL ENVOY OF PRESIDENT REAGAN, RICHARD STONE, AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FDR/FMLN OF EL SALVADOR. UNFORTUNATELY, IT WAS NOT POSSIBLE TO REACH AGREEMENT OVER PROCEDURAL ASPECTS WHICH PREVENTED THE MEETING FROM TAKING PLACE. THE PROPAGANDISTIC ATMOSPHERE WHICH PRECEDED IT WAS ALSO NOT HELPFUL. IN SPITE OF THE FACT THAT IT WAS DESIGNED TO BE PRIVATE, OUR FRONTS WANT TO MAKE IT CLEAR THAT THEY SLOUSLY ADHERED TO THE AGREEMENT ON THE CHARACTER OF THE MEETING. IN SPITE OF THE PRECEDING, WE CONSIDER THAT THE EFFORTS UNDERTAKEN PERMITTED A BEGINNING OF COMMUNICATION, THROUGH A HIGHLY QUALIFIED INTERMEDIARY, BETWEEN AMBASSADOR STONE AND OUR FRONTS. WE ARE GRATEFUL TO THE PRESIDENT OF COSTA RICA FOR THE EFFORTS THAT HE MADE, AS WELL AS THE EFFORTS CARRIED OUT TO BE ABLE TO OVERCOME THE POINTS OF DISAGREEMENT. THE DELEGATION OF THE FDR/FMLN DEMONSTRATED TO PRESIDENT MONGE THE DISPOSITION OF OUR FRONTS TO CONTINUE WORKING TO ACHIEVE A DIALOGUE AS WELL AS OUR DESIRE THAT PRESIDENT MONGE ACTIVELY MAINTAIN HIS EFFORTS IN THIS REGARD. THE FDR/FMLN REITERATES ITS WILLINGNESS FOR A DIALOGUE AND HOPES THAT IN THE NEAR FUTURE THIS CAN BE ACHIEVED WITH AMBASSADOR RICHARD STONE WITHOUT PRIOR CONDITIONS BASED ON AN OPEN AGENDA AND RELYING ON AN ADEQUATE FRAMEWORK.
THE DELEGATION OF THE FDR/FMLN WAS MADE UP OF THE FOLLOWING: GUILLERMO UNGO, PRESIDENT OF THE FDR; AND FROM THE POLITICAL-DIPLOMATIC COMMISSION, DR. RUBEN ZAMORA RIVAS; MARIO AQUINADA CARRANZA; ND PROFESSOR JOSE MARIO LOPEZ. END TEXT.

1. COSTA RICAN MEDIA CHARACTERIZED THE MUCH-RUMORED MEETING BETWEEN AMBASSADOR STONE AND FDR/FMLN REPRESENTATIVES AS HAVING "FAILED" IN THEIR 7/10 EDITIONS, BUT ON 7/11 FRONT PAGE OF LEADING SAN JOSE DAILY "LA NACION" HAD ARTICLE ENTITLED "GUERRILLAS ASK MONGE TO CONTINUE EFFORTS FOR DIALOGUE."

2. FRONT PAGE "LA NACION" STORY ON 7/10 REPORTED THAT "LAST MINUTE PROBLEMS" PREVENTED THE MEETING FROM TAKING PLACE. THE UNIDENTIFIED SOURCES TOLD "LA NACION" THAT "INTRANSIGENCE ON THE PART OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ARMED LEADERS" WAS THE CAUSE. MEANWHILE, SECOND MORNING DAILY "LA REPUBLICA," ALSO ON 7/10, ATTRIBUTED THE PROBLEM TO FACT THAT

3. ON 7/11, "LA REPUBLICA" PUBLISHED THE TEXT OF THE FDR/FMLN COMMUNIQUE, UNDER HEADLINE "GUERRILLA LEADERS SAY ROAD TO DIALOGUE OPENED."

4. "LA NACION," ALSO ON 7/11, INCLUDED THE FOLLOWING IN ITS COVERAGE:

- ---"THE INTERVIEW THAT WAS TO TAKE PLACE IN COSTA RICA HAD AS ITS PURPOSE TO DISCUSS A PROPOSAL TO ACHIEVE A CEASEFIRE IN EL SALVADOR. THIS IS WHAT STONE SAID LAST FRIDAY IN THE SALVADORAN CAPITAL BEFORE COMING HERE."

- ---IN GOING FROM SAN SALVADOR AND THEN ON TO WASHINGTON, STONE "CANCELLED A TEN-DAY VISIT THAT WAS TO INCLUDE NICARAGUA, PANAMA, COLOMBIA, VENEZUELA AND MEXICO."

- ---"THE DELEGATES OF THE (SALVADORAN) FRONTS WERE ANNOYED THAT THE PROPER RESERVE WAS NOT MAINTAINED. 'THE EXCESS OF INFORMATION THAT WAS GENERATED AFFECTED THINGS QUITE A BIT. BEFORE HE LEFT WASHINGTON, CBS ALREADY COMMENTED ON WHAT HE WAS GOING TO TALK ABOUT,' ADDED A SPOKESMAN, WHO REQUESTED THAT HIS NAME NOT BE USED." IN EL SALVADOR THE FAILURE, ACCORDING TO A REBEL SOURCE THERE, "WAS ATTRIBUTED TO THE FACT THAT TWO GUERRILLA COMMANDERS FROM THE MILITARY WING OF THE FMLN OPPOSED THE MEETING."

2. SUMMARY: AN ICFTU MISSION LED BY ENZO FRISO, HEAD OF THE ICFTU LATIN AMERICAN DEPARTMENT, IS APPARENTLY COMING TO CHILE JULY 19. THERE HAS BEEN CONSIDERABLE CONTROVERSY IN THE CHILEAN LABOR MOVEMENT ABOUT THE VALUE OF SUCH A MISSION, PARTICULARLY OVER THE ROLE OF THE COMMUNIST-DOMINATED NATIONAL LABOR COORDINATOR (CNS) IN ARRANGING

THE VISIT. IN PART IN REACTION TO THE VISIT, HERNOL FLORES, SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE AFL-CIO SUPPORTED UNION OF DEMOCRATIC WORKERS (UDT), IS TRAVELING TO COLOMBIA JULY 18 TO MEET WITH TULIO CUEVAS, PRESIDENT OF THE INTER-AMERICAN REGION LABOR ORGANIZATION (ORIT) AND THEN ON TO WASHINGTON TO MEET WITH AFL-CIO REPRESENTATIVES ON JULY 20-21. THE UDT, AND OTHER NON-MARXIST LABOR ORGANIZATIONS, BELIEVE THE ICFTU HAS BETRAYED AN UNDERSTANDING REACHED AT THE MARCH 11-12 MADRID MEETING THAT NO OFFICIAL STATUS WOULD BE GRANTED TO THE ROME-BASED CHILEAN LABOR COMMITTEE, COMPOSED OF LEFTIST EXILES. IN OUR VIEW, CONTINUED ICFTU SUPPORT FOR THE CNS UNDERMINES THE AUTHENTIC FREE AND DEMOCRATIC TRADE UNIONS IN CHILE. END SUMMARY.

3. AS OF JULY 17, WE UNDERSTAND AN ICFTU MSSION WILL ARRIVE IN CHILE ON JULY 19. THE COMPOSITION OF THE ICFTU DELEGATION IS REPORTED TO BE NOT AT THE HIGH LEVEL ORIGINALLY PLANNED AND WILL BE HEADED BY ENZO FRISO, THE LEFT-LEANING ICFTU REPRESENTATIVE FOR LATIN AMERICA, AND ALLEGEDLY WILL INCLUDE THREE NORDICS, TWO ITALIANS AND A SPANIARD, AND REPRESENTATIVES FROM LATIN AMERICA AND THE U.S. WE ALSO UNDERSTAND THAT THER IS SOME QUESTION AS TO WHETHER THE LATIN AMERICAN AND U.S. REPS WILL IN FACT PARTICIPATE.

4. EMBASSY LABOR SOURCES INDICATE THERE HAS BEEN CONSIDERABLE CONTROVERSY IN CHILE AND AMONG ICFTU MEMBERS ABOUT THE

ICFTU MISSION. IN CHILE, THE AFL-CIO SUPPORTED UNION OF DEMOCRATIC WORKERS (UDT), A MAJROITY OF THE EXECUTIVE BOARD OF THE COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC-GREATLY DEBILITATED IN THE AFTERMARH OF RECENT PROTEST AND STRIKE ACTIONS AGAINST THE GOC), THE CONEDERATION OF PRIVATE EMPLOYEES (CEPCH) AND THE UNITED WORKERS FEDERATION (FUT) ARE SKEPTICAL ABOUT THE MISSION AND ITS VALUE. THEY OPPOSE ISSUING AN INVITATION TO THE ICFTU (AS REQUESTED BY THE ICFTU) SINCE THE LATTER APPARENTLY PASSED A RESOLUTION AT ITS OSLO CONGRESS JUNE 23-30 CALLING FOR A "HIGH-LEVEL" MISSION, WITHOUT CONSULTING THE INTERESTED PARTIES IN CHILE, AND BECAUSE THE MISSION IS BEING COORDINATED THROUGH THE NOMINALLY CHRISTIAN-DEMOCRAT-LED BUT COMMUNIST-DOMINATED NATIONAL LABOR COORDINATOR (CNS).

5. THE UDT LEADERS, PARTICULARLY, ARE INCENSED BY WHAT THEY INTERPRET AS A VIOLATION OF AN UNDERSTANDING WITH ICFTU LEADERS REACHED AT THE EARLIER MADRID CONFERENCE ON CHILE MARCH 11-12, THAT NO ICFTU OFFICIAL STATUS WOULD BE

GRANTED TO THE ROME-BASED CHILEAN LABOR COMMITTEE FORMED BY MANUEL BUSTOS (THE EXILED PRESIDENT OF THE CNS, WHO IS A LEFT-WING CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT) AND LEFTIST AND EXTREMIST ELEMENTS (INCLUDING THE TERRORIST MOVEMENT OF THE REVOLUTIONARY LEFT --MIR). THE UDT HAS TOLD US THAT BUSTOS

ADDRESSED THE ICFTU OSLO CONGRESS IN THE NAME OF THE CHILEAN LABOR COMMITTEE. FURTHMORE, CNS INTERNATIONAL REPRESENTATIVE HERNAN MERY APPARENTLY ATTENDED THE OSLO CONGRESS (WE HAVE NO IDEA WHO INVITED HIM) AND OBTAINED PROMISES OF CONSIDERABLE FINANCIAL SUPPORT THROUGH THE CNS (TRADITIONALLY SUPPORTED BY THE EUROPEAN AFFILIATES OF THE ICFTU) FOR TRADE UNIONISTS WHO HAVE LOST THEIR JOBS OR HAVE OTHERWISE BEEN PUNISHED FOR RECENT PROTEST ACTIONS AGAINST THE GOC.

6. DURING THE PAST SEVERAL DAYS A SWEDISH WOMAN, VARIOUSLY IDENTIFIED AS REPRESENTING SWEDISH HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS, THE SWEISH LABOR ORGANIZATION (LO) AND THE ICFTU (THE EMBASSY HAS BEEN UNABLE TO ESTABLISH HER TRUE IDENTIFY), HAS BEEN OFFERING MONEY HERE FOR LEGAL DEFENSE AND OTHER DOCUMENTED EXPENSES FOR CTC LEADERS AND MEMBERS OF THE CNS WHO WERE RELEGATED TO ISOLATED PARTS OF CHILE BY GOC ADMINISTRATIVE ACTION (ALL EIGHT OF THE LATTER ARE NOT ONLY MEMBERS OF THE CNS, BUT ARE ALSO COMMUNISTS). THE UDT SUSPECTS THAT THE WOMAN IS IN CHILE BECAUSE OF THE FRISO-MERY CONNECTION.

7. FINALLY, THE UDT, CEPCH, FUT AND CTC MAJORITY, WE ARE TOLD, OPPOSE ANY ICFTU MISSION WHICH DOES NOT SEEK AN APPOINTMENT WITH PRESIDENT PINOCHET (OR ANOTHER HIGH-LEVEL GOC MEMBER) TO REGISTER CONCERN AND OFFICIALLY PLANT ICFTU POSITIONS ABOUT THE LACK OF FREE TRADE UNIONISM IN CHILE. ON THE OTHER HAND, OUR SOURCES INDICATE THAT THE CNS, WHILE FAVORING AN ICFTU DELEGATION VISIT, OPPOSES ANY ICFTU CONTACT WITH THE GOC.

8. WE HAVE LEARNED THAT UDT SECRETARY GENERAL HERNOL FLORES WILL VISIT COLOMBIA JULY 18-19 TO DISCUSS THESE DIFFERENCES WITH INTER-AMERICAN LABOR ORGANIZATION (ORIT) PRESIDENT TULIO CUEVAS AND THEN GO ON TO WASHINGTON JULY 20-21 TO TALK WITH AFL-CIO INTERNATIONAL REP IRVING BROWN AND AIFLD DIRECTOR DOHERTY. WE UNDERSTAND THAT FLORES, ON BEHALF OF UDT, HAS LOBBIED HARD FOR NO U.S. OR ORIT PARTICIPATION IN THE ICFTU DELEGATION. (FLORES HAS HAD TO POST A BOND OF 100,000 PESOS TO LEAVE THE COUNTRY AS HE IS UNDER INDICTMENT FOR ALLEGEDLY ORGANIZING AN ABORTIVE NATION-WIDE STRIKE JUNE 23).

9. COMMENT: ONCE AGAIN WE ARE STRUCK BY THE SINGLE-MINDED ICFTU SUPPORT FOR THE CNS, WHICH IS COMMUNIST-DOMINATED. WE RECOGNIZE THAT THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT'S EARLY EXILE POLICIES RESULTED IN SOME EXTREME LEFTISTS RESIDING IN WESTERN EUROPE, WHERE THEY ESTABLISHED TIES WITH DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATIONS SUCH AS THE ICFTU. NEVERTHELESS, OVER THE YEARS IT SHOULD HAVE BECOME OBVIOUS THAT THE PRINCIPLES ESPOUSED BY THESE INDIVIDUALS AND THOSE OF TRUE DEMOCRATS IN SUCH ORGANIZATIONS AS THE ICFTU, WERE MILES APART. ICFTU SUPPORT FOR

THE CNS, PARTICULARLY THAT WHICH GOES TO COMMNUNISTS, RELIEVES THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF ITS RESPONSIBILITY CONCERNING ITS MEMBERS WHILE PROVIDING NO BENEFIT TO FREE AND DEMOCRATIC TRADE UNIONS IN CHILE. IF THE RETURN OF THE AFL-CIO TO THE ICFTU WAS TO RESULT IN SOME POSITIVE ICFTU SUPPORT FOR AUTHENTIC FREE AND DEMOCRATIC UNION, WE HAVE YET TO SEE ANY CONCRETE STEPS IN THAT DIRECTION IN CHILE. 1. (U) ON JULY 16, A SANTIAGO JUDGE ORDERED THE UNDONDITIONAL RELEASE FROM JAIL OF FIVE MEMBERS OF THE COMMUNIST-DOMINATED NATIONAL LABOR COORDINATOR (CNS). THE FIVE INCLUDE MARIA ROZAS AND ANSELMO NAVARRETE, ON WHOSE BEHALF THE ICFTU ASKED THE ILO TO INTERVENE (REFTEL), BECAUSE OF ALLEGATIONS THAT THEY HAD BEEN TORTURED. ALL HAD BEEN ACCUSED BY THE GOC OF VIOLATING INTERNAL SECURITY LAWS IN CONNECTION WITH THE PROTEST AGAINST THE GOC WHICH OCCURRED JULY 12. THEY WERE PICKED UP BY MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL INFORMATION CENTER (CNI) ON JULY 7 AT CNS HEADQUARTERS, WHERE 100,000 BULLETINS SUPPORTING THE PROTEST WERE REPORTEDLY FOUND. ALL HAD BEEN HELD INCOMMUNICADO SINCE THEIR ARREST.

2. (LOU) TWO WOMEN MEMBERS OF THE CNS CALLED ON LABATT JULY 14 REQUESTING EMBASSY INTERVENTION WITH GOC AUTHORITIES ON BEHALF OF ROZAS AND NAVARRETE AND THE THREE OTHERS. THEY CLAIMED AT THE TIME THAT ROZAS HAD BEEN TORTURED, BUT BECAME DEFENSIVE AND UNCERTAIN WHEN ASKED HOW THEY KNEW SINCE SHE HAD BEEN HELD INCOMMUNI-CADO, AND THUS UNABLE TO SPEAK WITH ANYONE EXCEPT GOC AND JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES. ROZAS, INTERVIEWED BY THE PRESS AND RADIO ON HER RELEASE, SAID SHE WAS DELIGHTED TO BE OUT OF JAIL, AND WOULD CONTINUE TO FIGHT FOR THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY IN CHILE AND WOULD CONTINUE TO MILITATE IN THE CNS. SHE MADE NO MENTION OF TORTURE OR MISTREATMENT.

3. (C) SPOKESMEN FOR THE CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION AND THE CATHOLIC CHURCH'S VICARIA DE SOLIDARIDAD INFORMED THE EMBASSY THAT THEY WERE AWARE OF SUCH CHARGES OF TORTURE AND

WERE INVESTIGATING. THEY SAID THEY WERE UNABLE TO CONFIRM OR DENY THE CHARGES AT THIS TIME.

4. (C) COMMENT: WE HAVE NO FURTHER INFORMATION ON THESE CASES BUT WILL BE ALERT TO NEW DEVELOPMENTS. PENDING NEW EVIDENCE, IT APPEARS THAT OPPONENTS OF THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT HAVE ATTEMPTED TO MAKE POLITICAL USE OF THE ARRESTS IN ORDER TO STIMULATE NEW INTERNATIONAL PROTESTS AND PRESSURES ON THE GOC.

The personal representatives and survivors of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt ("judgment creditors") move pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Pr. 69 and N.Y.C.P.L.R. § 5228 for the appointment of Michael Moffitt as receiver of the property interests of the Republic of Chile in the Chilean national airline, Linea Aerea Nacional-Chile ("LAN"). The judgment against Chile was entered in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, and has been filed in this court pursuant to the requirements of 28 U.S.C. § 1963.

The action arose from the tragic deaths of Orlando Letelier, the former Chilean ambassador to the United States, and his secretary, Ronni Moffitt. The two were killed on September 21, 1976, in Washington, D.C., when the car in which they were driving exploded as the result of the detonation of a bomb which had been placed under the driver's seat. Investigations into the murders were conducted by, among others, the Federal Bureau of Investigation. ("FBI"), the Federal Aviation Administration ("FAA"), and the United States House of Representatives Subcommittee on Government Activities and Transportation.

The FBI investigation culminated in indictments against nine individuals. One, Michael Vernon Townley, a United States citizen employed by Direccion de Intelligencia Nacional ("DINA"), the Chilean intelligence agency, pled guilty to conspiracy to murder a foreign official. Three of the defendants were tried and convicted, but the convictions were reversed on appeal,[1/] after which, upon retrial, the jury acquitted. The remaining five defendants could not be tried because either Chile refused to extradite them or the FBI was unable to apprehend them.

The present action, a civil suit against the Republic of Chile, Townley, and the other defendants in the criminal action, was commenced in November, 1978. The complaint alleged that the individual defendants, acting at the direction and with the assistance of the Republic of Chile, caused the deaths of Letelier and Moffitt. None of the defendants answered the complaint, and defaults were entered against them. Subsequently, the Republic of Chile sent a "diplomatic note" and a memorandum of law to the Clerk of the Court via the Department of State, urging that the court lacked jurisdiction over Chile under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act of 1976, 28 U.S.C. § 1602 et seq. ("FSIA"). Despite what the court described as Chile's "unorthodox" means of communication with the court, the default was reopened to consider the jurisdictional arguments. After thorough analysis of the language and history of the FSIA, Chile was found amenable to jurisdiction under § 1605(a)(5) which allows the exercise of jurisdiction against foreign states "in any case ... in which money damages are sought against a foreign state for personal injury or death ... occurring in the United States and caused by the tortious act or omission of that foreign state." 488 F.Supp. 665, 669 (D.D.C. 1980)(Green, J.).

Under § 1608(e) of the FSIA, a judgment by default may not be entered against a foreign state unless "the claimant establishes his claim or right to relief by evidence satisfactory to the court." Accordingly, after the finding of jurisdiction was made, a hearing was held to allow for the submission of evidence to establish the plaintiffs' right to relief. No appearance was made by Chile. After reviewing the evidence, particularly Townley's testimony at the criminal trial, Judge Green concluded that it satisfactorily established that

> "employees of the Republic of Chile, acting within the scope of their employment and at the direction of Chilean officials who were acting within the scope of their office, committed tortious acts of assault and battery and negligent transportation and detonation of explosives that were the proximate cause of the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt."

502 F.Supp. 259, 266 (D.D.C. 1980). A default judgment was accordingly entered against Chile.

LAN, the garnishee-respondent on the present application, is a commercial airline wholly owned by the Republic of Chile. It has not been named as a defendant. No findings were made by Judge Green as to its role, if any, in the assassinations, with the exception of the observation that "[u]ncontradicted testimony demonstrated that facilities and personnel of LAN ... were used by Townley in connection with the preparation and carrying out of the assassination." 502 F.Supp. at 262.

However, inquiry was made into LAN's role by the House of Representatives Subcommittee on Government Activities and Transportation, whose findings are contained in a report entitled "Alleged Violations of U.S. Aviation Laws and Regulations by LAN Chile Airlines," H.R. Rep. No. 1157, 96th Cong., 2d Sess. (1980)("The Report"). The Report was based on a hearing at which the subcommittee heard testimony from the FBI, the United States Attorney's Office, the Department of State, the FAA, the Civil Aeronautics Board ("CAB"), and a representative of LAN, Fernando Cruchaga, the assistant station manager of LAN's Kennedy International Airport office at the time of the assassination. In addition, the subcommittee examined the transcripts of the criminal proceedings and the FAA and CAB's records concerning the events in question.

In the section of the Report entitled "The Relationship Between LAN Chile Airlines and the Letelier Assassination," the following points were made:

1. "[O]n numerous occasions LAN Chile Airlines was used by the assassins in ways which were illegal, and which created a serious threat to the safety and security of LAN Chile passengers and cargo." (Report at 4).

2. "In order to carry out the assassination, Townley (who was in Chile) had made arrangements to work with members of the Cuban Nationalist Movement ("CNM") in the United States.... Townley forwarded ... plastic explosives and ... TNT to the CNM via LAN." (Id.)

3. "[T]he CNM sent Townley ... paging devices which he modified to serve as remote control detonation for explosives which he later shipped back to the CNM. The paging devices were shipped to and from Chile via LAN ..." (Id.).

4. Townley flew to the United States via LAN on September 8, 1976, on a ticket issued under an alias, carrying "a substance which the FBI believes was lead trinitroresorcinate, a highly volatile, unstable, primary explosive, and several flash caps (used to ignite explosives)." (Report at 5).

5. Townley met with other DINA agents and a LAN employee on September 9, 1976, in the LAN VIP lounge, and "arranged ... to rent a car for them in New York under a false name." (Id.).

6. After placing the explosives in Letelier's car, Townley was unable to return to Chile under the alias by which he entered the country, so he "approached a LAN Chile pilot, Ronald Berger, who used his internal account to arrange for the issuance of a new ticket under ... another of Townley's fictitious identities." (Id.)

7. "LAN Chile personnel participated in a number of currency transactions that were undertaken in order to pay off various participants in the assassination scheme." (Id.)

Additional information concerning Townley's use of LAN in connection with the assassination is contained in the testimony of Townley at the criminal trial (Exhibit A to Affidavit of John Privitera in support of the motion), the testimony of Fernando Cruchaga, LAN's former assistant manager at the Kennedy International Airport facility, before the grand jury which indicted Townley and others (Exhibit B to Privitera Affidavit), and an interim FBI report on LAN's role in the assassination, dated January 25, 1980 (Exhibit C to Privitera Affidavit).

I.

Before delving into the parties' arguments, it is appropriate to review the present posture of the case. First, the current application is an attempt to execute on a judgment. Chile litigated the question of the trial court's jurisdiction; its arguments were rejected. It was given an opportunity to litigage the merits, but chose to default. No appeal has been taken from Judge Green's decisions.

Second, and of equal importance, the defendant in this action is the Republic of Chile, not LAN. LAN was never served with process in this action, and had no opportunity to offer evidence or cross-examine witnesses before Judge Green. Although LAN's activities and personnel have been the subjects of Congressional and FBI investigations, no findings against LAN have been made by a court of law in connection with the events out of which this action arose.

LAN argues that it is a separate juridical entity from the Republic of Chile and not liable for the Republic's debts. It asserts that the judgment creditors have made no showing which would warrant piercing the corporate veil between LAN and the Republic; and that the evidence proffered linking LAN to the assassinations is hearsay, lacking in trustworthiness, and even if credited, of little probative value. Moreover, LAN argues that even if it could be deemed liable on Chile's debt, the FSIA bars execution on LAN's assets. Finally, LAN contends that execution on LAN's assets to satisfy a judgment against Chile would violate LAN's right to due process of law, because LAN was not a party to the action in which liability was found.

The judgment creditors respond that LAN, as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Chile, is simply an asset of the Republic, and that, as judgment creditors of the Republic, they can levy on any of the Republic's assets. In the alternative, the judgment creditors assert that they are entitled to pierce the corporate veil and reach LAN's assets because the evidence produced reveals that, in carrying out the assassinations, Chile disregarded LAN's separate status and treated it as an alter ego. With respect to the FSIA, the judgment creditors contend that Chile's interest in LAN is leviable under § 1610(a)(2) which permits execution upon "property ... used for the commercial activity upon which the claim is based." Finally, the judgment creditors argue that LAN's due process rights are not violated by execution upon Chile's interest in LAN: Chile may, should it choose to do so, use LAN's assets to satisfy a Chilean debt, so LAN cannot complain if Chile is forced to use those assets for the same purpose.

II.

The question whether a foreign juridical entity may be held accountable for the acts and liabilities of its sovereign parent has been the subject of a recent ruling by the United States Supreme Court in First National City Bank v. Banco Para El Comercio Exterior de Cuba ("Bancec"), 51 U.S.L.W. 4820 (U.S. June 17, 1983). The Bancec decision is of profound importance to the difficult questions presented here, and bears close analysis.

The Bancec action arose from the issuance of an irrevocable letter of credit by First National City Bank ("Citibank") in favor of Bancec, a bank wholly owned by the Republic of Cuba, in August, 1980. Less than a month after the issuance of the letter of credit, Cuba nationalized Citibank's property through forced expropriation. Undaunted, Bancec brought suit on the letter of credit in February, 1961, in federal court in the United States. A few weeks after the filing of the complaint, Cuba dissolved

UNCLASSIFIED

Bancec and transferred its assets to the Cuban Ministry of Foreign Trade and Cuba's central bank, Banco Nacional de Cuba. Within the week, the assets were again transferred to another government entity, referred to as Empresa, and from it to the current holder, yet another juridical entity, referred to as Cubazucar. Cubazucar is a Cuban "trading company" which is apparently still in existence. Id. at 4822. A motion to substitute Cubazucar as plaintiff was denied by the district court because of concerns that it would further complicate the litigation.

Citibank admitted liability on the letter of credit. However, it sought to set off, against its liability, Cuba's liability to it for the assets seized in the nationalization. Bancec argued that both it and Cubazucar were separate juridical entities, and could not be held responsible for any liability that Cuba might have to Citibank.

The Court ruled that there is a presumption that "government instrumentalities established as juridical entities distinct and independent from their sovereign should normally be treated as such." Id. at 4824-25. However, the presumption may be overcome when, applying "internationally recognized equitable principles," it is necessary to do so to avoid injustice. Id. at 4826. The Court found that the presumption was overcome in Bancec because Bancec's assets had devolved upon the Cuban Ministry of Foreign Trade, making Cuba the real beneficiary of any recovery. "Giving effect to Bancec's separate juridical status in these circumstances, even though it has long been dissolved, would permit the real beneficiary of such an action, the ... Republic of Cuba, to obtain relief in our courts that it could not obtain in its own right without waiving its sovereign immunity and answering for the seizure of Citibank's assets ..." Id. Nor was the Court persuaded by the fact that Bancec's assets had been, since 1962, owned by Cubazucar, another independent juridical entity: "To hold otherwise would permit governments to avoid the requirements of international law simply by creating juridical entities whenever the need arises." Id.

Both parties argue that Bancec supports their respective positions. LAN emphasizes the ruling that juridical entities are to be presumed independent, and argues that even if all of the evidence proffered by the judgment creditors were accepted as truth, it would not demonstrate that LAN is an "alter ego" of the Republic. The judgment creditors rely on the ruling that equitable principles control, and urge that, under traditional equitable principles, Chile's disregard of the separateness of the corporate entity as demonstrated by its abuse of LAN to carry out the assassination suffices to warrant a "piercing of the juridical veil."

If the evidence proffered by the judgment creditors is to be credited, and we defer momentarily the question of the admissibility and weight of the proofs submitted, it indicates that Chile used LAN to carry out the assassination. There is evidence that LAN was used to transport the assassin back and forth, to transport explosives on several occasions, and to assist with currency transactions involved in paying off the co-conspirators. The LAN VIP lounge was used as a meeting place for the co-conspirators, and a LAN pilot used his "internal account" to arrange for Townley to exit the United States under an alias after the assassination. If these events occurred, and we make no finding at this time as to whether or not they did, they constitute significant steps in the conspiracy. If Chile used LAN in these respects, we believe that would constitute a gross abuse of the corporate form.

LAN's argument that even the sum of the facts set forth above does not make LAN an "alter ego" of Chile misses the point. The Supreme Court did not find that Bancec or Cubazucar were "shams" or alter egoes of Cuba; in fact, the Court explicity warned against placing excessive emphasis on such "epithets," id. at 4824, or "mechanical formulas," id. at 4826. Instead, the Court concluded that, under the circumstances presented, it would violate internationally accepted equitable principles to adhere to the corporate form.

We conclude that it would violate similar equitable principles to adhere to the corporate form in the instant action if the facts are as asserted by the judgment creditors. As the record presently stands, the judgment creditors have made a threshold showing that Chile used LAN to facilitate the events in question. If Chile ignored LAN's separate existence in accomplishing the wrong, it may not now invoke that separate existence in order to deny the injured a remedy.[2/]

* * * * * *

We turn now to the question of the admissibility and weight of the evidence in the present record. Much of the evidence appears admissible under various exceptions to the hearsay rule. For example, Congressional reports and statements by various government agencies at House hearings are admissible under F.R.E. 803(8)(C) as reports or statements of public agencies setting forth "factual findings resulting from an investigation made pursuant to authority granted by law." However, the Rule explicitly provides that such statements are inadmissible if "circumstances indicate lack of trustworthiness." Similarly, LAN assistant manager Cruchaga's testimony before the House is admissible as a statement by LAN's "agent or servant concerning a matter within the scope of his agency or employment, made during the existence of the relationship" under F.R.E. 801(d)(2)(D).

While we consider seriously LAN's contentions that the House Report and Hearings are lacking in trustworthiness,[3/] we believe that the "[j]ustification for the exception [--] the assumption that a public official will perform his duty properly," Advisory Committee Notes to Exceptions 803(8) -- must be particularly strong in the case of the report of a subcommittee of the United States House of Representatives, and that a substantial showing must be made to support the contention that "circumstances indicate lack of trustworthiness."

In any event, the record as it stands is inadequate to prove either that Chile did intentionally use LAN to facilitate the assassination or that it did not. While the showing against Chile is considerable, in a matter of this significance a more fully developed record is appropriate, if not essential. The applicable rules provide the means for discovery in aid of execution.[4/]

It should be emphasized that if Chile failed to comply with the judgment creditors' relevant and reasonable discovery demands, and, in effect, defaulted on this second "bite at the apple," the judgment creditors would be entitled to invoke the ordinary rules of evidence and the sanctions provided in Fed. R. Civ. Pr. 37(b).

III.

As an alternative theory, the judgment creditors argue that, without a showing that would warrant piercing the corporate veil, a judgment creditor is entitled to levy on any assets of its judgment debtor, including corporate shares. Should the judgment debtor be the sole owner of a corporation, the creditor could levy on all of the shares and then liquidate the company. If the shares are secreted, judgment creditors assert, the creditor should be allowed to reach the assets directly. Here, where Chile's ownership in LAN is not represented by shares, the judgment creditors argue that the same principle applies.

LAN argues that the assets of a corporate entity are not subject to execution unless the requirements for piercing the corporate veil are met. Even if such requirements were met here, LAN continues, LAN is not a state-owned corporation analogous to a wholly-owned American subsidiary company; rather, it is an independent juridical entity.

The judgment creditors are correct that under New York law, a judgment creditor may satisfy his judgment by levying on shares of stock owned by the judgment debtor. Claude Neon, Inc. v. Birrell, 177 F.Supp. 706, 711 (S.D.N.Y. 1959). A court will order the debtor, or his transferee if the shares have been transferred, to "turn over" the shares to the judgment creditor. Clarkson Co. Ltd. v. Shaheen, 540 F.Supp. 636 (S.D.N.Y. 1982); Jack London Productions, Inc. v. Samuel Bronston Productions, Inc., 23 A.D.2d 870, 254 N.Y.S.2d 309 (1st Dept. 1964); Udell v. Udell, 370 N.Y.S.2d 426 (N.Y.C. Civ. Ct. 1975).

However, allowing execution on LAN's assets under this theory alone, without any further proof, ignores the Bancec analysis of the role of government instrumentalities. After a discussion of the importance to governments, particularly governments of developing countries, of the presumption of separate juridical entities, the Court states:

> "Freely ignoring the separate status of government instrumentalities would result in substantial uncertainty over whether an instrumentality's assets would be diverted to satisfy the claim against a sovereign, and might thereby cause third parties to hesitate before extending credit to a government instrumentality without the government's guarantee."

51 U.S.L.W. at 4824. Acceptance of the judgment creditors' "equitable ownership" theory would "result in substantial uncertainty over whether an instrumentality's assets [may] be diverted to satisfy [a] claim against the sovereign," and, accordingly, the theory must be rejected in the circumstances of this case.

IV.

Having determined that, on an appropriate showing, LAN's assets may be levied upon as Chile's to satisfy the present judgment, the question remains whether execution against Chile's assets is permissible under the FSIA, 28 U.S.C. § 1602 et seq. The FSIA, enacted in 1976, provides that unless the action is within one of the specified exceptions, a foreign sovereign is immune from the assertion of federal and state jurisdiction. Sections 1605-1607 set forth the circumstances under which immunity is lifted for purposes of liability; sections 1610-1611 enumerate the circumstances in which assets of a foreign sovereign are without immunity from attachment or execution to satisfy a judgment. Sections 1610-1611 are more limited than sections 1605-1607; that is, only certain assets of a foreign sovereign may be levied upon to satisfy a judgment which is validly entered under 1605-1607.

The judgment creditors argue that they may execute upon Chile's interests in LAN under § 1610(a)(2), which provides:

> "The property in the United States of a foreign state, ... used for a commercial activity in the United States, shall not be immune from attachment in aid of execution, or from execution, ... if -- ... the property is or was used for the commercial activity upon which the claim is based."

It has been established above that LAN's United States assets will be deemed "[t]he property in the United States of a foreign state," Chile, if an appropriate showing is made as set forth in section II of this opinion. Further, it is undisputed that the airplanes on which the judgment creditors seek to execute are "used for a commercial activity in the United States." The applicability and interpretation of the remaining provisions of the section, however, are subject to vigorous dispute.

LAN argues that § 1610(a)(2) is unavailable to the judgment creditors because they secured their judgment under the jurisdictional provision allowing for tort claims, § 1605(a)(5), as opposed to the jurisdictional provision for commercial claims, § 1605(a)(2). In addition, LAN argues that even if § 1610(a)(2) is available to the judgment creditors, its terms are not met because LAN's conduct, even if proven, is not "commercial activity," and, even if it is commercial activity, it is not "the commercial activity upon which the claim is based."

The judgment creditors answer that there is no indication in the statute that § 1610(a)(2) execution was intended to be unavailable for tort claims, and that, in any event, they did not assert jurisdiction solely on the basis of the tort provision, § 1605(a)(5). They further argue that the activities of LAN on which the claim is based are commercial activities -- in fact, that they are the standard commercial activities of an airline --providing and assisting with the air transport of passengers and their baggage. In addition, they argue that LAN advocates too narrow an interpretation of the words "upon which the claim was based": the judgment creditors propose that any activity which was a significant step in giving rise to the cause of action is an activity "upon which the claim is based."

One would be hard pressed to exaggerate the difficulty of interpreting the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act. As Judge Kaufman recently explained, the statute was deliberately left vague, so as to provide only "'very modest guidance' on issues of preeminent importance. For answers to these most difficult questions, the authors of the law 'decided to put [their] faith in the U.S. courts.'" Texas Trading & Milling Corp. v. Federal Republic of Nigeria, 647 F.2d 300, 302, 303 (2d Cir. 1981), quoting Hearings on H.R.

One point that does emerge clearly from the legislative history, however, is that the burden of establishing FSIA immunity lies with the party claiming it. H.R. Rep. No. 94-1487, 94th Cong., 2d Sess., reprinted in [1976] U.S. Code Cong. & Admin. News 6604.

A. Are §§ 1610(a)(2) and 1605(a)(5) "Mutually Exclusive?"

As noted above, LAN argues that a plaintiff who asserts jurisdiction under the tort section, 1605(a)(5), may not collect on his judgment under § 1610(a)(2), which LAN contends is available only in commercial cases.[5/]

As an initial matter, there is nothing logically inconsistent about the judgment creditors' contention that the same asset can be used simultaneously in both tortious and commercial activity. Any number of activities may be both commercial and tortious, such as, for example, the conduct giving rise to a garden-variety products liability suit. Thus, the fact that Congress indicated in § 1610(a)(2) its intent to permit execution only on commercial assets used for commercial activities does not, by itself, demonstrate an intent to preclude § 1610(a)(2) from being available to satisfy claims grounded in tort, so long as the assets on which the judgment creditor seeks to execute were also used commercially in the activity giving rise to the claim.

LAN is correct that there is a strong verbal similarity between the provision lifting jurisdictional immunity in commercial cases, § 1605(a)(2)[6/] and the provision in question, § 1610(a)(2), which lifts execution immunity as to commercial assets. However, the verbal similarity between the two sections is not dispositive because a statute must be read and interpreted as a whole.

In addition to the exception to execution immunity in § 1610(a)(2) for "property used for the commercial activity upon which the claim is based," the statute also excepts from execution immunity a foreign sovereign's assets where the judgment in question established rights to property:

(a) which was taken in violation of international law, § 1610(a)(3);

(b) which was acquired by succession or gift, § 1610(a)(4)(A); or

(c) which is "immovable," § 1610(a)(4)(B).

A foreign sovereign's assets may also be executed upon if the sovereign has waived its execution immunity, § 1610(a)(1), or, to the extent of its insurance coverage, if the sovereign has taken out a liability insurance policy covering the claim in question, § 1610(a)(5). Nothing in the statute, of course, requires a sovereign to acquire liability insurance.

Viewing the statute as a whole, one notes that, if LAN's interpretation of the statute were correct, a judgment creditor on a tort claim could not execute upon his judgment unless the foreign sovereign magnanimously chose to waive its execution immunity or to take out insurance in order to satisfy possible judgments from which it would otherwise be immune from execution. Having determined to grant jurisdiction in both commercial and tort claims, it appears out of joint to conclude that Congress intended the surprising result of allowing only commercial creditors to execute on their judgments.

While both parties' interpretations of the literal language of § 1610(a)(2) are supportable, we favor the judgment creditors' interpretation because, in the absence of a clear indication of Congressional intent, a statute is not ordinarily interpreted to create a right without a remedy.[7/] Accordingly, we conclude that § 1610(a)(2) and 1605(a)(5) are not mutually exclusive.

B. Is LAN's Conduct "Commercial Activity?"

Section 1610(a)(2) allows for execution only on assets used in the "commercial activity upon which the claim is based." The commercial activity on which the judgment creditors rely is LAN's assistance to and transportation of Townley and his lethal equipment. LAN argues that any services it provided to Townley and his cohorts were noncommercial because (a) according to the judgment creditors' view of the facts, the services were provided at the government's behest, which, it is claimed, makes them noncommercial under Arango v. Guzman Travel Advisors Corp., 621 F.2d 1371 (5th Cir. 1980); and (b) services for which a corporation does not receive compensation are by definition noncommercial. The judgment creditors respond that carriage of passengers and goods is the archetypal commercial activity of an airline, and that the issues whether LAN acted at government direction and whether LAN was compensated go to the reasons for the activity, which, under the statutory language, are not pertinent.

"Commercial activity" is defined by the statute as follows:

> "A 'commercial activity' means either a regular course of commercial conduct or a particular commercial transaction or act. The commercial character of an activity shall be determined by reference to the nature of the course of conduct or particular transaction or act, rather than by reference to its purpose."

28 U.S.C. § 1603(d). (Emphasis added). The statutory admonition to look to the "nature of the course of conduct ... rather than ... its purpose" firmly supports the judgment creditors' position that the issue is what LAN did, not why they did it.

The question of what constitutes commercial activity under the FSIA has been the subject of several decisions in this Circuit, the seminal case being Texas Trading, supra, in which Judge Kaufman provided the following rule of thumb: "if the activity is one in which a private person could engage, it is not entitled to immunity" as noncommercial activity. 647 F.2d at 309. Texas Trading involved Nigeria's breach of a contract to buy cement. The court ruled: "Nigeria's activity here is in the nature of a private contract for the purchase of goods. Its purpose -- to build roads, army barracks, whatever -- is irrelevant." Id. at 310.

Further elaboration of the "commercial activity" concept is provided by Gibbons v. Udaras na Gaeltachta, 549 F.Supp. 1094 (S.D.N.Y. 1982). Gibbons concerned an action against two instrumentalities of the Republic of Ireland that established an office in the United States to encourage American companies to open plants in Ireland. As a defense against claims by American businesses which alleged that they had been fraudulently induced to relocate in Ireland, the entities contended that their activities -- arranging government grants, facilitating relations with Irish companies, promoting investment in Ireland -- were not "commercial activities," but rather governmental activities, intended, not for profit, but to foster the Irish government's goals. Applying Judge Kaufman's rule of thumb, the court found that the entities were involved in "commercial activity":

> "While it may well be ... that IDA exists in order to serve a purpose integral to the Irish government's plans ... the promotional activities that IDA ... allegedly engaged in here are, by nature, no different at all from the promotional activities engaged by a private public relations firm."

UNCLASSIFIED

549 F.Supp. at 1110 (emphasis in original). See also United Euram Corp. v. U.S.S.R., 461 F.Supp. 609 (S.D.N.Y. 1978)(action of Soviet "concert society" in arranging to send Soviet artists abroad pursuant to American-Soviet cultural exchange agreement is "commercial activity" because the nature of the activity is the sale of services).

Having reviewed the precedent on point in this Circuit, we turn to the cases decided in other circuits upon which LAN relies, in particular, Arango v. Guzman Travel Advisors Corp., supra, and Perez v. The Bahamas, 482 F.Supp. 1208 (D.D.C. 1980), aff'd 652 F.2d 186 (D.C. Cir.), cert. denied, 454 U.S. 865 (1981). Arango was a suit by Americans who had signed up for a package vacation tour in the Dominican Republic, but who, upon arrival in Santo Domingo, were forcibly placed back on the airplane by Dominican immigration officials and airline personnel, and sent, against their will, to Puerto Rico. The court held that their claims for false imprisonment and battery involved noncommercial conduct, but that their claim for nonperformance of the package vacation tour was commercial.

The result in Arango is entirely consistent with Judge Kaufman's rule of thumb: a private person, acting without government sanction, could not force someone onto an airplane and deport him to a foreign country. Such action is not commercial -- it may be criminal. Nor would it be of consequence that the private actor had been paid a fee: kidnapping, if that is what it was, for profit would still be kidnapping.

To the extent that the Arango decision turned on the court's view that the activities were noncommercial because performed at the behest of the government, the case is not persuasive. In the first place, such a rationale would not even be consistent within the Arango decision itself: cancellation of the package vacation tour was equally at the behest of the government, yet it was deemed commercial.

More important to deem an activity "commercial" on the grounds that it is performed at the government's behest would be inconsistent with the statute, which requires the court to look at what the defendant did, not whether he did it to follow the government's instructions or for any other reason. For that matter, the cancellation of the cement contracts in Texas Trading was done at government behest, yet it was deemed commercial activity.

Little additional comment is needed on Perez v. The Bahamas, supra, an action arising from the Bahamian marine police shooting at an American fishing boat suspected of violating Bahamian fishing laws. Again, the conduct of the Bahamian police in shooting at a fishing boat is not an activity "in which a private person could engage," Texas Trading, supra.

Applying the case law cited above to the circumstances at issue, we conclude that LAN's actions in assisting and transporting Townley are "commercial activity" within the meaning of the FSIA. Transporting and assisting a passenger is an activity in which a private person could engage; LAN's motives are of no relevance on this point.

Nor is it pertinent whether or not LAN received a fee for its various tasks.[8/] For the purpose of the statute, noncommercial activity is not converted into commercial activity by the receipt of compensation; a private person cannot shoot at another fishing boat whether he is paid to do so or not. The reverse is also true: commerical airlines routinely assist passengers beyond the requirements of the contract of passage, by, for example, arranging car rentals, allowing them to use airline lounges, and permitting them to carry excess baggage on board the plane. Because such actions are actions "in which a private person could engage," the fact that Townley may not have paid a fee does not make the nature of the conduct noncommercial. See Gibbons v. Udaras va Gaeltachta, supra, 549 F.Supp. at 1110.

C. Is LAN's Conduct "The Commercial Activity Upon Which the Claim is Based?"

LAN argues that the "activity upon which the claim is based" should be interpreted to mean the central or pivotal activity on which the claim is based, which, in this case, is the assassination itself.

The judgment creditors urge a broader reading of the statute: they argue that any activity from which the claim arose may serve as the "basis" of the claim for the purposes of §1610(a)(2).

No authority has been found on the interpretation of this aspect of § 1610(a)(2). However, several cases have construed the similar phrase, "based upon commercial activity," that appears in FSIA § 1605(a)(2):

> "A foreign state shall not be immune from the jurisdiction of courts of the United States ... in any case ... in which the action is based upon a commercial activity carried on in the United States by a foreign state."

The courts of this Circuit have given a very broad reading to the question of whether an action is "based upon" a given activity. Gemini Shipping, Inc. v. Foreign Trade Organization, 647 F.2d 317 (2d Cir. 1981)(Kaufman, J.), was an action by a vessel charterer against the owner of the vessel's cargo for demurrage incurred as a result of a 115-day delay in a Syrian port. The cargo owner had guaranteed that it would pay for all demurrages. The cargo, rice, had been purchased by two Syrian instrumentalities through bids solicited in the United States under the "P.L. 480" food purchase program, 7 U.S.C. 1691 et seq. The district court ruled that the claim was not "based upon a commercial activity carried on in the United States by a foreign state" under § 1605(a)(2), because the vessel charterer was not involved in the purchase and sale of the rice, and that there was thus "no nexus between the demurrages and the guarantee thereof and such activities as the plaintiff would ascribe to the defendant occurring in the United States." 496 F. Supp. 256, 258 (S.D.N.Y. 1980).

The Court of Appeals rejected the district court's interpretation of the basis of the claim as being too "niggardly." 647 F.2d at 319. The court ruled that the charterer's suit for demurrages was "'based upon' the commercial activity because the guarantee [of the demurrages] was part and parcel of the rice sale." Id.

The Second Circuit has recently affirmed the Gemini interpretation of "based upon" in Ministry of Supply v. Universe Tankships, Inc., No. 83-7106 (2d Cir. May 23, 1983)(Friendly, J.). Ministry of Supply concerned a complaint by the charterer of a vessel against the Egyptian Ministry of Supply. The charterer alleged that the Ministry had "wrongfully halted the discharge [of the vessel] at Port Said[, Egypt] and thus wrongfully denied [the charterer] its rightful use of the vessel." Slip op. at 4017. The Ministry, like the Syrian instrumentalities in Gemini, had purchased the cargo which was on the vessel through the United States P.L. 480 program, which involved actions by the Ministry in the United States. The court found that the Ministry was subject to jurisdiction under § 1605(a)(2) because the charterer's claim that the Ministry "wrongfully halted the discharge" in Egypt was "'based upon' [the Ministry's] entire course of activity in arranging in the United States for the purchase of the wheat and its transportation to Egypt, not simply on the acts done (or not done) by [the Ministry] in the course of unloading at Port Said." Slip op. at 4020.

The Third Circuit has taken an even broader view of the "basis" of an FSIA claim. In Sugarman v. Aeromexico, Inc., 626 F.2d 270 (3d Cir. 1980), an American traveler claimed that he had been forced to endure 15 hours in a Mexican airport "under extremely brutal conditions" because Aeromexico, from whom he had purchased a ticket, had failed to "exercise due care." The district court held that jurisdiction as to Aeromexico did not lie under § 1605(a)(2) because the action was not based on commercial activity in the United States, but rather a tort in Mexico. The Third Circuit reversed, stating:

> "The record contains ... information which tends to show a nexus between Sugarman's grievance and Aeromexico's commercial activity carried on in the United States."

626 F.2d at 272 (emphasis added). See also In re Rio Grande Transport, Inc., 516 F.Supp. 1155, 1161-62 (S.D.N.Y. 1981)(Pierce, J.)(action on collision between two ships in the Mediterranean sea "based upon a commercial activity carried on in the United States" because the defendant's vessels called regularly at United States ports).

These decisions compel the conclusion that LAN's interpretation of the phrase "activity upon which the claim is based" as including only the central or pivotal activity is too "niggardly," in the words of the Court of Appeals in Gemini. The judgment creditors' claim here is "based upon the entire course of activity," Ministry of Supply, supra, at 4020, in arranging, facilitating, and carrying out the assassination. The record indicates a substantial "nexus" between the judgment creditors' grievance and LAN's commercial activity. See Sugarman v. Aeromexico, supra, at 272.

For the reasons stated above, we conclude that § 1610(a)(2) lifts execution immunity from LAN and the Republic of Chile in the circumstances of this case.

V.

LAN's final argument is that permitting execution against its assets to satisfy Chile's liability would violate due process because LAN had no opportunity to defend on the merits against the judgment creditors' claim. This position has been implicitly rejected by the discussion above concerning piercing the corporate veil; that is, if internationally recognized principles of equity require the piercing of the corporate veil, it follows that general notions of due process are not thereby offended.

Moreover, if due process precluded execution on LAN's assets, it would equally have precluded the result in Bancec. To reiterate briefly, Citibank was permitted to assert against Bancec a debt owed to Citibank by the Republic of Cuba, although Bancec was not a party to any proceedings adjudicating the liability of Cuba to Citibank. We are confident that the Supreme Court would not have allowed Citibank's set-off against Bancec had it violated

UNCLASSIFIED

Bancec's due process rights, and we see no basis for distinguishing LAN's position in this respect from Bancec's.

* * * * * *

Conclusion

As we have observed above, the record is incomplete as to whether Chile's conduct was such that, under the analysis of Section II, supra, it would warrant disregarding LAN's separate juridical status. Accordingly, decision on the application is reserved pending submission of a more fully developed record.[9/] It bears repeating that, should Chile default on its obligations to produce pertinent witnesses and documents, the ordinary presumptions against a party that fails to produce evidence could be invoked.

It is so ordered.

FOOTNOTES

1. The opinion of the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, United States v. Sampol, 636 F. 2d 621 (D.C. Cir. 1980), contains a lengthy description of the evidence adduced at trial concerning the Letelier assassination.

2. Surely the equitable principle involved here is at least as strong as that invoked by the Court in Bancec, where the only connection with the central government of Cuba was a period of less than a week during which Bancec's assets passed through the Cuban Ministry of Foreign Trade.

3. LAN argues that the House Report is not based on first-hand knowledge, and that the information on which it is based is of dubious credibility.

4. Rule 69, Fed. R. Civ. Pr., provides that "[i]n aid of the judgment or execution, the judgment creditor ... may obtain discovery from any person ... in the manner provided in these rules or in the manner provided by the practice of the state in which the district court is held."

5. It is unnecessary to dwell at length on the judgment creditors' argument that jurisdiction of the action was not based solely on § 1605(a)(5). Judge Green's decision opinion finding jurisdiction discussed only § 1605(a)(5). 488 F.Supp. 665. While it may be that, as the judgment creditors contend, Judge Green focused on § 1605(a)(5) because that was the provision to which Chile's memorandum of law addressed itself, the fairer reading of the opinion is that jurisdiction was found to be available under § 1605(a)(5) without consideration of the other possible bases.

6. Section 1605(a)(2) provides "A foreign state shall not be immune from the jurisdiction of courts of the United States ... in any case ... in which the action is based upon a commercial activity carried on in the United Statess by a foreign state."

7. The fact that the statute, as interpreted by LAN, would allow tort creditors to collect on judgments where foreign sovereigns had waived their immunity or taken out insurance in favor of possible claimants is hardly persuasive. Had Congresss intended tort victims to be relegated to relying on the munificence of foreign sovereigns, it would have been unlikely to lift sovereign immunity over tort claims. The ordinary assumption is that where one has a legal right to sue, he will have a legal right to collect.

8. The record does not establish whether or not Townley paid LAN.

9. It is unnecessary to reach, at this time, the question whether appointment of a receiver is the appropriate mechanism for execution on this judgment. However, there appears to be considerable merit to the judgment creditors' approach. See generally, 6 New York Civil Practice, J. Weinstein, H. Korn, & A. Miller, ¶ 5228.04 (1982 ed.)(standards for appointment of a receiver).

1. SUMMARY: THE EMBASSY CONTINUES TO RECEIVE SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN THE GUATEMALAN COUNTRYSIDE. AMONG RECENT AREAS OF CONCERN ARE SOUTH-CENTRAL EL QUICHE AND THE BORDER AREAS OF HUEHUETENANGO AND SAN MARCOS. FOR INSTANCE, SENATOR KASSENBAUM (R-KANSAS) INSERTED A STATEMENT INTO THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD ON JUNE 16, EXPRESSING CONCERN ABOUT AN UNCONFIRMED

A CANADIAN HUMAN RIGHTS GROUP, THE INTER-CHURCH COMMITTEE ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN LATIN AMERICA, RELEASED A REPORT ON MAY 9 ALLEGING A "MASS SLAUGHTER" IN A VILLAGE IDENTIFIED AS "XORAXAJ", ALSO IN EL QUICHE. THIS MASSACRE WAS SAID TO HAVE OCCURRED ON APRIL 15. THE TOWN OF XEABAJ, EL QUICHE, WAS ALSO IDENTIFIED TO THE EMBASSY AS A SITE OF A PURPORTED MASSACRE.

2. REPORTS FROM THE BORDER AREA HAVE ALSO BEEN DISTURBING. AMERICAN AND MEXICAN PRESS ITEMS HAVE ALLEGED THAT GUATEMALANS CONTINUE TO FLEE TO MEXICO, ALMOST ALL THE STORIES ASSERTING THAT GOVERNMENT SECURITY FORCES HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR THE FLOW OF REFUGEES. IN LIGHT OF THE ABOVE ALLEGATIONS, THE EMBASSY HAS RECENTLY INVESTIGATED THE FOLLOWING VILLAGES IN EL QUICHE, HUEHUETENANGO AND SAN MARCOS: JOYABAJ, XEABAJ, CHORRAXAJ, SANTA ROSA CHUCUYUB, XUMANZANA, SAN RAFAEL CHICHOP AND PACHALUM IN EL QUICHE; HUEHUETENANGO PROPER, CHIANTLA, AGUA ZARLA AND GRACIAS A DIOS IN HUEHUETENANGO; AND, FINALLY, MALACATAN IN SAN MARCOS. THE EMBASSY FOUND NO EVIDENCE OF RECENT HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN THE ABOVE VILLAGES OF EL QUICHE. ON THE BORDER IN HUEHUETENANGO AND SAN MARCOS, VILLAGERS WERE PLAGUED BY RATHER CONSTANT GUERRILLA INCURSIONS FROM MEXICO AND ONE VILLAGE, AGUA ZARCA, HAD IN LATE MAY FOUGHT OFF A BAND OF INSURGENTS. FOUR VILLAGERS WERE KILLED IN THE ACTION. END SUMMARY.

UNCLASSIFIED

3. IN EL QUICHE, THE EMBASSY HAD PICKED UP REPORTS OF ALLEGED MASSACRES IN OR AROUND THE TOWNS OF XEABAJ AND "XORAXAJ". THE FORMER TOWN WAS VISITED ON APRIL 19, 1983, AND WAS THE SUBJECT OF A SEPARATE EMBASSY MESSAGE (GUATEMALA 3091). THE MAJOR PROBLEM IN THE AREA OF XEABAJ HAS BEEN AND IS ROVING BANDS OF EGP GUERRILLAS. THE ONLY RECENT VIOLENCE IN XEABAJ WAS ON APRIL 5 WHEN THE LOCAL CIVIL DEFENSE PATROL ATTEMPTED TO INTERCEPT A BAND OF 20 WELL-ARMED GUERRILLAS. THE VILLAGERS, HAVING AT THAT TIME BUT ONE SHOTGUN AMONG THE LOT OF THEM, WERE ROUTED IN SHORT ORDER. THE VILLAGERS TOLD AN EMBASSY OFFICER THAT THIS SAME GUERRILLA BAND LATER KILLED 13 PEOPLE IN AND AROUND THE

SMALL FARMS SCATTERED THROUGHOUT THE AREA.

4. MORE PERSISTENT AND HENCE MORE TROUBLESOME WERE ALLEGATIONS OF A MASSACRE OF MORE THAN 100 PEOPLE IN A VILLAGE CALLED "XORAXAJ", LIKE XEABAJ LOCATED IN THE MUNICIPALITY OF JOYABAJ. THE INTER-CHURCH COMMITTEE ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN LATIN AMERICA, A CANADIAN HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION, ISSUED A NEWS RELEASE ON MAY 9, 1983, ALLEGING THAT "MORE THAN 100 MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN" WERE KILLED BY THE GUATEMALAN ARMY IN "XORAXAJ" ON APRIL 15, 1983. THE NEWS RELEASE SAID THAT TESTIMONY TO THIS MASSACRE "HAD BEEN PREPARED BY EVANGELICAL CHRISTIANS WITH DIRECT KNOWLEDGE OF THE EVENTS DESCRIBED". THIS RELEASE, COMBINED WITH SENATOR KASSENBAUM'S STATEMENT OF CONCERN ABOUT A PURPORTED MASSACRE IN EL QUICHE, LED THE EMBASSY TO CONDUCT AN INVESTIGATION OF THIS INCIDENT.

5. THE MOST IMMEDIATE PROBLEM WAS FINDING "XORAXAJ", AS NO TOWN BY THAT NAME EXISTS. NO MAP OR GEOGRAPHICAL GAZETEER CONTAINED SUCH A NAME. THERE WAS, HOWEVER, A TOWN CALLED CHORRAXAJ NEAR JOYABAJ WHICH, WHEN PRONOUNCED, SOUNDS VERY MUCH LIKE "XORAXAJ". AN EMBASSY OFFICER VISITED CHORRAXAJ ON JULY 8. THE TOWN ITSELF

UNCLASSIFIED

CONSISTED OF NO MORE THAN FOUR OR FIVE BUILDINGS, A SCHOOLHOUSE AND THE OUTLYING FARMS. THE CHILDREN WERE IN SCHOOL, THE MEN WERE WORKING THE FIELDS OR OUT ON PATROL AND THERE WAS NO SIGN OF RECENT VIOLENCE. THE VILLAGERS CONFIRMED THIS IMPRESSION. SOME NEIGHBORING HAMLETS HAD HAD TROUBLE WITH GUERRILLAS IN THE PAST FEW MONTHS, BUT EVEN THESE ACTIONS WERE BEING REDUCED. IT WAS CLEAR THAT NO MASSACRE OF ANY TYPE HAD TAKEN PLACE IN CHORRAXAJ.

6. THE EMBASSY WAS SUBSEQUENTLY ABLE TO PROVE THAT "XORAXAJ" WAS INDEED CHORRAXAJ. THE JUNE 15,1983 NUMBER OF "NOTICIAS DE GUATEMALA", A PRO-GUERRILLA PUBLICATION, CARRIED AN ALLEGATION OF AN APRIL 15 MASSACRE OF MORE THAN 100 PEOPLE IN CHORRAXAJ. WHAT IS MORE, THE ALLEGATION OF THE PRO-GUERRILLA NEWS SHEET WAS WORD FOR WORD THE SAME AS THAT OF THE CANADIAN HUMAN RIGHTS GROUP, ONLY THE SPELLING OF THE TOWN DIFFERED. "NOTICIAS" GAVE THE

SOURCE OF THE STORY AS THE "GUATEMALAN PEACE AND JUSTICE COMMITTEE", ANOTHER ORGANIZATION RATHER INCLINED TO THE GUERRILLA CAUSE. IN ANY CASE, THE ALLEGATION PROVED FALSE; UNFORTUNATELY, IT WAS ALSO WIDESPREAD AND GIVEN CREDENCE BY ORGANIZATIONS WITH AN INTEREST IN HUMAN RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA.

7. EMBASSY OFFICERS ALSO VISITED THE TOWNS OF SANTA ROSA CHUCUYUB, XUMANZANA AND SAN RAFAEL CHICHOP -- ALL IN EL QUICHE. IN SAN RAFAEL CHICHOP THE LOCAL PEASANT LEAGUE ("LIGA CAMPESINA") WAS ORGANIZED AND IN GOOD SHAPE. THE LOCAL UNCLASSIFIED

INDIANS HAD PURCHASED THE LAND COLLECTIVELY IN 1974 AND HAD PAID OFF THE MORTGAGE BY 1978. THEY STAYED ON THEIR LAND DURING THE WORST OF THE FIGHTING AND ALL THEY WANT NOW IS PEACE AND A SMALL CASH ADVANCE TO BUY FERTILIZERS. LOCAL PEASANT LEAGUE LEADERS BELIEVE THE LOAN CAN BE ARRANGED.

8. SANTA ROSA CHUCUYUB AND XUMANZANA HAVE NOT BEEN AS FORTUNATE AS SAN RAFAEL. PEASANT LEAGUE ORGANIZERS IN SANTA ROSA HAVE BEEN THREATENED WITH DEATH, LABELLED "COMMUNISTS" AND GENERALLY INTIMIDATED. THE SOURCE OF THESE THREATS IS UNKNOWN. THE AREA OF XUMANZANA (SOUTHERN EL QUICHE) WAS DESERTED FOR ALMOST A YEAR. IN LATE 1981 THE ENTIRE POPULATION FLED; THE VILLAGERS TOLD AN EMBASSY OFFICER THAT THEY FEARED THE ARMY WAS GOING TO KILL THEM ALL. IN THE MONTHS FOLLOWING THE COUP D'ETAT OF MARCH 23, 1982, THE VILLAGERS BEGAN TO RETURN TO THE AREA. THE PEASANT LEAGUE IS AGAIN ACTIVE IN XUMANZANA; ITS MAJOR PROBLEMS ARE OBTAINING FERTILIZER FOR THE FIELDS AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE FOR THE 80 WIDOWS THAT LIVE IN THE VILLAGE. THE INDIAN PEASANTS OF XUMANZANA STILL FEAR GOVERNMENT SECURITY FORCES BUT THEY TOLD AN EMBASSY OFFICER THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN BOTHERED IN ANY WAY SINCE THEIR RETURN TO THE AREA. (ON JULY 8, THE PEASANT LEAGUE OF XUMANZANA HELD A MASS MEETING IN A SOCCER FIELD. AN ARMY PATROL SOON APPEARED. THE SERGEANT IN CHARGE OF THE PATROL WAS TOLD THAT THE PEASANT LEAGUE OF XUMANZANA WAS HOLDING A MEETING; HE NODDED, SAID FINE, AND MOVED ON.)

9. THE BORDER AREAS OF HUEHUETENANGO AND SAN MARCOS HAVE ALSO BEEN AREAS OF CONCERN. RECENT PRESS REPORTS HAVE INDICATED THAT YET MORE GUATEMALANS WERE FLEEING TO MEXICO, THE GIST OF THE STORIES BEING THAT REPRESSION BY LOCAL GOG SECURITY FORCES WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS INCREASED FLOW. IN LIGHT OF THESE REPORTS, EMBASSY OFFICERS

VISITED THE BORDER REGIONS OF HUEHUETENANGO AND SAN MARCOS ON JULY 13.

10. THE BORDER AREA REMAINS DELICATE. THERE ARE LARGE AREAS OF NORTHWESTERN HUEHUETENANGO THAT REMAIN ABANDONED -- GUERRILLA INCURSIONS FROM MEXICO MAKE LIFE VERY DIFFICULT. THE TOWN OF AGUA ZARCA, FOR EXAMPLE, WAS ATTACKED BY GUERRILLAS ON MAY 25. (AGUA ZARCA IS THREE KILOMETERS FROM THE MEXICAN BORDER.) SOME 30 GUERRILLAS SURPRISED A CIVIL DEFENSE OUTPOST AROUND 1300 HOURS. ONE CD PATROL MEMBER ESCAPED AND ALERTED THE VILLAGE. THE VILLAGERS HAD 13 RIFLES AND SHOTGUNS AMONG THEM, JUST ENOUGH FIREPOWER TO HOLD THE GUERRILLAS OFF. A RUNNER WAS SENT TO ALERT THE ARMY (THE VILLAGERS NOT HAVING ANY RADIOS). FOUR HOURS LATER AN ARMY PATROL APPEARED AND THE GUERRILLAS SCATTERED. FOUR VILLAGERS WERE DEAD AND FIVE MORE WERE WOUNDED. EMBASSY OFFICERS WERE TOLD THAT ALL THE GUERRILLAS WERE DRESSED IN DARK GREEN UNIFORMS AND, FURTHERMORE, THAT THEY SEEMED INTENT ON SHOOTING THE VILLAGERS INSTEAD OF -- AS WAS OFTEN THE CASE IN THE PAST -- CONVERTING THEM TO THE INSURGENT CAUSE. THE ARMY, THE VILLAGERS SAID, TRIED TO OFFER AS MUCH PROTECTION AS POSSIBLE BUT DID NOT HAVE THE MANPOWER TO KEEP TROOPS IN THE TOWN AT ALL TIMES. THE VILLAGERS OF AGUA ZARCA OWN THEIR OWN LAND; THEY SAID THEY WOULD CONTINUE TO FIGHT TO HOLD IT.

11. THE "FINCA GRACIAS A DIOS" IS LOCATED IN THE FAR NORTHWESTERN TIP OF HUEHUETENANGO; THE VILLAGE'S WESTERN AND NORTHERN LIMITS ARE THE MEXICAN BORDER. GRACIAS A DIOS IS NO LONGER A FINCA; THE VILLAGERS RECENTLY BOUGHT THE LAND FROM A PRIVATE HOLDER AND THEY, LIKE THE INHABITANTS OF AGUA ZARCA, WISH TO HOLD THIS LAND AGAINST THE GUERRILLAS. BECAUSE OF THE LOCATION OF GRACIAS A DIOS, IT IS OFTEN COMPLETELY SURROUNDED BY GUERRILLAS. THE ARMY MAINTAINS A COMPANY OF SOLDIERS IN THE TOWN. ALTHOUGH THE VILLAGERS OWN THE LAND, AS OFTEN AS NOT THEY CANNOT WORK IT BECAUSE OF HEAVY GUERRILLA INFILTRATION. THE ARMY CANNOT PROVIDE DAILY PROTECTION FOR EACH SMALL-HOLDER AND THE MERE PLANTING OF CROPS HAS BECOME AN EXERCISE IN PLANT-AND-RUN AGRICULTURE. GOVERNMENT TROOPS HAVE RECENTLY BEEN ABLE TO DISCOVER AND DISMANTLE A FEW GUERRILLA ARMS CACHES IN THE AREA BUT GUERRILLA INCURSIONS FROM MEXICO CONTINUE TO PLAGUE THE VILLAGE.
UNCLASSIFIED

12. EMBASSY OFFICERS ALSO VISITED ON JULY 13 THE TOWN OF MALACATAN, SAN MARCOS. ORPA GUERRILLAS OPERATE IN THE AREA OF MALACATAN AND THE SMALL BORDER VILLAGES TO THE IMMEDIATE WEST OF THE TOWN ARE PARTICULARLY VULNERABLE TO GUERRILLA ATTACKS. THESE SMALL VILLAGES -- SANTA ANA, EL MARISCAL, LOS ANGELES, ORIZADA AND EL DANUBIO -- ARE ALL INHABITED AND LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN MALACATAN WERE PETITIONING THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT FOR FERTILIZERS AND SOME BASIC FOODSTUFFS. THERE ARE NO GOVERNMENETROOPS IN MALACATAN; THE TOWN DEFENDS ITSELF WITH A SIZABLE CIVIL DEFENSE PATROL. THE MEXICAN BORDER IS 15 KILOMETERS TO THE WEST. RECENT ARMY OPERATIONS HAVE HELPED TO STABILIZE

THE AREA, BUT ROVING ORPA BANDS STILL INTERDICT LOCAL ROADWAYS. EMBASSY OFFICERS COULD FIND NO EVIDENCE OF A RECENT REFUGEE FLOW TO MEXICO.

13. CONCLUSIONS: THE EMBASSY INVESTIGATIONS OUTLINED ABOVE ADMIT OF SEVERAL CONCLUSIONS.

1) NO MASSACRES OF "MORE THAN 100 PEOPLE" HAVE
UNCLASSIFIED

RECENTLY TAKEN PLACE IN EL QUICHE AS REPORTED BY INTERESTED HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS AND PRO-GUERRILLA PUBLICATIONS. EVERY KNOWN LEAD WAS CHECKED, ON-SITE, AND FOUND TO BE FALSE.

2) IN THE BORDER REGIONS, IF THE VILLAGERS OWN THEIR OWN LAND THEY WILL FIGHT THE GUERRILLAS TO KEEP IT. AGUA ZARCA AND GRACIAS A DIOS ARE SO CLOSE TO THE BORDER THAT THE VILLAGERS, IF THEY WISHED TO DO SO, COULD CROSS TO MEXICO AT ANY TIME. THEY HAVE NOT DONE SO.

3) PEASANT LEAGUE ORGANIZERS MOVE ABOUT EL QUICHE FREELY, HOLDING MEETINGS AND ATTEMPTING TO REBUILD THE "LIGA CAMPESINA". IN SOME AREAS, PEASANT ORGANIZERS AND THEIR FOLLOWERS STILL FEAR GOVERNMENT SECURITY FORCES, ALTHOUGH THEIR WORK HAS GONE ON WITHOUT GOVERNMENT INTERFERENCE.

4) WHILE IN HUEHUETENANGO AND SAN MARCOS, EMBASSY OFFICERS COULD NOT CONFIRM A RENEWED FLOW OF GUATEMALANS TO MEXICO. CHAPIN

MANY PERSONS APPEAR TO HAVE TURNED THEMSELVES IN SIMPLY BECAUSE THEY BECAME TIRED AND DISCOURAGED. END SUMMARY.

3. ON JULY 19 POLOFF VISITED THE LIVING QUARTERS OF AMNESTY BENEFICIAIRES AT THE AMNESTY CENTER AND SPOKE SINGLY AND IN LARGE AND SMALL GROUPS WITH ABOUT 25 PERSONS. HE CAME AWAY CONVINCED THAT A HEALTHY NUMBER OF THE AMNESTY BENEFICIAIRES WERE IN FACT COMBATANTS. THESE FORMER GUERRILLAS ALL COMPLAINED BITTERLY ABOUT THE LACK OF IMMIGRATION OPPORTUNITIES. THEY NOTED THAT FORMER POLITICAL PRISONERS WERE RECEIVING ALL THE OPPORTUNITIES FOR MIGRATION TO OTHER COUNTRIES. THEY SAID THEY ARE IN A QUANDARY. THEY TURNED THEMSELVES IN IN THE HOPES OF MOVING TO ANOTHER COUNTRY AND STARTING NEW LIVES. NOW THEY ARE FACED WITH THE REAL POSSIBILITY AFTER AUGUST 15 OF BEING BACK IN THE STREETS WITHOUT WORK, IMPOVERISHED, AND PERSECUTED BY BOTH GOES AUTHORITIES AND THEIR FORMER COMRADES-IN-ARMS.

4. MOST OF THE AMNESTY BENEFICIAIRES REMAIN STRONGLY CRITICAL OF BOTH THEIR GOVERNMENT AND U.S. POLICY IN THE REGION. THEY HAVE NO FAITH IN THEIR GOVERNMENT'S ABILITY TO PROTECT OR CARE FOR THEM ONCE THE AMNESTY PERIOD IS OVER. THEY CONTINUE TO SEE THE MILITARY AND THE AUTHORITIES AS THEIR ENEMIES. THEY BELIEVE THE UNITED STATES HAS THE RESPONSIBILITY TO AID THEM. AS THEY PUT IT, "THE AMNESTY WAS DONE FOR THE U.S." THE AMNESTY BENEFICIAIRES HAD SEVERAL OTHER COMPLAINTS. THEY SAID THE POLICE THAT ARE GUARDING THE AMNESTY CENTER ARE ABUSIVE BOTH TO THEM AND TO THEIR VISITING FAMILIES, AND THAT ON ONE OCCASION REGULAR ARMY TROOPS HAD COME TO [redacted]

HE SAID ONLY TWO OF THE FOUR MADE IT TO THE AMNESTY CENTER. ANOTHER MAN SAID THAT HE WAS PICKED UP IN HIS HOME IN MORAZAN DURING AN ARMY SWEEP AND WAS SURPRISED TO FIND HIMSELF BEING SENT TO THE AMNESTY CENTER. FORCES SUCCESSES HAVE PROBABLY CONTRIBUTED TO PUTTING THE PRESSURE ON THE GUERRILLAS. JUDGING FROM THE FORMER GUERRILLAS' APPEARANCE AND STORIES, AND FROM TALKS OVER THE PAST FEW MONTHS WITH PRISONERS, CAMP FOLLOWERS, JOURNALISTS, PERSONS ABDUCTED BY THE GUERRILLAS, AND PERSONS WHO REGULARLY TRAVEL IN GUERRILLA AREAS, LIFE IN THE GUERRILLA IS NOT EASY, AND IS GROWING MORE DIFFICULT. 5. POLOFF ALSO SPOKE WITH AN AMNESTY BENEFICIARY WHO WAS JUST RETURNING FROM A TRIP TO HIS HOME IN LA UNION. HE HAD BROUGHT BACK TWO OTHER PERSONS SEEKING AMNESTY. HE SAID THAT ON HIS TRIP HE HAD TO SHOW HIS AMNESTY DOCUMENTS TO SOLDIERS AND OTHER AUTHORITIES ON NUMEROUS OCCASIONS AND THAT THESE DOCUMENTS WERE ALWAYS RESPECTED. HE ALSO SAID HE HAD HEARD THE GUERRILLAS HAD KILLED HIS BROTHER, WHO WAS ALSO A GUERRILLA, IN RETRIBUTION FOR HIS DECISION TO ACCEPT AMNESTY.

6. COMMENT: IT IS HARD TO SPECULATE ON WHY THE AMNESTY BENEFICIAIRES TURNED THEMSELVES IN. WHEN ASKED, MOST MUMBLE PLATITUDES ABOUT HAVING COME TO THE REALIZATION THAT THE ARMED STRUGGLE IS WRONG. 1. (C) SUMMARY: RUMORS OF IMMINENT POLICY AND CABINET CHANGES HAVE BEEN GIVEN FRESH IMPETUS BY GOC PUBLICATION OF PINOCHET LETTER TO POPE. MESSAGE INCLUDED THREE MAIN POINTS: AGREEMENT ON IMPORTANCE OF PROMOTING DIALOGUE; NEED TO CONSTRUCT A FREE SOCIETY BASED ON DIGNITY OF MAN; AND

WILLINGNESS TO TAKE "DECISIVE STEPS" TO CONSOLIDATE NEW GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS. PUBLIC COMMENT HAS BEEN PREDICTABLE WITH GOC SUPPORTERS HIALING THE LETTER AS A POSITIVE STEP FORWARD WHILE OPPOSITION LEADERS HAVE ADOPTED A WAIT-AND-SEE ATTITUDE. END SUMMARY.
2. (C) INTRODUCTION: INSISTENT RUMORS OF IMMINENT

POLICY AND CABINET CHANGES WERE GIVEN FRESH IMPETUS BY THE PUBLICATION IN ALL MEDIA OVER THE WEEKEND OF THE TEXT OF A LETTER FROM PRESIDENT PINOCHET TO THE POPE. THE PRESIDENT GAVE THE LETTER ON JULY 27 TO PAPAL NUNCIO ANGELO SODANO TO DELIVER TO ROME, WHERE THE NUNCIO WAS ABOUT TO DEPART ON VACATION AND CONSULTATIONS. AT THE TIME, THE LOCAL SPECULATION FOCUSED ON POSSIBLE LINKAGE OF THE LETTER TO THE PAPAL MEDIATION OF THE BORDER DISPUTE WITH ARGENTINA, WHCIH HAD LATELY BEEN IN THE PUBLIC EYE BECAUSE OF CONFLICTING CHILEAN AND ARGENTINE MFA STATEMENTS REGARDING THE DESIRABILITY OF A "TREATY OF PERMANENT PEACE" AS A STEP TOWARD A COMPREHENSIVE SETTLEMENT. THE PUBLICAION OF THE TEXT OF THE LETTER ON JULY 31 MADE CLEAR THAT PINOCHET'S MESSAGE WAS INSTEAD A RESPONSE TO THE EARLIER PUBLIC CALL BY THE POPE FOR DIALOGUE AND AVOIDANCE OF VIOLENCE TO OVERCOME CHILE'S CURRENT PROBLEMS.

3. (U) SUBSTANTIVE POINTS OF PINOCHET'S LETTER: PINOCHET BEGAN THE LETTER BY EXPRESSING CHILE'S GRATITUDE FOR THE POPE'S MESSAGE OF JULY 13, AS WELL AS HIS MEDIATION EFFORTS WITH ARGENTINA. HE THEN REVIEWED THE RECENT HISTORY OF CHILE AND THE ROLE OF HIS GOVENMENT IN OVERCOMING A POLITICAL-INSTITUTIONAL CRISIS AND ESTABLISHING THE FOUNDATIONS FOR THE FUTURE DEMOCRATIC DEVELOPMENT OF THE COUNTRY. THREE KEY PARAGRAPHS STOOD OUT FROM THE LETTER:

--"...I AGREE AS TO THE MAXIMUM IMPORTANCE OF USING EFFICACIOUS WAYS FOR (PROMOTING) DIALOGUE...."

--"IN ADDITION TO PRESERVING THE LEGITIMATE RIGHT OF THE PEOPLE OF CHILE TO RESOLVE THEIR INTERNAL PROBLEMS WITHOUT FOREIGN INTERFERENCE, WE ARE ENGAGED IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF A FREE AND SOLID SOCIETY, BASED ON THE REQUIREMENTS DERIVED FROM THE DIGNITY OF MAN AND HIS TRANSCENDENT DESTINY."

--"...WE ARE WILLING TO TAKE DECISIVE STEPS FOR THE CONSLIDATION OF THE INSTITUTIONS DESIRED BY THE GREAT MAJORITY OF CHILEANS, WHOSE ASPIRATION IS TO LIVE IN PEACE AND LIBERTY, PRESERVING THEIR NATIONAL IDENTITY AND POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY."

4. (U) PUBLIC COMMENT: TO DATE, PUBLIC COMMENT ON THE PINOCHET LETTER HAS BEEN PREDICTABLE. CHURCH LEADERS, INCLUDING ARCHBISHOP FRESNO, VIEWED THELETTER AS A POSITIVE RESPONSE TO THE PAPAL MESSAGE AND AS A CONTRIBUTION TO THE CHILEAN DESIRE FOR UNITY. GOC SUPPORTERS, SUCH AS GREMIALIST LEADER JUAN ANTONIO COLOMA, HAILED THE LETTER AS "A VERY POSITIVE STEP

FOR CONSOLIDATING UNITY AMONG CHILEANS," WHILE OPPOSITION LEADRS, SUCH AS PDC VICE PRESIDENT PATRICIO AYLWIN, TOOK A MORE WAIT-AND-SEE ATTITUDE PENDING "THE IMPELMENTATION O THESE GOOD PROPOSALS." IN A JULY 31 EDITORIAL, "EL MERCURIO" UNDERLINED THE IMPORTANCE OF THE THREE PARAGRAPHS CITED ABOVE AND PRAISED THEM AS A CLEAR STATMENT OF GOC INTENTIONS, AS DID AUGU 1 AND 2 EDITORIALS IN "LA SEGUNDA" AND "LA TERCERA."

5. (C) COMMENT: THE PUBLICATION OF PINOCHET'S LETTER IS ANOTHER SIGN THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS ON THE VERGE OF NEW DECISIONS ON HOW TO DEAL WITH THE POLITICAL CRISIS WHICH HAS UNFOLDED ALONG WITH, AND AGGRAVATED BY, THE ECONOMIC CRISIS. LOGICALLY, NEW POLICY DECISIONS WOULD BE ACCOMPANIED BY CABINET CHANGES, AND THERE HAS BEEN MUCH SPECULATION ABOUT NEW FACES. INCLUDING THE POSSIBILITY THAT FORMER NATIONAL PARTY PRESIDENT AND NOW AMBASSADOR SERGIO ONOFRE JARPA

CONFIDENTIAL

UNCLASSIFIED

WOULD LEAVE HIS EMBASSY IN BUENOS AIRES TO ASSUME A QUASI-PREMIER POSITION AND TO DIRECT A GRADUAL POLITICAL OPENING. HOW MUCH OF THIS SPECULATION IS WISHFUL THINKING IS NOT CLEAR,BUT THE GOC PUBLICATION OF THE LETTER HAS CLEARLY WHETTED APPETITES. IT IS ALSO NOT CLEAR WHEN DECISIONS WOULD BE ANNOUNCED, EITHER IN THE NEXT FEW DAYS, IN ORDER TO UNDERCUT OPPOSITION EFFORTS TO STAGE ANOTHER PROTEST ON AUGUST 11, OR LATER IN THE MONTH OR EVEN ON SEPTEMBER 11, TO CELEBRATE THE REGIME'S TENTH ANNIVERSARY IN POWER. BUT THERE IS NO DOUBT THAT SOME CHANGES ARE IN THE OFFING, AND WE WILL NEED TO BE ALERT TO OPPORTUNITIES TO REINFORCE CONCRETE TRANSITION STEPS.

2. IN REFTEL A, EMBASSY REPORTED AN APPARENT HIATUS IN CREDIBLE TORTURE CLAIMS AGAINST GOC SECURITY FORCES. HOWEVER, RECENT INFORMATION OBTAINED FROM THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY INDICATES THAT THE NUMBER OF ALLEGATIONS OF TORTURE THUS FAR DURING 1983 HAS INCREASED RELATIVE TO 1982, AS HAS THE REPORTED SEVERITY OF METHODS OF TORTURE ALLEGEDLY USED. BECAUSE OF THE VICARIATE POLICY OF DOCUMENTING ALL TORTURE CLAIMS WITH SWORN STATEMENTS AND MEDICAL REPORTS, INFORMATION ON MOST RECENT CASES WAS NOT AVAILABLE UNTIL THIS WEEK.

3. ON JULY 22, ALEJANDRO GONZALEZ, HEAD OF THE LEGAL DEPARTMENT OF THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY, TOLD EMBOFF THAT IN THE MONTH OF JULY THE VICARIATE REGISTERED 11 ALLEGATIONS OF TORTURE THAT HAVE RESULTED IN FORMAL COMPLAINTS TO THE COURTS AND ANOTHER 10 THAT ARE PRESENTLY CONSIDERED TO BE CREDIBLE BUT ARE BEING INVESTIGATED MORE THOROUGHLY BH HIS

LEGAL STAFF. ALL OF THE VICTIMS ARE PRESUMED COMMUNISTS WHO WERE PICKED UP BY CNI BETWEEN JUNE 18 AND JULY 20 AND SUBSEQUENTLY RELEGATED TO REMOTE REGIONS UNDER ADMINISTRATIVE DECREESILE THE GOVERNMENT HAS NOT JUSTIFIED THE RELEGATIONS IN ALL CASES, MOST ARE ACCUSED OF ORGANIZING OR PARTICIPATING IN THE RCENT MONTHLY ANTI-GOC PROTESTS WITH THEIR ATTENDANT ANTI-GOVERNMENT VIOLENCE. THEIR CASES BRING THE NUMBER OF ALLEGATIONS OF TORTURE REGISTERED BY THE VICARIATE IN THE FIRST SEVEN MONTHS OF 1983 TO 51-61 (DEPENDING ON WHETHER THE TEN CASES UNDER INVESTIGATION ARE REGISTERED), COMPARED TO 33 ALLEGATIONS FOR THE SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR AND 57 FOR THE ENTIRE YEAR OF 1982. GONZALEZ SAID THAT SOME OF THE METHODS OF TORTURE ALLEGEDLY USED IN THESE CASES WERE MORE SOPHISTICATED AND SEVERE THAN THOSE USED IN THE PAST BY GOC SECURITY FORCES. HE EXPLAINED THAT THE VICARIATE ESTIMATED THE SEVERITY OF THE TORTURE BOTH BY THE TESTIMONY OF THE VICTIMS AND BY THE RESULTS OF MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS, AND PROMISED TO PROVIDE MORE DOCUMENTATION NEXT WEEK.

4. GONZALEZ INFORMED EMBOFF THAT NEITHER THE FIVE PEOPLE ARRESTED AT THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE COMMUNIST-DOMINATED COORDINADOR (CNS) ON JULY 11 (REFTEL B) NOR THE SIX PDC MEMBERS ARRESTED BETWEEN JULY 7 AND JULY 11 IN CONNECTION WITH THE PAMPHLETS CASE (REF C) HAVE PRESENTED CREDIBLE CLAIMS OR EVIDENCE OF TORTURE, DESPITE CLAIMS IN THE PRESS THAT SEVERAL WERE MISTREATED.

5. COMMENT: THERE HAS ALREADY BEEN SOME PRESS ATTENTION TO THE RECENT COMPLAINTS OF TORTURE IN THE VICARIATE'S MONTHLY NEWSLETTER "SOLIDARIDAD" AND WE EXPECT TO SEE MORE DEOMSTIC AND FOREIGN COMMENT IN THE DAYS TO COME. RENEWED FOCUS ON THIS ASPECT OF GOC EFFORTS TO DEAL WITH RISING ANTI-GOVERNMENT ACTIVITY WILL OF COURSE PROVIDE NEW AMMUNITION TO THE GOC'S MOST INTRANSIGENT OPPONENTS AND UNDERMINE EFFORTS BY MODERATES TO FIND ENOUGH MIDDLE GROUND BETWEEN GOVERNMENT OPPOSITION TO SUPPORT A PEACEFUL TRANSITION. DESPITE THE NEGATIVE TREND, THE LACK OF EVIDENCE OR CREDIBILITY OF TORTURE CLAIMS MADE RENG THE COORDINADORA ARRESTEES ILLUSTRATES THAT AT LEAST SOME TORTURE CLAIMS MAY BE FABRICATED OR EXAGGERATED BY CERTAIN OPPOSITION POLITICAL GROUPS TO ATTACH THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT. SUPREME COURT DECISION AS A VICTORY FOR THEIR RESPECTIVE POSITIONS. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) ON JULY 28, BY A VOTE OF FOUR TO ONE, THE FIRST CHAMBER OF THE SUPREME COURT UPHELD A COURT OF APPEALS DECISION IN FAVOR OF WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS FILED ON BEHALF OF CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT LEADERS GABRIEL VALDES, JOAVANDERO, JOSE DE GREGORIO, TWO YOUNG MEN, AND THE WOMAN OWNER OF A PRINTING PLANT. ALL HAD BEEN DETAINED IN CONNECTION WITH PAMPHLETS CALLING FOR A NON-VIOLENT PROTEST ON JULY12. IN A POTENTIALLY FAR-REACHING DECISION (REFTEL), THE LOWER COURT HELD ON JULY 13 THAT THE SECTION OF THE SECURITY LAW UNDER WHICH THE SIX WERE DETAINED APPLIED ONLY TO ACTS THAT WOULD PROMOTE CIVIL INSURRECTION AND THAT THE ACTS OF PEACEFUL PROTEST IN QUESTION ARE LEGAL. IN RESPONSE TO AN APPEAL BY THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR, THE SUPREME COURT UPHELD THE COURT OF APPEALS' RULING TO FREE THE SIX CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS BUT DID NOT ADDRESS THE LOWER COURT'S FINDING THAT PEACEFUL PROTESTS ARE LEGAL. THE MAJORITY OPINION REJECTED THE INISNTRY OF INTERIOR APPEAL ONLY ON THE BASIS THAT THE EVIDENCE PREXENTED SO FAR WAS INSUFFICIENT TO DETERMINE THAT "THE ILLEGAL ACTS OF HICH THE SIX ARE ACCUSED WERE COMMITTED." THE DISSENTING JUDGE ARGUED THAT THE EVIDENCE PRESENTED BY THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR IS SUFFICIENT TO DETAIN AND TRY, IF NOT NECESSARILY TO CONVICT, THE SIX.

3. (U) ONE OF THE FOUR JUDGES VOTING TO UPHOLD THE LOWER COURT DECISION SUBMITTED A SEPARATE OPINION, WHICH ADDRESSES THE ISSUE OF THE LEGALITY OF THE ACTS. HE MAINTAINED THAT WHILE AN INDIVIDUAL ACT OF PEACEFUL PROTEST MUST BE CONSIDERED ONLY A MANIFESTATION OF OPINION, REPEATED ACTS SUCH AS THE MONTHLY PROTEST COULD BE INTERPRETED AS PART OF A PLAN DESIGNED TO SUBVERT PUBLIC ORDER. FURTHERMORE, HE ARGUED THAT THE ACTS OF PASSIVE RESISTANCE, SUCH AS NOT SHOPPING, ADVOCATED IN THE PAMPHLETS TEND TO DISRUPT PUBLIC ORDER AND THAT THE PRINTING AND DISTRIBUTION OF PAMPHLETS SANCTIONING THESE ACTS COULD FALL WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE LAW ON INTERNAL SECURITY.

4. (U) AMBROSIO RODRIGUEZ, CHIEF LEGAL ADVISER OF THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR, TOLD NEWSMEN THAT THE SUPREME COURT RULING INDICATES THAT THE AC WHICH THE SIX WERE ACCUSED ARE ILLEGAL AND LEAVES THE CASE OPEN TO FURTHER INVESTIGATION. HE INTERPRETED THE DECISION AS A VICTORY FOR THE GOC. OPPOSITION LAWYERS, ON THE OTHER HAND, PUBLICLY HAILED THE DECISION AS A VICTORY

FOR THEIR SIDE. PATRICIO AYLWIN, ONE OF THEMEMBERS OF THE DEFENSE TEAM, ARGUED THAT THE SUPREME COURT DECISION CONFIRMED THAT THE ACTS ON WHICH THE CASE CENTERED ARE NOT A CRIME AND THAT THEREFORE CALLING FOR A PROTEST AND PRINTING PAMPHLETS AR LEGAL ACTS.
5. (C) COMMENT: THE GOC HOPED THAT THE SUPREME COURT WOULD NARROW THE SCOPE OF THE LOWER COURT DECISION AND CLAIMS THAT IT HAS DONE SO. ON THE OTHER HAND, THE OPPOSITION IS CLEARLY UNWILLING TO RELINQUISH THE IMPORTANT VICTORY GAINED UNDER THE LOWER COURT RULING. IN PRIVATE CONVERSATIONS, OPPOSITION LAWYERS TELL US THAT INDEED THE SUPREME COURT DECISION HS THE EFFECT OF SETTING ASIDE THE GROUNDSOF THE LOWER COURT RULING AND THUS LIMITS ITS SIGNIFICANCE. THE SAME SOURCES ACKNOWLEDGE HOWEVER, THAT THE OPPOSITION NOW HAS A MORE FAVORABLE JURIDICAL SITUAION THAN BEFORE THE PAMPHLETS CASE, EVEN IF THE LEGAL LIMITS OF WHAT CONSTITUTES PEACEFUL

1. (U) THE GOC USED ITS EXECUTIVE POWERS UNDER TRANSITORY ARTICLE 24 TO RELEGATE THRITEEN MORE PESUMED COMMUNISTS IN JULY, BRINGING TO TWENTY-THREE THE NUMBER RELEGATED SINCE JUNE 28, WHEN MINISTER OF INTERIOR MONTERO ANNOUNCED THATTHE GOC WOULD RELY MAINLY ON THE COURTS TO DEAL WITH THOSE ENDANGERING NATIONAL SECURITY, ALTHOUGH IT WOULD CONTINUE TO USE EXECUTIVE POWERS AGAINST COMMUNISTS. WHILE THE GOC HAS NOT PUBLICLY JUSTIFIED THE RELEGATIONS IN ALL CASES,MOST ARE PRESUMED TO BE COMMUNISTS WHO HAVE ORGANIZED OR PARTICIPATED IN THE RECENT MONTHLY ANTI-GOVERNMENT PROTESTS.
2. (C) FIVE OF THOSE RELEGATED IN JULY WERE PICKED UP DURING THE JULY12 DISTURBANCES, WHILE THE OTHER EIGHT WERE ARRESTED INDIVIDUALLY IN THE WEEK FOLLOWING THE

CONFIDENTIAL

DISTURBANCES. A SOURCE AT THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY, WHICH PROVIDED LEGAL ASSISTANCE TO THE THIRTEEN DETAINEES, TOLD EMBOFF THAT ALL ARE PRESUMED TO HAVE PLAYED LEADING ROLES IN ORGANIZING ANTI-GOVERNMENT PROTESTS IN THE POORER REGIONS OF SANTIAGO, WHERE DISTURBANCES HAVE BEEN PARTICULARLY WIDESPREAD AND VIOLENT. THE SOURCE

COULD NOT VERIFY WHETHER THE THIRTEEN ARE COMMUNISTS, BUT INDICATED THAT HE HAD NO REASON TO DTHAT THE GOC IS STICKING TO ITS ANNOUNCED POLICY OF RELYING ON THE COURTS TO DEAL WITH NON-COMMUNISTS WHILE APPLYING ADMINISTRATIVE MEASURES AGAINST COMMUNISTS.

SUBJECT: PINOCHET ANNOUNCES COUNCIL OF STATE WILL STUDY NEW LAWS ON FUNCTIONING OF POLITICAL PARTIES, ELECTROCAL SYSTEM AND NATIONAL CONGRESS

1. (C) SUMMARY: ON AUGUST 4, PRESIDENT PINOCHET ANNOUNCED THAT THE COUNCIL OF STATE WOULD PREPARE A STUDY OF THE IMPLEMENTING LEGISLATION FOR THE FUTURE FUNCTIONING OF POLITICAL PARTIES, THE ELECTORAL SYSTEM, THE NATIONAL CONGRESS AND THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION. IN RESPONSE TO REPORTERS' QUESTIONS, HE REAFFIRMED 1989 AS THE END DATE FOR

THE TRANSITION, SAID OPPOSITION LEADERS WOULD BE CONSULTED FOR THE STUDY, AND NOTED THAT THE CONSTITUTION OF 1980 WOULD PROVIDE THE FRAMEWORK FOR THE NEW LAWS. PRELIMINARY REACTIONS FROM VARIOUS POLITICAL SECTORS REFLECT CAUTION ABOUT THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ANNOUNCEMENT, BUT THE OPENING OF BROAD-BASED DEBATE ON POLITICAL PARTIES AND

OTHER MAJOR ISSUES COULD SERVE AS A SIGNIFICANT STEP FORWARD IN THE TRANSITION OF CHILE BACK TO DEMOCRACY. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) PRESIDENTIAL ANNOUNCEMENT: ON AUGUST 4, PRESIDENT PINOCHET ANNOUNCED THAT HE HAD CHARGED THE CONSULTATIVE COUNCIL OF STATE WITH THE TASK OF PREPARING A STUDY OF THE IMPLEMENTING LEGISLATION FOR THE FUTURE FUNCTIONING OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES, THE ELECTORAL SYSTEM, THE NATIONAL CONGRESS AND THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION. HE ALSO ANNOUNCED THAT OPPOSITION LEADERS WOULD BE INCLUDED IN THE CONSULTATIVE PROCESS, WHICH IS SCHEDULED TO BEGIN IN OCTOBER.

3. (U) RESPONSES TO QUESTIONS: IN RESPONSE TO REPORTERS' QUESTIONS, PINOCHET:
--SAID THAT THE ANNOUNCEMENT DID NOT REPRESENT AN ACCELERATION OF THE TRANSITION;
--GOOD-HUMOREDLY SIDESTEPPED A QUESTION ON WHETHER OR NOT THIS ANNOUNCEMENT WAS PART OF A POLITICAL OPENING;
--NOTED THAT 1989 WAS STILL THE DATE FOR COMPLETING THE TRANSITION;
--AGREED THAT THE ANNOUNCEMENT FELL WITHIN THE LINES SUGGESTED IN HIS RECENT LETTER TO THE POPE (REFTEL);
--EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT OPPOSITION LEADERS WOULD OFFER "HEALTHY AND WELL-INTENTIONED OPINIONS";
--STATED THAT THE CONSTITUTION OF 1980 PROVIDES TME RULES UNDER WHICH THE NEW CONSTITUTIONAL LAWS WILL FALL;
--SAID THAT THE STUDY WILL BE CONDUCTED BY THE COUNCIL OF

STATE UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF ITS PRESIDENT, MIGUEL SCHWEITZER SPEISKY (FATHER OF THE FOREIGN MINISTER); AND
--NOTED THAT THE COUNCIL OF STATE HAS NO DEADLINE FOR ITS REPORT.

4. (U) FERNANDEZ COMMISSION: LATER THAT AFTERNOON, FORMER MINISTER OF INTERIOR SERGIO FERNANDEZ ANNOUNCED THAT THE COMMISSION FOR THE STUDY OF ORGANIC CONSTITUTIONAL LAWS, WHICH HE CHAIRS, WOULD BE DISSOLVED AND INCORPORATED INTO THE COUNCIL OF STATE AS SOON AS THE LAW GOVERNING THE COUNCIL CAN BE NODIFIED.

5. (U) STREET DEMONSTRATIONS CONTINUE: THE SAM EVENING, UP TO SEVERAL HUNDRED YOUNG PEOPLE HELD AN APPARENTLY UNRELATED PEACEFUL DEMONSTRATION AT TWO LOCATIONS IN DOWN-TOWN SANTIAGO IN AN ATTEMPT TO BUILD SUPPORT FOR THE DEMONSTRATIONS PLANNED FOR AUGUST 11. THE DEMONSTRATORS WERE QUICKLY DISBANDED WITHOUT VIOLENCE BY SPECIAL CARABINERO UNITS AND TWENTY-SIZ YOUTHS WERE ARRESTED, ALL OF WHOM HAVE SINCE BEEN RELEASED. A SMALL PEACEFUL DEMONOSTRATION OF

BISHOP SANTOS, PRESIDENT OF THE CHILEAN BISHOPS CONFERENCE, VIEWED THE ANNOUNCEMENT AS POSITIVE AND EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT THE POLITICAL PARTIES WOULD USE THE OPENING INTELLIGENTLY IN ORDER TO SATISFY THE ASPIRATIONS OF ALL CHILEANS. THERE HAS NOT YET BEEN TIME FOR ANY EDIORIAL OPINION ON THE ANNOUNCEMENT BUT WE EXPECT IT WILL BE FAVORABLE AND WILL ATTEMPT TO ENCOURAGE AN OPENING BY THE GOVERNMENT AS HAS BEEN THE GENERAL TREND

OF EDITORIAL COMMENTARY FOR SOME MONTHS.

7. (C) COMMENT: THE SIGNIFICANCE OF PRESIDENT PINOCHET'S ANNOUNCEMENT CAN ONLY BE MEASURED OVER TIME, AS THE VARIOUS POLITICAL ACTORS DEFINE THEIR POSITION. IT IS NOT, AS SOME HEADLINES AND RADIO REPORTS HAVE SUGGESTED, A LIFTING OF THE BAN ON POLITICAL ACTIVITIES. IT IS A PRESIDENTIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF A STUDY COMMISSION COMPOSED MOSTLY OF CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT SUPPORTERS OPERATING WITHINT THE GUIDELINES OF THE 1980 CONSTITUTION. THEY WILL, ACCORDING TO THE ANNOUNCEMENT, BE FREE TO CONSIDER ALL ASPECTS OF THE QUESTION FULLY, CONSULT WITH WHOMEVER THEY CHOOSE AND ISSUE A FINAL REPORT WHEN READY. THE PRESIDENT MAY THEN ACCEPT, REJECT OR MODIFY THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE REPORT AS HE SEES FIT. THE MAJOR OPPOSITION PARTIES WILL NOT RUSH TO EMBRACE THE PROPOSAL,
AND THE FAR LEFT WILL OBVIOUSLY ATTACK IT. CAVEATS ASIDE, HOWEVER, THE ANNOUNCEMENT DOES REPRESENT A POTENTIALLY SIGNIFICANT STEP FORWARD IN THE TRANSITION OF CHILE BACK TO DEMOCRACY, SIMPLY BY OPENING FAIRLY BROAD-BASED DEBATE ON SERIOUS POLITICAL ISSUES IF SO, IT MAY HAVE IMPORTANT EFFECTS GOING BEYOND PINOCHET'S OWN INTENTIONS, WHICH ARE STILL NOT CLEAR. Dear Mr. Secretary:

We were pleased to see the Department of State's July 11, 1983 statement expressing "support for the right to peaceful dissent" in Chile and recognizing the need "for the transition to democracy sought by the vast majority of Chileans."

As you know, we are approaching the tenth anniversary of the military coup that interrupted a long tradition of democratic government in Chile. Despite the passage of years, it is evident that the Chilean people have maintained their attachment to democratic principles. Recently, virtually all sectors of the population have joined in pressing for an early resumption of democratic government. In keeping with the high priority that you have given to the promotion of democracy as a goal of American foreign policy, we call upon the Department of State to aid the movement to restore democracy in Chile to the maximum degree that is consistent with respect for Chilean sovereignty.

Specifically, we believe that it would be helpful for the Department to condemn publicly all efforts by the Chilean military junta to use repressive measures such as exile, political imprisonment and torture to crush the movement towards democracy. In addition to speaking out on such human rights matters, we hope the Department will follow up on its July 11 statement by making it unmistakably clear that the U.S. supports a speedy and peaceful restoration of democratic government in Chile.

JULY 27:

-- Javier Reyes Castillo reportedly died on July 14 from a beating by carabineros on July 12.

-- Bishop Oviedo sharply criticized the July 30 police round-up in Osorno as brutal and degrading. Residents of the area have filed a formal complaint with the court. (Santiago 4609).

AUGUST 1:

-- CNI agents arrested four regional communist leaders in Arica. They are Alberto Barraza Veliz, Luis Carlos Gomez Garrido, Armando Guerra Olmos, and Oscar Pavelic. CNI reported finding explosives, pamphlets calling for subversive action on August 11, and guns in a subsequent search of their homes. The four communists are being held incommunicado. (Santiago 4609)

AUGUST 2:

-- Minister of Interior Montero announced that a new exile list will be ready before September 11. There is speculation that the list may contain only names of those who will not be allowed to return to Chile.

-- The Ministry of Interior has charged Blanca Carrasco Ahumada, Raul Flores Castillo, and Jose Luis Azocar Rocha with six violations each under the Law on Internal Security and one violation under military justice. (See Santiago 4587). The three alleged MIRistas are being held incommunicado.

-- The Ministry of Interior announced that it would not pursue the case against Gabriel Valdes and five others accused of printing and plotting to distribute subversive pamphlets.

-- The Supreme Court received a petition requesting an investigation into the eight deaths that occurred during the last three national protests.

AUGUST 3:

-- The Court of Appeals has completed the investigative (summary) phase in the case against Roberto Seguel and five other CODELCO labor leaders. Recommendations by the court will be made within six days.

-- The Ministry of Interior stated that it is investigating allegations by Gabriel Valdes that he has received anonymous letters and pamphlets threatening him and his family.

-- Four of those detained during the police round-up in Osorno have been charged and bound over for trial, while all others have been released without charges. Official sources now estimate the number detained at 540.

TO: L - Mike Kozak

FROM: L - Steve Asher

SUBJECT: L Response to Efforts to Execute Letelier Judgment Against LAN-Chile Airlines

Although I have not heard from LAN-Chile's lawyers since last week, I think that the problems created by Judge Lasker's decision are not going to go away and that we should be in a position to understand the pros and cons of the options before us. Therefore, if we are called upon to take a quick decision at some point in this case, we would be in a better position to act decisively and intelligently.

To this end, I will attempt to sketch out in preliminary form my rough efforts to generate what I see as the plausible options facing L and the pros and cons of each.

Option 1: Tell LAN USG will not play any role at any stage

Under this option, we would simply tell LAN's lawyers that we have taken the decision not to get involved in the case at any stage and that they should pursue the suit on their own.

PROS:

-- This would reaffirm our view that sovereign immunity issues are for the courts and that L is out of the sovereign immunity business.

-- This would avoid possibly harsh criticism and conceivable publicity attendant to any USG effort which is perceived as helping Chile "get away" with the murder of Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C.

-- If we think at the end of the day we are not going to get involved it would be more helpful to LAN to say so now so it can plan accordingly.

UNCLASSIFIED

CONS: -- We could be saddled with Lasker's unfavorable and erroneous conclusions concerning (1) the ability of plaintiffs with a judgment based on a noncommercial tort [§ 1605(a)(5)] to execute that judgment against commercial assets under a provision allowing execution only against commercial assets "used for the commercial activity upon which the claim is based" [§ 1610(a)(2)], (2) letting a judgment creditor pierce the veil of a foreign sovereign agency or instrumentality on an extremely weak showing of equitable circumstances justifying judicial disregard of the entity's separate status, (3) imposition of sanctions on LAN-Chile for Chile's failure to comply with discovery requests. Any one of these unfavorable precedents could have signficant effects in other cases, and lead to serious foreign policy problems with affected stastes.

-- ARA/SC has previously indicated support for USG intervention on LAN-Chile's side in the interest of good bilateral relations.

-- The aviation office has expressed its concern that reaching assets of a state-owned airline to satisfy a judgment against the state could have harmful effects on other state-owned airlines.

-- A decision against LAN-Chile could conceivably have harmful effects in the Huguang Railroad Bonds case. Although Lasker's theory of veil-piercing--that use of LAN-Chile equipment and invovlement of low-level personnel in the scheme to assassinate Letelier constitutes Chilean "disregard" of LAN's separate status--is not directly relevant to a future effort by bondholders to execute against CAAC, the opinion does suggest a readiness to disregard separate status which could be cited by bondholders.

Option 2: Intervene Now

Under this option, the United States Government would file a suggestion of interest or a memorandum amicus curiae (assuming concurrence of the Department of Justice and the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York) in District Court in Foley Square. There are a number of suboptions involving the grounds for any such statement. These suboptions can be combined.

UNCLASSIFIED

GENERAL PROS:

-- Intervening now would "get it over with" and at least raise the possibility of disposing of the litgation at the District Court level. It would be fairer to plaintiffs not to string them out if indeed we will eventually intervene on the other side.

-- This would win us the most political credit with Chile.

GENERAL CONS:

-- L has had a policy of not intervening or otherwise getting involved in cases in the District Court because it has been our experience that District Courts often do the right thing without L prompting and because trial court factfinding often clarifies the issues in dispute.

-- Our chances of success with Lasker must be discounted because he has already gone on record on these issues and in effect we would be asking him to take back what he has already said.

-- It is still possible that Lasker could decide on the basis of further discovery that LAN was not involved in the conspiracy and thus is not the alter ego of Chile in the assassination. Such a decision would obviate the need for L action.

Suboption 2(a): Suggest that the judgment cannot be satisfied by execution pursuant to § 1610(a)(2).

In this suboption we argue that a judgment based upon a non-commercial tort, here political assassination, cannot be executed by use of section 1610(a)(2), which provides for execution against foreign state commercial property which "is or was used for the commercial activity upon which the claim is based." Although I could not find any cases on point after a preliminary search, it does seem that Lasker's reading of this language to cover transport of personnel and materiel used in the assassination is strained. The claim, which was solely against Chile, not LAN, was not based on commercial activity. It was for political assassination. It arose under section 1605(a)(5), a section to be used only for claims which do not arise under any of the other provisions, including section 1602(a)(2), which is actions based on commercial activity.

UNCLASSIFIED

PROS: -- Judge Lasker's views of the execution provision are not based on a natural reading of the text and therefore L's position would be legally sound.

-- Establishing the position that noncommercial tort suits against foreign sovereigns cannot be executed by reliance on this provision would eliminate future embarrassing efforts to execute political tort judgments against foreign sovereigns.

-- Probably execution of these sorts of political tort suits are the most objectionable to other foreign sovereigns.

-- L is traditionally thought to have a continuing responsibility to guide judicial interpretation of the FSIA. Therefore, it would not be incongruous for L to take a position on this matter.

CONS: -- There may be increased pressure in Congress to amend the FSIA to allow unlimited execution of all tort judgments against any foreign sovereign commercial assets if L successfully asserts that 1610(a)(2) is not available, especially in a notorious case such as this one.

-- The import of the L position is that a noncommercial tort judgment is essentially a shell, especially in political tort cases. This view is likely to engender considerable criticism, and would be viewed as allowing foreign sovereigns which commit egregious crimes in the U.S. to "get away with it."

Suboption 2(b): Suggest that the court has applied the wrong standards in determining when one entity should be responsible for the acts of another

Under this suboption we would argue that Judge Lasker simply applied the wrong standards to allow the judgment against Chile to be executed against LAN-Chile. Judge Lasker wrote:

> As the record presently stands, the judgment creditors have made a threshold showing that Chile used LAN to facilitate the events in question. If Chile ignored LAN's separate existence in accomplishing the wrong, it may not now invoke that separate existence in order to deny the injured a remedy.

Letelier v. Republic of Chile d/b/a LAN-Chile, memorandum op. M18-302 (S.D.N.Y. July 28, 1983) at 11-12.

The court seems to have misapplied the Supreme Court's decision in First National City Bank v. Banco para el Comercio Exterior de Cuba, No. 81-984 (U.S. June 17, 1983) [Bancec]. Although the Court did say that equitable considerations may be used to pierce the veil of a foreign sovereign entity, the prime consideration found by the Supreme Court was that Bancec was a plaintiff in U.S. courts, suing a U.S. entity which had claims against Cuba. The Court did not suggest that the separate status of such an entity be lightly disregarded and did not lay down new standards outside the counterclaim context.

At any rate the court made no finding that high-level LAN officials knew of the conspiracy or that they collaborated with DINA in it. All of the judgment creditors' allegations of overt acts could have been asserted with equal plausibility had LAN been private. Even in that situation, some of LAN's working level officials could have decided to help their country's intelligence operatives further a scheme about which they knew nothing. We could argue with some force that had plaintiffs wished to demonstrate LAN's involvement in the conspiracy, they could have sued LAN in the original action in Washington.

PROS: -- As suggested above, our legal position is strong.

-- Unlike option 2(a), this position would not lead to pressure to revise the FSIA.

-- Unlike option 2(a), this position would not be as offensive to human-rights advocates because it would not foreclose the possibility of executing a political tort judgment.

CONS: -- We will still come in for heavy criticism for helping Chile "get away with it." In addition, we will be criticized for suggesting the corporate veil be pierced when the state is Cuba, as in Bancec, and for suggesting that the veil not be pierced when the state is Chile.

-- Even if we only state our views on this one point, we may be pressured to give our views on the FSIA execution point.

Suboption 2(c): Suggest that it is improper to invoke Rule 37 sanctions against LAN-Chile for Chile's failure to comply with discovery requests

Under this suboption, we would take issue with Lasker's warning on p. 13 of his opinion that if Chile fails to comply with "judgment creditors' reasonable and relevant discovery demands . . , the judgment creditors would be entitled to invoke the ordinary rules of evidence and the sanctions provided in Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(b)." Under Rule 37, Lasker is entitled to make findings of fact adverse to parties who fail to comply with discovery requests, and to award a default judgment to the requesting party in whole or in part.

The problem with this of course is that whether Chile is a party to an execution proceeding against LAN-Chile is the ultimate question in fact. To invoke discovery sanctions against LAN because of inaction by Chile is to beg the question, which is whether the faults of Chile may be visited upon the airline.

We could file a suggestion of interest (probably amicus is not appropriate in that we are dealing with procedural matters) stating that (1) discovery requests against foreign sovereigns should take into account their sovereign nature (the Abu Dhabi point) and (2) any sanctions against LAN for Chile's failure to answer constitutes prejudging the ultimate question.

PROS:

-- Again, we would have a good legal argument.

-- L involvement on the discovery point only would be much less offensive to human rights advocates that on other issues, but would still reassure the Republic of Chile that we had not forsaken them.

-- Since District Court judges are granted wide latitude in managing discovery, it would probably not be wise to wait to the appellate stages to raise the point.

CONS: -- Any action on this point might be premature since Lasker's statement was a threat, not a ruling. We could make a statement if and when he is actuaally prepared to invoke Rule 37.

Suboption 2(d): Support LAN's efforts to certify the case to the Second Circuit

LAN's lawyers have stated that they will likely seek certification of case upon interlocutory appeal to the Second Circuit. Their chances are uncertain, especially given Lasker's view that more facts need be found. We could support the certification on the ground that impotant and controlling questions of law are presented whose resolution would materially advance the litigation, the statutory standard. This seems true enough.

PROS: -- This gets the matter to the Second Circuit, where a favorable decision on the merits is more likely than before Judge Lasker.

-- This could also avoid the discovery battle mentioned above.

-- This would be cause a minimum level of offense to the human rights community and provide significant reassurance to Chile.

CONS: -- Certification is hard to get and the chances of success are not good even with our participation.

-- Once we are in, we have to be prepared to take some kind of position on the merits before the Second Circuit.

Option 3: Wait until the appeal to become involved

Under this option, we would do nothing but I would hope we would take a tentative decision about what we would say on appeal, depending of course on what Lasker's opinion finally says. We would tell LAN we have not made up our minds yet, so they do not make any representations to the court that are not consistent with what we want to say. On appeal we would have the grounds in suboptions 2(a), execution under the FSIA, and 2(b), alter ego.

PROS: We need not take any decision today, so this leaves some of our options open.

This is consistent with the usual practice of the office, which is to wait until the appellate level.

Most of the pros related to suboptions 2(a) and 2(b) would be applicable to raising those arguments on appeal.

It is still possible that Lasker could resolve the case in LAN's favor, thus avoiding the need to take any action at all.

CONS: The same cons related to suboptions 2(a) and 2(b) would still apply.

We would probably lose the chance to raise the discovery issue, or at least face much more uncertain chances of success if it were raised on appeal.

If certification is denied, and discovery continues we would be stringing LAN, the plaintiffs and the court along if we knew we were going to file a statement on appeal that we should realize would be of great significance.

Memcon of Rivera meeting

RELEASE

Rivera was looking very down at the mouth today, having just returned from a vacation in Mexico where he did not have a good time. He complained on constant headaches which he was able to have checked out in Mexico and blamed the pressure of his work, especially the Churchwomen's case. It was therefore not the best time to have talked with him about the following:

1. FOIA request: He said his original intention to permit the FBI to hand over evidence only to the families. He was personally not disposed to [redacted] give the FBI such authorizatio in the first place but he did so on instructions from Chachi Guerrero. He said he would discuss the issue with Guerrero when he returned from Israel.

2. Cordero: Rivera said he was the coordinator of the case but all the fiscals would be invovled in presenting the case to the jury. (My impression is that the job of coordinator is more of a gofer than anything else since he is the one that has to run to Zacatecoluca to deliver papers etc.

3. On the issue of how to proceed with the fingerprint compari sons, Rivera said we should talk to Vides Casanova. I did not press him on this because he looked so tired and depressed.

4. Moran letter: Rivera said that Moran had failed to appear twice at the Juzgado to offer his deposition in the case. Cordero planned to leave Tuesday to take deposition of Judge in San Luis Talpa in the case. Vides Casanova has yet to testify.

5. Q: Will the FBI release the transcript of the polygraph examinations?

A: There is no transcript available of the polygraph examinations. The polygraph examiner conducted his examination from a work sheet. Most of the questions from the work sheet are control questions designed to relax the examinee and provide a scientific basis upon which to compare his physical reactions to the substantive questions. In the case of the suspects in the churchwomen's case, the FBI examiner prepared a polygraph report for each examination. This report includes the examiner's general conclusion about whether the subject was lying. In the case of Colindres Aleman, the report also provides the specific questions and responses in which the examiner noted deception. The FBI has informed us that it will not release these polygraph reports.

8. Q: What questions was Colindres asked while on the polygraph about the involvement of other higher officials? Have we made a diplomatic approach to President Duarte about his statement in the press over the past weekend that no senior officials were involved?

A: The following question was asked of Colindres Aleman while he was on the polygraph: (English translation) "Did you receive instructions or orders to attack (atentara) those women?"

Colindres Aleman responded "No." No deception was noted on the polygraph machine. The polygraph examination was administered by experienced FBI examiners, with standard control procedures. It was clear to the interviewers that Colindres Aleman fully understood what the question implied. On all other substantive questions put to Colindres Aleman concerning his personal involvement in the crime, his negative answers did indicate deception on the polygraph.

The Embassy has not made a formal diplomatic approach to former President Duarte concerning his statement to the press about no involvement by senior officials. Duarte made this statement in response to a direct question on this matter by a member of the press. His response was apparently based upon his personal assessment of all of the evidence. There is no indications that President Duarte attempted at any time in the course of this investigation to interfere with the process of justice. In fact, given the dominant role which judges are supposed to play in the Salvadoran judicial system and the nature of Salvadoran society today, it is very unlikely that a simple, public statement by Duarte would have much if any effect on a criminal case.

15. Q: Where are the various telephones located at the airport that are the subject of the investigation, i.e., the telephone of the guard house, etc.?

A: There are eight pay telephones located in the airport terminal building. Four are located in the downstairs lobby and four are located upstairs in the immigration area. Each of the airlines has a private line located in the office behind its counter. In addition, the immigration service has a private line located in its office upstairs, and the Salvadoran Customs Service has a private line in its office at the ground floor customs area. The airport administration and the flight control tower have outside lines as well, but airport sources report that the National Guard personnel rarely enter those sections of the terminal building.

The National Guard airport command post is located nearly one mile north of the terminal building. The building is at the perimeter of the airport grounds. The command post telephone is located in the Administrative office in the command post building. Our Embassy cannot guarantee that the telephones were located at these same places in December 1980. Airport sources state that they believe that the phone location have not changed since 1980. Airport sources have informed our Embassy, however, that they believe that the phone locations have not changed since 1980.

19. Q: Can we investigate whether there was any communication between US officers Col. Cruz, Col. Cummings and Col. Bosch and members of the government or the oligarchy concerning the churchwomen? Mr. Ford reports that he had been given a rumor that Hans Krist got a communication from an American colonel that the churchwomen were coming and would be interfered with. The source reportedly is the man named Cortez whom we have attempted unsuccessfully to contact through Moran. Cortez supposedly was an employee of Hans Krist. Cortez also is alleged to have driven the van to pick up the soldiers to carry out the deed. Could Cortez be the missing witness? Moran reportedly has a son who is now in El Salvador but has sought asylum in Mexico. Would we make arrangements to get Moran's two children out of El Salvador before he talks with us?

A: None of the three military officers named in the question held any discussion of the churchwomen, by name or in general, with Salvadoran government officials or members of the "oligarchy" prior to the murders. After the murders the three served on occasion as liaison between those in the Embassy working directly on the case and the Salvadoran military. They did so with the full approval and coordination of Embassy officers as part of our ongoing effort to urge the Salvadoran government to pursue the investigation vigorously.

The Legal Attache at the Embassy in Mexico City contacted Juan Moran on June 21, 1982. Moran was asked if he would voluntarily submit to a polygraph examination conerning his allegations about the connection of a man named Cesar Cortez with the murders of the churchwomen. Moran failed to cooperate with USG officials. He stated that under no circumstances would he submit to a polygraph examination. He further warned that if he were contacted by USG officials during a planned trip to Houston, Texas in July that he would immediately leave the country.

Moran continues to maintain that he does not know the whereabouts of Cesar Cortez. Unfortunately, we have not been able to locate Mr. Cortez or determine if indeed Cortez exists.

20. Q: Two of the family members said that their sisters had reported being followed by a Huey helicopter. One of them was being followed while on the road between Santa Rosa and La Libertad. This took place approximately three weeks prior to the killing. Has this been investigated?

A: The Salvadoran government had no Huey helicopters until January 1981. There was one US-manned OAS Huey helicopter in El Salvador in November-December 1980. For the most part, this helicopter patrolled the northern border with Honduras in Chalatenango and Cabanas Departments. It is possible that a helicopter would follow either of the two main roads by which one would travel from Santa Rosa to La Libertad for some distance while returning from Chalatenango to Ilopango Air Base. Helicopter logs for El Salvador do not indicate routes followed. They indicate only place of departure, places of all intermediate landings, and place of final landing for the day. Our Embassy is attempting, nevertheless, to obtain copies of the logs.

22. Q: Did anyone talk with a man named Carlos Paredes, who is alleged to have information about the murders?

A: To our knowledge, no one from the US Embassy in San Salvador has spoken with Carlos Paredes about the murders. Mr. Paredes left his post in the Salvadoran government as Sub-Secretary of Planning in January 1981. He is reported to be residing in Mexico. We are attempting to contact Mr. Paredes through our Embassy in Mexico City. We will report the results of these efforts.

DENIED ENTRY INTO CHILE

REF: BUENOS AIRES 5374 (NOTAL)

1. (U) TWO ITALIAN COMMUNIST MEMBERS OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT WERE DENIED ENTRY INTO CHILE ON AUGUST 4. THE TWO WERE PART OF A GROUP OF SEVEN EUROPEAN PARLIAMENTARIANS WHO HAD JUST COMPLETED A VISIT TO ARGENTINA. ACCORDING TO PRESS ACCOUNTS, FOUR NON-COMMUNIST MEMBERS OF THE GROUP WERE PERMITTED TO ENTER CHILE. A SEVENTH MEMBER HAD REPORTEDLY RETURNED TO EUROPE DIRECTLY FROM ARGENTINA.

2. (U) A STATEMENT RELEASED ON AUGUST 5 BY THE CHILEAN FOREIGN MINISTRY MADE THE FOLLOWING POINTS:
--IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS IN FORCE CONCERNING FOREIGNERS, COMMUNIST PARTY DEPUTIES PANCRAZIO DI PASQUEALE AND GUIDO FANTI, WHO ARE MEMBERS OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT, WERE NOT PERMITTED TO ENTER CHILE.

--FOUR OTHER MEMBERS OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT WERE PERMITTED TO ENTER. THEY ARE M. PEDINI, G. BARBAGLI, M.A. MACCIOCHI, AND ERNEST GLINNE. IN CONTRAST TO THE MEASURES AFFECTING THE COMMUNIST PARLIAMENTARIANS, THERE WERE NO MEASURES BARRING THE ENTRY OF THESE FOUR REPRESENTATIVES OF DEMOCRATIC PARTIES.
--DESPITE THE FACT THAT THERE HAVE BEEN REPORTS FROM ARGENTINA WHICH INDICATE THAT SOME OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENTARIANS HAVE CARRIED OUT ACTIVITIES THAT INTERFERED IN THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF THAT COUNTRY, THE GOC HAS ALLOWED THEM TO ENTER CHILE SINCE THEY CLAIM TO BE HERE ON A PRIVATE VISIT FOR PURPOSES OF TOURISM. THE GOC HOPES THAT THEIR CONDUCT DURING THE VISIT WILL BE IN KEEPING WITH THEIR STATED PURPOSE.

3. (U) THE "GROUP OF 24", AN OPPOSITION COALTION STUDY GROUP WHICH REPORTEDLY PLANNED TO MEET THE VISITING PARLIAMENTARIANS, ISSUED A PUBLIC STATEMENT CONDEMNING THE GOVERNMENT'S ACTIONS. THERE HAVE BEEN NO OTHER REPORTED INCIDENTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE PARLIAMENTARIANS' VISIT AND PRESS COVERAGE OF THEIR ACTIVITIES HERE HAS BEEN MINIMAL.

4. (U) BEFORE DEPARTING CHILE ON AUGUST 6, GLINNE AND MACCIOCHI RELEASED A STATEMENT TO THE PRESS IN WHICH THEY EXPRESSED SOLIDARITY WITH THE TWO COMMUNIST PARLIAMENTARIANS WHO WERE NOT PERMITTED TO ENTER CHILE. THEY CLAIMED THAT DURING THEIR VISIT HERE THEY HAD MET WITH EC DELEGATES IN

SANTIAGO, WITH CARDINAL SILVA, WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF THE CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION AND THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY, AND WITH VARIOUS OTHER POLITICAL AND HUMAN RIGHTS FIGURES. THEY ALSO INFORMED THE PRESS THAT THEY HAD TRAVELLED TO VINA DEL MAR TO ATTEND A CEREMONY AT THE GRAVE OF SALVADOR ALLENDE. THEY INDICATED THAT THEY WOULD RELEASE THEIR IMPRESSIONS OF CHILE AFTER RETURNING TO EUROPE.

5. (C) COMMENT: THE GOC'S DECISION TO DENY ENTRY TO THE TWO COMMUNIST PARLIAMENTARIANS WAS UNDOUBTEDLY INFLUENCED IN PART BY REPORTS THAT THE GROUP HAD "ENGAGED IN CONTROVERSIAL POLITICAL ACTIVITIES" IN ARGENTINA (SEE REFTEL). THE FACT THAT THE FOUR NON-COMMUNISTS WERE ALLOWED TO ENTER WHILE THE TWO COMMUNISTS WERE BARRED IS CONSISTENT WITH THE GOC'S RECENT POLICY ON TARGETING COMMUNISTS WHILE ATTEMPTING TO SHOW MORE TOLERANCE TOWARDS NON-COMMUNISTS. ALTHOUGH GOC CRITICS AT HOME AND ABROAD WILL PROBABLY CITE THE INCIDENT AS FURTHER EVIDENCE OF GOC REPRESSION, THE GOC APPEARS TO HAVE EXERCISED RESTRAINT IN THIS CASE, CONSIDERING

THE REPORTS FROM ARGENTINA AND ITS OWN DEEP FEAR OF FOREIGN INTERFERENCE IN DOMESTIC AFFAIRS. THEBERGE

BE NOTEWORTHY. SUCH A THING WOULD HAVE BEEN UNTHINKABLE SEVERAL MONTHS AGO. THE ONLY RADIO COMMENTARY THAT WE ARE AWARE OF WAS A PROGRAM ON "LA VOZ PANAMERICANA" IN WHICH THE NON-GOVERNMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION "GREETED WITH RENEWED OPTIMISM THE ATTAINMENT OF POLITICAL DIALOGUE."

3. (U) AS ADDRESSEES AWARE, RADIO VENCEREMOS HAS ATTACKED STONE AS A "SOLDIER OF INTERVENTION" AND INSISTED THAT HE IS A PARTY TO THE CONFLICT AND CANNOT ACT AS A MEDIATOR.

4. [redacted]IN POST'S VIEW, LOCAL NEWSPAPERS' SILENCE IS REMINISCENT OF THE SHERLOCK HOLMES STORY WHERE THE SIGNIFICANT ELEMENT WAS THE "DOG THAT DIDN'T BARK IN THE NIGHT." THE UNIFORM SILENCE PROBABLY REFLECTS THE MISGIVINGS OF THE MORE CONSERVATIVE ELEMENTS HERE SINCE THE LOCAL PAPERS GENERALLY MIRROR THEIR VIEWS VERY CLOSELY. LIKEWISE THE THRUSDAY ATTACK BY RADIO VENCEREMOS, WHICH HAD PREVIOUSLY REMAINED SILENT, PROBABLY INDICATES THE DISMAY OF SOME ELEMENTS IN THE GUERRILLAS WHO ARE UNCOMFORTABLE ABOUT HAVING TO PUT UP OR SHUT UP ON A POLITICAL SETTLEMENT.

1. IN RESPONSE TO REFTEL REQUEST, THERE FOLLOWS ALL AVAILABLE INFORMATION ON THE TWO ALLEGED HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES IN SAN VICENTE DEPARTMENT.

2. THE 7/12/83 ISSUE OF LEADING LOCAL DAILY LA PRENSA GRAFICA PUBLISHED A NEWS ITEM WHICH REPORTED THAT A CLANDESTINE CEMETERY BELONGING TO SUBVERSIVES WAS DISCOVERED BY THE PIPIL BATTALION IN THE VICINITY OF SAN JUAN BUENAVISTA, SAN VICENTE DEPARTMENT. THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE GOES ARMED FORCES (EMGFA) REPORTED TO THE PRESS THAT THE NUMBER OF GRAVES DISCOVERED CORRESPONDED ROUGHLY TO THE NUMBER OF ESTIMATED ENEMY CASUALTIES DURING BATTLES IN THE DEPARTMENTS OF SAN VICENTE, USULUTAN, AND SAN MIGUEL.

3. ACCORDING TO THE OFFICE OF THE U.S. DEFENSE ATTACHE (DAO), THE 7/23/83 HAVANA DOMESTIC SERVICE CHARGE BEARS NO RESEMBLANCE TO ANY KNOWN AMBUSH OR OTHER SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES ACTIVITY IN SAN VICENTE OR ELSEWHERE. DAO FURTHER REPORTS THERE WERE NO KNOWN INCIDENTS OF LARGE NUMBERS OF EX-COMBATANTS OR INSURGENT FOLLOWERS TAKEN TO SAN VICENTE DURING THE MONTH OF JULY.

4. DR. MARIA JULIA HERNANDEZ, OF THE ARCHBISHOPRIC'S OFFICE OF LEGAL ASSISTANCE, TOLD EMBOFF THAT HER OFFICE HAS RECEIVED NO CONFIRMATION WHATSOEVER ON THE ALLEGED VIOLATIONS AND THAT NO ONE HAS COME FORWARD TO PRESS CHARGES OR DENOUNCE ABUSES CORRESPONDING TO THE TWO ALLEGED EVENTS.

5. COMMENT. BOTH HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS REPORTS APPEAR TO BE TOTAL FABRICATIONS BY THE GUERRILLAS, PUBLISHED IN AN ATTEMPT TO GARNER SYMPATHY FOR MILITARY REVERSES. IT SHOULD BE NOTED, MOREOVER, THAT THE "REPORTS" WERE PUBLISHED IN A TIME FRAME COINCIDENTAL WITH CONGRESSIONAL CERTIFICATION OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR END COMMENT. BLEAKLEY

ANIS REPS INFORMED LABOFF THAT GARCIA, JAILED ON TRUMPED-UP CHARGES ON 6/24/83 (SEE REFTEL), WAS FREED ON 7/30/83, AFTER PRESIDENTIAL MINISTER FRANCISCO "CHACHI" GUERRERO SPOKE WITH THE SALVADORAN ATTORNEY GENERAL IN ESQUINO'S PRESENCE AND SECURED A RELEASE ORDER. ACCORDING TO ESQUINO, GUERRERO ALSO ASSURED ANIS REPS THAT THE JUDGE IN CHARGE OF THE LAS HOJAS CASE WILL SOON ORDER THE DETENTION OF THE "FINGERMEN" INVOLVED IN THE KILLINGS. THE CASE WILL THEN PASS OVER TO THE TRIAL (PLENARIO) STAGE. (NOTE: THE INVESTIGATION PHASE (FASE DE INSTRUCCION) IS OVER AND DETENTION OF THE SUSPECTS IS PREREQUISITE FOR THE ELEVATION OF THE CASE TO THE PLENARIO STAGE).

3. AS NOTED, GARCIA WAS JAILED ON TRUMPED-UP CHARGES ON 6/24/83. HE IS THE FATHER OF ONE OF THE VICTIMS OF THE LAST HOJAS MASSACRE AND A MATERIAL WITNESS IN THE ONGOING COURT CASE. ESQUINO AND GARCIA APPEARED OPTIMISTIC AND RELIEVED BY THE RECENT TURN OF EVENTS. ESQUINO TOLD LABOFF HE TRUSTS GUERRERO WILL KEEP HIS PROMISE TO ENSURE THAT JUSTICE WILL BE DONE AND THAT THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF LAS HOJAS WILL BE COMPENSATED FOR THEIR GRIEVOUS LOSS.

4. ESQUINO AND GARCIA EXPRESSED THEIR APPRECIATION FOR THE MISSION'S SUCCESSFUL INTERCESSION ON BEHALF OF GARCIA GUARDADO'S FREEDOM. THEY WERE ESPECIALLY GRATEFUL THAT CHARGE BLEAKLEY EXPRESSED POST'S CONCERN IN THE CASE TO NOD VIDES CASANOVA. ANIS REPS CONSIDER THIS ACTION A CRUCIAL STEP IN SECURING GARCIA'S FREEDOM. ANIS ALSO SENT TELEX TO THE EMBASSY (ADDRESSED TO AMBASSADOR PICKERING) EXPRESSING THE ASSOCIATION'S THANKS FOR ITS

SUBJECT: GOS ISSUES LARGE NEW LIST OF EXILES AUTHORIZED TO RETURN, INCLUDING JAIME CASTILLO

REFS: (A) SANTIAGO 3940 (NOTAL); (B) SANTIAGO 1374 (NOTAL)

1. (U) ON AUGUST 19, THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR RELEASED A NEW LIST OF 1,190 EXILES WHO WILL BE PERMITTED TO RETURN TO CHILE UNCONDITIONALLY. THIS BRINGS THE TOTAL OF THOSE ALLOWED TO RETURN SINCE THE NEW POLICY WAS ANNOUNCED LATE

CONFIDENTIAL

LAST YEAR TO 1,837, INCLUDING MOST OF THE PROMINENT NON-COMMUNIST POLITICIANS WHO WERE THEN IN EXILE. (SEE PARA 5 REF B FOR WIDELY CONFLICTING ESTIMATES OF TOTAL NUMBER OF CHILEAN EXILES.) THE LATEST LIST INCLUDES THE NAMES OF SEVERAL WELL-KNOWN POLITICAL LEADERS, INCLUDING JAIME CASTILLO, FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY (PDC), JUSTICE MINISTER IN THE FREI ADMINISTRATION AND PRESIDENT OF THE CHILEAN COMMISSION FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. OTHER WELL-KNOWN POLITICAL FIGURES ON THE LIST INCLUDE: ALBERTO JEREZ, FORMER SENATOR AND LEADER OF THE IZQUIERDA CRISTIANANA; GERARDO ESPINOZA CARRILLO, FORMER SOCIALIST DEPUTY AND MINISTER OF INTERIOR UNDER THE UP; ALCALAUZ CORONEL, FORMER LEFTIST LEADER OF THE RADICAL PARTY AND IN EXILE IN THE SOVIET UNION SINCE 1973; AND JORGE DAVID LEBON, FORMER LEADER OF THE INDEPENDENT POPULAR ACTION PARTY AND MINISTER OF MINES UNDER THE UP.

2. (U) PUBLIC REACTION: VIRTUALLY ALL POLITICAL SECTORS IN CHILE REACTED FAVORABLY TO THE LATEST EXILE RETURN LIST WITH MOST CHARACTERIZING IT AS AN IMPORTANT STEP IN PACIFYING THE COUNTRY. EVEN PEOPLE NORMALLY CRITICAL OF THE SLOWNESS OF THE EXILE RETURN PROCESS AND THE SAMLL SIZE OF THE PREVIOUS EXILE LISTS HAVE BEGUN TO TAKE A MUCH MORE POSITIVE VIEW OF THE PROCESS NOW, WHILE CONTINUING TO PRESS FOR A GENERAL RETURN OF ALL EXILES WITH THE EXCEPTION OF A SHORT LIST OF THOSE NOT PERMITTED TO RETURN. SEVERAL WERE INCLINED TO GIVE CREDIT FOR THIS STEP FORWARD TO THE INCLUSION OF JARPA IN THE NEW CABINET. CASTILLO, FOR EXAMPLE, CHARACTERIZED JARPA'S ROLE IN HIS RETURN AS "QUALITATIVELY IMPORTANT" AND JARPA'S INCORPORATION IN THE NEW CABINET AS "VERY IMPORTANT FOR THE COUNTRY". CASTILLO ALSO EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT RECENT AND EXPECTED MEASURES OF THE GOVERNMENT WILL LEAD TO A "GREATER POLITICAL OPENING".

EVEN RADOMIRO TOMIC, EX-SENATOR AND PDC PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE IN 1970, REFERRED TO A POLITICAL OPENING UNDER JARPA.

3. (U) GOC STATEMENT: THE GOC SPOKESMAN, UNDER-SECRETARY OF INTERIOR GERMAN GARDEWEG, ALSO PROMISED THAT A NEW LIST OF THOSE PERMITTED TO RETURN WOULD BE ISSUED IN THE NEAR FUTURE AS AN INTERMEDIATE STEP, WHILE THE GOVERNMENT CONTINUED EXPLORING THE POSSIBILITY OF A GENERAL RETURN OF ALL EXILES EXCEPT FOR A LIMITED LIST OF THOSE NOT PERMITTED TO RETURN.

4. (C) COMMENT: WITH THE PUBLICATION OF A LARGE AND POLITICALLY SIGNIFICANT LIST OF EXILES PERMITTED TO RETURN--AND THE PROMISE OF MORE TO COME INCLUDING A POSSIBLE FINAL SOLUTION TO THE EXILE PROBLEM--JARPA APPEARS TO HAVE SEIZED THE INITIATIVE ON THIS SENSITIVE ISSUE. WE WOULD BE WISE TO EMULATE ARCHBISHOP FRESNO IN PRAISING SUCH CONRETE ADVANCES AS A WAY OF STRENGTHENING JARPA'S

Q: WILL AMBASSADOR STONE BE MEETING WITH THE SALVADORAN LEFT THIS WEEK?

A: AS WE'VE SAID BEFORE, SUCH A MEETING IS POSSIBLE, BUT I DON'T HAVE ANY OTHER INFORMATION FOR YOU. WE'VE MADE IT CLEAR THAT AN IMPORTANT ELEMENT OF AMBASSADOR STONE'S MISSION OF FACILITATING DIALOGUE BOTH WITHIN AND BETWEEN THE NATIONS OF CENTRAL AMERICA IS CONFIDENTIALITY ABOUT DETAILS OF HIS ACTIVITIES. THUS, WE WILL CONTINUE OUR POLICY OF NOT DISCUSSING AMB. STONE'S PLANS IN DETAIL OR IN ADVANCE.

Q: CAN YOU CONFIRM REPORTS THAT THE SALVADORAN PEACE COMMISSION WILL MEET WITH THE LEFT THIS WEEK AS WELL?

A: NO, I DON'T HAVE ANYTHING ON THAT FOR YOU. AS YOU KNOW, WE'VE GIVEN OUR FULL SUPPORT TO SUCH A MEETING, BUT THE DETAILS WOULD BE FOR THE PARTIES CONCERNED TO ADDRESS. END TEXT. SHULTZ

3.(C) COMMENT: IN ANNOUNCING THE NEW LIST, THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR SPOKESMAN SAID THAT ANOTHER LARGE LIST WOULD BE PUBLISHED SOON AND THAT A FINAL LIST OF THOSE NOT PERMITTED TO RETURN WOULD BE RELEASED SOON THEREAFTER, PRESUMABLY ON SEPTEMBER 11. INTERIOR MINISTER JARPA IS ALREADY ON RECORD AS FAVORING SUCH A LIST RATHER THAN A CONTINUING SERIES OF LISTS OF THOSE ALLOWED TO RETURN. THE LATEST LIST BRINGS THE TOTAL ALLOWED TO RETURN TO ABOUT 380 PERCENT OF THE ESTIMATED 10,000 POLITICAL EXILES, AND MANY OF THEM HAVE RETURNED ACCOMPANIED BY THEIR FAMILIES WHO FOLLOWED THEM INTO EXILE. NO ONE KNOWS HOWEVER, WHAT PROPORTION OF THIS SECOND GROUP (FAMILY MEMBERS) ESTIMATED AT 20,000 HAVE ACTUALLY RETURNED, BUT GOC SOURCES TELL US THAT ALL MAY RETURN AS THEIR NAMES DO NOT APPEAR ON ANY LIST. A MINISTRY OF INTERIOR SOURCE PRIVATELY CONFIRMED TO US THAT THE EARLIER REQUIREMENT THAT EXILES PETITION THE GOVERNMENT TO RETURN IS NO LONGER BEING REQUIRED FOR THESE LISTS.

YO ESTOY SEGURO DE QUE EL PUEBLO SALVADORENO Y LOS PUEBLOS CENTROAMERICANOS VEN EN ESTE PRIMER ENCUENTRO UNA ESPERANZA DE QUE PUEDA TERMINARSE CON EL BANO DE SANGRE Y CON LA GUERRA EN NUESTROS PAISES, Y NOSOTROS HEMOS ESTADO PROFUNDAMENTE CONMOVIDOS DE LA TRAGEDIA QUE AZOTA A LOS PUEBLOS HERMANOS DE CENTRO AMERICA. NO POR EL HECHO DE QUE HEMOS LOGRADO PRESERVAR NUESTRA PAZ Y NUESTRO SISTEMA INSTITUCIONAL HEMOS SIDO INSENSIBLES O HEMOS QUERIDO IGNORAR--NO HABRIAMOS PODIDO HACERLO-- TODO EL DOLOR Y TODA LA TRAGEDIA QUE MALTRATAN A LOS PUEBLOS HERMANOS DE CENTRO AMERICA. ALL THE PAIN, ALL THE TRAGEDY THAT ABUSES THE SISTER

THAT SINCE I ACCEPTED TO BE A BRIDGE, A COMMUNICATION

FRIENDS, I FOUND IN THE TWO GROUPS AN AMPLE DISPOSITION, A VERY OPEN SPIRIT. ON ONE OCCASION WHEN THIS MEETING

ON THIS OCCASION WHEN THE MEETING WAS NOT ACCOMPLISHED, WE AGREED THAT WE WOULD MAKE DECLARATIONS THAT LEFT
THE DOOR OPEN. EVERYONE COMPLIED. SUCH WERE THE DECLARATIONS OF THE TWO SALVADORAN FRONTS, AND SUCH WERE THE DECLARATIONS OF THE WHITE HOUSE, AND SUCH WAS MY DECLARATION. THIS WAS A GENTLEMEN'S AGREEMENT.
IT WAS NOT WRITTEN...THAT WE WOULD NOT SAY ANYTHING THAT WOULD CLOSE THE DOORS IN ORDER TO BE ABLE TO PRODUCE IN SOME MOMENT THIS CONTACT. THERE IS A VERY BRIEF DECLARATION THAT I AM GOING TO ALLOW MYSELF TO READ. UNQUOTE.

TAGS: PGOV, ES
SUBJECT: CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE: NEXT STEPS

1. (C) - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: THIS MESSAGE OUTLINES A PLAN FOR COMPLETING INVESTIGATIVE STAGE OF PROCEEDINGS IN THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE AND ELEVATING CASE TO PLENARIO AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE DATE. IT INCORPORATES SUGGESTIONS MADE BY JUDGE TYLER, MICHAEL POSNER AND THE LAWYERS COMMITTEE, THE EMBASSY AND ATTORNEY-ADVISER DONALD KOBLITZ. EMBASSY IS REQUESTED TO BEGIN IMPLEMENTING AS MUCH OF THE PLAN AS POSSIBLE. ASSISTANT LEGAL A;VISER SMITH AND FSO GETTINGER WILL VISIT EL SALVADOR LATE NEXT WEEK TO ASSIST IN IMPLEMENTATION AND JUDGE TYLER WILL JOIN THEM THE FOLLOWING WEEK TO COMPLETE HIS REVIEW. END SUMMARY

3. SCHEDULE: THE CASE SHOULD BE ELEVATED TO PLENARIO [redacted]

AND A DATE FOR PRESENTATION TO JURY ANNOUNCED BY SEPTEMBER 14. (WE RECOGNIZE THAT ONLY JUDGE RAUDA CAN SET A DATE FOR ELEVATION TO PLENARIO, BUT WE ALSO UNDERSTAND THAT HE WILL NOT DO SO UNTIL PETITIONED TO DO SO BY THE FISCAL.) IF POSSIBLE, PRESENTATION TO JURY SHOULD OCCUR IN LATE SEPTEMBER OR EARLY OCTOBER. EMBASSY IS REQUESTED TO INFORM APPROPRIATE SALVADORAN AUTHORITIES OF OUR DESIRES.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

4. ASSISTANT LEGAL ADVISER SMITH WOULD TRAVEL TO EL SALVADOR ON SEPTEMBER 8 TO MEET WITH THE FISCAL AND AUXILIARY PROSECUTOR TO AGREE ON SPECIFIC TIME TABLE AND STEPS TO COMPLETE PROCEEDINGS. IN THE MEANTIME, EMBASSY SHOULD BEGIN PRESSING GOES HARD FOR ACTION ON THESE MEASURES AS DESCRIBED BELOW. (WE CANNOT ASSURE THE GOES THAT THE LIST IS FINAL, AS JUDGE TYLER HAS NOT FINISHED HIS REVIEW, BUT, BASED ON CONSULTATIONS WITH HIM, DO NOT ANTICIPATE ANY NEW MAJOR RECOMMENDATIONS.)

5. JUDGE TYLER PLANS TO TRAVEL TO SALVADOR DURING WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 11, BUT WILL NOT HAVE A DEFINITIVE SCHEDULE UNTIL SEPTEMBER 7. JUDGE TYLER WOULD LIKE SMITH AND FSO CARL GETTINGER PRESENT DURING HIS VISIT IN SALVADOR. DEPARTMENT AGREES, AND PLANS TO SEND GETTINGER WITH SMITH AND HAVE THEM STAY FOR THE TYLER VISIT. TYLER HAS ALSO REQUESTED THAT THE FBI SEND A LEGATT AND IT IS PRESENTLY CONTEMPLATED THAT ASSISTANT LEGATT WALSER WOULD TRAVEL TO SAN SALVADOR FROM MEXICO ON OR ABOUT SEPTEMBER 12.

6. SUGGESTED NEXT STEPS ARE:

A. PERSONS TO BE REINTERVIEWED (EMBASSY SHOULD ASK FISCAL TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR INTERVIEWS DURING SMITH VISIT. SMITH IS PREPARING SPECTFIC Q;ESTIONS FOR INTERVIEWS.)

--MARGARITO PEREZ NIETO (NATIONAL GUARDSMAN WHO FIRST REPORTED TO SUBSERGEANT COLINDRES ALEMAN THAT THE NUNS WERE AT THE AIRPORT AND APPEARED TO BE "SUBVERSIVE"). HE ALLOWED THE CHURCHWOMEN'S VAN TO PASS THE CHECKPOINT. HE SHOULD BE QUESTIONED IN MORE DETAIL ABOUT HIS CONVERSATIONS WITH SUBSERGEANT COLINDRES ALEMAN AND HIS REASONS FOR MAKING THE CALL. HAD HE BEEN INSTRUCTED TO WATCH FOR THE NUNS? FOR SUBVERSIVES? FOR LIBERALS OR CHURCHWOMEN? IN PARTICULAR, HE SHOULD BE ASKED WHETHER THE THREE NUNS AND THE LAY WORKER WERE IN ANY WAY IDENTIFIABLE AS CHURCHWOMEN. DID THE WOMEN WEAR CROSSES? ANY OTHER IDENTIFIABLE MARKS? IN WHAT WAY DID THEY LOOK "LIBERAL" OR "SUBVERSIVE"?

--CARLOS JOAQUIN CONTRERAS PALACIOS (GUARDSMAN WHO CONFESSED TO PARTICIPATION IN THE MURDER). HE SHOULD BE QUESTIONED AT FAR GREATER LENGTH ABOUT THE DETAILS. HE SHOULD BE QUESTIONED ABOUT THE ROBBERY OF THE VICTIMS AND ANY OTHER DETAILS THAT MIGHT REFLECT PREMEDITATION.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

--SALVADOR RIVERA FRANCO (GUARDSMAN WHO WATCHED OVER THE MALFUNCTIONING JEEP DURING THE PERIOD WHEN THE MURDERS OCCURRED). HE SHOULD BE REINTERVIEWED ALONG THE LINES SUGGESTED ABOVE FOR CONTRERAS.

--ISABEL AQUINO GIRON (SECOND IN COMMAND AT THE AIRPORT ON THE EVENING OF DECEMBER 2). HE IS THE MAN WHO WAS PUT IN CHARGE AT THE AIRPORT BY SUBSERGEANT COLINDRES ALEMAN WITH INSTRUCTIONS TO "BE VERY CAREFUL". LATER,

[redacted]

THE SUBSERGEANT CALLED AQUINO GIRON FROM EL ROSARIO, LA PAZ, AT THE TIME WHEN THE JEEP WAS BROUGHT INTO THAT PLACE. AQUNIO GIRON SHOULD BE CLOSELY QUESTIONED ABOUT THE SUBSTANCE OF THAT PHONE CALL.

--JOSE LUIS MONTEROSA. WE BELIEVE THAT THIS MAN KNOWS FAR MORE THAN HE HAS SAID, PARTICULARLY ABOUT THE GUILT OF COLINDRES. HE SHOULD BE MORE CLOSELY QUESTIONED THAN HE HAS BEEN HERETOFORE.

--COLONEL RICARDO PENA RABAIZA.

--THE IMMEDIATE SUPERIORS OF SERGEANT COLINDRES ALEMAN, INCLUDING LIEUTENANT RAFAEL ANTONIO CORNEJO, LIEUTENANT DANILE MEJIA RIVAS, AND CAPTAIN OSCAR ARNANDO CARRANZA.

--ANY SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL (INCLUDING POLICE) ON DUTY AT AIRPORT ON NIGHT OF MURDER AND WHO HAVE NOT BEEN INTERVIEWED, TO ASCERTAIN WHETHER THERE WERE RELEVANT COMMUNICATIONS WITH GUARDSMEN.

--REINTERVIEW OF NATIONAL GUARD MEMBERS JULIO CESAR VALLE ESPINOZA, JOSE ELIAS SANCHEZ, AND ADRIAN RAMIREZ PALACIOS.

--CONSIDERATION SHOULD ALSO BE GIVEN TO WHETHER SUBSERGEANT COLINDRES SHOULD BE REINTERVIEWED. IT SEEMS TO US THAT, IF HE WERE TO CONFESS, AND ADDRESS THE QUESTION OF HIGH-LEVEL INVOLVEMENT, MANY OF THE QUESTIONS IN THIS CASE COULD BE RESOLVED. A CONFESSION ALSO VIRTUALLY ELIMINATES THE POSSIBILITY OF AN ACQUITTAL. IN AN AMERICAN PROSECUTION, THE PROSECUTOR

[redacted]

WOULD CONTINUE TO TRY TO GAIN COOPERATION OF A POTENTIAL DEFENDANT THROUGHOUT THE INVESTIGATION, EVEN

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

UP TO THE EVE OF TRIAL. WE RECOGNIZE THERE MAY BE DIFFICULTIES WITH THIS APPROACH IN THE SALVADORAN SYSTEM, BUT WE SUGGEST THAT EMBASSY EXPLORE WITH THE FISCAL'S OFFICE AND MENDEZ THE ADVISIBILITY OF FURTHER INTERVIEWS OF COLINDRES. HE IS OBVIOUSLY THE BEST WITNESS TO RESOLVE THE QUESTIONS WHICH HAVE BEEN RAISED ABOUT HIS MOTIVATIONS IN THIS CASE.

B. FURTHER INVESTIGATIVE STEPS:

--FOLLOWING INTERVIEWS OF ABOVE-IDENTIFIED PERSONS, CONSIDERATION SHOULD BE GIVEN TO HAVING STATEMENTS FROM THEM INCLUDED IN COURT RECORD THROUGH DEPOSITION BEFORE JUDGE RAUDA.

--EFFORTS MUST BE MADE TO ENTER INTO THE RECORD COLINDRES' THUMBPRINT WHICH THE FBI LIFED FROM THE VAN. IS ITPOSSIBLE THAT THE FBI AGENT WHO LIFTED THE PRINT COULD RETURN TO SALVADOR AND TESTIFY, TOGETHER WITH THE FBI FINGERPRINT EXPERT FROM WASHINGTON WHO MATCHED THE PRINTS?

--FILES INDICATE THAT THERE WAS A SMALL NATIONAL GUARD POST WITH ONE OR TWO GUARDSMEN (WHOSE NAMES ARE NOT KNOWN) AT EL ROSARIO, LA PAZ, ON THE EVENING OF DECEMBER 2. SUBSERGEANT COLINDRES ALEMAN PLACED HIS CALL FOR HELP FOR THE DISABLED JEEP FROM THIS LOCATION. JUDGE TYLER BELIEVES THAT THESE GUARDSMEN SHOULD BE IDENTIFIED AND QUESTIONED, BECAUSE OF THE POSSIBILITY THAT COLINDRES MAY HAVE DISCUSSED WITH THEM AND PERHAPS OTHERS AT THE SCENE THE WOMEN (WHO, OF COURSE, WERE ALIVE AT THE TIME) AND THE SUBSERGEANT'S PLANS FOR THE WOMEN.

--IF NOT ALREADY ACCOMPLISHED, THE EMBASSY AND THE FISCAL NEED TO RESOLVE QUESTIONS ABOUT THE APPARENTLY FORGED MORAN LETTER. HAS JUDGE RAVDA DECIDED WHAT TO DO ABOUT LETTER?

--EFFORTS SHOULD BE MADE TO IDENTIFY THE FINGERPRINTS THAT THE FBI FOUND ON THE THREAT LETTER RECEIVED BY THE CHURCHWOMEN. WE UNDERSTAND THE EMBASSY BELIEVES THE FBI MAY HAVE THE LETTER. THE FBI HAS ADVISED US THAT IT RETURNED THE LETTER, TOGETHER WITH THE PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE FINGERPRINTS, TO THE EMBASSY THROUGH THE LEGATT IN JANUARY 1981. PRESUMABLY THEY WERE THEN PASSED TO THE SALVADORAN INVESTIGATIVE COMMISSION WHICH SHOULD STILL HAVE THEM.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

7. ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS:

--WE UNDERSTAND THE CASE WI-L BE MOVED TO SAN SALVADOR. ARE ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR THAT TRANSFER? WHAT JUDGE WILL HANDLE THE CASE IN SAN SALVADOR? AS WE UNDERSTAND IT, THE PURPOSE OF SHIFTING THE CASE TO SAN SALVADOR IS TO ASSURE AN INDEPENDENT JURY. IF SO, WOULD IT BE POSSIBLE FOR JUDGE RAUDA, WHO HAS IMPRESSED THE FAMILIES AND OTHERS WHO WORKED WITH HIM, TO PRESIDE OVER THE CASE IN SAN SALVADOR?

--WE HAD PREVIOUSLY BEEN INFORMED THAT THE PLENARIO STAGE OF THE TRIAL WOULD TAKE SOME TIME AND THAT WITNESSES WOULD TESTIFY IN OPEN COURT. WE UNDERSTOOD THERE WAS A FIFTEEN DAY "PERIOD OF PROOF" AND A "VISTA PUBLICA" WHICH WOULD INVOLVE APPEARANCES OF THE KEY WITNESSES AND ARGUMENTS BEFORE THE COURT. WE ARE NOW [redacted]

TOLD THAT THE MATTER WILL TAKE ONLY ONE OR TWO DAYS AND NO WITNESSES WILL APPEAR. EMBASSY IS REQUESTED TO CLARIFY WHAT WILL HAPPEN IN PLENARIO.

--THE FISCAL SHOULD CONSOLIDATE EVIDENCE WHICH HAS BEEN PREVIOUSLY PROVIDED TO THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR BY THE FBI (THE LIST GIVEN TO THE FISCAL AFTER THE SMITH/RICHARD VISIT IN MAY OF 1983). EMBASSY SHOULD GO OVER THAT LIST WITH THE FISCAL TO MAKE SURE FIRST, THAT HE HAS ALL EVIDENCE; SECOND, THAT ALL PROBATIVE EVIDENCE IS AVAILABLE IN A FORM THAT IS ADMISSIBLE; AND THIRD, THAT EVIDENCE IS ORGANIZED FOR PRESENTATION IN A COHERENT, PERSUASIVE WAY. CONFIDENTIAL

E.01 12356 DECL: OADR
TAGS: PREL, UNGA
SUBJECT: 38TH UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY: US STRATEGY AND OBJECTIVES

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT

2. GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS: SEPTEL CONTAINS A SUMMARY OF U.S. POSITIONS AND OBJECTIVES AT THE 38TH UNGA FOR POSTS TO USE WITH FOREIGN MINISTER AS NON PAPER. OUTLINED BELOW IS A MORE DETAILED DISCUSSION OF U.S. VIEWS ON KEY ISSUES FOR POSTS' USE IN ELICITING HOST GOVERNMENT VIEWS AND SUPPORT. POSTS SHOULD CONSULT, INTER ALIA, WHERE FEASIBLE WITH THE OPERATING HEAD OF THE GA DELEGATION. ALL POSTS PLEASE REPORT REACTIONS, INFO USUN, BY SEPTEMBER 15.

3. SETTING AND OBJECTIVES: THE 38TH GA COMES AT A

TIME WHEN, DOMESTICALLY, USG AND US PUBLIC CONCERN CONTINUES OVER THE IMPACT OF BUDGET DEFICITS ON THE STATE OF THE ECONOMY. FOR THIS REASON, A GOOD DEAL OF U.S. ATTENTION REMAINS FOCUSSED ON THE COST AND EFFECTIVENESS OF THE UN SYSTEM. WE HAVE MADE PROGRESS IN THIS AREA, BUT MORE NEEDS TO BE DONE. AMERICAN SENSITIVITIES TO ABUSE OF UN MACHINERY REMAIN A POINT OF SERIOUS CONCERN, AND THE OUSTER OF ISRAEL OR A UNGA VOTE WHICH CHALLENGES THE STATUS OF PUERTO RICO COULD MAKE IMPOSSIBLE CONTINUED FULL U.S. PARTICIPATION IN THE UN SYSTEM.

4. THE 38TH UNGA TAKES PLACE DURING A PERIOD OF INCREASED REGIONAL TENSIONS. CENTRAL AMERICA HAS BECOME POTENTIALLY EXPLOSIVE, AND REGIONAL EFFORTS TO DEFUSE THE SITUATION RISK BEING SUPERSEDED BY GLOBALIZATION OF THE ISSUE IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. LEBANON, THE ARAB-ISRAELI DISPUTE IN THE MIDDLE EAST WILL CONTINUE TO PROVOKE DIVISION AND CONTROVERSY. THE LIBYAN INTERVENTION IN CHAD IS YET ANOTHER ISSUE LIKELY TO IMPACT ON THE GA DELIBERATIONS. THE RESULTS OF THE UNCTAD VI MEETING IN BELGRADE DID LITTLE TO EASE THE STRAIN ON RELATIONS BETWEEN THE U.S. AND THE MAJORITY OF THE G-77, AND WE CAN EXPECT RENEWED LDC EFFORTS TO PUSH THE INDUSTRIALIZED COUNTRIES INTO DOING MORE

FORTHCOMING ON INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC POLICY.

5. A NEW WRINKLE IN THIS YEAR'S SESSION IS MRS. GANDHI'S INVITATION TO WORLD LEADERS TO ATTEND THE 38TH UNGA WITH THE AIM OF EXCHANGING VIEWS ON INTERNATIONAL ISSUES -- A PROPOSAL ADOPTED BY THE NON ALIGNED MOVEMENT AT ITS SUMMIT IN NEW DELHI MARCH. 1983. AT PRESENT, SOME 40 EUROPEAN AND NON ALIGNED LEADERS, INCLUDING PRESIDENTS MITTERRAND AND MUBARAK, HAVE REPORTEDLY INDICATED THEIR INTENTION TO ATTEND SUCH A MEETING. (WE HAVE BEEN TOLD MANY OF THESE LEADERS WOULD HAVE ATTENDED ANYWAY) THE U.S. HAS BEEN NONCOMMITAL ABOUT THE PRESIDENT'S ATTENDANCE BUT PRIVATELY NEGATIVE TO THE IDEA SINCE WE SEE NO GAIN TO U.S. INTERESTS AND SOME HAZARDS IN SUCH AN UNSTRUCTURED NAM SPONSORED FORUM IN WHICH THERE MAY BE STRONG ANTI-WESTERN THEMES. THE USSR HAS INDICATED THAT ANDROPOV WILL NOT ATTEND.

6. THE U.S. HAS BEEN AND REMAINS AT THE CENTER OF DIPLOMATIC PROCESSES SEEKING A RESOLUTION OF THE LONG STANDING MIDDLE EAST PROBLEMS, AS WELL AS AN END TO THE LAST MAJOR VESTIGE OF COLONIALISM IN AFRICA - NAMIBIA. THE U.S ALSO ACTIVELY SUPPORTS THE CONTADORA EFFORTS TO ACHIEVE A REGIONAL SOLUTION IN CENTRAL AMERICA. THESE PROCESSES ARE THE MOST REALISTIC WAY OF DEALING WITH PROBLEMS ON THE INTERNATIONAL HORIZON. THE USSR, BY CONTRAST, REMAINS AT SERIOUS ODDS WITH THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY ON AFGHANISTAN AND KAMPUCHEA -- AND THE SOVIETS ARE BOTH IRRELEVANT TO AND UNWILLING TO JOIN IN INTERNATIONAL EFFORTS TO MEET THE NEEDS OF LESS DEVELOPED COUNTRIES.

7. THE UN SYSTEM SUFFERS FROM THREE MAJOR FAILURES: POLITICIZATION, FAILURE TO CONTROL BUDGETS, AND THE PROMOTION OF STATIST THEORIES. TO OVERCOME THESE, OUR BASIC OBJECTIVES WILL CONTINUE TO BE TO REASSERT U.S. LEADERSHIP IN MULTILATERAL AFFAIRS, STRENGTHEN OUR INFLUENCE IN THE UN AND ITS AGENCIES, PROMOTE FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY IN THE BUDGETARY PROCESS, INCREASE THE NUMBER OF U.S. NATIONALS ON INTERNATIONAL STAFFS. AND AUGMENT PRIVATE SECTOR INVOLVEMENT IN UN PROGRAMS AND ACTIVITIES. IN PURSUIT OF THESE OBJECTIVES, WE WILL ACTIVELY PROMOTE INITIATIVES ON COST EFFECTIVENESS, AND PROPOSALS IN SUCH AREAS AS HUMAN RIGHTS AND DISARMAMENT. MOREOVER, WE WILL MAKE CLEAR OUR FIRM STAND ON MATTERS OF PRINCIPLE; MAXIMIZE UNGA SUPPORT FOR POSITIONS WE FAVOR OR ISSUES OF IMPORTANCE TO US SUCH AS ISRAELI REPRESENTATION, PUERTO RICO. AFGHANISTAN, AND KAMPUCHEA; REITERATE U.S. SUPPORT FOR AND COMMITMENT TO THE UN; AND MAINTAIN COHESION WITH

OUR ALLIES AND FRIENDS.

8. KEY ISSUES: IN THE FOLLOWING DISCUSSION, WE IDENTIFY TWO CATEGORIES OF ISSUES: THOSE OF PARTICULAR IMPORTANCE TO THE U.S. AND WHICH POSTS MUST RAISE WITH HOST GOVERNMENTS, AND THOSE OF SIGNIFICANT IMPORTANCE WHICH POSTS MAY RAISE IN THEIR DISCRETION. (SEPTEL COVERS THE ISSUES LISTED IN THIS CABLE AND IS SPECIFICALLY AIMED AT CATCHING FOREIGN MINISTER'S ATTENTION ON WIDE RANGE OF U.S. CONCERNS. FOR MORE DISCUSSIONS AT LOWER LEVEL, POSTS HAVE DISCRETION ON WHETHER TO TAILOR THEIR APPROACHES ALONG LINES OF SUMMARY.) WHERE PRE-UNGA CONSULTATIONS HAVE OCCURRED, POSTS MAY ADJUST THEIR APPROACHES ACCORDINGLY. POSTS MAY IN THEIR DISCRETION INCORPORATE THESE POINTS IN A NON-PAPER TO BE LEFT AT THE FOREIGN MINISTRY. TALKERS WILL BE TRANSMITTED IN FRENCH, PORTUGUESE AND SPANISH FOR POSTS USE AS SOON AS AVAILABLE. AS WE GET MORE IMFORMATION, WE MAY ASK POSTS TO MAKE SEPARATE DEMARCHES ON ISSUES OF PARTICULAR IMPORTANCE.

9. ISSUES THAT MUST BE RAISED:

A.- PUERTO RICO: FYI: LAST YEAR, THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY VOTED DOWN CUBA'S ATTEMPT TO INSCRIBE PUERTO RICO ON THE AGENDA (70-30 WITH 43 ABSTENTIONS). DESPITE CUBAN APPEALS TO LATIN AND NON-ALIGNED SOLIDARITY, FEW NON-SOVIET-DOMINATED MEMBERS SUPPORTED THE CUBAN PROPOSAL. AT THE NEW DELHI NAM SUMMIT IN FEBRUARY, CUBA USED ITS PROMINENT POSITION TO OBTAIN ANOTHER NAM STATEMENT SUPPORTING PUERTO RICAN INDEPENDENCE. CUBA PUSHED THE ISSUE AGAIN IN THE DECOLONIZATION COMMITTEE WHICH WAS WELL ATTENDED BY SPOKESMEN FOR THE PUERTO RICAN SOCIALISTS AND INDEPENDENTISTAS. THE RESOLUTION APPROVED BY THE COMM,TTEE CONDEMNED THE U.S. FOR INCREASED MILITARIZATION OF THE ISLAND AND FOR "REPRESSIVE MEASURES" AGAINST PUERTO RICAN INDEPENDENCE FORCES BUT DID NOT CALL FOR UNGA CONSIDERATION. WE CLEARLY OPPOSE THE BASELESS CHARGES CONTAINED IN THE RESOLUTION AND WILL WANT TO BE PREPARED TO DEAL WITH ANY CHALLENGE.

WE WILL WANT TO STRESS EMPHATICALLY OUR CLEAR OPPOSITION TO ANY DISCUSSION OF PUERTO RICO, AN ISSUE OF PRIME IMPORTANCE TO THE U.S. OUR POSITION ON THE

QUESTION OF GA CONSIDERATION OF PUERTO RICO IS BASED ON PREVIOUS ACTIONS OF THE GA ITSELF. IN 1953 THE GA REMOVED PUERTO RICO FROM THE LIST OF NON-SELF-GOVERNING TERRITORIES AFTER PUERTO RICO BECAME A COMMONWEALTH OF THE U.S. THIS ACTIO; HAS BEEN REAFFIRMED TWICE - IN 1971 AND 1982 - WHEN THE GENERAL COMMITTEE VOTED DOWN A CUBAN REQUEST THAT PR BE INCLUDED ON THE GA AGENDA. EFFORTS TO BRING THE ISSUE TO THE UN CONSTITUTE AN INTERFERENCE IN THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF A MEMBER STATE, WHICH IS PROHIBITED BY ARTICLE 2, SECTION 7 OF THE UN CHARTER. IN YOUR DISCUSSIONS YOU SHOULD STRESS THE EVIDENCE OF EXTREMELY LOW SUPPORT IN PUERTO RICO FOR INDEPENDENCE. END FYI

— U.S. INTERESTS AND REPUTATION ARE DIRECTLY AND SPECIFICALLY INVOLVED IN ANY ACTION DEALING THE STATUS OF PUERTO RICO. FEW OTHER ISSUES DIRECTLY INVOLVE THE U.S.

— THE U.S. HOPES AND EXPECTS THAT IT CAN COUNT ON ITS FRIENDS TO SUPPORT IT ON THESE FEW ISSUES WITH THEIR VOTES AND THEIR SPEECHES.

— THE ISSUE OF PUERTO RICO'S RELATIONSHIP TO THE U.S. AND ITS STATUS IS CLEAR -- LEGALLY, POLITICALLY AND MORALLY.

— (FOR C-24 MEMBERS ONLY): THE C-24 RESOLUTION WAS HOSTILE AND MENDACIOUS. IT WAS DESIGNED TO DAMAGE AND EMBARRASS THE U.S. WE DEEPLY REGRET U.S. FRIENDS DID NOT ACT TO DEFEND US AGAINST SUCH UNFAIR ATTACKS.

— WE EXPECT (AND HOPE) THAT ALL U.S. FRIENDS WILL OPPOSE ANY EFFORT TO INSCRIBE PUERTO RICO ON THE AGENDA OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND WILL OPPOSE ANY RESOLUTIONS DEALING WITH THIS SUBJECT.

— WE WERE VERY PLEASED WITH THE VOTE LAST YEAR BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO REJECT THE ATTEMPT TO HAVE THE ASSEMBLY CONSIDER THE QUESTION OF PUERTO RICO.

— BY THIS ACTION, AS BY ITS DECISION IN 1953 TO REMOVE P.R. FROM THE LIST OF NON-SELF-GOVERNING TERRITORIES FOLLOWING THE ASSUMPTION OF COMMONWEALTH STATUS FOR THE ISLAND, THE ASSEMBLY HAS REAFFIRMED ITS RESPECT FOR THE WISHES OF THE PEOPLE OF PUERTO RICO TO DETERMINE THEIR OWN FUTURE.

— CONTRARY TO SOME CLAIMS, THE VAST MAJORITY OF PUERTO RICANS DO NOT WANT INDEPENDENCE. IN POLLS AND ELECTIONS THE INDEPENDENCE OPTION HAS NEVER GAINED

SUPPORT FROM MORE THAN ABOUT 6 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION. THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE PEOPLE OF PUERTO RICO AND THE REST OF THE UNITED STATES IS ONE OF FREE SELF-DETERMINATION, NOT/NOT COLONIALISM.

-- THIS QUESTION IS A MATTER OF GREAT IMPORTANCE OF THE U.S.; WE HOPE THAT IF IT IS AGAIN RAISED IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY YOUR GOVERNMENT WILL SUPPORT US.

B.- MIDDLE EAST: FYI:

ISRAELI CREDENTIALS: ALTHOUGH WE HOPE THAT THE DEFEAT THEY SUFFERED LAST YEAR WILL PERSUADE COUNTRIES WISHING TO CHALLENGE ISRAEL'S RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE UNGA NOT TO PURSUE THIS AGAIN, WE MUST REMAIN VIGILANT AGAINST A POSSIBLE RENEWAL OF THE CHALLENGE. OTHER COUNTRIES SHOULD BE INFORMED OF OUR STAND ON THIS TOPIC AND SHOULD BE REMINDED OF OUR POSITION AS STATED IN SECRETARY SHULTZ'S PUBLIC STATEMENT OF LAST OCTOBER 16, I.E. THAT "IF ISRAEL WERE EXCLUDED FROM THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OR ANY OTHER BODY, THE UNITED STATES WOULD WITHDRAW FROM PARTICIPATION IN THE ASSEMBLY AND WOULD WITHHOLD PAYMENTS TO THE UNITED NATIONS, UNTIL ISRAEL'S RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE IS RESTORED."

ANTI-ISRAELI BIAS IN UNGA RESOLUTIONS: AS IN PREVIOUS YEARS, WE EXPECT THAT THE ARABS TO SPONSOR A SERIES OF RESOLUTIONS ON ARAB-ISRAELI ISSUES CONTAINING POLEMICAL LANGUAGE AGAINST ISRAEL, AND IN SOME CASES AGAINST U.S. SUPPORT FOR ISRAEL. WE HAVE VIRTUALLY NO CHANCE OF STOPPING ADOPTION OF THESE RESOLUTIONS, BUT WE CAN TRY TO BUILD UP THE NUMBER OF NEGATIVE VOTES AGAINST THE WORST TEXTS. THE U.S. IS WILLING TO ENGAGE IN SUBSTANTIVE DISCUSSION WITH THE MODERATE ARABS AND OTHER UN DELEGATIONS TOWARD SECURING A U.S. ABSTENTION OR POSITIVE VOTE ON CERTAIN MIDDLE EAST RELATED DRAFT RESOLUTIONS, PROVIDING THE RESULTING RESOLUTIONS ARE SUPPORTIVE OF U.S. EFFORTS TO OBTAIN A NEGOTIATED AND FAIR SOLUTION TO THE MIDDLE EAST CONFLICT ALONG THE LINES PROPOSED BY PRESIDENT REAGAN ON SEPTEMBER 1, 1982.

LEBANON AND UNIFIL: THOUGH NOT A UNGA ITEM, OUR CONCERN ON THIS SUBJECT SHOULD BE CONVEYED WHEREVER SUITABLE, URGING SUPPORT FOR A UNIFIL ROLE MEETING

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

LEBANON'S EXPRESSED NEEDS. ONCE UNAUTHORIZED FOREIGN TROOPS WITHDRAW FROM LEBANESE SOIL AND THE MAY 17 ISRAEL-LEBANON AGREEEMENT ENTERS INTO IMPLEMENTATION, WE ENVISAGE A UNIFIL ROLE THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY CONFORMING TO THE AGREEMENT'S TERMS IN SOUTHERN LEBANON AND ALSO GIVING UNIFIL A MEANINGFUL ROLE IN OTHER PARTS OF THE COUNTRY. END FYI

-- WE HOPE VERY MUCH THAT THERE WILL BE NO CHALLENGE TO ISRAELI CREDENTIALS THIS YEAR IN THE UNGA. SUCH A CHALLENGE WOULD BE INAPPROPRIATE. WE WOULD BE INTERESTED TO KNOW IF YOU HAVE ANY INDICATIONS OF A PROSPECTIVE CHALLENGE OF THIS KIND. THE U.S. POSITION ON THIS ISSUE REMAINS AS FIRM AS EVER, NAMELY THAT THE U.S. WILL WITHDRAW FROM PARTICIPATION IN THE ASSEMBLY AND WITHHOLD PAYMENTS TO THE UN IF ISRAEL IS EXCLUDED FROM THE GA. WE HOPE WE CAN COUNT ON YOUR GOVERNMENT'S SUPPORT IN CASE THE QUESTION ARISES. (NOTE: POSTS IN ARAB CAPITALS SHOULD TAILOR THIS POINT AS NEEDED, BUT SHOULD GET ACROSS THE BASIC MESSAGE THAT OUR OPPOSITION TO SUCH CHALLENGES IS UNDIMINISHED BASED ON FIRM USG COMMITMENT TO THE PRINCIPLE OF UNIVERSALITY.)

-- WE HOPE THE ARAB DELEGATIONS AT THE UNGA WILL AVOID THE CONFRONTATIONAL APPROACH OF THE PAST AGAINST ISRAEL AND THE U.S. WHICH ONLY EXACERBATES ARAB-ISRAELI TENSIONS AND HARMS THE CAUSE OF RECONCILIATION AND PEACE. WE NEED ;OUR GOVERNMENT'S SUPPORT IN SEEKING AN END TO THIS STERILE RHETORIC AND, IF NECESSARY, OPPOSING IT. (NOTE: POSTS IN ARAB CAPITALS SHOULD TAILOR THIS POINT AS NEEDED. ARAB MODERATE GOVERNMENTS SHOULD BE ESPECIALLY URGED TO WORK AGAINST EXTREME RHETORIC.)

-- THE USG REMAINS COMMITTED TO THE ISRAEL-LEBANON AGREEMENT AND TO AN IMPORTANT ROLE FOR UNIFIL IN FUTURE LEBANESE PEACEKEEPING. WE EXPECT THE UN SECURITY COUNCIL WILL DEFINE, AT THE APPROPRIATE TIME, A MANDATE FOR UNIFIL RESPONDING TO LEBANON'S NEEDS AND MEETING THE STANDARDS OF THE UN AND THE TROOP CONTRIBUTORS ON THE FUNCTIONS OF A UN PEACEKEEPING FORCE.

C.- CENTRAL AMERICA: FYI: A NUMBER OF INTERNATIONAL FORA HAVE BEEN INVOLVED IN A SEARCH FOR PEACE IN CENTRAL AMERICA. THE OAS PERMANENT COUNCIL HAS ACTIVELY CONSIDERED THE PROBLEM. THE CONTADORA STATES (MEXICO, VENEZUELA, COLOMBIA, PANAMA), TOGETHER WITH THE CENTRAL AMERICAN NATIONS, ARE SEEKING A SOLUTION. THE SECURITY COUNCIL WAS THE PRINCIPAL UN FORUM FOR DISCUSSION OF THE CRISIS IN CENTRAL AMERICA. WE OPPOSED NICARAGUAN EFFORTS IN 1982 AND 1983 TO BRING

THE PROBLEMS OF CENTRAL AMERICA TO THE SC AS CONTRARY TO BOTH THE UN AND OAS CHARTERS, WHICH GIVE PRIMACY IN REGIONAL MATTERS TO REGIONAL ORGANIZATIONS, AND AS A DIVERSION TO AVOID COMING TO GRIPS WITH EFFORTS NICARAGUA'S NEIGHBORS ARE MAKING TO ACHIEVE REGIONAL SOLUTIONS. HOWEVER, IN 1983, WE ACCEPTED SC RESOLUTION

530 WHICH REQUESTS THE SECRETARY GENERAL TO REPORT ON THE SITUATION. THE SC ALSO HAS PROVIDED A PROMINENT FORUM FOR NICARAGUAN PROPAGANDA AGAINST THE U.S., A FORUM IN WHICH, UNLIKE THE OAS, THE SANDINISTAS CAN COUNT ON CONSIDERABLE SUPPORT FROM THE EASTERN BLOC AND THIRD WORLD RADICALS. HOWEVER, NICARAGUA'S BLATANT EXPLOITATION OF THE SC IN TWO MEETINGS THIS SPRING MAY HAVE BACK-FIRED; SUPPORT FOR THE GON APPEARED TO WANE DURING THE SECOND SESSION IN WHICH THE GON WAS NOT ABLE TO RALLY VOTES FOR A RESOLUTION CONDEMNING U.S. "AGGRESSION."

FOCUS ON CENTRAL AMERICA HAS SHIFTED BACK TO THE CONTADORA GROUP FOR DEVELOPMENT OF PEACEFUL SOLUTIONS TO THE REGION'S PROBLEMS. SHOULD THOSE EFFORTS FALTER THERE WILL BE MORE PRESSURE TO MOVE THE MATTER TO THE UN. WE OPPOSE EFFORTS TO MOVE IT TO THE U;, AND ARE PELUCTANT TO HAVE THE UN SECRETARY GENERAL BECOME INVOLVED.

AT PRESENT WE ARE AWARE OF NO SPECIFIC PLANS TO TAKE CENTRAL AMERICA UP BY THE GA EXCEPT IN THE CONTEXT OF THE ITEMS ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA AND EL SALVADOR. HOWEVER, WE SHOULD BE PREPARED TO COUNTER ANY ATTEMPT TO INVOLVE THE GA IN THIS AREA. END FYI

-- THE U.S. IS VITALLY INVOLVED IN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN REGION, SO CLOSE TO US BOTH ECONOMICALLY AND IN TERMS OF OUR NATIONAL SECURITY INTERESTS.

-- WE ARE SERIOUSLY COMMITTED TO THE PRINCIPLE OF PEACEFUL CHANGE IN THE REGION, FREE OF OUTSIDE INTERFERENCE, AND OF DEMOCRACY AS THE BEST WAY TO INSURE THE PROTECTION OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE OF THIS TROUBLED REGION.

-- WE WELCOME THE PROGRESS MADE ON HUMAN RIGHTS, PARTICULARLY THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF ELECTIONS TO TAKE

UNCLASSIFIED

PLACE SOON IN EL SALVADOR.

-- WE CONTINUE TO SUPPORT REGIONAL APPROACHES TO THE REGIONAL PROBLEMS OF CENTRAL AMERICA, SUCH AS THE CURRENT CONTADORA INITIATIVES.

-- AS LONG AS THESE REGIONAL EFFORTS ARE CONTINUING WE WOU-D OPPOSE UN INVOLVEMENT. WE STRONGLY SUPPORT THE CONTADORA EFFORT. SHOULD THIS FALTER, THE OAS WOULD BE THE APPROPRIATE FORUM. IT IS OUR VIEW THAT UNDER BOTH THE UN AND OAS CHARTERS THE OAS HAS INITIAL PRIMACY IN DEALING WITH THIS REGIONAL MATTER.

D. - SOUTHERN AFRICA/NAMIBIA: FYI: ALTHOUGH THE SECURITY COUNCIL REMAINS SEIZED WITH NAMIBIA AND WE BELIEVE THIS IS THE PROPER FORUM FOR CONSIDERATION OF THIS ISSUE, THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY WILL NO DOUBT TAKE UP THE NAMIBIA PROBLEM ONCE AGAIN THIS YEAR. THE UNITED STATES REMAINS FIRMLY COMMITTED TO THE IMPLEMENTATION OF UNSC RESOLUTION 435, LEADING TO THE INDEPENDENCE OF NAMIBIA. TOGETHER WITH OUR CONTACT GROUP COLLEAGUES (UK, FRG, FRANCE AND CANADA), THE US IS PLAYING A CENTRAL ROLE IN MOVING THE PARTIES TOWARD IMPLEMENTATION. A MAJOR OUTSTANDING OBSTACLE IS THE CONTINUING PRESENCE OF CUBAN TROOPS IN ANGOLA. WHILE RESOLUTION 435 MAKES NO MENTION OF THE CUBANS, THEIR PRESENCE IS A REALITY OF THE SITUATION IN SOUTHERN AFRICA THAT MUST BE DEALT WITH IF THE SOUTH AFRICANS ARE TO AGREE TO IMPLEMENTATION.

THE MOST RECENT SECURITY COUNCIL ACTION ON NAMIBIA WAS THE ADOPTION ON MAY 31 OF RESOLUTION 532. THE RESOLUTION DID NOT CALL FOR SANCTIONS AGAINST SOUTH AFRICA AND DID NOT SET A DEADLINE FOR A NAMIBIA SETTLEMENT. IT DID, HOWEVER, INSTRUCT THE SECRETARY GENERAL TO PREPARE A REPORT ON THE STATUS OF NEGOTIATIONS FOR PRESENTATION TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL BY AUGUST 31. THE SYG VISITED SOUTHERN AFRICA IN THE LATTER HALF OF AUGUST, INCLUDING SOUTH AFRICA AND NAMIBIA, TO CONSULT WITH INTERESTED PARTIES BEFORE ISSUING HIS REPORT.

DURING THE MAY SECURITY COUNCIL DEBATE, SOUTH AFRICA PROFESSED A GOOD-FAITH NEGOTIATING POSITION AND SAID EXPLICITLY THAT CUBAN TROOP WITHDRAWAL IS THE "LAST MAJOR OBSTACLE" TO NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE. THIS WILL MAKE IT DIFFICULT, IF AND WHEN THE CUBANS LEAVE ANGOLA, FOR SOUTH AFRICA TO RAISE FURTHER OBSTACLES TO A SETTLEMENT. WE BELIEVE A SETTLEMENT COULD BE REACHED WITHIN WEEKS OF A FIRM ANGOLAN COMMITMENT TO BEGIN

WITHDRAWING CUBAN TROOPS. WE HOPE TO RECEIVE AN ANGOLAN PROPOSAL ON THIS IN THE PROXIMATE FUTURE. END FYI

-- WE CONTINUE TO BELIEVE UNSC RESOLUTION 435 PROVIDES THE ONLY VIABLE BASIS FOR PEACEFUL PROGRESS TOWARD NAMIBIAN INDEPENDENCE.

-- DELICATE NEGOTIATIONS AIMED AT IMPLEMENTATION ARE PROCEEDING AMONG THE PARTIES, WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF

THE CONTACT GROUP. WE WOULD CONSIDER IT MOST UNFORTUNATE IF INTEMPERATE UNGA RESOLUTIONS ON NAMIBIA WERE TO UNDERMINE THESE NEGOTIATIONS. WE ASK YOUR SUPPORT IN RESISTING ANY EFFORTS TO INTRODUCE RESOLUTIONS OF THIS KIND.

-- SOUTH AFRICA TOOK GREAT PAINS IN THE UNSC DEBATE IN MAY TO PROFESS ITS GOOD FAITH INTENTIONS TOWARD ACHIEVING A PEACEFUL INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENT.

-- WE BELIEVE THE NAMIBIA NEGOTIATIONS ARE EVOLVING FAVORABLY AND WE ARE DETERMINED TO PERSEVERE TO A SUCCESSFUL OUTCOME.

-- WE BELIEVE A SETTLEMENT CAN BE REACHED WITHIN WEEKS OF A FIRM ANGOLAN COMMITMENT TO BEGIN WITHDRAWAL OF CUBAN TROOPS.

E.- AFGHANISTAN: FYI: THE UNGA HAS FOUR TIMES PASSED RESOLUTIONS CALLING FOR WITHDRAWAL OF THE FOREIGN (I.E., SOVIET) TROOPS FROM AFGHANISTAN. YES VOTES ON THESE RESOLUTIONS (IN JANUARY 1980, NOVEMBER 1980, NOVEMBER 1981, AND NOVEMBER 1982) WERE RESPECTIVELY 104, 111, 116 AND 114. A SIMILAR RESOLUTION WILL BE SUBMITTED TO THE 38TH UNGA. AS BEFORE, PAKISTAN WILL PROBABLY TAKE THE LEAD IN LOBBYING FOR IT, BUT WE WILL BE SUPPORTIVE WHERE NECESSARY. OUR GOAL IS TO CONTINUE THE OVERWHELMINGLY HEAVY VOTE AGAINST THE SOVIETS. THE UNGA RESOLUTIONS ESTABLISHED FOUR PRINCIPLES FOR AN AFGHAN SETTLEMENT: (1) WITHDRAWAL OF FOREIGN TROOPS, (2) RESTORATION OF AN INDEPENDENT AND NONALIGNED AFGHANISTAN, (3) SELF-DETERMINATION FOR THE AFGHAN PEOPLE, AND (4) THE RIGHT OF RETURN WITH HONOR FOR THE REFUGEES. MOSCOW MAY CITE THE ONGOING UN TALKS ON

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

AFGHANISTAN AS A REASON NOT TO SUPPORT THE UNGA RESOLUTION THIS YEAR. UNTIL THE SOVIETS BECOME SERIOUS ABOUT NEGOTIATING THE WITHDRAWAL OF THEIR TROOPS, HOWEVER, THE FACT OF UN TALKS IS ALL THE MORE REASON TO CONTINUE TO SUPPORT THE RESOLUTION AND KEEP AS MUCH PRESSURE ON THE SOVIETS AS POSSIBLE. END FYI.

— PAST UNGA RESOLUTIONS SHOULD HAVE MADE CLEAR TO THE SOVIETS THAT THE VAST MAJORITY OF NATIONS SEES THE INVASION AND OCCUPATION OF AFGHANISTAN AS A THREAT TO INTERNATIONAL PEACE AND SECURITY. THE US WILL STRONGLY SUPPORT A SIMILAR RESOLUTION AT THE 38TH UNGA, AND WE WILL URGE BROADEST POSSIBLE BACKING FROM THE UNGA MEMBERS.

— THE CRUX OF UNGA RESOLUTIONS IS THAT THE SOVIETS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR AFGHANISTAN'S PLIGHT, THE KEY TO A SOLUTION IS THE WITHDRAWAL OF THE SOVIET TROOPS.

— WE SUPPORT THE UN NEGOTIATING EFFORT ON AFGHANISTAN AS A MEANS TO ACHIEVE THE PRINCIPLES IN THE UNGA RESOLUTION, INCLUDING THE CENTRAL REQUIREMENT OF TOTAL WITHDRAWAL OF SOVIET TROOPS. WE BELIEVE THAT CONTINUED PASSAGE OF THE RESOLUTION ON AFGHANISTAN BY LARGE MAJORITIES WILL DRIVE HOME TO MOSCOW THAT THE WAY TO A NEGOTIATED POLITICAL SETTLEMENT IS BY THEIR AGREEMENT TO THE COMPLETE WITHDRAWAL OF THEIR TROOPS.

F.- KAMPUCHEA: FYI: IT IS EXPECTED THAT THE GREAT MAJORITY OF UN MEMBERS, ALIGNED AND NON-ALIGNED, WILL AGAIN SUPPORT RETENTION OF DEMOCRATIC KAMPUCHEA'S (DK) UN SEAT AND BACK A STRONG RESOLUTION, SPONSORED BY ASEAN, CALLING FOR TOTAL VIETNAMESE WITHDRAWAL FROM KAMPUCHEA AND KHMER SELF-DETERMINATION. THE COALITION OF KHMER GROUPS OPPOSED TO VIETNAMESE OCCUPATION OF KAMPUCHEA, WHICH WAS ACHIEVED WITH SIGNIFICANT ENCOURAGEMENT BY ASEAN, BRINGS TOGETHER NON-COMMUNIST GROUPS LED BY RESPECTED NATIONALISTS, PRINCE SIHANOUK AND PRIME MINISTER SON SANN, WITH THE KHMER ROUGE. THE COALITION HAS AS ITS STATED PURPOSE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE DECLARATION OF THE INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON KAMPUCHEA (ICK) WHICH OUTLINES A FORMULA FOR FULL VIETNAMESE WITHDRAWAL AND UN-SUPERVISED ELECTIONS. THE COALITION IS IMPORTANT IN HOLDING KAMPUCHEA'S SEAT FOR THE KHMER RESISTANCE, DENYING IT TO THE VIETNAMESE-INSTALLED HENG SAMRIN REGIME, AND IN INCREASING POLITICAL PRESSURE ON VIETNAM TO NEGOTIATE A SETTLEMENT FEATURING ITS TOTAL WITHDRAWAL FROM KAMPUCHEA. THE COALITION PASSED THE UNGA CREDENTIALS TEST LAST YEAR. THE QUESTION OF THE DK COALITION'S LEGITIMACY, THEREFORE, IS NOT PERTINENT. THE VIETNAMESE MAY ATTEMPT TO PROMOTE AN "EMPTY SEAT" FORMULA, CITING AS A PRECEDENT THE WAY THE NEW DELHI NAM SUMMIT HANDLED THIS ISSUE. END FYI.

-- AS IN THE PAST, WE CONTINUE TO SUPPORT ASEAN'S POSITION ON KAMPUCHEA AND ITS GOAL OF A COMPREHENSIVE POLITICAL SETTLEMENT BASED ON THE DECLARATION OF THE ICK, CALLING FOR TOTAL WITHDRAWAL OF VIETNAMESE FORCES FROM KAMPUCHEA AND UN-SUPERVISED FREE ELECTIONS.

-- IT IS IM,ORTANT FOR THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY TO CONTINUE TO SUPPORT ASEAN IN ORDER TO EXERT PRESSURE ON VIETNAM TO NEGOTIATE A COMPREHENSIVE POLITICAL SETTLEMENT BASED ON THE ICK.

-- WE BELIEVE THAT THE COALITION GOVERNMENT OF DEMOCRATIC KAMPUCHEA CONSTITUTES AN IMPORTANT PLATFORM WHICH ALLOWS THE NON-COMMUNIST LEADERS, PRINCE SIHANOUK AND SON SANN, TO SPEAK AS REPRESENTATIVES OF THE KHMER PEOPLE. THIS SHOULD GREATLY STRENGTHEN THE POSITION OF DEMOCRATIC KAMPUCHEA IN THE UNGA.

-- THE DK COALITION WAS RECOGNIZED AS THE LEGITIMATE KAMPUCHEAN GOVERNMENT IN THE UNGA LAST YEAR. ITS CONTINUED LEGITIMACY, THEREFORE, SHOULD NOT BE IN QUESTION. A SO-CALLED "EMPTY SEAT" FORMULA WOULD MERELY CONSTITUTE THE FIRST STEP TOWARD THE SEATING OF HANOI'S PUPPET REGIME IN PHNOM PENH.

-- THE HENG SAMRIN REGIME IS NOT A SUPERIOR CLAIMANT BECAUSE IT IS THE CREATION OF THE VIETNAMESE AND IS MAINTAINED IN POWER BY 180,000 VIETNAMESE TROOPS.

-- WE EXPECT VIETNAM AND ITS ALLIES TO CHALLENGE THE DK SEAT IN THE UNGA. WE WILL CONTINUE TO SUPPORT THE DK CREDENTIALS ON THE SAME TECHNICAL GROUNDS AS IN THE PAST AND IN THE ABSENCE OF A SUPERIOR CLAIMANT.

-- AS IN THE PAST, OUR SUPPORT FOR DK CREDENTIALS WILL NOT IMPLY RECOGNITION OR SUPPORT FOR THE KHMER ROUGE, WHOSE ATROCITIES AND GROSS MISRULE WE CONTINUE TO ABHOR.

-- WE WILL CONTINUE TO DEAL WITH PRINCE SIHANOUK AND SON SANN, BUT NOT WITH THE THIRD PARTY OF THE COALITION, THE KHMER ROUGE. WE CONTINUE TO OPPOSE THE RETURN TO POWER OF THE KHMER ROUGE.

(IF ASKED ONLY ABOUT US RECOGNITION OF COALITION)

-- WE REGARD THE COALITION AS AN ARRANGEMENT WHICH HAS AS ITS STATED PURPOSE THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE DECLARATION OF THE ICK WHICH OUTLINES A FORMULA FOR TOTAL VIETNAMESE WITHDRAWAL AND UN-SUPERVISED FREE ELECTIONS. THEREFORE, THE ISSUE OF RECOGNITION DOES NOT ARISE FOR US.

G.- MICRONESIA (TTPI): FYI: AS LAST YEAR, THE QUESTION OF MICRONESIA MAY BE A MAJOR ISSUE IN THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON DECOLONIZATION (C-24) AND THE FOURTH COMMITTEE, WITH CUBA A;D EASTERN BLOC COUNTRIES PUSHING HARD TO INVOLVE THE UNGA. WE WILL STRONGLY OPPOSE THIS EFFORT, WHICH COULD SERIOUSLY COMPLICATE OUR MOVES TO TERMINATE OUR TRUSTEESHIP OF THE ISLANDS.

THE UNITED STATES HAS ADMINISTERED THE TRUST TERRITORY OF THE PACIFIC ISLANDS (TTPI) UNDER A MANDATE FROM THE UNITED NATIONS SINCE 1947. IT IS THE LAST UN TRUSTEESHIP (OUT OF AN ORIGINAL ELEVEN) AND THE ONLY "STRATEGIC" TRUST, FINAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR WHICH WAS ASSIGNED UNDER UN CHARTER ARTICLE 83 TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL RATHER THAN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. (THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL HAS RESPONSIBILITY TO ASSIST THE SECURITY COUNCIL IN OVERSEEING U.S. ADMINISTRATION OF THE TTPI.)

IN THE 1970'S THE TTPI SPLIT INTO FOUR ENTITIES: THE REPUBLIC OF PALAU, THE REPUBLIC OF THE MARSHALL ISLANDS, THE FEDERATED STATES OF MICRONESIA, AND THE NORTHERN MARIANA ISLANDS. IN 1975 THE NORTHERN MARIANAS VOTED TO BECOME A COMMONWEALTH OF THE U.S. AFTER 14 YEARS OF NEGOTIATIONS THE OTHER THREE JURISDICTIONS IN THE LAST TWO YEARS HAVE SIGNED THE COMPACT OF FREE ASSOCIATION, WHICH PROVIDES FOR A RELATIVELY AUTONOMOUS STATUS FOR THE THREE NATIONS, WHICH WILL BE SOVEREIGN AND HAVE FULL CAPACITY TO CONDUCT THEIR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL AFFAIRS IN ALL AREAS EXCEPT DEFENSE AND DEFENSE-RELATED FOREIGN MATTERS, AND WILL RECEIVE SUBSTANTIAL U.S. AID. THE COMPACT IS TERMINABLE AT ANY TIME BY EITHER MUTUAL CONSENT OR BY UNILATERAL DECISION OF THE MICRONESIAN STATES AFTER PLEBISCITES, ALTHOUGH SOME RELATED DEFENSE AND ECONOMIC ARRANGEMENTS CONTINUE FOR 15 YEARS IN THE CASE OF THE FSM AND MARSHALLS AND 50 YEARS IN THE CASE

OF PALAU.

EARLIER THIS YEAR PALAU AND THE FSM APPROVED THE COMPACT IN PLEBISCITES OBSERVED (AT OUR REQUEST) BY MISSIONS OF THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL. (A RECENT COURT DECISION HAS PUT THE OUTCOME OF THE PALAU PLEBISCITE IN QUESTION. A FINAL DECISION DEPENDS ON FURTHER DISCUSSIONS WITH THE PALAUAN GOVERNMENT.) THE LAST PLEBISCITE WILL BE HELD IN THE MARSHALLS ON SEPTEMBER 7. THE COMPACT MUST ALSO BE APPROVED BY THE THREE CONSTITUTIONAL MICRONESIAN GOVERNMENTS (BY BOTH LEGISLATIVE AND EXECUTIVE BRANCHES) AND BY BOTH HOUSES OF THE U.S. CONGRESS AS A PUBLIC LAW. WE ARE NOW MOVING TO SUBMIT THE COMPACT TO CONGRESS.

FOLLOWING THE COMPLETION OF THIS PROCESS, WE PLAN TO TAKE UP THE QUESTION OF TERMINATION OF THE TRUSTEESHIP

TO THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL AND THE SECURITY COUNCIL. AS THIS YEAR MAY SEE THE LAST GA BEFORE TERMINATION OF THE TRUSTEESHIP, WE CAN EXPECT ANOTHER PUSH TO ASSERT GA AUTHORITY IN THIS AREA. END FYI

-- OVER THE MORE THAN 30 YEARS OF THIS TRUSTEESHIP THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL HAS CLOSELY INSPECTED OUR ADMINISTRATION OF THE TTPI ON BEHALF OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL, WHICH UNDER UN CHARTER ARTICLE 83 HAS RESPONSIBILITY FOR THIS STRATEGIC TRUST.

-- DURING THIS PERIOD, THE TC HAS SENT NUMEROUS VISITING MISSIONS TO INSPECT THE TERRITORY AND AT ITS REGULAR ANNUAL SESSION HAS HELD LENGTHY DEBATE, EXAMINING U.S. REPORTS, HEARING PETITIONERS, AND QUESTIONING THE U.S. ON ITS ADMINISTRATION. THE SECURITY COUNCIL HAS NEVER INDICATED ANY DISSATISFACTION WITH THE WORK OF THE TC.

-- THE U.S. IS COMMITTED TO EARLY TERMINATION OF OUR TRUSTEESHIP OF MICRONESIA. LAST YEA; THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENTS OF MICRONESIA AND THE U.S. SIGNED INDIVIDUALIZED VERSIONS OF AN AGREEMENT TO DETERMINE THE FUTURE POLITICAL STATUS OF THE ISLANDS AND THEIR RELATIONSHIP WITH THE U.S., INCLUDING DETAILED PROVISIONS FOR SUBSTANTIAL AID. THE AGREEMENT IS NOW BEING SUBMITTED TO THE PEOPLE OF MICRONESIA IN PLEBISCITES OBSERVED BY THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL.

— ONCE THE DOMESTIC APPROVAL PROCESSES OF THE MICRONESIAN AND U.S. GOVERNMENTS ARE COMPLETED, THE U.S. INTENDS TO TAKE UP THE QUESTION OF TERMINATION OF THE TRUSTEESHIP AT THE APPROPRIATE TIME WITH THE TC AND THE SECURITY COUNCIL.

— WE BELIEVE THAT GENERAL ASSEMBLY INVOLVEMENT IN MICRONESIA IS BOTH LEGALLY IMPROPER AND UNWARRANTED BECAUSE THE TTPI IS A STRATEGIC TRUST OVER WHICH THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY HAS NO AUTHORITY. FURTHERMORE, AS A PRACTICAL MATTER, THE TRUSTEESHIP AND SECURITY COUNCIL JOINT OVERSIGHT HAS BEEN MORE THAN ADEQUATE. WE ASK YOUR GOVERNMENT'S SUPPORT AGAINST ATTEMPTS TO BRING THIS ISSUE TO THE GA.

H. - ANTARCTICA: FYI: MALAYSIA HAS CO-SPONSORED (ALONG WITH ANTIGUA/BARBUDA) A REQUEST FOR INSCRIPTION OF AN ITEM "ANTARCTICA" AT THE 38TH UNGA. THE REQUEST CALLS FOR, AMONG OTHER MATTERS, "A MORE POSITIVE AND WIDER INTERNATIONAL CONCERT THROUGH A TRULY UNIVERSAL FRAMEWORK OF INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION..." MALAYSIA ULTIMATELY SEEKS A "COMMON HERITAGE" APPROACH TO BE APPLIED TO ANTARCTICA. THE CONTRACTING PARTIES TO THE 1959 ANTARCTICA TREATY, INCLUDING THE FIVE PERMANENT MEMBERS (CHINA ACCEDED TO THE TREATY IN JUNE OF THIS YEAR) ARE RESOLVED TO RESIST THIS INITIATIVE. THE MALAYSIAN EFFORT SO FAR HAS NOT FOUND WIDE SUPPORT EVEN WITHIN THE NON-ALIGNED ALTHOUGH IT IS MENTIONED IN THE NEW DELHI COMMUNIQUE. SIGNIFICANTLY, INDIA (CHAIRMAN OF THE NON-ALIGNED) ACCEDED TO THE TREATY ON AUGUST 18 AND SEEKS IMMEDIATE CONSULTATIVE STATUS. THIS ACTION ON THE PART OF INDIA STRENGTHENS THE VALUE AND ESTEEM OF THE EXISTING TREATY REGIME. END FYI

— THE ANTARCTICA TREATY HAS BEEN A UNIQUELY SUCCESSFUL REGIME: IT HAS KEPT ANTARCTICA FREE FROM MILITARY AND NUCLEAR ACTIVITIES AND PROVIDES FOR UNILATERAL INSPECTION AND VERIFICATION PROCEDURES; , IT IS A MONUMENT OF SCIENTIFIC AND ENVIRONMENTAL COOPERATION, AND IT ENSURES THAT THE REGION IS FREE FROM INTERNATIONAL DISCORD BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, FREEZING TERRITORIAL CLAIMS DISPUTES. THE TREATY IS OPEN TO ACCESSION AND PARTICIPATION BY ALL UN MEMBER STATES.

— ANTARCTICA IS ALREADY "INTERNATIONALIZED" DESPITE SEVERE AND COMPLEX PROBLEMS.

-- NO MATTER HOW BENIGN OR BENEFICIAL THE MALAYSIAN INITIATIVE APPEARS TO THIRD WORLD INTERESTS, THE FACT IS IT THREATENS TO DESTABILIZE AN ENTIRE CONTINENT.

-- SPECULATIVE AND UNCERTAIN ECONOMIC WINDFALLS SHOULD NOT BE THE CATALYST WHICH PRECIPITATES DISPUTES OVER TERRITORIAL CLAIMS AND POTENTIAL MILITARIZATION.

-- THERE IS ABSOLUTELY NO REALISTIC POSSIBILITY THAT A SIMILAR TREATY SYSTEM COULD BE NEGOTIATED TODAY AND IT IS THEREFORE IRRESPONSIBLE TO TAMPER WITH THE EXISTING TREATY SYSTEM.

-- WE URGE ALL UN MEMBER STATES TO SUPPORT THE CURRENT TREATY REGIME.

I. - ARMS CONTROL: FYI: AT THE 38TH UNGA, WE WOULD LIKE THE NEUTRAL/NON-ALIGNED TO LOOK MORE CRITICALLY AT SOVIET BLOC PROPAGANDISTIC RESOLUTIONS. WE BELIEVE THAT THESE RESOLUTIONS CHEAPEN THE UNGA AS A LEGITIMATE FORUM FOR DISCUSSION OF DISARMAMENT ISSUES. EVEN SOME OF OUR WESTERN ALLIES OCCASIONALLY DO NOT OPPOSE SOME OF THESE RHETORICAL RESOLUTIONS BECAUSE THEY ARE LESS INCLINED TO RESIST UNLESS THEY FEEL THEIR INTERESTS ARE DIRECTLY ATTACKED.

WE ARE LOOKING AT INITIATIVES FOR THE 38TH UNGA IN SEVERAL AREAS: PEACE GROUPS, CHEMICAL WEAPONS, MILITARY EXPENDITURE REPORTING, CONFIDENCE BUILDING MEASURES (CBM) AND TRANSPARENCY. AT THE 37TH UNGA WE TOOK THE LEAD IN SPONSORING A RESOLUTION ON PEACE GROUPS (100J) WHICH CALLED ON STATES TO FACILITATE THE FLOW OF BROAD RANGE OF DISARMAMENT INFORMATION TO THEIR PEOPLE AND TO ENCOURAGE THEIR CITIZENS TO ORGANIZE AND MEET TO EXPRESS THEIR VIEWS ON DISARMAMENT QUESTIONS. AT THE 38TH UNGA WE WILL BE SHAPING A RESOLUTION CALLING FOR WIDER RESPECT FOR THIS RESOLUTION, AS WELL AS EXPRESSING REGRET THAT 37/100 J HAS NOT MET WITH FULL COMPLIANCE. WE HAVE WORKED CLOSELY WITH THE SPONSORS OF PREVIOUS RESOLUTIONS ON CW AND, AS LONG AS ILLEGAL USE OF CW CONTINUES, WE WILL ENSURE THAT THERE IS AN APPROPRIATE EFFORT IN THE UN TO BRING A HALT TO THIS ABHORRENT PRACTICE. THE FRG HAS GIVEN AN IMPETUS IN THE UN TO FOCUSSING ATTENTION ON THE VALUE OF

CONFIDENCE BUILDING MEASURES (CBM). WE ARE LOOKING AT POSSIBLE WAYS TO COMPLEMENT THE FRG CBM RESOLUTION. FURTHER, AS PRESIDENT REAGAN ANNOUNCED AT SSOD II LAST YEAR, THE US IS INTERESTED IN PROMOTING COMPLIANCE WITH THE UN REQUEST FOR REPORTING MILITARY EXPENDITURES THROUGH A SPECIAL CONFERENCE. THIS PROPOSAL WAS INCORPORATED INTO THE SWEDISH RESOLUTION ON REDUCTION OF MILITARY BUDGETS LAST YEAR (95B). WE HAVE UNDER CONSIDERATION POSSIBLE RESOLUTION TO ADVANCE THIS ISSUE FURTHER THIS YEAR. ON TRANSPARENCY, WE ARE LOOKING FOR A MEANS TO CONTRAST THE WESTERN OPENNESS WITH EASTERN SECRECY IN ORDER TO HIGHLIGHT THE ASYMMETRY AS WELL AS TO EDUCATE ALL AS TO THE DIFFICULTY WHICH SECRECY CAUSES FOR PROGRESS IN ARMS CONTROL. END FYI

-- WE ARE TROUBLED BY THE INCREASING USE OF THE UNGA FOR PROPAGANDISTIC RESOLUTIONS, ESPECIALLY IN THE FIRST COMMITTEE.

-- WE SUPPORT RESOLUTIONS WHICH ADDRESS REALISTIC, SIGNIFICANT, BALANCED AND VERIFIABLE ARMS CONTROL MEASURES, BUT WE OPPOSE NON SUBSTANTIVE RHETORICAL RESOLUTIONS DESIGNED PRIMARILY FOR PROPAGANDISTIC PURPOSES SUCH AS THOSE ON THE NON-USE OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS AND THE NUCLEAR FREEZE.

-- WE STRONGLY SUPPORT RESOLUTIONS AIMED AT BRINGING A STOP TO THE ONGOING USE OF CHEMICAL WEAPONS IN VIOLATION OF INTERNATIONAL LAW WHILE NOTING THAT THESE WEAPONS ARE BEING USED AGAINST DEVELOPING COUNTRIES.

-- WE ARE CONSIDERING INTRODUCING (OR CONTRIBUTING TO) RESOLUTIONS ON PEACE MOVEMENTS, TRANSPARENCY, CONFIDENCE BUILDING MEASURES, CHEMICAL WEAPONS, AND ON MILITARY EXPENDITURE REPORTING. WE ENCOURAGE YOUR SUPPORT AND INPUT.

J.- CHEMICAL AND BIOLOGICAL WEAPONS:

"YELLOW RAIN": FYI: LETHAL CHEMICAL WEAPONS, INCLUDING PROHIBITED TOXIN WEAPONS, HAVE BEEN USED BY THE SOVIETS IN AFGHANISTAN AND BY THEIR ALLIES IN LAOS AND KAMPUCHEA. A TWO-YEAR INVESTIGATION BY A UN TEAM WAS COMPLETED IN 1982; IT REPORTED THERE WAS REASON TO BELIEVE CHEMICAL ATTACKS HAD OCCURRED. UNDER A 1982 RESOLUTION, A UN EXPERTS GROUP IS DEVELOPING MORE EFFECTIVE PROCEDURES FOR CARRYING OUT SUCH INVESTIGATIONS. (THE RESOLUTION ALSO AUTHORIZED THE SECRETARY GENERAL TO INITIATE FACT-FINDING INQUIRIES IN THE FUTURE, IF REQUESTED.) THE GROUP'S WORK IS GOING WELL BUT WILL PROBABLY NOT BE COMPLETED THIS YEAR. FYI

— THE USE OF CHEMICAL WEAPONS ON DEFENSELESS PEOPLE IN AFGHANISTAN AND SOUTHEAST ASIA IS NOT AN EAST-WEST MATTER, BUT AN ISSUE OF UNIVERSAL IMPORT.

— WE HOPE THAT ALL COUNTRIES WHO SHARE OUR CONCERN ABOUT THE EVIDENCE OF CW USE IN VIOLATION OF INTERNATIONAL LAW WILL SUPPORT THE UN EXPERTS GROUP'S INVESTIGATION, AND WHEN POSSIBLE, PROVIDE THE GROUP WITH ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.

— OUR OBJECTIVE IN FOCUSSING WORLD ATTENTION ON CW USE IN SOUTHEAST ASIA AND AFGHANISTAN IS TO STOP THESE ATTACKS.

BIOLOGICAL AND TOXIN WEAPONS CONVENTION (BWC): FYI: THIS CONVENTION, WHICH WAS SIGNED IN 1972, BANS THE DEVELOPMENT, PRODUCTION, AND STOCKPILING OF BIOLOGICAL OR TOXIN WEAPONS. TWO SERIOUS COMPLIANCE PROBLEMS HAVE ARISEN: THE EXTRAORDINARY ANTHRAX OUTBREAK IN 1979 NEAR

A MILITARY FACILITY IN SVERDLOVSK AND THE USE OF BANNED TOXIN WEAPONS IN AFHGANISTAN AND SOUTHEAST ASIA. IN 1982, A SWEDISH RESOLUTION CALLING FOR A CONFERENCE OF BWC PARTIES TO IMPROVE THE BWC'S COMPLIANCE PROVISIONS RECEIVED OVERWHELMING SUPPORT IN THE UNGA. CHEMICAL WEAPONS NEGOTIATIONS: FYI: THE UNITED STATES IS PARTICIPATING ACTIVELY IN NEGOTIATIONS ON A CHEMICAL WEAPONS BAN WHICH ARE UNDERWAY AT THE 40-NATION COMMITTEE ON DISARMAMENT IN GENEVA. VICE PRESIDENT BUSH LAUNCHED A US INITIATIVE, CONTAINING OUR "DETAILED VIEWS", ON A BAN AT THE CD IN FEBRUARY 1983. THE PRINCIPAL DIFFICULTY IN THE NEGOTIATIONS IS SOVIET UNWILLINGNESS TO ACCEPT AN EFFECTIVE VERIFICATION REGIME, INCLUDING SEVERAL TYPES OF SYSTEMATIC INTERNATIONAL ON-SITE INSPECTION. THE UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY ROUTINELY PASSES AT LEAST ONE RESOLUTION URGING ACCELERATION OF THE CW NEGOTIATIONS. IN RECENT YEARS THERE HAVE BEEN BOTH EASTERN AND WESTERN RESOLUTIONS IN THIS AREA. END FYI

-- THE US IS SEEKING TO NEGOTIATE A COMPLETE AND EFFECTIVE BAN ON CHEMICAL WEAPONS.

-- AS A MEASURE OF THE IMPORTANCE THE US ATTACHES, VICE PRESIDENT BUSH PRESENTED A MAJOR INITIATIVE CONTAINING OUR DETAILED VIEWS ON THE POSSIBLE CONTENTS OF SUCH AN AGREEMENT IN THE CD IN GENEVA IN FEBRUARY 1983. IN JULY 1983, WE FOLLOWED-UP WITH A DETAILED PAPER ON ILLUSTRATIVE ON-SITE VERIFICATION PROCEDURES FOR DESTRUCTION OF CHEMICAL WEAPONS.

-- WE ENCOURAGE YOU TO SUPPORT THESE AND SIMILAR EFFORTS TO NEGOTIATE A COMPLETE BAN ON CHEMICAL WEAPONS.

K.- 1985 NPT REVIEW CONFERENCE (REVCON): FYI MANY POSTS WILL HAVE ALREADY INITIATED CONSULTATIONS ON THE REVCON WITH STATES THAT ARE NPT PARTIES PURSUANT TO STATE 206059 (7/22/83) AND STATE (8/19/83). AT THE UNGA, THERE WILL BE A RESOLUTION ESTABLISHING THE MEMBERSHIP OF THE PREPARATORY COMMITTEE, AND THE UK WILL CHAIR A CAUCUS OF NPT PARTIES TO ADDRESS ISSUES SUCH AS TIMING AND VENUE OF THE PREPCOMS AND REVCON. NON NPT POSTS MAY USE TALKING POINTS BELOW AS APPROPRIATE. :ND FYI

— THE U.S. BELIEVES THE NPT PLAYS A VITAL ROLE IN PROMOTING GLOBAL STABILITY AND THAT ALL COUNTRIES HAVE A STAKE IN ENSURING ITS CONTINUED VITALITY.

— WE LOOK FORWARD TO CONSTRUCTIVE CONSULTATIONS AMONG NPT PARTIES AT THE UNGA TO DEAL WITH VARIOUS PROCEDURAL ISSUES RELATED TO PREPARATIONS FOR THE 1985 REVIEW CONFERENCE. L. - UN BUDGET: FYI: OVER THE LAST TEN YEARS, FROM 1973 TO 1982, THE UN BUDGET INCREASED FROM $275 MILLION TO $756 MILLION.

U.S. BUDGET POLICY FOR INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS FUNDED BY ASSESSED CONTRIBUTIONS, AS REITERATED BY PRESIDENT REAGAN'S FISCAL YEAR 1984 BUDGET, IS ZERO NET PROGRAM GROWTH AND SIGNIFICANT ABSORPTION OF NONDISCRETIONARY COST INCREASES. THIS POLICY RECOGNIZES THE NEED FOR NEW AND IMPROVED PROGRAMS, BUT ONLY BY MEANS OF REDUCING OR ELIMINATING LOWER PRIORITY PROGRAMS AND ACHIEVING ADMINISTRATION SAVINGS.

AS CURRENTLY FORMULATED, THE SYG'S 1984-85 DRAFT BUDGET OF $1.6 BILLION REPRESENTS AN INCREASE OF 9 PERCENT OVER 1982-83, AND PROVIDES FOR 2.7 PERCENT PROGRAM GROWTH. THE FOCUS OF OUR EFFORTS WILL BE ON SEEKING TO AVOID ANY ADD-ONS TO THE DRAFT BUDGET, A SERIOUS AND LONGSTANDING PROBLEM FOR US IN UN BUDGET HISTORY AND TO REDUCE PROPOSED BUDGETS. END FYI

-- THE PRESIDENT'S BUDGET POLICY TOWARD INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS IS ZERO NET PROGRAM GROWTH AND SIGNIFICANT ABSORPTION OF NON DISCRETIONARY COST INCREASE.

-- THIS POLICY RECOGNIZES THAT NEW AND EXPANDED PROGRAMS NEED TO BE UNDERTAKEN, BUT ONLY BY INSTITUTING ADMINISTRATIVE SAVINGS, ELIMINATING MARGINAL, OBSOLETE AND INEFFECTIVE PROGRAMS AND REDUCING OR ELIMINATING LOWER PRIORITY ACTIVITIES.

-- MOUNTING CONCERN BY OUR CONGRESS OVER UN SYSTEM BUDGET INCREASES MAY RESULT IN THE U.S. NOT BEING ABLE TO PAY ITS FULL ASSESSED CONTRIBUTIONS IN THE FUTURE.

-- UNCHECKED GROWTH IN ASSESSED BUDGETS IMPERILS OUR ABILITY TO PROVIDE FUNDS ON A BILATERAL BASIS AND TO MULTILATERAL INSTITUTIONS SUCH AS UNDP.

-- WE WOULD APPRECIATE YOUR SUPPORT IN EFFORTS TO RESTRAIN BUDGET GROWTH AND TO ACHIEVE PROGRAMS THAT ARE BENEFICIAL TO THE MEMBERSHIP AS A WHOLE.

UNCLASSIFIED

— IN GENERAL, WE RECOGNIZE THE CONSIDERABLE EFFORTS AT ECONOMY MADE BY THE SYG IN PREPARING THE DRAFT 1984-85 UN BUDGET. WE WOULD APPRECIATE YOUR SUPPORT IN ENSURING THAT THERE BE NO ADDITIONAL PROGRAM GROWTH OR OTHER INCREASES BEYOND THOSE ALREADY PROPOSED FOR THE BIENNUM AND INSEARCHING DILIGENTLY FOR JUSTIFIABLE REDUCTIONS.

10. ISSUES WHICH POSTS MAY RAISE AT THEIR DISCRETION:

A. - EL SALVADOR: FYI: EL SALVADOR HAS BEEN THE SUBJECT OF INTENSE INTERNATIONAL DELIBERATION SINCE 1980, WHEN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY REQUESTED THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (HRC) TO EXAMINE THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN THAT COUNTRY. THE COMMISSION IN 1981 RESPONDED BY APPOINTING A SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE, JOSE ANTONIO PASTOR RIDRUEJO, TO INVESTIGATE REPORTS OF GRAVE VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN EL SALVADOR. AT ITS 1982 SESSION, THE COMMISSION EXPRESSED ITS DEEP CONCERN AT THE DETERIORATING SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR, VOTED TO EXTEND THE SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE'S MANDATE, REQUESTING HIM TO PRESENT AN INTERIM REPORT TO THE 37TH UNGA AND A FINAL VERSION TO THE 1983 SESSION OF THE HRC. BOTH THE INTERIM AND FINAL REPORTS REFLECT PASTOR RIDREUJO'S VISIT TO EL SALVADOR SINCE THE MARCH, 1982 ELECTION. THE COMMISSION VOTED AT ITS 1983 SESSION TO EXTEND PASTOR RIDREUJO'S MANDATE FOR ANOTHER YEAR. ALTHOUGH THE GOES REJECTED HIS REPORT AS "UNACCEPTABLE" AND "PARTIAL", IT DID NOTE THAT THE REPORT RECOGNIZED THE GOES' CONCERN FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND HAD OFFERED

RECOMMENDATIONS WHICH WERE "INTRINSICALLY VALID, CORRECT AND IN KEEPING WITH THE GOVERNMENT'S GOALS." PASTO RIDREUJO IS SCHEDULED TO VISIT EL SALVADOR IN MID-SEPTEMBER.

THE USG HAS TAKEN THE POSITION THAT DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS PROVIDE THE BEST MEANS OF PROMOTING GENUINE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIG;TS. THE SUCCESSFUL NATIONAL ELECTIONS HELD ON MARCH 1982 WERE AN IMPORTANT STEP TOWARD THIS GOAL. SINCE THEN A NEW GOVERNMENT OF NATIONAL UNITY HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED AND A CONSTITUTION DRAFTED. THE NEXT STEP CALLS FOR ELECTIONS WHICH WILL ALLOW THE SALVADORAN PEOPLE DIRECTLY TO ELECT A NEW PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT. END FYI

-- THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR IS MAKING PROGRESS TOWARD REDUCING THE NUMBER OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN THAT COUNTRY. EVIDENCE OF THAT INCLUDES THE REDUCED LEVELS OF VIOLENCE AGAINST CIVILIANS, COMPARED TO

LEVELSIN 1981 AND EARLY 1982. MOREOVER, THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION BEGAN OPERATIONS IN EARLY 1983 AND HAS BEEN ACTIVELY INVESTIGATING ALLEGED DISAPPEARANCES AND OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.

-- THE GOES HAS ENACTED A LAND REFORM PROGRAM WHICH WE HOPE WILL GO A LONG WAY TOWARDS IMPROVING THE SOCIO-ECONOMIC SITUATION OF A LARGE PROPORTION OF THE RURAL POPULATION. OVER TEN PERCENT (MORE THAN 500,000 PEOPLE) OF EL SALVADOR'S POPULATION HAVE BENEFITTED FROM THIS PROGRAM WHICH ENCOMPASSES 20 PERCENT OF EL SALVADOR'S FARMLAND.

-- SUCH PROGRESS IS PARTICULARLY NOTEWORTHY WHEN VIEWED AGAINST THE BACKGROUND OF VIOLENCE THAT HAS MARKED THE EFFORTS OF COMMUNIST-SUPPORTED GUERILLAS TO SEIZE POWER BY FORCE AND TOTALLY DISRUPT THE ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE OF EL SALVADOR.

-- IT IS NO LONGER APPROPRIATE TO PLACE EL SALVADOR IN THE SPECIAL CATEGORY RESERVED FOR GROSS VIOLATORS OF HUMAN RIGHTS. INSTEAD, LET THE UNGA AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION EXPAND THEIR RANGE OF VISION TO INCLUDE OTHER COUNTRIES WHOSE PEOPLE CALL OUT IN VOICES NOT HEARD THROUGH THE ELECTORAL PROCESS NOW AVAILABLE TO THE PEOPLE OF EL SALVADOR.

B. - CHILE: FYI: THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE HAS BEEN THE FOCUS OF INTENSE UNGA ATTENTION SINCE 1974 WHEN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY INVITED THE NEXT SESSION OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION TO APPOINT AN AD HOC WORKING GROUP ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. IN 1978, THE UNGA ASKED THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION TO APPOINT A SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR TO REPORT TO THE COMMISSION AND GENERAL ASSEMBLY. SINCE THEN THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR HAS SUBMITTED REPORTS ANNUALLY, AND HIS MANDATE HAS BEEN RENEWED BY EACH SUCCEEDING SESSION OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, INCLUDING THE 37TH UNGA. AT ITS 1983 SESSION, THE UNGA WILL HAVE BEFORE IT THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR CALLED FOR BY LAST YEAR'S RESOLUTION. THE USG HAS TAKEN THE POSITION THAT HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES DESERVE CONDEMNATION WHEREVER THEY OCCUR. CHILE IS AN EXAMPLE, HOWEVER, OF DISPROPORTIONATE EMPHASIS REFLECTIVE OF A DOUBLE

STANDARD BY WHICH VARIOUS REGIMES ARE JUDGED. END FYI

— THE SITUATION IN CHILE, WHEN COMPARED TO THE PERIOD PRIOR TO 1977 OR IN COMPARISON TO THE SITUATION IN MANY OTHER COUNTRIES IN THE WORLD, NO LONGER WARRANTS CONTINUATION OF THE MANDATE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR NOR CONSIDERATION OF CHILE AS A SEPARATE ITEM ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION AGENDA. WE NEVERTHELESS AGREE THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE SHOULD CONTINUE TO BE CONSIDERED ALONG WITH OTHER SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATIONS.

-- CLEARLY, SERIOUS PROBLEMS REMAIN. DESPITE THE RETURN OF SOME EXILES, INCLUDING CERTAIN POLITICALLY PROMINENT FIGURES, THOUSANDS OF OTHER CHILEANS ARE STILL REQUIRED TO LIVE ABROAD AND RESTRICTIONS REMAIN ON POLITICAL AND TRADE UNION ACTIVITY.

— IT IS IMPORTANT TO NOTE THAT SINCE 1976, THERE HAVE BEEN NO INDEFINITE DETENTIONS WITHOUT TRIAL IN CHILE; SINCE OCTOBER 1977 THERE HAVE BEEN NO DISAPPEARANCES IN CHILE; AND MOST POLITICAL PRISONERS WERE RELEASED IN EARLY 1978.

C. - GUATEMALA: FYI: THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GUATEMALA UNDER THE REGIME OF LUCAS GARCIA (978-1982) WAS THE SUBJECT OF CLOSE SCRUTINY BY THE UNITED NATIONS, BOTH IN THE UNGA AND BY THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION. ALTHOUGH THAT GOVERNMENT WAS REPLACED BY RIOS MONTT IN MARCH 1982, THE UNGA, AT ITS LAST SESSION, VOTED TO CONTINUE ITS ATTEMPTS TO EVALUATE HUMAN RIGHTS CONDITIONS IN GUATEMALA AND REQUESTED THE GOG TO COOPERATE WITH THE SECRETARY GENERAL'S EFFORTS TO ESTABLISH DIRECT CONTACTS. THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION IN 1983 REINFORCED THE GENERAL CONCERN EXPRESSED BY THE UNGA, BY VOTING TO APPOINT A SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR TO EVALUATE HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN GUATEMALA AND TO CONSIDER FURTHER EVIDENCE AT ITS 40TH SESSION. LORD COLVILLE (UK) HAS BEEN APPOINTED TO FILL THAT POSITION AND HAS VISITED GUATEMALA IN CONNECTION WITH HIS MANDATE.

IN BOTH THE UNGA AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION THE U.S. OPPOSED THE SPECIAL FOCUS ON GUATEMALA, WHICH SEEMED TO ENCOURAGE A PATTERN OF SELECTIVE AND POLITICALLY INSPIRED CONCENTRATION ON HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES OF CERTAIN LATIN AMERICAN GOVERNMENTS TO THE EXCLUSION OF OTHER COUNTRIES IN THE SAME REGION AND IN OTHER PARTS OF THE WORLD. THE U.S. AGREED, HOWEVER, THAT THERE WERE SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN GUATEMALA WHICH THE GOG WAS ADDRESSING AND URGED THE GOVERNMENT TO CONTINUE COOPERATION WITH THE SECRETARY GENERAL.

THE POSITION TAKEN BY THE USG IS THAT THE PATTERN OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS WAS BROKEN ON MARCH 23, 1982 WHEN A GROUP OF YOUNG OFFICERS OVERTHREW THE LUCAS GARCIA REGIME AND BROUGHT TO POWER A NEW GOVERNMENT. THE RIOS MONTT GOVERNMENT PROMISED TO ELIMINATE OFFICIAL REPRESSION AND CORRUPTION, TO IMPROVE CONDITIONS FOR ALL OF GUATEMALA'S PEOPLES. TO COMBAT THE INSURGENCY AND TO RETURN THE COUNTRY TO DEMOCRATIC RULE. SINCE MARCH MARCH 23, 1982 THE GOG HAS TAKEN A NUMBER OF SIGNIFICANT STEPS TOWARD GREATER DEMOCRACY. GENERAL OSCAR MEJIA, WHO OUSTED RIOS MONTT ON AUGUST 8, HAS PROMISED TO HOLD ELECTIONS AND RESTORE DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT. END FYI

-- THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT IS MAKING TANGIBLE PROGRESS IN IMPROVING THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN THAT COUNTRY.

-- WHILE BOTH THE COMMUNIST-SUPPORTED GUERILLAS AND THE SECURITY FORCES AT TIMES HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR SOME CONTINUING VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE COUNTRYSIDE, THE SITUATION IS UNQUESTIONABLY SIGNIFICANTLY BETTER THAN IT WAS WHEN THE UNGA PASSED ITS RESOLUTION LAST YEAR.

-- IT IS CLEARLY IN THE INTERESTS OF THOSE TRULY CONCERNED WITH HUMAN RIGHTS TO RECOGNIZE THE CONSTRUCTIVE CHANGES THAT HAVE ALREADY TAKEN PLACE AND TO WORK WITH THE GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES TO BRING ;BOUT

FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS, INCLUDING THE DEVELOPMENT OF A FULLY DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT.

-- THEREFORE, THE U.S. BELIEVES THAT IT IS NO LONGER APPROPRIATE TO CONTINUE THE SPECIAL ATTENTION FOCUSSED ON GUATEMALA THAT WAS REFLECTED IN THE RESOLUTIONS PASSED DURING THE RECENT SESSIONS OF THE UNGA AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION.

D. - FALKLANDS/MALVINAS: FYI: FOLLOWING THE GA VOTE LAST YEAR IN FAVOR OF THEIR RESOLUTION ON THE

FALKLANDS, ARGENTINA WILL AIM FOR AT LEAST AS MUCH SUPPORT WHEN THE QUESTION COMES UP THIS YEAR. THE UK ON THE OTHER HAND MAY ENDEAVOR TO DECREASE THAT SUPPORT. ARGENTINA WILL PUSH FOR SOME CRITICISM OF THE UK FOR ITS REFUSAL TO RETURN TO THE NEGOTIATING TABLE. HELPED BY THE SECRETARY GENERAL'S REPORT ON THE SITUATION, WHICH WILL NOTE THAT NO PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE IN THE PAST YEAR. WE WILL CONTINUE TO PROMOTE A PEACEFUL RESOLUTION, AVOID TAKING SIDES ON THE SOVEREIGNTY ISSUE, AND AVOID ATTEMPTS TO PRESSURE EITHER SIDE TO NEGOTIATE WITHIN AN UNREALISTIC TIME-FRAME. END FYI

-- WE HOPE THIS ISSUE WILL NOT BE A MATTER OF CONTENTION AT THIS YEAR'S UNGA.

-- WE WISH TO CONTINUE TO PROMOTE A PEACEFUL RESOLUTION OF THIS TRAGIC DISPUTE.

-- WE WILL BE STUDYING THE LANGUAGE OF ANY RESOLUTION THAT IS INTRODUCED VERY CAREFULLY. WE HOPE THAT THE RESOLUTION WILL BE BALANCED AND WILL NOT PREJUDGE THE ISSUE.

E. - CYPRUS: FYI: THE UN PROVIDES A PEACEKEEPING FORCE IN CYPRUS (UNFICYP) WHICH SEPARATES THE GREEK AND TURKISH CYPRIOT FORCES WHILE INTERCOMMUNAL TALKS ARE CONDUCTED UNDER THE AEGIS OF THE SECRETARY GENERAL. AFTER A TWO YEAR SUSPENSION, THESE TALKS WERE RESUMED IN LATE 1980. PROGRESS IN THE INTERCOMMUNAL TALKS AND SUPPORT FOR THEM BY THE US AND OUR ALLIES AS WELL AS NON-ALIGNED COUNTRIES CONVINCED THE PARTIES TO THE DISPUTE NOT TO RAISE THE CYPRUS ISSUE IN THE 35TH OR 36TH UNGA. HOWEVER, AT THE RESUMED 37TH UNGA SESSION IN MAY 1983, THE GREEK CYPRIOTS GAINED SUPPORT FOR A RESOLUTION WHICH FAVORED THEIR POSITION. THE RESOLUTION, IN TURN, TRIGGERED TURKISH CYPRIOT RENEWED INTEREST IN A UNILATERAL DECLARATION OF INDEPENDECE.

THIS ACRIMONIOUS ATMOSPHERE HAS MADE IT DIFFICULT TO RESUME THE INTERCOMMUNAL TALKS UNDER THE AEGIS OF THE SECRETARY GENERAL'S SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE, AMBASSADOR GOBBI. IN EARLY AUGUST, PEREZ DE CUELLAR CAME FORWARD WITH A NEW SET OF IDEAS FOR A CYPRUS SETTLEMENT WHICH GOBBI PRESENTED TO BOTH SIDES FOR A REACTION BY 15 SEPTEMBER. ALTHOUGH INITIAL REACTION WAS ALONG ESTABLISHED LINES, BOTH SIDES ARE STILL CONSIDERING THE IDEAS. WE DO NOT EXPECT THE PARTIES TO EMBRACE THE IDEAS AS PRESENTED OR TO REJECT THEM OUTRIGHT. END FYI

TALKS UNDER THE AEGIS OF THE SYG'S REPRESENTATIVE ARE THE MOST PROMISING PATH TO A SOLUTION OF THE CYPRUS ISSUE.

-- THE US STRONGLY BELIEVES THAT "INTERNATIONALIZATION" OF THE CYPRUS QUESTION WOULD BE A SERIOUS MISTAKE IN THAT IT COULD POISON THE ATMOSPHERE FOR CONTINUATION OF THE INTERCOMMUNAL TALKS.

-- WE HOPE THAT ALL THE PARTIES TO THE DISPUTE WILL RECEIVE CONSISTENT AND STRONG COUNSEL TO AVOID REOPENING THE ISSUE IN THE UNGA.

-- WE ARE TROUBLED BY THE DANGEROUS AND UNHELPFUL DIRECTION OF EVENTS IN CYPRUS SINCE THE RESUMED SESSION OF THE 37TH UNGA IN MAY.

-- WE HOPE ALL THE FRIENDS OF THE PARTIES INVOLVED WILL COUNSEL RESUMPTION OF THE TALKS AND ESCHEWAL OF FURTHER RECOURSE TO INTERNATIONALIZATION OF THE PROBLEM.

F. - WESTERN SAHARA: FYI: THE OAU'S DECISION NOT TO SEAT THE SDAR AT THE 19TH OAU SUMMIT IN ADDIS ABABA IN JUNE, DESPITE THE MOVEMENT'S FORMAL RECOGNITION BY A SLIM MAJORITY OF AFRICA STATES, WAS A VICTORY FOR THE MODERATES, INCLUDING MOROCCO. THE OAU RESOLUTION ON THE WESTERN SAHARA ADOPTED BY THE SUMMIT SET A DEADLINE OF DECEMBER 1983 FOR A REFERENDUM UNDER OAU AND UN AUSPICES AND "DIRECTED" THE IMPLEMENTATION COMMITTEE TO RENEW ITS EFFORTS TO MEET THIS GOAL. IT ALSO "URGED" DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS ON A CEASEFIRE BETWEEN THE PARTIES TO THE CONFLICT, WHICH WERE NAMED FOR THE FIRST TIME AS MOROCCO AND THE POLISARIO FRONT (NOT THE SDAR). THE RESOLUTION DID NOT CRI;ICIZE MOROCCO, DID NOT CALL FOR MOROCCAN WITHDRAWAL, AND STOPPED SHORT OF URGING MOROCCO TO NEGOTIATE THE DETAILS OF THE REFERENDUM WITH THE POLISARIO.

THE U.S. HAS BEEN APPROACHED BY THE OAU INTERIM SECRETARY GENERAL AND SEVERAL AFRICAN GOVERNMENTS, INCLUDING POLISARIO SYMPATHIZERS, TO URGE MOROCCO TO ENTER INTO DIRECT TALKS WITH THE POLISARIO. MODERATE AFRICANS, INCLUDING PRESIDENT DIOUF OF SENEGAL, A MOROCCAN SUPPORTER, HAVE ALSO APPROACHED US URGING THAT WE ENCOURAGE THE MOROCCANS AND ALGERIANS TO COOPERATE

WITH THE OAU IN RESOLVING THE DISPUTE. WE HAVE DECLINED TO URGE THE MOROCCANS TO ENTER INTO DIRECT TALKS, IN PART BECAUSE OF THE POLISARIO'S JULY/AUGUST ATTACKS ON MSEID INSIDE MOROCCO PROPER. IN PART BECAUSE WE SUPPORT THE OAU'S MEDIATION EFFORT AND BELIEVE IT IS PRIMARILY AN OAU RESPONSIBILITY. AND IN PART BECAUSE WE DO NOT BELIEVE IT PRUDENT TO PRESS ONLY ONE PARTY TO THE DISPUTE. END FYI

-- U.S. CONTINUES TO SUPPORT THE OAU MEDIATION EFFORT, WHICH CALLS FOR A CEASEFIRE AND A REFERENDUM IN THE TERRITORY.

-- WE HOPE THAT ANY UNGA RESOLUTION WILL ENDORSE THE OAU CALL FOR A CEASEFIRE AND REFERENDUM IN THE WESTERN SAHARA.

-- WE HOPE YOU WILL JOIN WITH US IN URGING ALL PARTIES TO REFRAIN FROM INTRODUCING A RESOLUTION IN THE FOURTH COMMITTEE OR THE PLENARY THAT WOULD CONTRADICT THE OAU CALL FOR A REFERENDUM ON THE TERRITORY'S FUTURE STATUS.

G. - IOZP: FYI: THE INDIAN OCEAN ZONE OF PEACE WAS PROCLAIMED IN A 1971 UNGA RESOLUTION ON WHICH WE ABSTAINED. THE RESOLUTION CALLED FOR THE ELIMINATION OF ALL GREAT POWER NAVAL PRESENCE FROM THE INDIAN OCEAN. THIS APPROACH IGNORED THE REAL THREAT TO THE REGION FROM SOVIET LAND-BASED MILITARY FORCES. THE SOVIETS, WITH THE HELP OF SOME NON-ALIGNED COUNTRIES LED BY INDIA, HAVE BEEN PUSHING IN THE UNGA'S AD HOC COMMITTEE (AHC) ON THE INDIAN OCEAN FOR A CONFERENCE TO IMPLEMENT THE IOZP. IN 1980, FOLLOWING THE AFGHANISTAN INVASION, THE US JOINED THE AHC IN ORDER TO HEAD OFF AN IOZP CONFERENCE AND TO USE THE FORUM TO FOCUS ATTENTION ON AFGHANISTAN (A HINTERLAND STATE OF THE INDIAN OCEAN), TO STRENGTHEN TIES WITH THE NON-ALIGNED, AND TO CHANGE IOZP TERMS IN A DIRECTION MORE FAVORABLE TO WESTERN SECURITY INTERESTS.

OUR PARTICIPATION IN THE AHC HAS NOT BEEN A VERY SUCCESSFUL DIPLOMATIC EXPERIMENT. ON THE PLUS SIDE WE

AND OUR ALLIES (G-11) HAVE USED AHC DISCUSSIONS TO FOCUS ON SOVIET AGGRESSION IN AFGHANISTAN. MANY OF THE NON-ALIGNED HAVE DONE THIS ALSO. AT THE SAME TIME, HOWEVER, THE NON-ALIGNED, LED BY INDIA AND BACKED BY THE SOVIETS, HAVE CONTINUED TO PRESS FOR A CONFERENCE AND DOCTRINAIRE APPLICATION OF THE 1971 IOZP DOCTRINE.

WE HAVE BEEN ABLE TO PREVENT MOVEMENT TOWARD A CONFERENCE BECAUSE OF THE CONSENSUS RULE AND GENERAL

THE RECENT DECISION BY THE AUSTRALIAN LABOR GOVERNMENT TO TAKE A SOFTER POSITION ON THE CONFERENCE ISSUE MAKES CONTINUED WESTERN UNITY EVEN MORE PROBLEMATICAL. THE NEW GOVERNMENT HAS SAID IT WILL NOT BLOCK A CONSENSUS TO HOLD AN IOZP CONFERENCE AND WOULD ATTEND SUCH A CONFERENCE. MOST RECENTLY THE INDIANS HAVE PRIVATELY SUGGESTED TO US THAT THEY MAY BE WILLING TO PUT THE AHC ON A BACK BURNER IN LIGHT OF THE CURRENT IMPASSE. THIS IDEA APPEARS TO BE MOTIVATED AS MUCH BY THE GOI'S PERCEPTION THAT IT IS BECOMING MORE ISOLATED IN ITS HARD-LINE ADHERENCE TO THE 1971 DOCTRINE AS BY THE MUTUALLY EXCLUSIVE US AND INDIAN POSITIONS. THIS DEVELOPMENT MAKES IT DOUBLY IMPORTANT TO MAINTAIN WESTERN UNITY NOW. END FYI

-- THE 1971 IOZP DOCTRINE WHICH CALLS FOR THE REMOVAL OF ALL GREAT POWER NAVAL PRESENCE FROM THE INDIAN OCEAN PLAYS IS INHERENTLY ONE SIDED. THE REAL THREAT TO THE REGION IS FROM SOVIET LAND-BASED MILITARY FORCES BORDERING ON AND IN THE REGION. (AFGHANISTAN IS AN INDIAN OCEAN HINTERLAND COUNTRY.)

-- WE OPPOSE AN IOZP CONFERENCE WHILE SOVIET TROOPS REMAIN IN AFGHANISTAN BECAUSE WE BELIEVE TO ATTEND A CONFERENCE UNDER CURRENT CIRCUMSTANCES WOULD BE SEEN AS ACQUIESCING IN THE INVASION, WHATEVER WAS SAID AT THE CONFERENCE.

-- GIVEN THE OBVIOUS IMPASSE IN THE AHC, WE ARE OPEN TO ANY SUGGESTIONS ON HOW BEST TO APPROACH THIS ISSUE IN THE FUTURE. (WE SHOULD NOT MENTION THE INDIAN FEELERS TO ANYONE PUBLICLY, GIVEN INDIAN SENSITIVITIES ABOUT BEING SEEN AS COLLABORATING WITH THE US ON THIS ISSUE.)

E. - UNCTAD VI: FYI: THE U.S. FEELS IT ACHIEVED ITS MINIMUM OBJECTIVES AT THE CONFERENCE BY PREVENTING SIGNIFICANT ENCROACHMENT ON THE SPECIALIZED AGENCIES, AVOIDING NEW MOMENTUM OR BROADENING OF PARTICIPATION IN ANY FUTURE MONETARY CONFERENCE AND DEVELOPING

SIGNIFICANT UNITY AND SUPPORT WITHIN GROUP B. AT ITS SIXTH SESSION UNCTAD ONCE AGAIN FAILED TO BRIDGE THE BASIC DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE G-77 AND THE DEVELOPED COUNTRIES ON QUESTIONS OF INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC POLICY AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. WHETHER THE CONFERENCE MADE ANY PROGRESS TOWARD A MORE PRAGMATIC NORTH/SOUTH DIALOGUE REMAINS UNCLEAR. THE GENERAL REACTION AMONG THE G-77 TO THE CONFERENCE OUTCOME WAS DISAPPOINTMENT OVER THE "MEAGER RESULTS." END FYI

-- UNCTAD VI PROVIDED A USEFUL FORUM FOR CONTINUING DIALOGUE ON IMPORTANT QUESTIONS OF ECONOMIC POLICY AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT.

-- THE U.S. WAS PLEASED THAT AGREEMENT WAS REACHED ON ALMOST ALL OF THE RESOLUTIONS PUT FORWARD AT THE CONFERENCE.

-- NEVERTHELESS, WE FELT COMPELLED TO DISASSOCIATE OURSELVES FROM THE FINAL STATEMENT OF THE CONFERENCE FEELING THAT IT WAS AN OVERLY PESSIMISTIC PICTURE OF THE WORLD ECONOMIC SITUATION.

-- WE PLAN TO REVIEW CAREFULLY THE RESULTS OF THE CONFERENCE AND WE HOPE OTHERS WILL DO AS WELL, AS MUCH REMAINS TO BE DONE TO OVERCOME REMAINING DIFFERENCES OF VIEW BETWEEN THE DEVELOPED AND DEVELOPING COUNTRIES.

I. - GLOBAL NEGOTIATIONS/IMMEDIATE MEASURES: FYI: GLOBAL NEGOTIATIONS HAVE TAKEN A BACK SEAT TO THE G-77 DESIRE TO SEE PROGRESS ON THE "IMMEDIATE MEASURES" FIRST OUTLINED AT THE NAM SUMMIT IN NEW DELHI AND LATER CODIFIED IN DRAFT RESOLUTIONS BY THE G-77 AT ITS MINISTERIAL MEETING IN BUENOS AIRES. THERE IS NO SERIOUS EXPECTATION THAT GNS WILL GET UNDERWAY ANY TIME SOON. THE IMMEDIATE MEASURES, IN FACT, CONTAIN LITTLE THAT IS NEW AND IN GENERAL REFLECT TRADITIONAL G-77 POSITIONS ON THE BROAD RANGE OF ECONOMIC AND FINANCIAL ISSUES. END FYI

-- THE U.S. POSITION ON GLOBAL NEGOTIATIONS REMAINS AS STATED BY PRESIDENT REAGAN AT THE CANCUN SUMMIT WHERE HE SPECIFIED THE "FOUR UNDERSTANDINGS" WHICH WOULD BE REQUIRED BEFORE THE U.S. WOULD ENTER INTO GN'S. THESE

WERE: (1) GN'S SHOULD HAVE A PRACTICAL ORIENTATION; (2) THE TALKS SHOULD RESPECT THE COMPETENCE, FUNCTIONS, AND POWERS OF THE SPECIALIZED INTERNATIONAL AGENCIES; (3) THE TALKS MUST BE ORIENTED TOWARD ACHIEVING MUTUALLY BENEFICIAL INTERNATIONAL GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT, TAKING INTO ACCOUNT DOMESTIC ECONOMIC POLICIES; AND (4) THE

— ADDITIONALLY, THE U.S. MADE A MAJOR CONCESSION AT THE VERSAILLES MEETING WHEN THE PRESIDENT AGREED TO ENTER INTO GN'S BEFORE AGENDA AND PROCEDURES WERE ESTABLISHED IN RETURN FOR AGREEMENT AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS ON THE IMPORTANCE OF THE SPECIALIZED AGENCIES.

— WE FEEL OUR POSITION IS A REASONABLE ONE AND ACCEPTABLE TO AMNY OF THE DEVELOPING COUNTRIES.

— IT IS OUR VIEW THAT "THE BALL IS IN THE G-77'S COURT."

— THE IMMEDIATE MEASURES PUT FORWARD BY THE NAM IN ITS ECONOMIC DECLARATION OF NEW DELHI DO NOT, IN OUR OPINION, REPRESENT SIGNIFICANT FORWARD PROGRESS. THEY CONTINUE TO REFLECT TRADITIONAL POSITIONS ON WHICH OUR VIEWS ARE WELL KNOWN.

J. - SECURITY COUNCIL ELECTIONS: FYI: THE SEATS CURRENTLY OCCUPIED BY GUYANA, JORDAN, POLAND, TOGO, AND ZAIRE BECOME VACANT AT YEAR'S END. FINAL REGIONAL GROUP DECISIONS IN THE UNDECIDED RACES ARE NOT EXPECTED UNTIL SOMETIME IN SEPTEMBER. BARBADOS AND PERU ARE VYING FOR THE LATIN AMERICAN SEAT BEING VACATED BY GUYANA; AND ALGERIA, LIBYA, AND MOROCCO FOR THE AFRICAN SEAT BEING VACATED BY ZAIRE. UPPER VOLTA AND THE UKRAINIAN S.S.R. HAVE RECEIVED THEIR RESPECTIVE REGIONAL GROUP'S ENDORSEMENT FOR THE SEATS BEING VACATED BY TOGO AND POLAND. INDIA IS THE ONLY ANNOUNCED CANDIDATE FOR THE ASIAN SEAT CURRENTLY HELD BY JORDAN. OTHER NON-PERMANENT MEMBERS REMAINING ON THE COUNCIL ARE MALTA, NETHERLANDS, NICARAGUA, PAKISTAN, AND ZIMBABWE. A TWO-THIRDS VOTE OF THE UNGA PRESENT AND VOTING IS REQUIRED FOR ELECTION. BALLOTING IS SECRET. OUR TRADITIONAL POLICY IS THAT EXCEPT UNDER EXTRAORDINARY CIRCUMSTANCES WE DO NOT REVEAL OUR VOTE. END FYI

— WE WILL WAIT FOR THE RESPECTIVE REGIONAL GROUPS TO EXPRESS THEIR PREFERENCES FOR THE SECURITY COUNCIL SEATS BEFORE WE TAKE A POSITION.

K. - UN ADMINISTRATION - RAISING THE MANDATORY AGE

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

FYI: FOR THE SECOND TIME, THE UN PENSION BOARD IS RECOMMENDING RAISING THE MANDATORY RETIREMENT AGE TO 62, WHILE RETAINING OPTIONAL RETIREMENT WITH FULL BENEFITS AT 60. THE INTERNATIONAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION IS DIVIDED ON THE ISSUE. THE U.S. STRONGLY SUPPORTS THE PENSION BOARD STANCE, AS A WAY OF REDUCING ACTUARIAL DEFICIT OF THE PENSION FUND, AND OF OBVIATING THE NEED TO RAISE ASSESSMENTS IN ORDER TO MAINTAIN CURRENT BENEFIT LEVELS. UNDER-REPRESENTED COUNTRIES HAVE OPPOSED THIS MEASURE AS ONE THAT WOULD PERPETUATE THEIR UNDER-REPRESENTATION. END FYI

-- THE U.S. BELIEVES THAT UN EMPLOYEES SHOULD BE PERMITTED TO WORK UNTIL AGE 62 IF THEY WISH TO DO SO, AND THEREFORE FAVORS RAISING THE AGE AT WHICH RETIREMENT IS MANDATORY TO 62 WHILE STILL ALLOWING VOLUNTARY RETIREMENT AT THE AGE OF 60.

-- ADOPTION OF THIS MEASURE WILL BE NECESSARY TO AVOID INCREASED ASSESSMENTS OF ALL MEMBER STATES, WHICH WILL OTHERWISE BE NEEDED TO PAY FOR CURRENT RETIREMENT BENEFITS.

-- INCREASING TO 62 THE AGE AT WHICH RETIREMENT IS REQUIRED WILL NOT WORK AGAINST THE DEVELOPING COUNTRIES WHICH NOW HAVE A FAIR SHARE OF SENIOR LEVEL POSITIONS.

-- THE U.S. SEEKS THE SUPPORT OF YOUR GOVERNMENT FOR THIS MEASURE.

L. TEN PERCENT REDUCTION IN CONFERENCE DAYS: FYI: AT THE FIRST SUSBTANTIVE SESSION OF THE COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCES IN MAY, THE USDEL INTRODUCED A PROPOSAL CALLING FOR AN OVERALL REDUCTION IN CONFERENCE DAYS BY TEN PERCENT. THE USDEL PROPOSED THAT THE COMMITTEE REQUEST THE SECRETARIAT TO PREPARE AN ALTERNATIVE CALENDAR (TO ACCOMPANY THE REGULAR DRAFT CALENDAR OF CONFERENCES FOR 1984-85) WHICH WOULD REFLECT AN OVERALL TEN PERCENT REDUCTION COMPARED TO THE 1982-83 CALENDAR. THE PROPOSAL RAN INTO STIFF OPPOSITION. ALTHOUGH NOT ADOPTED, IT IS STILL ON THE TABLE AND WE PLAN TO RAISE THE ISSUE AGAIN DURING THE 38TH UNGA. END FYI

-- AN OVERALL REDUCTION IN CONFERENCE DAYS OFFERS MEMBER STATES A COMPROMISE BETWEEN THE CONFLICTING GOALS OF REDUCING CONFERENCE COSTS AND NOT ELIMINATING ANY SPECIFIC CONFERENCE.

ELIMINATION OF CONFERENCES IN ORDER TO ACHIEVE THE TEN PERCENT REDUCTION. THE U.S. PROPOSAL SIMPLY REQUIRES GREATER EFFICIENCY IN TIME MANAGEMENT AT CONFERENCES.

— CONFERENCE DAYS ARE A LIMITED RESOURCE (IN TERMS OF THE AVAILABILITY OF BOTH FACILITIES AND DELEGATES) IN MUCH THE SAME WAY THAT DOLLARS ARE A LIMITED RESOURCE. THEREFORE, JUST AS PROGRAMS ARE BUDGETED AGAINST A FIXED DOLLAR TOTAL, WE BELIEVE IT WOULD BE USEFUL TO CONSIDER SCHEDULING CONFERENCES AGAINST A TOTAL NUMBER OF CONFERENCE DAYS.

M. - CHANGES IN POST ADJUSTMENT INDICES IN ROME, PARIS, MONTREAL AND VIENNA: FYI: THE INTERNATIONAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION (ICSC) WILL MEET IN NOVEMBER TO CONSIDER TECHNICAL STUDIES INDICATING A NEED FOR SIGNIFICANT REDUCTIONS IN POST ADJUSTMENT PAYMENTS IN ROME, VIENNA, PARIS, AND MONTREAL. THE STUDIES HAVE INDICATED THAT EXCHANGE RATE FLUCTUATIONS HAVE LED TO WINDFALL PAYMENTS FOR SEVERAL THOUSAND PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYEES IN THESE CITIES. THE AFFECTED STAFF ARE SEEKING TO HAVE THE FINDINGS OF THESE STUDIES OVERTURNED. THE U.S. SUPPORTS IMMEDIATE REDUCTIONS IN POST ADJUSTMENT AS A WAY OF ACHIEVING A COMBINED SAVINGS OF OVER $40 MILLION DURING THE NEXT BIENNAL BUDGET PERIOD, IN THE UN, FAO, UNESCO, IAEA, AND ICAO. THE ICSC MAY OPT INSTEAD FOR A POST ADJUSTMENT FREEZE, LOSING THE SAVINGS IN ORDER NOT TO INCUR STAFF DISPLEASURE, OR MAY EVEN BOW ENTIRELY TO STAFF PRESSURE AND REFUSE TO ACCEPT THE FINDINGS OF THE STUDIES. WE WISH TO ALERT OTHER GOVERNMENTS TO THE POTENTIAL NEED FOR ACTION ON THE FLOOR OF THE GA REGARDING THIS MATTER. END FYI

— THE U.S. NOTES TECHNICAL FINDINGS OF THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON POST ADJUSTMENT QUESTIONS INDICATING POST ADJUSTMENT OVERPAYMENTS IN ROME, VIENNA, PARIS AND MONTREAL.

— THE U.S. SUPPORTS TERMINATION OF THESE UNEARNED WINDFALL PAYMENTS, AMOUNTING TO OVER FORTY MILLION DOLLARS SYSTEM-WIDE, AS A WAY OF SAVING RESOURCES DESPERATELY NEEDED FOR UN PROGRAMS.

— THE U.S. SEEKS YOUR SUPPORT IN INCORPORATING THESE REDUCTIONS INTO THE 1984-85 BUDGET OF THE UN AND AFFECTED SPECIALIZED AGENCIES.

N. - IRAN-IRAQ WAR: FYI: THE IRAQI UN DELEGATION RECENTLY REQUESTED THAT THE SE-RETARY GENERAL INCLUDE ON THE AGENDA OF THE 38TH UNGA AN ADDITIONAL ITEM, "CONSEQUENCES OF THE PROLONGATION OF THE ARMED CONFLICT BETWEEN IRAN AND IRAQ." THE 37TH UNGA HAD PASSED A RESOLUTION ON THIS ITEM BY A VOTE OF 119 US,-1 IRAN -15. IT REITERATED CLAUSES CONTAINED IN SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTIONS PASSED IN 1980 AND 1982 CALLING FOR AN IMMEDIATE CEASE-FIRE, WITHDRAWAL OF FORCES TO INTERNATIONALLY RECOGNIZED BOUNDARIES AND CONTI;UATION OF MEDIATION EFFORTS BY THE SECRETARY GENERAL.

THE USG POSITION REGARDING THE IRAN/IRAQ WAR HAS BEEN ONE OF NEUTRALITY. THE WAR'S CONTINUATION HAS RESULTED ONLY IN CONSIDERABLE LOSS OF HUMAN LIFE AND MATERIAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL ;FROM THE PERSIAN GULF OIL SPILL. DAMAGE. WE SUPPLY ARMS TO NEITHER SIDE AND HAVE CALLED FOR AN END TO THE WAR ON THE BASIS OF THE INDEPENDENCE AND TERRITORIAL INTEGRITY OF BOTH STATES. WE HAVE SUPPORTED UNGA AND UNSC ACTIONS REGARDING THE CONFLICT AND WILL CONTINUE TO SUPPORT OBJECTIVELY WORDED ITEMS CALLING FOR AN END TO HOSTILITIES BASED ON THESE PRINCIPLES. END FYI ONLY IF ASKED

—THE USG HAS SUPPORTED PAST UNGA AND UNSC ACTIONS REGARDING THE IRAN/IRAQ WAR WHICH CALL FOR A CEASEFIRE, WITHDRAWAL OF FORCES TO INTERNATIONALLY RECOGNIZED BOUNDARIES AND CONTINUATION OF MEDIATION EFFORTS BY THE SECRETARY GENERAL. WE CAN SUPPORT A SIMILARLY WORDED RESOLUTION IN THIS YEAR'S UNGA.

—AS YOU KNOW, THE USG HAS TAKEN A POSITION OF NEUTRALITY TOWARD THIS CONFLICT WHICH WE VIEW AS WASTEFUL OF HUMAN LIFE AND MATERIAL RESOURCES AND WHICH CONTRIBUTES TO REGIONAL TENSIONS.

AS WELL AS THE NATIONAL WORKERS COMMAND (CNI). THE GOC HAS DECIDED TO CHARGE SEGUEL WITH DEFAMATION OF CHARACTER UNDER THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAWS FOR WORDS HE ALLEGEDLY USED TO DESCRIBE PRESIDENT PINOCHET IN A RECENT INTERVIEW WITH THE MEXICAN NEWSPAPER EXCELSIOR. THE GOC DECIDED ON THE ADDITIONAL CHARGES FOLLOWING AN INTERVIEW WITH A SANTIAGO NEWSPAPER, IN WHICH SEGUEL ADMITTED HE HAD,

IN THE EXCELSIOR INTERVIEW, DESCRIBED PINOCHET AS A FANATICAL, OBSESSED AND ABSURD DICTATOR. HE ALSO APPARENTLY USED SUCH PHAMSES AS "CONCENTRATION CAMP," "NUREMBERG SITUATION" TO DESCRIBE THE POLITICAL CLIMATE IN CHILE.

2. SEGUEL, WHO IS FREE ON BAIL FOLLOWING 35 DAYS IN JAIL IN CONNECTION WITH ALLEGED VIOLATION OF THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAWS FOR THE PROTEST DEMONSTRATIONS OF MAY 11 AND JUNE 14 AGAINST THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT, NOW FINDS THE CASE OF THE GOC EXPANDED AT ABOUT THE TIME WHEN THE INVESTIGATING JUDGE WAS TO MAKE A RULING ON THE ORIGINAL CHARGES. IN ADDITION, THE GOC CHARGES FOLLOW A MEETING BETWEEN MINISTER OF INTERIOR JARPA AND THE LEADERS OF THE CTC DURING WHICH SEGUEL SAID HE WAS A TRADE UNIONIST AND NOT MIXED UP IN POLITICS, AND DURING WHICH SEGUEL APPEALED TO JARPA TO DROP THE CHARGES AGAINST SEGUEL AND SEVERAL OTHER CTC LEADERS FOR THE PROTEST ACTS. THE OPPOSITION COALITION "DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE," WHICH IS NEGOTIATING A POLITICAL OPENING WITH JARPA AND THE GOC, HAD INCLUDED THE CHARGES AGAINST THE COPPERWORKER LEADERS AMONG THE POINTS TO BE RESOLVED WITH JARPA. INSTEAD OF NEARING A RESOLUTION OF THE LEGAL ACTION, SEGUEL, THROUGH CARELESS REMARKS TO A FOREIGN REPORTER, NOW FINDS HIMSELF IN DEEPER TROUBLE.

DIALOGUE.

4. I OPENED THE MEETING BY DESCRIBING MY BOGOTA AND SAN JOSE CONVERSATIONS WITH THE SALVADORAN FDR/FMLN, AND THE SALVADORAN PEACE COMMISSION'S INITIAL CONTACT

ITH THE GUERRILLAS. I POINTED OUT THAT THE GUERRILLAS' ADVANCING OF MAXIMAL DEMANDS IN PRIVATE CONVERSATIONS WAS, PERHAPS, UNDERSTANDABLE AS AN OPENING NEGOTIATING MOVE.

THEIR USE OF THEIR AUGUST 30 SAN JOSE PRESS CONFERENCE. HOWEVER, TO PROPAGANDIZE THEIR DEMANDS NOT ONLY CREATED A BAD ATMOSPHERE FOR DIALOGUE IN SAN SALVADOR, BUT-ALSO PAINTED THE GUERRILLAS INTO A CORNER IN TERMS OF THEIR OWN NEGOTIATING POSITION. I SAID THAT THE FDR/FMLN WOULD DO WELL TO RESTRAIN THEMSELVES PUBLICLY, AS SUGGESTED BY COLOMBIAN PRESIDENT BETANCUR.

5. SEPULVEDA THEN RAISED A SERIES OF QUESTIONS CONCERNING THE FDR/FMLN'S PURPOSE IN PRESSING DEMANDS FOR A NEW GOVERNMENT: DID THEY, IN FACT, WANT DOMINANCE GRANTED TO THEM OR WERE THEY WILLING SIMPLY TO ACCEPT AN INFLUENCE IN DETERMINING APPROPRIATE CONDITIONS FOR AN ELECTION? I RESPONDED THAT SOME IN THE FDR/FMLN HAVE DEEP RESERVATIONS ABOUT DIALOGUE, ACQUIESCING IN TALKS ONLY TO PROVIDE A BALANCE TO MILITARY ACTION. THE HARD LINE PLACATES THESE PEOPLE. AT THE SAME TIME, I NOTED, WE ARE IN A PERIOD OF MILITARY TESTING. IF THE FMLN IS UNABLE TO REGAIN THE MILITARY INITIATIVE WITHIN TWO-THREE MONTHS, THE VICTORY OPTION FOR THE GUERRILLAS MAY LOSE CREDIBILITY. I ADDED THAT WE NEED TO BE PATIENT DURING THIS PERIOD. WE SHOULD AVOID PUSHING EITHER SIDE TOO HARD ON THE DIALOGUE ISSUE UNTIL THE UNDERLYING BALANCE OF MILITARY FORCE IS CLARIFIED. (COMMENT: MY INTENTION WAS TO [redacted] SIGNAL TO SEPULVEDA THAT, NOTWITHSTANDING THE GUERRILLAS' ANNOUNCED OFFENSIVE, TIME IS ON OUR SIDE.)

6. SEPULVEDA AND HIS ASSOCIATES THEN QUERIED ME ABOUT POTENTIAL ELECTORAL COALITIONS IN EL SALVADOR AND THE ATTITUDE OF THE ARMED FORCES AND THE ARENA PARTY TOWARD DIALOGUE. WITH REGARD TO COALITIONS, I HYPOTHESIZED THAT TWO-GREAT COALITIONS, ONE CENTER-LEFT AND ONE RIGHTIST, MIGHT EMERGE. I DESCRIBED HOW BOTH THE ARMED FORCES AND ARENA SUPPORTED DIALOGUE AS LONG AS IT FOCUSED ONLY ON ELECTORALPARTICIPATION, NOT ON A GRANT OF POWER TO THE FDR/FMLN.

7. I SAID THAT POLLING HAS SHOWN THAT THE EXTREME LEFT COULD TURN OUT AT MOST, ABOUT 12-14 PERCENT OF THE ELECTORATE IN A FAIR ELECTION. I SAID THAT, WHILE THE LEFT COULD PROBABLY NOT ELECT A PRESIDENT SINGLE HANDEDLY, THEY COULD PROBABLY PRODUCE A RESPECTABLE LEGISLATIVE AND MUNICIPAL REPRESENTATION IN FOLLOW-UP ELECTIONS. IF WE MAINTAIN OPEN THE DIALOGUE OPTION, AND THE GUERRILLAS BEGIN TO SEE THE PROSPECTS OF MILITARY VICTORY RECEDE, THE DESIRABILITY OF GAINING SOME POLITICAL REPRESENTATION MIGHT BE MORE APPEALING TO THEM.

8. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT IT WOULD BE DESIRABLE TO HAVE THE LEFT PARTICIPATING IN ELABORATION OF PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION PROCEDURES SINCE THESE WILL LIKELY SERVE AS PRECEDENTS FOR SUBSEQUENT LEGISLATIVE AND MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS. I FULLY AGREED AND SAID THAT, FOLLOWING APPROVAL OF THE CONSTITUTION (PERHAPS IN OCTOBER), WORK ON THE ELECTORAL LAW WILL HAVE TO TAKE PLACE. THIS PROVIDES A WINDOW FOR FDR/FMLN INVOLVEMENT, IF THEY CHOOSE TO ABANDON THEIR CURRENT ANTI-ELECTIONS STANCE.

9. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT, AN INTERIM GOVERNMENT, AS NOW [redacted]

PROPOSED BY THE LEFT, WOULD NOT SERVE TO PACIFY EL SALVADOR. A BODY -TO ESTABLISH RULES OF PLAY FOR AN ELECTION, ON THE OTHER HAND, MIGHT BE VALUABLE. SUCH A BODY, HE SAID, SHOULD BE A COMBINATION OF THE CURRENT ELECTORAL AND POLITICAL COMMISSIONS--AN ORGAN REPRESENTATIVE OF ALL THE "REAL FACTORS OF POWER." (COMMENT: SEPULVEDA WAS SEEKING TO BRIDGE THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE GOES AND FDR/FMLN POSITIONS BY ;SUGGESTING, AS AN ALTERNATIVE TO THE FDR/FMLN INTERIM GOVERNMENT PROPOSAL, THE FORMATION OF AN ELECTORAL COMMISSION WITH AUTHORITATIVE, QUASI-GOVERNMENTAL POWERS. HE DID NOT ELABORATE ON THE FATE OR POWERS OF THE ESTABLISHED GOES UNDER SUCH A SCHEME, ALTHOUGH THE IMPLICATION WAS THAT THE NEW ORGAN MIGHT SOMEHOW SUPERSEDE THE GOES. THE TERM "REAL FACTORS OF POWER," USED BY SEPULVEDA, WAS MENTIONED REPEATEDLY BY MARIO AGUINADA OF THE SALVADORAN COMMUNIST PARTY DURING MY SAN JOSE TALKS. HE SAID IT REFERS INTERNALLY TO THE CURRENT GOES, THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES, AND THE FDR/FMLN.)

10. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT HE AGREED THAT IT WOULD BE USEFUL TO WAIT TWO-THREE MONTHS BEFORE PRESSING THE PARTIES ON DIALOGUE. HE ASKED WHAT SHOULD BE DONE, HOWEVER, SHOULD THE PROCESS REMAIN STALEMATED AT THE TIME. I REPLIED THAT THE MOST IMPORTANT THING OUTSIDE POWERS COULD DO WOULD BE TO ENCOURAGE CONTINUING CONTACTS BETWEEN THE PEACE COMMISSION AND THE LEFT. INITIALLY, SUBSTANCE SHOULD NOT BE PRESSED IN THESE CONTACTS TO ALLOW CONFIDENCE TO BE BUILT UP. PERHAPS A SECOND AND THIRD FDR/FMLN-PEACE COMMISSION MEETING MIGHT FOCUS ONLY ON AGENDA, A FOURTH MEETING MIGHT, FOR EXAMPLE, ESTABLISH A TECHNICAL WORKING GROUP ON PARTS OF THE AGENDA. THE IMPORTANT THING WOULD BE TO MAINTAIN CONTINUING CONTACT WITHOUT PRESSURE FOR DECISION. PERHAPS, MORE DIRECT COMMUNICATIONS MIGHT BE [redacted]

ESTABLISHED--ELIMINATING THE CURRENT INTERMEDIARIES INVOLVED IN THE PASSING OF MESSAGES. THE MOST IMPORTANT THING, I SAID, WOULD BE TO AVOID A BREAKDOWN OF TALKS AND A CONSEQUENT SENSE THAT DIALOGUE ON A POLITICAL SOLUTION IS A FORECLOSED OPTION.

11. SEPULVEDA GENERALLY AGREED AND, IN CONCLUSION, SAID THAT THE DIALOGUE EFFORT MUST BE NURTURED CAREFULLY.

1. SECRET - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. BEGIN SUMMARY. VIOLENT AND NON-VIOLENT PROTESTS AGAINST THE PINOCHET REGIME HAVE INTENSIFIED IN THE PAST FEW DAYS AND IS EXPECTED TO REACH PEAK INTENSITY ON SEPTEMBER 8 AND TO AND AROUND SEPTEMBER 11. THERE ARE TWO PROTEST MOVEMENTS, ONE NON-VIOLENT ORGANIZED BY THE DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE, THE OTHER VIOLENT, LED BY THE CHILEAN COMMUNIST PARTY, WITH SOME COORDINATION BETWEEN THEM. THE DEMOCRATIC LEADERS OF THE PEACEFUL PROTEST HAVE INCOMPLETE CONTROL OVER THEIR MORE MILITANT BASE GROUPS. THE UNRESOLVED ECONOMIC CRISIS FUELS SOCIAL DISCONTENT AND MAKES LIKELY THE CONTINUATION OF VIOLENT AND PEACEFUL PROTESTS BEYOND SEPTEMBER 11, THOUGH ON A MORE

LIMITED SCALE. THE GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN UNABLE TO RESTORE BUSINESS CONFIDENCE OR MOVE THE ECONOMY OFF DEAD CENTER. PRESSURES FROM MANY SECTORS HAVE INCREASED IN RECENT WEEKS AGAINST THE ECONOMIC TEAM, WHICH COULD BE REPLACED IN THE NEAR FUTURE. THE ECONOMY CONTINUES TO BE THE ACHILLE'S HEEL OF THE PINOCHET REGIME, AND THREATENS THE POLITICAL OPENING AND A PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY. END SUMMARY.

3. THERE HAS BEEN A NOTICEABLE INCREASE IN PEACFULESTS (MARCHES AND DEMONSTRATIONS WITHOUT SERIOUS INCIDENT IN SANTIAGO) AND VIOLENT ACTS (BOMBINGS OF BUILDINGS AND VEHICLES) ON SEPTEMBER 6 AND 7. THE PEACEFUL PROTEST CALLED BY THE DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE (AD) AND THE LABOR COMMAND FOR SEPTEMBER 8 IS LIKELY TO BE AS LARGE, AND POSSIBLY LARGER THAN AUGUST 11. THE AD IS DIVIDED OVER THE WISDOM OF THE PROTEST AND ITS POTENTIAL FOR WEAKENING JARPA AND THREATENING THE LIBERALIZATION PROCESS. NEVERTHELESS, THE DECISION WAS MADE TO GO AHEAD WITH THE PROTEST DESPITE A SECOND MEETING WITH JARPA ON SEPTEMBER 5, WHICH WAS DESCRIBED BY THE OPPOSITION AS POSITIVE AND CONSTRUCTIVE. THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY (PDC) LEADERSHIP FEELS IT CANNOT AFFORD TO ABANDON THE PROTESTS AND ALLOW THE STREET TO BE TAKEN OVER BY THE COMMUNISTS (PCCH) AND OTHER EXTREMISTS ON THE LIEFT. FOLLOWING MOSCOW'S CURRENT LINE AS USUAL, THE PCCH IS INTENT ON LEADING THE VIOLENT ANTI-PINOCHET STRUGGLE SO AS TO AVOID HAVING THE REVOLUTIONARY VANGUARD ROLE TAKEN OVER BY OTHERS, AS HAPPENED IN CUBA AND NICARAGUA. FAILURE TO GAIN ENTRANCE TO THE DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE APPEARS TO HAVE REINFORCED THE VIOLENT LINE. IN VIEW OF THE COMMITMENT OF THE PCCH, THE MIR AND OTHER EXTREMISTS TO REVOLUTIONARY VIOLENCE TO TOPPLE THE PINOCHET REGIME, STREET VIOLENCE AND OTHER VIOLENT ACTS ARE LIKELY TO CONTINUE FOR SOME TIME. THE GOAL IS THE ANCIENT ONE OF PROVOKING GOVERNMENT REPRESSION, CREATING NEW MARTYRS, AND MOBILIZING

WIDER POPULAR SUPPORT BEHIND THE ARMED STRUGGLE. SIGNIFICANT ELEMENTS OF THE PCCH LEADERSHIP APPEAR TO BELIEVE THAT CONSIDITIONS IN CHILE ARE RIPE FOR VIOLENT REVOLUTION, AND THAT PINOCHET CAN BE OVERTHROWN BY THIS METHOD.

4. THE COMPLEXITY OF THE PROTEST MOVEMENT, THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE POLITICAL SUPERSTRUCTURE AND BASE GROUPS, AND BETWEEN THE PEACEFUL AND VIOLENT PROTESTORS, MAKES IT DIFFICULTREDICT OUTCOMES. THERE ARE, IN FACT, TWO PROTEST MOVEMENTS PROCEEDING LARGELY BUT NOT ENTIRELY IN PARALLEL: THE PEACEFUL PROTESTS ORGANIZED BY THE PDC AND OTHER ALLIANCE PARTIES, WITH LABOR COOPERATION, AND THE VIOLENT PROTEST MOVEMENT LED BY THE PCCH, WITH MIR, SOCIALIST AND OTHER FAR LEFT SUPPORT. THERE ARE CONTACTS BETWEEN THE POLITICAL LEADERSHIP OF THE PDC AND THE PCCH CONCERNING PROTEST STRATEGY, AS PDC PRODEN PRESIDENT LAVANDERO AND OTHERS HAVE TOLD US. THERE ALSO APPEARS TO BE SOME CONTACT AND COORDINATION BETWEEN THE BASE GROUPS OF THE VIOLENT AND NON-VIOLENT OPPOSITION AS WELL. BUT WHAT COMPLICATES MATTERS EVEN MORE IS THAT THERE IS A CONSIDERABLE BREACH BETWEEN THE OPPOSITION POLITICAL LEADERS--POLITICAL AND TRADE UNION CHIEFS--AND THE MASS OF DISCONTENTED WORKERS, UNIVERSITY STUDENTS, UNEMPLOYED, DELINQUENTS AND OTHERS WHO RESPOND AT THE LOCAL LEVEL, ON THE STREETS AND IN THE URBAN SLUMS, TO MILITANT CHURCH, PDC AND PCCH LEADERSHIP. THUS, THE PDC LEADERS EXERCISE AT BEST INCOMPLETE CONTROL OVER ITS OWN BASE GROUPS, AND CANNOT AFFORD TO LAG BEHIND THE DEMANDS AND VIEWS EXPRESSED AT THIS LEVEL. THEY HAVE ADMITTED TO US THEY ARE UNCERTAIN THEMSELVES ABOUT THE OUTCOME OF ANY CALL TO HALT THE PROTESTS.

5. TAKING THIS INTO ACCOUNT, OUR BEST ESTIMATE FOR THE NEXT SEVERAL DAYS TO AND AROUND SEPTEMBER 11 IS AS FOLLOWS: --THE LIMITED VIOLENT ACTS WHICH BEGAN ON AUGUST 30 AND INCREASED IN THE PAST FEW DAYS WILL IKELY INTESIFY ON SEPT 8 (TO COINCIDE WITH THE AD'S NATIONAL DAY OF PEACEFUL PROTEST) AND UP TO THE SYMBOLIC DATE OF SEPT 11, THE DAY BY WHICH SO MANY OPPOSITION FIGURES HAVE HOPED TO BE ABLE TO OVERTHROW THE PINOCHET REGIME. THE GOVERNMENT RECOGNIZES THIS PERIOD, AND PERHAPS A FEW DAYS BEYOND, AS THE PERIOD OF MAXIMUM VIOLENCE AND HAS TAKEN PRECAUTIONS. THE UNIVERSTIRIES AND SCHOOLS HAVE BEEN CLOSED EARLIER THAN USUAL FOR THE NATIONAL HOLIDAYS, STARTING AT NOON ON SEPTEMBER 7 AND REOPENING ON SEPTEMBER 20. WHILE THE GOVERNMENT HAS ANNOUNCED THAT MINMIMUM FORCE WILL BE APPLIED TO MAINTAIN ODER, AND THAT ONLY THE STREET-TRAINED NATIONAL POLICE WILL BE ENGAGED IN THAT TASK, THE ARMY IS BEING KEPT IN RESERVE AND ON ALERT IN THE EVENT SERIOUS DISTURBANCES REQUIRE THEIR INTERVENTION AFTER SEPTEMBER 11 WE EXPECT LIMITED ACTS OF VIOLENCE AND SABOTAGE TO CONTINUE BUT AT A LOWER LEVEL.

--THE PEACEFUL PROTEST LED BY THE AD FOR SEPTEMBER 8 IS LIKELY

SECRET UNCLASSIFIED SECRET

TO BE AT ON THE SAME SCALE, AND PERHAPS GREATER THAN THE AUGUST 11 PROTEST DAY. IT IS POSSIBLE BUT LESS LIKELY THAT PEL PROTEST WILL BE SOMEWHAT LESS THAN LAST MONTH'S PROTEST DAY, BECAUSE THE UNDERLYING SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC DIS-CONTENT CONTINUES WITH NO SIGNS OF DIMINISHING, DESPITE THE POLITICAL OPENING. THE POLITICAL CHANGES HAVE NO EFFECT ON THE CRITICAL PROBLEMS OF THE UNEMPLOYED, THE URBAN PPOR, LABOR, INDUSTRIAL, PROFESSIONAL AND OTHER SECTORS, WHOSE DISCONTENT DERIVES LARGELY FROM THE ECONOMIC CRISIS.

6. CURRENT GOVERNMENT ECONOMIC POLICY OFFERS LITTLE HOPE FOR EVEN A MODERATELY STRONG ECONOMIC RECOVERY OVER THE NEXT SEVERAL MONTHS, DESPITE GOVERNMENT CLAIMS THAT THE LAST QUARTER WILL SHOW A 5 PERCENT ANNUALIZED GDP GROWTH RATE. WIDE-SECTORS--THE ENTIRE POLITICAL OPPOSITION, MUCH OF THE CENTER-RIGHT, MANY GOVERNMENT SUPPORTERS--HAVE LOST CONFIDENCE IN THE PRESENT ECONOMIC TEAM, LED BY FINANCE MINISTER CACERES. FOREIGN BANKING CONFIDENCE IN CHILE'S ECONOMIC MANAGEMENT (DUE TO THE SKILLFUL, SUCCESSFUL EXTERNAL DEBT RENEGOTIATION AND MAINTENANCE OF IMF PERFORMANCE TARGETS) APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN RE-ESTABLISHED, BUT CACERS HAS BEEN UNABLE TO RESTORE DOMESTIC CONFIDENCE. THE LONG PROMISED ECONOMIC RECOERY HAS NOT ARRIVED. LAST JUNE THERE WAS A SENSE OF THE ECONOMY HAVING BOTTOMED OUT AND SOME SIGNS OF INCREASED ACTIVITY WERE EVIDENT IN MANY ECONOMIC SECTORS. NOW, BUSINESS CONFIDENCE IS VERY DEPRESSED, AND PRESSURES TO GET PINOCHET TO REMOVE CACERES AND THE REMAINING CHICAGO BOYS SCATTERED THROUGHOUT THE MIDDLE LEVELS OF THE FINANCE MINISTRY AND CENTRAL BANK HAVE INCREASED SHARPLY IN RECENT WEEKS. THERE IS MUCH SPECULATION THAT THE ECONOMIC TEAM WILL BE REPLACED SOON IN AN ATTEMPT TO CREAT THE IMAGE, AND THE REALITY, OF A MORE EXPANSIONIST, LESS DOCTRINAIRE ECONOMIC POLICY, CAPABLE OF MOVING THE ECONOMY OFF DEAD CENTER. WHILE GOVERNMENT OPTIONS ARE SEVERELY LIMITED

BY THE REDUCED AVAILABILITY OF EXTERNAL CAPITAL AND BY THE IMF COONS, IT IS FELT BY IMPORTANT BUSINESS SECTORS THAT CACERES HAS NOT BEEN AGGRESSIVE ENOUGH IN CONSIDERING AND ADOPTING VARIOUS ALTERNATIVES (SUCH AS HIGHER, DIFFERENTIATED TARIFFS) AVAILABLE THAT ARE OPPOSED BY THE STILL INFLUENTIAL CHICAGO SCHOOL ECONOMISTS IN THE MIDDLE AND UPPER LEVELS OF THE STATE BUREAUCRACY.

7. FAILURE TO RESTORE BUSINESS CONFIDENCE AND CREATE NEW JOBS ON A SIGNIFICANT SCALE CONTINUE TO POSE A SERIOUS THREAT TO THE GOVERNMENT'S POLITICAL OPENING, TO THE ORDERLY AND PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY, AHD THE SURVIVAL OF THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT. THE ECONOMY CONTINUES TO BE THE ACHILLE'S HEEL OF THE PINOCHET REGIME. THEBERGE

TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES:

R

When the Congress approved humanitarian assistance for the Nicaraguan democratic resistance last year, it assured the survival of those fighting for democracy in Nicaragua. However, this assistance has not been sufficient to bring about changes in the policies of the communist Government of Nicaragua that would make possible a peaceful resolution of the conflict in Central America.

Determinations

Negotiations based on the Contadora Document of Objectives of September 9, 1983, have failed to produce an agreement, and other trade and economic measures have failed to resolve the conflict. At the same time, the legislation for even humanitarian assistance is about to expire. If no further action is taken it is clear that the Nicaraguan communists will steadily intensify their efforts to crush all opposition to their tyranny, consolidating their ability to use Nicaragua, in concert with their Soviet-bloc patrons, as a base for intimidating the democratic nations of Central America and spreading subversion and terrorism in our hemisphere.

MORI DocID: 754603

In these circumstances, the laws providing for humanitarian assistance to the Nicaraguan democratic resistance permit me to request authority to provide additional assistance, and specify expediated procedures for action by the Congress on my request. I am transmitting herewith a formal request for such additional assistance. As required by law, I have consulted with the Congress in formulating this request.

Why Negotiations and Other Measures Have Failed

In reports that I transmitted to the Congress in November 1985 and February 1986, I described the continued efforts by the United States to promote a negotiated settlement in Central America and in Nicaragua based on the Contadora Document of Objectives. All efforts to achieve a peaceful solution have failed to resolve the conflict because Nicaragua has refused to accept meaningful negotiations. Communist attempts to circumvent Contadora, apparent from the beginning of the negotiating process, have been increasingly obvious. In most recent months, Nicaragua has repeatedly frustrated negotiations aimed at producing a final, comprehensive Contadora treaty.

Recent Contadora meetings to discuss a comprehensive, verifiable regional agreement have been inconclusive largely due to Nicaraguan intransigence on key issues. Following two rounds of talks in October, on November 11, 1985, Nicaragua made public a letter from President Ortega to the Contadora Group and Support Group governments setting forth objections to the September 12, 1985, draft agreement tabled by the Contadora Group governments. Nicaragua argued that it could not assume the obligations of a Contadora agreement unless it reached a prior accommodation with the United States.

On December 3, President Ortega formally requested a suspension in Contadora negotiations until May 1986, that is until after the governments to be elected in Costa Rica, Honduras and Guatemala will have been installed. Costa Rica, Honduras and Guatemala, however, joined 25 other OAS member states in voting for a resolution at the OAS General Assembly in Cartagena that urged continuation of the Contadora negotiations. Of all OAS members, only Nicaragua voted against that resolution. Subsequently, Nicaragua's refusal to resume Contadora talks was a major factor in the failure in the United Nations General Assembly to achieve consensus on a resolution of support for the Contadora process.

On January 12, the Foreign Ministers of the Contadora Group and Support Group issued a joint statement intended to revitalize the process. The Foreign Ministers of the five Central American states, including Nicaragua, signed the "Declaration of Guatemala" on January 15, endorsing the

Carabelleda message. Afterwards, the Government of Nicaragua issued a press communique which, although claiming "total adherence" to the Caraballeda Message, characterized the various actions suggested in the Caraballeda Message as prerequisites to resumption of Contadora negotiations. This communique also reaffirmed the Nicaraguan position of November 11 objecting to the Contadora draft agreement.

On February 5, President Ortega repeated this position in his speech to the Third Cuban Communist Party Congress in Havana noting that "the peace document that the Contadora Group submitted in September 1985 is unacceptable to Nicaragua."

On February 10, Secretary of State Shultz met with the Foreign Ministers of the Contadora Group and Support Group. The Secretary welcomed the good offices of the two Contadora groups to promote national reconciliation as expressed in the Caraballeda Message, and offered to resume bilateral talks with Nicaragua simultaneously with the beginning of Sandinista dialogue with the democratic resistance. Secretary Shultz also informed the Foreign Ministers that the United States was prepared to take further steps in response to changes in Nicaraguan behavior on the four key issues of concern -- support of subversion, the Cuban/Soviet presence, the military buildup and internal repression. He pointed out that a dialogue and ceasefire would mean that cessation of the application of force and the process of national reconciliation would go forward at the same time. My Special Emissary, Ambassador Harry Shlaudeman, began consultation with the Contadora and Support Group governments the week of February 16 on this initiative.

Meanwhile, the Sandinistas have rejected a February 6 proposal from opposition political parties in Nicaragua for suspension of hostilities, an effective general amnesty law for reconciliation of all Nicaraguans, a repeal of the state of emergency, an agreement for the establishment and observance of a new electoral process, effective fulfillment of Nicarauga's commitments for democratization and international assistance in the implementation of these demands. Also, another Contadora negotiating session held February 14-15 was inconclusive because of continued Nicaraguan refusal to address the remaining issues to be resolved in the current Contadora draft agreement.

Description of Request

The request transmitted herewith asks your approval for the transfer of $100,000,000 from funds already appropriated for the Department of Defense so that those funds would also be available for assistance to the Nicaraguan democratic resistance. I am requesting this transfer authority, in lieu of a supplemental appropriation, because I regard this request as a matter of high priority for the national security of the United States. Including a proposal for additional funds in this request would have diverted attention from the basic national security issues here involved. However, the resulting reduction in the funds available for the Department of Defense, if ~~not soon~~ remedied, will inevitably impair ongoing efforts to restore and maintain the readiness of the armed forces. ~~This~~ I will address impairment in defense readiness must be addressed separately.

The $100,000,000 to be made available for assistance to the Nicaraguan democratic resistance would include funds that have been appropriated to remain available for obligation until September 30, 1987. Obligations will be made on an incremental basis, with 25 percent available when the request is approved and an additional 15 percent to become available at 90 day intervals as reports are provided to the Congress on actions to achieve a resolution of the conflict in Central America.

Of the $100,000,000, $30,000,000 will be for a program of humanitarian assistance administered by the present Nicaraguan Humanitarian Assistance Office, including $3,000,000 exclusively for strengthening the observance and advancement of human rights.

Should a peaceful settlement of the conflict in Central America be achieved during the period these funds remain available, the remaining funds could then be used for assistance to Central American countries, including Nicaragua, for relief, rehabilitation and reconstruction.

Approval of this request will permit me to use any department or agency in the Executive Branch, including agencies involved in intelligence activities, in carrying out programs and activities to assist the Nicaraguan democratic resistance. The statutory requirements for Congressional approval of the use of such agencies, as well as statutes requiring prior authorization for the use of appropriated funds will be satisfied by the approval of my request.

Finally, the request contains a series of undertakings by me, which I am asking the Congress to accept. These undertakings, which were developed in consultations with the Congress, are intended to assure that a clear and explicit understanding exists between the Executive and Legislative Branches as to the purposes of the requested assistance to the Nicaraguan democratic resistance and United States objectives in Central America.

In particular, I am undertaking in this request:

-- That United States policy toward Nicaragua will be based on Nicaragua's responsiveness to our well-known concerns about the Government of Nicaragua's close military and security ties to Cuba and the Soviet Union, its military buildup, its unlawful support for subversion and terrorism, its internal repression, and its refusal to negotiate in good faith with its neighbors or its own people;

-- That, in addition to support for the democratic resistance, the United States will rely on economic, political and diplomatic measures to address these concerns. In this regard, I am publicly affirming two offers that I have previously made through diplomatic channels in an effort to obtain a peaceful resolution of the conflict. First, we will engage in formal bilateral discussions with the Nicaraguan Government, to commence simultaneously with a church-mediated national dialogue in Nicaragua, as has been proposed by the United Nicaraguan Opposition. Second, we will take other positive actions in response to Nicaraguan steps toward meeting our concerns.

In determining how to implement these offers, I will consult with the Congress and will be guided by the observable behavior of the Government of Nicaragua. We will not be satisfied with expressions of intent. But we will respond to changes of behavior in areas such as freedom of the press and religion, reductions of foreign arms and military personnel, respect for a cease-fire, and cessation of support for insurgents and terrorists.

My request affirms that our actions are consistent with our right to defend ourselves and assist our allies, and are directed toward achieving peace based on the Contadora Document of Objectives and a democratic reconciliation in Nicaragua, all without the use of force by the United States. I do not intend to introduce the armed forces of the United States into combat against the Government of Nicaragua, and I affirm that I will not regard approval of my request for assistance as authorizing any such action.

The final undertaking in this request responds to the desire of the Congress to be kept informed about efforts to achieve resolution of the conflict in Central America. I am undertaking to report every ninety days on progress toward a negotiated settlement, as well as on the disbursement of assistance funds and on human rights issues. The continued availability of assistance funds will be contingent upon the receipt by Congress of these periodic reports.

The Need For This Assistance

Since the beginning of my first Administration, there has been no foreign policy issue more directly affecting United States national interests than the conflict in Central America, for this conflict challenges not only our strategic position but the very principles upon which this nation is founded. We can be justifiably proud of progress in the region to alleviate and ultimately eliminate the causes of that conflict. With strong support from the United States, democracy, the basic foundation of peace, has made dramatic gains. Guatemala, Honduras and El Salvador have held free and open elections. Costa Rica continues its tradition as a vigorous democratic example. U.S. economic, political and military support have strengthened the moderate center in Central America and reversed the tragic polarization on the left and right which threatened to engulf the region in endless violence. As a result, the only president in Central America who wears a military uniform today is Daniel Ortega of Nicaragua. But Ortega presides over a repressive regime, armed to the teeth by the Soviets and Cubans, which is the most immediate threat to the progress of its neighbors.

Few now question that the rulers of Nicaragua are Marxist-Leninists, or that they are dedicated to the consolidation of a totalitarian communist state. Their recent history of brutal repression leaves little room for doubt. Nor should there be any dispute over their commitment to exporting their ideology through terrorism and subversion to neighboring countries. Their neighbors' success in offering democracy as a viable alternative for the people of Central America is a major threat to the system they advocate. The Sandinistas have been constrained principally because they have not yet crushed opposition to their regime at home. The struggle of the Nicaraguan democratic resistance for democracy in their own homeland has provided a shield for democratic progress in other Central American countries. But the Sandinistas, with massive Soviet and Cuban military assistance, have clearly made the elimination of these freedom fighters their number one priority. If they achieve that goal, there will be no obstacle to their efforts to destabilize neighboring states.

Despite this threat to peace, we do not accept that conflagration is inevitable in Central America. The path to peace is clear. The origin of the conflict in Nicaragua is the revolt of the Nicaragua people themselves against tyranny. Dialogue, serious negotiations between the Sandinistas and the external and internal opposition, including the armed resistance, is the place to begin. The United States strongly supports such negotiations, and we welcome the efforts of the Latin American nations of the Contadora Group and Support Group to promote national reconciliation talks to resolve the Nicaraguan conflict. We will steadfastly support the Contadora process in its efforts to find a solution in Central America which will be the basis for lasting peace. We will also continue to look for flexibility in the Nicaraguan position, and are prepared to respond with appropriate measures to encourage them to come to terms with their own people in a democratic framework.

At the same time, we can entertain no illusions that the Sandinistas will enter negotiations on steps to allow legitimate democratic dissent unless democratic forces in Nicaragua can credibly and forcefully assert their right to a voice in Nicaragua's future. The Sandinistas' record of repression of democratic opposition groups leaves little hope that they will willingly follow such a course. They will not embrace open, democratic norms unless confronted with undeniable demands from steadily growing numbers of Nicaraguans prepared to fight for liberty and for their right to participate in their country's political life.

Our experience with the Sandinistas over six and a half years points unmistakably to the need to accompany diplomatic policy with substantial pressure focussed on the same objectives. The Sandinistas will not take meaningful steps toward national reconciliation until they realize that opposition to the consolidation of a Marxist-Leninist regime is too strong to be repressed. With approval of this request, the United States will be in a position to provide assistance which will permit the resistance to conduct sustained operations in Nicaragua and expand their area of operations. The resistance will be able to incorporate more of the thousands of volunteers waiting to join their forces but who cannot be accepted for lack of supplies. They will be able to establish a stronger presence among a larger segment of the Nicaraguan population, thus increasing the pressure on the Sandinistas to enter into dialogue with all opposition elements, and to negotiate seriously in the Contadora process.

The cause of the United States in Nicaragua, as in the rest of Central America, is the cause of freedom. Those fighting for freedom in Nicaragua deserve and desperately need our help. The humanitarian assistance approved by the Congress in 1985 has proven insufficient. Cuban and Soviet military aid in the form of training and hardware have taken their toll. If the Nicaraguan democratic resistance is to continue its struggle, and if peace, democracy and security are to ensue, the United States must help by giving it what is necessary to carry on the fight.

Your approval of the request I am transmitting to you will provide the necessary help. I urge the prompt enactment of a joint resolution expressing that approval.

ORTEGA RESPONDED THAT THE USG WAS THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL IN THE REGION AND THAT THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT STOOD READY TO NEGOTIATE ON ALL ISSUES. ORTEGA FURTHER STATED THAT THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT HAD NO INTEREST IN CHANGING ANY OTHER GOVERNMENT AND THAT REVOLUTIONS COULD NOT BE CREATED BY EXTERNAL FORCES, AS WAS EVIDENCED BY CUBAN FAILURES TO DO JUST THAT. END SUMMARY.

3. THE MEETING OPENED WITH AN EXCHANGE OF CORDIALITIES AND A BRIEF STATEMENT BY COMANDANTE ORTEGA ASKING FOR GREATER U.S. UNDERSTANDING OF PROBLEMS IN CENTRAL AMERICA. COMANDANTE ORTEGA SAID THAT THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION HAD COMPLICATED THE SITUATION IN CENTRAL AMERICA AND NEEDED TO BE MORE REALISTIC IN RELATING TO THE PEOPLES AND COUNTRIES OF LATIN AMERICA.

4. CONGRESSMAN DAVIS ASKED WHAT THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT WOULD HAVE THE U.S. DO DIFFERENTLY. THE COMANDANTE14# O-SPONSE WAS TO REFER TO THE EIGHT-POINT PROPOSAL MADE BY THE USG IN 1982 AND THE GRN'S OWN PROPOSALS, AND TO INSIST THAT THE TWO SIDES SHOULD ESTABLISH A MEANINGFUL DIALOGUE WITHOUT PRECONDITIONS. HE FELT THAT PROGRESS HAD BEEN MADE IN TALKS WITH HONDURAS IN 1981 DESIGNED TO SET UP LAND AND SEA PATROLS AND AN EXCHANGE OF MILITARY INTELLIGENCE. WHEN ASSISTANT SECRETARY ENDERS ENTERED THE SCENE LATER, ORTEGA SAID HE HAD ADVISED ENDERS TO URGE HONDURAS TO IMPLEMENT THE EARLIER UNDERSTANDING ABOUT MEASURES TO STOP ARMS AND MEN FROM FLOWING IN EITHER DIRECTION OVER THE NICARAGUAN BORDER. THESE MEASURES WOULD ALSO HAVE STOPPED ARMS TRAFFICKING TO EL SALVADOR.

5. CONGRESSMAN DAVIS ASKED WHAT NICARAGUA COULD OFFER THE U.S. ORTEGA'S RESPONSE WAS THAT IT COULD OFFER VERY LITTLE, EXCEPT FOR A WILLINGNESS TO ENTER INTO NEGOTIATIONS WITH HONDURAS AND THE UNITED STATES. THE U.S., HE INSISTED,

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

WAS THE DECISIVE FORCE IN THE AREA. NICARAGUA WANTED TO SIT DOWN FOR DISCUSSIONS SO THAT NEITHER SIDE WOULD FEEL THREATENED.

6. CONGRESSMAN KRAMER POINTED OUT THAT THE CARTER ADMINISTRATION HAD BEEN RELATIVELY SUPPORTIVE OF THE REVOLUTION AND HAD HELPED BRING ABOUT THE TRANSITION FROM THE SOMOZA TO THE SANDINISTA REGIME. THE SANDINISTA RESPONSE, DESPITE OVER $100 MILLION IN AID, HAD BEEN TO SEND ARMS TO SALVADOR. ALTHOUGH MANY ROUTES MIGHT HAVE BEEN USED TO TRANSPORT ARMS, MOST CAME VIA THE GULF OF FONSECA. THE CONGRESSMAN

FURTHER POINTED OUT THAT HE WAS CONCERNED THAT CENTRAL AMERICA NOT BE DOMINATED BY SOVIET AND CUBAN INFLUENCE. HE INDICATED THAT THIS INFLUENCE CREATED A SECURITY PROBLEM FOR THE U.S.

7. ORTEGA RESPONDED THAT HAD THE GRN'S IDEAS ON JOINT PATROLS BEEN ACCEPTED, THERE WOULD HAVE BEEN NO ARMS FLOW PROBLEM. THE PATROLS WOULD HAVE BEEN A PRACTICAL MEASURE WHI(WOULD HAVE REDUCED TENSION, SUPPOSING THAT COUNTERREVOLUTION/ ACTIVITY IN HONDURAS ALSO CEASED. THERE WAS NO USE NOW IN TRYING TO DECIDE WHO WAS ORIGINALLY RESPONSIBLE.

8. ON THE SUBJECT OF SOVIET INFLUENCE, ORTEGA STATED THAT WERE SOVIET INFLUENCE IN CENTRAL AMERICA TO GROW, IT WOULD BE A DIRECT RESULT OF AMERICAN POLICIES IN THE AREA. HE DID NOT BLAME THIS SPECIFICALLY ON THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION, BUT INSTEAD ON LONG-STANDING AMERICAN POLICIES, GOING BACK BEFORE THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION, OF SUPPORTING "FEROCIOUS" DICTATORSHIPS LIKE THAT OF SOMOZA AND THE ONE IN GUATEMALA. HE EXPLAINED HIS VIEW OF AMERICAN INTERVENTION IN NICARAGUA, STARTING IN 1857 AND INCLUDING INTERVENTIONS IN 1909, 1912 AND 1926 DOWN TO ITS CURRENT SUPPORT FOR CONTRA GROUPS. THESE RECENT POLICIES HAD AFFECTED NICARAGUA'S ABILITY TO HAVE A DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTION AND HAD NOT PERMITTED THE STABILIZATION OF ITS POLITICAL SYSTEM.

9. CONGRESSMAN DAVIS ASKED IF THE NICARAGUAN PEOPLE WERE BETTER OFF NOW THAN UNDER SOMOZA. THE COMANDANTE ANSWERED YES. CONGRESSMAN DAVIS SAID HE THOUGHT ORTEGA PUT TOO MUCH EMPHASIS ON THE U.S. ROLE. HE THEN ASKED WHY IT WAS NECESSARY TO CENSOR LA PRENSA. ORTEGA RESPONDED THAT IN A REVOLUTIONARY SITUATION IT WAS VERY IMPORTANT TO MAINTAIN MAXIMUM STABILITY. EVEN AFTER THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION IT *TOOK MANY YEARS BEFORE THE UNITED STATES RECOG-*NIZED THE CIVIL RIGHTS OF ITS BLACK POPULATION. HE SAID THE U.S. WAS A VERY STRONG AND THREATENING COUNTRY WHICH WAS DEDICATED TO DESTROYING THE REVOLUTION. NICARAGUA WAS A SMALL COUNTRY VERY VULNERABLE TO U.S. PRESSURES. ORTEGA FURTHER STATED THAT NICARAGUA HAD HAD TO TAKE INTO ACCOUNT

INDEPENDENT ARMY, AND THE U.S. USED THESE INSTITUTIONS TO DESTABILIZE AND DESTROY THE CHILEAN REVOLUTION. A FREE PRESS COULD NOT BE PERMITTED IN NICARAGUA AT THIS TIME BECAUSE IT WOULD BE EXPLOITED BY THE U.S. TO DESTABILIZE THE REVOLUTION. IF NICARAGUA HAD A LITTLE SECURITY, IT WOULD HAVE ABSOLUTE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS. WITH ECONOMIC SECURITY, THE SYSTEM WOULD BE IMMUNE FROM THREATS AND LA PRENSA COULD PLAY A CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICAL ROLE.

10. CONGRESSMAN KRAMER ASKED: IF THE U.S. PRESENTED NO THREAT AND BEHAVED AS ORTEGA WOULD HAVE IT BEHAVE, WHAT WOULD NICARAGUA'S ATTITUDE BE TOWARDS THE OTHER CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES WHICH NICARAGUA CONSIDERED REPRESSIVE? WOULD NICARAGUA HAVE TO BE INVOLVED IN SOCIAL CHANGES IN GUATEMALA AND HONDURAS? ORTEGA RESPONDED THAT NICARAGUA'S POLICY WOULD BE INDEPENDENT OF WHETHER OR NOT THERE WERE UNJUST POLITICAL OR ECONOMIC SYSTEMS. WHILE RIOS MONTT WAS IN POWER IN GUATEMALA, THE GRN HAD HAD POSITIVE CONTACTS AND GENERALLY FELT THAT THE SITUATION WAS GOING WELL. COMMUNICAT'ON HAD BEEN ESTABLISHED WITH THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT IN GUATEMALA, NOTWITHSTANDING SOME OF ITS PUBLIC STATEMENTS.

11. RELATIONS WITH COSTA RICA WERE GOOD, ALTHOUGH SOMEWHAT STRAINED BY THE CURRENT SITUATION. THE NEXT DAY (SEPTEMBER 12) THERE WOULD BE A MEETING WITH COSTA RICAN AUTHORITIES TO DISCUSS THE RECENT AIR ATTACKS ORIGINATING FROM COSTA RICAN TERRITORY. IT HAS PROVEN IMPOSSIBLE TO ESTABLISH GOOD RELATIONS WITH HONDURAS, ALTHOUGH THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT WAS INTERESTED IN GOOD RELATIONS. EL SALVADOR WAS A SPECIAL CASE; THE SALVADORAN REVOLUTION PREDATED THE NICARAGUAN REVOLUTION AND WAS VERY SPECIAL TO THE SANDINISTAS. THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT HAD NO DESIRE

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

TO CHANGE THE GOVERNMENT IN ANY OF ITS NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES OR, INDEED, IN ANY COUNTRY. HOWEVER, IF OTHER GOVERNMENTS TRIED TO AFFECT NICARAGUA'S SYSTEM, IT WOULD HAVE TO TAKE DEFENSIVE MEASURES. THE RESULT HAD BEEN A SPIRAL OF TENSION.

12. ORTEGA WENT ON TO EXPLAIN THAT THE U.S. COULD SOLVE ALL OF CENTRAL AMERICA'S PROBLEMS IF IT CHOSE TO DO SO. HE SAID THAT REVOLUTIONS COULD NOT BE ARTIFICALLY CREATED. CUBA HAD A LONG HISTORY OF TRYING TO PROMOTE REVOLUTION AND THERE HAD BEEN MANY FAILURES. THE CUBAN ATTITUDE HAD BEEN UNREALISTIC AND ROMANTIC. IF SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC CONDITIONS EXISTED WHICH REQUIRED REVOLUTIONARY CHANGE, THERE WOULD BE REVOLUTIONS. IF, FOR EXAMPLE, IN GUATEMALA THE USG MAINTAINED ITS SUPPORT FOR GOVERNMENTS WHERE THERE WERE UNJUS CONDITIONS AND REPRESSION, AND REGARDED DEMANDS FOR CHANGE AS COMMUNISTIC, SOONER OR LATER THE U.S. WOULD FIND ITSELF CONFRONTING A REVOLUTIONARY SITUATION. EL SALVADOR HAS SUCH SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC CONDITIONS AND THEREFORE THE REVOLUTION THERE WOULD CONINUE. IF A REVOLUTIONARY SITUATION EXISTED, IT WAS NOT BECAUSE OF THE USSR.

13. CONGRESSMAN DAVIS VOICED HIS CONCERN ABOUT EXTERNAL INFLUEENCES ON THE SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR. THE U.S. WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN INVOLVED IF OTHERS HAD NOT COME IN. CONGRESSMAN KRAMER ASKED IF ORTEGA THOUGHT THAT THERE HAD BEEN SOCIAL AND POLITICAL PROGRESS IN EL SALVADOR AS A RESULT OF THE "GENTLE PERSUASION" OF THE U.S. ORTEGA RESPONDED THAT HE DID NOT THINK SO. THERE HAD BEEN A DETERIORATION IN THE SITUATION, NOT PROGRESS. THE U.S., HE INSISTED, DID NOT UNDERSTAND THE LATIN AMERICAN REALITY.

14. CONGRESSMAN KRAMER ASKED IF THE SAME SOCIAL PROBLEMS APPEARED TO EXIST IN MEXICO. ORTEGA RESPONDED THAT THERE WERE SOCIAL PROBLEMS IN MEXICO, BUT THE MEXIAN GOVERNMENT UNDERSTOOD AND RESPONDED TO THEM BETTER THAN THE GOVERNMENT IN GUATEMALA. HE SAID THAT THE ECONOMIC POWER OF MEXICO HAD ALLOWED IT TO RESPOND BETTER, ALTHOUGH IT STILL DID NOT HAVE A DESIRABLE LEVEL OF SOCIAL JUSTICE. CONGRESSMAN KRAMER ASKED IF ORTEGA SAW A REVOLUTION DEVELOPING IN MEXICO; THE ANSWER WAS A QUICK NO. MEXICO, ORTEGA INSISTED, WAS ABLE TO ADDRESS ITS OWN PROBLEMS.
15. CONGRESSMAN DAVIS SAID HE UNDERSTOOD NICARAGUA'S DESIRE FOR SECURITY, BUT WHY DID IT NEED SUCH A HUGE MILITARY? THE U.S. WAS ALREADY CONCERNED AT THE SOVIET

HAD HAD TO BE CREATED FROM SCRATCH, ALTHOUGH HE DISAGREED THAT THERE HAD BEEN A MASSIVE BUILD-UP. ALL THE OTHER COUNTRIES IN THE REGION HAD ARMIES. SOMOZA'S ARMY HAD BEEN A REPRESSIVE FORCE DIRECTED ENTIRELY AGAINST THE NICARAGUAN PEOPLE. HE HAD FACED NO EXTERNAL THREAT. ALTHOUGH THE REVOLUTIONARY GOVERNMENT HAD HAD TO DEVELOP AN ARMY TO DEAL WITH AN EXTERNAL THREAT, IT FACED NO INTERNAL THREAT. ORTEGA WENT ON TO SAY THAT AFTER THE REVOLUTION HE HAD APPEALED TO THE U.S. TO SUPPLY AND DQUIP THE ARMY THAT HAD TO BE BUILT, BUT THE U.S. OFFERED ONLY MEDICAL SUPPLIES, CLOTHING, AND RATIONS, BUT "NOT A SINGLE BULLET." WHEN THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT ATTEMPTED TO PURCHASE HELICOPTERS IN THE U.S.N THEY WERE STOPPED BY THE FBI. THE REVOLUTIONARY GOVERNMENT SOUGHT TO REMAIN NON-ALIGNED AND HAD HAD TO SEEK AID FROM ALL SOURCES, BUT IN THE AR OF MILITARY ASSISTANCE, THE U.S. HAD BEEN UNWILLING TO HELP.

16. CONGRESSMAN DAVIS ASKED IF THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT CONSIDERED ITSELF NON-ALIGNED. COMANDANTE ORTEGA RESPONDED IN THE AFFIRMATIVE, BUT THE U.S. WAS ATTEMPTING TO FORCE IT TO ALIGN ITSELF. HE SAID THE U.S. ATTITUDE WAS THAT A COUNTRY WAS EITHER WITH IT OR AGAINST IT. HE WENT ON TO EXPRESS HIS DISAPPOINTMENT OVER THE REDUCTION NICARAGUA'S SUGAR QUOTAN STATING THAT THIS TYPE OF ACTION HAD FORCED NICARAGUA TO FIND OTHER MARKETS FOR ITS PRODUCTS, EVEN THOUGH THE U.S. WAS ITS NATURAL MARKET. THE PARTICULAR ACT OF CUTTING THE SUGAR QUOTA HAD HURT THE PRIVATE SECTOR MORE THAN THE GOVERNMENT.

17. CONGRESSMAN DAVIS THANKED THE COMANDANTE FOR HIS TIME AND FRANK DISCUSSION. HE HOPED MEMBERS OF CONGRESS WOULD CONTINUE THE DIALOGUE. ORTEGA ADDED THAT HIS GOVERNMENT WANTED GOOD RELATIONS WITH THE U.S., BUT THE SITUATION WAS EXTREMELY DIFFICULT. THE PACE OF MILITARY ACTIVITY WAS

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

INCREASING FASTER THAN THE PACE OF NEGOTIATION. EVEN IN THE MIDST OF AGGRESSION, NICARAGUA WISHED TO DIALOGUE AND TO FIND AN UNDERSTANDING WITH THE U.S.

18. COMMENT: THROUGHOUT THE DISCUSSION THERE AS A DISCERNIBLE LACK OF COMMUNICATION. THE CONGRESSMEN WERE CONCERNED ABOUT POLITICAL PLURALISM AND THE DEGREE OF SOVIET AND CUBAN INFLUENCE IN THE AREA, AND ORTEGA WAS CONCERNED WITH THE CONTRAS. NO MEANINGFUL DIALOGUE TOOK PLACE AS THE CONGRESSMEN ASKED QUESTIONS, HEARD THE RESPONSES AND THEN WENT ON TO OTHER QUESTIONS. AT THE END OF THE MEETING ORTEGA, WHILE NOT ANGRY, SEEMED FRUSTRATED. THERE

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ UNCLASSIFIED

WAS NO DISCUSSION OF THE RECENT AIR ATTACKS, NOR OF CONTRA ACTIVITIES IN GENERAL. THIS MEETING DID NOT BREAK ANY NEW GROUND, BUT IT ONCE AGAIN DEMONSTRATED TO ORTEGA WHAT WERE THE PRIMARY CONCERNS OF THE AMERICAN CONGRESSMEN.

1. PER REFTEL, RODOLFO SEGUEL, PRESIDENT OF THE COPPER-WORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC) WAS ACCUSED BY THE GOC MINISTRY OF INTERIOR OF SLANDERING PRESIDENT PINOCHET. THE INVESTIGATING JUDGE COMPLETED HIS PRELIMINARY INVESTIGATION ON SEPTEMBER 14

AND DETERMINED THAT THE CHARGES AGAINST SEGUEL WARRANT HIS BEING HELD FOR TRIAL. SEGUEL REMAINS IN JAIL, WHERE HE HAS BEEN SINCE SEPTEMBER 9. SEGUEL PROMISED TO CONTINUE HIS INDEFINITE HUNGER STRIKE, AND HIS LAWYERS SAID THEY WILL APPEAL THE JUDGE'S DECISION.

2. MEANWHILE, A FISCAL (PUBLIC PROSECUTOR) COMPLETED HIS REVIEW OF THE JUDGE'S FINDINGS IN THE EARLIER CASE AGAINST SEGUEL FOR VIOLATION OF THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAWS, IN CONNECTION WITH THE MAY 11 "DAY OF PROTEST" AND THE JUNE 17 ABORTIVE COPPERWORKERS STRIKE. THE FISCAL HAS RECOMMENDED THAT THOSE CHARGES AGAINST SEGUEL BE DROPPED. IF HIS RECOMMENDATION IS ACCEPTED BY THE JUDGE, AND IF THE GOC DOES NOT SUCCESSFULLY APPEAL THE JUDGE'S DECISION, SEGUEL WOULD HAVE ONLY ONE REMAINING CHARGE AGAINST HIM AND THUS COULD BE RELEASED ON BAIL WHILE THE SLANDER CHARGE WORKS ITS WAY THROUGH THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM. ON THE OTHER HAND, SHOULD THE JUDGE REJECT THE RECOMMENDATION, AND INSTEAD SENTENCE SEGUEL, IT IS LIKELY THAT SEGUEL WILL HAVE TO REMAIN IN JAIL FOR SOME CONSIDERABLE PERIOD. IN ANY CASE, SEGUEL WILL REMAIN IN JAIL PRESUMABLY CONTINUING WITH ACCESS TO VISITORS ON VISITNG DAYS AT LEAST THROUGH THE LONG HOLIDAY WEEKEND, SEPTEMBER 17-19. THEBERGE

1. SUMMARY: RODOLFO SEGUEL, PRESIDENT OF THE COPPER-WORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC) IS EXPECTED TO BE RELEASED FROM JAIL SEPT 20. PRESIDENT PINOCHET ORDERED THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR TO WITHDRAW THE SLNDER CHARGES AGAINST SEGUEL, IN RESPONSE TO APPEAL FROM SANTIAGO

ARCHBISHOP FRESNO. SEGUEL WILL REMAIN FREE ON BOND STEMMING FROM EARLIER CHARGES AGAINST HIM FOR ALLEGEDLY VIOLATING THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAWS. A SANTIAGO JUDGE ISSUED A PRELIMINARY FINDING SEPT 16 THAT SEGUEL AND SEVERAL OTHER CTC LEADERS WERE GUILTY OF CALLING A SO-CALLED "DAY OF NATINAL PROTEST" WITH THE ILLEGAL INTENTIN OF DESTABILIZING THE GOC, AND FOR CALLING AN ILLEGAL NATIONAL COPPERWORKERS STRIKE JUNE 17. THE APPEALS PROCESS WILL AKE SOME TIME. SEGUEL ALSO CONTINUES TO FACE LABOR CURT PROCEEDINGS RELATED TO HIS DISMISSAL FROM HIS JOB IN THE EL TENIENTE COPPER ZONE. IF HE LOSES HIS APPEAL AGAINST DISMISSAL, HE AUTOMATICALLY LOSES HIS UNION POSITION. HE UNDOUBTEDLY WILL BE REPLACED AS CTC PRESIDENT IN JANUARY, 1984 NO MATTER WHAT HAPPENS IN THE LEGAL PROCEEDINGS. END SUMMARY.

2. ON SEPT 19, IN YET ANOTHER TWIST IN THE SAGA OF RODOLFO SEGUEL, PRESIDENT OF THE COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC), PRESIDENT PINOCHET ORDERED THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR TO DROP THE CHARGES AGAINST SEGUEL FOR ALLEGEDLY SLANDERING THE PRESIDENT. SEGUEL IS EXPECTED TO BE RLEASED FROM JAIL DURING THE COURSE OF SEPT 20, WHICH HAPPENS TO BEHIS 30TH BIRTHDAY.

3. PRESIDENT PINOCHET TOOK THE ACTION IN RESPONSE TO AN APPEAL ON SEGUEL'S BEHALF BY SANTIAGO ARCHBISHOP FRESNO, SEPT 19. FRESNO'S APPEAL FOLLOWED RECEIPT OF A LETTER FROM SEGUEL ASKING FOR FRESNO'S INTER-VENTION, STATING THAT HE HAD NOT MEANT TO SLANDER THE PRESIDENT AND THATHIS REMARKS (TO THEMEXICAN NEWSPAPER EXCELSIOR) HAD BEEN MISINTERPRETED.

4. SEGUEL HAD BEEN ON A HUNGER STRIKE FOR TEN DAYS. INITIALLY HIS PLIGHT DID NOT ATTRACT MUCH ATTENTION, BUT IT WAS BECOMING AN ISSUE DURING THE COURSE OF THE LONG WEEKEND COINCIDING WITH THE DAY OF THE ARMY.

5. ACCORDING TO PRESS REPORTS, FRESNO HAD SENT TWO VICARS TO SEE SEGUEL SEPT 17, AND TO SOLICIT THE LETTER FROM SEGUEL. (THE EMBASSY UNDERSTANDS FROM OTHER SOURCES THAT FATHER BAEZA, VICAR OF THE WORKERS PASTORAL, ACTUALLY WROTE THE LETTER FOR SEGUEL.)

6. SEGUEL'S EXPECTED RELEASE FROM JAIL DOESNOT BY ANY MEANS MEAN HIS TROUBLES ARE OVER. ON SEPT 16, A SANTIAGO JUDGE FOUND SEGUEL AND OTHER CTC LEADERS GUILTY OF VIOLATING THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAWS IN CONNECTION WITH THE MAY 11 "DAY OF PROTEST" AND THE JUNE 17 ABORTIVE STRIKE BY COPPERWORKERS. (SEGUEL HAD BEEN FREE ON BOND IN CONNECTION WITH THESE CHARGES BEFORE THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE SLANDER CASE). THE

JUDGE REJECTED THE RECOMMENDATION OF THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR THAT THERE WAS INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE AGAINST THE CTC LEADERS. THE COURT OF APPEALS MUST REVIEW THE JUDGE'S FINDINGS, AND IT IS LIKELY THE SUPREME COURT WILL EVENTUALLY HAVE TO DEAL WITH THE CASE.
7. ADDITIONALLY THE CHILEAN COPPER CORPORATION (CODELCO) FIRED SEGUEL (AND 32 OTHER LEADERS OF CTC AFFILIATES) IN CONNECTION WITH THE JUNE 17 ATTEMPTED STRIKE. HE AND THE OTHERS HAVE APPEALED THE FIRINGS, AND RETAIN THEIR UNION POSITIONS IN THE INTERIM. IF THE APPEALS ARE UNSUCCESSFUL, ALL AUTOMATICALLY LOSE THEIR UNION POSITIONS BECAUSE UNDER CHILEAN LABOR LAW INDIVIDUALS CAN ONLY HOLD UNION LEADERSHIP POSITIONS IN COMPANIES WHERE THEY ARE EMPLOYED. EVEN IF THEY WERE TO WIN THE APPEALS, THE COMPANY COULD FIRE ONE OR ALL, PAYING SEVERANCE PAY,

AND POSSIBLY A FINE. THUS SEGUEL COULD STILL FIND HIMSELF WITHOUT EITHER A JOB OR A LEGAL UNION POSITION. THE JUDICIAL AND LABOR PROCEEDINGS COULD LAST FOR SEVERAL MORE MONTHS. IN JANUARY 1984 THE CTC EXECUTIVE BOARD MUST BE ELECTED. UNDER THE CTC CONSTITUTION, THE PRESIDENCY MUST BE ROTATED EACH TWO YEARS AMONG THE FIVE ZONES MAKINGUP CODELCO. THIS PERIOD 1984-86 CORRESPONDS TO ANDINA. SEGUEL IS FROM EL TENIENTE. THEREFORE, UNLESS AN EXTRAORDINARY CTC CONGRESS WERE TO BE CALLED IN TIME TO AMEND THE CONSTITUTION IN A TIMELY FASHION, SEGUEL WILL NO LONGER BE CTC PRESIDENT, PROBABLY BEFORE ANY OF THE PROCESSES AGAINST HIM ARE DECIDED DEFINITIVELY.

2. FISCAL GENERAL RIVERA TOLD ME ON SEPTEMBER 17 THAT HE DOES NOT, RPT NOT, WANT THE FBI INFORMATION IN THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE DISCLOSED TO THE PUBLIC. HE DID NOT UNDERSTAND THAT UNDER OUR LAW, IF THE FAMILIES HAVE ACCESS TO THE INFORMATION, ANY OTHER MEMBER OF THE PUBLIC COULD ALSO HAVE ACCESS. HE SAID THAT HE INTENDED HIS PREVIOUS STATEMENTS TO MEAN THAT THE FAMILIES COULD SEE, BUT NOT RETAIN OR MAKE NOTES ABOUT, THE INFORMATION. I SHOWED HIM MICHAEL POSNER'S AFFIDAVIT OF JULY 26, 1983 AND READ HIM THE RELEVANT PASSAGES. I ALSO INFORMED HIM ABOUT THE [redacted]

DECISION OF JUDGE SWEET IN NEW YORK AND THE OTHER SUIT FOR THE SAME INFORMATION BY DIFFERENT PLAINTIFFS IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA. DR. RIVERA SAID THAT THE RELEASE OF THE INFORMATION WOULD BE DETRIMENTAL TO THE CASE, WHICH HE BELIEVES WILL BE ELEVATED TO PLENARIO ON NOVEMBER 15. HE WAS ALSO CONCERNED THAT PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF THIS INFORMATION MIGHT DAMAGE THE REPUTATION OF INNOCENT PERSONS WHO WERE INVESTIGATED, INTERVIEWED, POLYGRAPHED, OR MENTIONED IN THE INVESTIGATION. THESE PERSONS MIGHT BE EXPOSED TO SOME RISK AND MIGHT SUE THE GOES. DR. RIVERA SAID THAT ULD ANSWER THE FBI LETTER (REF B) EXPRESSING HIS OPPOSITION TO RELEASE.

3. COMMENT: I WAS VERY CAREFUL IN DISCUSSING THE CASE WITH HIM SO AS NOT TO PREJUDICE HIS DECISION. HE DID NOT ASK FOR MY VIEWS, NOR DID I PROVIDE THEM. HE WAS EMPHATIC THAT HE DOES NOT WANT THIS INFORMATION RELEASED TO THE PUBLIC. THERE APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN A MISUNDER-STANDING BETWEEN RIVERA AND POSNER. END COMMENT.

3. PRESIDENT MAGANA RECENTLY TOLD THE AMBASSADOR THAT HE THOUGHT THE CASE COULD BE ELEVATED TO PLENARIO BY OCT. 15 AND THEN COMPLETED WITHIN TWO WEEKS. IN A PRELIMINARY MEETING WITH ASSISTANT LEGAL ADVISER SMITH, THE AMBASSADOR RECOGNIZED THAT THIS WAS PROBABLY NOT POSSIBLE. AMBASSADOR PICKERING ALSO EXPRESSED THE VIEW THAT SMITH SHOULD SEEK TO OBTAIN A FIRM COMMITMENT FROM RIVERA AS TO THE NEXT STEPS AND A TIMETABLE PRIOR TO HIS RETURN TO WASHINGTON. THIS COULD BE USED TO BRIEF CONGRESS AND THE FAMILIES. AMBASSADOR PICKERING ALSO SAID THAT WE MUST PRESS THE GOES TO FOLLOW ANY LEADS THAT DEVELOP ABOUT HIGHER LEVEL OR LATERAL INVOLVEMENT, ALTHOUGH PERHAPS THE ISSUE OF COVER UP COULD BE DEALT WITH IN A SUBSEQUENT TRIAL AS IT WOULD BE IN THE UNITED STATES. FINALLY THE AMBASSADOR REPEATED THE URGENT NEED FOR THE EMBASSY TO HAVE A FULL TIME PROFESSIONAL ATTORNEY/INVESTIGATOR TO FOLLOW THE CASES OF THE MURDERED AMERICANS.

4. IN A MEETING ON SEPTEMBER 16 WITH EMB LEGAL ADVISER [redacted]

MENDEZ, THE FOLLOWING WAS DISCUSSED:

- -- A. MENDEZ SAID HE HAD NO OBJECTION TO THE POLYGRAPHING OF PEREZ NIETO, ALTHOUGH HE EMPHASIZED THAT IT HAD TO BE DONE EXTRAJUDICIALLY. COMMENT: AFTER THIS CABLE WAS DRAFTED, WE LEARNED THAT NATIONAL GUARD DIRECTOR COL MONTES HAD INFORMED FISCALIA THAT MARGARITO PEREZ NIETO WAS REPORTED MISSING IN ACTION ON JANUARY 13, 1983 IN GUERRILLA ATTACK ON THE TOWN OF CACAOPERA, IN MORAZAN DEPARTMENT. THEREFORE ISSUE OF POLYGRAPHING HIM IS RENDERED MUTE. END COMMENT.

- -- B. MENDEZ SAID THAT HE THOUGHT IT HIGHLY UNLIKELY THAT COLINDRES ALEMAN WOULD ASSERT THE DEFENSE OF SUPERIOR ORDERS. TO DO SO WOULD BE A CONFESSION THAT HE HAD COMMITTED THE CRIME, AND COULD SUBJECT HIM TO PERJURY CHARGES FOR INCONSISTENT PRIOR STATEMENTS TO THE JUDGE. MENDEZ ALSO THOUGHT THAT NONE OF THE DEFENDANTS WOULD CALL WITNESSES DURING THE PLENARIO STAGE OF THE TRIAL, ALTHOUGH THEY HAVE THAT RIGHT. THOSE THINGS ARE NOT DONE HERE, MENDEZ SAID.
- -- C. WE HAVE NOTICED THAT VALLE ESPINOZA'S TESTIMONY AS TO THE STOPPING OF THE VAN VARIES FROM OTHER TESTIMONY. MENDEZ AGREES THAT THE DIFFERENCE IS IMPORTANT AND MUST BE CLARIFIED.

- -- D. MENDEZ HAS TAKEN OVER BEHIND THE SCENES AND APPEARS TO BE GIVING DIRECTION TO CASTILLO. HE SAID THAT HE AND CASTILLO WOULD CAREFULLY GO THROUGH JUAGE RAUDA'S RECORD IN ORDER TO FIND AND CORRECT ANY ERRORS.

- -- E. MENDEZ ADVISED AGAINST TRYING TO INTRODUCE COLINDRES' THUMBPRINT TAKEN FROM THE VAN BECAUSE IT WAS NOT DONE PURSUANT TO AN ORDER OF JUDGE RAUDA, AND THEREFORE NOT ADMISSABLE. PRESSED AS TO WHY THE FBI AGENT WHO HAD LIFTED THE PRINT COULD NOT RETURN TO EL SALVADOR, TESTIFY AS TO HIS ACTIONS, IDENTIFY THE PRINT, AND THEN HAVE THE NATIONAL POLICE CONDUCT THE COMPARISON, MENDEZ SAID THAT MIGHT WORK BUT IT WOULD HAVE A VERY NEGATIVE IMPACT ON THE JURY WHO WOULD FEEL THAT THE U.S. WAS INTERVENING AND PRESSURING THE SALVADORANS TO PROSECUTE THESE "POOR" EX-GUARDSMEN. HE SUGGESTED THAT THE FBI EVIDENCE BE INTRODUCED IN THE

"VISTA PUBLICA" PORTION OF THE TRIAL. IT WOULD BE FOR THE INFORMATION OF THE JURY AND WOULD NOT HAVE JUDICIAL WEIGHT. THE JURY WOULD BE TOLD THAT THEY COULD CONSIDER THE FBI EVIDENCE IF THEY WISHED, BUT WERE NOT REQUIRED [redacted]

TO CONSIDER IT. MENDEZ IS SO WORRIED ABOUT THE POTENTIAL PREJUDICIAL EFFECT OF THE FBI EVIDENCE, THAT HE SUGGESTS WE NOT MAKE THE DECISION TO INTRODUCE IT UNTIL WE SEE WHETHER THE DEFENSE COUNSELS ARE TRYING TO PLAY ON U.S. INTERVENTION TO GAIN SYMPATHY FOR THEIR CLIENTS. SMITH SAID IT WOULD BE VERY DIFFICULT TO EXPLAIN THIS APPROACH IN THE U.S. AND THAT IF THERE WERE AN ACQUITTAL AND IF WE HAD NOT INTRODUCED THE FINGERPRINT WE WOULD "CATCH HELL."

-- F. MENDEZ SAID IT WAS ENTIRELY POSSIBLE THAT THE DEFENSE COUNSELS, WHO WILL NOT BE APPOINTED UNTIL THE CASE IS ELEVATED TO PLENARIO, WILL TRY TO PRESSURE THE JURY. THEREFORE, HE SAID THAT THEY PLAN TO HAVE THE JUDGE SELECT THE JURY IN SECRET, EMPANEL THEM AT THE LAST MINUTE AND MOVE VERY QUICKLY WITH THE VISTA PUBLICA PORTION (ONE OR TWO DAYS, HE THINKS) TO MINIMIZE THE RISK OF JURY TAMPERING.

5. MEETING WITH RIVERA AND CASTILLO:

-- A. ON SEPT. 17, SMITH, POLCOUNS MACK, EMBOFF BROWN AND MENDEZ MET WITH RIVERA AND CASTILLO AT THE FISCALIA. SMITH INFORMED RIVERA THAT HE HAD BEEN ASKED TO COME TO EL SALVADOR TO REACH AGREEMENT WITH THE GOES ON THE NEXT STEPS TO BE TAKEN IN THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE AND OBTAIN A COMMITMENT AS TO WHEN THEY WILL BE ACCOMPLISHED. SMITH AND MACK EMPHASIZED THE IMPORTANCE OF SALVADORAN ACTION AS CONGRESS COULD NOT BE COUNTED UPON TO PASS THE CONTINUING RESOLUTION FOR EL SALVADOR UNLESS SATISFACTORY PROGRESS WAS MADE IN THIS CASE. SMITH SAID THAT IT WOULD BE HIS RESPONSIBILITY TO EXPLAIN AND DEFEND GOES ACTIONS IN WASHINGTON, WHICH HE WAS [redacted]

[redacted]

PREPARED TO DO IF THEY REPRESENTED GOOD FAITH EFFORTS TO PURSUE THE CASE VIGOROUSLY, BUT IF THEY DID NOT, HE COULD NOT DEFEND THEM.

-- B. CASTILLO AND MENDEZ THEN DISCUSSED THE CHART, OR "CHRONOGRAM," THEY HAD DEVELOPED. IT HAS SIX STEPS WHICH APPEAR TO INCORPORATE ALL OF THE NEXT STEPS CONTAINED IN REF A, EXCEPT TWO (LOCATION AND INTERVIEW

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED
El Salvador Human Rights Special Project (1993)

OF OTHER SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL INCLUDING POLICE, AND RE-INTERVIEW OF COLINDRES). SMITH RAISED THESE POINTS WITH RIVERA (SEE BELOW). THE "CHRONOGRAM" DOES, HOWEVER ADD USEFUL STEPS. THE SIX STEPS ARE:

- --- STEP 1 - OBTAIN LETTER FROM U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE FORMALLY TRANSMITTING THE FBI EVIDENCE TO THE FISCALIA. AS DISCUSSED WITH MENDEZ, FISCALIA DOES NOT PLAN TO INTRODUCE IT IN THE RECORD, BUT WILL WAIT AND USE IT, IF IT LOOKS ADVISABLE, IN THE VISTA PUBLICA STAGE. SMITH REPEATED HIS WARNING THAT IF THERE IS AN ACQUITTAL AND IF THIS EVIDENCE, PARTICULARLY COLINDRES' THUMBPRINT, IS NOT INTRODUCED THERE WOULD BE AN OUTCRY. WE POINTED OUT TO RIVERA THAT THIS MIGHT BE DIFFICULT AS MOST OF THE REPORTS WERE PASSED TO THE GOES IN LATE DECEMBER 1980 AND EARLY 1981. WE ALSO URGED THEM TO CONTACT THE MOD AND GN TO GET THE RECORDS OF THE MONTERROSA AND ZEPEDA INVESTIGATIVE COMMISSIONS WHICH SHOULD CONTAIN THE FBI REPORTS. THEY HAD LITTLE ENTHUSIASM FOR THIS IDEA, BUT WE WILL CONTINUE TO PRESS. FYI: LEGATT WALSER, WHO IS NOW IN SAN SALVADOR FOR TYLER VISIT HAS PREPARED DRAFT LETTER WHICH HE WILL FORWARD TO FBI HQS. END FYI.

(FYI: THE FISCALIA HAS RECEIVED A LIST FROM NATIONAL GUARD CMDR COL. MONTES. IT APPEARS THAT MANY OF THESE PERSONS HAVE LEFT THE NATIONAL GUARD, ARE MISSING IN ACTION, OR ARE DEAD. MENDEZ POINTED OUT THAT THE INTERVIEWS COULD NOT BE CONDUCTED EXTRAJUDICIALLY, AS TO DO SO WOULD PREJUDICE THE CASE. MENDEZ, CASTILLO AND EMBASSY WILL CONTINUE TO PREPARE QUESTIONS FOR THESE WITNESSES. END FYI.)

WHETHER MORAN'S SIGNATURE WAS SUPERIMPOSED ON THE LETTER. WE HOPE THIS EXPERT WILL BE SWORN IN BY JUDGE RAUDA EARLY THE WEEK OF THE 19TH. THE INDIVIDUAL'S FEE IS 5,000 COLONES WHICH THE EMBASSY HAS AGREED TO PAY. RIVERA HAS ALSO WRITTEN TO VIDES AND THE HEAD OF THE TREASURY POLICE ASKING THEM TO PROVIDE DETAILS ON THE FORMAT OF THEIR CORRESPONDENCE. THESE STEPS HAVE ALREADY BEEN ACCOMPLISHED; THE LETTERS ARE NECESSARY TO INTRODUCE THE RESULTS IN COURT.

-- STEP 4 - THE THREATENING NOTE TO NUNS IN CHALATENANGO: RIVERA SAID FISCALIA DOES NOT HAVE THE ORIGINAL LETTER. AGAIN, WE URGED THEM TO LOOK IN THEIR FILES. IN THE MEANTIME, THE FISCALIA HAS OBTAINED THE FINGERPRINTS OF FOUR PERSONS WHO MIGHT HAVE HANDLED THE LETTER. THEY ARE: COL. RICARDO RENA ARBAIZA, LT. DANIEL MEJIA RIVAS, CAPT. THIS IS, OF COURSE, EXTRAJUDICIAL AND IF A MATCH IS MADE, THE PROCESS WILL HAVE TO BE REPEATED UNDER JUDGE RAUDA'S ORDER.

-- C. CONCERNING TIMING, CASTILLO AND RIVERA SAID THAT THESE STEPS SHOULD BE COMPLETED BY OCTOBER 15 AND THE CASE ELEVATED TO PLENARIO ON NOVEMBER 15. THE INTERVENING MONTH WILL BE USED TO COMPLETE ANY REMAINING ITEMS AND CONDUCT ONE FINAL REVIEW. THE PLENARIO PORTION OF THE TRIAL HAS TIME PERIODS WHICH ARE FIXED BY LAW AND CANNOT BE ALTERED. PLENARIO SHOULD TAKE TWO TO TWO AND A HALF MONTHS TO COMPLETE AFTER IT IS ELEVATED. MENDEZ POINTED OUT, HOWEVER, THAT THE DEFENSE WILL SURELY APPEAL ELEVATION. THE COURT OF APPEALS SHOULD DEAL WITH THE CASE QUICKLY, AS THEY HAVE PREVIOUSLY SEEN IT, BUT THE APPEAL COULD DELAY THE CASE ANOTHER MONTH OR TWO.

-- D. IN RESPONSE TO A QUESTION, MENDEZ AND RIVERA SAID THAT JUDGE RAUDA COULD NOT CALL COLINDRES BACK TO TESTIFY ABOUT THE INCRIMINATING EVIDENCE THAT HAS BEEN GATHERED AGAINST HIM. SMITH PRESSED THIS POINT BECAUSE, TO AN AMERICAN LAWYER ACCUSTOMED TO CONFRONTATIONS WITH WITNESSES AND DEFENDANTS, IT MAKES SENSE TO CONFRONT COLINDRES WITH THE EVIDENCE AGAINST HIM AND SEEK HIS EXPLANATION OR COOPERATION. MENDEZ, CASTILLO AND RIVERA WERE EMPHATIC THAT THIS COULD NOT BE DONE AS THEY DO NOT HAVE PLEA BARGAINING IN EL SALVADOR. A JUDGE, HOWEVER, MAY CALL WITNESSES BACK TO EXPLAIN INCONSISTENCIES BETWEEN THEIR STATEMENTS AND THOSE OF OTHER WITNESSES BUT DEFENDANTS MAY NOT BE CALLED BACK. SMITH SAID THIS SEEMED ODD, ESPECIALLY AS COLINDRES IS BETTER ABLE THAN ANYONE TO EXPLAIN WHAT REALLY HAPPENED. AFTER CONSIDERABLE DISCUSSION, MENDEZ SUG-

1. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. FISCAL GENERAL RIVERA TOLD ME ON SEPTEMBER 17 THAT HE DOES NOT, RPT NOT, WANT THE FBI INFORMATION IN THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE DISCLOSED TO THE PUBLIC. HE DID NOT UNDERSTAND THAT UNDER OUR LAW, IF THE FAMILIES HAVE ACCESS TO THE INFORMATION, ANY OTHER MEMBER OF THE PUBLIC COULD ALSO HAVE ACCESS. HE SAID THAT HE INTENDED HIS PREVIOUS STATEMENTS TO MEAN THAT THE FAMILIES COULD SEE, BUT NOT RETAIN OR MAKE NOTES ABOUT, THE INFORMATION. I SHOWED HIM MICHAEL POSNER'S AFFIDAVIT OF JULY 26, 1983 AND READ HIM THE RELEVANT PASSAGES. I ALSO INFORMED HIM ABOUT THE DECISION OF JUDGE SWEET IN NEW YORK AND THE OTHER SUIT FOR THE SAME INFORMATION BY DIFFERENT PLAINTIFFS IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA. DR. RIVERA SAID THAT THE RELEASE OF THE INFORMATION WOULD BE DETRIMENTAL TO THE CASE, WHICH HE BELIEVES WILL BE ELEVATED TO PLENARIO ON NOVEMBER 15. HE WAS ALSO CONCERNED THAT PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF THIS INFORMATION MIGHT DAMAGE THE REPUTATION OF INNOCENT PERSONS WHO WERE INVESTIGATED, INTERVIEWED, POLYGRAPHED, OR MENTIONED IN THE INVESTIGATION. THESE PERSONS MIGHT BE EXPOSED TO SOME RISK AND MIGHT SUE THE GOES. DR. RIVERA SAID THAT HE WOULD ANSWER THE FBI LETTER (REF B) EXPRESSING HIS OPPOSITION TO RELEASE.

3. COMMENT: I WAS VERY CAREFUL IN DISCUSSING THE CASE WITH HIM SO AS NOT TO PREJUDICE HIS DECISION. HE DID NOT ASK FOR MY VIEWS, NOR DID I PROVIDE THEM. HE WAS EMPHATIC THAT HE DOES NOT WANT THIS INFORMATION RELEASED TO THE PUBLIC. THERE APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN A MISUNDERSTANDING BETWEEN RIVERA AND POSNER. END COMMENT.

WAS EXPELLED FROM CHILE LAST DECEMBER FOR ORGANIZING AN ILLEGAL DEMONSTRATION AGAINST THE GOC, AND HAS BEEN LIVING SINCE THEN IN ROME.

2. (U) CNS OFFICIALS TOLD THE EMBASSY SEPTEMBER 21 THAT BUSTOS IS SCHEDULED TO ARRIVE IN SANTIAGO SEPTEMBER 29. ACCORDING TO THE SEPTEMBER 22 PRESS, BUSTOS WILL INITIALLY RETURN FOR 30 DAYS AND WILL BE ACCOMPANIED BY UNNAMED ITALIAN LABOR LEADERS, WHO WILL MEET WITH THE NATIONAL COMMAND OF WORKERS (CNT) AND THE COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC). THE PRESIDENT OF BOTH THE CNT AND CTC IS RODOLFO SEGUEL WHO WAS RELEASED FROM JAIL SEPTEMBER 20 (REF C). BUSTOS REPORTEDLY WILL THEN RETURN TO ROME TO PLAN HIS FINAL RETURN AT SOME UNSPECIFIED FUTURE DATE.

3. (C) THE CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING THE GOC ANNOUNCEMENT ARE NOT YET CLEAR. BUSTOS' NAME APPARENTLY WILL NOT APPEAR ON A LIST OF EXILES ALLOWED TO RETURN TO CHILE. (LISTS HAVE BEEN THE NORMAL CHANNEL USED TO ANNOUNCE RETURNING EXILES.) BUSTOS HAS BEEN PROCESSED SEPARATELY UNDER A SPECIAL DECREE. RE REF B, WE UNDERSTAND THAT THE GOC MAY HAVE LEARNED THAT THE SURPREME COURT, WHICH HAS BEEN REVIEWING FOR SOME TIME A LEGAL APPEAL ON BUSTOS' BEHALF, PROBABLY WOULD RULE IN FAVOR OF BUSTOS. 1. (C) SUMMARY: PRESIDENT PINOCHET HAS ORDERED ALL MINISTRY OF INTERIOR CHARGES DROPPED AGAINST COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC) LEADERS FOR VIOLATING THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAWS STEMMING FROM THE MAY 11 POLITICAL PROTEST AGAINST THE GOC AND THE ABORTIVE ILLEGAL COPPERWORKERS STRIKE JUNE 17. THE DECISION WAS ANNOUNCED SEPT 22

BY A MINITRY OF INTERIOR SPOKESMAN, WHICH HE SAID WAS OFFERED BY PINOCHET IN A SPIRIT OF COOPERATION DURING THI PERIOD OF A POLITICAL OPENING. THE TROUBLES OF THE CTC LEAERS ARE NOT OVER, HOWEVER, THEY STILL HAVE LABOR COURT CASES PENDING, APPEALING THEIR DISMISSAL BY THE CHILEAN COPPER COOPERATION (CODELCO) FOR THE JUNE 17 STRIKE. THE GOC ACTION APPEARS TO BE AN OLIVE BRANCH TO THE DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE (AD) TO GET THE STALLED POLITICAL DIALOGUE RESTARTED. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) IN A MOVE CATCHING ALL OF CHILE BY SURPRISE, THE GOC ANNOUNCED SEPT 22 THAT IT WAS DROPPING LEGAL CHARGES AGINST RODOLFO SEGUEL, PRESIDENT OF THE COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC), AND SIX OTHER LEADERS. PER REFTELS A AND B, SEGUEL HAD BEEN RELASED FROM JAIL SEPT 20 FOLLOWING PRESIDENT PINOCHET'S DECISION TO WITHDRAW SLANDER CHARGES AGAINST SEGUEL. AS EXPLAINED PARA 7, REFTEL A, MANY OF THOSE FIRED HAVE APPEALED, AND THAT PROCESS COULD TAKE SOME TIME TO BE RESOLVED. CODELCO, A GOVERNMENT-OWNED COMPANY, COULD FOLLOW THE GOC LEAD AND DROP THE LABOR COURT PROCEEDING. HOWEVER, THERE IS NO INDICATION YET THAT CODELCO HAS THIS IN MIND.

CENTRO DE GOBIERNO
SAN SALVADOR

DEAR MR. ATTORNEY GENERAL:

IT HAS BEEN A GREAT PLEASURE TO MEET WITH YOU AND DR. CASTILLO TO DISCUSS THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE OVER THESE PAST FEW DAYS. MY COLLEAGUES FROM THE EMBASSY AND I, AND JUDGE TYLER AND HIS COLLEAGUES, HAVE LEARNED A GREAT DEAL ABOUT YOUR LEGAL SYSTEM AND ABOUT YOUR EFFORTS TO INVESTIGATE AND PROSECUTE THIS TRAGIC CASE. I AM VERY PLEASED AT THE PROGRESS YOU HAVE RECENTLY MADE AND WILL REPORT THIS PROGRESS TO THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE, THE CONGRESS, THE FAMILIES AND INTERESTED MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN PUBLIC.

ALL OF US RECOGNIZE THE DIFFICULTIES THIS CASE HAS PRESENTED FOR YOU AND WE RECOGNIZE THAT OUR LEGAL SYSTEM AND TRADITIONS ARE DIFFERENT FROM YOURS. HOWEVER, WE ALSO HAVE A GOOD DEAL OF EXPERIENCE IN INVESTIGATING AND PROSECUTING MAJOR CRIMINAL CASES, AND IT IS IN THAT SPIRIT THAT WE HAVE MADE PREVIOUS SUGGESTIONS TO YOU ABOUT WAYS IN WHICH THE CASE CAN BE ENHANCED. BASED UPON OUR DISCUSSIONS THIS WEEK, INCLUDING [redacted]

THOSE OF JUDGE TYLER AND HIS COLLEAGUES, WE BELIEVE THAT THE FOLLOWING ADDITIONAL STEPS COULD BE TAKEN. I WISH TO EMPHASIZE THAT WE INTEND THIS LIST TO BE OUR FINAL RECOMMENDATIONS, ALTHOUGH I AM CERTAIN YOU RECOGNIZE THAT AS THE ADDITIONAL INTERVIEWS ARE CONDUCTED, NEW INFORMATION MAY DEVELOP WHICH WILL REQUIRE FURTHER INVESTIGATION.

CONCERNING THE CHRONOGRAM DEVELOPED BY YOUR OFFICE, I AM PLEASED TO REPORT THAT WE ARE PREPARING THE LETTER FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF THE UNITED STATES TO YOU TRANSFERRING THE INFORMATION COLLECTED AND ANALYZED BY THE FBI.

WITH REGARD TO ADDITIONAL INTERVIEWS WHICH WE BELIEVE SHOULD BE JUDICIALLY CONDUCTED, WE SUGGEST THAT THE FOLLOWING PERSONS BE INTERVIEWED, OR, IN SOME CASES, RE-INTERVIEWED.

GUARDSMAN ORANTES MENJIVAR
GARDSMAN JOSE VIDAL CRUZ ,ICHE
THE INDIVIDUALS WHO WERE IN COMMAND OF THE NATIONAL POLICE AND NATIONAL GUARD DETACHMENTS AT LA LIBERTAD AND CHALATANANGO AT THE TIME OF THE CRIME

WE ALSO BELIEVE, AS WE HAVE DISCUSSED, THAT IT COULD BE

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

TEXT OF TELEGRAM 83STATE 275983

VERY PRODUCTIVE TO RE-INTERVIEW SUB-SERGEANT COLINDRES ALEMAN TO DETERMINE IF HE WILL PROVIDE ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.

WE SUGGEST THAT YOUR OFFICE ASK THE APPROPRIATE SECURITY FORCES WHETHER THEY HAVE ANY INFORMATION LINKING THE FOLLOWING GROUPS OR INDIVIDUALS WITH THE CRIME:

MAURICIO BORGONOVO ANTICOMMUNIST BRIGADE
ROBERTO FOGELBACH PEREZ, COORDINATOR OF THE ANTICOMMUNIST

MAXIMILIANO HERNANDEZ MARTINEZ

WE ALSO SUGGEST THAT THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE BE ASKED TO DETERMINE WHETHER ANY OF THE DEFENDANTS WERE EVER ASSIGNED TO LA LIBERTAD OR CHALATANANGO. SUCH AN INQUIRY WAS SUGGESTED BY ONE OF THE INVESTIGATING COMMISSIONS AND MIGHT SHED LIGHT ON POSSIBLE MOTIVES FOR THE CRIMES.

THE LETTER SUPPOSEDLY SENT BY COL. MORAN HAS BEEN, AS YOU KNOW, A SOURCE OF FRUSTRATION FOR US ALL. UNDER OUR LAW IT WOULD BE POSSIBLE FOR THE JUDGE TO DETERMINE THAT THE LETTER IS A FAKE AND THEREFORE NOT ADMIT IT INTO EVIDENCE. IF JUDGE RAUDA HAS ALREADY MADE THE LETTER PART OF THE RECORD, WE SUGGEST THAT, IF POSSIBLE, THE LETTER BE STRICKEN FROM THE RECORD. IF IT HAS NOT BEEN MADE PART OF THE RECORD, WE SUGGEST THAT IT NOT BE INTRODUCED.

FINALLY, WE ARE STILL CONCERNED ABOUT THE SAFETY OF THE JUDGE AND JURY IN THIS CASE. AS JUDGE TYLER DISCUSSED WITH YOU, WE BELIEVE THAT YOU SHOULD SERIOUSLY CONSIDER TAKING STEPS TO PROTECT THEM.

ONE POSSIBILITY WOULD BE TO IDENTIFY JURORS ONLY BY NUMBER ALTHOUGH OTHER PERSONAL INFORMATION ABOUT THE JURORS, SUCH AS AGE AND PROFESSION, COULD BE MADE AVAILABLE. THERE ARE OTHER PROTECTIVE MEASURES WHICH COULD BE TAKEN AND THE UNITED STATES STANDS READY TO PROVIDE ANY TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE YOU MAY NEED.

IN CLOSING LET ME REPEAT MY GRATITUDE FOR YOUR COOPERA-

4. AFTER READING THE LETTER, DR. CASTILLO AGREED TO DO ALL OF THESE STEPS AND POINTED OUT THAT THEY WERE ALREADY PLANNING TO PERFORM MANY OF THEM. HE REITERATED THAT THEY EXPECT TO COMPLETE ALL OF THE ITEMS BY OCTOBER 15. HE SAID THAT THEY HAD REQUESTED THE APPEARANCE OF THE GUARDS AT EL ROSARIO AND EXPECTED TO BEGIN TAKING THEIR STATEMENTS NEXT WEEK (THE WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 26). HE ADDED THAT THE MORAN LETTER WAS IN THE RECORD AND COULD NOT BE STRICKEN. GIVEN THE OTHER EVIDENCE ABOUT THE LETTER, HOWEVER, CASTILLO BELIEVES THEY CAN COUNTER ANY EFFORTS BY THE DEFENSE TO USE IT.

5. SMITH EMPHASIZED TO DR. CASTILLO THE NEED TO PROVIDE PROTECTION FOR THE JUDGE AND JURY DURING THE TRIAL. DR. CASTILLO SAID THEY WERE CONSIDERING THAT, BUT ADDED THAT HE WAS ALSO CONCERNED FOR HIS OWN SECURITY AND THAT OF HIS FAMILY. HE SAID IT MAY BE NECESSARY FOR HIM TO ASK FOR A VISA TO COME TO THE UNITED STATES AFTER THE TRIAL. SMITH REPLIED THAT WE WERE PLEASED THEY WERE THINKING ABOUT THE ISSUE OF PROTECTION AND THAT THE UNITED STATES WAS PREPARED TO PROVIDE SPECIFIC SUGGESTIONS AND ADDITIONAL ASSISTANCE AS APPROPRIATE.

6. THE EMBASSY LEGAL ADVISER AND DR. CASTILLO AND HIS STAFF HAVE BEEN PREPARING QUESTIONS FOR THE WITNESSES. [redacted]

THE EMBASSY WILL PROVIDE SUGGESTED QUESTIONS DRAWN UP BY MICHAEL POSNER, THE LAWYER FOR THE FAMILIES, TO DR. CASTILLO AND WILL WORK WITH THEM IN DEVELOPING QUESTIONS FOR THE ADDITIONAL WITNESSES.

7. AT A FINAL MEETING BETWEEN JUDGE TYLER AND AMBASSADOR PICKERING, IT WAS AGREED THAT THE EMBASSY WOULD CONTINUE TO FOLLOW A NUMBER OF ISSUES, INCLUDING PROVIDING ADEQUATE SECURITY FOR THE JUDGE, JURY AND PROSECUTORS DURING THE TRIAL. JUDGE TYLER EXPRESSED HIS VIEW THAT THE JURY WAS A "WEAK LINK" IN WHAT IS NOW A VERY STRONG CASE AGAINST THE DEFENDANTS AND AGREED TO PROVIDE A MEMORANDUM TO THE DEPARTMENT CONTAINING HIS SPECIFIC SUGGESTIONS FOR PROTECTING THE JURY. THE JUDGE ALSO WILL MEET WITH THE FAMILIES IN ORDER TO CLARIFY SOME CONFUSION ABOUT THE DETAILS OF THE VARIOUS THREATENING

NOTES GIVEN TO THE CHURCHWOMEN.
8. THE EMBASSY WILL ALSO FOLLOW UP ON RECENT QUESTIONS THAT HAVE BEEN RAISED IN THE PRESS ABOUT THOMAS BRACKEN. MR. BRACKEN WAS A US CITIZEN IN EL SALVADOR WHO WAS KILLED SHORTLY AFTER THE CHURCHWOMEN. UPI HAS SURFACED AN ALLEGATION THAT MR. BRACKEN APPROACHED THE EMBASSY WITH INFORMATION ABOUT THE CHURCHWOMEN'S CASE BUT WAS KILLED BEFORE HE WAS ABLE TO GIVE THAT INFORMATION TO THE EMBASSY.

9. POSNER CALLED ON SMITH ON SEPTEMBER 26 TO GET A REPORT OF THE SMITH/TYLER VISIT. POSNER WAS PLEASED AT THE PROGRESS AND REQUESTED COPIES OF THE DECLARATIONS BY GEN. VIDES CASANOVA AND COL. MORAN ON THE ALLEGED MORAN LETTER. EMBASSY IS REQUESTED TO OBTAIN THOSE DECLARATIONS, IF POSSIBLE, AND FORWARD THEM TO DEPARTMENT. DAM

1.(U) RODOLFO SUEGUEL THE PRESIDENT OF THE COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC) WHO RECENTLY SPENT TIME IN JAIL FOR CHARGES CONNECTED WITH THE EARLIER PROTEST DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT AND SUBSEQUENT ALLEGED SLANDER AGAINST PRESIDENT PINOCHET, UNTIL THE GOC DECIDED TO DROP ALL CHARGES, CONTINUES TO MAKE NEWS. ON OCTOBER 4,

IN VERY CONFUSING CIRCUMSTANCES, HE AND SEVERAL OTHER UNION LEADERS FROM THE EL TENIENTE COPPER ZONE ATTEMPTED TO LEAD A MARCH FROM THE TOWN OF RANCAGUA TO SANTIAGO, TO JOIN A RALLY ORGANIZED BY YOUTH GROUPS OPPOSED TO THE GOC WHICH IS SCHEDULED TO TAKE PLACE LATE OCTOBER 5. THE MINERS CLAIMED TO HAVE PERMISSION FOR THE MARCH FROM THE PROPER GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES, BUT LOCAL GOVERNMENT SOURCES STATED THAT THE MARCH WAS NOT AUTHORIZED BECAUSE OF INEVITABLE INTERFERENCE WITH TRAFFIC ON THE MAIN THOROUGHFARE BETWEEN THE TWO CITIES, AND BECAUSE OF THE DANGER TO THE MARCHERS FROM TRAFFIC. IN THE EVENT, CARABINEROS STOPPED THE MARCH BEFORE IT GOT STARTED.

2.(U) PRESS REPORTS HAVE PROVIDED VARYING ACCOUNTS OF THE EVENT. ESTIMATES OF THE NUMBERS OF PARTICIPANTS RANGE FROM 100 TO 1,000 (THE EMBASSY TENDS TO BELIEVE THE NUMBERS WERE CLOSER TO THE LOWER FIGURE BASED ON A PHOTO AND EARLY NEWS REPORTS FROM RADIO COOPERATIVA, A GENERALLY ANTI GOVERNMENT STATION WHICH PLACED THE NUMBERS AT 200). SOME OF THE PRESS REPORTED THAT SEGUEL AND 5 OR 6 OTHER LEADERS OF THE MARCH WERE DETAINED EITHER FOR A FEW MINUTES OR UP TO A COUPLE OF HOURS, WHEREAS GOVERNMENT SOURCES STATED THAT NO ONE WAS DETAINED , ALTHOUGH SEVERAL (INCLUDING SEGUEL) WERE TAKEN TO THE LOCAL POLICE STATION WHERE THEY WERE GIVEN SUMMONSES FOR DISTURBING THE PEACE. LATER IN THE DAY, THE MARCHERS WERE TRANSPORTED TO SAN BERNARDO ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF SANTIAGO, WHERE SOME OF THEM APPARENTLY ATTEMPTED TO STAGE ANOTHER MARCH

WHICH WAS BROKEN UP QUICKLY BY THE CARABINEROS AGAIN UNDER CONFUSING CIRCUMSTANCES. SEGUEL, INTERVIEWED ON THE RADIO, CLAIMED THE CARABINEROS USED BRUTE FORCE TO BREAK UP THE MARCH, USING TEAR GAS AND BATONS. REPORTEDLY 17 PROTESTORS WERE DETAINED, AND THERE WERE CLAIMS BY THE PROTESTERS THAT AT LEAST 50 PERSONS WERE INJURED. GOVERNMENT SOURCES DENIED THERE WERE ANY INJURIES, BUT FAILED TO MENTION WHETHER FORCE WAS USED. THE MARCHERS SPENT THE NIGHT AT A LOCAL CHURCH.

3.(U) ALTHOUGH THE MARCH WAS TO BE COMPLETED IN TWO STAGES, SEGUEL ANNOUNCED EARLY OCTOBER 5 THAT THE PROTESTORS WOULD BE TRANSPORTED TO A PARK DURING THE AFTERNOON OF OCTOBER 5, WHERE THEY WILL JOIN A RALLY SPONSORED BY THE SO CALLED YOUTH COMMAND FOR DEMOCRACY.

4.(C) THIS LATEST SEGUEL LED LABOR PROTEST ACTION IS DESIGNED TO PRESSURE CODELCO TO REHIRE ALL MINERS FIRED AS A RESULT OF THE ILLEGAL STRIKE OF JUNE 17. THE GOC DROPPED THE JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS AGAINST SEGUEL AND OTHER LEADERS

OF THE CTC ONLY AFTER A LOWER COURT JUDGE HAD FOUND SEGUEL AND OTHERS GUILTY OF VIOLATING THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAWS (A SEPARATE CHARGE AGAINST SEGUEL FOR ALLEGEDLY SLANDERING PRESIDENT PINOCHET WAS WITHDRAWN BEFORE ANY FINDING--SEE REFTEL). NEVERTHELESS, THE SEPARATE LABOR COURT PROCEEDINGS INVOLVING 32 CTC AND ZONAL LEADERS CONTINUE. THEY WERE FILED BY CODELCO AND HAVE APPEALED THAT ACTION. IT IS UNLIKELY CODELCO WILL ECONSIDER ANY OF THE CASES UNTIL THE LABOR COURT DECIDES ONE WAY OR THE OTHER--THUS, THE PRESSURE FROM SEGUEL AND THE OTHER AFFECTED LEADERS. MEANWHILE, CODELCO HAS OVER A PERIOD OF TIME REINCORPORATED NEARLY ALL OF THE NEARLY 2,000 ORIGINALLY FIRED, EXCEPT FOR THOSE WHO OPTED, MAN ALLEGEDLY UNDER PRESSURE, TO "RESIGN VOLUNTARILY", THEREBY SAVING THEIR SEVERANCE BENEFITS AND MAINTAINING THE RIGHT TO UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS. MANY OF THOSE REHIRED WERE THE RESULT OF THE INTERVENTION OF GUILLERMO MEDINA, THE PRO GOVERNMENT LEADER FROM EL TENIENTE, WHO TOOK HIS UNION OUT OF THE CTC EARLIER THIS YEAR. OUR SOURCES IN

2.(C) COMMENT: A SOURCE IN THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR CONFIRMED WAHT THE NEW UNDERSECRETARY OF INTERIOR, LUIS SIMON FIGUEROA, TOLD THE CHARGE LAST WEEK, NAMELY THAT THE LIST HAD ORIGINALLY HAD ABOUT 1200 NAMES BUT, DUE TO THE RECENT CHANGE IN UNDERSECRETARIES AND THE CONCERN OF INTERIOR MINISTER JARPA AND OTHERS THAT THE RETURNEES MIGHT CONTRIBUTE TO COMMUNIST MACHINATIONS, AN EXTENDED DELAY HAD OCCURRED IN NG THE LIST. FINALLY, TO OVERCOME THE DELAY AND PRESENT A NEW LIST AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, THE ORIGINAL LIST WAS CUT IN HALF WITH ALL THE CONTROVERSIAL NAMES LEFT FOR THE NEXT LIST WHICH, OUR SOURCE INDICATED, WOULD BE ISSUED QUITE SOON. OUR SOURCE WENT ON TO COMMENT THAT FUTURE LISTS OF THOSE ALLOWED TO RETURN COULD BE EXPECTED AS WORK WAS PROCEEDING SLOWLY ON THE CONCEPT OF A "NEGATIVE LIST" (I.E., A LIST OF THOSE NOT ALLOWED TO RETURN WHILE ALL OTHERS WOULD BE ALLOWED BACK AUTOMATICALLY). THE PROBLEM, SAID OUR SOURCE, WAS THAT THE SECURITY FORCES WERE HOLDING OUT FOR A MUCH LONGER NEGATIVE LIST THAN WAS POLITICALLY FEASIBLE--SOME 2000 ALLEGED COMMUNISTS AND TERRORISTS, WHICH WOULD BE ABOUT 20 PERCENT OF THE ORIGINAL ESTIMATED 10,000 CHILEAN EXILES--WHILE JARPA AND THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR WERE TRYING TO CUT THAT NUMBER DRASTICALLY AND ALLOW BACK ALL BUT TERRORISTS AND A FEW PROMINENT COMMUNIST LEADERS.

HELD AN AUTHORIZED AND GENERALLY PEACEFUL ANTI-GOVERNMENT RALLY OCTOBER 5 AT A PUBLIC SQUARE IN DOWNTOWN SANTIAGO. THE RALLY LASTED ABOUT FOUR HOURS, BEGINNING AT 5 P.M. IT WAS ATTENDED BY A REPORTED 5,000-6,000 PEOPLE, INCLUDING 2-300 COPPERWORKERS AND SYMPATHIZERS FROM THE EL TENIENTE ZONE. THE COPPERWORKERS WERE FIRED BY CODELCO FOR THE ILLEGAL

STRIKE LAST JUNE 17 (REFTEL). THE COPPERWORKERS, WHO HAD PLANNED TO MARCH FROM RANCAGUA TO SANTIAGO TO JOIN THE RALLY, WRE FINALLY TRANSPORTED TO THE EVENT WHEN POLICE BROKE UP ATTEMPS TO ORGANIZE THE UNAUTHORIZED MARCH. THE PRIMARY ORGANIZER OF THE YOUTH RALLY WAS A RECENTLY FORMED GROUP CALLED THE YOUTH COMMAND FOR THE RECOVERY OF DEMOCRACY.

2. (U) ACCOFDING TO PRSS REPORTS, THE PROTESTERS DISPLAYED PRO-ALLENDE POSTERS, AS WELL AS BANNERS OF THE VIOLENCE-PRONE MIR AND OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY THE PROTESTERS WERE ENTERTAINED BY FOLKSINGERS SINGING PROTEST SONGS FROM THE ALLENDE ERA. THE ORATORS, WHO INCLUDED LEFT-WING CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC AND COMMUNIST YOUTHS, DENOUNCED THE GOVERMENT AS EXPECTED. RODOLFO SEGUEL, PRESIDENT OF THE COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERATION (CTC), AND MANUEL BUSTOS, PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL LABOR COORDINATOR (CNS), RECENTLY RETURNED FROM 10 MONTHS IN EXILE IN ROME, WERE AMONG THE PARTICIPANTS, BUT NEITHER SPOKE.

3. (U) AS THE RALLY BROKE UP, A GROUP OF DEMONSTRATORS ATTEMPTED TO MARCH TOWARDS ONE OF THE MAIN THOROUGHFARES, ALTHOUGH THEY WERE ADMONISHED BY THE ORGANIZERS TO LEAVE PEACEFULLY AND WITHOUT CAUSING TROUBLE. THE CARABINEROS MOVED IN QUICKLY AT THAT POINT WITH TEAR GAS AND A WATER CANNON TO DISPERSE THE CROWD, AND PREVENT THEM FROM REACHING THAT THOROUGHFARE, REPORTEDLY WITHOUT SERIOUS INJURY TO ANYONE. THERE WERE APPARENTLY NO ARRESTS.

SINCE THE ORGANIZERS HAD FOLLOWED THE LEGAL PROCEDURES AND RECEIVED AUTHORIZATION FROM THE SANTIAGO INTENDENT, THE CARABINEROS OBSERVED THE RALLY BUT DID NOT INTERVENE UNTIL SOME OF THE CROWD TRIED TO FROM A MARCH NOT COVERED BY THE AUTHORIZATION. MORE THAN THE RIGHT BY PERMITTING LEFTIST GROUPS AND INDIVIDUALS TO RESUME PUBLIC ROLES AFTER TEN YEARS OF CLANDESTINITY. THE BLOC HAS LED T FORMATION OF A FRONT GROUP, THE POPULAR DEMOCRATIC MOVEMENT, WHICH ALIGNS THE PCCH WITH SEVERAL OTHER SMALL, HARD-LINE GROUPS. EFFECT OF THESE REALIGNMENTS HAS BEEN TO REMIND CHILEANS OF SOCIALISM AS A PERMANENT HISTORICAL FACTOR ON THE DOMESTIC POLITICAL SCENE AND TO OPEN NEW SPACE FOR ITS SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC TENDENCIES. THE SMALL LEFTIST GROUPS, SUCH AS THE IZQUIERDA CRISTIANA AND THE TWO MAPU'S ARE BEING SQUEEZED AS ORGANIZATIONS AND DILUTED AS INTELLECTUAL INFLUENCES. THESE SHIFTS ARE STILL FLUID, HOWEVER AND DESIRE FOR AN ALL-EOCOMPASSING UNITY SHOULD NOT BE UNDERESTIMATED. EVENTS SURROUNDING THE ALLIANCE RALLY ON OCTOBER 11 AND THE LEFTIST PROTEST ON OCTOBER 13 MAY HELP CLARIFY SITUATION, PARTICULARLY DEGREE TO WHICH COMMUNISTS WILL SHOW MODERATION AND ABILITY OF ALLIANCE TO KEEP COMMUNISTS AT AN ARM'S LENGTH. END SUMMARY.

3. INTRODUCTION: THE DIALOGUE BETWEEN THE GOC AND THE DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE HAS FORCED POLITICAL GROUPS OF BOTH THE LEFT AND THE RIGHT TO DEFINE THEMSELVES ON WHETHER A NEGOTIATED TRANSITION IS FEASIBLE, ON THE LEGITIMACY OF REBELLION, AND ON A VARIETY OF OTHER ISSUES. THE RESULT IS A FLURRY OF ACTIVITY AS NUMEROUS GROUPS SCRAMBLE FOR A SLICE OF THE POLITICAL SPECTRUM. INITIAL EMPHASIS HAS BEEN ON THE FORMATION OF COALITIONS AS A MEANS OF ENTERING OR FINFLUENCING THE DIALOGUE, RATHER THAN ATTEMPTS TO RECONSTITUTE SINGLE PARTIES. FOLLOWING IS A SUMMARY AND ANALYSIS OF THE CURRENT LINE-UP ON THE MARXIST LEFT IN CHILE.(SEPTEL WILL ANALYZE THE RIGHT).

4. THE LEFT REJOINS THE PUBLIC DEBATE: THE RECENT POLITICAL OPENING AND THE WILLINGNESS OF THE GOC TO RELAX ITS STRUCTURES AGAINST POLITICAL PARTY ACTIVITIES HAVE BENEFITED THE LEFT MORE THAN THE RIGHT, SINCE THE MARXIST PARTIES OF THE UNIDAD POPULAR WERE LEGALLY PROSCRIBED IN 1973 AND SYSTEMATICALLY REPRESSED THEREAFTER, WHILE THE NON-MARXIST PARTIES WERE MERELY RECESSED IN 1977. THERE HAVE BEEN MANY INDICATIONS OF GREATER POLITICAL TOLERANCE BY THE GOVERNMENT BUT PARTICULARLY NOTE-WORTHY ARE RECENT PUBLIC PRESSS CONFERENCES OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY (PCCH) SOME OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY (PS) FACTIONS, THE IZQUIERDA CRISTIANA (IC) AND THE UNITARY POPULAR ACTION MOVEMENT (MAPU) GROUPS. THE PUBLIC APPEARANCES OF THESE GROUPS, WITH NO VISIBLE POLICE REACTIONS, STAND IN STARK CONTRAST TO THEIR CLANDESTINITY OF ONLY A FEW MONTHS AGO.

5. SOCIALIST BLOC: FROM THE INCEPTION OF THE "DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE", SIX FACTIONS OF THE FORMER SOCIALIST PARTY, GROUPED TOGETHER AS THE POLITICAL UNITY COMMITTEE (CPU) HAVE BEEN INCLUDED AS TITULAR MEMBERS OF THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION. AND,

FROM THE BEGINNING,THEY HAVEMADE INTERNAL AGREEMENT DIFFICULT FOR THE ALLIANCE. SINCE THE DIALOGUE BEGAN IN AUGUST, THE SIX PS FACTIONS HAVE REFUSED TO PARTICIPATE IN THE DIALOGUE AS LONG AS PRESIDENT PINOCHET REMAINS IN POWER. HOWEVER, ONE OF THEIR MEMBERS, FORMER SENATOR RAMON SILVA ULLOA OF THE POPULAR SOCIALIST UNION (USOPA), HAS ATTENDED THE MEETINGS WITH INTERIOR MINISTER JARPA IN THE GUISE OF A "SOCIALIST PERSONAGE" AND THE OTHER FACTIONS HAVE REMAINED AS FULL MEMBERS OF THE ALLIANCE. ANOTHER POINT OF FRICTION HAS BEEN THE ATTEMPTS OF SOME SOCIALIST FIGURES, PARTICULARLY JULIO STUARDO, TO GET THE PCCH INCLUDED IN THE ALLIANCE. UNTIL RECENTLY, IT APPEARED THAT THIS MIGHT BE ACHIEVED INDIRECTLY BY HAVING THE SOCIALISTS PARTICIPATE BOTH IN THE ALLIANCE AND IN ANOTHER COALITION WHICH INCLUDED THE PCCH. THAT HIS IDEA HAD FAILED, FOR THE MOMENT AT LEAST, BECAME CLEAR ON SEPTEMBER 16, WHEN THE "REINTEGRATION" OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY OF CHILE WAS ANNOUNCED. THE NEW COALITION IS CALLED THE GRAN PROPUESTA DEMOCRATICA POPULAR, CONVERGENCE". "SOCIALIST BLOC" LEADERS ANNOUNCED THAT "THE PROCESS OF REUNIFICATION HAS CULMINATED" AND CALLED FOR THE INCLUSION OF ALL DEMOCRATIC FORCES INTO THE ALLIANCE, EXPLICITLY ABANDONED THE "VIA ARMADA" AND DECLARED THEIR CONTINUED SUPPORT FOR THE MONTHLY PROTESTS. WHETHER OR NOT THE SOCIALIST BLOC, THE LARGEST EFFORT TOWARD SOCIALIST UNITY TO DATE, WILL GET ANY FATHER THAN ITS NUMEROUS PREDECESSORS (REF A) IN UNITING THE BADLY FACTIONALIZED PS REMAINS AN OPEN QUESTION, PARTICULARLY SINCE AT LEAST ONE OF THE LARGEST PS FACTIONS, THE PS/ALMEYDA, REMAINS APART. (DEMOCRACTIC ALLIANCE MEMBER JULIO STUARDO WAS LONG A LEADER OF THE ALMEYDA FACTION BUT WAS REPORTEDLY READ OUT OF THE GROUP IN MARCH WHEN HE JOINED THE ALLINACE. THIS INTRODUCED YET ANOTHER SPLIT IN PS RANKS, AS THE STUARDO-LED ALMEYDISTAS CONFIDENTIAL HAS BEEN VIEWED AS ONE OF THE LARGEST PS GROUPS IN CHILE.)

6. MOVIMIENTO DEMOCRATICO POPULAR (MDP): THE INCORPORATION OF SOME PS FACTIONS INTO THE ALLIANCE HAS, FOR THE MOMENT AT LEAST, BROKEN THE TRADITIONAL AXIS BETWEEN THE PS AND THE PCCH (COMMUNIST PARTY) IN CHILE. IT HAS ALSO LED THE PCCH, AFTER FRUITLESSLY DEMANDING ENTRY INTO THE ALLIANCE FOR SOME MONTHS, TO FORM ITS OWN COALITION. ON SEPTEMBER 20, APPARENTLY IN RESPONSE TO THE FAILURE TO REACH AGREEMENT WITH THE SOCIALIST BLOC, THE PCCH ORGANIZED A PRESS CONFERENCE OF 93 LEFTIST SO-CALLED LEADERS TO ANNOUNCE THE FORMATION OF THE MDP. WHILE THE MDP IS OFFICIALLY COMPOSED OF ONLY THE PCCH AND PART OF THE PS/ALMEYDA FACTION, IT ALSO APPEARS TO HAVE INCORPORATED A GROUP ANNOUNCED ONLY A FEW DAYS EARLIER, THE FRENTE DE LA IZQUIERDA, WHICH INCLUDED SOME HARDER-LINE IC, MAPU AND PS/ALMEYDA ELEMENTS. (ALSO, WHILE ITS INCORPORATION INTO THE MDP HAS NEVER BEEN OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED, THE MIR - CHILE'S MOST ACTIVE TERRORIST ORGANIZATION - HAS STATED ITS SUPPORT FOR AND AGREEMENT WITH THE OBJECTIVES OF THE GROUP.) THE PARTICIPANTS IN THE PRESS CONFERENCE ANNOUNCING THE FORMATION OF THE MDP WERE CAREFUL NOT TO CLOSE THE DOOR TO COOPERATION WITH THE ALLIANCE, HOWEVER, AND DESCRIBED THEIR POSITION ONLY AS A "POINT OF REFERENCE" DISTINCT FROM BUT NOT CONTRADICTORY TO THE ALLIANCE. FURTHER, THE MDP SPECIFICALLY DECLARED ITS AGREEMENT WITH THREE MAIN POINTS OF THE AUGUST 22 DECLARATION OF THE ALLIANCE, WHICH CALLED FOR PINOCHET'S

RESIGNATION, AN IMMEDIATE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY AND AN EMERGENCY ECONOMIC PLAN.

7. CONCLUSION: THE MOST SIGNIFICANT CHANGE ON THE LEFT IN RECENT YEARS HAS BEEN THE INCORPORATION OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE RELATIVELY MORE MODERATE SOCIALISTS IN CHILE INTO THE DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE AND LATER INTO THE SOCIALIST BLOC.

CONFIDENTIAL

THE IMPORTANCE OF THESE MOVES IS TWOFOLD: (1) THE RE-EMERGENCE OF THE SOCIALISTS IN CHILE AS INDEPENDENT FACTORS ON THE POLITICAL SCENE; AND (2) THE AT LEAST TEMPORARY RUPTURE OF THE HISTORIC PS/PCCH AXIS WITH A CONSEQUENT STRENGTHENING OF DEMOCRATIC AS OPPOSED TO HARD-LINE MARXIST/LENINIST TENDENCIES IN THE SOCIALIST MOVEMENT. WHILE THE EMOTIONAL AND POLITICAL ATTRACTIONS OF LEFTIST UNITY AND ALL-EMBRACING COALITIONS SHOULD NOT BE DISCOUNTED, RECENT ALIGNMENTS OFFER SOME PROSPECT FOR A MODERATE OPPOSITION CONSENSUS THAT COVERS AT LEAST PART OF THE LEFT. ALSO NOTEWORTHY IS THE VISIBLE DECLINE OF THE IC AND THE TWO MAPU GROUPS, NOT ONLY AS POLITICAL GROUPS BUT ALSO AS INTELLECTUAL INFLUENCES. THE BETTING OF MOST OBSERVERS IS THAT THEY WILL EVENTUALLY BE ABSORBED INTO THE SOCIALIST PARTY OR PARTIES, WHERE THEIR VOICES AND INFLUENCE WILL BE FURTHER MUTED. FINALLY, THE EXCLUSION OF THE PCCH, BOTH FROM THE ALLIANCE AND THE SOCIALIST BLOC, COULD HAVE THE SOMEWHAT PARADOXICAL EFFECT OF MODERATING THEIR BEHAVIOR, ALTHOUGH IN THE NEAR TERM THE COMMUNISTS WILL PROBABLY STAY WITH THE "VIA ARMADA" AND TRY TO UNDERMINE THE POLITICAL DIALOGUE. HOWEVER, THE SITUATION ON THE LEFT IS STILL VERY FLUID AND THE PRESSURES FOR LEFTIST UNITY AND/OR ALL-EMBRACIN COALITIONS SHOULD NOT BE UNDERESTIMATED. THE AMBIGUOUS AND EVEN CONTRADICTORY ANNOUNCEMENTS REGARDING THE PARTICIPATION OF ALL THE OPPOSITION GROUPS IN THE ALLIANCE RALLY ON OCTOBER 11 INDICATE THAT THE MODERATE OPPOSITION LEADERS FIND IT VERY DIFFICULT TO REJECT SUPPORT FROM THE LEFT. THE RALLY, AS WELL AS THE MDP-SPONSORED DAY OF PROTEST ON OCTOBER 13, SHOULD HELP CLARIFY THE SITUATION SOMEWHAT AS THEY WILL TEST THE DRAWING POWER OF THE OPPOSITION COALITIONS AND ALSO TEST THE ABILITY OF THE ALLIANCE TO MAINTAIN ITS DISTANCE FROM THE COMMUNISTS. ANDRES ZALDIVAR AND JAIME CASTILLO WHO HAD ALSO RECENTLY RETURNED TO CHILE FROM EXILE. BUSTOS WAS ALSO WELCOMED BY OTHER MEMBERS OF THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY (OF WHICH HE IS A LEFT-WING MEMBER) AND BY CNS ACTING PRESIDENT MIGUEL VEGA, CNS MEMBERS HERNAN MERY AND MARIA ROZAS, COPPERWORKERS CONFEDERAION (CTC) PRESIDENT RODOLFO SEGUEL, AS WELL AS TWO REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE RIVAL UNION OF DEMOCRATIC WORKERS (UDT), ANTONIO MIMIZA AND ERNESTO VOGEL.

2.(U) IN AN AIRPORT STATEMENT, BUSTOS SAID HE WAS HAPPY TO BE BACK IN CHILE, AND THAT EXILE WAS VERY CRUEL. HE SAID: "I PREFER TO BE IN JAIL A THOUSAND TIMES TO EXILE." HE CALLED FOR "THE UNITY FO ALL LABOR ORGANIZATIONS IRRESPECTIVE OF IDEOLOGICAL DISTINCTION, CONCENTRATING ON THE THINGS THAT UNITE RATHER THAN THOSE THAT DIVIDE US." FOLLOWING THE AIRPORT RECEPTION, A MOTORCADE ACCOMPANIED BUSTOS TO CNS HEADQUARTERS WHERE HE RESUMED LEADERSHIP OF THE ORGANIZATION. POLICE OBSERVED BUT DID NOT INTERFERE WITH THE WELCOMING CEREMONIES AND MOTORCADE.

3. (U) ON OCTOBER 4, FOLLOWING A MEETING OF THE NATIONAL WORKERS COMMAND (CNT), PRESIDED OVER BY SEGUEL, AND WHICH WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR CALLING THE FIRST SO-CALLED DAY OF NATIONAL SOCIAL PROTEST LAST MAY 11, BUSTOS PRAISED SEGUEL AND THE CNT. HE STRESSED THE NEED FOR THE AUTONOMY OF LABORORGANIZATIONS FROM POLITICAL PARTIES. HE ALSO RECOGNIZED THENEED FOR A CONFIDENTIAL

DIALOGUE WITH THE GOC BECAUSE "WE HAVE TO TALK TO THOSE WITH POWER, NOT BECAUSE WE SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT BUT RATHER TO CHANGE IT."

4. (U) LATER BUSTOS CALLEDON SUPREME COURT PRESIDENT RETAMAL, WHO HE PRAISED FOR HAVING OPPOSED THE USE OF EXILE, PARTICULARLY UNDER ADMINISTRATIVE DECREE. BUSTOS USED THE OCCASION IN THE COMPANY OF LAWYERS TO PRESENT A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS ON BEHALF OF HECTOR CUEVAS. CUEVAS, PRESIDENT OF THE CONSTRUCTION WORKERS CONFEDERATION AND A KNOWN COMMUNIST, WAS EXPELLED WITH BUSTOS.BUSTOS STATED THAT SINCE CUEVAS AND HE WERE EXPELLED FOR THE SAME REASON IT WAS UNJUST FOR CUEVAS NOT TO BE ALLOWED TO RETURN. FINALLY, BUSTOS WAS ABLE TO RETURN TO HIS PREVIOUS JOB AT THE SUMAR TEXTILE FACTORY. (MIGUEL VEGA HAD EARLIER TOLD THE EMBASSY THAT THEMANAGEMENT OF SUMAR HAD DECIDED TO HOLD OPEN A JOB FOR BUSTOS INDEFINITELY.)

5. (C) EMBASSY COMMENT: BUSTOS' RETURN HAS BEEN LOW-KEY, AND SO FAR HE SEEMS TO HAVE PLAYED IS ROLE

OF THE RETURNING VETERAN LEADER RATHER WELL. HIS AIRPORT STATEMENT, HOWEVER, SHOULD GIVE FOOD FOR THOUGHT TO THE ICFTU ORGANIERS OF THE PLANNED "SEMINAR ON CHILE WHICH WOULD EXCLUDE THE COMMUNIST MEMBERS OF THE CNS FROM PARTICIPATING" (REF B). WE HAVE NO DOUBT THAT BUSTOS CAN GET AUTHORIZATION FROM HE COMMUNIST-DOMINATED CNS TO ATTEND SUCH A SEMINAR, PARTICULARLY IF THERE IS A POSSIBILITY OF ADDITIONAL ICFTU EUROPEAN AFFILIATE FINANCING FOR THE CNS. WE HAVE GRAVE DOUBTS, HOWEVER, ABOUT THE SIGNIFICANCE OF SUCH A SEMINAR FOR PROMOTING DEMOCRATIC TRADE UNION UNITY IN CHILE. BUSTOS IMPLY CONTINUES TO BELIEVE THAT HE AND THE COMMUNISTS CAN WORK TOGETHER EFFECTIVELY FOR A COMMON PURPOSE, I.E., THE OUTER OF THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT. HE IS NOT WORRIED AT THIS POINT ABOUT THE AFTERMATH. WE CONTINUE TO BELIEVE THIS APPROACH IS VERY DANGEROUS FOR THE FUTURE OF THE DEMOCRATIC AND INDEPENDENT TRADE

E.O. 12356: N/A
TAGS: PGOV, PINS, ELAB, ES
SUBJECT: D'AUBUISSON REPEATS ACCUSATIONS AGAINST FINATA, AID AND UPD

1. LEADING LOCAL JOURNALS EL DIARIO DE HOY AND LA PRENSA GRAFICA PUBLISHED STATEMENTS BY MAJOR D'AUBUISSON IN THEIR OCTOBER 12 ISSUES. ACCORDING TO THE NEWSPAPER REPORTS, D'AUBUISSON CALLED A PRESS CONFERENCE TO "DENOUNCE FINATA CORRUPTION AND THE ILLEGAL MEASURES IT IS TAKING IN REGARD TO THE IMPLEMENTATION OF DECREE 207 AND TO ANNOUNCE THAT ARENA WILL ORGANIZE A COMMITTEE FOR THE DEFENSE OF DECREE 207."

2. D'AUBUISSON TOLD NEWSMEN THAT HE CONSIDERED FINATA (GOES PHASE III INSTITUTION) DIRECTOR GALILEO TORRES TO BE A TRAITOR (VENDEPATRIA) WHO HAS PERMITTED ABUSES TO TAKE PLACE IN THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE THIRD PHASE OF THE AGRARIAN REFORM AND HAS FOSTERED "CLASS HATREDS AMONG THE CAMPESINOS." D'AUBUISSON CHARGED THAT THESE ABUSES ARE TAKING PLACE ALL OVER THE COUNTRY, BUT MORE FREQUENTLY IN THE WESTERN AND NORTHERN DEPARTMENTS. D'AUBUISSON SPECIFICALLY CHARGED TORRES AND FINATA WITH THREATENING SMALL LANDOWNERS WITH EXPROPRIATIONS AND LAND INVASIONS THROUGH THE USE OF FALSE WITNESSES, FORCE, AND OTHER UNSAVORY PROCEDURES.

3. D'AUBUISSON WENT ON TO CRITICIZE DECREE 207 ITSELF, WHICH, HE CLAIMED, WAS BROUGHT TO THIS COUNTRY BY "ROY PROSTERMAN, A SELF-STYLED TECHNICIAN WHO IMPLANTED THE SAME SYSTEM IN VIET NAM, WHERE HE FAILED. USING EL SALVADOR AS A GUINEA PIG, PROSTERMAN IS ALSO IMPLANTING HIS THESIS HERE, TO SEE IF IT FINALLY WORKS." D'AUBUISSON THEN PRESENTED NEWSMEN WITH A SERIES OF FINATA EXPROPRIATIONS UNDER DECREE 207 WHICH HE CONSIDERED TO BE IN FLAGRANT VIOLATION OF THE LAW.

4. D'AUBUISSON REPEATED HIS CHARGES AGAINST UCS LEADER AND UPD POLITICAL COMMISSION MEMBER SAMUEL MALDONADO, WHOM HE ACCUSED OF HAVING HAD DIRECT CONTACT WITH THE ERP AND FARN GUERRILLA GROUPS OVER THE YEARS. HE ALSO REITERATED HIS CHARGES THAT "THE UCS IS INFILTRATED BY THE GUERRILLA AND CHANNELS AID MONEY TO THE SUBVERSIVES." D'AUBUISSON SAID THAT AS MUCH AS FIVE MILLION DOLLARS A YEAR IN AID MONEY HAS BEEN ROUTED TO THE SUBVERSIVES VIA THE UCS. D'AUBUISSON SPECIFIED THAT AID ITSELF IS NOT DIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS MISUSE AND EVEN EXTOLLED THE AGENCY'S WORK IN OTHER AREAS.

5. COMMENT. ALTHOUGH WE HAVE NOT YET RECEIVED A COMPLETE TRANSCRIPT OF D'AUBUISSON'S PRESS CONFERENCE, UPD LEADER JORGE CAMACHO TOLD LABOFF THAT D'AUBUISSON ACTUALLY WENT INTO SOME DETAIL REGARDING MALDONADO'S ALLEGED CONTACTS WITH THE GUERRILLAS. CAMACHO ALSO SAID THAT D'AUBUISSON--WHOSE CONFERENCE WAS BROADCAST OVER THE RADIO--TOLD NEWSMEN THAT THE "ONLY UPD LEADER WHO HAD HIS RESPECT WAS ACOPAI PRESIDENT JORGE CAMACHO, WHO WORKED WITH ME IN SENSAL." SENSAL WAS THE ARMY INTELLIGENCE SERVICE. CAMACHO INFORMED LABOFF THAT HE IS PREPARING HIS OWN PRESS CONFERENCE TO REPUDIATE THESE UNWANTED COMPLIMENTS. EMBASSY WILL CABLE COPY OF THE COMPLETE TRANSCRIPT OF D'AUBUISSON'S PRESS CONFERENCE AS SOON AS IT BECOME AVAILABLE. END COMMENT.

1. C-ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. IN AN OCTOBER 11 MEETING WITH REP. JAMES SENSENBRENNER AND CONSERVATIVE CAUCUS EXECUTIVE SECRETARY ANDY MESSING, GRN JUNTA COORDINATOR DANIEL ORTEGA SAID THAT RECENT COUNTERREVOLUTIONARY ATTACKS WERE CONTRIBUTING TO ECONOMIC DECLINE, AND WERE REDUCING THE POLITICAL SPACE AVAILABLE TO ACHIEVE A PEACEFUL SOLUTION

NISTA POSITION THAT AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE USG AND THE GRN WAS A CRUCIAL PREREQUISTITE FOR THE SUCCESS OF OTHER NEGOTIATING EFFORTS, HE SAID THAT BOTH SIDES SHOULD CEASE ATTEMPTS TO PLACE BLAME ON THE OTHER AND INSTEAD TAKE "CONCRETE INITIATIVES". SPECIFICALLY , ORTEGA SUGGESTED THAT IF THE U.S. WOULD CEASE SUPPORT FOR THE COUNTERREVOLUTIONARIES AND WITHDRAW ITS NAVAL FORCES FROM THE REGION, THE GRN WOULD "ADDRESS" AND "MEET" U.S. SECURITY CONCERNS. HE SAID THE GRN WAS WILLING TO AGREE TO "EQUILIBRIUM LEVELS" OF OFFENSIVE WEAPONRY IN THE REGION. ORTEGA DENIED THAT THE GRN HAD A POLICY OF "REVOLUTION WITHOUT FRONTIERS". ASKED ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES, ORTEGA RESPONDED THAT THE SANDINISTA POLICY TOWARD THE MISKITO INDIANS "HAD FAILED", BUT SAID THAT MESSING WAS "MISINFORMED" ABOUT PRISON CONDITIONS, PERSECUTION OF THE JEWS, AND THE LACK OF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IN NICARAGUA. ORTEGA ACKNOWLEDGED THAT A RELAXATION OF PRESS CENSORSHIP WOULD BE NECESSARY TO HOLD FREE ELCTIONS IN 1985, BUT SAID THAT UNDER "CURRENT CONDITIONS" SUCH A RELAXATION WAS NOT POSSIBLE. DURING THE INTERVIEW, ORTEGA APPEARED RELATIVELY SUBDUED AND PREOCCUPIED. THE ATTACK ON THE PETROLEUM TANKS AT CORINTO THE PREVIOUS EVENING, WHERE FIRES WERE STILL RAGING, WAS PROBABLY ON HIS MIND. END SUMMARY.

3. CULMINATING A ONE-DAY VISIT TO NICARAGUA OCTOBER 11, REP. JAMES SENSENBRENNER (R-WISCONSIN) WAS RECEIVED BY GRN JUNTA COORDINATOR DANIEL ORTEGA. SENSENBRENNER WAS ACCOMPANIED BY ANDY MESSING, EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF THE CONSERVATIVE CAUCUS, AMBASSADOR QUAINTON AND ECONOFF. ECTOR SAUL ARANA. ORTEGA APPEARED RELATIVELY SUBDUED AND PREOCCUPIED DURING THE INTERVIEW, PERHAPS BECAUSE OF THE ATTACK ON THE PETROLEUM TANKS AT CORINTO THE PREVIOUS EVENING. THE TANK FARM WAS STILL BURNING AT THE TIME OF THE MEETING. NEVERTHELESS, ORTEGA HANDLED ALL QUESTIONS SMOOTHLY AND WITH POISE.

4.THE CURRENT SITUATION. REP. SENSENBRENNER THANKED ORTEGA FOR ARRANGING THE MEETING AND ASKED FOR HIS VIEWS REGARDING THE CURRENT SITUATION. ORTEGA BEGAN BY SAYING THAT HE WELCOMED VISITS BY U.S. CONGRESSMEN SUCH AS REP. SENSENBRENNER BECAUSE THEY ALLOWED A PERSONAL EXCHANGE OF VIEWS. NICARAGUA DESIRED "GOOD AND NORMAL" RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES, BUT THE CURRENT SITUATION WAS " DIFFICULT". EACH SIDE WAS BLAMING THE OTHER, WHILE CONDITIONS CONTINUED TO DETERIORATE. ORTEGA REFERRED TO THE OCOTBER 10 ATTACK ON FUEL TANKS AT CORINTO, WHERE HE SAID A 1.6 MILLION GALLON DIESEL TANK WAS BURNING "OUT OF CONTROL". THE GRN HAD ASKED FOR INTERNATIONAL ASSISTANCE TO PUT OUT THE FIRE, AND HAD RECEIVED OFFERS OF TECHNICAL TEAMS FROM COLOMBIA AND MEXICO. ORTEGA SAID THIS KIND OF ACTION CAUSED ECONOMIC DECLINE IN NICARAGUA AND DECREASED THE "POLITICAL SPACE" AVAILABLE FOR FINDING A SOLUTION TO THE REGION'S PROBLEMS. "NOW IS NOT THE TIME FOR FINDING CULPRITS", ORGEGA SAID. THE MOST IMPORTANT THING WAS TO FIND SOLUTIONS. NICARAGUA HAD MADE "CONCRETE INITIATIVES" BUT HAD NOT YET RECEIVED A RESPONSE FROM THE U.S., OTHER THAN "CONTINUED MILITARY ESCALATION".

5. ORTEGA ACKNOWLEDGED U.S. CONCERNS THAT NICARAGUA MIGHT POSE A THREAT TO ITS SECURITY. NICARAGUA ALSO HAD SECURITY CONCERNS. HE PROPOSED THAT THE TWO GOVERNMENTS REACH AGREEMENTS TO SOLVE MUTUAL CONCERNS AND REDUCE TENSIONS, AND TO GUARANTEE THE SECURITY OF BOTH SIDES. AN ESSENTIAL STEP IN THIS DIRECTION WOULD BE FOR THE U.S. TO STOP ITS SUPPORT FOR COVERT OPERATIONS. A DEAL COULD THEN BE NEGOTIATED REGARDING ARMS AND FOREIGN ADVISORS. THE GRN WOULD AGREE TO THE REMOVAL OF ALL FOREIGN MILITARY ADVISORS FROM CENTRAL AMERICA AND AN "EQUILIBRIUM" FOR LEVELS OF OFFENSIVE WEAPONS. PREREQUISITE FOR SUCH AGREEMENTS WOULD BE SECURITY FOR NICARAGUA. WITHOUT SECURITY, NICARAGUA WAS FORCED TO INCREASE ITS MILITARY FORCES. RECENT AIR ATTACKS, FOR EXAMPLE, HAD FORCED THE

GRN TO AUGMENT ITS ANTI-AIRCRAFT DEFENSES. THE MILIATRY SITUATION WAS BECOMING MORE COMPLICATED EVERY DAY AND MADE THE SEARCH FOR A PEACEFUL SOLUTION MORE DIFFICULT.

6. NEGOTIATIONS, THE CONTRAS, AND "REVOLUTION WITHOUT FRONTIERS". MESSING ASKED ORTEGA WHAT CONCRETE STEPS THE GRN WOULD BE PREPARED TO TAKE IF THE U.S. ENDED ITS SUPPORT FOR THE COUNTERREVOLUTIONARIES AND WITHDREW ITS NAVAL FORCES FROM THE REGION. ORTEGA RESPONDED THAT THE GRN WOULD BE READY TO DISCUSS KEY AREAS OF CONCERN TO THE U.S. ASSURANCES WOULD BE GIVEN REGARDING ADVISORS, ARMS LEVELS, AND SUPPORT FOR TOEHR REVOLUTONARY MOVEMENTS IN THE REGION. IT THE U.S. TOOK THE ACTIONS MENTIONED BY MESSING, NICARRAGUA " WOULD MEET U.S. CONCERNS", ORTEGA SAID. SENSENBRENNER ASKED ORTEGA IF THE GRN WOULD BE WILLING TO RENOUNCE PERMANENTLY THE "REVOLUTION WITHOUT FRONTIERS". ORTEGA SIAD HE COULD ASSURE MESSING THAT REVOLUTION WITHOUT FRONTIERS WAS NOT GRN POLICY. IT PRIDED ITSELF ON THE INDEPENDENCE OF ITS THOUGHT AND IDEOLOGY. THE GRN VIEWED THE NICARAGUAN REVOLUTION IN A "VERY CONCRETE CONTEXT", ESPECIALLY IN TERMS OF GEOGRAPHY, AND RECOGNIZED THAT "WE HAVE TO LOOK FOR AN UNDERSTANDING WITH THE UNTIED STATES,AND THEY WITH US". THIS CONTEXT PRECLUDED THE POSSIBILITY OF A "REVOLUTION WITHOUT FRONTIERS".

7. MESSING ASKED ORTEGA IF THE GRN WOULD AGREE TO A UN PEACEKEEPING FORCE ON THE NORTHERN FRONTIER. ORTEGA SAID THAT THE UNITED NATIONS WAS VERY IMPORTANT, BUT THERE WERE OTHER PRACTICAL STEPS WHICH WOULD YIELD "CONCRETE SUCIRITY". HE SUGGESTED NICARAGUAN-HONDURAN JOINT BORDER PATROLS WHICH COULD APPEAL TO THE UN IN CASE OF DISPUTES. THE UN WAS BETTER THAN THE OAS FOR THIS MEDIATION, ACCORD-

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

ING TO ORTEGA, BUT THE CONTADORA COUNTREIS"COULD ALSO PLAY A ROLE". AN UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN THE USG AND THE GRN "WOULD LEAD RAPIDLY" TO AN UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN NICARAGUA AND HONDURAS, ORTEGA SAID. HE CITED A 1980 AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE GRN AND GOH REGARDING SECURITY AND FRONTIERS, WHICH HE SAID WAS NEVER IMPLEMENTED BECAUSE "THE SITUATION CHANGED" .

8. MESSING ASKED ORTEGA WHETHER IN VIEW OF RECENT FDN SUCCESSES THE GRN WOULD BE WILLING TO NEGOTIATE WITH THE FDN, FOR EXAMPLE, WITH CALERO. ORTEGA SAID CALERO WAS A

CIA AGENT, AND THE REST OF THE FDN LEADERSHIP WAS FORMER LEADERS OF SOMOZA'S NATIONAL GUARD. HE SAID THE FDN HAD NOT ACHIEVED ANY SUCCESSES EXCEPT SABOTAGE, AND SAID THE SABOTAGE WAS PERFOMED BY THE CIA AND NOT THE FDN. "WE CAN HANDLE THE FDN", ORTEGA SAID. ACCORDIN TO ORTEGA, NICARAGUA WOULD NOT NEGOTIATE WITH GROUPS WHICH WERE INVADING IT.

9. HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES. MESSING SAID THAT CONDITIONS IN NICARAGUAN PRISONS AND JAILS WERE REPORTED TO BE VERY POOR. HE REFERRED TO A RECENT INCIDENT AT A PRISON IN TIPITAPA (SEPTEL) WHERE SEVERAL PEOPLE WERE RUMORED TO HAVE BEEN KILLED. HE ASKED ORTEGA WHETHER THE GRN WOULD AUTHORIZE AN "IMPARTIAL INVESTIGATION" OF THIS INCIDENT AND OF PRISON CONDITIONS IN NICARAGUA. ORTEGA REPLIED THAT IT WAS REGRETTABLE THAT THE DELEGATION WAS IN NICARAGUA FOR SUCH A SHORT VISIT. WITH MORE TIME, THE GRN WOULD ARRANGE FOR THE CODEL TO VISIT PRISONS AS DO "MANY INTERNATIONAL GROUPS". WHILE NICARAGUA DID NOT HAVE THE MATERIAL RESOURCES TO HAVE PRISONS ON THE STANDARDS OF THE U.S., JOILS HERE COMPARED VERY FAVORABLY WITH THOSE IN COSTA RICA, FOR EXAMPLE. REFERRING TO THE TIPITAPA INCIDENT, ORTEGA SAID THAT SIX FORMER NATIONAL GUARDSMEN HAD ESCAPED AND HAD NOT YET BEEN CAUGHT. HE DENIED THAT ANY ONE HAD BEEN KILLED, EITHER DURING OR AFTER THE INCIDENT.
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

10. ASKED ABOUT THE MISKITO INDIAN ISSUE, ORTEGA SIAD IT WAS A VERY COMPLEX PROBELM, ANALOGOUS TO THE 200- YEAR STRUGGLE OF U.S. BLACKS TO ACHIEVE LEGAL RECOGNITION OF THEIR CIVIL RIGHTS. THE MISKITOS HAD ALWAYS HAD SEPARATIST TENDENCIES, AND UNDER THE SOMOZA REGIME WERE ESSENTIALLY IGNORED. AFTER THE REVOLUTION, THE SANDINISTAS ATTEMPTED TO BRING THE MISKITOS INTO THE MAINSTREAM OF NATIONAL LIFE. ORTEGA HIMSELF HAD HELPED ORGANIZE A MISKITO POLITICAL ORGANIZATION WHICH WAS REPRESENTED IN THE COUNCIL OF STATE BY STEADMAN FAGOTH, CURRENTLY LEADER OF THE ANTI-SANDINISTA MISURA GUERRILLAS. AS THIS POLICY BEGAN TO DEVELOP, THE "NATIONAL GUARD" BEGAN TO PRESSURE THE MISKITOS INTO TAKING UP ARMS AGAINST THE GRN. AT THE TIME THE SANDINISTAS HAD "ALMOST NO SOLDIERS" ON THE EAST COAST, WHICH FACILITATED THE SUBVERSIVE EFFORTS OF THE MISKITOS. NOW, SAID ORTEGA, THE GRN AND THE COUNTERREVO-

LUTIONARIES WERE ENGAGED IN A STRUGGLE FOR THE MISKITO POPULATION, WHICH HAD CREATED "VERY DIFFICULT CONDITONS" FOR THE GRN. " ALL THE INITIAL SANDINISTA EFFORTS ON BEHALF OF THE MISKITOS HAVE FAILED" ORTEGA SAID.

11. MESSING ASKED ABOUT RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IN NICARAGUA, CITING THE TREATMENT OF THE POPE, THE BISMARCH CARBALLO INCIDENT, AND THE PRESECUTION OF THE JEWS.ORTEGA SAID THERE HAD BEEN NO PERSECUTION OF THE JEWS IN NICARAGUA. PEOPLE HAD BEEN PUNISHED FOR ASSOCIATION WITH THE SOMOZA DICTATORSHIP, BUT THIS WAS NOT RELATED TO THEIR RELIGIOUS BELIEFS. THERE WAS, HE INSISTED, COMPLETE FREEDOM OF WORSHIP FOR CATHOLICS, PROTESTANTS AND JEWS. CONCERNING THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, ORTEGA SAID THE GRN HAD BEEN A VICTIM OF A "CAMPAIGN OF DISINFORMATION" ORCHESTRATED BY THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS. NICARAGUANS HAD NOT INSULTED THE POPE, HE SAID,UNLESS YELLING "WE WANT PEACE" COULD BE CONSIDERED AN INSULT. THE CURRENT POLITICAL SITUATION IN NICARAGUA WAS SO TENSE THAT EVERYTHING WAS MANIPULATED

FRONTATIONS", ORTEGA CONCLUDED. THIS INCLUDED CHRISTIAN REVOLUTIONARIES.

12.THE 1985 ELECTIONS AND FREEDOM OF THE PRESS. REP. SENSENBRENNER TOLD ORTEGA THAT FREEDOM TO CRITICIZE THE GOVERNMENT WA NECESSARY FOR FREE ELECTIONS, AND ASKED IF THE GRN INTENDED TO LIFT PRESS CENSORSHIP PRIOR TO ITS 1985 ELECTION. ORTEGA RESPONDED THAT IN THE ELECTORAL PROCESS THERE WOULD BE A "MEDIA OPENING", BUT THAT THIS WOULD REQUIRE THAT CERTAIN OTHER CONDITIONS BE FULFILLED. THE PRESENT SITUATION WAS NOT CONDUCIVE TO SUCH CONDITIONS AND, THEREFORE, AN ELECTION COULD NOT REASONABLY BE HELD NOW.HE SAID THE GRN HAD A COMMITMENT TO ITS PEOPLE TO HOLD ELECTIONS IN 1985. RESTRICTIONS ON LA PRENSA WERE NOT DESIRED BY THE GRN, BUT WERE FORCED BY EXTERNAL PRESSURE. ORTEGA SIAD LATIN AMERICAN EXPERIENCE PROVED THAT PRESS FREEDOM COULD BE USED TO UNDERMINE AND BRING DOWN A FREELY-ELECTED GOVERNMENT, AS WAS THE CASE IN CHILE UNDER ALLENDE. SENSENBRENNER POINTED OUT THAT THE SAME ARGUMENT APPLIED IN THE CASE OF RICHARD NIXON. ORTEGA REPLIED THAT THE DIFFERENCE WAS THAT IT HAS BEEN PROVEN IN THE UNITED STATE THAT THE CIA USED THE CHILEAN PRESS TO DESTABILIZE THE ALLENDE GOVERNMENT.

13. THE FUTURE OF THE PRIVATE SECTOR. MESSING SAID THE GRN APPEARED TO BE DRIFTING TOWARD INCREASINGLY MARXIST, SOCIALIST OR COMMUNIST POLICIES.HE ASKED WHETHER THERE WAS A FUTURE FOR A MIXED ECONOMY. ORTEGA SAID THE GRN WAS TRYING TO HAVE A MIXED ECONOMY, BUT THAT U.S. POLICIES MADE IT DIFFICULT. THE CUT IN NICARAGUA' S SUGAR QUOTA, FOR EXAMPLE, HAD BEEN A BLOW TO THE PELLAS FAMILY WHO ARE

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

LARGE PRIVATE SUGAR PRODUCERS. THE PELLAS' WERE SAVED, HE SAID, BECAUSE IRAN, A GOVERNMENT UNFRIENDLY TO THE U.S., HAD AGREED TO BUY THE SUGAR THE U.S. WAS NOW TURNING DOWN. THE ATTACK ON CORINTO ALSO DESTROYED PROPERTY BELONGING TO THE PRIVATE SECTOR. IN GENERAL, THE PROSPECTS FOR A MIXED ECONOMY WERE BEING THREATENED BY CONTRA ATTACKS.

14. CONCLUSION. ORTEGA CONCLUDED THE MEETING BY SAYING THAT THERE WAS AN HISTORIC COMMUNICATIONS PROBLEM BETWEEN THE U.S. AND NICARAGUA. THE REVOLUTION WAS A PRODUCT OF POOR U.S. POLICY. PRIOR TO 1979 THE U.S. HAD NOT BEEN

CONCERNED FOR DEMOCRACY. THE U.S. BORE THE MAJOR RESPONSIBILITY TO REGAIN NICARAGUANS' TRUST. SENSENBRENNER REPLIED THAT MEETINS SUCH AS THIS ONE WERE VERY USEFUL, SO THAT UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES COULD BE INCREASED.

14. COMMENT.ORTETA'S MANNER AND REMARKS WERE INDICATIVE OF THE DEGREE TO WHICH THE SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT FEELS ITSELF UNDER PRESSURE. HIS CALL FOR BOTH SIDES TO STOP PAOINTING THE FINGER AT ONE ANOTHER AND GET DOWN TO SERIOUS DISCUSSIONS INDICATED A PREOCCUPATION WITH THE NEED TO ADDRESS CONCRETE SOLUTIONS.

1. [redacted] ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: THERE HAS BEEN AN ADDITIONAL UPSURGE IN RIGHTIST VIOLENCE COUPLED WITH POLICE OPERATIONS AGAINST LABOR AND CAMPESINO LEADERS IN THE DAYS IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING THE SEPTEMBER 27 UPD DEMONSTRATION IN SUPPORT OF THE AGRARIAN REFORM. IN AN OCTOBER 5 PRESS CONFERENCE, THE UPD DEFENDED UPD LEADER SAMUEL MALDONADO AGAINST ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON'S CHARGES THAT MALDONADO WAS IN CONTACT WITH GUERRILLA GROUPS. THE UPD BELIEVES THAT RECENT RIGHTIST ACTIVITIES ARE A REACTION TO THE UPD DRIVE TO AMEND THOSE CRAFT ARTICLES IN THE CONSTITUTION WHICH DEAL WITH LAND TENURE. THE UPD IS RUEFUL ABOUT ITS POSSIBLE EMERGING ROLE AS THE ONLY REMAINING SPOKESMAN FOR THE AGRARIAN REFORM. IT SENSES THAT THE PDC, ITS ONLY NATURAL ALLY IN THE ASSEMBLY, IS BACKING OFF FROM FULL SUPPORT OF THE THIRD PHASE OF THE REFORM, PERHAPS AS A RESULT OF THIS CLIMATE OF INTIMIDATION AND A POSSIBLE PDC SENSE OF A DRIFT TO THE RIGHT IN THE POLITICAL SCENE. END SUMMARY.

3. THE AFL-CIO-LINKED POPULAR DEMOCRATIC UNITY (UPD) AN THE LOCAL AIFLD OFFICE ARE ALARMED AT THE RECENT INCREASE OF VIOLENT ACTS DIRECTED AGAINST LABOR AND CAMPESINO ACTIVISTS OVER MOST OF EL SALVADOR. THESE INCIDENTS INCLUDE THE SEPTEMBER 28 MURDER OF LORENZO MIRA, AN ACOPAI PROMOTER IN LA PAZ. MIRA WAS TAKEN FROM HIS HOME AT MIDNIGHT BY ARMED CIVILIANS; HIS FAMILY WAS TOLD HE WAS BEING EXECUTED FOR HIS PARTICIPATION IN THE SEPTEMBER 27 UPD DEMONSTRATION IN SUPPORT OF THE AGRARIAN REFORM PROCESS. TWO GOES AGRARIAN LITERACY PROMOTERS WERE ALSO MURDERED THAT SAME WEEK IN SANTA TECLA, A SUBURB OF SAN SALVADOR. ADDITIONALLY, AIFLD IS ALSO CONCERNED ABOUT A "DISINFORMATION CAMPAIGN" AGAINST THE UCS AND ACOPAI -- THE TWO CAMPESINO AFFILIATES OF THE UPD -- IN SANTA ANA, AHUACHAPAN, AND SONSONATE. ACCORDING TO AIFLD, UCS PROMOTERS IN SANTA ANA AND AHUACHAPAN HAVE BEEN ACCUSED BY LOCAL MILITARY COMMANDERS, OF BELONGING TO GUERRILLA GROUPS WHO HAVE ALSO THREATENED THEM WITH DEATH. PROMOTERS AND AFFILIATES OF ACOPAI IN SONSONATE HAVE BEEN ACCUSED OF BEING COMMUNISTS AFTER A SERIES OF DISPUTES, REGARDIN DECREE 207 CLAIMS, WITH LOCAL LANDOWNERS. ONE OF THESE INCIDENTS REPORTED BY AIFLD AND ACOPAI, RESULTED IN THE IMPRISONMENT OF FOUR ACOPAI MEMBERS AND THE DEATH OF TWO CHILDREN, SHOT BY THE NATIONAL GUARD SOLDIERS MAKING THE ARRESTS. IN SAN SALVADOR, FOUR MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL CENTRAL OF WORKERS (CTS) WERE ARRESTED OVER THE PAST WEEK ON VARIOUS UNSPECIFIED CHARGES. NON-UPD LABOR LEADERS HAVE BEEN ALSO ARRESTED IN SIGNIFICANT NUMBERS. EYEWITNESSES TOLD US THAT ROSENDO MEJIA CARPIO, SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE STRIKING URBAN HOUSING INSTITUTE WORKERS UNION (SETIVU), WAS ARRESTED ON SEPTEMBER 29 BY UNIFORMED MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL POLICE. (COMMENT: WE ARE SEEKING CONFIRMATION.) SANTIAGO HERNANDEZ, SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE LEGAL LEFTIST LABOR UNION UNITY FEDERATION (FUSS) WAS KIDNAPP BY ARMED CIVILIANS ON SEPTEMBER 26, WHILE ON HIS WAY TO A PRESS CONFERENCE; CHIS BODY WAS LATER FOUND--SEE SEPTEL! TWO MEMBERS OF THE CENTRIST GENERAL CONFEDERATI OF LABOR UNIONS (CGS) WERE ARRESTED ON SEPTEMBER 29 AND FIRED FROM THEIR GOVERNMENT JOBS UPON THEIR RELEASE.

4. UPD LEADERS RECENTLY VISITED DEF MIN VIDES CASANOVA TO PETITION FOR HELP IN THE SECURITY OF THEIR MEMBERS AND, ACCORDING TO AIFLD SOURCES, WERE TOLD BY VIDES THAT "I HAVE THREATS AGAINST ME, TOO," AND THAT HE COULD NO NOTHING TO HELP THEM. IN VIEW OF THIS SITUATION, THE UPD IS TRYING TO WORK OUT A WAY TO HELP

ITS LEADERS DEFEND THEMSELVES. AMONG THE ALTERNATIVES BEING CONSIDERED IS A "UPD GUARD FORCE," WHICH WOULD INCLUDE APPROXIMATELY FORTY GUARDS. IT IS POSSIBLE, HOWEVER, THAT THESE EXTRAORDINARY MEASURES WOULD BE REQUIRED ONLY DURING THE PERIOD PRIOR TO THE ELECTIONS, I.E., ABOUT SIX MONTHS.

5. ON OCTOBER 5, THE UPD HELD A PRESS CONFERENCE IN WHICH UPD POLITICAL COMMITTEE MEMBER MIGUEL ANGEL VAZQU PUBLICLY CHARGED THAT CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY PRESIDENT MAJOR ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON HAD FALSELY ACCUSED UPD LEADER SAMUEL MALDONADO OF HAVING CONTACTS WITH GUERRIL GROUPS. VAZQUEZ SAID THAT D'AUBUISSON'S ATTACK AGAINST MALDONADO WAS A VICIOUS ATTEMPT TO CRIPPLE THE UPD'S DRIVE TO HAVE THE AGRARIAN REFORM ENSHRINED IN THE CONSTITUTION. VAZQUEZ STATED THAT THE UPD HOLDS D'AUBUISSON RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY ATTACK ON MALDONADO AS A RESULT OF THE D'AUBUISSON CHARGES. VAZQUEZ ALSO CALLED D'AUBUISSON A HYPOCRITE, REFERRING TO THE LATTER'S STATEMENT THAT HE RESPECTED ALL OTHER UPD LEADERS EXCEPT MALDONADO. THE UPD SPOKESMAN ALSO POINTED OUT THAT AT LEAST FIVE OTHER POLITICAL AND LABO LEADERS (INCLUDING ARCHBISHOP ROMERO AND UCS LEADER RODOLFO VIERA) WERE ALL KILLED SHORTLY AFTER JUST SUCH A D'AUBUISSON ATTACK. VAZQUEZ VOWED THAT THE UPD WOULD CONTINUE ITS DEMOCRATIC STRUGGLE AND THAT IT WILL USE ALL LEGAL MEANS AT ITS DISPOSAL TO SAFEGUARD THE LIVES OF ITS MEMBERS AND LEADERS.

6. LATER ON OCTOBER 5, AIFLD DIRECTOR RUPERT SCOFIELD TOLD AMBASSADOR PICKERING THAT MALDONADO MAY HAVE PARTICIPATED IN A FEW CONVERSATIONS WITH FAPU ACTIVISTS IN 1979. SCOFIELD BELIEVES THAT MALDONADO HAS HAD NO FURTHER CONTACTS WITH THESE GROUPS AND HAS UNIMPEACHABLE DEMOCRATIC CREDENTIALS. THE AMBASSADOR TOLD SCOFIELD THAT HE SENT A MESSAGE TO D'AUBUISSON AS SOON AS THE CHARGES WERE MADE PUBLIC AND REQUESTED TO MEET WITH HIM. THE AMBASSADOR RECOUNTED THE GIST OF THE MEETING WITH D'AUBUISSON, DURING WHICH THE LATTER MAINTAINED THAT THE EVIDENCE OF MALDONADO'S LINKS WITH THE GUERRILLA GROUPS WAS IN THE HANDS OF THE SECURITY FORCES. SCOFIELD TOLD AMBASSADOR PICKERING ABOUT INCREASED AIFLD/UPD CONCERN ABOUT PHYSICAL SECURITY.

AIFLD SECURITY ADVISER GORDON ELLISON SAID THAT AIFLD IS TRYING TO CONVINCE DEFMIN VIDES CASANOVA OFFICIALLY TO SUPPORT UPD EFFORTS TO UPGRADE THEIR SECURITY ARRANGEMENT, INCLUDING OFFICIAL PROTECTION OF UPD LEADERS AND INSTALLATIONS.

7. THE UPD BELIEVES THAT RECENT RIGHTIST ACTIVITIES AR A REACTION TO THE UPD'S DEFENSE OF THE AGRARIAN REFORM. UPD LEGAL ADVISER JOSE MARIA "CHEMITA" MENDEZ, JR. SAYS THAT THE PDC IS NOT BARGAINING IN GOOD FAITH REGARDING THE AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTIONAL DRAFT ARTICLES ON LAND TENURE. MENDEZ ADMITTED, HOWEVER, THAT THE UPD AND THE PDC SEE EYE TO EYE ON THE FUTURE OF PHASE I AND COULD EASILY REACH A COMPROMISE ON PHASE II. THE STICKING POINTS, MENDEZ SAID, ARE MOSTLY ON THE FUGURE OF PHASE III. ACCORDING TO MENDEZ, THE PDC IS DESPERATELY TRYING TO HAVE THE UPD ENDORSE COMPROMISE LANGUAGE THAT THE PDC HAS TENTATIVELY CLEARE WITH THE PCN, PAISA AND AD PARTIES. THE UPD CONSIDERS THE PDC PROPOSAL SO FAR UNACCEPTABLE BECAUSE IT ALLEGED LY DOES NOT AFFORD PHASE III WITH BASIC PROTECTION UNDE THE CONSTITUTION AND WOULD INSTEAD RELY ON REVERSIBLE LEGISLATION. MENDEZ AND ACOPAI PRESIDENT JORGE CAMACHO EXPRESSED FRUSTRATUION OVER WHAT THEY CONSIDER IS THE PDC'S RELUCTANCE TO PUSH STRONGLY FOR THE ORIGINAL UPD REVISION TO THE DRAFT ARTICLES DEALING WITH LAND TENURE (WHICH THE PDC HAS ADMITTED IT IS COMMITTED TO SUPPORT). MENDEZ AND CAMACHO BELIEVE THAT THE PDC'S TIMIDITY IS MOSTLY DUE TO THE FACT THAT THE PDC SENSES A SHIFT TO THE RIGHT IN THE POLITICAL SCENE AND COULD BE INTIMIDATED BY THE RECENT SHOW OF

RIGHTIST VIOLENCE. MENDEZ SAYS HE IS WORRIED THAT THE PDC IS NOT INTERESTED IN THE AGRARIAN REFORM ANY MORE, OR AT LEAST NOT CHAMPIONING IT WITH THE SAME FERV. OF YORE. HE NOTES THAT IN THE CASE OF ECREE 207 (PHASE III), THE PDC IS PUSHING FOR OUTRIGHT TERMINATION OF THE LATEST EXTENSION BEFORE ITS NATURAL EXPIRATION DATE OF DECEMBER 31, 1983. THE QUID PRO QUO FOR EARLY TERMINATION WOULD BE TO GUARANTEE FINAL TITLE TO ALL PHASE III APPLICANTS REGARDLESS OF LANDLORD OPPOSITION. MENDEZ RUEFULLY FORECASTS THAT IF THE UPD IS ALLOWED TO BECOME THE ONLY BULWARK OF THE AGRARIAN REFORM IN EL SALVADOR, WITH NO POLITICAL PARTY TO CHAMPION ITS VIEWS AND THOSE OF THE CAMPESINOS, THE UPD WILL GRADUALLY LOSE ITS POLITICAL SPACE AND WIL BE SUBJECTED TO AN EVEN FIERCER PERSECUTION BY RIGHTIST

8. COMMENT: THE DRAFT ARTICLES ON LAND TENURE WILL BE PROBABLY DISCUSSED, FINALLY, DURING THE WEEK OF OCTOBER 17-21. ALTHOUGH THE UPD IS APPARENTLY HANGING TOUGH ON ANY COMPROMISE LANGUAGE, UPD REPS TOLD AMBASSADOR ON OCTOBER 8 THAT THEY WOULD BE WILLING TO ACCEPT THE PDC PROPOSAL TO GIVE PERMANENT TITLES AUTOMATICALLY TO ALL REGISTERED PHASE III BENEFICIARIES UP UNTIL DECEMBER 31, 1983, WITH NO EXTENSIONS BEYOND THAT DATE (REFTEL). THEY ALSO BELIEVE THAT AN ACCEPTABLE COMPROMISE COULD BE REACHED ON PHASE II. WE DO NOT BELIEVE THAT THE PDC HAS LOST ANY OF ITS INTEREST IN AN EQUITABLE AGRARIAN REFORM. THE PDC MAY INDEED BE SOMEWHAT INTIMIDATED BY THE RECENT UPSURG IN RIGHTIST VIOLENCE AND IS NATURALLY BEHAVING MORE TIMIDLY THAN USUAL. UNLIKE THE UPD, MOREOVER, THE PDC IS A POLITICAL PARTY CONCERNED WITH THE ART OF THE POSSIBLE AND WILL BE PROBABLY MORE INCLINED TO ACCEPT A COMPROMISE WHICH THE "ALL OR NOTHING" UPD MAY HAVE MORE TROUBLE SWALLOWING. END COMMENT. PICKERING

SONSONATE. ACCORDING TO AIFLD, UCS PROMOTERS IN SANTA ANA AND AHUACHAPAN HAVE BEEN ACCUSED BY LOCAL MILITARY COMMANDERS, OF BELONGING TO GUERRILLA GROUPS WHO HAVE ALSO THREATENED THEM WITH DEATH. PROMOTERS AND AFFILIATES OF ACOPAI IN SONSONATE HAVE BEEN ACCUSED OF BEING COMMUNISTS AFTER A SERIES OF DISPUTES, REGARDIN DECREE 207 CLAIMS, WITH LOCAL LANDOWNERS. ONE OF THESE INCIDENTS REPORTED BY AIFLD AND ACOPAI, RESULTED IN THE IMPRISONMENT OF FOUR ACOPAI MEMBERS AND THE DEATH OF TWO CHILDREN, SHOT BY THE NATIONAL GUARD SOLDIERS

MAKING THE ARRESTS. IN SAN SALVADOR, FOUR MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL CENTRAL OF WORKERS (CTS) WERE ARRESTED OVER THE PAST WEEK ON VARIOUS UNSPECIFIED CHARGES. NON-UPD LABOR LEADERS HAVE BEEN ALSO ARRESTED IN SIGNIFICANT NUMBERS. EYEWITNESSES TOLD US THAT ROSENDO MEJIA CAMPIO, SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE STRIKING URBAN HOUSING INSTITUTE WORKERS UNION (SETIVU), WAS ARRESTED ON SEPTEMBER 29 BY UNIFORMED MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL POLICE. (COMMENT: WE ARE SEEKING CONFIRMATION.) SANTIAGO HERNANDEZ, SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE LEGAL LEFTIST LABOR UNION UNITY FEDERATION (FUSS) WAS KIDNAPP BY ARMED CIVILIANS ON SEPTEMBER 26, WHILE ON HIS WAY TO A PRESS CONFERENCE: (HIS BODY WAS LATER FOUND--SEE SEPTEL) TWO MEMBERS OF THE CENTRIST GENERAL CONFEDERATI OF LABOR UNIONS (CGS) WERE ARRESTED ON SEPTEMBER 29 AND FIRED FROM THEIR GOVERNMENT JOBS UPON THEIR RELEASE.

GROUPS. VAZQUEZ SAID THAT D'AUBUISSON'S ATTACK AG MALDONADO WAS A VICIOUS ATTEMPT TO CRIPPLE THE UPD DRIVE TO HAVE THE AGRARIAN REFORM ENSHRINED IN THE CONSTITUTION. VAZQUEZ STATED THAT THE UPD HOLDS D'AUBUISSON RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY ATTACK ON MALDONADO AS A RESULT OF THE D'AUBUISSON CHARGES. VAZQUEZ ALSO CALLED D'AUBUISSON A HYPOCRITE, REFERRING TO THE LATTER'S STATEMENT THAT HE RESPECTED ALL OTHER UPD LEADERS EXCEPT MALDONADO. THE UPD SPOKESMAN ALSO POINTED OUT THAT AT LEAST FIVE OTHER POLITICAL AND LABO LEADERS (INCLUDING ARCHBISHOP ROMERO AND UCS LEADER RODOLFO VIERA) WERE ALL KILLED SHORTLY AFTER JUST SUCH A D'AUBUISSON ATTACK. VAZQUEZ VOWED THAT THE UPD WOULD CONTINUE ITS DEMOCRATIC STRUGGLE AND THAT IT WILL USE ALL LEGAL MEANS AT ITS DISPOSAL TO SAFEGUARD THE LIVES OF ITS MEMBERS AND LEADERS.

6. LATER ON OCTOBER 6, AIFLD DIRECTOR RUPERT SCOFIELD TOLD AMBASSADOR PICKERING THAT MALDONADO MAY HAVE PARTICIPATED IN A FEW CONVERSATIONS WITH FAPU ACTIVISTS IN 1979. SCOFIELD BELIEVES THAT MALDONADO HAS HAD NO FURTHER CONTACTS WITH THESE GROUPS AND HAS UNIMPEACHABLE DEMOCRATIC CREDENTIALS. THE AMBASSADOR TOLD SCOFIELD THAT HE SENT A MESSAGE TO D'AUBUISSON AS SOON AS THE CHARGES WERE MADE PUBLIC AND REQUESTED TO MEET WITH HIM. THE AMBASSADOR RECOUNTED THE GIST OF THE MEETING WITH D'AUBUISSON, DURING WHICH THE LATTER MAINTAINED THAT THE EVIDENCE OF MALDONADO'S LINKS WITH THE GUERRILLA GROUPS WAS IN THE HANDS OF THE SECURITY FORCES. ACCORDING TO MENDEZ, THE PDC IS DESPERATELY TRYING TO HAVE THE UPD ENDORSE COMPROMISE LANGUAGE THAT THE PDC HAS TENTATIVELY CLEARE WITH THE PCN, PAISA AND AD PARTIES. THE UPD CONSIDERS THE PDC PROPOSAL SO FAR UNACCEPTABLE BECAUSE IT ALLEGED LY DOES NOT AFFORD PHASE III WITH BASIC PROTECTION UNDE THE CONSTITUTION AND WOULD INSTEAD RELY ON REVERSIBLE LEGISLATION. MENDEZ AND ACOPAI PRESIDENT JORGE CANACHO EXPRESSED FRUSTRATUION OVER WHAT THEY CONSIDER IS THE PDC'S RELUCTANCE TO PUSH STRONGLY FOR THE ORIGINAL UPD REVISION TO THE DRAFT ARTICLES DEALING WITH LAND TENURE (WHICH THE PDC HAS ADMITTED IT IS COMMITTED TO SUPPORT). MENDEZ AND CANACHO BELIEVE THAT THE PDC'S TIMIDITY IS MOSTLY DUE TO THE FACT THAT THE PDC SENSES A SHIFT TO THE RIGHT IN THE POLITICAL SCENE AND COULD BE INTIMIDATED BY THE RECENT SHOW OF

RIGHTIST VIOLENCE. MENDEZ SAYS HE IS WORRIED THAT THE PDC IS NOT INTERESTED IN THE AGRARIAN REFORM ANY MORE, OR AT LEAST NOT CHAMPIONING IT WITH THE SAME FERV OF YORE. HE NOTES THAT IN THE CASE OF ECREE 207 (PHASE III), THE PDC IS PUSHING FOR OUTRIGHT TERMINATION OF THE LATEST EXTENSION BEFORE ITS NATURAL EXPIRATION DATE OF DECEMBER 31, 1983. THE QUID PRO QUO FOR EARLY TERMINATION WOULD BE TO GUARANTEE FINAL TITLE TO ALL PHASE III APPLICANTS REGARDLESS OF LAND-LORD OPPOSITION. MENDEZ RUEFULLY FORECASTS THAT IF

THE UPD IS ALLOWED TO BECOME THE ONLY BULWARK OF THE AGRARIAN REFORM IN EL SALVADOR, WITH NO POLITICAL PARTY TO CHAMPION ITS VIEWS AND THOSE OF THE CAMPESINOS, THE UPD WILL GRADUALLY LOSE ITS POLITICAL SPACE AND WILL BE SUBJECTED TO AN EVEN FIERCER PERSECUTION BY RIGHTIST

8. COMMENT: THE DRAFT ARTICLES ON LAND TENURE WILL BE PROBABLY DISCUSSED, FINALLY, DURING THE WEEK OF OCTOBER 17-21. ALTHOUGH THE UPD IS APPARENTLY HANGING TOUGH ON ANY COMPROMISE LANGUAGE, UPD REPS TOLD AMBAS- SADOR ON OCTOBER 6 THAT THEY WOULD BE WILLING TO ACCEPT THE PDC PROPOSAL TO GIVE PERMANENT TITLES AUTOMATICALLY TO ALL REGISTERED PHASE III BENEFICIARIES UP UNTIL DECEMBER 31, 1983, WITH NO EXTENSIONS BEYOND THAT DATE (REFTEL). THEY ALSO BELIEVE THAT AN ACCEPTABLE COMPROMISE COULD BE REACHED ON PHASE II. WE DO NOT BELIEVE THAT THE PDC HAS LOST ANY OF ITS INTEREST IN AN EQUITABLE AGRARIAN REFORM. THE PDC MAY INDEED BE SOMEWHAT INTIMIDATED BY THE RECENT UPSURG IN RIGHTIST VIOLENCE AND IS NATURALLY BEHAVING MORE TIMIDLY THAN USUAL. UNLIKE THE UPD, MOREOVER, THE PDC IS A POLITICAL PARTY CONCERNED WITH THE ART OF THE POSSIBLE AND WILL BE PROBABLY MORE INCLINED TO ACCEPT A COMPROMISE WHICH THE "ALL OR NOTHING" UPD MAY HAVE MORE TROUBLE SWALLOWING. 'Hopeless but not serious'

By William E. Griffith

COMMENTARY

They used to say in pre-1914 Vienna that the situation was "hopeless but not serious." When I left Central America last month, I felt and still do that the same is true for us in Central America. Central America will long continue to be strife-torn, recalcitrant and hopeless. But minimal US efforts can keep Soviet and Cuban influence there from spreading. What Central America does or rather does not do for itself is its own business.

Central America is hopeless because it is poverty stricken. It has no natural resources. And it is split between Spanish-speaking urban dwellers and Indians who remain outside modern society. It has all the Spanish tradition of blood-drenched civil strife plus more of its own. Our long history of ignorant, blundering, repressive and thoughtless imperialism toward it makes us less knowledgeable, more incapable and thus more unsuitable to deal with its problems than anyone else.

So why don't we just quit Central America entirely? Aren't we doing more harm than good there? Why try to save something unsalvageable? To try to answer why we should not quit, let me set forth where, I think, Reagan is right about Central America and where he is wrong.

REAGAN IS RIGHT:

1. Not to quit. Central America is too close to us and even closer to Mexico. It is too weak alone to resist foreign influence. And if we quit, the guerrillas, the Nicaraguans, the Russians and the Cubans will not quit. So we and Mexico would have more Cubas to our south. The junta in Nicaragua and the guerrillas in El Salvador are what they say they are: Marxists-Leninists; convinced that only they can, and must, fight for social justice by trampling on democracy and civil rights. That they will corrupt their countries and themselves they neither think of now nor will care later. To keep their power will become, as it always does, their supreme goal. We find it rightly difficult, and should find it more so, to come to terms with anti-Communist tyrants. We cannot do so with pro-Soviet ones.

2. To see the El Salvadoran guerrillas as a victory for Managua, Havana and Moscow. And he is right to try to prevent this. True, Moscow and Havana did not support and do not control the guerrilla risings, and to claim that they do is to discredit one's own efforts. But they are scavengers of revolution, and without our efforts they will greatly profit from a guerrilla victory.

3. He is right to harass Nicaragua as long as it finances, trains, arms and helps direct the El Salvador guerrillas. Unilateral disarmament never works with tyrants of the right or the left. It will not work with Managua or Havana any more than it has worked with Moscow. The President's show of naval force has spoken to Managua, Havana and Moscow and pushed them somewhat toward moderation.

4. Finally, he is right to negotiate with and harass the guerrillas, and we should do the same with Nicaragua and Cuba. More accurately, congressional pressure has brought Reagan to this correct double-track strategy.

REAGAN IS WRONG:

1. To harass Nicaragua with "contras" (anti-Communist guerrillas), most of whom never fought Somoza's bloody, corrupt dictatorship (which we all too long supported), some of whom were in Somoza's National Guard and few of whom were in the Sandinista revolution against him. To split the Sandinista revolutionaries and thereby win popular support in Nicaragua is a reasonable objective. But invading Nicaragua is unreasonable, and fortunately Congress has made it impossible. But one cannot split revolutionaries with Somoza's remnants. Revolution is fought and won by politics even more than by arms. Reagan is supporting the wrong contras.

2. To have much too large a military presence in Honduras. It will turn much of the country against us and the rest of Latin America as well, for it is too reminiscent of our imperialist past and therefore counterproductive in our political struggle to defeat the guerrillas.

3. To have a military presence in Honduras and El Salvador that makes a mockery of his declarations about pushing the extreme right there out of power. Their corrupt and incompetent military leaders prop up their outmoded, exploiting oligarchies. Reagan talks about helping to move these countries toward the political center. But not only does he not do it politically, but his basically apolitical military presence there helps the very right-wing military and the oligarchies he claims he wants to push out of power. We cannot help to win, and eventually we will help to lose, the counter-guerrilla struggle unless we force reforms on the extreme right in El Salvador. It will not reform itself, and we are sabotaging ourselves as long as we don't do what we say we want.

SUBJECT: UPD BLASTS D'AUBUISSON AGAIN

REF: SAN SALVADOR 05336

1. SUMMARY: THE UPD POLITICAL COMMISSION HELD A PRESS CONFERENCE ON OCTOBER 14 TO RESPOND TO MAJOR ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON'S OCTOBER 11 CHARGES AGAINST UCS LEADER AND UPD POLITICAL COMMISSION MEMBER SAMUEL MALDONADO (REFTEL). THE PRINCIPAL UPD SPOKESMAN WAS ACCIDAL PRESIDENT JORGE RUIZ CAMACHO, WHOM D'AUBUISSON HAD CALLED "THE ONLY UPD LEADER WHO HAS MY RESPECT..., AND WHO WORKED WITH ME IN SENSAL" (NOTE: SENSAL WAS THE ARMY INTELLIGENCE SERVICE). CAMACHO DELIVERED WHAT MANY ATTENDING JOURNALISTS DESCRIBED WAS THE MOST DEVASTATING VERBAL ATTACK AGAINST D'AUBUISSON EVER TO HAVE BEEN PUBLICLY EXPRESSED WITHIN EL SALVADOR END SUMMARY.

2. CAMACHO INVEIGHED HEAVILY AGAINST D'AUBUISSON'S "DESPERATE" DEFAMATION CAMPAIGN TO HAMSTRING THE UPD'S EFFORTS TO ENSURE THAT THE AGRARIAN REFORM WILL BE ENSHRINED IN THE NEW CONSTITUTION. (COMMENT: LAND TENURE ARTICLES OF THE CONSTITUTION WILL PROBABLY BE DISCUSSED DURING THE WEEK OF OCTOBER 17-21. END COMMENT.) THE UPD ATTRIBUTED D'AUBUISSON'S ACCUSATIONS AGAINST THE UCS AND MALDONADO TO "INTERNAL PRESSURE WHICH D'AUBUISSON IS RECEIVING FROM THE AGRICULTURAL SECTOR OF HIS PARTY, ARENA", AND FROM A POWERFUL ARENA MINORITY WHICH IS AFFECTED BY THE CONTINUING IMPLEMENTATION OF DECREE 207 ("THE LAND TO THE TILLER PROGRAM"). DESPAIRING OF ACHIEVING HIS ENDS THROUGH PURELY DEMOCRATIC MEANS, THE UPD ARGUED, D'AUBUISSON CHOSE TO REVERT TO TYPE AND FALSELY ACCUSED POLITICAL OPPONENTS OF HAVING LINKS WITH THE GUERRILLAS. THIS TACTIC, THE UPD SAID, IS INTENDED TO DESTROY THE GROWING DEMOCRATIC CENTER IN EL SALVADOR. D'AUBUISSON EMBARKED UPON IT WITH THE CERTAINTY THAT IT WOULD ENDANGER THE LIVES OF THOSE WHO "REPRESENT THE ONLY BARRIER" AGAINST THE REPRESSIVE AND VIOLENT "MODEL," HE IS "ATTEMPTING TO IMPOSE ON EL SALVADOR."

3. CAMACHO CALLED D'AUBUISSON A "DROWNING MAN" WHO IN HIS DEATH THROES, IS KICKING OUT AT THE UPD. CAMACHO STATED THAT THESE TACTICS WERE ALREADY OUTDATED AND ARE NOW COUNTERPRODUCTIVE. THE COUNTRY IS BECOMING INCREASINGLY MORE DEMOCRATIC AND THEREFORE, ACCORDING TO CAMACHO, D'AUBUISSON'S ATTACKS HAVE ONLY SERVED TO UNMASK HIM FOR GOOD. CAMACHO, HIS VOICE HEAVY WITH MOCK COMPASSION, TOLD THE PRESS THAT D'AUBUISSON'S BACKERS HAD PRESENTED HIM WITH THE BILL FOR THEIR SUPPORT AND REQUESTED HE FULFILL HIS PROMISES TO ROLL BACK THE AGRARIAN REFORM AND ELIMINATE THE LEFTIST THREAT. UNABLE TO ACCOMPLISH THE GOALS FOR WHICH HE WAS ENDORSED, D'AUBUISSON IS NOW BLINDLY TRYING TO GET EVEN WITH THOSE ELEMENTS IN THE DEMOCRATIC CENTER WHO HAVE DONE MOST TO MAKE DEMOCRACY SUCCEED IN EL SALVADOR. CAMACHO GLEEFULLY "REMINDED" D'AUBUISSON THAT HE HAD EVEN FAILED TO IDENTIFY HIS ENEMY CORRECTLY: WHILE D'AUBUISSON IS BUSY ATTACKING THE CENTER, PAISA, HIS NEW DE FACTO CONSERVATIVE ALLY, IS SYPHONING OFF MANY ARENA BACKERS AND SUPPORTERS. "IT IS NOT FROM PREVIOUS PCN SUPPORTERS THAT PAISA IS GARNERING MOST OF ITS STRENGTH," CAMACHO STATED, "BUT FROM GROUPS WHO HAVE BEEN SUPPORTING ARENA."

4. FINALLY, THE UPD COMMISSION TOLD THE PRESS THAT THEY CONTINUE TO HOLD MAJOR D'AUBUISSON PERSONALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY ATTACK ON THE PERSON OF SAMUEL MALDONADO. THE LATTER, THEY ANNOUNCED, IS RETURNING TO EL SALVADOR FROM THE UNITED STATES DURING THE WEEK OF OCTOBER 17. THE UPD ALSO INFORMED NEWSMEN THAT THEY HAD SPOKEN WITH NATIONAL POLICE DIRECTOR REYNALDO LOPEZ NUILA ON THE VERY MORNING OF THE PRESS INTERVIEW AND WERE PROMISED THAT THE POLICE WOULD SEND PROTECTIVE DETACHMENTS TO GUARD ALL UPD INSTALLATIONS, ON A 24-HOUR BASIS. HE INDICATED HIS OBJECTION TO ANY PROVOCATIVE ACTIONS BY THE GRN IN HONDURAS AND SAID HE WOULD BE TAKING A DIRECT PERSONAL INTEREST IN WAYS TO GUARANTEE POLITICAL PARTIES' ACTIVITIES. HE ALSO SUGGESTED HE WOULD BE WORKING ON WAYS TO MODIFY PRESS CENSORSHIP. END SUMMARY.

2. IN PREPARATION FOR THE SAN SALVADOR CHIEFS OF MISSION MEETING, I CALLED ON INTERIOR MINISTER BORGE OCTOBER 22 FOR A TOUR D'HORIZON. BORGE RECEIVED ME ALONE IN HIS HOME IN A LOWER MIDDLE CLASS SUBURB OF MANAGUA. WEDISCUSSED AT SOME LENGTH BOTH THE MILITARY AND POLITICAL SITUATION IN THE COUNTRY.

THE SECRETARY ON MONDAY. BORGE RESPONDED BY SAYING THERE WAS ONE ESSENTIAL POINT THAT WE SHOULD KEEP IN MIND. IF THE US INTERVENED MILITARILY IN NICARAGUA, THE COSTS WOULD BE VERY HIGH, NOT ONLY INTERNATIONALLY BUT ALSO IN TERMS OF LIVES. THE REVOLUTION WAS ARMING THE PEOPLE AND WOULD DEFEND ITSELF. HE NOTED, HOWEVER, THAT THE GRN HAD BEEN VERY PATIENT IN THE FACE OF RECENT ATTACKS. IT WOULD HAVE BEEN JUSTIFIED IN AIDING REVOLUTIONARY GROUPS IN NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES AT A TIME WHEN SO MANY MEN WERE BEING ARMED AND TRAINED AGAINST THE REVOLUTION. I SAID I HOPED NICARAGUA WOULD NOT TAKE ANY PROVOCATIVE STEPS IN NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES IN AN EFFORT TO DISRUPT WHAT SEVERAL SANDINISTAS HAD CALLED THE "ENEMY'S REAR GUARD." BORGE INSISTED THA HE WAS PERSONALLY OPPOSED TO ANY PROVOCATIVE ACTION OF THIS KIND.

5. THE CONVERSATION THEN TURNED TO THE RECENT NICARAGUAN PEACE PROPOSALS. I SAID THEY CONTAINED SOME POSITIVE FEATURES BUT MADE NO PROVISION FOR DEMOCRATIZATION OR FOR RECONCILIATION BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND ITS NICARAGUAN ADVERSARIES. THE COMANDANTE IMMEDIATELY SAID THERE WAS NO POSSIBILITY OF SUBSTANTIVE NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE COUNTERREVOLUTION. THE ONLY SUBJECT TO BE DISCUSSED WAS THE SURRENDER OF THE CONTRAS. THERE WAS NO PLACE IN NICARAGUA'S POLITICAL LIFE FOR THE EX-GUARDIA OR PASTORA. IT MIGHT, HOWEVER, BE POSSIBLE TO NEGOTIATE A FUTURE ROLE FOR POLITICIANS SUCH AS ARTURO CURZ, ALFREDO CESA AND EVEN ADOLPHO CALERO.

6. BORGE WENT ON TO SAY THAT HE PERSONALLY CONTINUED TO SUPPORT GENUINE DEMOCRACY AND PLURALISM IN NICARAGUA. HE CITED THE RECENT POLITICAL PARTIES LAW AS PROGRESS BUT ALSO INDICATED THAT THERE WOULD NOW BE DELAYS IN MOVING FORWARD ON THE ELECTORAL LAW BECAUSE OF THE DIFFICULT SITUATION WIICH EXISTED IN THE COUNTRY. I POINTED OUT TO HIM A SENTENCE IN AN EDITORIAL IN TODAY'S EL NUEVO DIARIO WHICH SAID CATEGORICALLY THERE WOULD BE NO REPRESENTATIVE DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA.

BORGE SEEMED SURPRISED, BUT SAID THAT WAS NOT HIS VIEW. UNCLAS
THE PROBLEM, HE CLAIMED, IN CREATING DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA
WAS THE VERY WEAKNESS OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES, BOTH INSIDE AND OUTSIDE THE GOVERNMENT COALITION. HE SAID HE HAD TOLD HIS INTERLOCUTORS IN EUROPE THAT GIVEN THE WEAKNESS OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES, A STRONG DEMOCRACY COULD NOT QUICKLY BE CREATED. HE REPEATEDLY REFERRED TO THE PROBLEMS OF THE SOCIAL CHRISTIANS, MENTIONING THAT HE HAD HEARD A LOT ABOUT THEM DURING HIS EUROPEAN TOUR, PARTICULARLY THOSE THAT WERE IN JAIL. HE INSISTED THAT THE PSC MEMBERS WHO WERE IMPREISONED HAD BEEN ARRESTED FOR CONSPIRATIORIAL ACTIVITIES AND IN ONE CASE, DRUP DEALING, BUT NOT BECAUSE OF THEIR POLITICAL VIEWS.
NEVERTHELESS, HE SAID THAT HE INTENDED TO MEET WITH THE SOCIAL CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP TO SEE WHETHER SOME OF THEIR PROBLEMS COULD BE WORKED OUT AND TO CLARIFY THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN
[redacted]

[redacted]

LEGITIMATE POLITICAL ACTIVITIES AND CONSPIRATORIAL ACTIONS.

7. I SAID THAT, FRANKLY SPEAKING, I THOUGHT IT WAS UNLIKELY THAT NICARAGUA WOULD MAKE MUCH PROGRESS ON ITS NEGOTIATING PROPOSALS IF THERE WERE NOT SOME PROGRESS INTERNALLY.
NICARAGUA'S NEIGHBORS SAW A SITUATION THAT WAS BECOMING MORE
RADICALIZED AND MORE MILITARIZED. THIS SITUATION WAS A SOURCE OF GREAT CONCERN TO THEM. WHAT WAS NEEDED WAS A RELAXATION OF PRESS CENSORSHIP AND CONCRETE ACTIONS TO DEMOCRATIZE THE REVOLUTION. BORGE ACKNOWLEDGED THE POINT AND SAID HE WOULD ALSO BE LOOKING AT PRESS CENSOR-SHIP. PEDRO JARQUIN CHAMORRO WAS A SENSIBLE MAN AND HE INTENDED TO SPEAK WITH HIM. THERE WERE ENTHUSIASTS
IN THE CENSORSHIP OFFICE WHO OFTEN WENT TOO FAR.

8. I TOOK ADVANTAGE OF THE MEETING TO EXPRESS MY CONCERN ABOUT RECENT STATEMENTS BY PHILIP AGEE CALLING FOR ACTS AGAINST THE AMERICAN EMBASSY AND ITS PERSONNEL. I SAID I HOPED THAT THERE WOULD NOT BE ANY HOSTILE ACTION AGAINST US.
BORGE IMMEDIATELY RESPONDED THAT NO MATTER HOW DIFFICULT THE SITUATION BECAME, AND EVEN IF THERE WERE WAR, HE COULD ASSURE ME THERE WOULD BE NO VIOLENT ATTACKS ON THE EMBASSY AND THAT OUR SECURITY WOULD BE MAINTAINED.

9. AS I WAS LEAVING, BORGE ASKED ABOUT HIS VISA. I TOLD HIM THAT I WAS AUTHORIZED TO GRANT HIM A VISA BUT HAD NO IDEA ABOUT HIS PLANS. HE MADE CLEAR THAT HE HAD NO IMMEDIATE PLANS TO TRAVEL TO THE US. HE WISHED TO PREPARE THE VISIT CAREFULLY, TO GO WITH ONLY A SMALL DELEGATION, AND TO LIMITED THE NUMBER OF HIS PUBLIC COMMITMENTS. HE COLUNTEERED THAT THE VISIT WOULD NOT BE FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING ANTI-AMERICAN PROPAGANDA.

[redacted]

[redacted] UNCLASSIFIED

10. COMMENT: UNLIKE DANIEL ORTEGA LAST WEEK, BORGE WAS ENTIRELY NON-CONFRONTATIONAL. HE HADE NO ACCUSATIONS AGAINST THE US OR THE ADMINISTRATION. HIS ASSURANCES ABOUT HIS DEMOCRATIC PROCLIVITIES, OF COURSE, NEED TO BE TAKEN WITH A MASSIVE GRAIN OF SALT. NONETHELESS, HE SEEMED TO GRASP THE ESSENTIAL INTERRELATIONSHIP BETWEEN NICARAGUA'S SECURITY AGENDA AND ITS INTERNAL POLITICAL EVOLUTION.

RAPIDLY IN THE POST-WORLD WAR II PERIOD, BUT THE SCALE OF PRODUCTION IS SMALL, AND IN GENERAL IT IS NOT NOW COMPETITIVE OUTSIDE THE REGION. ECONOMIC GROWTH DURING THE PAST 30 YEARS RAISED GUATEMALA TO THE MIDDLE RANK OF DEVELOPING COUNTRIES, AS MEASURED BY PER CAPITA GNP AND OTHER ECONOMIC INDICATORS, BUT THIS GROWTH ALSO ACCENTUATED THE CONTRAST BETWEEN THE MODERN SECTOR AND THE RURAL POPULATION, WHICH HAS EXPERIENCED RELATIVELY LITTLE PROGRESS. INCOME DISTRIBUTION, CONSEQUENTLY, IS HIGHLY SKEWED. ECONOMIC ACTIVITY IS OVERWHELMINGLY IN PRIVATE HANDS; PRIVATE PROPERTY IS RESPECTED IN LAW AND PRACTICE. THE PUBLIC SECTOR IS PROPORTIONATELY AMONG THE SMALLEST IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE. GUATEMALA IS WELL-ENDOWED BY SOIL AND CLIMATE, HYDRO-ELECTRIC RESOURCES, HARD MINERALS, AND PERHAPS PETROLEUM.

THE COUNTRY CONTINUED TO SUFFER AN ACTIVE INSURGENCY FOMENTED BY FOUR DISTINCT MARXIST LENINIST GUERRILLA GROUPS, ALTHOUGH THE GOVERNMENT MADE SIGNIFICANT GAINS IN CONTROLLING EXTENSIVE AREAS WHERE THE GUERRILLAS HAD BEEN PREVIOUSLY ENTRENCHED. FOR MUCH OF THE YEAR THE INSURGENCY WAS CONCENTRATED IN THE WESTERN HIGHLANDS. PART OF THE GOVERNMENT'S SUCCESS COULD BE [redacted]

[redacted]

FREQUENTLY HAVE BECOME A TARGET OF THE INSURGENCY.

THE RIOS MONTT GOVERNMENT, BEFORE ITS REMOVAL, REFORMED THE POLITICAL PARTIES LAW AND ESTABLISHED A BODY, THE SUPREME ELECTORAL TRIBUNAL, TO SUPERVISE AND ADMINISTER PLANNED CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS IN 1984 AND SUBSEQUENT NATIONAL ELECTIONS. UNDER THE NEW LAWS, SOME THIRTY-SIX PRE-PARTY COMMITTEES HAVE BEEN FORMED TO PARTICIPATE IN THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS. THESE COMMITTEES ARE NOW PURSING THE ESTABLISHED PROCEDURES TO OBTAIN 4,000 VALID SIGNATURES EACH AND OBTAIN FORMAL REGISTRATION ON THE BALLOT FOR THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS. THE DATE FOR THESE ELECTIONS WAS ANNOUNCED BY RIOS MONTT AS JULY 1, 1984, AND WAS RECONFIRMED BY HIS SUCCESSOR, GENERAL MEJIA. ALTHOUGH SOME POLITICAL LEADERS REMAIN TO BE CONVINCED, THE POLITICAL SECTOR IS ACTIVELY PREPARING TO PARTICIPATE, AND UNIVERSALLY ANTICIPATES THAT THE CURRENT MILITARY GOVERNMENT WILL BE REPLACED IN 1985 BY AN ELECTED CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT AFTER THE COMPLETION OF A NEW CONSTITUTION BY THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY.

HUMAN RIGHTS PRACTICES IMPROVED IN 1983. VIOLENCE AND POLITICAL DEATHS REGISTERED A SIGNIFICANT DROP. AFTER GENERAL MEJIA VICTORES ASSUMED POWER ON AUGUST 8, THE STATE OF EMERGENCY WAS LIFTED; THE SECRET SPECIAL TRIBUNALS WERE ABOLISHED; AND THE DEATH PENALTY REMOVED FOR CRIMES TRIED BEFORE THE SPECIAL TRIBUNALS. BOTH MILITARY GOVERNMENTS IN POWER DURING THE [redacted]

YEAR COOPERATED WITH HUMAN RIGHTS INVESTIGATORS, ALTHOUGH THERE CONTINUED TO BE CASES OF SPECIFIC VIOLATIONS INVOLVING GOVERNMENT SECURITY FORCES AND DEEP DIFFERENCES OF PERCEPTION AS TO THE ROOT CAUSES OF THE VIOLENCE BETWEEN THE GUATEMALAN AND INTERNATIONAL OBSERVERS. BECAUSE THE INSURGENCY IS STILL ACTIVE, AND IN FACT, HAS BEEN STEPPED UP AGAINST THE MEJIA GOVERNMENT, HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS WILL UNDOUBTEDLY CONTINUE TO OCCUR.

GUATEMALA IS A COUNTRY WITH A VERY LARGE INDIGENOUS POPULATION. THE DISPARATE SOCIO-ECONOMIC STATE OF THIS SECTOR IS SUCH THAT IT HAS BEEN A TARGET OF OPPORTUNITY FOR INSURGENT CAUSES FOR OVER TWENTY YEARS. THE PROBLEMS OF THIS SECTOR HAVE BEEN ADDRESSED WITH VARYING BUT LIMITED LEVELS OF RESOURCES AND COMMITMENT BY A SUCCESSION OF GOVERNMENTS. THESE EFFORTS HAVE NOT RESULTED IN FUNDAMENTAL CHANGES. BOTH THE INDIGENOUS AND MODERN SECTORS ARE CONSERVATIVE, TRADITIONAL AND HAVE BEEN LITTLE SWAYED BY REVOLUTIONARY CAUSES. THERE IS A HISTORY OF ARTICULATED COMMITMENT TO DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES, HOWEVER IMPERFECTLY APPLIED, AND A STRONG AND INDEPENDENT NATIONAL IDENTITY ON THE PART OF THE MODERN SECTOR, AND AN EQUALLY STRONG CULTURAL IDENTITY ON THE PART OF THE INDIGENOUS SECTOR. A PRINCIPAL THRUST OF DOMESTIC CRITICISM IS THAT THE EXISTING SYSTEM DOES NOT ADEQUATELY GUARANTEE HUMAN RIGHTS OF THE CITIZENRY.

[redacted]

1. (A) UNLAWFUL OR ARBITRARY DEPRIVATION OF LIFE

VIOLENCE CONTINUED TO BE A SERIOUS PROBLEM DURING 1983, BUT POLITICALLY RELATED DEATHS IN THE FIRST NINE MONTHS WERE DOWN MORE THAN 50 PERCENT FROM THE SAME PERIOD IN 1982. THE VIOLENCE THAT DID OCCUR DURING 1983 CAME FROM MANY SOURCES.

THERE WERE FOUR SELF-PROCLAIMED MARXIST-LENINIST INSURGENT GROUPS OPERATING IN GUATEMALA DURING 1983, DEDICATED TO THE VIOLENT OVERTHROW OF THE EXISTING SOCIO-ECONOMIC ORDER. THESE GROUPS ARE: REVOLUTIONARY ORGANIZATION OF THE PEOPLE IN ARMS (ORPA), THE GUERRILLA ARMY OF THE POOR (EGP), THE REBEL ARMED FORCES (FAR), AND THE GUATEMALAN COMMUNIST PARTY (PGT). THE FOUR GROUPS ARE NOMINALLY UNDER AN UMBRELLA COMMAND, THE GUATEMALAN NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY UNION (URNG).

IN ADDITION, THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY HAS BEEN A FACTOR IN THE VIOLENCE IN ITS EFFORTS TO END THE ARMED INSURGENCY. IN SPITE OF A GOVERNMENT POLICY TO INCREASE AWARENESS OF HUMAN RIGHTS AMONG THE MILITARY, CASES OF ABUSE CONTINUED TO OCCUR.

STILL ANOTHER FACTOR IN GUATEMALA'S VIOLENCE IS THE APPROXIMATELY 700,000 MEMBERS OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS. THERE HAVE BEEN REPORTS OF VIOLENCE BETWEEN NEIGHBORING CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS OVER LAND DISPUTES OR PERSONAL VENDETTAS.

IN ADDITION, THE CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS ARE POORLY TRAINED REGARDING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS.

THERE WERE ALSO REPORTS OF VIOLENCE BETWEEN MEMBERS OF DIFFERENT RELIGIOUS GROUPS. THIS AROSE DURING THE REGIME OF GENERAL RIOS MONTT, WHO WAS A HIGHLY PROMINENT MEMBER OF AN EVANGELICAL PROTESTANT CHURCH. IT WAS CHARGED THAT PROTESTANTS RECEIVED PREFERENTIAL TREATMENT BY THE GOVERNMENT, AND THAT THE GOVERNMENT WAS ACTIVELY ANTI-CATHOLIC. AFTER THE AUGUST 8 COUP WHICH REPLACED RIOS MONTT WITH A TRADITIONALIST CATHOLIC, GENERAL MEJIA VICTORES, SOME PROTESTANT PREACHERS HAVE BEEN PHYSICALLY ATTACKED AND ACCUSED OF POSSIBLE ATTACKS AGAINST CATHOLIC CHURCHES AND ASSISTANCE TO THE MILITARY IN

UNCLASSIFIED

IDENTIFYING CATHOLICS AS INSURGENTS OR SYMPATHIZERS.

ANOTHER CONTRIBUTING FACTOR TO THE VIOLENCE IS THE TRADITIONAL ANIMOSITY AND DISTRUST BETWEEN [redacted]

LADINOS (MIXED EUROPEAN AND INDIAN ANCESTRY) AND INDIANS; THIS HOSTILITY HAS EXISTED FOR MORE THAN 400 YEARS.

PARTIALLY DUE TO THE LEGION OF OPPOSING AND HOSTILE GROUPS IN GUATEMALA, IT IS NOT POSSIBLE IN MANY CASES POSITIVELY TO ATTRIBUTE RESPONSIBILITY FOR MANY OF THE POLITICALLY RELATED DEATHS THAT OCCURRED IN 1983. ANOTHER FACT THAT SERVES TO CONFUSE THE ISSUE IS THE ALLEGATION THAT BOTH THE INSURGENTS AND THE ARMY ON OCCASION USE EACH OTHER'S TYPES OF WEAPONS, TACTICS, UNIFORMS, ETC., IN AN EFFORT TO PLACE BLAME ON THE OTHER. IN ADDITION, BODIES FREQUENTLY APPEAR WITH NO EVIDENCE OF WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE MURDER, OR WHETHER THERE WAS A POLITICAL MOTIVE AT ALL.

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT GUATEMALA SUFFERED APPROXIMATELY 1,150 DEATHS THAT WERE JUDGED TO BE POLITICALLY MOTIVATED DURING THE FIRST NINE MONTHS OF 1983. RESPONSIBILITY FOR SOME 476 OF THOSE DEATHS WERE ATTRIBUTED TO THE GOVERNMENT. MOST OF THESE VICTIMS WERE GUERRILLA FIGHTERS KILLED BY SECURITY FORCES IN COMBAT. SOME 340 OF THESE DEATHS OCCURRED IN THE FIRST SEVEN MONTHS OF 1983, WHILE 136 OCCURRED IN THE TWO MONTHS AFTER THE AUGUST 8 COUP.

REPORTS OF MASSACRES AND OTHER ATROCITIES CONTINUED TO APPEAR BOTH IN GUATEMALA, AND IN THE INTERNATIONAL MEDIA. MOST OF THE INCIDENTS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE OCCURRED IN ISOLATED [redacted]

[redacted]

AREAS OF THE WESTERN HIGHLANDS WHERE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT FORCES CONTINUED TO PURSUE AND ENGAGE

HOSTILE GUERRILLA INSURGENTS. SOME REPORTED INCIDENTS WERE INVESTIGATED AT THE SITE AND DETERMINED TO HAVE EITHER BEEN EXAGERATED, OR NOT TRUE.

REPORTS OF SOME MASSACRES ACTUALLY APPEAR TO BE PART OF INSURGENT OR MARXIST DISINFORMATION CAMPAIGNS, SUCH AS A REPORT OF A MASS SLAUGHTER BY THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY OF 100 PEASANTS IN XORAXAJ, OR CHORRAXAJ, QUICHE. THE FIRST REPORT OF THIS ALLEGED MASSACRE WAS PUBLISHED BY A CANADIAN HUMAN RIGHTS GROUP. LATER, A PRO-GUERRILLA PUBLICATION PRINTED THE SAME STORY WORD FOR WORD, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE SPELLING OF THE TOWN. AN ON-SITE INVESTIGATION PROVED THE STORY TO BE FALSE; NO MASSACRE HAD TAKEN PLACE INDEED, THE VILLAGERS STATED THAT THEIR MAJOR PROBLEM WAS ROVING BANDS OF GUERRILLA UNITS IN THE VICINITY.

OTHER TIMES IT WAS POSSIBLE TO OBTAIN RELIABLE INFORMATION CONCERNING REPORTS THAT DID INDICATE OFFICIAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR INCIDENTS, SUCH AS ONE THAT OCCURRED IN SEPTEMBER NEAR CHICHI-CASTENANGO, QUICHE. THIS INVOLVED THE KILLING OF 22 MEN BY MEMBERS OF A CIVIL DEFENSE PATROL.

ONE NOTABLE CASE OF ARBITRARY MURDER CARRIED OUT BY THE ARMY RESULTED FROM THE DETENTION OF PATRICIO ORTIZ MALDONADO, A GUATEMALAN EMPLOYEE OF AN AMERICAN COMPANY HOLDING AN AID

CONTRACT FOR WORK WITH THE GUATEMALAN MINISTRY OF EDUCATION ON A PILOT BILINGUAL EDUCATION PROJECT. HE, TWO EMPLOYEES OF THE MINISTRY OF EDUCATION AND THE MOTHER OF ONE OF THE LATTER, WERE ARBITRARILY DETAINED ON FEBRUARY 9 BY A MILITARY PATROL AND, ACCORDING TO A PRESS COMMUNIQUE ISSUED BY THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE ON MARCH 8, THEY WERE KILLED BY RIFLE FIRE WHILE ATTEMPTING TO ESCAPE DOWN A RIVER BANK FROM A VEHICLE WHICH WAS CARRYING THEM. THE CIRCUMSTANCES CONCERNING THIS INCIDENT HAVE NEVER BEEN SATISFACTORILY CLARIFIED. THIS CASE, WHICH ATTRACTED EXTENSIVE PRESS COVERAGE, LED TO THE TEMPORARY RECALL OF THE AMERICAN AMBASSADOR IN MARCH 1983, AS AN EXPRESSION OF DEEP CONCERN.

SOME 385 DEATHS WERE ATTRIBUTED IN 1983 TO THE FOUR GUERRILLA GROUPS. WHILE MANY OF THE VICTIMS OF THE GUERRILLA VIOLENCE WERE MEMBERS OF THE GOVERNMENT SECURITY FORCES, THE INSURGENTS CONTINUED THEIR PRACTICE OF KILLING MUNICIPAL

WORKERS, OWNERS AND MANAGERS OF LARGE AND SMALL FARMS, AND OTHER CIVILIANS. IN SEPTEMBER IN EL QUICHE, GUERRILLA AMBUSHES OF MILITARY VEHICLES IN TOWNS KILLED CIVILIAN BYSTANDERS. IN MAY, VILLAGERS NEAR THE MEXICAN BORDER IN AGUA ZARCA, HUEHUETENANGO, FOUGHT OFF A BAND OF GUERRILLAS; FOUR VILLAGERS WERE KILLED. IN ADDITION, VILLAGERS NEAR XEABAJ, QUICHE, REPORTED IN APRIL THAT GUERRILLAS HAD KILLED 13 PEOPLE IN AND AROUND THE SMALL FARMS NEAR THEIR VILLAGE.

THE GUERRILLAS RETURNED TO URBAN TERRORISM AS A TACTIC IN 1983. IN SEPTEMBER, THE INSURGENTS EXPLODED A POWERFUL BOMB IN GUATEMALA CITY ALONG A MAJOR THOROUGHFARE, DESTROYING A TELEPHONE CONNECTION FACILITY. NO ONE WAS KILLED BY THE BLAST, BUT THE SAME DAY MEMBERS OF THE POLICE IN GUATEMALA CITY DISMANTLED ANOTHER POWERFUL BOMB THAT HAD BEEN PLACED BY THE GUERRILLAS UNDER A HEAVILY TRANSITTED BRIDGE DURING RUSH HOUR TRAFFIC.

IT IS NOT POSSIBLE TO DETERMINE RESPONSIBILITY IN THE OTHER APPROXIMATELY 290 POLITICALLY RELATED DEATHS WHICH OCCURRED IN 1983. ALL THE VARIOUS FACTIONS CONTRIBUTING TO GUATEMALA'S VIOLENCE BLAME OTHER GROUPS FOR THESE MURDERS.

THERE IS NO PUBLIC EVIDENCE THAT THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA PUNISHES MEMBERS OF ITS SECURITY FORCES FOR THE ARBITRARY DEPRIVATION OF LIFE, IF THE KILLINGS APPEAR TO THE GOVERNMENT [redacted]

[redacted]

TO BE RELATED TO COMBATTING THE INSURGENCY. NEVERTHELESS, SOME 265 MEMBERS OF THE POLICE HAVE BEEN ARRESTED AND TRIED FOR CRIMINAL ACTS SINCE THE ADVENT OF THE FORMER RIOS MONTT GOVERNMENT. IN ADDITION, GUATEMALA'S MILITARY ACADEMY NOW REQUIRES ALL FUTURE OFFICERS TO COMPLETE A COURSE IN HUMAN RIGHTS DURING THEIR FIRST SEMESTER AT SCHOOL. COURSES IN THE REST OF THE FIVE SEMESTERS INCLUDE CONSTITUTIONAL AND HUMAN RIGHTS STUDY.

IN MARCH 1983, THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED A 60 DAY AMNESTY WHICH ALLOWED ANY GUERRILLA SUPPORTER TO SURRENDER. APPROXIMATELY 1,400 PEOPLE TOOK ADVANTAGE OF THIS OPPORTUNITY TO RETURN TO THEIR HOMES AND LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS. ON AUGUST 11, THREE DAYS AFTER THE COUP WHEN HE ASSUMED OFFICE AS CHIEF OF STATE, GENERAL MEJIA VICTORES ANNOUNCED A 90 DAYS AMNESTY.

1. (B) DISAPPEARANCES

DURING THE FIRST NINE MONTHS OF 1983, 215 PEOPLE WERE ABDUCTED, OR AN AVERAGE OF 24 PEOPLE PER MONTH. THE GUATEMALAN PENAL CODE STIPULATES A SENTENCE OF EIGHT TO FIFTEEN YEARS FOR KIDNAPPING OR ABDUCTION, AND A DEATH SENTENCE IF THE VICTIM DIES. THE SPECIAL TRIBUNAL DECREE WHICH WAS IN EFFECT FROM JANUARY THROUGH SEPTEMBER, IMPOSED THE DEATH PENALTY FOR ALL KIDNAPPINGS. FOLLOWING THE CANCELLATION OF THE SPECIAL TRIBUNALS THE REGULAR PENAL CODE HAS BEEN APPLIED. AFTER ASSUMING POWER, THE

GOVERNMENT OF RIOS MONTT DISBANDED SEVERAL GROUPS THAT HAD ALLEGEDLY BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR ABDUCTIONS

DURING THE REGIME OF GENERAL LUCAS GARCIA. IN THE PROCESS, A SAN CARLOS UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR APPARENTLY KIDNAPPED BY LUCAS GOVERNMENT SECURITY FORCES WAS RESCUED ALIVE. SINCE THE AUGUST 8 COUP THAT PLACED GENERAL MEJIA VICTORES IN POWER, THE GOVERNMENT HAS ACCUSED THE GUERRILLAS OF BEING RESPONSIBLE FOR AN UPSURGE IN KIDNAPPINGS.

KIDNAPPINGS ARE CARRIED OUT BY THE GUATEMALAN SECURITY FORCES, THE GUERRILLAS, BY PRIVATE GROUPS FOR RANSOM, AND BY CRIMINAL BANDS SEEKING PERSONAL VENDETTA, OR DISPUTES IN DRUG WARS. SECURITY FORCES, ALTHOUGH OFFICIALLY DENYING SUCH ACTIVITY, TRADITIONALLY "CAPTURE" SUSPECTED SUBVERSIVES FOR QUESTIONING. IT IS BELIEVED THEY UTILIZE THIS METHOD IN ORDER QUIETLY TO OBTAIN INTELLIGENCE ON SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES WITHOUT ALERTING ALLEGED SUBVERSIVE ASSOCIATES OF THE CAPTURED VICTIM ABOUT THE ACTION.

THERE HAVE BEEN SOME CASES OF SUCH PERSONS BEING SET FREE, PRESUMABLY WHEN THEY HAD BEEN ABLE TO DEMONSTRATE NO CONNECTION WITH THE INSURGENCY. THE MAJORITY OF PERSONS WHO HAVE DISAPPEARED DO NOT RETURN ALIVE. MANY OF THE MOST NOTABLE CASES INVOLVE THE NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF SAN CARLOS (USAC), WHERE UNIVERSITY LEADERSHIP HAS CHARGED THAT 45 PERSONS DISAPPEARED BETWEEN SEPTEMBER 1982 AND THE OVERTHROW OF PRESIDENT RIOS MONTT IN AUGUST 1983. EIGHT OF THOSE WERE SUBSEQUENTLY ACCOUNTED FOR BY THE GOVERNMENT; SOME WERE RELEASED, WHILE OTHERS WERE TURNED OVER TO THE SPECIAL TRIBUNALS. THE FATE OF THOSE IN CUSTODY OF THE SPECIAL TRIBUNALS IS UNKNOWN FOLLOWING THE ABOLISHMENT OF THOSE SECRET COURTS. SAN CARLOS UNIVERSITY LEADERSHIP HAS CHARGED THAT AN ADDITIONAL EIGHT VICTIMS DISAPPEARED SINCE THE AUGUST COUP THAT PLACED GENERAL MEJIA IN POWER. THE UNIVERSITY GROUNDS ARE THE LOCALE OF MUCH OF GUATEMALA CITY'S NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING, AND SOME OF THE VIOLENCE IS KNOWN BY UNIVERSITY OFFICIALS TO RESULT FROM THIS SITUATION. USAC WILL NOT WAIVE ITS AUTONOMY TO PERMIT GOVERNMENT SECURITY FORCES TO OPENLY PURSUE THE TRAFFICKERS IN FEAR OF GREATER VIOLENCE.

IN 1983 THE GUERRILLAS WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR A SERIES OF ABDUCTIONS OF PROMINENT BUSINESSMEN, FARMERS AND FARM MANAGERS, A NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER, AND SISTERS OF BOTH FORMER PRESIDENT RIOS MONTT AND CURRENT CHIEF OF STATE MEJIA. IN 1982 INSURGENTS ALSO KIDNAPPED THE DAUGHTER OF [redacted]

HONDURAN PRESIDENT SUAZO CORDOVA WHO WAS LIVING IN GUATEMALA, THE NEPHEW OF RIOS MONTT, THE SON OF THE MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR, AND A NEWSPAPER EDITOR. PRESIDENT RIOS MONTT'S NEPHEW WAS FREED BY THE SECURITY FORCES WHEN THEY DISCOVERED HIS CAPTORS' HIDEOUT. ONE OF THE BUSINESSMEN WAS KILLED BY HIS CAPTORS, PURPORTEDLY MEMBERS OF THE OUTLAWED GUATEMALAN COMMUNIST PARTY (PGT), AFTER SECURITY FORCES DISCOVERED THE SAFEHOUSE WHERE HE WAS BEING HELD. ANOTHER YOUNG BUSINESSMAN WAS KILLED BY HIS CAPTORS IN AUGUST AS A MESSAGE TO OTHERS TO PAY RANSOM DEMANDS IMMEDIATELY, OR SUFFER THE CONSEQUENCES.

IN AUGUST 1983, THE ACTING ARCHBISHOP OF GUATEMALA ANNOUNCED THAT SPANISH PRIEST CARLOS PEREZ ALONSO HAD BEEN CAPTURED, ASSASSINATED, AND BURIED IN 1981. THIS ANNOUNCEMENT WAS INTENDED TO END SPECULATION THAT THE SPANISH PRIEST WAS STILL ALIVE. THE CHURCH CONDUCTED ITS OWN INVESTIGATION AND PRONOUNCED PEREZ ALONSO "ANOTHER VICTIM OF THE 1979-81 PERIOD DURING WHICH 12 PRIESTS, INCLUDING FOREIGNERS, WERE KILLED."

1. (C) TORTURE AND CRUEL, OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

BOTH GUATEMALAN CIVIL AND CRIMINAL CODES EXPRESSLY PROHIBIT PHYSICAL OR MENTAL TORTURE. THE PRESENT STATUTE OF GOVERNMENT PROVIDES FOR THE PUNISHMENT OF PUBLIC OFFICIALS OR EMPLOYEES WHO ENGAGE IN SUCH PRACTICES. DURING THE 17 MONTH REGIME OF

GENERAL RIOS MONTT (MARCH 1982-AUGUST 1983), ORDERS WERE ISSUED THROUGHOUT THE MILITARY TO THE EFFECT THAT IF AN OFFICER WAS DISCOVERED TO BE PRACTICING OR CONDONING TORTURE, OR DEGRADING PUNISHMENT, HE WOULD BE LIABLE FOR PROSECUTION. NEVERTHELESS, THERE WERE REPORTED INCIDENTS WHERE MILITARY PERSONNEL TURNED OVER INSURGENTS OR SUSPECTED INSURGENTS TO CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS FOR SUMMARY PUNISHMENT. THERE WAS A SPECIFIC ALLEGATION OF TORTURE OF TWO BROTHERS CONSIGNED TO THE SPECIAL TRIBUNALS, BUT THIS COULD NOT BE SUBSTANTIATED.

HOWEVER, IT IS EVIDENT THAT TORTURE OCCURS. THE GUATEMALAN PRESS HAS REPORTED THE DISCOVERY OF BODIES SHOWING EVIDENCE OF SUCH TREATMENT. IN ONLY A FEW CASES HAS THE IDENTITY OF THE PERPETRATORS BEEN ESTABLISHED. SEVERAL MEMBERS OF ONE CRIMINAL GANG WERE AMONG THE 15 PERSONS EXECUTED BY THE RIOS MONTT GOVERNMENT AFTER

BEING CONDEMNED BY THE SPECIAL TRIBUNALS. ANOTHER [redacted]

[redacted]

GROUP OF TOWN INHABITANTS THAT TERRORIZED THE COMMUNITY OF SAN PEDRO DE LA LAGUNA FOR AN EXTENDED PERIOD OF MONTHS WAS ARRESTED BY GUATEMALAN AUTHORITIES IN RESPONSE TO A PETITION BY THE COMMUNITY.

THERE ARE ALSO RELIABLE REPORTS THAT GUERRILLA GROUPS HAVE RESORTED TO TORTURE AND HARSH TREATMENT TO PREVENT COMMUNITIES FROM COOPERATING WITH THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT.

GENERAL PRISON CONDITIONS DEPEND LARGELY ON THE TYPE AND BEHAVIOR OF THE INDIVIDUAL PRISONER. THE MAIN PRISON, GRANJA PAVON, IS LOCATED NEAR GUATEMALA CITY. ORIGINALLY DESIGNED TO HOUSE 700, IT CURRENTLY CONTAINS ABOUT 2,100 PRISONERS. TWO OTHER PRISONS, ONE LOCATED ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF QUEZALTENANGO, AND THE OTHER IN ESQUINTLA, EACH HOUSE SOME 400-500 PRISONERS. THERE ARE TWO MAJOR WOMEN'S DETENTION CENTERS, ONE LOCATED NEXT TO PAVON, AND ONE IN GUATEMALA CITY. THE FORMER CONTAINS ABOUT 70, AND THE LATTER A MODERN AND MODEL FACILITY CALLED SANTA TERESA, HOUSES ABOUT 200.

INDIVIDUAL BEHAVIOR IS ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT FACTORS IN TREATMENT RECEIVED. BETTER-BEHAVED PRISONERS ARE ALLOWED INDIVIDUAL, UNBARRED ROOMS WITHIN A CELL-BLOCK. THESE PRISONERS ARE ALLOWED TO OWN TELEVISIONS, RADIOS, AND OTHER AMENITIES. THE MORE DANGEROUS OR UNMANAGEABLE ARE KEPT IN OVERCROWDED, BARRED CELLS. INMATES ARE ABLE TO PURCHASE LUXURIES NOT PROVIDED BY [redacted]

[redacted]

THE INSTITUTION.

PAVON WAS THE SITE OF HUNGER STRIKES IN OCTOBER. THE PRINCIPAL COMPLAINT HAS BEEN LACK OF DECENT FOOD AND OVERCROWDING. DURING THE PRESIDENCY OF RIOS MONTT, HOWEVER, VISITING HOURS WERE EXTENDED, ALLOWING INMATES' FAMILIES OR FRIENDS TO BRING ADDITIONAL FOOD OR MONEY TO SUPPLEMENT WHAT WAS PROVIDED BY THE INSTITUTION. PRISONERS PARTICIPATING IN THE HUNGER STRIKES LIKELY HAVE LITTLE MONEY AVAILABLE TO PURCHASE ADDITIONAL FOOD, AND POSSIBLY DO NOT RECEIVE PACKAGES FROM RELATIVES.

THERE IS NO POLICY FOR PHYSICAL PUNISHMENT OF PRISONERS AT PAVON, OR THE OTHER FORMAL DETENTION CENTERS. SOCIAL CLASS, RACE, OR RELIGION DO NOT APPEAR TO AFFECT THE TREATMENT PRISONERS RECEIVE. THE ONLY DISCERNABLE DIFFERENCE IN TREATMENT IS BASED ON BEHAVIOR EXHIBITED AND MONEY ON HAND.

1. (D) ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, OR EXILE

MOST CASES OF ARBITRARY DETENTION ARE PERSONS SUSPECTED BY THE SECURITY FORCES OF BEING INVOLVED WITH THE INSURGENCY. THESE INDIVIDUALS ARE USUALLY KIDNAPPED BY GROUPS OF ARMED MEN IN CIVILIAN ATTIRE.

GUATEMALANS' RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES ARE FOUND IN THE STATUTE OF GOVERNMENT (DECREE LAW 24-82) AS AMENDED. THIS DOCUMENT IS SIMILAR IN ITS

LEGAL GUARANTEES TO THE CANCELLED 1965 CONSTITUTION. IT PROVIDES FOR PROTECTION AGAINST ARBITRARY ARREST OR DETENTION. IT FURTHER STATES THAT A PERSON CAN ONLY BE DETAINED FOR A CRIME BY VIRTUE OF A WRIT OR WARRANT ISSUED BY A COMPETENT JUDGE. AMPARO, THE RIGHT OF A PERSON IN DETENTION TO BE CHARGED OR RELEASED WITHIN A CERTAIN PERIOD OF TIME OR BE INFORMED OF THE CHARGES AGAINST HIM, IS NOT PRACTICED IN GUATEMALA.

DURING MOST OF 1983, THESE RIGHTS WERE OFFICIALLY SUSPENDED IN CERTAIN CASES DUE TO THE DECLARATION OF A STATE OF SIEGE, AND LATER, A STATE OF EMERGENCY. AFTER THE AUGUST 8 COUP THAT PLACED HIM IN POWER, GENERAL MEJIA VICTORES LIFTED THE STATE OF EMERGENCY, ABOLISHED THE [redacted]

SPECIAL TRIBUNALS, AND REINSTATED DUE PROCESS OF LAW. NEVERTHELESS, IN PRACTICE, ARBITRARY DETENTIONS CONTINUE TO OCCUR. WHILE A WARRANT IS THEORETICALLY NECESSARY FOR ARREST OR DETENTION, IN PRACTICE SECURITY FORCES RESORT TO EXTRA-JUDICIAL INTERROGATION AND DETENTION OF SUSPECTED SUBVERSIVES FOR VARYING PERIODS OF TIME UNTIL SATISFIED AS TO THEIR GUILT OR INNOCENCE. LEGITIMATE SUSPICIONS, OR BUSINESS, FAMILY OR NEIGHBORHOOD RIVALRIES CAN LEAD TO ACCUSATIONS AGAINST INDIVIDUALS BEING MADE TO GUATEMALAN

SECURITY FORCES. SUCH INDIVIDUALS MAY THEN DISAPPEAR, EITHER TEMPORARILY OR PERMANENTLY. OFFICIAL KNOWLEDGE OF THE ACTION IS USUALLY DENIED WHEN FAMILY OR FRIENDS OF THE MISSING MAKE FORMAL INQUIRIES. REAPPEARANCE OF THE INDIVIDUAL INDICATES THAT SECURITY FORCES ARE SATISFIED AS TO THEIR INNOCENCE. IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO OBTAIN ACCURATE NUMBERS OF THE TOTAL OF THOSE MISSING. INFORMATION FROM RURAL AREAS IS PARTICULARLY DIFFICULT TO OBTAIN OR TO VERIFY.

1. (E) DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

GUATEMALA'S CIVIL COURT SYSTEM IS HEADED BY THE COUNTRY'S NINE MEMBER SUPREME COURT AND ADMINISTERED BY THE COURT SITTING AS A FULL BENCH. ALTHOUGH CONSIDERED A CO-EQUAL BRANCH OF THE GOVERNMENT ALONG WITH THE EXECUTIVE AND LEGISLATIVE, SINCE THE MARCH 23, 1982, COUP THE PRESENT JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT HAVE BEEN NAMED BY THE HEAD OF STATE IN HIS DE FACTO LEGISLATIVE CAPACITY. IN GENERAL

PRACTICE, HOWEVER, THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE CIVIL JUDICIARY HAS BEEN RESPECTED. THE COURT HAS HAD EXTENSIVE INFLUENCE ON APPOINTMENTS TO LOWER COURTS.

PERSONS ARRESTED HAVE THE RIGHT TO LEGAL COUNSEL AND HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE CHARGED OR RELEASED WITHIN 48 HOURS OF ARREST. THEY ARE ALLOWED THE RIGHT TO HAVE LEGAL COUNSEL PRESENT AT ALL HEARINGS. IF THE DEFENDANT CANNOT AFFORD A LAWYER, HE IS PROVIDED ONE BY THE STATE. DEFENDANTS IN SOME CASES MAY BE RELEASED AFTER POSTING BAIL. MAGISTRATES ARE CHARGED WITH DETERMINING THE GUILT OR INNOCENCE OF THE ACCUSED AND IN ADDITION TO HEARING FROM GOVERNMENT PROSECUTORS AND PRIVATE PARTIES MAY UNDERTAKE THEIR OWN INVESTIGATIONS TOWARD THIS END.

THE SYSTEM OF SPECIAL COURTS WAS ESTABLISHED JULY 1, 1982, AND ABOLISHED AS OF SEPTEMBER 1, 1983. PROCEEDINGS IN THESE COURTS WERE SECRET. ONE FACTOR LEADING TO THEIR CREATION WAS THE BELIEF THAT FAIR PUBLIC TRIALS FOR SUBVERSIVES OR PROMINENT CRIMINALS HAD BECOME IMPOSSIBLE DUE TO THE INTIMIDATION OF JUDGES ASSIGNED TO THE CASES. THIS INTIMIDATION FREQUENTLY TOOK THE FORM OF THREATS OF VIOLENCE OR KIDNAPPING AGAINST THE JUDGE OR MEMBERS OF HIS FAMILY.

UNDER PROVISIONS OF THE DECREE ABOLISHING THE SPECIAL COURTS, CASES NOT YET TRIED (ESTIMATED AT LESS THAN TEN) BY SEPTEMBER 1, 1983, WERE TRANSFERRED TO THE CIVIL COURT SYSTEM FOR

AND POSSIBLE REDUCTION OF SENTENCE IF CIVIL LAW PROVIDED FOR A MORE LENIENT PENALTY THAN THAT IMPOSED BY THE SPECIAL COURTS. BY LATE OCTOBER, 1983, SIXTY-ONE SUCH CASES HAD BEEN RECEIVED BY THE COURT. ON OCTOBER 14 THE SUPREME COURT ANNOUNCED THAT THE SENTENCE OF GAVIOLA BROOKS, WHO HAD ORIGINALLY BEEN SENTENCED TO SIX YEARS IN PRISON ON APRIL 19, 1983, HAD BEEN REDUCED TO THREE YEARS IN THE REVIEW PROCESS.

IN 1983 ELEVEN PERSONS WERE EXECUTED BY THE RIOS MONTT REGIME AFTER BEING CONVICTED BY THE SPECIAL COURTS, SIX ON MARCH 3, 1983, AND FIVE ON MARCH 21, 1983. THE SIX EXECUTIONS ON THE EVE OF THE VISIT OF POPE JOHN PAUL II TO THE COUNTRY WERE WIDELY INTERPRETED BY GUATEMALANS

[redacted]

AS AN AFFRONT TO THE POPE. THE INTER-AMERICAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION DENOUNCED THE EXECUTIONS, AS DID MANY GUATEMALAN LAWYERS WHO WERE TROUBLED BY THE ABSENCE OF PUBLIC DUE PROCESS. GENERAL MEJIA VICTORES' DECREE ABOLISHING THE SPECIAL COURTS ALSO ABOLISHED THE DEATH PENALTY FOR CRIMES TRIED BEFORE THE SPECIAL COURTS. HOWEVER, THE DEATH PENALTY REMAINS IN EFFECT FOR CERTAIN CRIMES LISTED IN THE CIVIL CRIMINAL CODE IN GUATEMALA. NO SUCH SENTENCES HAVE BEEN HANDED DOWN SINCE GENERAL MEJIA ASSUMED OFFICE.

THE STATE OF SIEGE IMPOSED ON JULY 1, 1982, WAS LIFTED MARCH 23, 1983. HOWEVER, A STATE OF EMERGENCY WAS REIMPOSED FOLLOWING A POLITICAL CRISIS ON JUNE 29, 1983. PROVISIONS OF THE STATE OF EMERGENCY SUSPENDED HABEAS CORPUS AND THE NEED TO OBTAIN ARREST WARRANTS OF INDIVIDUALS. GENERAL RIOS MONTT'S SUCCESSOR IN OFFICE, GEN. MEJIA VICTORES, RESTORED HABEAS CORPUS OFFICIALLY AND THE RIGHT OF THE INDIVIDUAL NOT TO BE ARRESTED OR DETAINED EXCEPT UNDER A WARRANT SIGNED BY AN APPROPRIATE LEGAL AUTHORITY. ALSO RESTORED BY DECREE 91-83 WAS THE RIGHT OF THE INDIVIDUAL TO BE INFORMED OF THE SPECIFIC CHARGES AGAINST HIM.

ALTHOUGH GUATEMALANS AGAIN HAVE THE RIGHT

OF LEGAL COUNSEL IN ALL PROCEEDINGS, CRIMINAL AND CIVIL, ACCESS TO PROFESSIONAL LEGAL ADVICE OF THEIR OWN CHOOSING IS RESTRICTED IN PRACTICE BY A VARIETY OF FACTORS. THE OVERWHELMING

[redacted]

MAJORITY OF THE COUNTRY'S LAWYERS RESIDE IN OR NEAR THE CAPITAL CITY, MAKING ACCESS TO LEGAL COUNSEL DIFFICULT IN THE COUNTRYSIDE. WHILE THE COUNTRY'S LAW SCHOOLS MAINTAIN ONE OR MORE LEGAL CLINICS WHERE STUDENTS PROVIDE THE POOR WITH BASIC LEGAL ASSISTANCE, GENERALLY THE COUNTRY'S RURAL POOR HAVE LITTLE RECOURSE TO PROFESSIONAL LEGAL ASSISTANCE. AT THE SAME TIME, LOW SALARIES AND THE LACK OF ON-GOING TRAINING PROGRAMS MAKE IT DIFFICULT TO RECRUIT AND RETAIN QUALIFIED JUDGES.

IN OCTOBER, 1983, DR. ANTONIO GARCIA BORRAJO, A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS ACCUSED THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT OF HOLDING 35 POLITICAL PRISONERS AND THREATENING TO EXECUTE THEM IF GUERRILLAS KILLED THE KIDNAPPED SISTERS OF HEAD OF STATE MEJIA VICTORES AND EX-PRESIDENT RIOS MONTT. THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT TWICE PUBLICLY DENIED THIS STORY. THE INTERNATIONAL CONFEDERATION OF FREE TRADE UNIONS CHARGED THAT NINE INDIVIDUALS, SOME OF WHOM HAVE BEEN CONNECTED WITH THE LABOR MOVEMENT, HAD BEEN ARRESTED FOR POLITICAL REASONS.

WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THESE UNVERIFIED CHARGES, REPORTS OF POLITICAL PRISONERS IN GUATEMALA ARE EXTREMELY RARE.

SUBJECT: 1983 REPORT ON HUMAN RIGHTS PRACTICES -

THE STATE OF SIEGE IMPOSED ON JULY 1, 1982, WAS LIFTED ON MARCH 23, 1983. A STATE OF EMERGENCY WAS AGAIN DECREED BY GEN. RIOS MONTT ON JUNE 29, 1983, UNDER WHICH THE GOVERNMENT COULD RESTRICT MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, EXAMINE CORRESPONDENCE AND PRIVATE DOCUMENTS, AND ENTER PRIVATE RESIDENCES WITHOUT SEARCH WARRANTS. HEAD OF STATE GENERAL MEJIA VICTORES LIFTED THE STATE OF EMERGENCY ON AUGUST 8, 1983.

GOVERNMENT ROADBLOCKS ARE SET UP PERIODICALLY ALONG HIGHWAYS TO CHECK DOCUMENTS OF TRAVELERS AND CARRY OUT VEHICLE SEARCHES FOR KIDNAPPED PERSONS. SECURITY FORCES HAVE SEARCHED NEIGHBORHOODS FOR SUSPECTED GUERRILLA SAFEHOUSES OR ARMS CACHES. WHILE MAIL IS RANDOMLY OPENED AND EXAMINED, THERE IS NO INTERFERENCE WITH FOREIGN RADIO BROADCASTS. PROGRAMS FROM CUBA AND NICARAGUA ARE EASILY RECEIVED IN GUATEMALA BY INDIVIDUALS WITH APPROPRIATE EQUIPMENT.

[redacted]

THERE IS NO GOVERNMENT POLITICAL PARTY, NOR REQUIRED MEMBERSHIP IN ANY POLITICAL GROUP, NOR AN ORGANIZED SYSTEM OF NEIGHBORHOOD INFORMERS. A NUMBER OF PERSONS HAVE BEEN KILLED BY GUERRILLA GROUPS IN THE INTERIOR, WHO AFTERWARDS BRANDED THEIR VICTIMS AS GOVERNMENT INFORMERS. INDIVIDUALS ARE ALSO FREE TO PRACTICE THE RELIGION OF THEIR CHOICE. THERE IS NO PROHIBITION AGAINST THE USE OF THEIR NATIVE TONGUES BY THE COUNTRY'S INDIGENOUS GROUPS. GUATEMALA CURRENTLY HAS 23 INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES IN ACTIVE USE.

2. (A) FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

THE STATE OF SIEGE, IMPOSED JULY 1, 1982, AND A STATE EMERGENCY WERE TWO INHIBITING FACTORS FOR THE GUATEMALAN PRESS. THE STATES OF SIEGE AND EMERGENCY INCLUDED A PROHIBITION ON THE PUBLICATION OF POLITICALLY-RELATED NEWS, MANIFESTOS OR DECLARATIONS. THE GOVERNMENT ISSUED REGULATIONS ENJOINING THE MEDIA FROM PUBLISHING REPORTS ON GUERRILLA ACTIVITIES AND FROM COMMENTING OR EDITORIALIZING ON DOMESTIC POLITICS. ALTHOUGH THE STATES OF EXCEPTION ARE NO LONGER IN EFFECT, NEWSPAPERS AND RADIO AND TV NEWSCASTS ARE PERMITTED ONLY TO REPORT ON THE GUATEMALAN ARMED FORCES' ACTIONS TAKEN AGAINST "CRIMINAL SUBVERSIVES," BUT THE WORD "GUERRILLA" IS NOT TO BE USED IN COPY.

DESPITE THE PROHIBITIONS DURING RIOS MONTT'S

GOVERNMENT, CRITICISM OF THE GOVERNMENT WAS EXPRESSED AND OPPOSITION VIEWS WERE PUBLISHED. IN FACT, INTERVIEWS WITH OPPOSITION LEADERS BROADCAST OVER ONE OF THE COUNTRY'S TWO TV NEWS PROGRAMS, PRECIPITATED THE CRISIS WHICH ULTIMATELY LED TO RIOS MONTT'S REMOVAL FROM POWER. SINCE MEJIA VICTORES ASSUMED POWER, THE MEDIA HAS WIDELY PUBLISHED OPPOSITION VIEWS

WHICH ARE, BY AND LARGE, DEVOTED TO THE NEED FOR THE REINSTITUTION OF DEMOCRACY AND THE HOLDING OF ELECTIONS FOR A CONSTITUTIONAL ASSEMBLY. THE MEDIA HAVE FOCUSED ATTENTION ON COMMENTS REAFFIRMING THE NEED FOR FREEDOM OF THE PRESS. THERE HAVE BEEN CRITICAL REPORTS ON TV NEWSCASTS POINTING TO INADEQUATE PUBLIC SERVICES FOR GUATEMALANS. THE MEDIA, HOWEVER, HAVE REFRAINED FROM CRITICAL EDITORIAL COMMENT ON GOVERNMENT POLICIES, A FORM OF SELF-CENSORSHIP, A TRADITIONAL PRACTICE FOR THE GUATEMALAN MEDIA. BECAUSE OF SELF-CENSORSHIP THE MEDIA, WITH FEW EXCEPTIONS, HAS NOT TESTED THE PARAMETERS WITHIN WHICH THEY MUST OPERATE OR THE LIMITS OF ACCEPTABLE PUBLIC CRICITISM OF GOVERNMENT POLICIES. ALSO, THERE IS NO TRADITION OF INVESTIGATIVE REPORTING IN GUATEMALA.

THERE WAS SOME VIOLENCE AGAINST JOURNALISTS DURING THE REPORTING YEAR. "PRENSA LIBRE" PUBLISHER PEDRO JULIO GARCIA WAS KIDNAPPED BY THE GUATEMALAN COMMUNIST PARTY (PGT) OCTOBER 8. THE PGT DEMANDED THE PUBLICATION IN THE GUATEMALAN MEDIA OF A MANIFESTO AS A PART OF THE CONDITIONS FOR HIS RELEASE. THE MANIFESTO'S

PUBLICATION OCTOBER 13 CREATED A POSSIBLE CONFRONTATIONAL SITUATION BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE MEDIA BECAUSE OF A 1963 LAW WHICH PROHIBITED THE PUBLICATION OF SUBVERSIVE MATERIALS. IN ORDER TO FORECLOSE THIS STERILE DEBATE THE GOVERNMENT PARTIALLY REPEALED ARTICLES OF THE OUTDATED LAW, AND THE PRESS, WHICH HAD NOT TESTED THE LAW WHEN THE GUERRILLAS KIDNAPPED THE SISTERS OF RIOS MONTT AND MEJIA AND DEMANDED PUBLICATION OF A MANIFESTO, SUBSEQUENTLY PUBLISHED THE FAR MANIFESTO. GARCIA WAS FREED ON OCTOBER 22 AFTER THE KIDNAPPERS' DEMANDS HAD BEEN MET.

MORALES MULL, OWNER OF RADIO FRATERNIDAD, A STATION IN QUEZALTENANGO, HIS SON AND AN EMPLOYEE, WERE ASSASSINATED IN MAY, 1983. MORALES MULL, A CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT, WAS KNOWN TO HAVE REFUSED SEVERAL TIMES TO BROADCAST PROPAGANDA MATERIALS OF BOTH THE EXTREME LEFT AND RIGHT.

THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT OPERATES ONE [redacted]

TELEVISION STATION AND TWO RADIO STATIONS (ONE AM AND ONE FM). THE BROADCAST CONTENT OF ALL THREE IS GENERALLY OF THE CULTURAL/FOLK VARIETY. THERE ARE FOUR PRIVATELY-OWNED TELEVISION STATIONS IN THE COUNTRY. TWO INDEPENDENT TV NEWS PROGRAMS BUY SPACE ON TWO OF THE STATIONS. THE STATIONS ARE NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR THE CONTENT OF THE NEWS PROGRAMS. THE SAME SYSTEM OPERATES IN THE PRIVATELY-OWNED RADIO STATIONS IN THE COUNTRY. THERE ARE OVER 20 INDEPENDENT RADIO NEWS PROGRAMS. THERE ARE SIX MAJOR DAILIES PUBLISHED IN THE CAPITAL. THE GOVERNMENT ALSO PUBLISHES A DAILY WHICH CONTAINS NEWS ITEMS AND OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS AND DECREES, A KIND OF OFFICIAL GAZETTE.

THERE ARE THREE MAJOR PRIVATE UNIVERSITIES AND A FOURTH SMALL ONE, PLUS THE NATIONAL SAN CARLOS UNIVERSITY (USAC) IN GUATEMALA. THE PRIVATE UNIVERSITIES MAINTAIN AN APOLITICAL PROFILE. USAC WITH A STUDENT BODY OF OVER 40 THOUSAND, IS AUTONOMOUS. IT RECEIVES AN ANNUAL ALLOCATION FROM THE NATIONAL BUDGET, A RIGHT STIPULATED IN THE NOW ABANDONED CONSTITUTION. THIS ALLOCATION MAY BE INCREASED BY OTHER STATE REVENUES, AS WAS THE CASE WHEN THE MEJIA GOVERNMENT AUGMENTED THE CURRENT BUDGET TO ENABLE ADMISSION OF AN ENLARGED FRESHMAN CLASS.

SAN CARLOS HAS BEEN THE SCENE OF NUMEROUS KIDNAPPINGS AND DISAPPEARANCES OF STUDENTS, FACULTY AND STAFF.

[redacted]

SAN CARLOS WAS NOT THE ONLY ACADEMIC INSTITUTION AFFECTED BY VIOLENCE. NINE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS IN THE INTERIOR AND TWO STUDENTS FROM LANDIVAR UNIVERSITY (EXTENSION) WERE REPORTED KIDNAPPED. ALSO FOUR PRIMARY AND SECONDARY TEACHERS IN THE CAPITAL AND INTERIOR DISAPPEARED, ACCORDING TO PUBLISHED REPORTS.

CONTRASTING THE PHYSICAL VIOLENCE DONE TO THE ACADEMIC COMMUNITY, IS FREEDOM OF THOUGHT. THERE IS NO CENSORSHIP OF BOOKS, EITHER FOREIGN OR LOCALLY-PUBLISHED. EVEN TRADITIONAL SOCIALIST TRACTS CAN BE FOUND IN LIBRARIES.

2.B FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

UNDER THE STATE OF SIEGE IN EFFECT BETWEEN JULY 1, 1982, AND MARCH 23, 1983, THE RIGHTS OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY, POLITICAL PARTIES AND POLITICAL ACTIVITY WERE BANNED. THE EXECUTIVE ALSO HAD THE AUTHORITY TO SUSPEND THE FUNCTIONING OF ANY GROUP WHOSE ACTIONS WERE DEEMED CONTRARY TO PUBLIC ORDER AND SECURITY. THE BASIC STATUTE OF GOVERNMENT (DECREE LAW 24-83), ISSUED ON APRIL 28, 1982, RESTORED THE RIGHTS OF PETITION, ASSEMBLY, AND POLITICAL ASSOCIATION. HOWEVER, THE STATE OF EMERGENCY DECLARED ON JUNE 29, 1983, AGAIN PROHIBITED THE PUBLICATION OF "POLITICALLY-RELATED NEWS, MANIFESTOS OR DECLARATIONS" AND SUSPENDED VARIOUS PROVISIONS OF THE BASIC STATUTE INCLUDING THE FREEDOM OF TRAVEL, TRADE UNION ACTIVITY, POLITICAL ACTIVITY, HABEAS CORPUS, AND THE RIGHT TO PETITION THE GOVERNMENT. GEN. MEJIA VICTORES LIFTED THE STATE OF EMERGENCY ON AUGUST 8, 1983.

- THERE ARE OFFICIALLY NO POLITICAL PARTIES OPERATING IN GUATEMALA AT PRESENT. THIRTY-SIX GROUPS HAVE REGISTERED THEIR INTENTION TO BECOME PARTIES AND ARE IN VARIOUS STAGES OF MEETING THE STATUTORY REQUIREMENTS SET FORTH IN THE ELECTORAL LAW.

- POLITICAL ACTIVITY IN AREAS OF CONTINUING GUERRILLA ACTIVITY IS CONSIDERED BY THE COMMITTEES TO BE DANGEROUS.

- GUATEMALAN LAW PROTECTS THE RIGHTS OF LABOR TO ORGANIZE. THE LABOR CODE DEFINES A LABOR UNION AS "ANY PERMANENT ASSOCIATION OF WORKERS, OR EMPLOYERS, OR SELF-EMPLOYED WORKERS, FORMED SOLELY FOR THE STUDY, IMPROVEMENT, AND PROTECTION OF THEIR COMMON ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL INTERESTS." FREEDOM TO ORGANIZE IS ILLUSTRATED BY THE FACT THAT LEGALLY ORGANIZED TRADE UNION CONFEDERATIONS RUN THE GAMUT FROM THE COMMUNIST FASGUA (THE AUTONOMOUS LABOR UNION FEDERATION OF GUATEMALA) TO THE RECENTLY ORGANIZED(MAY 1, 1983) DEMOCRATIC TRADE UNION CONFEDERATION CUSG (CONFEDERATION OF SYNDICALIST UNITY OF GUATEMALA). IN A SEPTEMBER 22 PRESS COMMUNIQUE, HOWEVER, FASGUA ASSERTED THAT THE DECEMBER 14, 1982 DISAPPEARANCE AND MURDER OF TWO OF ITS UNION LEADERS ILLUSTRATES THAT THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT DOES NOT PERMIT "FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION." IN THIS CONTEXT, IF SHOULD BE NOTED THAT FOUR TRADE UNION LEADERS CONNECTED WITH EXTREME LEFTIST UNIONS HAVE DISAPPEARED SINCE DECEMBER 1982. SOME OF THESE DISAPPEARANCES HAVE BEEN BROUGHT TO THE ATTENTION OF THE INTERNATIONAL LABOR ORGANIZATION AND ARE CURRENTLY UNDER INVESTIGATION BY THAT BODY. GOVERNMENT CULPABILITY FOR THESE DISAPPEARANCES, HOWEVER, HAS YET TO BE ESTABLISHED.

- ACCORDING TO GOVERNMENT STATISTICS COMPLIED IN MAY 1983, 645 UNIONS ARE LEGALLY INSCRIBED; OF THIS NUMBER, 318 ARE INACTIVE. THERE ARE TWO REASONS WHY SO MANY UNIONS ARE INACTIVE: FIRST, THE REPRESSION DIRECTED AGAINST LEFT-WING UNIONS BY THE FORMER LUCAS GARCIA GOVERNMENT; AND SECOND, THE DECLINING ECONOMY.

IN ANY EVENT, ORGANIZED LABOR HAS ALWAYS

OSCILLATED BETWEEN A LOW 10 TO 15 PERCENT OF THE GUATEMALAN WORKFORCE. WITH A 1983 WORKFORCE OF 2.4 MILLION, THIS EQUATES TO ABOUT 240,000 MEMBERS. IT IS PROBABLY NOW LESS THAN 10 PERCENT.

- ALTHOUGH THE 1956 AND 1965 CONSTITUTIONS MADE IT ILLEGAL TO ORGANIZE UNIONS IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR, SUCH UNIONS WERE LEGAL UNDER THE 1946 CONSTITUTION, AND ALL THOSE WITH LEGAL STANDING UNDER THAT CONSTITUTION WERE ALLOWED TO CONTINUE. MANY SUCH PUBLIC SECTOR UNIONS ARE STILL ACTIVE.

- THE CURRENT STATUTE OF GOVERNMENT RECOGNIZES THE RIGHT TO STRIKE IN CONFORMANCE WITH THE LABOR CODE, BUT ONLY AFTER NEGOTIATIONS AND CONCILIATION PROCEDURES HAVE FAILED. THESE PROCEDURES MAKE IT EXTREMELY DIFFICULT FOR A LEGAL STRIKE EVER TO TAKE PLACE. UNDER ARTICLE 243 OF THE LABOR CODE, FARM WORKERS MAY NOT STRIKE DURING HARVESTS, NOR MAY WORKERS IN INDUSTRIAL PLANTS OR SERVICE INDUSTRIES STRIKE IF THE GOVERNMENT DECIDES THE IMPACT ON THE ECONOMY WOULD BE TOO NEGATIVE. IF THE GOVERNMENT FORMALLY SUSPENDS THE RIGHTS TO STRIKE UNDER ARTICLE 243, HOWEVER, THEN MANAGEMENT AND LABOR MUST PROCEED TO COMPULSORY ARBITRATION. AS IN THE UNITED STATES, GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES ARE NOT PERMITTED BY LAW TO STRIKE.

- THE GOVERNMENT RESTRICTED NORMAL TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES UNDER STATE OF SIEGE FROM

JULY 1982 TO MARCH 23, 1983; AND A STATE OF EMERGENCY FROM JUNE 29 TO AUGUST 9, 1983. DURING THESE TWO PERIODS, HOWEVER, DECREE LAW 62-82 PERMITTED ALL UNIONS WITH LEGAL RECOGNITION TO RETAIN LEGAL STANDING, FOR THEIR EXECUTIVE BOARDS TO REMAIN IN OFFICE, AND FOR THESE BOARDS TO NEGOTIATE COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENTS WITH EMPLOYERS.

- THE PRINCIPAL DEVELOPMENT ON THE 1983 UNION FRONT WAS THE FORMATION OF THE CUSG (CONFEDERATION OF SYNDICALIST UNITY OF GUATEMALA) ON MAY 1, 1983. THIS CONFEDERATION IS COMPOSED OF EIGHT FEDERATIONS (URBAN AND RURAL) WITH 275 LOCALS AND APPROXIMATELY 100,000 MEMBERS. THE CUSG HAS MADE IT CLEAR THAT WHILE PAST RADICAL POLITICAL UNIONISM HAD ITS SOURCE IN THE INTRANSIGENCE OF EMPLOYERS, THE CONFEDERATION WOULD EMPHASIZE ECONOMIC UNIONISM AND WOULD WORK TO IMPROVE MANAGEMENT-WORKER RELATIONS.

[redacted]

PAGE 02 GUATEM 09119 12 OF 20 242333Z

THE LABOR MINISTRY APPROVED CUSG'S BYLAWS ON OCTOBER 3, AND FORWARDED THEM TO THE EXECUTIVE FOR APPROVAL. WHEN THE CHIEF OF STATE SIGNS THE BYLAWS, THE CUSG WILL HAVE LEGAL RECOGNITION.

- GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS HAVE EMPHASIZED THAT THEY ARE IN FAVOR OF ECONOMIC UNIONISM BUT WILL NOT TOLERATE POLITICAL UNIONISM; NEVERTHELESS, UNIONS ASSOCIATED WITH A LEFTIST VIEWPOINT ARE WELCOME TO ORGANIZE. IN THE PAST, UNIONISM IN GUATEMALA INCLUDED UNIONS AND UNION LEADERS SUPPORTED AND FINANCED BY THE GOVERNMENT, INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATIC TRADE UNIONS, AND LEFTIST UNIONS OPPOSED TO THE GOVERNMENT. THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT'S POLICY IS TO SUPPLY NO SUBSIDIES OF ANY KIND TO ANY UNIONS OR UNION LEADERS. WHILE THE PRINCIPAL EXTREME LEFTIST UNIONS, SUCH AS THE COMMUNIST CONFEDERATION FASGUA AND THE CNT (NATIONAL WORKERS CONFEDERATION) WERE QUIESCENT IN 1983 DUE TO THE EARLIER LUCAS GARCIA REPRESSION, THEY CAN BE EXPECTED TO STRESS POLITICAL UNIONISM ONCE THEIR LEVEL OF ACTIVITY INCREASES AGAIN.

DEMOCRATIC TRADE UNION LEADERS, HOWEVER, CAN BE EXPECTED TO CONTINUE TO FOCUS ON ECONOMIC UNIONISM; AMONG OTHER REASONS, THEY EXPRESS PROFOUND PESSIMISM ABOUT THE INTEREST OF POLITICAL PARTIES IN THE NEEDS OF THE URBAN AND RURAL WORKING CLASS. THEY SEE A STRONG DEMOCRATIC UNION MOVEMENT AS

[redacted]

[redacted]

THE ONLY CREDIBLE MEANS OF IMPROVING THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL CONDITIONS OF GUATEMALA'S MANY POOR. WHILE THE TRADE UNION MOVEMENT HAS ALWAYS BEEN SMALL IN GUATEMALA, ITS IMPORTANCE POLITICALLY HAS PROBABLY OUTWEIGHED ITS ECONOMIC IMPACT. IT HAS PLAYED--AND IS PLAYING--THE ROLE OF SPOKESMAN FOR THE URBAN AND PEASANT WORKERS.

- DEMOCRATIC TRADE UNION LEADERS HAVE RECENTLY ACHIEVED GOVERNMENT ATTENTION TO

THEIR COMPLAINTS THAT THE LABOR CODE, WHILE ITSELF NEUTRAL, IS OFTEN IMPLEMENTED TO FAVOR MANAGEMENT. THE LABOR COURTS' DILATORY PROCEDURES, FOR EXAMPLE, SEVERELY DISADVANTAGE THE WORKER WHEN HE SUES HIS EMPLOYER. THE GOVERNMENT HAS AGREED TO REFORM THE LABOR CODE TO SPEED UP LABOR COURT PROCEDURES.

- TRADE UNIONS AND PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS ARE FREE TO MAINTAIN RELATIONS WITH INTERNATIONAL BODIES. TRADE UNION CONFEDERATIONS HAVE BEEN AFFILIATED WITH SUCH BODIES AS THE ICFTU (INTERNATIONAL CONFEDERATION OF FREE TRADE UNIONS) AND THE SOVIET-SPONSORED WFTU (WORLD FEDERATION OF TRADE UNIONS), AS WELL AS WITH REGIONAL BODIES SUCH AS THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC CLAT (CONFEDERACION LATINOAMERICANA DE TRABAJO), WFTU'S REGIONAL ORGANIZATION CPUSTAL (THE PERMANENT CONGRESS FOR THE TRADE UNION UNITY OF LATIN AMERICAN WORKERS), AND ICFTU'S ORIT. - THERE ARE NUMEROUS PROFESSIONAL AND TRADE ASSOCIATIONS IN GUATEMALA. TRADE ASSOCIATIONS REPRESENTING AGRO-INDUSTRY, COMMERCE, AND INDUSTRY HAVE GREAT POLITICAL INFLUENCE. THERE HAVE BEEN NO REPORTS IN 1983 OF INTIMIDATION OR PERSECUTION OF PROFESSIONAL GROUPS, INCLUDING SCIENTIFIC BODIES, LAWYERS' ASSOCIATIONS, AND OTHER INDEPENDENT ORGANIZATIONS.

2.C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

THE FUNDAMENTAL STATUTE OF GOVERNMENT ESTABLISHES THE INDIVIDUAL'S RIGHT TO FREEDOM OF CONSCIENCE [redacted]

AND THE FREE EXERCISE OF RELIGION; IT ALSO GRANTS LEGAL RECOGNITION TO ALL DENOMINATIONS. THUS THE OPEN PRACTICE OF ALL RELIGIOUS FAITHS IS PERMITTED. THIS HAS BEEN TRUE SINCE 1871 WHEN A GOVERNMENT DECREE DISESTABLISHED THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH AND OPENED THE WAY FOR EVANGELICAL MISSIONARIES. AT LEAST 75 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION ADHERE TO THE ROMAN CATHOLIC FAITH. MANY INDIANS, HOWEVER, PRACTICE A SYNCRETISTIC RELIGION WHICH COMBINES ROMAN CATHOLIC TENETS WITH ELEMENTS OF THE TRADITIONAL MAYAN RELIGION. EVANGELICAL CHURCHES HAVE GROWN RAPIDLY--ESPECIALLY AMONGST INDIANS--SINCE THE 1976 EARTHQUAKE WHEN AMERICAN EVANGELICAL CHURCHES SENT NOT ONLY MATERIAL AID BUT ALSO MISSIONARIES. EVANGELICAL BELIEVERS PROBABLY NUMBER ABOUT 20 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION. IN ADDITION, THERE IS A SMALL JEWISH COMMUNITY.

BECAUSE IT IS THE CHURCH OF THE MAJORITY, THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH HAS ALWAYS HAD POLITICAL INFLUENCE. THE GROWTH OF EVANGELICAL CHURCHES SINCE 1976 HAS STIRRED UP SOME SECTARIAN TENSIONS. A FEW ZEALOUS ADHERENTS IN RURAL AREAS HAVE BEEN KNOWN TO CONFRONT EACH OTHER OVER "IDOLATRY" OR BIBLICAL REFERENCES. AT THE SAME TIME, MOST WORKING-LEVEL PRIESTS AND PASTORS COOPERATE HARMONIOUSLY. THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH, WHOSE PRIESTS UNDER THE LUCAS GARCIA GOVERNMENT HAD EXPERIENCED THREATS, EXPULSIONS, AND ASSASSINATIONS, FELT THAT UNDER THE RIOS MONTT GOVERNMENT THE SITUATION HAD IMPROVED ENOUGH TO REOPEN WORK IN THE DEPARTMENT OF EL QUICHE BY APPOINTING AN APOSTOLIC ADMINISTRATOR FOR THE DIOCESE OF EL QUICHE IN DECEMBER, 1982.

[redacted]

IN ADDITION, THE TITULAR BISHOP, MONSIGNOR JUAN GERARDA, RETURNED TO GUATEMALA FROM EXILE.

IN THE FIGURE OF GENERAL RIOS MONTT, GUATEMALA HAD ITS FIRST EVANGELICAL PRESIDENT; SOME OF HIS CLOSEST ADVISORS WERE ALSO EVANGELICALS. WHEN BISHOP PROSPERO PENADOS WAS ASKED ABOUT RELATIONS BETWEEN THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND THE EVANGELICAL MOVEMENT AT THE TIME OF HIS ANNOUNCEMENT IN NOVEMBER, 1982 OF THE FORTHCOMING VISIT OF THE POPE, HE REPLIED THAT THERE WAS NO ANTIPATHY BETWEEN ROMAN CATHOLICS AND EVANGELICALS. LATER, HOWEVER, MANY LEADERS IN THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH BEGAN TO COMPLAIN THAT RIOS MONTT WAS USING THE FULL WEIGHT OF THE GOVERNMENT TO FAVOR EVANGELICALS. THERE WERE ALSO WIDESPREAD ALLEGATIONS THAT MANY RURAL RESIDENTS WERE BEING PRESSURED TO JOIN, OR IDENTIFY WITH, PROTESTANT CHURCHES IN THEIR AREA AS PROOF OF THEIR ANTI-GUERRILLA BONA FIDES. ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL REASONS THE MILITARY COUNCIL GAVE FOR THE AUGUST 8, 1983 COUP WAS THAT "A RELIGIOUS, FANATIC, AND AGGRESSIVE GROUP, TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE POSITIONS OF POWER HELD BY ITS HIGHEST MEMBERS, HAS USED AND ABUSED THE MEANS OF GOVERNMENT FOR ITS OWN BENEFIT, IGNORING THE ESSENTIAL PRINCIPLE OF SEPARATION OF CHURCH AND STATE." EVANGELICALS DENIED THIS. IN TESTIMONY BEFORE THE INTER-AMERICAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (IAHRC), ROMAN CATHOLIC OFFICIALS CHARGED THAT UNDER THE RIOS

GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS BLOCKED VISAS AND WORK PERMITS FOR ITS FOREIGN RELIGIOUS WORKERS. (EVANGELICALS MADE THIS SAME CHARGE AFTER THE MEJIA GOVERNMENT TOOK POWER.) IN ADDITION, ROMAN

CATHOLIC CHURCH AUTHORITIES CHARGED THAT THE ARMY HAD BURNED, OR APPROPRIATED AND OCCUPIED, MANY OF ITS CHURCHES--ESPECIALLY IN EL QUICHE. (AS NOTED, UNDER THE LUCAS GARCIA GOVERNMENT THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH HAD WITHDRAWN ALL BUT ONE PRIEST FROM EL QUICHE.) ROMAN CATHOLIC BISHOPS ALSO COMPLAINED THAT MANY MILITARY COMMANDERS IN THE CONFLICT ZONES GRANTED PERMITS FOR RELIGIOUS GATHERINGS TO PROTESTANT EVANGELISTS BUT NOT TO ROMAN CATHOLIC CATHECHISTS. IN AN EARLIER PASTORAL LETTER (APRIL 83), THE COUNTRY'S ROMAN CATHOLIC BISHOPS

AFTER THE AUGUST 8 CHANGE OF LEADERSHIP, THERE WERE SOME PROTESTANT COMPLAINTS OF HARRASSMENT BY THE AUTHORITIES. AN AUGUST 21 PRESS REPORT, FOR [redacted]

PAGE 02 GUATEM 09119 14 OF 20 242335Z

INSTANCE, STATED THAT CERTAIN PROTESTANT CHURCHES WERE CLAIMING THAT THEIR MINISTERS AND FAITHFUL HAD BEEN SUBJECT TO INTIMIDATION BY THE NATIONAL POLICE. ACCORDING TO THE REPORT, SEVERAL PROTESTANT CHURCHES IN GUATEMALA CITY HAD BEEN UNDER SURVEILLANCE AND VARIOUS CHURCH MEMBERS QUESTIONED BY POLICE AGENTS. THE POLICE PURPORTEDLY TOLD MEMBERS SO QUESTIONED THAT THEY WERE MERELY FOLLOWING ORDERS. THE GOVERNMENT PROMISED AN INVESTIGATION. ON AUGUST 22, THE OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS OF GUATEMALA'S NATIONAL POLICE DECLARED THAT ORDERS HAD BEEN SENT TO POLICE CHIEFS THROUGHOUT GUATEMALA THAT THEY WERE NOT TO INTERFERE WITH ANY LEADERS OF EVANGELICAL SECTS. THE ORDERS ALSO REMINDED POLICE OFFICIALS THAT EVANGELICAL LEADERS AND THEIR FOLLOWERS ARE FREE TO PURSUE THEIR RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES WITHOUT FEAR OF INTERFERENCE OR PERSECUTION IN GUATEMALA.

THAT RELIGIOUS TENSION BETWEEN ROMAN CATHOLICS AND EVANGELICALS INCREASED IN 1983 IS CERTAIN. THAT THIS WAS THE RESULT OF A DELIBERATE PATTERN OF CONFIDENTIAL

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH BY THE RIOS MONTT GOVERNMENT, OR AGAINST THE EVANGELICALS BY THE MEJIA GOVERNMENT, IS HIGHLY DUBIOUS. FOREIGN ROMAN CATHOLIC CLERGY AND RELIGIOUS WORKERS REMAINED IN PLACE DURING THE RIOS MONTT GOVERNMENT AND CONTINUED THEIR WORK AND TRAVELS WITHIN THE COUNTRY; FOREIGN EVANGELICAL CLERGY REMAIN IN GUATEMALA UNDER THE MEJIA GOVERNMENT AND CONTINUE THEIR MISSIONARY WORK AND TRAVEL WITHIN THE COUNTRY. SCATTERED ACTS OF PETTINESS BY MINOR OFFICIALS AGAINST BOTH ROMAN CATHOLIC AND EVANGELICAL CLERGY UNDER THE TWO GOVERNMENTS HAVE NOT HINDERED THE FREE EXERCISE OF RELIGION BY CLERGY AND FAITHFUL OF ALL DENOMINATIONS. FRICTIONS AND INCIDENTS NOW OCCURRING BETWEEN CATHOLICS AND PROTESTANTS APPEAR NOT TO BE PART OF ANY OFFICIALLY SANCTIONED CAMPAIGN, BUT RATHER A REACTION TO THE ACCUMULATION OF INDIVIDUAL GRIEVANCES UNDER THE RIOS MONTT REGIME.

2.D FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, AND REPATRIATION

AFTER A PERIOD OF IMPROVEMENT IN 1982 AND THE FIRST HALF OF 1983, THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT HAS PUBLICLY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE CYCLE OF CONFLICT TURNED UP LATE IN 1983. GUERRILLA ACTIONS INCREASED AFTER THE AUGUST CHANGE OF MILITARY LEADERS. AS A CONSEQUENCE, TRAVEL IS NOT TOTALLY SAFE IN SUCH DEPARTMENTS AS HUEHUETENANGO, SAN MARCOS, EL QUICHE, ALTA AND BAJA VERAPAZ, SOLOLA AND CHIMALTENANGO. USUALLY MILITARY PATROLS ARE THE TARGET OF MINES OR

HAND GRENADES, BUT BUSES AND CARS MAY BE STOPPED AND THE OCCUPANTS ROBBED. IN APRIL A GUERRILLA UNIT KILLED A BUS DRIVER AND ONE PASSENGER IN CHIMALTENANGO AFTER MAKING THE OTHER PASSENGERS DISEMBARK. CONTRAINTS ON FOREIGN TRAVEL CONTINUE TO BE PRINCIPALLY ECONOMIC AND NOT POLITICAL, WITH LITTLE INDICATION OF ANY CHANGE IN THE NORMAL PATTERN OF GUATEMALAN TRAVELERS. MEMBERS OF THE GOVERNMENT DEPOSED BY THE MILITARY IN AUGUST ARE FREE TO TRAVEL AS THEY WISH. A SMALL NUMBER OF YOUNG MILITARY OFFICERS WHO SERVED AS ADVISORS TO RIOS MONTT WERE SENT ABROAD AS MILITARY ATTACHES. GUATEMALAN REFUGEES FROM AREAS OF CONFLICT CONTINUE TO MOVE BOTH WAYS ACROSS THE MEXICAN BORDER, AND A MUCH SMALLER NUMBER OF REFUGEES REMAINED IN HONDURAS. THE NUMBER OF REFUGEES IN MEXICO IS UNCERTAIN AND CONTROVERSIAL, DEPENDING UPON THE SOURCE OF THE ESTIMATE. THE UNITED NATIONS HIGH COMMISSION FOR REFUGEES HAS ESTIMATED THE

NUMBER AT AROUND 35,000 (DEPARTMENT SHOULD UPDATE). SOME HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS HAVE CLAIMED UP TO HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS. THE GUATEMALAN RED CROSS, WHOSE REPRESENTATIVES TOURED REFUGEE CAMPS IN MEXICO, ESTIMATED APPROXIMATELY 13,000. THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT'S POLICY IS TO ENCOURAGE VOLUNTARY RETURN BY THE REFUGEES AND ASSISTANCE IN RESETTLEMENT IN THE REFUGEES VILLAGES OF ORIGIN, TO THE EXTENT THAT IT IS SAFE TO DO SO. THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT HAS PUBLICLY OFFERED TO COOPERATE WITH THE UNHCR IN EFFECTING REPATRIATION FROM MEXICO. WITHIN GUATEMALA, THE NUMBER OF DISPLACED PERSONS IS ALSO NOT PRECISELY KNOWN. IN MAY, A RELIEF ORGANIZATION CLOSELY ASSOCIATED WITH THE CATHOLIC CHURCH ESTIMATED THE NUMBER AT 300,000, A MAJOR REDUCTION FROM EARLIER ESTIMATES OF UP TO ONE MILLION. HOWEVER, MANY CLOSE OBSERVERS BELIEVE THAT THIS FIGURE IS STILL TOO HIGH, AS THERE IS ONLY ONE DISPLACED PERSONS CAMP IN THE COUNTRY, WHERE THE INHABITANTS ARE ESTIMATED TO NUMBER BETWEEN 3,000 AND 5,000.

NORMAL IMMIGRATION CONTINUES, AND SOME PERSONS WHO HAD LIVED IN VOLUNTARILY EXILE PRIOR TO THE RIOS MONTT GOVERNMENT RETURNED TO THE COUNTRY IN 1983, INCLUDING PROFESSIONAL AND RELIGIOUS PERSONS. IT WAS CHARGED THAT ONE LABOR ACTIVIST WHO RETURNED SUBSEQUENTLY DISAPPEARED. FORCED REPATRIATION DOES NOT OCCUR. MANY EXILES FROM OTHER CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES HAVE BEEN GRANTED ASYLUM IN GUATEMALA.

3. THE RIGHT OF CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT

IN 1983 GUATEMALA CONTINUED TO BE RULED BY A DE FACTO, MILITARY-CONTROLLED GOVERNMENT. UNTIL REMOVED FROM POWER ON AUGUST 8, GENERAL RIOS MONTT RULED WITH THE SUPPORT OF THE GROUP OF JUNIOR OFFICERS WHO HAD STARTED THE MARCH 23, 1982 COUP. THE AUGUST 1983 ACTION RESTORED THE MILITARY HIERARCHY. GENERAL MEJIA ASSUMED THE TITLE OF CHIEF OF STATE RATHER THAN THAT OF PRESIDENT AND HE ALSO RETAINS

THE TITLE OF MINISTER OF DEFENSE. HE RECEIVES ADVICE AND CONSENT FROM THE MILITARY HIGH COMMAND. THERE ARE CIVILIANS OCCUPYING MINISTERIAL POSTS IN THE GOVERNMENT. THE LAST CIVILIAN PRESIDENT TO BE ELECTED IN GUATEMALA WAS JULIO CESAR MENDEZ MONTENEGRO IN 1966. BEGINNING IN 1970, A SUCCESSION OF FOUR RECENTLY-RETIRED SENIOR MILITARY OFFICERS WERE ELECTED PRESIDENT AS CANDIDATES OF ONE OR MORE POLITICAL PARTIES. THE FOURTH, ELECTED IN MARCH 1982, NEVER TOOK OFFICE. THE THREE OPPOSITION CIVILIAN CANDIDATES CHARGED, WITHOUT PRESENTING SUPPORTING EVIDENCE, THAT THE ELECTIONS HAD BEEN FRAUDULENT. THIS, TOGETHER WITH A PUBLIC WEARINESS OF MILITARY CONTINUITY, SET THE STAGE FOR A COUP BY JUNIOR OFFICERS THAT, IN FACT, BROUGHT TO POWER ANOTHER MILITARY OFFICER, ALTHOUGH ONE WHO HAD BEEN INACTIVE FOR SEVERAL YEARS. THIS OFFICER, GENERAL EFRAIN RIOS MONTT, WAS INITIALLY POPULAR BECAUSE HE PROMISED TO REFORM THE POLITICAL SYSTEM

AND RETURN THE COUNTRY TO CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT. HIS BORN-AGAIN EVANGELICAL RELIGIOUS FAITH, HOWEVER, INCREASINGLY BECAME CONTENTIOUS WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF A CONSERVATIVE, CATHOLIC COUNTRY. IT WAS CHARGED THAT HE FAVORED THE GROWTH OF EVANGELICAL PROTESTANTISM, UTILIZING STATE RESOURCES. HIS WEEKLY SERMONETTES ON NATIONAL TELEVISION ADDED TO THIS PERCEPTION.

RIOS MONTT WAS REMOVED FROM OFFICE 17 MONTHS AFTER TAKING POWER FOR A NUMBER OF REASONS, ONE OF WHICH WAS THE PERCEPTION WITHIN THE MILITARY HIGH COMMAND THAT HE WAS NOT COMMITTED TO AN ACCEPTABLE DATE FOR A RETURN TO CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT. BEYOND SETTING A DATE FOR A CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY ELECTION, RIOS MONTT HAD NOT, IN FACT, ANNOUNCED A TIMETABLE FOR THE SUBSEQUENT STEPS LEADING TO AN ELECTED GOVERNMENT. HIS GOVERNMENT HAD ISSUED A NEW POLITICAL PARTIES LAW, AND PERMITTED THE RESUMPTION OF POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONAL ACTIVITIES.
GENERAL MEJIA, AFTER TAKING OVER AS CHIEF OF STATE,

[redacted]

[redacted]

MET WITH POLITICAL GROUPS ON AUGUST 23 AND ANNOUNCED THAT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD HONOR THE PREVIOUSLY AGREED DATES FOR CONVOKING, HOLDING AND INSTALLING A CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY, WHICH ARE RESPECTIVELY MARCH 23, JULY 1, AND SEPTEMBER 15, 1984. THE GOVERNMENT HAS STATED THAT THE MANDATE OF THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY WILL BE EXCLUSIVELY THAT OF DRAFTING A NEW CONSTITUTION, WITH THE CURRENT DE FACTO MILITARY REGIME GOVERNING THE COUNTRY UNTIL AN ELECTED GOVERNMENT TAKES OFFICE. THE MEJIA GOVERNMENT ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS, MOST RECENTLY IN THE FOREIGN MINISTER'S SPEECH TO THE UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S FALL 1983 SESSION, HAS INDICATED THAT NATIONAL ELECTIONS WILL TAKE PLACE IN 1985. SPECIFICALLY, THE GOVERNMENT PUBLIC RELATIONS SUBSECRETARY STATED ON SEPTEMBER 26 THAT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD BE TURNED OVER TO AN ELECTED PRESIDENT ON JULY 1, 1985. TECHNICALLY, HOWEVER, THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY WILL HAVE THE RESPONSIBILITY TO SET THE ELECTION SCHEDULE WITHIN THE CONTEXT OF DRAFTING

THE PROVISIONS OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

SOME 36 PRE-PARTY POLITICAL COMMITTEES HAD ANNOUNCED THEIR INTENTION TO ORGANIZE PARTIES. TO BECOME ACTUAL POLITICAL PARTIES, THE COMMITTEES ARE REQUIRED TO COMPLETE A SERIES OF OBLIGATORY STEPS.
THEY MUST OBTAIN 4,000 SIGNATURES NATIONALLY REPRE-SENTING 50 MUNICIPALITIES--THERE ARE 327 MUNICIPALI-TIES IN THE COUNTRY--AND 12 DEPARTMENTS OUT OF A TOTAL OF 22. THEN, IN THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY

THE TOTAL VOTE TO BE CERTIFIED AS A PARTY AND EARN THE RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE SUBSEQUENT NATIONAL ELECTIONS. THE PREVIOUS POLITICAL PARTIES LAW
REQUIRED 50,000 SIGNATURES TO REGISTER A NEW PARTY.
AS ONE MEANS OF COMPLYING WITH A PROMISE OF EARLY NATIONAL ELECTIONS, THE MEJIA GOVERNMENT CANCELLED
A PROJECT TO INTRODUCE NEW NATIONAL IDENTITY CARDS, CLAIMING THAT THE PROCESS WOULD COST AT LEAST $10 MILLION TO CARRY OUT AND TAKE SEVERAL YEARS TO COMPLETE. INSTEAD, VOTER IDENTIFICATION WILL BE BY MEANS OF THE EXISTING CEDULA DE VECINDAD, WHICH CONTAINS A PICTURE OF THE BEARER AND WHICH, BY LAW, MUST BE OBTAINED AT AGE EIGHTEEN.

THE ELECTION PROCESS WILL BE ADMINISTERED BY A SUPREME ELECTORAL TRIBUNAL, ESTABLISHED BY DECREE-LAW ON MARCH 23, 1983. THE FIVE MEMBERS OF THE TRIBUNAL, ALL WELL-KNOWN LAWYERS, WERE SWORN IN ON JUNE 30 BY THE CHIEF JUSTICE. THE TRIBUNAL ANNOUNCED SUBSEQUENTLY THAT PREPARATION OF VOTER LISTS WOULD BEGIN IN NOVEMBER 1983 WITH A GOAL OF POSSIBLY THREE MILLION INSCRIPTIONS BY THE DATE OF THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS. SOME INFORMED OBSERVERS, AS WELL AS SOME POLITICAL LEADERS, BELIEVE THAT IT WILL NOT BE POSSIBLE TO ACHIEVE THIS LEVEL OF REGISTRATION, BUT NONE OF THE POLITICAL COMMITTEES SUPPORTS A POSTPONEMENT OF THE ELECTIONS

WORK, A PROBLEM THAT REPORTEDLY WAS BEING REMEDIED BY THE MEJIA GOVERNMENT.

4. GOVERNMENTAL ATTITUDES REGARDING INTERNATIONAL AND NON-GOVERNMENTAL INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

NUMEROUS HUMAN RIGHTS, CHURCH, AND OTHER PRIVATE GROUPS VISITED GUATEMALA IN 1983 TO DETERMINE, AT FIRSTHAND, THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION. THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA RECEIVED THEM AND INDICATED ITS WILLINGNESS TO RECEIVE THE REPRESENTATIVES OF ANY LEGITIMATE HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS. IT ALSO PUBLICLY INDICATED THAT SUCH INTERNATIONAL VISITORS WOULD BE FREE TO TOUR GUATEMALA WITHOUT HINDRANCE.

DURING 1983, SUCH VISITORS INCLUDED DELEGATIONS FROM THE UNITARIAN-UNIVERSALIST SERVICE COMMITTEE [redacted]

[redacted]

(JANUARY), THE ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE OF B'NAI B'RITH (APRIL), EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT (JULY), BISHOPS REPRESENTING THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF CATHOLIC BISHOPS OF THE UNITED STATES (AUGUST), LUTHERAN BISHOPS (SEPTEMBER), AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE AMERICAN ANTHROPOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION (OCTOBER). IN SEPTEMBER, THE GUATEMALAN VICE MINISTER OF FOREIGN RELATIONS TRAVELED TO EUROPE AND MET WITH A CHAPTER OF AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL IN BELGIUM.

THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA FACILITATED THE VISIT OF THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON GUATEMALA, VISCOUNT COLVILLE OF CULROSS, IN JUNE, 1983. LORD COLVILLE MET WITH BOTH GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND NUMEROUS PRIVATE CITIZENS. HE ALSO TOURED THE COUNTRYSIDE. HIS REPORT WAS TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE THIRD COMMITTEE OF THE UNGA IN NOVEMBER 1983.

IN OCTOBER, 1983, THE INTER-AMERICAN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS PUBLISHED THE RESULTS OF ITS SEPTEMBER 1982 ON-SITE INVESTIGATION. ITS MAJOR CONCLUSIONS WERE THAT THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA HAD DONE NOTHING TO PROSECUTE THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR ILLEGAL EXECUTION COMMITTED PRIOR TO MARCH 23, 1982; THAT FEWER LIVES WERE LOST UNDER RIOS MONTT THAN UNDER PREVIOUS GOVERNMENTS; AND THAT THE SPECIAL TRIBUNALS CONDEMNED 15 MEN TO DEATH FOR CRIMES THAT DID NOT JUSTIFY THE IMPOSITION OF CAPITAL PUNISHMENT. THE COMMISSION ALSO STATED THAT WHILE THE GUERRILLAS WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR ACTS OF VIOLENCE IN RURAL AREAS, A LARGE SHARE OF BLAME FOR THOSE INCIDENTS

BELONGED TO THE SECURITY FORCES. THE COMMISSION SAID THAT NEITHER HABEAS CORPUS NOR AMPARO WERE RESPECTED BY THE GOVERNMENT, AND THAT ARBITRARY DETENTIONS CONTINUED TO OCCUR AT THE HANDS OF SECURITY FORCES. THE REPORT ALSO CHARGES THE GOVERNMENT WITH CONDUCTING A CAMPAIGN OF TORTURE, NOT ONLY ON THOSE INDIVIDUALS BEING ARBITRARILY DETAINED, BUT IN RURAL AREAS ON PEASANTS SUSPECTED OF COLLABORATION WITH THE INSURGENCY. OTHER COMMENTS OF THE REPORT INCLUDED MENTION OF CATHOLIC-PROTESTANT FRICTION WITH THE RESULT OF IMPINGING ON THE ABILITY OF CATHOLIC PRIESTS TO FUNCTION IN THEIR MINISTRIES PROPERLY; THE PLIGHT OF THE THOUSANDS OF REFUGEES WHO HAD FLED THEIR HOMES IN GUATEMALA; AND THE PLIGHT OF THE THOUSANDS OF DISPLACED PERSONS WITHIN GUATEMALA WHO HAD BEEN FORCED TO FLEE THEIR TRADITIONAL HOMES AND BE RESETTLED ELSEWHERE WITHIN THE COUNTRY.

THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA HAS ANSWERED THESE CHARGES PARTIALLY ACCEPTING RESPONSIBILITY IN SOME CASES BY STATING HOW THE PROBLEM HAS BEEN CORRECTED BY THE MEJIA REGIME, AND REBUTTING OTHER CHARGES.

GUATEMALA DISAGREES WITH THE COMMISSION'S FINDINGS ABOUT THE MILITARY'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE MAJORITY OF VIOLENCE IN THE HIGHLANDS. IT ALSO POINTS OUT THAT THE COMMISSION DID NOT CENSURE THE GUERRILLAS FOR THE KIDNAPPINGS OF PROMINENT BUSINESSMEN, JOURNALISTS AND THE SISTERS OF RIOS MONTT AND MEJIA VICTORES.

THE GOVERNMENT ALSO STATED THAT HUMAN RIGHTS

ORGANIZATIONS SHOULD LIMIT THEMSELVES IN THEIR REPORTS TO STATE WHAT COMPLAINTS HAVE BEEN MADE AND MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS, WITHOUT EMITTING VALUE JUDGEMENTS. THE HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS, THE GOVERNMENT ADDED, SHOULD NOT GIVE ACCUSATIONS THE APPEARANCE OF FACT WITHOUT PROOF, AT THE SAME TIME DISREGARDING CLARIFICATIONS FORMULATED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

IN 1982, THE ILO CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON APPLICATION OF CONVENTIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS REMOVED GUATEMALA FROM A SPECIAL CITATION RESERVED FOR COUNTRIES THAT FAIL TO COMPLY WITH A RATIFIED CONVENTION, IN THIS CASE, CONVENTION 87 ON "FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION". GUATEMALA HAD BEEN ON THIS "BLACK LIST" FOR A NUMBER OF YEARS. IN 1983, THIS SAME COMMITTEE NOTED THAT WHILE GUATEMALA CONTINUED TO MAKE PROGRESS IN ITS COMPLIANCE WITH ILO CONVENTIONS ON ORGANIZED LABOR, THE ILO STILL HAD QUESTIONS ABOUT THE LEGAL BAN ON UNION PARTICIPATION IN ELECTORAL POLITICS AND THE PROHIBITION OF PUBLIC EMPLOYEES' RIGHT TO STRIKE. IT DID NOTE,HOWEVER, A POSITIVE DEVELOPMENT:

PAGE 02 GUATEM 09119 18 OF 20 242339Z

GUATEMALA HAD REMOVED THE PROHIBITION ON THE REELECTION OF TRADE UNION LEADERS. AS OF 1983, GUATEMALA IS NOT INCLUDED IN THE "BLACK LIST."

AT PRESENT, THE ILO IS PROCESSING THREE COMPLAINTS

AGAINST GUATEMALA, ALL CONCERNING THE RECENT DISAPPEARANCES OF TRADE-UNION LEADERS. THE INTERNATIONAL CONFEDERATION OF FREE TRADE UNIONS FILED ONE COMPLAINT, AND THE PERMANENT CONGRESS OF TRADE UNION UNITY OF LATIN AMERICA (CPUSTAL)--THE REGIONAL ORGANIZATION OF THE SOVIET WORLD FEDERATION OF TRADE UNIONS (WFTU)--FILED THE OTHERS. THE ILO HAS THESE THREE CASES UNDER INVESTIGATION.

ECONOMIC, SOCIAL, AND CULTURAL SITUATION

THE CONTRAST IN LIVING STANDARDS IS VERY MARKED BETWEEN A SMALL STRATUM OF WELL-EDUCATED GUATEMALANS, WHO ENJOY LIVING STANDARDS EQUIVALENT TO THOSE IN DEVELOPED COUNTRIES, AND THE RURAL MAJORITY OF THE POPULATION, TO WHOM PEASANT AGRICULTURE, SEASONAL AGRICULTURAL LABOR, AND COTTAGE INDUSTRY PROVIDE LITTLE MORE THAN BASIC NECESSITIES. THE BULK OF THE POPULATION OF 7.8 MILLION (AS OF MID-1983) IS STILL RURAL. HEALTHY ECONOMIC GROWTH UNDER A FREE ENTERPRISE ECONOMIC SYSTEM, THAT RAISED GNP TO $1,141 PER CAPITA IN 1981, COMBINED WITH RAPID POPULATION GROWTH (3.1 PERCENT IN 1983), HAS INCREASED THE CONTRAST BETWEEN THE MODERN AND TRADITIONAL SECTORS OF GUATEMALAN SOCIETY OVER THE PAST SEVERAL DECADES. THE CONTRAST INVOLVES RACE, LANGUAGE, AND CULTURE, AS WELL AS INCOME LEVELS.

[redacted]

EMPLOYMENT GENERATED BY ECONOMIC GROWTH SURPASSED THE RATE OF POPULATION GROWTH FROM THE 1950'S THROUGH 1970'S, BUT IT DROPPED SHARPLY IN 1981-83. OFFICIAL FIGURES PLACE UNEMPLOYMENT AND UNDEREMPLOYMENT (MAINLY THE LATTER) ABOVE 40 PERCENT IN 1983.

FOOD AVAILABILITY IS GENERALLY ADEQUATE AND IS LIMITED PRIMARILY BY PURCHASING POWER. IN 1977 THE CALORIE SUPPLY AVAILABLE FOR CONSUMPTION MET 92.2 PERCENT OF NUTRITIONAL REQUIREMENTS. THE SUPPLY OF STAPLES, CORN AND BEANS, HAS BEEN SUFFICIENT AT CONTROLLED PRICES. HEALTH SERVICES AND SANITATION ARE FAIR TO GOOD (DEPENDING ON INCOME LEVEL) IN GUATEMALA CITY AND A FEW OTHER URBAN CENTERS, BUT GENERALLY POOR IN RURAL AREAS. DESPITE CONSIDERABLE PUBLIC INVESTMENT IN POTABLE WATER PROJECTS, MEDICAL CENTERS AND CLINICS, FINANCED WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF THE IDB, ONLY ABOUT 15 PERCENT OF THE LOWEST INCOME GROUP LIVING IN THE RURAL AREAS IS REACHED. IN 1976, 40 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION HAD ACCESS TO SAFE WATER, BUT THIS BREAKS DOWN TO 87 PERCENT IN URBAN AREAS AND 14 PERCENT IN RURAL AREAS. THE INFANT MORTALITY RATE WAS A HIGH 62 PER 1,000 IN 1983, AND THE LIFE EXPECTANCY AT BIRTH WAS 58.9 YEARS IN 1981. THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH HAS UNDERTAKEN A PILOT PROGRAM IN THREE DEPARTMENTS TO PROVIDE BASIC PRIMARY HEALTH CARE ON A WIDE SCALE.

INDIAN PEOPLE (LIKE ECONOMIC POLICY) HAS BEEN LAISSEZ-FAIRE. INDIGENOUS GROUPS HAVE MAINTAINED THEIR CULTURES BY CHOICE, BUT TIMES ARE CHANGING. POPULATION PRESSURE ON THE LAND, CONTACT WITH ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT, AND OTHER PRESSURES ARE CAUSING A STEADY DRIFT FROM TRADITIONAL INTO NON-INDIAN SOCIETY. THERE ARE NO LEGAL BARRIERS TO CULTURAL CHANGE OR SOCIAL MOBILITY, BUT PROGRAMS TO ASSIST THAT DIFFICULT PROCESS ARE FAR FROM ADEQUATE AND DEPEND GREATLY ON EXTERNAL ASSISTANCE. ONE OF THE MAJOR STEPS TAKEN IN RECENT YEARS, THE TRIPLING OF THE MINIMUM WAGE IN 1980, HAS BEEN OFFSET BY DECLINING EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES IN THE CURRENT RECESSION.

PRIMARY EDUCATION AND ADULT LITERARY HAVE RECEIVED MODERATE ATTENTION AND PUBLIC EXPENDITURE IN RECENT YEARS, ALSO WITH SOME EXTERNAL ASSISTANCE AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, BUT THERE IS A LONG WAY TO GO. THE ADULT LITERACY RATE MAY HAVE IMPROVED SOMEWHAT FROM A FIGURE OF 46.1 PERCENT IN 1973, BUT PRIMARY

[redacted]

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT IS FAR SHORT OF UNIVERSAL, 69 PERCENT IN 1980. LITERACY IS A PARTICULARLY GREAT PROBLEM IN GUATEMALA BECAUSE HALF THE POPULATION IS OF INDIAN CULTURE, HAVING TO LEARN SPANISH (IF AT ALL) AS A SECOND LANGUAGE.

ECONOMIC, SOCIAL, AND CULTURAL SITUATION SUBSECTION ON THE STATUS OF WOMEN IN GUATEMALA

GUATEMALA IS A TRADITIONAL LATIN SOCIETY IN WHICH WOMEN CONTINUE TO PLAY, FOR THE MOST PART, THEIR TRADITIONAL ROLES OF MOTHER, HOUSEHOLD MANAGER AND (IN RURAL AREA) INCOME PROVIDER. DISCRIMINATION AGAINST WOMEN IS NOT GROUNDED IN THE COUNTRY'S MODERN LEGAL CODES, BUT ROOTED IN CENTURIES OF CULTURAL AND SOCIETAL PRACTICE.

ONLY 14 PERCENT OF WOMEN IN GUATEMALA ARE CONSIDERED TO BE EMPLOYED IN NON-TRADITIONAL LABOR MARKETS. THE VAST MAJORITY OF THESE ARE WORKING IN THE SERVICE SECTOR AS MAIDS, COOKS, OR LAUNDRY WOMEN. IN GENERAL, WOMEN IN GUATEMALA OCCUPY THE LOWEST

PAYING UNSKILLED JOBS. THEY ALSO SUFFER FROM WAGE DISCRIMINATION. ACCORDING TO A 1978 STUDY, IN ALL OCCUPATIONAL LEVELS WOMEN EARN AN AVERAGE OF 44 PERCENT LESS THAN DO MEN WORKING IN COMPARABLE POSITIONS.

RECENT ESTIMATES ARE THAT ONE-QUARTER OF THE STUDENTS ENROLLED IN GUATEMALAN UNIVERSITIES ARE WOMEN. OVERALL, SEVEN PERCENT OF URBAN WOMEN RESIDENTS REPORT HAVING SOME UNIVERSITY EDUCATION, BUT THIS

[redacted]

DECLINES TO .004 PERCENT IN RURAL AREAS. THEY MAJOR, AS A RULE, IN "SAFE" AREAS SUCH AS PSYCHOLOGY, LAW, TEACHING, OR NURSING AND GO ON TO CAREERS AS HEALTH WORKERS, TEACHERS, OR OFFICE WORKERS. ON A STATISTICAL BASIS, THE NUMBER OF WOMEN OCCUPYING HIGHER-LEVEL PROFESSIONAL AND MANAGERIAL POSITIONS IS VERY, VERY SMALL.

IT IS FROM THE ELITE SUB-GROUP OF UNIVERSITY GRADUATES THAT SOME WOMEN, ON AN INDIVIDUAL BASIS, HAVE GAINED RECOGNITION AND AUTHORITY. THE CURRENT HEAD OF STATE, GEN. OSCAR HUMBERTO MEJIA VICTORES, FOR EXAMPLE, HAS APPOINTED ISABEL TEJADA DE PUTZEYS AS MINISTER OF EDUCATION, MAKING HER GUATEMALA'S FIRST WOMAN CABINET MINISTER. A WOMAN ALSO SERVES IN THE DUAL ROLE AS A MEMBER OF GUATEMALA'S SUPREME COURT AND DEAN OF THE LAW FACULTY AT FRANCISCO MARROQUIN UNIVERSITY, AND OTHER WOMEN SERVE AS JUDGES OF LOWER COURTS, PRINCIPALLY IN THE AREA OF FAMILY LAW. THE COUNCIL OF STATE, AN APPOINTIVE CONSULTATIVE BODY CREATED BY EX-PRESIDENT JOSE EFRAIN RIOS MONTT, INCLUDED FOR THE FIRST TIME AT A NATIONAL LEVEL REPRESENTATIVES OF GUATEMALAN WOMENS' ORGANIZATIONS.

THE PARTICIPATION OF WOMEN IN THE POLITICAL PROCESS IS RESTRICTED. A 1976 STUDY FOUND, FOR EXAMPLE, THAT ONLY 16 PERCENT OF ELIGIBLE WOMEN VOTED THAT YEAR. IN THE LAST 35 YEARS, ONLY THREE WOMEN HAVE BEEN ELECTED TO THE NATIONAL CONGRESS, AND WOMEN HAVE NOT PLAYED MAJOR ROLES IN THE COUNTRY'S POLITICAL PARTIES, WITH THE POSSIBLE EXCEPTION OF THE RIGHT-OF-CENTER NATIONAL LIBERATION MOVEMENT (MLN) PARTY.

WOMEN IN RURAL GUATEMALA FACE A MORE PRECARIOUS EXISTENCE THAN DO THEIR URBAN COUNTERPARTS. ONLY 15 PERCENT OF THE COUNTRY'S RURAL POPULATION HAS ACCESS TO MODERN MEDICAL CARE. HALF OF ALL RURAL WOMEN ARE MARRIED BY AGE 19, WHILE CHILDBIRTH IS ONE OF THE FIVE LEADING CAUSES OF DEATH AMONG WOMEN. GUATEMALA HAS, ALONG WITH HAITI AND BOLIVIA, THE HIGHEST ILLITERACY RATE IN LATIN AMERICA. IN 1973 A STUDY FOUND THAT 55 PERCENT OF ALL WOMEN IN THE COUNTRY WERE ILLITERATE. IN RURAL AREAS THIS FIGURE ROSE TO 78 PERCENT. OVERALL, OVER HALF THE FEMALE POPULATION OF GUATEMALA REPORTS RECEIVING NO FORMAL EDUCATIONAL TRAINING AND 94 PERCENT OF WOMEN RESIDING IN RURAL AREAS REPORT LESS THAN THREE YEARS OF SCHOOLING ACCORDING TO 1978 DATA.

THEIR DOMINANCE IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY HAS LED ONE WOMAN TO BECOME SECRETARY-GENERAL OF A NATIONAL FEDERATION OF TEXTILE WORKERS. RECENT LEADERSHIP TRAINING COURSES OF THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE FOR FREE LABOR DEVELOPMENT (AIFLD) FOR CAMPESINO UNION MEMBERS HAVE ALSO INCLUDED WOMEN AMONG THEIR PARTICIPANTS.

WHILE GUATEMALA IS NO EXCEPTION TO THE GENERAL IN LATIN AMERICA THAT WOMEN OUTNUMBER MEN IN URBAN AREAS, THE YEARS OF GUERRILLA INSURGENCY HAVE EXTENDED THIS PROBLEM TO THE COUNTRYSIDE. IN RURAL VILLAGES IN THE HIGHLAND AREAS OF GUATEMALA, THE MAJORITY OF THE POPULATION FREQUENTLY CONSISTS OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN AND THE ELDERLY. THUS, IN ADDITION TO THEIR USUAL TASKS OF CARING FOR ANIMALS, CHILD REARING AND HOUSEHOLD MAINTENANCE, THESE WOMEN FACE THE BURDEN OF ASSUMING BOTH THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE HEAD OF THE HOUSEHOLD AND BEING THE FAMILY'S PRINCIPAL SOURCE OF SUPPORT. THE HIGH ILLITERACY LEVEL, TOGETHER WITH AN UNDER-EMPLOYMENT RATE APPROACHING 40 PERCENT, MEANS THAT FOR THESE RURAL WOMEN THEIR DAY-TO-DAY EXISTENCE IS TENUOUS.

TAGS: PINS, ES
SUBJECT: SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS

1. [redacted] ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: THIS CABLE REPORTS IMPRESSIONS ON THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS BASED ON INTERVIEWS WITH AMNESTY BENEFICIARIES. THE GUERRILLA ORGANIZATIONS APPEAR TO BE WELL ORGANIZED AND HIGHLY STRUCTURED. ACCORDING TO THESE SOURCES, THE GUERRILLAS REMAIN STRONG, BUT THEY HAVE BEEN HURT BY RECENT MILITARY OPERATIONS. MORALE IS STILL HIGH, ESPECIALLY AMONG GUERRILLA COMBATANTS, BUT IS QUITE A BIT LOWER AMONG THE "MILITIA" AND THE [redacted]

"MASAS." THE GUERRILLAS DO NOT FIND WIDESPREAD SUPPORT AMONG THE POPULATION, THE ONE EXCEPTION BEING AREAS WHERE THE GOES MILITARY HAS COMMITTED SERIOUS ABUSES. A SIGNIFICANT AMOUNT OF SUPPLIES ARE REPORTEDLY RECEIVED FROM NICARAGUA. FINALLY, NO ONE SEES A QUICK RESOLUTION OF THE WAR, AND FEW BELIEVE THERE WILL BE A BETTER TOMORROW FOR EL SALVADOR. END SUMMARY.

FOR ADMISSION TO THE U.S. UNDER THE REFUGEE PROGRAM. THE FREQUENTLY IN-DEPTH INTERVIEWS PROVIDED A PICTURE OF THE STRUCTURE AND OPERATION OF THE GUERRILLA ORGANIZATIONS. WHILE IT MUST BE REMEMBERED THAT THE AMNESTY BENEFICIARIES ARE BASICALLY DESERTERS, AND THEIR STATEMENTS WERE OFTEN PROBABLY SELF-SERVING OR INTENTIONALLY MISLEADING, A NUMBER OF FACTS AND CONCLUSIONS CAN BE DRAWN FROM THE INTERVIEWS.

4. THE GUERRILLA ORGANIZATIONS APPEAR TO BE WELL STRUCTURED AND ORGANIZED, AND CONSIST OF SEVERAL COMPONENTS. AT THE BOTTOM OF THE STRUCTURE ARE THE "MASAS," OR CAMP FOLLOWERS. THESE ARE THE OLD MEN, WOMEN, AND CHILDREN WHO TRAVEL WITH THE GUERRILLAS AND COOK AND MAINTAIN THEIR CAMPS. THE NEXT LEVEL IS THE MILITIA, COMPOSED OF CAMP GUARDS, LOGISTICAL WORKERS, MESSENGERS, PROPAGANDISTS, RECRUITERS, PART-TIME OR SECOND LINE COMBATANTS, AND PERSONS IN TRAINING TO BECOME GUERRILLA COMBATANTS. THE MILITIA IS OFTEN FURTHER BROKEN DOWN INTO SPECIALIZED UNITS CALLED "CUADRAS." A "CUADRA DE EXPANSION" (EXPANSION UNIT) IS THE MOST OFTEN HEARD TERM. THESE UNITS OPERATE BOTH IN AND OUTSIDE OF GUERRILLA CONTROLLED ZONES, AND ARE TASKED WITH DISSEMINATING PROPAGANDA, RECRUITING, PURCHASING SUPPLIES, MAINTAINING

SAFE HOUSES, COMMUNICATIONS, TRANSPORTATION, ETC. A MEMBER OF A "CUADRA DE ALIMENTACION" (MESS UNIT) WOULD BE INVOLVED IN THE FEEDING OF GUERRILLA BANDS OR, PREVIOUSLY, PARTICIPANTS IN LARGE STREET DEMONSTRATIONS. MILITIA MEMBERS LIVING IN GOVERNMENT CONTROLLED ZONES ARE OFTEN ONLY PART-TIME COLLABORATORS, AND MAINTAIN JOBS, HOUSES ETC. (WHEN THEIR COVER IS BLOWN THEY MOVE TO THE MOUNTAINS.) MILITIA MEMBERS SOMETIMES CARRY ARMS, ESPECIALLY WHEN OPERATING IN GUERRILLA CONTROLLED AREAS BUT DO NOT GO OUT ON OFFENSIVE COMBAT OPERATIONS, EXCEPT AS TRAINEES OR TO PROVIDE REAR-GUARD SECURITY, CARRY MORTARS, ETC.

5. THE GUERRILLA, OR COMBATANT, IS AT THE TOP OF THE STRUCTURE. GUERRILLA COMBATANTS MUST HAVE A CERTAIN LEVEL OF MILITARY KNOWHOW, INTELLIGENCE, COURAGE, AND POLITICAL FORMATION AND CONVICTION. TRAINING GENERALLY LASTS ABOUT TWO TO THREE MONTHS, AND MANY PEOPLE REPORTEDLY NEVER MAKE THE GRADE. THE GUERRILLAS STILL APPEAR TO BE FAIRLY SELECTIVE IN FORMING THEIR OFFENSIVE COMBAT UNITS. ONE FORMER GUERRILLA SAID THAT JOAQUIN VILLALOBOS, COMMANDER OF THE REVOLUTIONARY ARMY OF THE PEOPLE (ERP), OFTEN SAYS THAT TEN PEOPLE WITH REVOLUTIONARY CONSCIOUSNESS ARE BETTER THAN 100 PEOPLE LACKING IT.

6. THE MAJORITY OF COMMANDERS APPEAR TO BE FROM THE

LARGER TOWNS AND CITIES, AND TO HAVE A FAIR AMOUNT OF EDUCATION (AT LEAST EIGHT YEARS). ONE FAIRLY WELL-EDUCATED AMNESTY BENEFICIARY, WHO WAS CONSCRIPTED BY FORCE TO WORK AS A SORT OF COMPANY CLERK IN CHALATENANGO, ESTIMATED THAT ABOUT 25 PERCENT OF THE GUERRILLAS HAVE FAIRLY GOOD EDUCATIONS. SOME PEASANTS, HOWEVER, RISE IN THE RANKS AND BECOME SMALL UNIT LEADERS, ESPECIALLY OF FIVE TO EIGHT MEMBER SQUADS.

7. THE MAJORITY OF AMNESTY BENEFICIARIES APPEAR TO HAVE BEEN MILITIA MEMBERS. THIS IS NOT SURPRISING, GIVEN THAT "GUERRILLAS" SUPPOSEDLY HAVE A HIGHER LEVEL OF IDEOLOGICAL COMMITMENT AND ARE THUS LESS LIKELY TO TURN THEMSELVES IN. THERE WERE A FAIRLY HIGH NUMBER OF "NE'ER-DO-WELLS" WHO DRIFTED INTO THE GUERRILLAS, NEVER REALLY MADE THE GRADE, AND DESERTED WHEN THE AMNESTY PRESENTED THE OPPORTUNITY. MANY OF THESE PEOPLE WOULD NEVER MAKE IT IN ANY MAN'S ARMY. ANOTHER SIZEABLE GROUP OF BENEFICIARIES CLAIMED TO HAVE SPENT RELATIVELY LITTLE TIME, USUALLY ONLY TWO TO THREE MONTHS WITH THE GUERRILLAS. MANY IN THIS GROUP WERE POOR PEASANTS WHO

PAGE 02 SAN SA 10113 02 OF 05 012034Z

LIVED IN OR NEAR GUERRILLA CONTROLLED ZONES AND WERE PRESS-GANGED OR INCORPORATED INTO THE GUERRILLA BANDS IN A SORT OF NATURAL COURSE OF EVENTS IN THEIR AREAS. THESE PEOPLE LACKED ANY IDEOLOGICAL COMMITMENT AND DESERTED WHEN THE OPPORTUNITY PRESENTED ITSELF. MOST HARD-CORE GUERRILLAS WHO TURNED THEMSELVES IN APPEAR TO HAVE DONE SO BECAUSE THEY SAW NO HOPE OF VICTORY, AND WANTED OUT. MANY ALSO EXPRESSED CONCERN FOR THEIR FAMILIES. THESE PEOPLE OFTEN MAINTAINED THAT THE GUERRILLA

CAUSE IS JUST, AND EXPRESSED LITTLE HOPE THAT THERE WILL EVER BE ANY JUSTICE OR DEMOCRACY IN EL SALVADOR.

8. AMNESTY BENEFICIARIES GAVE VARIOUS REASONS FOR JOINING THE GUERRILLAS. SOME CLAIMED IDEOLOGICAL COMMITMENT, POINTING TO THE COUNTRY'S LONG HISTORY OF INJUSTICE. SEVERAL SAID THEY JOINED TO REVENGE THE DEATHS OF LOVED ONES AT THE HANDS OF GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES. OTHERS, MOSTLY YOUNG MEN FROM GUERRILLA CONTROLLED AREAS, SAID THEY JOINED TO PROTECT THEMSELVES FROM THE ARMY. MANY OF THE URBAN POOR APPEAR TO HAVE DRIFTED INTO THE GUERRILLAS BECAUSE OF LACK OF EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES. SEVERAL MENTIONED JOINING AFTER LOSING THEIR JOBS, AND SAID THEY FIRST BEGAN COLLABORATING WITH THE GUERRILLAS AS PAID MESSENGERS AND LOGISTICAL WORKERS, AND SOON FOUND THEMSELVES COMPROMISED BEYOND THEIR ORIGINAL INTENTIONS. THE REVOLUTION HAS ALSO ATTRACTED ITS SHARE OF OPPORTUNISTS, AND COMMON CRIMINALS.

9. A SUBSTANTIAL NUMBER OF POOR PEASANTS APPEAR TO HAVE BEEN INCORPORATED INTO THE GUERRILLAS AS A NATURAL COURSE OF EVENTS SIMPLY BECAUSE THEY LIVED IN OR NEAR GUERRILLA CONTROLLED AREAS. MANY OF THESE SAID THEY WERE FORCEFULLY RECRUITED, AND APPEARED TO BE TELLING THE TRUTH.

MOST OF THESE PERSONS WERE "PRESS-GANGED" IN THE PAST YEAR, LEADING TO THE POSSIBILITY THAT THE PRACTICE WAS NOT AS COMMON PREVIOUSLY. PRESS-GANGED RECRUITS ARE FIRST INCORPORATED INTO THE MILITIA, AND ATTEMPTS ARE MADE TO GIVE THEM A POLITICAL EDUCATION. IF THESE ATTEMPTS ARE SUCCESSFUL THE RECRUIT CAN BECOME A COMBATANT OR RISE TO A POSITION OF RESPONSIBILITY IN THE MILITIA. MANY PERSONS, AFTER SPENDING A CERTAIN AMOUNT OF TIME WITH THE GUERRILLAS, FEEL THEY ARE COMPROMISED AND HAVE NO CHOICE BUT TO STAY WITH THE GUERRILLAS. AMNESTY GAVE THEM ANOTHER OPTION.

10. "MASAS" ARE THE FAMILIES OF GUERRILLAS, OR PEOPLE WHO HAVE LONG LIVED IN GUERRILLA CONTROLLED AREAS. THEY EXPRESS VARYING DEGREES OF IDEOLOGICAL COMMITMENT DEPENDING ON HOW LONG THEY HAVE BEEN WITH THE GUERRILLAS, IF THERE ARE COMBATANTS IN THE FAMILY, ETC.

11. AMNESTY APPEARS TO HAVE HURT THE GUERRILLAS. BENEFICIARIES SAID PEOPLE WERE SKEPTICAL ABOUT THE PROGRAM AT FIRST, SINCE MANY PERSONS WHO TURNED THEMSELVES IN UNDER PREVIOUS AMNESTIES HAD BEEN KILLED. GRADUALLY, HOWEVER, CONFIDENCE AND TRUST IN THE PROGRAM GREW. THE GUERRILLAS HEARD ABOUT THE PROGRAM ON THE RADIO AND THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE. LEAFLETS WERE ALSO APPARENTLY EFFECTIVE, AS MANY PERSONS REPORTED SEEING

THEM. SEVERAL PERSONS REPORTED HEARING GUERRILLAS COMMANDERS EXPRESS CONCERN OVER THE AMNESTY, AND IT APPEARS THAT CAMP SECURITY WAS BEEFED UP VIRTUALLY EVERYWHERE TO AVOID DESERTIONS. THE PENALTY FOR DESER-

WITH SALVADORANS CHAFING UNDER THE DIRECTION OF NICARAGUANS. A SOURCE FROM CHALATENANGO REPORTED THAT TWO TO THREE FOREIGNERS ARRIVED REGULARLY ABOUT ONCE A WEEK IN HIS CAMP, A MAJOR HEADQUARTERS.

21. MOST AMNESTIED PERSONS SAID THAT THE GUERRILLAS FIND VERY LITTLE SUPPORT AMONG THE POPULATION. THEY REPORT THAT THE POPULATION IN GENERAL FEARS BOTH THE GUERRILLAS AND THE ARMY, BUT COOPERATES WITH WHICHEVER SIDE IS IN THE AREA, OUT OF OBVIOUS NECESSITY. THE ONE EXCEPTION IS IN AREAS WHERE THE ARMY HAS COMMITTED ABUSES. THE GUERRILLAS FIND SUCH AREAS TO BE FERTILE RECRUITING GROUNDS.

22. ONLY THE MORE INTELLIGENT FORMER GUERRILLAS AND POLITICAL OFFICERS HAD ANY IDEA OF OVERALL FDR/FMLN STRATEGY. THEY REPORTED THAT THE GUERRILLAS WERE SPLIT ON THE ISSUE OF DIALOGUE: SOME FOR, SOME AGAINST. NONE, HOWEVER, BELIEVED THAT A DIALOGUE WOULD BEAR ANY FRUIT. HARDLY ANY PERSONS EVEN GAVE THE ISSUE MUCH THOUGHT. THEY BELIEVE BOTH SIDES INTEND TO GO ON FIGHTING.

THEY CITE TRADITIONAL INJUSTICE, AND NOTE THAT THE GUERRILLAS ARE SUFFICIENTLY STRONG TO CONTINUE FIGHTING FOR THE FORESEEABLE FUTURE.

24. TWO OF THE AMNESTY BENEFICIARIES INTERVIEWED HAD RECEIVED TRAINING IN GUERRILLA WARFARE ABROAD. ONE IN CUBA, AND ONE IN NICARAGUA.

25. VIRTUALLY ALL THE AMNESTY BENEFICIARIES REPORTED THEY RECEIVED GOOD FREATMENT LFTER TURNING THEMSELVES IN, AND MOST HAD SURRENDERED TO THE MILITARY. A FEW SINGLED OUT COL. DOMINGO MONTEROSA BY NAME AS HAVING TREATED THEM WELL WHEN THEY TURNED THEMSELVES IN TO HIS "ATLACATL" BATTALION IN MORAZAN.

HOWEVER, MOST HAD LITTLE HOPE THAT DEMOCRACY WOULD EVER TAKE ROOT IN EL SALVADOR.

SUBJECT: ANIS REQUESTS CONTINUATION OF THE LAS HOJAS COURT CASE

REF: (A) SAN SALVADOR 7854, (B) SAN SALVADOR 1661

1. ADRIAN ESQUINO LISCO, THE SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE NATIONAL INDIAN ASSOCIATION OF EL SALVADOR (ANIS), TOLD LABOFF ON NOVEMBER 1 THAT THE MEMBERS OF HIS ORGANIZATION WERE INCENSED AND DESPERATE OVER THE SEEMINGLY ENDLESS SERIES OF OBSTRUCTIONS TO THE SONSONATE TRIAL ON THE LAS HOJAS MASSACRE. LISCO CHARGED THAT THE LAWYER REPRESENTING THE MILITARY COMMANDER OF SONSONATE IS EMPLOYING DILATORY TACTICS TO SHEPHERD THE CASE INTO OBLIVION. ONE OF THESE TACTICS IS TO CALL IN ANIS* CHILDREN TO GIVE TESTIMONY ON THE MASSACRE. ANIS LEGAL ADVISOR JOSE MARIA MENDEZ, JR. TOLD LABOFF THAT THE CASE SHOULD HAVE BEEN ELEVATED TO THE PLENARIO (COURT TRIAL) STAGE MONTHS AGO, BUT THAT THE PROCESS IS BEING HINDERED BY LAWYERLY TRICKS AND BY THE OBVIOUS FEAR WHICH PREYS ON THE SONSONATE JUDGE WHO IS HANDLING THE CASE.

2. LOCAL DAILY EL DIARIO LATINO PUBLISHED A PRESS INTERVIEW WITH ESQUINO LISCO IN ITS NOVEMBER 9 ISSUE. IN IT, ESQUINO SAID THE INTERNATIONAL INDIAN ASSOCIATIONS ARE DEMANDING THAT THE LAS HOJAS CASE BE FINALLY SOLVED AND RULED UPON BY THE SALVADORAN COURTS. HE ADDED THAT IT IS WIDELY ACCEPTED THAT THERE IS ENOUGH TESTIMONY IN THE COURTS TO PROVE THAT THE MASSACRE WAS CARRIED OUT BY LOCAL SOLDIERS AND THAT IT WAS ORDERED BY THE MILITARY COMMANDER OF SONSONATE DEPARTMENT. NONETHELESS, HE SAID, THE CASE HAS STAGNATED BEFORE THE FIRST PENAL COURT OF SONSONATE. HE EXPLAINED THAT ONE OF THE INTERNATIONAL INDIAN ASSOCIATIONS INTERESTED IN THE LAS HOJAS CASE IS THE WORLD COUNCIL OF INDIAN PEOPLES, OF BOLIVIA, BRAZIL, WHO HAS ASKED FOR DOCUMENTS ON THE MASSACRE.

3. IN THE PRESS INTERVIEW, ESQUINO CHARGED THAT NOT ONLY IS THERE NO DESIRE ON THE PART OF THE SALVADORAN AUTHORITIES TO SEE JUSTICE DONE, BUT THAT IT IS THE ANIS MEMBERS THEMSELVES WHO FEEL THREATENED; "IT IS MORE LIKELY THAT WE SHALL BE THE ONES TO BE EXECUTED, INSTEAD OF THE PERPETRATORS OF THE MASSACRE." ESQUINO CRITICIZED THE GOES HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, ACCUSING IT OF HARBORING POLITICAL SYMPATHIES. HE STATED THAT THE COMMISSION SHOULD BE IMPARTIAL AND MADE UP OF MEMBERS WHO HAVE NO LINKS TO ANY POLITICAL PARTY. ESQUINO ALSO CHARGED THAT THE NON-GOVERNMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (CDHES) IS INEFFECTIVE SINCE IT IS CONTROLLED BY THE LEFT FOR ITS OWN PURPOSES.

4. COMMENT: ESQUINO HAS HAD IT WITH THE GLACIAL AND TRUCULENT CONDUCT OF THE LAS HOJAS COURT CASE. ALL AVAILABLE AND RESPONSIBLE SOURCES CONFIRM THAT THE CASE IS BEING MANIPULATED BY THE DEFENSE LAWYER. ESQUINO TOLD LABOFF RECENTLY THAT PRESIDENTIAL MINISTER FRANCISCO "CHACHI" GUERRERO ADMITTED TO HIM THAT HE COULD DO NOTHING REGARDING THE ARMY'S STAUNCH DEFENSE OF COL. GONZALEZ ARAUJO. NOW IT APPEARS THAT NOT EVEN THE "FINGERMEN" IN THE LAS HOJAS MASSACRE WILL BE BROUGHT TO TRIAL. IN THE MEANTIME, ESQUINO AND ALL ANIS MEMBERS CONTINUE TO LIVE IN FEAR THAT ANOTHER MASSACRE WILL OVERTAKE THEM. AS HE HAS DONE IN THE PAST, ESQUINO HAS REACHED OUT TO HIS INTERNATIONAL CONTACTS AND IS SEEKING HELP FROM THOSE SOURCES. HE FEARS HIS LOCAL FRIENDS HAVE FAILED HIM. PICKERING

INQUIRED WHETHER CANADA WOULD BE PREPARED TO PUT FORWARD A RESOLUTION ON EL SALVADOR WHICH THE UNITED STATES COULD SUPPORT, AS IT DID AT THE 1983 SESSION. BELL RESPONDED THAT BOTH HE AND AMBASSADOR BEAULNE, WHO WOULD AGAIN HEAD THECANADIAN DELEGATION TO THE COMMISSION, WOULD SUPPORT A MOVE BY CANADA TO INTRODUCE AT THE 1984 SESSION A RESOLUTION SIMILAR TO THAT PROPOSED BY CANADA IN 1983. HE RECOMMENDED THAT THE U.S. INITIATE DISCUSSIONS IN OTTAWA WITH GABRIEL WARREN, DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE MULTILATERAL AND INTERGOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS BUREAU OR BOB MIDDLETON, DIRECTOR OF THE UN AFFAIRS DIVISION.

3. TO AVOID A REPETITION OF THE EXPERIENCE AT THE 1982 SESSION, WHERE THE ONLY PROPOSAL PLACED BEFORE THE COMMISSION ON THE ISSUE OF EL SALVADOR WAS A MEXICAN DRAFT, WHICH WENT FAR BEYOND THE ISSUE OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND WAS STRONGLY ANTAGONISTIC TO THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR, CANADA AT THE 1983 SESSION TABLED A RESOLUTION, AFTER CONSULTATION WITH THE U.S., WHICH THE U.S. SUPPORTED. THE CANADIAN TEXT IS SET FORTH IN PARAGRAPH 6 (E/CN.4/1983/L.18). MEXICO, WITH FRENCH SUPPORT, THEN TABLED A RESOLUTION SIMILAR TO ITS 1982 VERSION. THE TEXT IS SET FORTH IN PARAGRAPH 7 (E/CN.4/1983/L.48). MEXICO THEN MOVED THAT ITS RESOLUTION BE GIVEN PRIORITY OVER THE CANADIAN RESOLUTION AND THIS MOTION CARRIED BY THE NARROW MARGIN OF 18 TO 17. IF CANADA, AT THE 1984 SESSION, IS PREPARED TO SPONSOR A RESOLUTION SIMILAR TO THAT OFFERED BY IT IN 1983, USG WILL MAKE AN EFFORT TO WIN SUPPORT FOR THAT RESOLUTION.

THE 1984 SESSION OF THE UNHRC. ATTENTION SHOULD BE DIRECTED TO THE FACT THAT U.S. SHARES CANADIAN CONCERN ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS BY LEFTISTS AND RIGHTISTS IN EL SALVADOR AND CONSIDERS IT APPROPRIATE FOR THE COMMISSION TO CONDEMN SUCH HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN AN EVENHANDED MANNER. ATTENTION SHOULD BE DRAWN, IN THAT CONTEXT, TO THE REPORTS FILED BY THE SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE COMMISSION ON THE ISSUE OF EL SALVADOR, WHICH WOULD FULLY SUPPORT SUCH AN EVENHANDED APPROACH. 5. IN HIS DISCUSSION ON NOVEMBER 3 WITH SCHIFTER, BELL INDICATED THAT, HAVING SERVED FOUR SUCCESSIVE TERMS ON THE COMMISSION, CANADA IS NOT LIKELY TO SEEK RE-ELECTION IN 1984. BELL ALSO POINTED OUT THAT THIS WILL BE AMBASSADOR BEAULNE'S LAST SESSION, AS HE PLANS TO RETIRE FROM THE FOREIGN SERVICE AT THE END OF THE NEXT COMMISSION SESSION.

THE CHURCHWOMEN MURDERS:
A REPORT TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE

INTRODUCTION

In the early days of December, 1980, four American churchwomen, Ita Ford, Maura Clarke, Dorothy Kazel and Jean Donovan, disappeared and were later found murdered in the Central American Republic of El Salvador. Occurring at a time of increasing concern about the growing violence in that country, the killings and the resulting criminal investigations have provoked intense interest, frequent frustration and occasional dismay in the United States as the citizens of this country have observed the workings of the Salvadoran justice system as it first investigated, and eventually sought to prosecute, those responsible for the killings.

From the outset, the handling of the case by Salvadoran authorities has been caught up in Congressional deliberations about the larger questions of American military, diplomatic and economic involvement with the Republic of El Salvador. But many of the questions, in Congress and out, focused on this case: Have the true killers been identified? Were higher-ups involved? Was there an attempt to cover-up the crime or conceal the murderers? Do the Salvadoran authorities have the will and the capacity to handle the prosecution of this and similar crimes of violence involving members of the security forces?

El Salvador: Human Rights

By the spring of 1983, five National Guardsmen had been accused of the crime, but their detention for over two years did not make the prospect of a speedy trial seem propitious. Increasingly, members of Congress, the families of the murdered churchwomen and other citizens asked with legitimate concern whether the Salvadoran government was serious about prosecuting the responsible parties and whether the United States was doing as much as it could to encourage the prosecution.

On April 26, 1983, the Secretary of State reported to the Chairman of the Foreign Operations Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee that he had directed an "independent and high-level review of all the evidence available to the United States government pertaining to the churchwomen's case."[1/] By a letter dated May 23, 1983, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs James H. Michel, on behalf of the Department of State, requested that I conduct this review.[2/] Mr. Michel, and thereafter, the Deputy Secretary of State, Kenneth Dam, pledged the full cooperation of all concerned Federal agencies.

Together with my colleagues, Togo D. West, Jr. and Gregory L. Diskant, I have reviewed the evidence. In the process, we have received the cooperation that was pledged to us. Since May, we have had access to pertinent State Department files, both classified and unclassified, including the numerous cables that had been transmitted between the State Department and the United States Embassy in San Salvador on this matter. We have had similar access to the classified and unclassified files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and of other pertinent agencies as well. No documents necessary to our inquiry have been withheld from us.

We have talked extensively with present and former government officials of both countries who have been involved in the various investigations of this unfortunate tragedy. The State Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation have been especially helpful in bringing their personnel from locations far removed from the cities of Washington, D.C. and New York, our principal bases of operations, for whatever interviews we have deemed necessary. Our discussions have included interviews with personnel presently assigned to the United States Embassy in San Salvador and with those who were assigned to that Embassy during the time of the earlier investigations into the murders. We have consulted with Salvadoran prosecutors, with Salvadoran attorneys in and out of government, and with representatives of the Catholic Church in both this country and El Salvador.

For obvious reasons, we have sought to maintain a particularly close liaison with the representatives of the families of the victims. Our conversations with those representatives, the Lawyers' Committee for International Human Rights Under Law, and with members of the Maryknoll Order, have been characterized by candor and cooperativeness on the part of those who met with us. These groups have made their files available to us and have patiently assisted us in our efforts to determine how we could increase the likelihood that the perpetrators of these crimes will be brought to justice.

Our mission has had both sobering and heartening aspects. To an extent that is impossible to detail in this report, the criminal justice system in El Salvador is in a state of disrepair.[3/] A handful of inexperienced, under-educated, and occasionally corrupt prosecutors represent a society that seems to have lost its will to bring to justice those who commit serious crimes against it. Intimidation and corruption of prosecutors, judges and juries are wide-spread, and a rigid legal system renders successful prose-cutions all the more difficult. The military exerts a pervasive influence over the nation and, as will be docu-mented herein, has sought to shield from justice even those who commit the most atrocious crimes.

There are some bright spots. Some Salvadorans, most notably Judge Bernardo Rauda Murcia and Lieutenant Colonel Jose Adolfo Medrano, have exhibited the courage, independence and fortitude to pursue an unpopular investigation of the crime in a country where the price for such vigilance is all too often sudden and brutal death. Representatives of United States Government agencies, particularly the Department of State and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, have been vigorous and effective in pressing the Salvadorans to investigate and prosecute this crime and, when the prosecution was finally underway, in rendering critical investigative and technical assistance. At least one United States Government officer has repeatedly exposed himself to great personal danger to obtain evidence crucial to the investigation. We believe the American public, and the families, can ask no more than that from their representatives.

SUMMARY

Five former members of the El Salvador National Guard are now in custody and charged with the murder of the four churchwomen: Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Daniel Canales Ramirez and Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura. Perhaps our most important conclusion is that these men in fact committed the crime and that the evidence of their guilt is overwhelming. Not all of the evidence is admissible in the Salvadoran courts, but that which is remains compelling. The admissible evidence consists of partially incriminating statements by the defendants themselves, including one complete confession; statements by their former colleagues in the National Guard, including those who participated in the abduction of the women and those to whom the defendants made incriminating statements following the crime; statements of other third-party witnesses; and technical evidence developed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the form of ballistics tests linking two of the defendants' weapons to the crime.

The inadmissible evidence renders the guilt of the defendants even more clear. This consists of polygraph examinations that the defendants failed, a fingerprint of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman found on the van in which the churchwomen were traveling, and highly confidential information collected by the United States Embassy through the efforts of an Embassy official at great personal risk. The reliability of this information has been proved certain, but we are convinced that lives would be endangered by public revelation of this evidence or its sources. (We shall refer to this information in our report as "special Embassy evidence.") With respect to each category of inadmissible evidence, we have explored whether in some manner it could be introduced as part of the prosecution case. In each instance, although with varying degrees of certainty, we have concluded that the evidence cannot be used.

The evidence taken as a whole shows irrefutably that the five defendants, following the orders of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman, kidnapped the women at a checkpoint outside the El Salvador Airport on December 2, 1980. They rode through the countryside to a remote location some fifteen miles from the airport, where they raped and murdered the women. Thereafter, the National Guardsmen drove the church-women's van to another remote location and set it afire.

The first reaction of the Salvadoran authorities to the murder was, tragically, to conceal the perpetrators from justice. Evidence available to the United States, including the special Embassy evidence, shows beyond question that Colindres Aleman confessed his involvement in the crime to ranking members of the National Guard within days of the murder. They responded by concealing this fact from the outside world, and ordering the transfer of the killers from their airport posts and the switching of their weapons to make detection more difficult.

At a minimum, then Major Lizandro Zepeda Velasco, the National Guard officer in charge of the Guard's internal investigation, was aware of the identity of the killers and participated in these acts. Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez, Colindres Aleman's immediate superior, has admitted that he also knew of Colindres Aleman's guilt. We believe it is probable that Colonel Roberto Monterrosa, head of the government's official investigation of the crime, was aware of the identity of the killers and, further, that he participated in the cover-up by purposely failing to provide Colindres Aleman's fingerprints to the United States for analysis. We believe as well that it is quite possible that Colonel Carlos Eugenio Vides Casanova, then head of the National Guard and now a General and Minister of Defense, was aware of, and for a time acquiesced in, the cover-up.

The cover-up was shattered in April, 1981, when officials of the United States Embassy identified the killers through their own investigation. This effort, although significantly assisted by ballistics and fingerprint work performed by the FBI, came principally by the development of the special Embassy evidence by an Embassy officer. The special Embassy evidence first provided identification of the perpetrators to the United States. When the Embassy learned the defendants' names, it pressed Salvadoran authorities to arrest them. At that point, Colonel Vides Casanova, the Director of the Salvadoran National Guard, ordered the arrest of the men.

Thereafter, Salvadoran prosecution efforts continued to stall, although the men were at least incarcerated. Finally, in December, 1981, a year after the killings and again responding to United States pressure, the Salvadoran government undertook a serious investigation of the crime. National Guard Major (now Lieutenant Colonel) Adolfo Medrano led a group of detectives from the Salvadoran

National Police and others in the first concentrated gathering of evidence by the Salvadoran authorities. With technical assistance from the FBI, the Medrano working group collected statements of witnesses tying the defendants to the crime, including reports of extrajudicial confessions by Colindres Aleman. This evidence supported the discharge of the accused guardsmen from the National Guard in February, 1982, so that they could be tried in the civilian courts and their remand to the custody of the civilian trial judge. The evidence gathered by the Medrano working group remains the principal evidence against the accused.

The technical support provided the Salvadoran authorities by the FBI has been simply outstanding. Fingerprint and ballistics tests by Bureau personnel provided initial corroboration of the special Embassy evidence and directly linked the defendants to the crime. Beyond technical expertise, however, Bureau agents in the United States thoroughly interviewed relevant witnesses and obtained significant information. By the artful use of the polygraph as an investigative tool, the Bureau obtained a statement from Colindres Aleman's former superior reporting a critical confession by Colindres. The FBI sent polygraph examiners to El Salvador, who interviewed the defendants and other witnesses and, again by using the test as an investigative tool, produced important incriminatory statements.

The question whether Colindres Aleman was ordered to commit this crime by higher-ups is a troubling one. To the extent the Salvadoran authorities have investigated this matter, their inquiry is not nearly as complete as we would have liked. There is some evidence suggesting the involvement of higher-ups: most importantly, two low ranking guardsmen have testified that, in ordering them to participate, Colindres Aleman told them he was acting on higher orders.

On the other hand, there is evidence to the contrary, which we tend to credit. As we set forth in detail below, the circumstances of the crime itself and Colindres Aleman's behavior during its commission are, in our view, inconsistent with an assault on the churchwomen ordered from above. Post-murder statements by Colindres Aleman to his colleagues and his superior, along with the special Embassy evidence, provide what we believe to be additional compelling evidence of lack of higher involvement. Although it is unlikely that a dispositive answer will ever be known, we record here our best judgment: on the basis of the evidence available to us, we believe that Colindres Aleman acted on his own initiative.

Although the evidence of the defendants' guilt is, in our view, substantial, we cannot be certain that the case will be successfully prosecuted. In October, 1983, the case was finally elevated to the plenario, essentially the trial stage, after over a year and a half in the sumario or investigative stage. This means that, at best, we can expect a trial by the spring of 1984. The newly-assigned senior prosecutor is a veteran attorney and, based on our discussions with him, appears competent to present the prosecution's case.

Nonetheless, the prosecutor must convince a majority of a jury of five, and in El Salvador juries have, understandably, been routinely subject to intimidation. Moreover, we are told that corruption of both juries and judges is an everyday event. Finally, if the system were not already weak enough, we are under the impression that this case is a relatively rare effort to prosecute members of the Salvadoran military in the civilian courts for crimes committed on duty. For these reasons, we view the likelihood of a conviction of the defendants by a jury of Salvadoran citizens to depend substantially on whether the jurors can be assured that they can vote their consciences without fear.

Under current Salvadoran procedures, the jurors must be publicly identified and hear the evidence in public. These procedures are, of course, desirable in a stable society, but hardly leave a jury with any sense of security in the Salvadoran system. We have pressed the Salvadoran authorities to undertake a variety of novel means to protect the jury or guarantee their anonymity. Unfortunately, for whatever reasons, the authorities have not yet looked with favor upon the introduction of unprecedented methods into their system of jury selection and protection. Thus, we must reluctantly close on a discouraging note: unless the jury can be safeguarded, we would be foolhardy to predict the conviction of these defendants.

I. THE MURDERS

As in any criminal prosecution, the facts of the crime are disputed, at least by the defendants. Although one of the defendants has confessed, the remaining accused killers maintain their innocence and present a joint alibi. In analyzing the facts of the crime, we have weighed all of the information available to us, whether or not admissible under the Salvadoran system and whether or not public. We have rejected the alibis of the non-confessing defendants as self-serving fabrications. We set forth below what we believe actually happened, resolving differences in the testimony by giving greater weight to the witnesses whose reliability we believe to have been proven. Significant differences between the facts stated herein and the testimony of other witnesses are indicated in the footnotes.

In the fall of 1980, El Salvador was suffering through a period of severe political volatility. Increasing violence by both right-wing and left-wing groups had heightened tensions. Terrorist acts were being committed against government officials, ministry buildings, foreign embassies, universities, churches and factories with growing regularity. Thousands of Salvadorans had been murdered as part of a vicious reign of terror, the majority allegedly by rightist elements.[4]

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

On November 27, 1980, yet another outbreak of political killing occurred. Six leaders of the Salvadoran opposition, the Democratic Revolutionary Front (FDR), were tortured and murdered after their abduction from a school in San Salvador by a band of several hundred men. The bodies of the slain leaders lay in state at the Cathedral in San Salvador for several days, and their funeral was to be held on December 3, 1980.[5] Their supporters urged a large turnout for the funeral, and many in the Salvadoran government and military feared an outburst of public violence, possibly as great as that experienced during the funeral of Archbishop Oscar Arnuldo Romero in March, 1980. The country was gripped by palpable tension and fear.

On November 26, 1980, the day before the FDR assassinations, Sisters Ita Ford and Maura Clarke of the Maryknoll Order had traveled from their station at Chalatenango, El Salvador, to an annual gathering of Central American Maryknolls in Managua, Nicaragua.[6] Upon their return to El Salvador on December 2, 1980, the day before the FDR funerals, they, along with two other Maryknoll nuns (Sisters Madeline Dorsey and Teresa Alexander), were to be met at the airport by Sister Dorothy Kazel, an Ursuline nun, and Ms. Jean Donovan, a lay volunteer.[7] Sisters Ford and Clarke, returning to El Salvador from Nicaragua in the midst of unprecedented tension throughout El Salvador, never reached their destination; nor did their escorts, Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan.

From the available evidence, events unfolded on that tragic December 2 as follows. Some time after midday, Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan drove to the International Airport to meet the four Maryknoll nuns in a white Toyota "Hiace" van.[8] They parked in the parking lot in front of the main passenger terminal at about 2:00 p.m.[9] Their arrival was noticed by a Salvadoran National Guardsman patrolling in front of the terminal, Margarito Perez Nieto.[10] His attention, he later stated, was attracted by the fact that one of the churchwomen had returned to the vehicle to retrieve a large bag capable of carrying a weapon, and by their apparently watchful attitude toward him. Perez Nieto mentally recorded their arrival and returned to his patrol.

Inside the terminal, the Lanica flight that Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan were to meet arrived at 2:30 p.m., carrying only two of the four nuns expected, Sisters Madeline Dorsey and Teresa Alexander.[11] Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan determined that they would drive the two nuns to La Libertad and return later to meet the remaining two Maryknoll nuns.[12] Guardsman Perez Nieto observed their departure in the white

Toyota van at about 3:15 p.m. He telephoned his detachment commander at the airport, Subsergeant Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman, to report that he suspected the women of having weapons in their travel bags. Colindres Aleman told Perez Nieto to be careful.[13]

Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan returned to the airport to meet Sisters Ford and Clarke, the remaining two Maryknoll nuns, sometime between 4:30 and 6:00 p.m.[14] Sisters Ford and Clarke arrived on a COPA (Campania Panamena de Aviacion, the Panamanian Airlines) flight at about 6:30 p.m.,[15] and were met by Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan. At some point, the churchwomen were again observed by Guardsman Perez Nieto, who apparently notified Subsergeant Colindres Aleman again of their activities.[16] Perez Nieto's tour of duty ended at 7:00 p.m. and at that time (or earlier) he returned to the National Guard barracks. He reported his observations in greater detail to Colindres Aleman.[17]

At this point, we believe, Colindres Aleman decided that he would stop the churchwomen. Although there is no evidence that he knew their identities, he apparently believed, based on his guard's observations, that they were "subversives." Although in our system these observations would usually not be enough even to justify an airport stop for questioning, in El Salvador in 1980, particularly on the eve of the burial of the FDR leaders, these grounds for suspicion were more than adequate. If Colindres Aleman could obtain evidence that the women were carrying weapons, or even "subversive" literature, his status in the Guard would be enhanced.

There is no reason to believe that Colindres Aleman necessarily had murder on his mind from the outset. At a minimum, however, he knew he was up to no good. He ordered five guardsmen, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Daniel Canales Ramirez, Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura, and Salvador Rivera Franco, to change out of their uniforms into civilian clothes. He instructed the five men to accompany him with their service rifles and ammunition.[18] Shortly after 7:00 p.m., Colindres Aleman, the five guardsmen in civilian attire and Perez Nieto, in uniform, drove in a National Guard jeep to the traffic checkpoint near the airport entrance.[19]

At the checkpoint, Colindres Aleman instructed Perez Nieto to stop all traffic at the checkpoint for approximately ten minutes, but to allow the "white van" carrying the churchwomen to pass without hinderance.[20] Colindres Aleman left Perez Nieto at the checkpoint, along with the uniformed guardsmen already on duty there, Luis Napoleon Cornejo Cubas, Jose Vidal Cruz Piche, and Jose Luis Monterrosa.[21] After rounding a bend in the airport access road, and nearing the first toll station for the as yet unfinished highway between San Salvador and the airport,

Colindres Aleman and the five guardsmen, all in civilian clothes, took up positions on the road and awaited the arrival of the white van.[22]

Meanwhile, at the airport, the four churchwomen retrieved the luggage of Sisters Ford and Clarke and left the terminal in their white van. At the airport traffic checkpoint, Guardsman Perez Nieto, following instructions, allowed the van to pass through. He detained all other traffic for about ten minutes,[23] and then returned to the National Guard headquarters.

Passing the checkpoint, the churchwomen arrived at Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's position. They were stopped and ordered to vacate the van.[24] The guardsmen searched the van and questioned the women. Thereupon, Colindres Aleman ordered them back into the van together with Guardsmen Contreras Recinos, Canales Ramirez and Moreno Canjura.[25] Contreras Recinos drove the van and, with Colindres Aleman and Guardsmen Contreras Palacios and Rivera Franco following in the National Guard jeep,[26] the small convoy started its journey fifteen miles into the hills of El Salvador.

Shortly thereafter the jeep developed engine trouble. After a brief stop for temporary repair, the two vehicles made it to the National Guard command post at the town of El Rosario La Paz.[27] There, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman telephoned the airport and instructed his second in command, Corporal Isabel Aquino Giron, to send another vehicle to El Rosario to retrieve them.[28] The jeep was then left at the Guard post, with Guardsman Rivera Franco to guard it.[29]

The five other guardsmen crowded into the small van with the four churchwomen and proceeded in the direction of Zacatecoluca. At the intersection of the road to San Pedro Nonualco, the van left the main road and drove for another six kilometers, finally turning off onto a dirt lane.[30] At a deserted site along the lane, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman directed Guardsman Contreras Recinos to bring the van to a halt, and ordered the women out of the van.[31] The guardsmen sexually assaulted the women. Then, at Colindres Aleman's orders, they shot the women dead with their service rifles, leaving the bodies along the roadside as they fell.[32] The guardsmen, upon completion of their grisly mission, then returned to El Rosario La Paz in the van.

In the interim, Corporal Giron had sought from the commander of the Customs Police at the airport, Juan de Dios Barrera Rivera, a vehicle with which to pick up Colindres Aleman and his men.[33] Barrera Rivera assigned Victor Melgar Garay to drive a blue Customs Police pick-up truck[34] to El Rosario La Paz, where, accompanied by Guardsman Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza, Melgar Garay found Guardsman Rivera Franco guarding the disabled jeep.[35] The three were waiting when Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and the other guardsmen returned without the women at approximately 11:00 p.m.[36]

Climbing into the cab of the truck, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman instructed Melgar Garay to drive back onto the highway in the direction of La Libertad.[37] Followed by the white Toyota Hiace van, the truck proceeded along the coast road until ordered by Colindres Aleman to stop.[38] After the guardsmen had removed several items from the van to the blue Customs pick-up truck,[39] Guardsman Contreras Recinos opened the middle door of the van and, with the help of Contreras Palacios and Moreno Canjura, poured aviation fuel on the inside and outside of the van and set it afire.[40]

Near midnight, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his men returned to the airport in the blue pick-up truck.[41] Upon his return, Colindres Aleman took the van's spare tire and jack, and several articles of women's clothing to the barracks.[42] Later, several of the guardsmen, with Colindres Aleman, burned this clothing and certain other articles taken from the churchwomen.[43] On December 3, Colindres Aleman took the spare tire and jack to a nearby farm camp and left them there with a friend for safekeeping.[44]

Early in the morning of December 3, 1980, villagers from Santiago Nonualco, a remote village fifteen miles northeast of the airport, found the bodies of the four churchwomen sprawled along the roadside.[45] One of the villagers contacted the local Militia Commander, Jose Dolores Melendez, to report the discovery.[46] Shortly thereafter, two National Guardsmen and three Civil Guardsmen arrived at the scene, and ordered the preparation of a common grave.[47] The local Justice of the Peace, Juan Santos Ceron, was summoned by the Militia Commander, and authorized the immediate burial of the women as "unknowns," an unfortunate practice that had become common in El Salvador.[48]

When Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan failed to return to La Libertad, Father Paul Schindler, an American priest working in La Libertad, contacted the United States Consul in San Salvador, Patricia Lasbury (now Patricia Lasbury Hall), on December 3.[49] Ms. Lasbury then informed the Chief of National Police of the women's disappearance. Salvadoran Defense Minister Garcia was also notified.[50] A nationwide search was promised.

In an attempt to locate the women himself, Father Schindler set out to search along the coastal road leading from La Libertad to the airport. On the evening of December 3, he found the burned-out shell of the churchwomen's van where it had been abandoned along the coastal road.[51] Its license plates were missing, and the van could be identified only by the serial numbers on the engine block.[52]

Meanwhile, word began to circulate in the community that four female Caucasian "unknowns" had been found dead and buried in Santiago Nonualco. A local parish priest heard the news and informed the Vicar of the San Vicente diocese. In turn, the Vicar notified the United States Embassy that the bodies of the American churchwomen had been found.[53]

Upon learning the news, United States Ambassador Robert White went immediately to the murder site, where he found Father Schindler, who also had been notified by the parish priest of the discovery of the bodies.[54] The Secretary of the Justice of the Peace arrived and gave permission for the removal of the bodies from the grave.[55] All four women had been shot in the head; the face of one had been destroyed.[56] The underwear of three of the women was found separately, along with bloody bandanas.[57] Brief medical examinations were performed that day, but no autopsies.[58] Sisters Ford and Clarke were buried in Chalatenango; Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan, in the United States.[59]

II. THE INVESTIGATIONS

Despite the numbing regularity with which innocents in El Salvador have been subjected to crimes of violence, the rape and murder of the four American churchwomen provoked immediate international outrage. The Salvadoran government responded by publicly promising a full investigation, and the United States pledged its complete assistance. The actions of the United States and its representatives to investigate the crime and to bring the perpetrators to justice have been remarkable. Quite simply, we believe that the killers would never have been identified and the evidence of their guilt never properly assembled had it not been for the efforts, often courageous, of United States personnel.

P840126-0395

RELEASED

Special Project (1993)

The efforts of Salvadoran officials, on the other hand, have been mixed. Despite the public promise of a full and complete investigation, the actual initial Salvadoran government response appears to have been to do everything possible to conceal the perpetrators of the crime. The identities of the killers were known to officials of the Salvadoran National Guard within days of the murders. Nonetheless, the official response to this information ranged from indifference to active cover-up. It was only after a year had passed, and the killers had been identified by the United States, that a competent group of Salvadoran officials undertook a thorough investigation of the crime and assembled the evidence that forms the basis for the prosecutions. The men who performed that task, led by Major Medrano, and the judge who inherited the case and completed the investigation, Judge Bernardo Murcia Rauda, performed difficult work under the most dangerous of circumstances. They deserve the praise and gratitude of all those who have sought to see justice done in this case.

A. The Zepeda and Monterrosa Investigations

Within days of the murders, Salvadoran authorities commissioned two investigations, one public and one private, both with apparently the same objective: to create a written record absolving the Salvadoran security forces of responsibility for the murders. The public investigation was in the

P890126-0396

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

form of a commission headed by Colonel Roberto Monterrosa, then director of the Armed Forces Studies Center and later commander of the Salvadoran Navy. The private investigation, commissioned by the National Guard itself, was headed by Major Lizandro Zepeda Velasco. In his interview with us, Colonel Monterrosa was surprisingly candid about his purpose. He stated that his investigatory commission had flatly rejected the possibility that security forces were involved in the murder, not because of the absence of evidence, but because their involvement, if proved, would cause serious consequences for the armed forces "from a political point of view."[60/]

The failure of either Zepeda or the Monterrosa Commission to pursue a serious investigation is obvious, for the evidence of the defendants' culpability was readily available for gathering. As we will note below, the murderers made no attempt whatever to conceal their culpability from other National Guardsmen. Not only had several guardsmen witnessed the churchwomen's abduction, but the defendants repeatedly conceded their guilt to their colleagues following the killing. For instance, at a meeting called by Colonel Vides Casanova within days of the murders to ask whether any National Guardsmen were responsible, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman approached his immediate supervisor, Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez and reported that, "the problem regarding the nuns is me." Martinez advised Colindres Aleman to be silent

about the crime, but to admit his role if questioned by a National Guard officer.[61]

The National Guard officer assigned in December, 1980 to investigate the crime was Major Zepeda.[62] Zepeda interviewed Colindres Aleman, as well as other guardsmen on duty at the airport on the night of December 2.[63] Although all the witnesses whom Zepeda purportedly interviewed had at least partial knowledge of the facts of the crime--knowledge that they later confessed to Major Medrano--Zepeda blithely reported that no one remembered anything out of the ordinary about that evening. His perfunctory written report, turned over to the United States many months later, concludes "[i]t is not proven in this report that elements of the National Guard had any participation in the death of the four North American religious [sic]."[64]

In fact, the written Zepeda report was a sham. Indeed, it made so little an impression on Major Zepeda himself that, when we interviewed him in September, 1983, he insisted that his reporting had been oral only.[65] He persisted in this position even when we told him that we had seen copies of written reports. Zepeda may have remembered only an oral report because it was undoubtedly only orally that he would have communicated his true findings: that National Guardsmen led by Colindres Aleman had committed the murders.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Information derived by the United States Embassy from the special Embassy evidence shows unequivocably that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman followed precisely Sergeant Martinez' recommendation. When Major Zepeda questioned Colindres Aleman in the days following the crime, he confessed his role in the murders to the National Guard investigating officer.

Major Zepeda did not betray Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's trust. Rather, he undertook a course of action in the winter and spring of 1981 to protect Colindres Aleman and the other killers. Of course, he issued a written report absolving the guardsmen of blame. Moreover, according to the special Embassy evidence, Major Zepeda caused the murderers to be transferred away from their airport post, thus making it more difficult for outsiders to determine who had been in a position to undertake the killings or to interview military witnesses at the airport. Knowing that the FBI had performed ballistics tests on shells and casings associated with the crime, Major Zepeda also, according to the special Embassy evidence, ordered the killers to switch their rifles with others so as to make detection more difficult. (This effort did not ultimately prevent linking the murder weapons with the defendants. Major Zepeda either failed to, or could not, alter the Salvadoran military's written records identifying which rifles were assigned to the defendants.)

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Although we have no direct proof, we think it is quite possible that Major Zepeda informed his superior, then Colonel Vides Casanova, of his activities. Vides Casanova appointed Zepeda, and Zepeda reported directly to him. It seems unlikely that a mid-level officer like Zepeda would have undertaken the obstructive actions he did without approval or encouragement from someone higher. Moreover, when we interviewed now General Vides Casanova, we found him evasive; he professed a disturbing lack of knowledge of Zepeda's investigation, despite evidence that he was aware of and received reports concerning Zepeda's efforts throughout the investigation.[66] In his answers to us, General Vides Casanova attempted to distance himself as completely as possible from all investigations of the crime.

We believe it probable that Major Zepeda informed Colonel Monterrosa of his findings. Indeed, in his discussion with us, Colonel Monterrosa asserted that he was responsible for Zepeda's appointment as investigating officer. Certainly the activity undertaken by the Monterrosa Commission--or, more accurately, its inactivity--suggests the absence of any serious interest in identifying the killers. Nonetheless, for the first few weeks of its existence, the commission managed to suggest to the outside world that it was undertaking a serious mission.

The commission's appointment was announced on December 8, 1980.[67] On that day the members of the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

commission received United States Ambassador Robert White and a team of distinguished Americans sent by President Carter to investigate the crime.[68] The commissioners purported to welcome investigative assistance from the United States, including technical expertise and assistance in planning the investigation. The Ambassador willingly agreed. A team of FBI technicians flew to El Salvador and gathered various evidence for laboratory analysis, including fingerprints and debris taken from the white van, and items of clothing found at the gravesite.[69]

Over the next few days the commission requested that autopsies be performed on the two churchwomen buried in the United States;[70] it visited the murder site and questioned residents of the area;[71] it took a statement from a Salvadoran priest, Father Britto,[72] who had been stopped at a military checkpoint near the airport on the evening of December 2, 1980; and it requested the assistance of the United States in locating six Canadians who had also been stopped at that checkpoint with Father Britto.[73]

Despite its initial show of activity, the Monterrosa Commission soon slowed its pace. On December 20, 1980, the commission adjourned for the traditional three-week Christmas recess,[74] and when the commission eventually resumed its "investigation" in January, 1981, its efforts were unimpressive. Consistent with Colonel Monterrosa's statement to us that the commission had no serious interest in connecting security forces with the crime, the commission obtained and relied upon false exculpatory statements from guardsmen on duty substantially identical to those collected by Major Zepeda.[75]

Although the United States was, as requested, providing investigative assistance, that assistance was largely ignored. United States suggestions that the most elementary investigative steps be taken were greeted with distrust or disinterest. Thus, the United States repeatedly requested, to no avail, that guardsmen at the checkpoint and the burial site be fingerprinted; that airport guardsmen be vigorously questioned about the events of December 2; that the weapons of guardsmen at the airport be confiscated for testing; and the like.[76] When pressed to explain his reason for failing to fingerprint the potential suspects, Colonel Monterrosa lamely explained, "one must understand the political situation in El Salvador."[77] He later claimed that the commission did not have the authority to fingerprint the men in question.[78]

Thereafter, in February, 1981, Colonel Monterrosa began the first of his many efforts to conclude the commission's activities.[79] One might be tempted to conclude that the Monterrosa Commission's failure to uncover useful information was the result of mere indifference or fear. We conclude that it is more probable that Major Zepeda informed Colonel Monterrosa of Colindres Aleman's guilt and that

Colonel Monterrosa purposely chose to conceal the truth. According to Monterrosa himself in his discussion with us, Zepeda reported everything he knew to him.

More telling than the lines of authority, however, was an event that occurred on February 26, 1981. On that date after much prodding from the United States, Colonel Monterrosa delivered to an Embassy official fingerprints and palm prints of three of the four guardsmen from whom the commission had taken written statements: Jose Luis Monterrosa, Luis Napoleon Cornejo Cubas, and Vidal Cruz Piche, all guardsmen stationed at the airport checkpoint on the day of the murders.[80] Of course, since none of these men was involved in the murders, their fingerprints were essentially meaningless. The significant event of that day, however, was Colonel Monterrosa's pointed failure to produce the fingerprints of the fourth guardsmen who had given a statement: Subsergeant Colindres Aleman.

A month and a half later, after the special Embassy evidence had provided the Embassy an indication of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's guilt, but before the Embassy had revealed that knowledge to the Salvadorans, an Embassy official asked Colonel Monterrosa why Colindres Aleman had not been fingerprinted.[81] Colonel Monterrosa immediately became defensive and claimed he had taken fingerprints only from those persons requested by the Embassy. From all the circumstances, however, we believe that Colonel Monterrosa did not provide Colindres Aleman's fingerprints because he knew--since Major Zepeda had told him--that Colindres Aleman was responsible for the murders. Monterrosa feared that providing Colindres Aleman's fingerprints would enable him to be identified.

In the period between January and April, 1981, frustrated at the inaction of the Monterrosa Commission, and still uncertain that a purposeful cover-up was underway, Embassy officials continued to apply direct and indirect pressure upon Colonel Monterrosa. They asked the ruling junta to press Monterrosa to conduct a meaningful inquiry.[82] President Jose Napoleon Duarte, whom we interviewed and who appeared to have a sincere interest in the prosecution of this case, complied with the various requests of the United States, and repeatedly instructed Colonel Monterrosa to undertake pertinent investigative steps: to identify all security force personnel near the airport; to fingerprint those personnel; and to collect, secure and test their weapons.[83] Despite instructions from his civilian superior, Colonel Monterrosa did as little as possible throughout the early spring of 1981. Taken together, the Monterrosa and Zepeda investigations provide distressing evidence of the willingness of the Salvadoran military to protect their own, no matter what the cost.

B. The Cover-Up Is Defeated

Distressed at the apparent inability of the Monterrosa Commission to make substantial progress, and unaware of the cover-up engineered by Major Zepeda, officers of the United States Embassy determined to do what they could to identify the killers. In February, 1981, an Embassy officer developed information that promised eventual discovery of the identity of the killers. Over the next two months, this special Embassy evidence was proven reliable. The Embassy learned the identity of the killers; of other witnesses who could prove the killers' identity in court, most notably Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez; and obtained convincing evidence of the cover-up.

A significant piece of corroboration came from FBI analysis of two cartridge casings and three spent bullets provided to the Embassy by the Salvadoran government on March 2, 1981.[84/] On March 17, 1981, the FBI laboratories identified the casings and bullets as coming from Heckler and Koch G-3 assault rifles,[85/] standard issue to the Salvadoran security forces. Other corroborating evidence cannot be set forth here because it would tend to disclose and thus endanger the nature and sources of the special Embassy evidence. In any event, after several months of testing, through the use of corroborating evidence, the Embassy was convinced that the special Embassy evidence was both genuine and sound.

By April, 1981, the Embassy had concluded that only extraordinary pressure would result in the arrest and prosecution of the killers, and it determined to inform the Salvadoran authorities of the information it had learned, but not its source. On April 21, 1981, the Embassy identified Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to President Duarte. Several days later the Embassy named to Defense Minister Garcia five other guardsmen identified by the special Embassy evidence.[86] The United States demanded that the killers be arrested. Upon learning this news, Colonel Vides Casanova ordered the arrest of the guardsmen who had been identified. The men were taken into custody on April 29, 1981.[87]

The arrest of the guardsmen enabled the FBI to complete the scientific tests it had begun some months before. On April 30, the FBI obtained the defendants' fingerprints and shortly thereafter matched a thumbprint of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman with a print found on the churchwomen's van.[88] On May 1, the weapons of the guardsmen were seized,[89] and by May 17, the FBI reported that one of the seized weapons, which later was identified as belonging to Guardsman Moreno Canjura, had fired a cartridge found at the murder site.[90]

Although the cover-up had been thwarted, and evidence of the defendants' guilt produced, the military apparently remained ambivalent about the extent to which it would cooperate in the prosecution. Major Zepeda remained in charge of the National Guard's internal "investigation," and the disclosure of the true facts apparently did little to deter him from his course of concealment. In the period following the arrests, Zepeda took two more written statements from Subsergeant Colindres Aleman.[91] In the first, Colindres Aleman again denied participation in the murders. In the second, recorded after the FBI had linked his fingerprint to the nuns' van, Colindres Aleman claimed that he might have touched the van in the airport parking lot and again denied his guilt. Major Zepeda also interviewed Guardsman Moreno Canjura, who blandly claimed that his rifle could not have been involved in the murder because he had possessed it continuously and he had not been involved in the murder.[92]

On July 1, 1981, Major Zepeda submitted a second report to Colonel Vides Casanova.[93] He still concluded that he could not determine the guilt of the guardsmen because of the "difficulty" in resolving a case so "delicate." He concluded that only the civilian courts could make a determination of guilt and that he had exhausted the resources at his disposal. Other than Major Zepeda's meager efforts, Salvadoran attempts to investigate and prosecute the guardsmen were virtually nonexistent throughout the summer and fall of 1981.

C. The Medrano Working Group

By the fall of 1981, the United States Embassy recognized that the Salvadoran authorities were evidently content to let the defendants remain in prison while doing nothing to prosecute the crime. The Embassy determined to press all the harder for a serious investigation, which, for political reasons, would have to come under the aegis of the Monterrosa Commission.

On December 4, 1981, the Commission agreed to the appointment of a working group, composed of professional investigators and backed by technical assistance from the United States, to conduct the investigation.[94/] On December 7, 1981, the Fiscal General (the chief Salvadoran prosecutor) and his deputy agreed to this concept as well.[95/] The working group was formally established on December 9 by order of Colonel Vides Casanova.[96/] National Guard Major Jose Adolfo Medrano was appointed to head the group.

The work of the Medrano working group is one of the encouraging chapters in the Salvadoran handling of the churchwomen murders case. It stands in sharp contrast to the previous two investigations described herein, and was pursued with thoroughness and persistence. The Medrano working group was the first successful attempt by an agency of the Salvadoran government to investigate the murders in a systematic and determined way. In two months time, the working group, under the able leadership of Major Medrano, was able to question more than a dozen important witnesses, gain a confession, and gather valuable physical evidence.

One of the reasons the Medrano working group was so successful was that, with its establishment, ongoing technical assistance was provided by the FBI at every step. Similarly, Embassy personnel were present for every session of the Medrano working group. Thus, the Medrano working group became an organized, joint effort by Major Medrano of the National Guard, detectives of the National Police, the FBI Regional legal attache and his FBI colleagues who appeared from time to time to carry out special activities such as polygraphing, ballistics, or fingerprint analysis, and representatives from the United States Embassy. Representatives from the office of the Fiscal General also participated in working group sessions.

Within days of his appointment on December 9, 1981, Major Medrano had interviewed two of the airport fuel workers who were on duty on the day of the murders concerning the dispensing of airplane fuel possibly used by the guardsmen in their jeep;[97] Jose Vidal Cruz Piche, one of the guardsmen stationed at the airport;[98] the four guards of Hector Herrera's estate, who witnessed the van passing back and forth to the murder site that evening[99] and Jose Luis Monterrosa, another guardsman stationed at the airport.[100] These interviews were crucial to the case. They provided the first public evidence of the facts surrounding the crime.

The first important break for Major Medrano was his interview on December 11 of Guardsman Cruz Piche.[101] Cruz Piche, whom Major Medrano had known previously[102] and who apparently felt comfortable with the investigator, confided that on the night of the murders he had seen Colindres Aleman, Contreras Recinos, Moreno Canjura, Canales Ramirez, and two others depart the airport in the post's Toyota jeep shortly after 7:00 p.m., passing through the checkpoint where Cruz Piche was stationed with Guardsmen Luis Monterrosa and Cornejo Cubas. Cruz Piche said that when he returned to the detachment headquarters at the end of his tour, he found that the six who had left earlier were drunk and appeared nervous.[103]

Medrano reinterviewed Guardsman Cruz Piche on December 15, 1981.[104] Cruz Piche amplified his previous statement, saying that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman ordered Guardsman Perez Nieto to remain at the checkpoint to detain all airport traffic for the next ten minutes, and that Perez Nieto had allowed a white microbus to pass without inspection. Cruz Piche reported that he later overheard Colindres Aleman say "What's done is done," and, "If fate is against us, we will have to pay," or words to that effect. This testimony was the first public revelation that Colindres Aleman had ever acknowledged his guilt.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Guardsman Cruz Piche also testified that three days later he heard a guardsman say that he had been told by guardsmen who had accompanied Colindres Aleman that the victims were "subversive nuns," that "we took subversive propaganda from them," and that another guardsman had somehow obtained 5,000 dollars or colones. He said that eight days later he saw Subsergeant Colindres Aleman selling ladies' watches in the airport area.

Guardsman Jose Luis Monterrosa confirmed Cruz Piche's statement to the Medrano group and named the six guardsmen he saw depart the airport: Colindres Aleman, Jose Elias Sanchez, Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura, Adrian Ramirez, and Daniel Canales Ramirez.[105] Two days after the murders, Luis Monterrosa saw Colindres Aleman with a large amount of money purchasing a television set, furniture, and other items, as well as selling a tape recorder, watches, rings, and eyeglasses. Luis Monterrosa testified that he overheard guardsmen say that "they were subversive nuns and had subversive propaganda," and that Colindres Aleman said "It happened today: if our turn comes up, we'll have to pay for it."

During this period the Medrano group also took statements of Luis Napoleon Cornejo Cubas, the third guardsman at the airport checkpoint, Corporal Isabel Aquino Giron, the deputy commander of the airport National Guard detachment, and Guardsman Perez Nieto, who had been on patrol at

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

the terminal and had spotted the nuns. Taken together, the statements significantly tightened the chain of evidence of guilt and provided a fairly complete picture of the events of December 2, 1980.

In his December 17, 1981 statement,[106] airport Guardsman Luis Napoleon Cornjeo Cubas confirmed the statements of Guardsman Cruz Piche and Luis Monterrosa, and revealed that he had learned that on the night of the murders Colindres Aleman brought back a spare tire, which a few days later he gave to a friend at the nearby "Macondo" cotton plantation. He also saw Colindres Aleman and his five companions burn women's clothing behind the National Guard command post several days after the killings.

Corporal Giron testified that about 5:30 p.m., he overheard Subsergeant Colindres Aleman talking by telephone with Reyes Nieto, who was in the airport terminal.[107] Thereafter, Giron swore, Colindres Aleman ordered five guardsmen to dress in civilian clothes, and they departed with him in the detachment jeep at about 7:00 p.m. Giron testified that later that evening he received a telephone call from Colindres Aleman, asking for a replacement vehicle. Giron borrowed a blue pickup truck and a driver from the commander of the airport Customs Police, and directed the driver to proceed to El Rosario La Paz to meet Colindres Aleman.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

Giron further stated that he saw the pickup truck return with the guardsmen shortly before midnight, observed the guardsmen remove a tire and several cartons from the truck, and later heard that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman took the tire to a friend at the "Macondo" cotton plantation the next day. Finally, Giron said that on or about December 7, 1980, Colindres Aleman told him that "they were subversive women. I do not think there will be a problem." This implicit acknowledgment of guilt by Colindres Aleman constitutes his third extrajudicial confession in the record.

On December 22, 1981, Margarito Perez Nieto, the guardsman on patrol in front of the airport terminal who had identified the nuns, gave a deceptive statement.[108/] Although Perez Nieto acknowledged reporting to Subsergeant Colindres Aleman that two "suspicious looking foreign women were in the airport terminal," he claimed that Colindres Aleman only ordered him to go to the checkpoint to search all out-going traffic, which he claimed he did for five or ten minutes without singling out any particular vehicle. He stated that one of the three white vans he remembered seeing may have been driven by one of the women he had seen earlier in the terminal. At this initial interview, Perez Nieto failed to reveal that he had seen Colindres Aleman depart with five other guardsmen in civilian clothes to stop the white van. He likewise only obscurely alluded to Colindres Aleman's instructions to him to hold all traffic except for the white van, and his compliance with those instructions.

On December 23, the Medrano working group interviewed the airport Customs commander.[109] He corroborated Corporal Giron's statement that at about 11:00 p.m. on the night of the murders, Giron asked him to loan the Customs Police vehicle in order to pick up Colindres Aleman and the others. He said that he sent his vehicle and driver to get the guardsmen and that his driver later informed him that the guardsmen had put bloodstained women's clothing in the truck. The following day, Christmas Eve, the Medrano group interviewed Mariana Realejeno, the maid at the National Guard airport barracks,[110] who testified that in late December, 1980, a guardsman gave her a woman's skirt as a gift.

Early in January, 1982, the Medrano working group interviewed Victor Melgar Garay, the Customs Police duty driver who had picked up the group of guardsmen in El Rosario La Paz on the night of the murders.[111] Melgar Garay described the unloading and burning of the white microbus on the highway to La Libertad, and testified that he had been warned to keep silent about what he had seen. In the same period, the Medrano group began to amass the physical evidence that linked the six guardsmen to the crime. The wheel, tire, and jack stolen from the churchwomen's van were recovered by the working group from the nearby plantation where they had been taken by Colindres Aleman.[112]

The working group interviewed Adrian Ramirez Palacios and Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman, guardsmen detained together with the killers, on January 11 and 12, 1982. Each confirmed that he had seen Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his group depart from the airport on the night of December 2, 1980, and that Colindres Aleman had later possessed personal articles from the van.[113/]

Sanchez Guzman added critical incriminating statements he had heard from the defendants during his period of incarceration with them.[114/] He stated that while in prison Guardsman Moreno Canjura had admitted that after the women were shot, Moreno Canjura saw that one of them was still alive and that he had used his own rifle to kill her. Sanchez Guzman swore as well that he and Ramirez Palacios were threatened by the defendants that they would be killed if they talked about the case after they were released. Finally, Sanchez Guzman provided an important clarification about the culpability of Guardsman Rivera Franco, which later enabled the prosecution to use Rivera Franco as a witness against the killers: although Rivera Franco had participated in the kidnapping of the women, he was not one of the killers; he had stayed behind with the disabled jeep at Rosario La Paz.

The various witnesses' statements had regularly identified one guardsmen not in custody, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, as among the six men who had abducted

the churchwomen and, at the same time, had generally omitted mention of one guardsmen in custody, Adrian Ramirez Palacios. This evidence, together with the similarity in names, led the working group to conclude by late December that Ramirez Palacios was not involved in the murders.[115] During the first week in January, 1982 the Medrano working group had located Contreras Palacios for questioning.[116]

On January 14, 1982, the working group received a major break: Contreras Palacios confessed to his participation in the murders.[117] Because Contreras Palacios had been belatedly identified and had not been incarcerated with the other five defendants, he apparently had not been subject to group pressure to present a joint alibi. Rather, remorseful over having raped and murdered women who he later learned were nuns, Contreras Palacios, when apprehended, provided the first participant account of the crime.

Under Salvadoran law (common in many civil law countries), the testimony of a participant in the crime cannot be used against the others.[118] Thus, Contreras Palacios' confession was, technically, admissible only against him. It was significant nonetheless. First, it provided full corroboration of the evidence initially provided by the special Embassy evidence and thereafter painstakingly developed by the FBI and the Medrano working group. Second, the confession would be admissible against Contreras Palacios at the joint trial of all the defendants.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Thus, although it was technically of limited admissibility, it would still have a significant psychological effect on the jurors, assuring them of the defendants' guilt.

Contreras Palacios swore that he and the others, dressed in civilian clothes, left the airport command post at 7:00 p.m., and stopped and searched the churchwomen's van about a half mile from the airport.[115] He said that they then drove with the van towards El Rosario La Paz, but that they had engine trouble with the jeep, forcing them to leave it in El Rosario, with a guardsman (Rivera Franco) to safeguard it. Thereafter, they drove to a deserted spot several miles southwest of San Pedro Nonualco, where Colindres Aleman ordered them to stop and the churchwomen to get out.

The guardsmen proceeded to rape the women and then, at Colindres Aleman's orders, shot and killed them. They then returned to El Rosario, picked up the guardsman left there, and drove down the coastal highway, where they burned the van. Contreras Palacios stated that he did not know of any other orders that the women be killed and that only Colindres Aleman ordered them to kill the "subversive" nuns. (When Contreras Palacios was reinterviewed, partially at our suggestion, in October, 1983, he altered this last testimony and claimed that Colindres Aleman told him he had been ordered to kill the women, but that Colindres regularly used such explanations to justify his orders.)

On the same day that the working group obtained Contreras Palacios' confession, it began the process of administering polygraph examinations to the suspects. Although polygraph evidence is inadmissible in El Salvador, as it is in the United States, the working group recognized, at the urging of United States representatives, that the skilled use of the polygraph can be an important investigative tool. It can provide a basis for evaluating the credibility of witnesses. More importantly, many a witness, confronted with an impending polygraph examination or the fact that he has failed one, decides to tell the truth. This happened three times during the course of the polygraph examinations in this case, all of which were administered by an experienced Spanish speaking FBI polygrapher.

Three of the suspects did not alter their testimony concerning the murders either before or after the polygraph exam: Guardsman Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos,[120] Guardsman Daniel Canales Ramirez[121] and Guardsman Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura.[122] Nonetheless, the FBI polygrapher concluded that all three--and a fourth, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman[123]--were lying when they denied involvement in the crime. During the polygraph examination, Colindres Aleman was also asked whether he had been ordered by anyone to commit the crime. Significantly, the polygrapher concluded that his denial of receiving higher orders was truthful.[124]

P840126-0418

RELEASED

Although Subsergeant Colindres Aleman did not confess during the course of his polygraph examination, he did alter his previous testimony in an incriminating way.[125] Prior to the polygraph examination, Colindres Aleman had consistently claimed that he and his men were on duty at the airport on the night of December 2. During the course of the pre-examination interview, Colindres Aleman altered his testimony to concede significant incriminating details. For the first time, Colindres Aleman admitted receiving a telephone call from Perez Nieto at about 3:00 p.m. on December 2, 1980, reporting two suspicious persons at the airport, thus conceding he was on notice of the churchwomen's presence at the airport.

Subsergeant Colindres Aleman also altered his testimony to link all the suspects together. He admitted that at about 7:00 p.m. he ordered Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Daniel Canales Ramirez, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, Salvador Rivera Franco and Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura, the remaining suspects, to change into civilian clothes so that they could all drive into El Rosario La Paz. Despite this critical concession, Colindres Aleman claimed that the purpose of the trip was only to get gas for the unit stove, and that they returned at about 10:00 p.m.

Margarito Perez Nieto, the airport guardsman who called Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to report to him the movements of the churchwomen from the airport, had significantly understated his knowledge at his initial interview.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

In January, 1982 he took and failed a polygraph, and then elected to tell the truth.[126] On January 15, 1982 Perez Nieto confessed that he had been ordered by Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to allow the churchwomen's van to pass through the checkpoint, and that he had done so. He added that he had had no previous instructions to look for the churchwomen at the airport and that he was unaware of any such instructions to anyone in the National Guard unit at the airport.

Salvador Rivera Franco, the guardsman who accompanied Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and the churchwomen to El Rosario La Paz, where he remained behind to guard the jeep, also provided significant additional information upon being confronted with the polygraph.[127] Initially, Rivera Franco had offered no useful evidence in the investigation. At the commencement of the polygraph session, however, Rivera Franco indicated that he wished to make a statement, and did so. Rivera Franco thereupon identified the guardsmen who had accompanied Colindres Aleman and the nuns from the airport access road; described the search of the churchwomen's van on the airport access road; described the return from El Rosario La Paz after the murders along the coastal road to the spot where the van was burned; and stated that several of the suspects had confessed to him that they had killed the women.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

Finally, a polygraph examination helped to exonerate another of the earlier accused, Guardsman Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman. Like Ramirez Palacios, he had been imprisoned as one of the original six accused, but then was released upon the development of exonerating evidence, including the confession of Contreras Palacios and the statements of various witnesses excluding Sanchez Guzman from the group of six guardsmen who had abducted the women. As a final test, Sanchez Guzman was submitted to a polygraph examination, which he passed. Thereupon, the working group concluded that his continued denial of participation in the murders was truthful.[128/]

On February 9, 1982, the Medrano working group having completed its activities, Major Medrano forwarded the investigative file to General Vides Casanova.[129/] General Vides Casanova, in turn, forwarded the file, with the jack, tire, and skirt seized during the investigation, to the First Penal Judge in Zacatecoluca on February 10. At the same time, he consigned to the court Colindres Aleman, Contreras Recinos, Moreno Canjura, Contreras Palacios, Canales Ramirez and Rivera Franco, stating that they had been discharged from the National Guard and arrested for their participation in the deaths of the four churchwomen.[130/]

D. The Civil Investigation

The evidence assembled by the Medrano working group remains the principal evidence of the defendants'

RELEASED

guilt. Nonetheless, as the civil authorities created their own record to support the prosecution during the ensuing months, several significant pieces of additional evidence were developed.

Perhaps most important of these was the evidence of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's confession to his superior, Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez. The special Embassy evidence identified Sergeant Martinez in 1981 as one to whom Colindres Aleman had confided his guilt. By January, 1982, Martinez was living in Los Angeles, having left El Salvador and the National Guard in January, 1981. He was located there and interviewed by the FBI, but he denied any knowledge whatsoever about the events of the murder.[131]

When the FBI reported these results back to El Salvador, Embassy officials knowledgeable about the special Embassy evidence were unsatisfied. They suggested that the FBI reinterview Sergeant Martinez with the assistance of a polygraph examination.[132] Once again, the threat of the lie detector provoked a change in testimony. Faced with the test, Martinez confessed that, shortly after the killings and during a meeting of the National Guard called by Colonel Vides Casanova to ask whether any guardsmen were responsible, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman approached Martinez and conceded that he was responsible for the "problem regarding the nuns."[133] Martinez explained that he had advised Colindres Aleman to keep that information to himself for the moment, but to confess it to the Director of the National Guard in accord with the Director's request.

Another significant piece of additional evidence was obtained in July, 1983. Judge Rauda had refused, under Salvadoran law, to admit into the trial record evidence obtained outside the territorial boundaries of El Salvador or outside his supervision.[134] For this reason, he rejected the admissibility of both the ballistics and fingerprint evidence obtained by the FBI. As the case was readied for trial in the summer of 1983, and in part at our suggestion, the FBI agreed to transport its ballistics equipment to El Salvador and train a Salvadoran national in the testing process.[135] When this was done, Judge Rauda was able to produce two more weapons, previously unknown, attributable to the defendants. The ballistics test linked one of these newly discovered weapons, that of Contreras Palacios, to the crime, thereby providing another direct link between the defendants and the murder.[136]

Unfortunately, it was impossible to replicate the fingerprint evidence linking Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to the nuns' van. The original fingerprint had been obtained by an FBI technician in December, 1980, shortly after the killings, and processed in Washington.[137] According to Judge Rauda, it was inadmissible for two reasons: (1) the fingerprint had been taken from the van without the authority of the investigating judge; and (2) it had been analyzed by a non-Salvadoran.[138] In 1983, an effort was made to duplicate the process in an admissible fashion.[139] The Salvadoran authorities had done nothing, however, to preserve the van and, not surprisingly, the fingerprint could no longer be located some two and one-half years later.

El Salvador: Human Rights

During our trip to El Salvador, we attempted to explore ways in which the fingerprint obtained by the FBI could nonetheless be used. Both the prosecutors and private attorneys retained by the Embassy persuaded us that the fingerprint would not be admitted during the investigatory stage of the proceedings.[140] It is possible, however, as we shall explain below, that the fingerprint could nonetheless be used in the argument section of the trial, when otherwise inadmissible evidence may be presented to the jury.

III. INVOLVEMENT OF HIGHER AUTHORITIES

Since the day the bodies of the churchwomen were found, there has been a widely held suspicion, at least in the United States, that higher officers in the Salvadoran security forces were involved in the murders. Indeed, at the outset of our mission, we shared that suspicion. We frankly doubted that an enlisted National Guard member would have undertaken on his own initiative the rape and murder of four North American women, even in a society as violent as El Salvador. For this reason, we considered it an important part of our mission to do what we could to help resolve the question. The Salvadorans had done little to address it directly. It had taken enough American effort simply to persuade the prosecutors to pursue the murders themselves, and we saw little hope that a full-fledged investigation of possible higher involvement would ever be undertaken, at least absent concrete evidence of the sort used to force the investigation of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and guardsmen under his command.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

We resolved, therefore, to do what we could to urge the prosecuting authorities to gather evidence relevant to the question of higher involvement, while at the same time carefully reviewing the evidence available to us in an attempt to resolve the question for ourselves. In particular, we wished the Salvadorans to reinterview guardsmen Perez Nieto and Contreras Palacios. Perez Nieto had first spotted the churchwomen at the airport and his conversations with Colindres Aleman apparently led to their abduction. We did not believe he had been sufficiently questioned about these subjects. We hoped that new questioning would illuminate Colindres Aleman's specific motivation. Unfortunately, we learned that, after giving his statement to Judge Rauda, Perez Nieto had been reported missing in action since January, 1983.[141/]

We asked that Contreras Palacios be reinterviewed because, as the sole confessing guardsman, he was in a position to shed light about what, if anything, Colindres Aleman had said about his orders, a subject on which we believed Contreras Palacios had been insufficiently questioned earlier. Contreras Palacios did give new testimony in which he expanded, and contradicted, his earlier testimony by stating that Colindres Aleman had indeed claimed, in directing the guardsmen to kill the women, that the orders came from higher up.[142/] Contreras Palacios added that Colindres Aleman regularly used this sort of justification with his troops. For reasons set out below, we ultimately discounted the significance of this testimony, but it served further to underscore the importance of a resolution of the higher-up question.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

We also asked the Salvadoran authorities to investigate links between the killers and security forces in Chalatenango and La Libertad, where the churchwomen had lived and worked. We sought to clarify, to the extent possible, whether any of the defendants had contacts with those cities that would suggest their participation in a conspiracy to murder, or whether officers in those cities had had contacts with the airport that would suggest the same. At the same time, we asked that fingerprints of guardsmen in Chalatenango be obtained so that they could be compared with fingerprints found on documents that threatened the churchwomen in Chalatenago. Although fingerprints have

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

now been obtained from the security forces commanders at Chalatenango and analyzed without positive results, to the best of our knowledge, other security forces personnel stationed there have yet to be fingerprinted.

Thus, the record from which we have had to work is not as complete as we would have liked, or as would have been assembled for a comparable murder investigation in the United States. Nonetheless, we deem the issue too important to leave without discussion. We have undertaken to weigh the evidence available to us as best we can. We have analyzed the testimony of the witnesses and the circumstances under which the testimony was taken. We have made judgments about the credibility of particular witnesses. We have applied our various experiences as prosecutors and judge to the facts of this case. And, contrary to our initial supposition, we have concluded that, from the evidence now available to us, it is unlikely that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman received higher orders to commit this crime. We believe that he acted on his own initiative.

An analysis of the higher orders question begins with a definition of terms. In the broadest sense, higher orders could simply mean an understanding among the security forces in El Salvador, fostered by their superiors, that crimes of violence, no matter how outrageous or unjustified, would not be prosecuted. We do not believe that is what concerns those who believe Subsergeant Colindres Aleman was ordered to commit this crime. Nonetheless, the existence of this atmosphere is important in resolving the more particular question, for it is clear to us that in El Salvador in 1980, and perhaps still today, there was a general tolerance of crimes of violence by the military. At the time of this crime, so far as we are aware, few, if any, national guardsmen had ever been civilly prosecuted for murder, even though estimates of murdered civilians ran up to 40,000, many allegedly at the hands of the military. Thus, we conclude that officers of the Salvadoran military forces, whether by direction, inactivity or tolerance, encouraged the notion that their troops were above the law.

PB90126-042?

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

This brings us to the more direct higher-up questions. Did some higher officer (or officers) order Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to murder the women he had abducted at the El Salvador airport, either after hearing of Guardsman Perez Nieto's suspicions or because he had previously planned to murder some or all of the women, knowing that they would be at the airport on the night of December 2?

The most direct evidence that some higher officer ordered the killing comes from the statements of Guardsmen Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa. Contreras Palacios has testified in his second interview that, in directing the guardsmen to shoot the women, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman said he was doing so because of superior orders.[143/] In addition, Valle Espinosa has testified that Colindres Aleman said substantially the same in ordering him to participate in the roadblock.[144/]

P840176-0428

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

In addition to the direct testimony of Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa, there is certain circumstantial evidence as well. To some American observers at least, it seems unlikely that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman would abandon his duty post at the airport, together with five of his troops, unless he had authorization to do so. More generally, there is evidence of hostility between the military and the church in El Salvador and, in particular, between the military and church workers in Chalatenango. Our interviews with Salvadoran officers reinforced this conclusion: their animosity towards the church was obvious. Colonel Monterrosa was perhaps most blunt. He openly speculated that the churchwomen were probably subversives, and that the military might well have wished them dead.[145/]

This hostility manifested itself directly with respect to churchworkers in Chalatenango, where Sisters Ford and Clarke were based. Military personnel stationed there regularly harassed churchworkers by, for example, blocking entry to the church with their cars and haranguing them about their alleged subversive activities.[146/] By the fall of 1980, this hostility had become even more threatening.

In November, 1980, a sign was posted on the parish door in Chalatenango that could be read to threaten the lives of those working with the church there.[147/] On December 2, the day of the murders, Father Efrain Lopez, the parish priest in Chalatenango, reportedly received a letter

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

threatening those working for the church in Chalatenango.[148] Later on December 2, the sacristan of the Chalatenango church allegedly was approached and shown a list of people to be killed that included the names of Sisters Ford and Clarke.[149]

Moreover, a possible opportunity existed for the military to learn that the churchwomen would be at the airport on December 2. In November, 1980, Maryknoll nun Madeline Dorsey sent a telegram to Sister Ita Ford describing her travel plans to the Managua Conference and suggesting that Sisters Ford and Clarke return with her to El Salvador on December 2.[150] If the telegram were intercepted by Salvadoran intelligence officers, the possibility existed for arranging an ambush.

Ominous though the above recital may sound, it is nonetheless quite a ways distant from direct proof of higher involvement. More importantly, upon analysis, we believe some of this evidence is more ambiguous than it may seem, and supports the theory that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman acted on his own initiative as readily as the theory that he received higher orders. The remaining evidence, we believe, is both of dubious probative value and substantially outweighed by the evidence inclining against higher involvement.

First, we believe the testimony of Guardsman Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa to be, upon analysis, neutral. Although both have testified that, in the course of ordering them to participate, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman told them that he had "superior orders" and although we have no reason to disbelieve this testimony, it is not conclusive of anything. It would not be surprising if a non-commissioned guardsman of inferior rank like Colindres Aleman used the guise of "superior orders" to motivate his troops, whether he had such orders or not, particularly when asking his men to commit a blatantly illegal act. Indeed, Contreras Palacios's own statement supports this conclusion. He observed that Colindres Aleman regularly justified his orders on such a basis, and speculated that Colindres Aleman had done so this time so that he would not have to bear the full responsibility for his order. Thus, the testimony of Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa does not necessarily support an inference either way.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

We also conclude that the general animosity between the church and the military does not necessarily support a conclusion of higher-up involvement. The belief, tolerated and even encouraged by officers of the security forces, that the Church and its workers were subversive could well lead lower-ranking soldiers to believe that church workers were fair game for harassment or worse. Thus, we believe the animosity serves as well to explain Colindres Aleman's own motives for the crimes--and his own belief that his acts were justified--as it does to suggest that his superiors were necessarily involved.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Colindres Aleman's willingness to abandon his airport post also does not support an inference either way. His action was, we believe, consistent with the structure within the National Guard at the time. As we learned in the course of our mission, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman had wide latitude in the daily functions of the unit he commanded.[151] His superiors visited his post only occasionally, and this lack of command control was and is a major concern of the Salvadoran high command. Until recently, the number of officers was quite low in proportion to the number of posts and guardsmen to supervise.[152] Moreover, transportation and communication facilities were limited, making it difficult for officers to control men in the field.

We also do not accord much weight to Sister Dorsey's telegram as providing an opportunity for the military to learn about the churchwomen's travel plans. As we learned, the intelligence network in El Salvador is quite primitive.[153] There is no reason to believe that the telegram was intercepted and, if it had been, we doubt that it would have been read by anyone with a particular interest in Sisters Ford and Clarke. Moreover, even if the telegram were intercepted and routed to a person interested in securing the demise of the nuns, the telegram did no more than suggest that they travel on December 2. It was, it seems to us, an insufficient basis on which to construct a plan to abduct and murder the women.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Finally, we conclude that there is no likely connection between the Chalatenango death threats and the murders. The threats were not directed at Sisters Clarke and Ford in particular, and thus suggest no reason why those nuns would be singled out for detention and murder at the airport, some distance from Chalatenango. Moreover, if the threats were serious, we see no reason why they would not have been implemented in Chalatenango--where they would have the maximum deterent effect on the local church workers--rather than in another, far away part of the country. Implementing the threats in a distant military district would have required a level of coordination and cooperation that we have neither observed nor understood to be present in the Salvadoran security forces. At the same time, if such coordination were arranged, it would have necessarily involved additional guardsmen in the killings and thus needlessly increased the chances that the conspirators would be exposed.

If the threats were causally connected with the killings, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman would necessarily have had to be on the alert for the churchwomen. The evidence of Perez Nieto, which we credit and discuss further below, however, demonstrates that Colindres Aleman was not anticipating the arrival of the churchwomen. Finally, in our experience, death threats rarely lead so directly to murder, at least without their authors leaving sufficient time for the threat to have its desired intimidating effect.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

If the authors of the death threats truly intended immediately to kill the churchwomen, there was no reason to issue the threats.

In sum, much of the evidence allegedly supporting higher involvement in the murder is, in our view, actually neutral and supports either conclusion. The remaining evidence is of dubious probative value. More importantly, however, there is substantial evidence that, we believe, points the other way.

First, there is the evidence of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's behavior during the crime itself. In this regard, the testimony of Perez Nieto, the airport guard, is crucial. As an initial matter, we regard his testimony as truthful because of the manner in which it was given: an initial deception, followed by significant revelations after failing a polygraph examination. If truthful, his testimony is inconsistent with higher orders. Were there a prearranged plan to abduct the women, it is inconceivable to us that Colindres Aleman would not have warned Perez Nieto to be on the alert for them. Not only did Perez Nieto affirmatively deny any such orders, but he also simultaneously provided a plausible and independent explanation for why the churchwomen were stopped: because he believed they were suspicious. Perez Nieto's report to Colindres Aleman of his suspicions is likewise inconsistent with higher orders. If Colindres Aleman in fact were

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

awaiting the arrival of the women, but for some reason had neglected to warn Perez Nieto of that fact, Perez Nieto's report of their arrival would likely have provoked a more forthcoming response than merely "be careful."

Second, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's statements to his colleagues after the murder are, in our view, inconsistent with higher involvement. The premise for this conclusion is that, if he had been ordered to commit the crime, Colindres Aleman would have felt secure thereafter that his actions would be protected from prosecution. His statements following the crime show no such security. On December 4, 1980, Colindres Aleman told Cruz Piche that "what's done is done" and "if fate is against us, we will have to pay,"[154] or words to that effect. On December 5, 1980, Colindres Aleman told Guardsman Luis Monterrosa "if our turn comes up, we will have to pay for it."[155] On December 7, 1980, Colindres Aleman told Corporal Giron that "they were subversive women. I don't believe there will be any problem."[156] These are not the words of a felon secure in the protection of his patrons. If he acted at the order of superiors, Colindres Aleman would, we believe, not have been so concerned about "fate," having to "pay," or whether he would have a "problem."

Third, Colindres Aleman's confession to Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez is inconsistent with the view that superiors were involved. If Colindres Aleman were ordered

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rig

to kill the women by a superior, there was simply no reason for him apprehensively to confess his guilt to his immediate supervisor, a sergeant. Or, if he had felt the need to confess, we believe it likely that he would have explained that the "problem" he had created was ordered from above. In making this analysis, like our analysis of Perez Nieto's evidence, we necessarily treat as credible Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez's testimony, and for like reasons.

Fourth, the information obtained from the special Embassy evidence is consistent with the information from Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez. According to the special Embassy information, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman confessed his guilt to Major Zepeda without implicating any higher-ups. This, again, does not seem to us to be a likely course of events if Colindres Aleman's superiors were in fact involved. More definitively, the special Embassy evidence also provided direct proof, which unfortunately we are unable to reveal without endangering lives, that Colindres Aleman has conceded acting on his own.

Fifth, the evidence of the Zepeda/Monterrosa cover-up, which we have outlined above, shows, we think, a clear attempt to cover up a crime committed by lower-ranking soldiers, and no effort that we can discern to prevent the identification of higher-ups.

Sixth, we are convinced that, in light of all the evidence, the polygraph results are worth crediting.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Subsergeant Colindres Aleman was asked directly, during his polygraph exam, whether the assault had been ordered from above. The polygraph examiner deemed his denial to be truthful. Some critics have suggested that the question was too narrowly phrased to encompass all possible higher orders. After review of the question and careful questioning of the polygrapher, we conclude this criticism is not well-founded. During the pre-examination interview, Colindres Aleman was clearly informed of the scope of the question and, as we understand it, would have indicated an emotional response to the question if there had been any such orders, even if the question were inartfully put.[157/]

Taken as a whole, we think the evidence of lack of higher involvement is persuasive and the evidence to the contrary largely, if not entirely, speculative. As we noted at the outset, the investigation of this question has not been commensurate with its importance, and all the facts are not known. We welcome the development of further information on this important issue, and would view new evidence with an open mind. Nonetheless, we believe it would be a disservice not to record here our view, based on the evidence now available, that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman acted at his own initiative.

Before we leave the subject of the involvement of others, we should note that there is some indication in the special Embassy evidence that Colindres Aleman may have had

P8401126-0437

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

communications about the churchwomen with the National Police in La Libertad at some point prior to the murders. This evidence suggested not that higher-ups in La Libertad had ordered the killings, but rather that the police in La Libertad had advised Subsergeant Colindres Aleman of some of the churchwomen's involvement in alleged "subversive" activities.

We have done what we could, with the limited resources available to us, to verify this allegation. We have found nothing to confirm it, and some evidence to refute it. In particular, the special Embassy evidence, contains an unsubstantiated suggestion that the churchwomen might have been previously arrested by the National Police. All those who worked with Ms. Donovan and Sister Kazel in the period prior to their murder, and who would have known of such an arrest, denied to us that any such event had occurred.[158/] Thus, we record some reason to doubt the allegation, but cannot consider it disproved. Nonetheless, from all the evidence known to us, if such a communication occurred, it would have been in the course of an exchange of intelligence information and would not have amounted to orders--higher or otherwise--to kill the women.

IV. FALSE LEADS

We believe that in the course of the investigations described above a coherent picture has emerged of the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

events of the night of December 2, 1980. Even so, in virtually every investigation, and particularly in a well-publicized one such as this, a substantial number of leads, tips, rumors, and apparent facts arise that must be explored, even though the vast majority turn out to be immaterial, incapable of confirmation or refutation, or simply wrong. These are the proverbial "red herrings."

The investigations of the churchwomen's murders have grown their own crop of these issues. Many questions have been resolved by the Salvadoran investigations, with the assistance of the United States Government. Others may be explained by this report. A few undoubtedly will never be explained. In order to reach the conclusions set forth in the preceding sections, we have had to analyze each such false lead as completely as possible. We discuss them below in light of the available evidence.

A. Thomas Bracken

On December 17, 1980, Thomas N. Bracken, a United States citizen, was killed in a shoot-out in the streets of San Salvador. Just one week prior, on December 11, 1980, Bracken had gone to the United States Embassy in San Salvador to offer information about the churchwomen murders. The proximity of the two events has caused some speculation as to whether Bracken's appearance at the Embassy and his subsequent murder were causally connected.

P8401Z6-0439

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

We have found no such connection. Bracken was interviewed at the Embassy prior to his death, and had no specific evidence concerning the crimes.[159] He offered the theory that the murders had been committed by a right-wing splinter group, but had no evidence to support the charge. Bracken's stated purpose in coming forward was to trade his vague rumors for dismissal of a criminal warrant outstanding against him in El Paso, Texas. It seems to us clear that his offer of information was merely the act of a desperate man trying to find a way to return to the United States.

An inventory of Bracken's quarters, after his death, revealed twenty-five molotov cocktails, wiretapping equipment, handguns, ammunition and military manuals. He had told the Embassy that he was employed as an instructor for the Salvadoran National Police. It was in this capacity that he appears to have met his death. Bracken accompanied several National Police officers who were chasing armed suspects and, in the process of attempting to make the apprehension, was shot dead by one or more of the suspects. In turn, the National Police shot and killed two of the suspects.[160] Based on these facts, we find no connection between Bracken's contact with the Embassy and his death.

B. The Canadians

A group of six Canadians together with a Salvadoran priest, Father Britto, was stopped at a military checkpoint

El Salvador: Human Rights

outside the San Salvador International Airport on December 2, 1980, between about 6:30 p.m. and 7:00 p.m.[161] Because they provided the first evidence of military activity around the airport, their testimony and their description of the guardsmen were initially thought to be significant. We conclude that their evidence is of little consequence to an understanding of the facts.

The Canadians came to El Salvador to attend the FDR funerals to be held on December 3. At the airport, they met briefly with Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan, who were awaiting the arrival of Sisters Ford and Clarke. The Canadians then left the terminal, before the arrival of Sisters Ford and Clarke, with Father Britto and the others from the Archdiocese, and an American, , to whom they offered a ride.[162]

Down the road from the airport, near a traffic control post, they were stopped by several uniformed, armed guardsmen, who briefly questioned them and searched the vehicles.[163] Because the guardsmen were in uniform, it is fairly certain that they were not Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his civilian-attired accomplices. Likewise, because the stop occurred prior to the arrival of Sisters Ford and Clarke and before Colindres Aleman's orders were issued to stop traffic at the checkpoint (except for the white van) the stop was not connected with the abduction of the churchwomen. Rather, we conclude that the stop was one undertaken by guardsmen at the traffic control checkpoint, consistent with the heightened tensions in the area on the night prior to the FDR funerals. It otherwise has no significance to this case.

C. The Hacienda Police

Father Paul Schindler, the American priest who worked with Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan in La Libertad and who found the burned out van, has alleged that the Hacienda Police may have been involved in the crime because (1) the Canadians were stopped at a roadblock near the turnoff for a local Hacienda Police station, and (2) there is evidence that a red pickup truck belonging to the Hacienda Police was used during the abduction.[164/]

The first point, we conclude, is based on a misapprehension of the facts. The guardsmen have uniformly placed the location of the checkpoint at which traffic was stopped for 10 minutes at a position on the main access road to the airport, near the reinforced concrete guard post (which is permanently maintained in the broad median strip of the access road to provide security for nearby electrical installations). This location is some distance removed from the turnoff to the Hacienda Police station at San Juan Talpa. To verify the guardsmen's testimony, we contacted Patricia Lasbury Hall, at the time of the events in question, United States Consul in El Salvador.[165/] Together with

On December 12, 1980, FBI technicians took scrapings of the paint smear.[166] These scrapings were analyzed in the FBI Laboratory, which concluded that none of the paint particles were of a kind used for the original paint finish on any motor vehicles.[167] Because Father Schindler had identified the pickup truck as a Toyota, the Maryknoll Order sent a copy of the FBI analysis to Toyota. Toyota responded specifically that the paint was not used on their vehicles.[168]

Father Schindler told us that he believes the Toyota pickup truck had been repainted, so that it is possible that a non-standard paint was used. Even if that were so, however, it is likely that particles from the underlying original coat of paint would have been present in the red smear as well. None was found.

We find the connection between the red smear and the red pickup truck to be based entirely on supposition. Moreover, it is inconsistent with testimony that we believe to be truthful from several of the participants in the abduction (Guardsman Rivera Franco and Contreras Palacios), and with the testimony of those who witnessed the activities of December 2. We have found no credible evidence that the Hacienda Police were involved in the murders.

D. Money and Valuables

In the days following the murders, several of the accused were seen with money and valuables.[169] Guardsman

RELEASED

Cruz Piche reported that another guardsman claimed that Canales Ramirez was seen with 5,000 dollars or colones.[170] The allegation, albeit second hand, is of concern because possession of such a large sum of money, in excess of any amounts conceivably taken from the churchwomen, might suggest that the guardsmen had been paid by some unknown party for participation in the murders.

To clarify the allegation, we asked that Guardsman Cruz Piche be reinterviewed on the subject. At the time of writing this report, Cruz Piche cannot be located by Salvadoran authorities. Nonetheless, based on the evidence available to us, we believe that the churchwomen's missing personal property has been satisfactorily traced to Colindres Aleman and the guardsmen, and that it probably accounts for any perceived increase in Colindres Aleman's personal wealth.

When the nuns left the airport, they had with them the personal belongings of Sisters Clarke and Ford, including clothing and books. Sister Ford was carrying some cash (originally thought to be $900, now apparently only $175)[171] and three checks, two for $1,800 each (to help buy a new jeep to replace one lost earlier that year) and one for $243 (to be used to pay local accounts).[172]

According to several witnesses, the books were burned by the accused soon after the murders, along with articles of clothing and some jewelry.[173] Several witnesses testified that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman was seen

P840176-0944

El Salvador: Human Rights

selling women's watches, rings, eyeglasses and a tape recorder, and buying a television set and furniture.[174] One of the other accused, Guardsman Contreras Palacios, gave Guardsman Sanchez Guzman eighty dollars to exchange into colones for him, and Canales Ramirez offered to sell Sanchez Guzman a woman's watch.[175] The checks were never negotiated and, according to the Embassy's special evidence, were destroyed by Colindres Aleman.

Other than the second hand accounts crediting Guardsman Canales Ramirez with 5,000 dollars or colones, there is no evidence attributing an amount of money to any of the guardsmen in excess of the cash and valuables possessed by the churchwomen. We conclude from this evidence in the record that Colindres Aleman and others of the accused looted the churchwomen's belongings after the murders, taking what they believed to be valuable and burning the rest. There is no credible evidence that Colindres Aleman, Canales Ramirez, or anyone else received payment from an unknown source for his role in the murders.

E. The Moran Letter

Perhaps no red herring has been so patently fabricated as the Moran letter. In the late spring of 1983, the Maryknoll Order received, through an anonymous source, a copy of a letter, purportedly written by Lt. Colonel Antonio Moran, the Chief of the Hacienda Police, to Colonel Vides

Casanova, the Director of the National Guard, on January 5, 1981.[176] The letter states that six individuals--not the defendants--had been detained by the police and were being referred to Vides Casanova for the murders of the churchwomen. If true, the letter would cast immediate doubt on the validity of the entire prosecution.

The letter is, however, a crude forgery, obviously created by unknown third parties--whether of the right or the left--with an interest in disrupting the prosecution. Colonel Moran has testified he never sent the letter,[177] and Vides Casanova that he never received it.[178] Moreover, the signature and seal are forgeries, according to handwriting experts appointed by Judge Rauda,[179] and the letter does not bear either the code numbers or the formal salutation that a genuine piece of Treasury Police correspondence would include.

F. _____ and Cortez

In September, 1981, an annonymous letter addressed to the United States Congress was received by the State Department.[180] The letter, dated July 21, 1981, stated that the writer was a witness to the killings of the churchwomen, and that if Congress were interested in the identity of the assassins, it should place an advertisement in several Mexican newspapers. The State Department placed the advertisement in late September, which led to a meeting between two United States Embassy officials and [181/] said that he had no direct information concerning the murders. He identified the author of the letter to Congress as one Cesar Cortez, allegedly a driver employed by Hans Crist, a suspect in the January, 1981, murders of the American Institute of Free Labor Development workers. He said that Cortez had fled El Salvador several months before, passing through Mexico City on his way to the United States. On October 6, told the Embassy in Mexico City that Cortez had written to him from Chicago, but that he still had no address for him.

On October 15, 1981, John McAward, Executive Director of the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee, reported to the State Department that he also had met in Mexico City.[182/] According to McAward, claimed that a Cesar Cortez had approached him in Mexico City and described the murders. Cortez allegedly told that he had been instructed by his employer to drive a pickup truck from "the Hacienda" with two Hacienda guards to La Libertad, where he was to pick up three guardsmen, and then proceed to the airport "to do a job"--the abduction of the churchwomen. stated that Cortez denied participation in the rapes and murders, but claimed to have seen what happened.

Thereafter, the State Department and the FBI pursued a number of false leads in attempting to trace the mysterious Cortez.[183] Finally, responding to a suggestion from Representative Mary Rose Oakar, the State Department sought to submit to a polygraph examination concerning Cortez.[184] Despite repeated requests and assurances of safety, repeatedly refused to submit to a polygraph examination.[185] With 's refusal, the effort to locate Cortez and to verify his story reached a dead end.

We are convinced that the /Cortez episode has no bearing on our understanding of the facts. Cortez' alleged story, as described by through McAward, is inconsistent with the facts outlined above. It may be that fabricated the story in an attempt to gain a visa to the United States.[186] Whatever 's motivation, Cortez' alleged story, unsupported even by the existence of Cortez and contradicted by the facts, is of no apparent validity

G. The Radio Message

In December 1980, it was reported that a witness had overheard a radio transmission at the airport between members of the security forces.[187] There is conflicting information about what was said. According to one version, a guardsman was heard stating, "we missed them on this flight."[188] According to another version, the conversation focused on the fact that the churchwomen were carrying a large amount of money.[189] Any such conversation, if true, would be significant because it could suggest that the National Guard was awaiting the arrival of the churchwomen, and thus that a prearranged plot was in effect.

Although the source of the information was fairly quickly identified, he resisted several attempts by Embassy officials to persuade him to come forward and make a formal statement. President Duarte finally prevailed upon the witness to submit to an interview, attended by Embassy officials, in mid-March 1982 by Deputy Fiscal General Benjamin Cestoni.[190] The witness said that he was in the airport terminal on December 2, 1980, awaiting an incoming flight. While there, he claimed he overheard a telephone--not radio--conversation of a uniformed guardsman speaking from a pay telephone in the lobby. He said that the gist of the conversation was "we missed them on this flight." The witness said that he then saw the arrival of two women he believed to be two churchwomen, who were greeted by two others and who departed at about 4:00-4:30 p.m. in a white van. He averred that he was sure about the time because he himself left shortly after 4:30 p.m.[191]

Although Cestoni and the Embassy officials all believed that the witness was not purposely attempting to deceive them, they unanimously concluded that his recollection was nonetheless confused and highly unreliable. Under close questioning, the witness offered varying accounts of what he had heard, at different times claiming that the communication was by radio or by telephone, and that it concerned either money in the churchwomen's possession or their delayed arrival. Indeed, at one point, in the course of three interviews with Embassy personnel, the witness stated that he had only seen a radio being used and had not heard what was said.[192] Moreover, if true, the witness's testimony means that at least Guardsman Perez Nieto and Cruz Piche are lying in giving their accounts of Perez Nieto's telephone conversation with Subsergeant Colindres Aleman. Because of all of this, we discount the report of the witness.

El Salvador: Human Rights

H. Abduction at the Airport

Father Schindler has suggested to us that the churchwomen had been abducted at the airport, not at the roadblock manned by Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his guardsmen.[193] He said he believed this had happened because witnesses to whom he spoke had said they were the last to leave the airport and the white van remained behind. He further told us that Ms. Hall had indicated to him that a secret Embassy source had confirmed that the abduction was actually at the airport. Ms. Hall denied to us making any such statement.[194] Moreover, our review of the Embassy files and our conversations with Embassy officials convinces us that no such source or information exists. Finally, the allegation is completely contrary to all the existing evidence in the case with respect to the location of the abduction.

I. The .22 Magnum

When the bodies of the churchwomen where taken to a local funeral home in San Salvador on December 4, 1980, a Maryknoll priest, Father John Spain, was present to witness the post-mortem examination.[195] Father Spain heard the funeral home attendant say that the wounds of at least one of the women were caused by a .22 magnum, allegedly a favorite weapon of the Salvadoran death squads. Father Spain observed that the wounds of Sisters Ford and Clarke were small, did not disturb their facial features and were in other respects different from those of Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan. The physician and judge present were noncommittal about the wounds, and the subsequent autopsies performed on the churchwomen drew no conclusions about the caliber of the weapons used.

We can give little weight to the opinion of the funeral home attendant. The theory that a small caliber weapon was used does not comport with the confession of Guardsman Contreras Palacios, who testified that he and the others had used their service weapons. It is likewise inconsistent with the ballistics analysis of those shells and casings that were recovered. It is, of course, possible that a guardsman may have had a .22 magnum pistol, and could have used it to kill one or more of the women. Even if such a weapon were used, however, it does not add any evidence one way or the other about the involvement of others in the murders.

J. Sister Maria Rieckelman

On the night of murders, Sister Maria Rieckelman, a Maryknoll nun who attended the Managua conference together with Sisters Ford and Clarke, was questioned by uniformed Salvadorans when her plane landed at the International Airport in El Salvador.[196] This event had led some to conclude that some coordinated harassment of churchwomen was underway on the evening of December 2, 1980. We do not share that conclusion.

Without more, the questioning of passengers aboard a plane just arrived from Sandinista Nicaragua, suppliers of the rebels fighting the Salvadoran government, on the night before the FDR funeral, does not seem to us extraordinary. Rather, like the stop of the Canadians, it seems to us simply to be further proof of the heightened tensions of the time, tensions that may have caused Colindres Aleman to believe he could abduct and murder the churchwomen.

K. Sister Maura Clarke and the Nicaraguan Connection

Sisters Maura Clarke and Ita Ford were returning from an annual gathering of Central American Maryknolls in Nicaragua at the time of their murder. During our visit to El Salvador, we heard allegations that the Catholic Church, and specifically the Maryknoll Order, are linked in the minds of the military in El Salvador with support of leftist and revolutionary causes in Central America, especially as exemplified by Maryknoll links to the Sandinista government in Nicaragua. When we learned that a former Sandinista intelligence officer, Major Miguel Bolonas, had testified to at least one subcommittee of Congress (Senator Jeremiah Denton's Subcommittee on Security and Terrorism of the Senate Judiciary Committee) that Sister Maura Clarke had a role in those alleged links, we felt obliged to interview Major Bolonas.[197] We did so not because his allegations against a murdered woman could justify such a senseless and wanton act, but to determine whether such charges were likely to have been made known to Subsergeant Colindres, Aleman or his superiors. We found our interview with Major Bolonas largely unhelpful.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

Major Bolonas claimed that he met Sister Maura Clarke when she was working in Managua with other Maryknolls and a priest known as Father Miguel in a poor area of the city called "Open Three" in the period 1974-1975. Later in 1979, Bolonas claimed, during his work as an intelligence officer both prior to the revolution in Nicaragua and thereafter for the Sandinistas, he learned from another intelligence officer that Sister Clarke and other Maryknolls, along with Father Miguel, were routinely helpful to the Sandinistas both in their charitable activities and in clandestine activities. Major Bolonas stated that at the time of the murder of the nuns in El Salvador, when news of their deaths and their identities was reported in the Nicaraguan press,

El Salvador: Human Rights

stories appeared pointing out Maura Clarke's role in assisting the Sandinista revolution.

We have not had an opportunity to discuss Major Bolonas' charges with members of the Maryknoll Order, although we have learned from the State Department that the Maryknolls believe Major Bolonas to be mistaken in his information. We have been told that Maryknoll records indicate that Sister Maura Clarke was not in Nicaragua during the period 1976-1980, but rather was in Boston. It is our view, in any event, that the truth or falsity of Major Bolonas' charges is irrelevant for our purposes. What could be relevant is whether these charges were known to and believed by the Salvadoran government, and became such a concern that Salvadoran officials, believing that they knew Sister Maura Clarke to be a Sandinista ally, ordered her execution.

We do not believe that this occurred. First, although Major Bolonas' credibility is apparently high with United States intelligence agencies, we have received no other confirmation of his charges. Second, we have no indication that these alleged activities of Sister Maura Clarke were ever brought to the attention of the Salvadoran government or that they became the kind of common knowledge among the Salvadorn security forces that Major Bolonas claimed existed within the intelligence circles of the Sandinistas in Nicaragua. Third, as described in our "Higher-Ups" section, we have concluded that Subsergeant Colindres

Aleman probably acted on his own initiative. With this in mind, it does not appear likely that he somehow became aware of these allegations and decided to carry out the removal of four churchwomen in order to protect the Republic of El Salvador from infiltration by Sister Maura Clarke.

V. PROSPECTS FOR A SUCCESSFUL PROSECUTION

El Salvador is a civil law state. Virtually every step of a criminal investigation and prosecution is specified in the Salvadoran code, and we found the procedures to be formalistic and largely inflexible.

In an effort to understand how the prosecution is likely to unfold, we held discussions with Judge Rauda, Fiscal General Rivera, Dr. Castillo, the coordinating prosecutor, and former Deputy Fiscal General Benjamin Cestoni. We talked as well with members of the private bar in San Salvador, including the Salvadoran legal advisor to the United States Embassy. Finally, we discussed this matter with representatives of the United States Department of Justice, and with lawyers in the office of the Legal Adviser of the United States Department of State.

As we learned, the trial, or plenario, stage of this case will be quite unlike an American trial. There will be no live witnesses. Rather, the evidence will be read to the jury from the written statements taken from the witnesses during the investigatory, or sumario, stage.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Thereafter, the lawyers will argue their respective sides to the jury based on the written record. During this argument stage, the lawyers may refer to any documents they wish, even if they are not part of the record.

We believe that a successful prosecution of this case must include at least the following elements:

(1) a carefully prepared record that demonstrates the guilt of the defendants and negates their defenses;

(2) a capable prosecutor willing to pursue vigorously members of the Salvadoran security forces;

(3) a courageous and astute judge;

(4) a jury well insulated from the potential for corruption or intimidation; and

(5) freedom from efforts by other Salvadorans, whether in or out of government, to interfere with the proceedings of the trial.

A. The Record

In the course of detailing the investigations of this case, we have already catalogued the principal evidence now in the record against Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and the other guardsmen. During the sumario, or investigatory, phase, Judge Rauda took testimony from the five accused and at least twenty-five other witnesses.[198/] He admitted into

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

evidence the spare tire and jack taken from the churchwomen's van and the ballistics evidence linking the guardsmen to the shell casings at the murder site. We believe that the evidence is substantial, and sufficient to convict the five accused guardsmen. We will not recount it again here.

Dr. Castillo, the chief prosecutor, advised us that he anticipates the defendants will rely on two principal defenses. First, he believes they will challenge the prosecution's reliance on extra-judicial confessions, rather than those given before a judge. In El Salvador, prosecutions that do not feature a confession by the defendant to the investigating judge are relatively rare. Although this is a sad commentary on the state of justice in El Salvador, it nonetheless presents a reality: Salvadoran juries are unused to balancing conflicting accounts of a crime.

Salvadoran law permits the admission of a defendant's extra-judicial confession, but only if it is corroborated by another witness. As we understand it, the two witness rule does not mean two witnesses to the same confession, but only two witnesses each reporting a confession. The record should adequately meet this requirement. Of course, there is Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's direct confession to Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez. That confession should be adequately supported by Colindres Aleman's implicit confessions to Guardsmen Cruz Piche ("If fate is against us, we will have to pay"), Aquino Giron ("They were subversives.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

I do not think there will be a problem."), and Luis Monterrosa ("Today it happened; if our time is up, we will have to pay.").

Second, Dr. Castillo believes the defense will argue that there was excessive American involvement in this prosecution. In essence, the argument will be an appeal to nationalism and a suggestion that there has been undue influence from a foreign power. It was for this reason that the prosecutors were anxious to have Salvadoran witnesses even for evidence actually developed in the United States. It is also for this reason that the prosecutors were hesitant to urge aggressively the admission of the fingerprint and the polygraph evidence, when admission of those tests would not be ordinary under Salvadoran law and would only underscore the influence of the United States on this prosecution. In our discussions with Dr. Castillo, he seemed to be cognizant of the problem and able to deal with it effectively in argument.

A third defense suggested by some is that the defendants were acting on higher orders. As Dr. Castillo advised us, such a defense is not available under the Salvadoran code when the order is to commit an illegal act. The depravity of the crime, amply documented in the record, will provide a basis for a strong argument that no guardsman could have thought such an order was justified. We doubt, in any event, that the argument will be seriously pressed because it will necessarily involve an admission of the crime and a disavowal of the defendants' prior sworn statements.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

No experienced prosecutor can confidently predict that an accused's defenses will necessarily be rejected by the jury. We are convinced, however, that there is sufficient evidence in the record from which the prosecutors can argue that the defenses should be disregarded.

B. The Prosecutors

As the sumario stage of the case neared its conclusion, serious questions were raised about the experience and competence of the prosecutors handling the preparations for trial. In September, 1983, in part at the urging of the United States, an experienced prosecutor, Dr. Juan Geronimo Castillo, was assigned to coordinate the prosecution.

We spoke with Dr. Castillo and were, in general, favorably impressed. Dr. Castillo seemed in command of the case and at ease with the tasks he would have to undertake to complete the preparations for the plenario phase. He responded knowledgably to our questions about tactics and about Salvadoran procedures. We believe that Dr. Castillo is capable of doing a competent job in prosecuting the case.

As we describe below, during our visit to El Salvador, we made a number of suggestions concerning the reinterviews that might be necessary to complete the investigation of this case and its preparation for trial. Although we have received reports concerning the follow-up on those suggestions by Dr. Castillo and his team, we do not have a complete picture of how thoroughly he has completed his investigation. From the reports we have seen, however, most of the investigatory work appears to be near completion.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

We understand as well that the Embassy legal advisor, a professor of law and member of the private criminal bar in San Salvador, will assist Dr. Castillo in the preparation of the case. The Embassy legal advisor has advised the United States Embassy about Salvadoran law and procedures throughout the investigation. We believe this cooperation will provide important support for Dr. Castillo's efforts.

C. The Presiding Judge

Judge Rauda has presided over the sumario phase of the churchwomen murders case for most of its life, and has been reasonably thorough about the collection of evidence. Judge Rauda has thrice referred the case to the plenario stage, to be twice overruled by the appeals court. The two reversals resulted from technical difficulties (the first, a failure to give sufficient notice to the defense attorneys and, the second, a concern about additional evidence in support of the theft charges) and in its ruling on the first appeal, the appeals court specifically indicated that there was sufficient evidence to support the murder charges. The judge took the opportunity of each reversal to add more evidence into the trial record. There has been an appeal of Judge Rauda's most recent decision to refer the matter to plenario, and we are advised by a variety of local lawyers that the appeal is likely to be decided quickly because the same appellate court has heard the two previous appeals and is familiar with the facts.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Judge Rauda has shown himself to be a man of considerable courage, capable of resisting pressures brought to bear on him from either side of the case. He is also a diligent worker, and during our visit with him, displayed an encyclopedic knowledge of the contents of the trial record.

D. The Jury

The trial will be held before a jury of five, with a majority vote necessary to convict. Whether a jury can be assembled in El Salvador today that will have the courage to convict five former National Guardsmen of murder is an open question, and one that has concerned us greatly.

The selection of the jury does not differ substantially from our system. The trial judge will chose, from a large body of potential jurors, a panel of twelve whose identities he will (or should) keep secret until the day of trial. Under Salvadoran law, we were told the identities of the jurors will then be made public, although their addresses may be kept secret (if they do not leak out). At the beginning of the trial, defense counsel and the prosecutor may each exercise one peremptory challenge against the panel, and two challenges for cause. Challenges for cause are rarely granted, and there should thus be no difficulty in selecting five jurors from the panel of twelve.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

What will be more difficult, we believe, is guaranteeing the jurors security from intimidation or corruption so that they will be able to vote their consciences without fear. We believe that the notoriety of this case will make the jury (as well as the judge and prosecutor) fair game for those who wish to see the prosecution thwarted, whether because they do not believe the guardsmen should be prosecuted for murder or because they wish to demonstrate that the Salvadoran system is incapable of policing itself. For these reasons, we have discussed at length with the Embassy possible mechanisms to protect the jury.

Our recommendations in this regard have been set forth in detail in an earlier memorandum to the Department of State, and need only be summarized here. Our principal recommendation is that the jurors be accorded anonymity, as is sometimes done with notorious prosecutions in this country where a threat of jury intimidation exists. We have also suggested shielding the jurors, but not the trial, from public view; selecting jurors from a remote province for a trial in another province; offering to relocate the jurors,

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

whether in or out of the country, after trial; providing physical protection to the jurors, and perhaps their families, during the trial and for a reasonable time thereafter; and sequestering the jury during the trial.

This is hardly an exhaustive list of possibilities, but we have not been heartened by the resistance to these ideas by the Salvadoran authorities. The Salvadoran system simply must be flexible enough to adopt novel means when its very integrity is at stake. We must state in the strongest possible terms that we do not believe a successful conviction can occur without the adoption of some adequate means of protecting the jury, and we hope that the Salvadoran authorities continue to consider ways to protect the integrity of the jury system and the physical well being of the jurors themselves.

E. Freedom From Outside Interference

Skeptics have told us that a successful prosecution depends entirely upon the will of the military in El Salvador. In this view, if the military thinks it is to its advantage for the defendants to be convicted, they will be convicted; if the military thinks otherwise, they will be acquitted or never go to trial. Whether that view is correct or not, we must acknowledge that there are many Salvadorans unhappy about this prosecution and, further, that there already have been attempts to influence its outcome.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Major Medrano, we were told, has received multiple threats upon his life for his active role in pressing the investigation. In more recent months, we have learned that a Deputy of the constituent assembly suddenly appeared to observe the proceedings in Judge Rauda's courtroom, an event viewed by Embassy observers as ominous. At the same time, we learned that the Acting President of the Supreme Court may have interceded with Judge Rauda to direct that he not complete his investigation aimed at disproving the bogus Moran letter. To date, Judge Rauda has been remarkably courageous in resisting such efforts at intimidation.

We do not believe that there is much that the United States can do to prevent such internal efforts at disrupting the prosecution. We can only advise the Salvadoran leadership, as others have done, that the ability of its system to prosecute this case will be seen by many as a test of the system's ability to right itself after too many years of lawlessness.

VI. RECOMMENDATIONS

We were asked to determine whether the Salvadoran and United States Governments have done as much as could be done to assure a successful prosecution. If not, we were asked to suggest what might be done. Many of our recommendations have been set forth above. In each case, we have passed them along to the Department of State immediately

P8401260464

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

without waiting for the completion of this report, so that there would be time for action to be taken. To the extent that our conclusions and recommendations have not already been set forth, we include them in this section.

1. An Accusador Particular. In El Salvador, as in many civil law countries, it is possible for the family of the victim of a crime to hire its own lawyer, an accusador particular, to prosecute the case in addition to the government attorney. The device is obviously a desirable one where, as here, there have been doubts regularly expressed about the competence and willingness of the government prosecutors to pursue the case. Accordingly, we have endorsed the State Department's recommendation that the families hire an accusador particular. We have urged that view in several meetings with the families and their representatives and promised the families that, if they agreed, we would press the State Department to pay for the services of the accusador.

To our regret, the families have consistently refused taking this step. As we understand their reasoning, they are distrustful of participating in the Salvadoran system itself and further doubt that a suitable attorney could be obtained. While we understand their reservations, the device provides a rare opportunity for Americans sincerely interested in the prosecution to have direct influence over the way the case is presented in the courtroom.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Thus, we regret the families' refusal to participate in this proposal.

On the other hand, as matters now stand, we think the loss is less serious than it might have been. As noted above, we are generally impressed with Dr. Castillo and believe him to be more competent than some of his predecessors. Moreover, Dr. Castillo has forged a solid working relationship with the Embassy's legal advisor. Through the legal advisor, American views about the prosecution can readily be transmitted to the prosecutor, even if the families lack a direct voice in court.

2. A Special Prosecutor. Rather than hiring an accusador particular, the families and the Lawyers Committee for International Human Rights under Law have suggested the United States persuade the Salvadoran government to name a special prosecutor to handle the churchwomen murders case. We do not endorse this suggestion. We do not believe that, in the Salvadoran system, the label the prosecutor bears is of any significance to his effectiveness or to his freedom from interference. Moreover, in a real sense, Dr. Castillo is essentially a special prosecutor. He was especially reassigned from his duties as head of a separate section of the prosecutor's office to prosecute this case.

3. An American Prosecutor. None of the American Embassy officials in San Salvador with responsibility for this case is a practicing attorney, much less an experienced

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

prosecutor. While these officials have been diligent, successful and often courageous in pushing the Salvadorans to prosecute the defendants, as the case approaches trial it is apparent to us that American views could more usefully be presented by an experienced criminal prosecutor. Such a prosecutor could deal more effectively with the Salvadoran attorneys involved in the case in terms of making useful suggestions, understanding the problems of the prosecution and analyzing the tactics used by both sides. We have therefore suggested that a Spanish speaking Justice Department prosecutor be made available to assist the Embassy during the plenario proceeding.

4. The Fingerprint Evidence. Because the analysis of Colindres Aleman's fingerprint, taken from the churchwomen's van, was done outside of Salvadoran territorial limits and not under the supervision of the trial judge, the Salvadoran code prohibits its introduction into evidence. We were frankly surprised at this result and, because the evidence was so important, sought to explore ways to obtain its admission. Our every suggestion was unavailing, and we ultimately concluded, as Dr. Castillo and the Embassy legal advisor both told us, that we could not expect to achieve formal admission of the fingerprint into the record.

Although the fingerprint will not be part of the trial record, it still may be used at the trial. During the vista publica, or public presentation, stage of the proceedings, lawyers may display to the jury and rely upon any documentary evidence, even from outside the record. Thus, it is possible for the fingerprint evidence to be used. Because Dr. Castillo expects the defense to be based upon excessive American involvement in the prosecution, he was nonetheless reluctant to use the fingerprint in this way unless absolutely necessary. An argument based upon a fingerprint taken by United States personnel and inadmissible under Salvadoran law will only reinforce the point that Dr. Castillo expects the defense to make. Thus, he, will wait until his reply argument to determine whether the defense is indeed attacking American involvement and whether the fingerprint will be useful. We concur in this analysis.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

5. Ballistics Evidence. The initial ballistics tests taken by the FBI were inadmissible for the same reasons as the fingerprint evidence. We encouraged the FBI, as recounted above, to transport its equipment to El Salvador and train a Salvadoran national to duplicate the tests. This was done with success, as set forth above. This proof is a substantial link in the chain of evidence against the accused.

6. Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez' Testimony. Although the record of the trial consists entirely of sworn written statements of the witnesses, the sworn statement of Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez, obtained by the FBI in Los Angeles and sworn to in the Salvadoran Consulate office in that city, was deemed inadmissible by both the judge and the prosecutor. The statement's flaw was that it was not sworn to before the investigating judge. We recommended, as did others, that Sergeant Martinez be flown to El Salvador at American expense so that his statement could be duplicated before Judge Rauda. This was done successfully in July, 1983, and forms another important part of the trial record.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

7. Polygraph Evidence. Although the polygraph evidence is inadmissible in both El Salvador and the United States, we believe that such evidence is useful, when taken together with other available evidence and obtained by a skilled examiner. We considered whether an effort should be made to persuade the court to admit the evidence, and ultimately concluded that this was not the case in which to press El Salvador to accept evidence that would be inadmissible in the United States.

We are told that the polygraph examinations could be used in the vista publica in the same manner as the fingerprint evidence. Dr. Castillo has told us that he will await his reply argument before making a decision with respect to whether to use them. We agree with this decision, but would generally be inclined against using this evidence.

8. The Special Embassy Evidence. The special evidence developed by the United States Embassy is directly probative of the defendants' guilt and, as well, extremely important in explaining our conclusions about the cover-up and the question of higher-up involvement. Accordingly, we believed it desirable, if at all possible, to present this evidence to the court.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

At our suggestion, the State Department carefully considered this issue, including contacting those whose lives would be put at risk by disclosure. Based on the information thus collected, both we and the State Department concluded that the risk of loss of life that would result from public release was too great. We also note that the information has already been highly useful to the United States since, without it, we doubt the prosecution would ever have been undertaken.

9. The Cover-up. As we have detailed above, it is clear to us that elements of the Salvadoran military undertook an initial attempt to protect the perpetrators of the crime. In El Salvador such an effort, at least by the active participants, could constitute a separate crime and some have urged that a criminal investigation be initiated. We believe that it would be dangerous to initiate such an investigation prior to a successful resolution of the underlying murder case. The cooperation that the United States has achieved to date with Salvadoran authorities has been hard to win, and could be easily lost. A cover-up investigation would necessarily threaten several high ranking Salvadoran officials. If these officials feel personally threatened, they may well attempt to scuttle the underlying prosecution on the theory that there could be no cover-up prosecution if the defendants were not found guilty. We believe this poses an unacceptable risk to the success of the murder prosecution, and thus have recommended that any effort to pursue the cover-up be delayed.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

10. Additional Interviews. To flush out various gaps or inconsistencies in the record, we recommended last summer that several additional interviews occur:

(a) Margarito Perez Nieto, the National Guardsman who first noticed the nuns at the airport, to obtain more detail about his conversations with Colindres Aleman, and his spotting of the women.

(b) Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, the confessed participant, about details that might reflect or discredit the fact of premeditation.

(c) Salvador Rivera Franco, the guardsman who watched over the malfunctioning jeep, for greater details that might reflect premeditation.

(d) The two guardsmen at the guardpost at El Rosario, La Paz, to determine whether they discussed the women with Subsergeant Colindres and whether he informed them about his plans for the women.

(e) Isabel Aquino Giron, Colindres Aleman's second in command at the airport, for further detail about the substance of his phone conversation late on the evening of December 2.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

(f) Jose Luis Monterrosa, who according to the special Embassy evidence, knew more than he had said about the guilt of Colindres Aleman.

In our discussions with the United States Embassy in San Salvador, and with the Department of State, we also agreed that certain other interviews or reinterviews would be appropriate: Colonel Pena Arbaiza, the Army commander in Chalatenango; Second Lieutenant Daniel Mejia Rivas, the officer who was the acting company commander with overall responsibility for the Airport National Guard detachment; and Lieutenant Colonel Oscar Armando Carranza, an officer currently assigned to National Guard Headquarters staff. We also agreed that additional guardsmen who had been on duty at the airport that night, Jose Vidal Cruz Piche, Rafael Antonio Cornejo, Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman, Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza, Adrian Ramirez Palacios, and Orantes Menjivar, should also be interviewed or reinterviewed.

We have been informed that the two guardsmen at the Guard post at El Rosario have been interviewed, but we have not seen their statements. Guardsman Margarito Perez Nieto has been missing in action for almost ten months, and Corporal Isabel Aquino Giron is dead, killed while on active duty. We also understand, for a number of practical reasons, that the Salvadoran prosecutors have determined that they would not at this time reinterview Salvador Rivera Franco.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Colonel Pena Arbaiza, Lieutenant Mejia Rivas and Lieutenant Colonel Armando Carranza have also been interviewed, as have Guardsmen Contreras Palacios and Luis Monterrosa. Their testimony adds very little to the available evidence concerning the murders. Guardsmen Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman and Jose Vidal Cruz Piche have not been reinterviewed, because they cannot be located, and a planned "confrontation" by the Fiscal General between Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza and Adrian Ramirez Palacios to resolve apparent discrepancies in their testimonies has not occurred because of a refusal by Valle Espinoza to cooperate further. Guardsman Orantes Menjivar, whose reinterview had been planned, is dead, and it has been determined that Lieutenant Antonio Cornejo, whose interview had been planned, was not on duty at the airport on the crucial night.

11. Reinterview of Colindres Aleman. Colindres Aleman, more than any other person, knows whether he is protecting higher officers by his silence. Thus, securing his cooperation would be a key step in any possible higher-up investigation. We suggested that efforts be made in that direction when we returned in September, 1983, from our trip to El Salvador. So far as we were aware at the time of our suggestion, no military or civilian authorities involved with the investigation of the case had spoken with Colindres Aleman since his polygraph examination in January, 1982. We suggested that, if Colindres Aleman heard the totality of

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

the evidence now accumulated against him, he might decide it was in his interest to cooperate.

At first, we were told that Salvadoran procedures do not encourage such reinterviews. The prosecutors agreed, however, that there could be reinterviews for the purpose of clearing up ambiguities in testimony or otherwise explaining previous testimony. On October 11, 1983, Colindres Aleman was reinterviewed and we have reviewed the English language translation of his statement. Unfortunately, we do not find in the reinterview statement the cooperativeness for which we had hoped, nor any further information that would be helpful to us on the issue of the involvement of higher-ups. In his reinterview, however, Colindres Aleman did provide a further indication of his guilt by admitting his discussion with Perez Nieto concerning the churchwomen and by providing a wholly incredible explantion of his whereabouts on the night of the murders.

12. Change of Venue. For some time, the prosecutors have been giving serious consideration to requesting a change of venue to San Salvador for the plenario stage of the trial. We have supported a change of venue. Judge Rauda's small and rustic courtroom in Zacatecoluca has struck us as a less than desirable location for a trial involving a substantial risk of jury intimidation. Moreover, the more cosmopolitan San Salvador jury pool, we have thought, presents a far better opportunity for assembling a jury that could resist such intimidation. If the trial were to be transferred to San Salvador, however, we are told that it would be unlikely, if not impossible, for Judge Rauda to preside over the trial.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

Thus, a transfer to San Salvador would necessitate a change of trial judge, which necessarily presents some risk. We were told by both Dr. Benjamin Cestoni and the Embassy's Salvadoran legal advisor that only three San Salvador judges would be desirable, from the standpoint of experience, competence and sophistication, to preside over the plenario stage. Selection of another, less qualified judge could cause problems for the prosecution, although they might be minimized by the extremely low-profile role that the judge plays in the plenario proceeding. On balance, we would have some concern that the selection of the trial judge might be politicized. The selection would be made by the Salvadoran Supreme Court, at least one member of which, we were told, has already tried to restrict Judge Rauda's investigation.

We have learned most recently that Dr. Castillo is leaning against seeking a change of venue because of a growing belief in El Salvador that the United States is interfering unduly in the internal judicial affairs of the country, a feeling that could result in sympathy for the accused as scapegoats, and thus distract the jury from issues of guilt or innocence. In view of this concern and of the conflicting factors outlined above, we are inclined to rely on

Dr. Castillo's on-the-spot resolution of this sensitive issue of local trial tactics.

13/ Medrano Report at 43, 44 (Perez Nieto Statement); and 89 (Colindres Aleman Statement).

14/ The exact time of Sister Kazel's and Ms. Donovan's return to the airport is unknown. We estimate their return to be during this period based on the statements of various witnesses at the airport and estimates of others familiar with the events of that day. See, e.g., Letter from Sister Helene O'Sullivan, M.M., to The Honorable William H. Webster, Director, FBI (July 29, 1982), wherein Sister O'Sullivan states that Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan returned to the airport at about 6:00 p.m. Perez Nieto stated that the women returned at about 5:00 p.m., with two men, in a coffee-colored car, and the van was driven by a man alone. We believe that Perez Nieto was confused by the arrival of Father Britto and his group, who arrived at the airport to meet the Canadian delegation to the FDR funerals in a jeep and a white van. See Medrano Report at 44 (Perez Nieto Statement) and Statement of John C. Hilborn (January 14, 1981).

15/ Bowdler/Rogers Report.

16/ Medrano Report at 38 (Giron Statement). Neither Perez Nieto nor Colindres Aleman have admitted to a second telephone call. In fact, Perez Nieto denied seeing the women return to the airport, see Medrano Report at 44. However, Colindres Aleman's second in command, Aquino Giron, swore that Colindres Aleman received a call from Perez Nieto at about 5:30 p.m. (his subsequent court testimony put the time at between 4:30 p.m. and 5:00 p.m., see Appellate Court Decision at 16) concerning suspicious women in the airport. This suggests that there may have been a second call. If Giron was confused as to the times, of course, there may have been only one call, but we do not regard the number of calls from Perez Nieto to be of critical importance.

17/ Medrano Report at 43, 44 (Perez Nieto Statement). Perez Nieto returned to the barracks at some point prior to or at the end of his scheduled duty (7:00 p.m.). In his recent statement, Colindres Aleman admitted that Perez Nieto returned to the barracks about 6:00 p.m. and discussed the earlier departure of Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan. While acknowledging this conversation, he again denied his guilt.

24/ Id. at 70 (Contreras Palacios Statement), and 75 (Rivera Franco Statement). Retired Guardsman Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza, in his testimony of August [illegible], 1982 (see Cable from United States Embassy, San Salvador, to Secretary of State, Washington, D.C. (September 22, 1982)), stated that he was part of another checkpoint between the traffic control post (which probably was the Cornejo Cubas/Luis Monterrosa/Cruz Piche checkpoint) and Colindres Aleman's position. He testified that several guardsmen boarded the churchwomen's van at the traffic control post, and then drove to his location, where he and two more guardsmen boarded the van. He said that the van proceeded to Colindres Aleman's site, where he (Valle Espinoza) and the other guardsmen in the van left the churchwomen and returned to the airport on foot. Although this testimony is consistent with the churchwomen's abduction by Colindres Aleman, its description of the mechanics of the kidnapping is contradicted by statements of the guardsmen at the checkpoint, and by the two guardsmen with Colindres Aleman who have admitted their roles in the abduction and murders. We thus reject this testimony as, whatever Valle Espinoza's motivations, inaccurate.

143/ Second Contreras Palacios Statement. We are also aware of a statement from an anonymous political prisoner who claims to have been imprisoned with Colindres Aleman between April 7 and 29, 1982. He said that Colindres Aleman had followed the movements of the churchwomen from the time they left El Salvador, and that Colonel Vides Casanova gave instructions concerning the capture of the churchwomen. We have no means of evaluating the veracity of this statement. It was taken by the Maryknoll Order from a Salvadoran who is a political refugee in Mexico, and whose identity was kept secret from us. According to Michael Posner from the Lawyers' Committee on International Human Rights, it is difficult to judge the veracity of such statements. Given this, the source's apparent bias, and the absence of supporting evidence, we cannot accept this hearsay statement as probative.

THE CHURCHWOMEN MURDERS:
A REPORT TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE

INTRODUCTION

In the early days of December, 1980, four American churchwomen, Ita Ford, Maura Clarke, Dorothy Kazel and Jean Donovan, disappeared and were later found murdered in the Central American Republic of El Salvador. Occurring at a time of increasing concern about the growing violence in that country, the killings and the resulting criminal investigations have provoked intense interest, frequent frustration and occasional dismay in the United States as the citizens of this country have observed the workings of the Salvadoran justice system as it first investigated, and eventually sought to prosecute, those responsible for the killings.

From the outset, the handling of the case by Salvadoran authorities has been caught up in Congressional deliberations about the larger questions of American military, diplomatic and economic involvement with the Republic of El Salvador. But many of the questions, in Congress and out, focused on this case: Have the true killers been identified? Were higher-ups involved? Was there an attempt to cover-up the crime or conceal the murderers? Do the Salvadoran authorities have the will and the capacity to handle the prosecution of this and similar crimes of violence involving members of the security forces?

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

By the spring of 1983, five National Guardsmen had been accused of the crime, but their detention for over two years did not make the prospect of a speedy trial seem propitious. Increasingly, members of Congress, the families of the murdered churchwomen and other citizens asked with legitimate concern whether the Salvadoran government was serious about prosecuting the responsible parties and whether the United States was doing as much as it could to encourage the prosecution.

On April 26, 1983, the Secretary of State reported to the Chairman of the Foreign Operations Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee that he had directed an "independent and high-level review of all the evidence available to the United States government pertaining to the churchwomen's case."[1] By a letter dated May 23, 1983, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs James H. Michel, on behalf of the Department of State, requested that I conduct this review.[2] Mr. Michel, and thereafter, the Deputy Secretary of State, Kenneth Dam, pledged the full cooperation of all concerned Federal agencies.

Together with my colleagues, Togo D. West, Jr. and Gregory L. Diskant, I have reviewed the evidence. In the process, we have received the cooperation that was pledged to us. Since May, we have had access to pertinent State Department files, both classified and unclassified, including the numerous cables that had been transmitted between the State Department and the United States Embassy in San Salvador on this matter. We have had similar access to the classified and unclassified files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and of other pertinent agencies as well. No documents necessary to our inquiry have been withheld from us.

We have talked extensively with present and former government officials of both countries who have been involved in the various investigations of this unfortunate tragedy: The State Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation have been especially helpful in bringing their personnel from locations far removed from the cities of Washington, D.C. and New York, our principal bases of operations, for whatever interviews we have deemed necessary. Our discussions have included interviews with personnel presently assigned to the United States Embassy in San Salvador and with those who were assigned to that Embassy during the time of the earlier investigations into the murders. We have consulted with Salvadoran prosecutors, with Salvadoran attorneys in and out of government, and with representatives of the Catholic Church in both this country and El Salvador.

For obvious reasons, we have sought to maintain a particularly close liaison with the representatives of the families of the victims. Our conversations with those representatives, the Lawyers' Committee for International Human Rights Under Law, and with members of the Maryknoll Order, have been characterized by candor and cooperativeness on the part of those who met with us. These groups have made their files available to us and have patiently assisted us in our efforts to determine how we could increase the likelihood that the perpetrators of these crimes will be brought to justice.

Our mission has had both sobering and heartening aspects. To an extent that is impossible to detail in this report, the criminal justice system in El Salvador is in a state of disrepair.[3/] A handful of inexperienced, under-educated, and occasionally corrupt prosecutors represent a society that seems to have lost its will to bring to justice those who commit serious crimes against it. Intimidation and corruption of prosecutors, judges and juries are widespread, and a rigid legal system renders successful prosecutions all the more difficult. The military exerts a pervasive influence over the nation and, as will be documented herein, has sought to shield from justice even those who commit the most atrocious crimes.

There are some bright spots. Some Salvadorans, most notably Judge Bernardo Rauda Murcia and Lieutenant

RELEASED

Colonel Jose Adolfo Medrano, have exhibited the courage, independence and fortitude to pursue an unpopular investigation of the crime in a country where the price for such vigilance is all too often sudden and brutal death. Representatives of United States Government agencies, particularly the Department of State and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, have been vigorous and effective in pressing the Salvadorans to investigate and prosecute this crime and, when the prosecution was finally underway, in rendering critical investigative and technical assistance. At least one United States Government officer has repeatedly exposed himself to great personal danger to obtain evidence crucial to the investigation. We believe the American public, and the families, can ask no more than that from their representatives.

SUMMARY

Five former members of the El Salvador National Guard are now in custody and charged with the murder of the four churchwomen: Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Daniel Canales Ramirez and Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura. Perhaps our most important conclusion is that these men in fact committed the crime and that the evidence of their guilt is overwhelming. Not all of the evidence is admissible in the Salvadoran courts, but that which is

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

remains compelling. The admissible evidence consists of partially incriminating statements by the defendants themselves, including one complete confession; statements by their former colleagues in the National Guard, including those who participated in the abduction of the women and those to whom the defendants made incriminating statements following the crime; statements of other third-party witnesses; and technical evidence developed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the form of ballistics tests linking two of the defendants' weapons to the crime.

The inadmissible evidence renders the guilt of the defendants even more clear. This consists of polygraph examinations that the defendants failed, a fingerprint of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman found on the van in which the churchwomen were traveling, and highly confidential information collected by the United States Embassy through the efforts of an Embassy official at great personal risk. The reliability of this information has been proved certain, but we are convinced that lives would be endangered by public revelation of this evidence or its sources. (We shall refer to this information in our report as "special Embassy evidence.") With respect to each category of inadmissible evidence, we have explored whether in some manner it could be introduced as part of the prosecution case. In each instance, although with varying degrees of certainty, we have concluded that the evidence cannot be used.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

The evidence taken as a whole shows irrefutably that the five defendants, following the orders of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman, kidnapped the women at a checkpoint outside the El Salvador Airport on December 2, 1980. They rode through the countryside to a remote location some fifteen miles from the airport, where they raped and murdered the women. Thereafter, the National Guardsmen drove the church-women's van to another remote location and set it afire.

The first reaction of the Salvadoran authorities to the murder was, tragically, to conceal the perpetrators from justice. Evidence available to the United States, including the special Embassy evidence, shows beyond question that Colindres Aleman confessed his involvement in the crime to ranking members of the National Guard within days of the murder. They responded by concealing this fact from the outside world, and ordering the transfer of the killers from their airport posts and the switching of their weapons to make detection more difficult.

At a minimum, then Major Lizandro Zepeda Velasco, the National Guard officer in charge of the Guard's internal investigation, was aware of the identity of the killers and participated in these acts. Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez, Colindres Aleman's immediate superior, has admitted that he also knew of Colindres Aleman's guilt. We believe it is probable that Colonel Roberto Monterrosa, head of the government's official investigation of the crime, was aware of the identity of the killers and, further, that he participated in the cover-up by purposely failing to provide Colindres Aleman's fingerprints to the United States for analysis. We believe as well that it is quite possible that Colonel Carlos Eugenio Vides Casanova, then head of the National Guard and now a General and Minister of Defense, was aware of, and for a time acquiesced in, the cover-up.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

The cover-up was shattered in April, 1981, when officials of the United States Embassy identified the killers through their own investigation. This effort, although significantly assisted by ballistics and fingerprint work performed by the FBI, came principally by the development of the special Embassy evidence by an Embassy officer. The special Embassy evidence first provided identification of the perpetrators to the United States. When the Embassy learned the defendants' names, it pressed Salvadoran authorities to arrest them. At that point, Colonel Vides Casanova, the Director of the Salvadoran National Guard, ordered the arrest of the men.

Thereafter, Salvadoran prosecution efforts continued to stall, although the men were at least incarcerated. Finally, in December, 1981, a year after the killings and again responding to United States pressure, the Salvadoran government undertook a serious investigation of the crime. National Guard Major (now Lieutenant Colonel) Adolfo Medrano led a group of detectives from the Salvadoran

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

National Police and others in the first concentrated gathering of evidence by the Salvadoran authorities. With technical assistance from the FBI, the Medrano working group collected statements of witnesses tying the defendants to the crime, including reports of extrajudicial confessions by Colindres Aleman. This evidence supported the discharge of the accused guardsmen from the National Guard in February, 1982, so that they could be tried in the civilian courts and their remand to the custody of the civilian trial judge. The evidence gathered by the Medrano working group remains the principal evidence against the accused.

The technical support provided the Salvadoran authorities by the FBI has been simply outstanding. Fingerprint and ballistics tests by Bureau personnel provided initial corroboration of the special Embassy evidence and directly linked the defendants to the crime. Beyond technical expertise, however, Bureau agents in the United States thoroughly interviewed relevant witnesses and obtained significant information. By the artful use of the polygraph as an investigative tool, the Bureau obtained a statement from Colindres Aleman's former superior reporting a critical confession by Colindres. The FBI sent polygraph examiners to El Salvador, who interviewed the defendants and other witnesses and, again by using the test as an investigative tool, produced important incriminatory statements.

The question whether Colindres Aleman was ordered to commit this crime by higher-ups is a troubling one. To the extent the Salvadoran authorities have investigated this matter, their inquiry is not nearly as complete as we would have liked. There is some evidence suggesting the involvement of higher-ups: most importantly, two low ranking guardsmen have testified that, in ordering them to participate, Colindres Aleman told them he was acting on higher orders.

On the other hand, there is evidence to the contrary, which we tend to credit. As we set forth in detail below, the circumstances of the crime itself and Colindres Aleman's behavior during its commission are, in our view, inconsistent with an assault on the churchwomen ordered from above. Post-murder statements by Colindres Aleman to his colleagues and his superior, along with the special Embassy evidence, provide what we believe to be additional compelling evidence of lack of higher involvement. Although it is unlikely that a dispositive answer will ever be known, we record here our best judgment: on the basis of the evidence available to us, we believe that Colindres Aleman acted on his own initiative.

Although the evidence of the defendants' guilt is, in our view, substantial, we cannot be certain that the case will be successfully prosecuted. In October, 1983, the case was finally elevated to the plenario, essentially the trial stage, after over a year and a half in the sumario or investigative stage. This means that, at best, we can expect a trial by the spring of 1984. The newly-assigned senior prosecutor is a veteran attorney and, based on our discussions with him, appears competent to present the prosecution's case.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

Nonetheless, the prosecutor must convince a majority of a jury of five, and in El Salvador juries have, understandably, been routinely subject to intimidation. Moreover, we are told that corruption of both juries and judges is an everyday event. Finally, if the system were not already weak enough, we are under the impression that this case is a relatively rare effort to prosecute members of the Salvadoran military in the civilian courts for crimes committed on duty. For these reasons, we view the likelihood of a conviction of the defendants by a jury of Salvadoran citizens to depend substantially on whether the jurors can be assured that they can vote their consciences without fear.

Under current Salvadoran procedures, the jurors must be publicly identified and hear the evidence in public. These procedures are, of course, desirable in a stable society, but hardly leave a jury with any sense of security in the Salvadoran system. We have pressed the Salvadoran authorities to undertake a variety of novel means to protect the jury or guarantee their anonymity. Unfortunately, for whatever reasons, the authorities have not yet looked with favor upon the introduction of unprecedented methods into their system of jury selection and protection. Thus, we must reluctantly close on a discouraging note: unless the jury can be safeguarded, we would be foolhardy to predict the conviction of these defendants.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

I. THE MURDERS

As in any criminal prosecution, the facts of the crime are disputed, at least by the defendants. Although one of the defendants has confessed, the remaining accused killers maintain their innocence and present a joint alibi. In analyzing the facts of the crime, we have weighed all of the information available to us, whether or not admissible under the Salvadoran system and whether or not public. We have rejected the alibis of the non-confessing defendants as self-serving fabrications. We set forth below what we believe actually happened, resolving differences in the testimony by giving greater weight to the witnesses whose reliability we believe to have been proven. Significant differences between the facts stated herein and the testimony of other witnesses are indicated in the footnotes.

In the fall of 1980, El Salvador was suffering through a period of severe political volatility. Increasing violence by both right-wing and left-wing groups had heightened tensions. Terrorist acts were being committed against government officials, ministry buildings, foreign embassies, universities, churches and factories with growing regularity. Thousands of Salvadorans had been murdered as part of a vicious reign of terror, the majority allegedly by rightist elements.[4/]

On November 27, 1980, yet another outbreak of political killing occurred. Six leaders of the Salvadoran opposition, the Democratic Revolutionary Front (FDR), were tortured and murdered after their abduction from a school in San Salvador by a band of several hundred men. The bodies of the slain leaders lay in state at the Cathedral in San Salvador for several days, and their funeral was to be held on December 3, 1980.[5/] Their supporters urged a large turnout for the funeral, and many in the Salvadoran government and military feared an outburst of public violence, possibly as great as that experienced during the funeral of Archbishop Oscar Arnuldo Romero in March, 1980. The country was gripped by palpable tension and fear.

On November 26, 1980, the day before the FDR assassinations, Sisters Ita Ford and Maura Clarke of the Maryknoll Order had traveled from their station at Chalatenango, El Salvador, to an annual gathering of Central American Maryknolls in Managua, Nicaragua.[6/] Upon their return to El Salvador on December 2, 1980, the day before the FDR funerals, they, along with two other Maryknoll nuns (Sisters Madeline Dorsey and Teresa Alexander), were to be met at the airport by Sister Dorothy Kazel, an Ursuline nun, and Ms. Jean Donovan, a lay volunteer.[7] Sisters Ford and Clarke, returning to El Salvador from Nicaragua in the midst of unprecedented tension throughout El Salvador, never reached their destination; nor did their escorts, Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan.

From the available evidence, events unfolded on that tragic December 2 as follows. Some time after midday, Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan drove to the International Airport to meet the four Maryknoll nuns in a white Toyota "Hiace" van.[8] They parked in the parking lot in front of the main passenger terminal at about 2:00 p.m.[9] Their arrival was noticed by a Salvadoran National Guardsman patrolling in front of the terminal, Margarito Perez Nieto.[10] His attention, he later stated, was attracted by the fact that one of the churchwomen had returned to the vehicle to retrieve a large bag capable of carrying a weapon, and by their apparently watchful attitude toward him. Perez Nieto mentally recorded their arrival and returned to his patrol.

Inside the terminal, the Lanica flight that Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan were to meet arrived at 2:30 p.m., carrying only two of the four nuns expected, Sisters Madeline Dorsey and Teresa Alexander.[11] Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan determined that they would drive the two nuns to La Libertad and return later to meet the remaining two Maryknoll nuns.[12] Guardsman Perez Nieto observed their departure in the white

Special Project (1993)

Toyota van at about 3:15 p.m. He telephoned his detachment commander at the airport, Subsergeant Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman, to report that he suspected the women of having weapons in their travel bags. Colindres Aleman told Perez Nieto to be careful.[13]

Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan returned to the airport to meet Sisters Ford and Clarke, the remaining two Maryknoll nuns, sometime between 4:30 and 6:00 p.m.[14] Sisters Ford and Clarke arrived on a COPA (Campania Panamena de Aviacion, the Panamanian Airlines) flight at about 6:30 p.m.,[15] and were met by Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan. At some point, the churchwomen were again observed by Guardsman Perez Nieto, who apparently notified Subsergeant Colindres Aleman again of their activities.[16] Perez Nieto's tour of duty ended at 7:00 p.m. and at that time (or earlier) he returned to the National Guard barracks. He reported his observations in greater detail to Colindres Aleman.[17]

At this point, we believe, Colindres Aleman decided that he would stop the churchwomen. Although there is no evidence that he knew their identities, he apparently believed, based on his guard's observations, that they were "subversives. Although in our system these observations would usually not be enough even to justify an airport stop for questioning, in El Salvador in 1980, particularly on the eve of the burial of the FDR leaders, these grounds for suspicion were more than adequate. If Colindres Aleman could obtain

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

evidence that the women were carrying weapons, or even "subversive" literature, his status in the Guard would be enhanced.

There is no reason to believe that Colindres Aleman necessarily had murder on his mind from the outset. At a minimum, however, he knew he was up to no good. He ordered five guardsmen, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Daniel Canales Ramirez, Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura, and Salvador Rivera Franco, to change out of their uniforms into civilian clothes. He instructed the five men to accompany him with their service rifles and ammunition.[18] Shortly after 7:00 p.m., Colindres Aleman, the five guardsmen in civilian attire and Perez Nieto, in uniform, drove in a National Guard jeep to the traffic checkpoint near the airport entrance.[19]

At the checkpoint, Colindres Aleman instructed Perez Nieto to stop all traffic at the checkpoint for approximately ten minutes, but to allow the "white van" carrying the churchwomen to pass without hinderance.[20] Colindres Aleman left Perez Nieto at the checkpoint, along with the uniformed guardsmen already on duty there, Luis Napoleon Cornejo Cubas, Jose Vidal Cruz Piche, and Jose Luis Monterrosa.[21] After rounding a bend in the airport access road, and nearing the first toll station for the as yet unfinished highway between San Salvador and the airport,

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Colindres Aleman and the five guardsmen, all in civilian clothes, took up positions on the road and awaited the arrival of the white van.[22]

Meanwhile, at the airport, the four churchwomen retrieved the luggage of Sisters Ford and Clarke and left the terminal in their white van. At the airport traffic checkpoint, Guardsman Perez Nieto, following instructions, allowed the van to pass through. He detained all other traffic for about ten minutes,[23] and then returned to the National Guard headquarters.

Passing the checkpoint, the churchwomen arrived at Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's position. They were stopped and ordered to vacate the van.[24] The guardsmen searched the van and questioned the women. Thereupon, Colindres Aleman ordered them back into the van together with Guardsmen Contreras Recinos, Canales Ramirez and Moreno Canjura.[25] Contreras Recinos drove the van and, with Colindres Aleman and Guardsmen Contreras Palacios and Rivera Franco following in the National Guard jeep,[26] the small convoy started its journey fifteen miles into the hills of El Salvador.

Shortly thereafter the jeep developed engine trouble. After a brief stop for temporary repair, the two vehicles made it to the National Guard command post at the town of El Rosario La Paz.[27] There, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman telephoned the airport and instructed his second in command, Corporal Isabel Aquino Giron, to send another vehicle to El Rosario to retrieve them.[28] The jeep was then left at the Guard post, with Guardsman Rivera Franco to guard it.[29]

The five other guardsmen crowded into the small van with the four churchwomen and proceeded in the direction of Zacatecoluca. At the intersection of the road to San Pedro Nonualco, the van left the main road and drove for another six kilometers, finally turning off onto a dirt lane.[30] At a deserted site along the lane, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman directed Guardsman Contreras Recinos to bring the van to a halt, and ordered the women out of the van.[31] The guardsmen sexually assaulted the women. Then, at Colindres Aleman's orders, they shot the women dead with their service rifles, leaving the bodies along the roadside as they fell.[32] The guardsmen, upon completion of their grisly mission, then returned to El Rosario La Paz in the van.

In the interim, Corporal Giron had sought from the commander of the Customs Police at the airport, Juan de Dios Barrera Rivera, a vehicle with which to pick up Colindres Aleman and his men.[33] Barrera Rivera assigned Victor Melgar Garay to drive a blue Customs Police pick-up truck[34] to El Rosario La Paz, where, accompanied by Guardsman Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza, Melgar Garay found Guardsman Rivera Franco guarding the disabled jeep.[35] The three were waiting when Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and the other guardsmen returned without the women at approximately 11:00 -- [36]

Climbing into the cab of the truck, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman instructed Melgar Garay to drive back onto the highway in the direction of La Libertad.[37] Followed by the white Toyota Hiace van, the truck proceeded along the coast road until ordered by Colindres Aleman to stop.[38] After the guardsmen had removed several items from the van to the blue Customs pick-up truck,[39] Guardsman Contreras Recinos opened the middle door of the van and, with the help of Contreras Palacios and Moreno Canjura, poured aviation fuel on the inside and outside of the van and set it afire.[40]

Near midnight, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his men returned to the airport in the blue pick-up truck.[41] Upon his return, Colindres Aleman took the van's spare tire and jack, and several articles of women's clothing to the barracks.[42] Later, several of the guardsmen, with Colindres Aleman, burned this clothing and certain other articles taken from the churchwomen.[43] On December 3, Colindres Aleman took the spare tire and jack to a nearby farm camp and left them there with a friend for safekeeping.[44]

Early in the morning of December 3, 1980, villagers from Santiago Nonualco, a remote village fifteen miles northeast of the airport, found the bodies of the four churchwomen sprawled along the roadside.[45] One of the villagers contacted the local Militia Commander, Jose Dolores Melendez, to report the discovery.[46] Shortly thereafter, two National Guardsmen and three Civil Guardsmen arrived at the scene, and ordered the preparation of a common grave.[47] The local Justice of the Peace, Juan Santos Ceron, was summoned by the Militia Commander, and authorized the immediate burial of the women as "unknowns," an unfortunate practice that had become common in El Salvador.

RELEASED

When Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan failed to return to La Libertad, Father Paul Schindler, an American priest working in La Libertad, contacted the United States Consul in San Salvador, Patricia Lasbury (now Patricia Lasbury Hall), on December 3.[49] Ms. Lasbury then informed the Chief of National Police of the women's disappearance. Salvadoran Defense Minister Garcia was also notified.[50] A nationwide search was promised.

In an attempt to locate the women himself, Father Schindler set out to search along the coastal road leading from La Libertad to the airport. On the evening of December 3, he found the burned-out shell of the churchwomen's van where it had been abandoned along the coastal road.[51] Its license plates were missing, and the van could be identified only by the serial numbers on the engine block.[52]

Meanwhile, word began to circulate in the community that four female Caucasian "unknowns" had been found dead and buried in Santiago Nonualco. A local parish priest heard the news and informed the Vicar of the San Vicente diocese. In turn, the Vicar notified the United States Embassy that the bodies of the American churchwomen had been

Upon learning the news, United States Ambassador Robert White went immediately to the murder site, where he found Father Schindler, who also had been notified by the parish priest of the discovery of the bodies.[54] The Secretary of the Justice of the Peace arrived and gave permission for the removal of the bodies from the grave.[55] All four women had been shot in the head; the face of one had been destroyed.[56] The underwear of three of the women was found separately, along with bloody bandanas.[57] Brief medical examinations were performed that day, but no autopsies Sisters Ford and Clarke were buried in Chalatenango; Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan, in the United States.[59]

II. THE INVESTIGATIONS

Despite the numbing regularity with which innocents in El Salvador have been subjected to crimes of violence, the rape and murder of the four American churchwomen provoked immediate international outrage. The Salvadoran government responded by publicly promising a full investigation, and the United States pledged its complete assistance. The actions of the United States and its representatives to investigate the crime and to bring the perpetrators to justice have been remarkable. Quite simply, we believe that the killers would never have been identified and the evidence of their guilt never properly assembled had it not been for the efforts, often courageous, of United States personnel.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

The efforts of Salvadoran officials, on the other hand, have been mixed. Despite the public promise of a full and complete investigation, the actual initial Salvadoran government response appears to have been to do everything possible to conceal the perpetrators of the crime. The identities of the killers were known to officials of the Salvadoran National Guard within days of the murders. Nonetheless, the official response to this information ranged from indifference to active cover-up. It was only after a year had passed, and the killers had been identified by the United States, that a competent group of Salvadoran officials undertook a thorough investigation of the crime and assembled the evidence that forms the basis for the prosecutions. The men who performed that task, led by Major Medrano, and the judge who inherited the case and completed the investigation, Judge Bernardo Murcia Rauda, performed difficult work under the most dangerous of circumstances. They deserve the praise and gratitude of all those who have sought to see justice done in this case.

A. The Zepeda and Monterrosa Investigations

Within days of the murders, Salvadoran authorities commissioned two investigations, one public and one private, both with apparently the same objective: to create a written record absolving the Salvadoran security forces of responsibility for the murders. The public investigation was in the form of a commission headed by Colonel Roberto Monterrosa, then director of the Armed Forces Studies Center and later commander of the Salvadoran Navy. The private investigation, commissioned by the National Guard itself, was headed by Major Lizandro Zepeda Velasco. In his interview with us, Colonel Monterrosa was surprisingly candid about his purpose. He stated that his investigatory commission had flatly rejected the possibility that security forces were involved in the murder, not because of the absence of evidence, but because their involvement, if proved, would cause serious consequences for the armed forces "from a political point of view."60/

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

The failure of either Zepeda or the Monterrosa Commission to pursue a serious investigation is obvious, for the evidence of the defendants' culpability was readily available for gathering. As we will note below, the murderers made no attempt whatever to conceal their culpability from other National Guardsmen. Not only had several guardsmen witnessed the churchwomen's abduction, but the defendants repeatedly conceded their guilt to their colleagues following the killing. For instance, at a meeting called by Colonel Vides Casanova within days of the murders to ask whether any National Guardsmen were responsible, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman approached his immediate supervisor, Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez and reported that, "the problem regarding the nuns is me." Martinez advised Colindres Aleman to be silent

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

about the crime, but to admit his role if questioned by a National Guard officer.[61]

The National Guard officer assigned in December, 1980 to investigate the crime was Major Zepeda.[62] Zepeda interviewed Colindres Aleman, as well as other guardsmen on duty at the airport on the night of December 2.[63] Although all the witnesses whom Zepeda purportedly interviewed had at least partial knowledge of the facts of the crime--knowledge that they later confessed to Major Medrano--Zepeda blithely reported that no one remembered anything out of the ordinary about that evening. His perfunctory written report, turned over to the United States many months later, concludes "[i]t is not proven in this report that elements of the National Guard had any participation in the death of the four North American religious [sic]."[64]

In fact, the written Zepeda report was a sham. Indeed, it made so little an impression on Major Zepeda himself that, when we interviewed him in September, 1983, he insisted that his reporting had been oral only.[65] He persisted in this position even when we told him that we had seen copies of written reports. Zepeda may have remembered only an oral report because it was undoubtedly only orally that he would have communicated his true findings: that National Guardsmen led by Colindres Aleman had committed the murders.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Information derived by the United States Embassy from the special Embassy evidence shows unequivocably that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman followed precisely Sergeant Martinez' recommendation. When Major Zepeda questioned Colindres Aleman in the days following the crime, he confessed his role in the murders to the National Guard investigating officer.

Major Zepeda did not betray Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's trust. Rather, he undertook a course of action in the winter and spring of 1981 to protect Colindres Aleman and the other killers. Of course, he issued a written report absolving the guardsmen of blame. Moreover, according to the special Embassy evidence, Major Zepeda caused the murderers to be transferred away from their airport post, thus making it more difficult for outsiders to determine who had been in a position to undertake the killings or to interview military witnesses at the airport. Knowing that the FBI had performed ballistics tests on shells and casings associated with the crime, Major Zepeda also, according to the special Embassy evidence, ordered the killers to switch their rifles with others so as to make detection more difficult. (This effort did not ultimately prevent linking the murder weapons with the defendants. Major Zepeda either failed to, or could not, alter the Salvadoran military's written records identifying which rifles were assigned to the defendants.)

Although we have no direct proof, we think it is quite possible that Major Zepeda informed his superior, then Colonel Vides Casanova, of his activities. Vides Casanova appointed Zepeda, and Zepeda reported directly to him. It seems unlikely that a mid-level officer like Zepeda would have undertaken the obstructive actions he did without approval or encouragement from someone higher. Moreover, when we interviewed now General Vides Casanova, we found him evasive; he professed a disturbing lack of knowledge of Zepeda's investigation, despite evidence that he was aware of and received reports concerning Zepeda's efforts throughout the investigation.[66] In his answers to us, General Vides Casanova attempted to distance himself as completely as possible from all investigations of the crime.

We believe it probable that Major Zepeda informed Colonel Monterrosa of his findings. Indeed, in his discussion with us, Colonel Monterrosa asserted that he was responsible for Zepeda's appointment as investigating officer. Certainly the activity undertaken by the Monterrosa Commission--or, more accurately, its inactivity--suggests the absence of any serious interest in identifying the killers. Nonetheless, for the first few weeks of its existence, the commission managed to suggest to the outside world that it was undertaking a serious mission.

The commission's appointment was announced on December 8, 1980.[67] On that day the members of the

RELEASED

Special Project (1993)

commission received United States Ambassador Robert White and a team of distinguished Americans sent by President Carter to investigate the crime.[68] The commissioners purported to welcome investigative assistance from the United States, including technical expertise and assistance in planning the investigation. The Ambassador willingly agreed. A team of FBI technicians flew to El Salvador and gathered various evidence for laboratory analysis, including fingerprints and debris taken from the white van, and items of clothing found at the gravesite.[69]

Over the next few days the commission requested that autopsies be performed on the two churchwomen buried in the United States;[70] it visited the murder site and questioned residents of the area;[71] it took a statement from a Salvadoran priest, Father Britto,[72] who had been stopped at a military checkpoint near the airport on the evening of December 2, 1980; and it requested the assistance of the United States in locating six Canadians who had also been stopped at that checkpoint with Father Britto.[73]

Despite its initial show of activity, the Monterrosa Commission soon slowed its pace. On December 20, 1980, the commission adjourned for the traditional three-week Christmas recess,[74] and when the commission eventually resumed its "investigation" in January, 1981, its efforts were unimpressive. Consistent with Colonel Monterrosa's statement to us that the commission had no serious interest in connecting security forces with the crime, the commission obtained and relied upon false exculpatory statements from guardsmen on duty substantially identical to those collected by Major Zepeda.[75]

Although the United States was, as requested, providing investigative assistance, that assistance was largely ignored. United States suggestions that the most elementary investigative steps be taken were greeted with distrust or disinterest. Thus, the United States repeatedly requested, to no avail, that guardsmen at the checkpoint and the burial site be fingerprinted; that airport guardsmen be vigorously questioned about the events of December 2; that the weapons of guardsmen at the airport be confiscated for testing; and the like.[76] When pressed to explain his reason for failing to fingerprint the potential suspects, Colonel Monterrosa lamely explained, "one must understand the political situation in El Salvador."[77] He later claimed that the commission did not have the authority to fingerprint the men in question.[78]

Thereafter, in February, 1981, Colonel Monterrosa began the first of his many efforts to conclude the commission's activities.[79] One might be tempted to conclude that the Monterrosa Commission's failure to uncover useful information was the result of mere indifference or fear. We conclude that it is more probable that Major Zepeda informed Colonel Monterrosa of Colindres Aleman's guilt and that

Colonel Monterrosa purposely chose to conceal the truth. According to Monterrosa himself in his discussion with us, Zepeda reported everything he knew to him.

More telling than the lines of authority, however, was an event that occurred on February 26, 1981. On that date, after much prodding from the United States, Colonel Monterrosa delivered to an Embassy official fingerprints and palm prints of three of the four guardsmen from whom the commission had taken written statements: Jose Luis Monterrosa Luis Napoleon Cornejo Cubas, and Vidal Cruz Piche, all guardsmen stationed at the airport checkpoint on the day of the murders.[80] Of course, since none of these men was involved in the murders, their fingerprints were essentially meaningless. The significant event of that day, however, was Colonel Monterrosa's pointed failure to produce the fingerprints of the fourth guardsmen who had given a statement: Subsergeant Colindres Aleman.

A month and a half later, after the special Embassy evidence had provided the Embassy an indication of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's guilt, but before the Embassy had revealed that knowledge to the Salvadorans, an Embassy official asked Colonel Monterrosa why Colindres Aleman had not been fingerprinted.[81] Colonel Monterrosa immediately became defensive and claimed he had taken fingerprints only from those persons requested by the Embassy. From all the circumstances, however, we believe that Colonel Monterrosa

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

did not provide Colindres Aleman's fingerprints because he knew--since Major Zepeda had told him--that Colindres Aleman was responsible for the murders. Monterrosa feared that providing Colindres Aleman's fingerprints would enable him to be identified.

In the period between January and April, 1981, frustrated at the inaction of the Monterrosa Commission, and still uncertain that a purposeful cover-up was underway, Embassy officials continued to apply direct and indirect pressure upon Colonel Monterrosa. They asked the ruling junta to press Monterrosa to conduct a meaningful inquiry.[82] President Jose Napoleon Duarte, whom we interviewed and who appeared to have a sincere interest in the prosecution of this case, complied with the various requests of the United States, and repeatedly instructed Colonel Monterrosa to undertake pertinent investigative steps: to identify all security force personnel near the airport; to fingerprint those personnel; and to collect, secure and test their weapons.[83] Despite instructions from his civilian superior, Colonel Monterrosa did as little as possible throughout the early spring of 1981. Taken together, the Monterrosa and Zepeda investigations provide distressing evidence of the willingness of the Salvadoran military to protect their own, no matter what the cost.

B. The Cover-Up Is Defeated

Distressed at the apparent inability of the Monterrosa Commission to make substantial progress, and unaware of the cover-up engineered by Major Zepeda, officers of the United States Embassy determined to do what they could to identify the killers. In February, 1981, an Embassy officer developed information that promised eventual discovery of the identity of the killers. Over the next two months, this special Embassy evidence was proven reliable. The Embassy learned the identity of the killers; of other witnesses who could prove the killers' identity in court, most notably Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez; and obtained convincing evidence of the cover-up.

A significant piece of corroboration came from FBI analysis of two cartridge casings and three spent bullets provided to the Embassy by the Salvadoran government on March 2, 1981.[84] On March 17, 1981, the FBI laboratories identified the casings and bullets as coming from Heckler and Koch G-3 assault rifles,[85] standard issue to the Salvadoran security forces. Other corroborating evidence cannot be set forth here because it would tend to disclose and thus endanger the nature and sources of the special Embassy evidence. In any event, after several months of testing, through the use of corroborating evidence, the Embassy was convinced that the special Embassy evidence was both genuine and sound.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

By April, 1981, the Embassy had concluded that only extraordinary pressure would result in the arrest and prosecution of the killers, and it determined to inform the Salvadoran authorities of the information it had learned, but not its source. On April 21, 1981, the Embassy identified Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to President Duarte. Several days later the Embassy named to Defense Minister Garcia five other guardsmen identified by the special Embassy evidence.[86] The United States demanded that the killers be arrested. Upon learning this news, Colonel Vides Casanova ordered the arrest of the guardsmen who had been identified. The men were taken into custody on April 29, 1981.[87]

The arrest of the guardsmen enabled the FBI to complete the scientific tests it had begun some months before. On April 30, the FBI obtained the defendants' fingerprints and shortly thereafter matched a thumbprint of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman with a print found on the churchwomen's van.[88] On May 1, the weapons of the guardsmen were seized,[89] and by May 17, the FBI reported that one of the seized weapons, which later was identified as belonging to Guardsman Moreno Canjura, had fired a cartridge found at the murder site.[90]

Although the cover-up had been thwarted, and evidence of the defendants' guilt produced, the military apparently remained ambivalent about the extent to which it would cooperate in the prosecution. Major Zepeda remained

RELEASED

in charge of the National Guard's internal "investigation," and the disclosure of the true facts apparently did little to deter him from his course of concealment. In the period following the arrests, Zepeda took two more written statements from Subsergeant Colindres Aleman.91/ In the first, Colindres Aleman again denied participation in the murders. In the second, recorded after the FBI had linked his fingerprint to the nuns' van, Colindres Aleman claimed that he might have touched the van in the airport parking lot and again denied his guilt. Major Zepeda also interviewed Guardsman Moreno Canjura, who blandly claimed that his rifle could not have been involved in the murder because he had possessed it continuously and he had not been involved in the murder.92/

On July 1, 1981, Major Zepeda submitted a second report to Colonel Vides Casanova.93/ He still concluded that he could not determine the guilt of the guardsmen because of the "difficulty" in resolving a case so "delicate." He concluded that only the civilian courts could make a determination of guilt and that he had exhausted the resources at his disposal. Other than Major Zepeda's meager efforts, Salvadoran attempts to investigate and prosecute the guardsmen were virtually nonexistent throughout the summer and fall of 1981.

C. The Medrano Working Group

By the fall of 1981, the United States Embassy recognized that the Salvadoran authorities were evidently content to let the defendants remain in prison while doing nothing to prosecute the crime. The Embassy determined to press all the harder for a serious investigation, which, for political reasons, would have to come under the aegis of the Monterrosa Commission.

On December 4, 1981, the Commission agreed to the appointment of a working group, composed of professional investigators and backed by technical assistance from the United States, to conduct the investigation.[94] On December 7, 1981, the Fiscal General (the chief Salvadoran prosecutor) and his deputy agreed to this concept as well.[95] The working group was formally established on December 9 by order of Colonel Vides Casanova.[96] National Guard Major Jose Adolfo Medrano was appointed to head the group.

The work of the Medrano working group is one of the encouraging chapters in the Salvadoran handling of the churchwomen murders case. It stands in sharp contrast to the previous two investigations described herein, and was pursued with thoroughness and persistence. The Medrano working group was the first successful attempt by an agency of the Salvadoran government to investigate the murders in a systematic and determined way. In two months time, the working group, under the able leadership of Major Medrano, was able to question more than a dozen important witnesses, gain a confession, and gather valuable physical evidence.

One of the reasons the Medrano working group was so successful was that, with its establishment, ongoing technical assistance was provided by the FBI at every step. Similarly, Embassy personnel were present for every session of the Medrano working group. Thus, the Medrano working group became an organized, joint effort by Major Medrano of the National Guard, detectives of the National Police, the FBI Regional legal attache and his FBI colleagues who appeared from time to time to carry out special activities such as polygraphing, ballistics, or fingerprint analysis, and representatives from the United States Embassy. Representatives from the office of the Fiscal General also participated in working group sessions.

Within days of his appointment on December 9, 1981, Major Medrano had interviewed two of the airport fuel workers who were on duty on the day of the murders concerning the dispensing of airplane fuel possibly used by the guardsmen in their jeep;[97] Jose Vidal Cruz Piche, one of the guardsmen stationed at the airport;[98] the four guards of Hector Herrera's estate, who witnessed the van passing back and forth to the murder site that evening[99] and Jose Luis Monterrosa, another guardsman stationed at the airport.[100] These interviews were crucial to the case. They provided the first public evidence of the facts surrounding the crime.

The first important break for Major Medrano was his interview on December 11 of Guardsman Cruz Piche.[101] Cruz Piche, whom Major Medrano had known previously[102] and who apparently felt comfortable with the investigator, confided that on the night of the murders he had seen Colindres Aleman, Contreras Recinos, Moreno Canjura, Canales Ramirez, and two others depart the airport in the post's Toyota jeep shortly after 7:00 p.m., passing through the checkpoint where Cruz Piche was stationed with Guardsmen Luis Monterrosa and Cornejo Cubas. Cruz Piche said that when he returned to the detachment headquarters at the end of his tour, he found that the six who had left earlier were drunk and appeared nervous.[103]

Medrano reinterviewed Guardsman Cruz Piche on December 15, 1981.[104] Cruz Piche amplified his previous statement, saying that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman ordered Guardsman Perez Nieto to remain at the checkpoint to detain all airport traffic for the next ten minutes, and that Perez Nieto had allowed a white microbus to pass without inspection. Cruz Piche reported that he later overheard Colindres Aleman say "What's done is done," and, "If fate is against us, we will have to pay," or words to that effect. This testimony was the first public revelation that Colindres Aleman had ever acknowledged his guilt.

RELEASED

Guardsman Cruz Piche also testified that three days later he heard a guardsman say that he had been told by guardsmen who had accompanied Colindres Aleman that the victims were "subversive nuns," that "we took subversive propaganda from them," and that another guardsman had somehow obtained 5,000 dollars or colones. He said that eight days later he saw Subsergeant Colindres Aleman selling ladies' watches in the airport area.

Guardsman Jose Luis Monterrosa confirmed Cruz Piche's statement to the Medrano group and named the six guardsmen he saw depart the airport: Colindres Aleman, Jose Elias Sanchez, Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura, Adrian Ramirez, and Daniel Canales Ramirez.[105] Two days after the murders, Luis Monterrosa saw Colindres Aleman with a large amount of money purchasing a television set, furniture, and other items, as well as selling a tape recorder, watches, rings, and eyeglasses. Luis Monterrosa testified that he overheard guardsmen say that "they were subversive nuns and had subversive propaganda," and that Colindres Aleman said "It happened today: if our turn comes up, we'll have to pay for it."

During this period the Medrano group also took statements of Luis Napoleon Cornejo Cubas, the third guardsman at the airport checkpoint, Corporal Isabel Aguino Giron, the deputy commander of the airport National Guard detachment, and Guardsman Perez Nieto, who had been on patrol at the terminal and had spotted the nuns. Taken together, the statements significantly tightened the chain of evidence of guilt and provided a fairly complete picture of the events of December 2, 1980.

In his December 17, 1981 statement,[106] airport Guardsman Luis Napoleon Cornjeo Cubas confirmed the statements of Guardsman Cruz Piche and Luis Monterrosa, and revealed that he had learned that on the night of the murders Colindres Aleman brought back a spare tire, which a few days later he gave to a friend at the nearby "Macondo" cotton plantation. He also saw Colindres Aleman and his five companions burn women's clothing behind the National Guard command post several days after the killings.

Corporal Giron testified that about 5:30 p.m., he overheard Subsergeant Colindres Aleman talking by telephone with Perez Nieto, who was in the airport terminal.[107] Thereafter, Giron swore, Colindres Aleman ordered five guardsmen to dress in civilian clothes, and they departed with him in the detachment jeep at about 7:00 p.m. Giron testified that later that evening he received a telephone call from Colindres Aleman, asking for a replacement vehicle. Giron borrowed a blue pickup truck and a driver from the commander of the airport Customs Police, and directed the driver to proceed to El Rosario La Paz to meet Colindres Aleman.

RELEASED

Giron further stated that he saw the pickup truck return with the guardsmen shortly before midnight, observed the guardsmen remove a tire and several cartons from the truck, and later heard that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman took the tire to a friend at the "Macondo" cotton plantation the next day. Finally, Giron said that on or about December 7, 1980, Colindres Aleman told him that "they were subversive women. I do not think there will be a problem." This implicit acknowledgment of guilt by Colindres Aleman constitutes his third extrajudicial confession in the record.

On December 22, 1981, Margarito Perez Nieto, the guardsman on patrol in front of the airport terminal who had identified the nuns, gave a deceptive statement.[108/] Although Perez Nieto acknowledged reporting to Subsergeant Colindres Aleman that two "suspicious looking foreign women were in the airport terminal," he claimed that Colindres Aleman only ordered him to go to the checkpoint to search all out-going traffic, which he claimed he did for five or ten minutes without singling out any particular vehicle. He stated that one of the three white vans he remembered seeing may have been driven by one of the women he had seen earlier in the terminal. At this initial interview, Perez Nieto failed to reveal that he had seen Colindres Aleman depart with five other guardsmen in civilian clothes to stop the white van. He likewise only obscurely alluded to Colindres Aleman's instructions to him to hold all traffic except for the white

On December 23, the Medrano working group interviewed the airport Customs commander.[109] He corroborated Corporal Giron's statement that at about 11:00 p.m. on the night of the murders, Giron asked him to loan the Customs Police vehicle in order to pick up Colindres Aleman and the others. He said that he sent his vehicle and driver to get the guardsmen and that his driver later informed him that the guardsmen had put bloodstained women's clothing in the truck. The following day, Christmas Eve, the Medrano group interviewed Mariana Realejeno, the maid at the National Guard airport barracks,[110] who testified that in late December, 1980, a guardsman gave her a woman's skirt as a gift.

Early in January, 1982, the Medrano working group interviewed Victor Melgar Garay, the Customs Police duty driver who had picked up the group of guardsmen in El Rosario La Paz on the night of the murders.[111] Melgar Garay described the unloading and burning of the white microbus on the highway to La Libertad, and testified that he had been warned to keep silent about what he had seen. In the same period, the Medrano group began to amass the physical evidence that linked the six guardsmen to the crime. The wheel, tire, and jack stolen from the churchwomen's van were recovered by the working group from the nearby plantation where they had been taken by Colindres Aleman.[112]

The working group interviewed Adrian Ramirez Palacios and Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman, guardsmen detained together with the killers, on January 11 and 12, 1982. Each confirmed that he had seen Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his group depart from the airport on the night of December 2, 1980, and that Colindres Aleman had later possessed personal articles from the van.[113/]

Sanchez Guzman added critical incriminating statements he had heard from the defendants during his period of incarceration with them.[114/] He stated that while in prison Guardsman Moreno Canjura had admitted that after the women were shot, Moreno Canjura saw that one of them was still alive and that he had used his own rifle to kill her. Sanchez Guzman swore as well that he and Ramirez Palacios were threatened by the defendants that they would be killed if they talked about the case after they were released. Finally, Sanchez Guzman provided an important clarification about the culpability of Guardsman Rivera Franco, which later enabled the prosecution to use Rivera Franco as a witness against the killers: although Rivera Franco had participated in the kidnapping of the women, he was not one of the killers; he had stayed behind with the disabled jeep at Rosario La Paz.

The various witnesses' statements had regularly identified one guardsmen not in custody, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, as among the six men who had abducted

the churchwomen and, at the same time, had generally omitted mention of one guardsmen in custody, Adrian Ramirez Palacios. This evidence, together with the similarity in names, led the working group to conclude by late December that Ramirez Palacios was not involved in the murders.[115] During the first week in January, 1982 the Medrano working group had located Contreras Palacios for questioning.[116]

On January 14, 1982, the working group received a major break: Contreras Palacios confessed to his participation in the murders.[117] Because Contreras Palacios had been belatedly identified and had not been incarcerated with the other five defendants, he apparently had not been subject to group pressure to present a joint alibi. Rather, remorseful over having raped and murdered women who he later learned were nuns, Contreras Palacios, when apprehended, provided the first participant account of the crime.

Under Salvadoran law (common in many civil law countries), the testimony of a participant in the crime cannot be used against the others.[118] Thus, Contreras Palacios' confession was, technically, admissible only against him. It was significant nonetheless. First, it provided full corroboration of the evidence initially provided by the special Embassy evidence and thereafter painstakingly developed by the FBI and the Medrano working group. Second, the confession would be admissible against Contreras Palacios at the joint trial of all the defendants.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Thus, although it was technically of limited admissibility, it would still have a significant psychological effect on the jurors, assuring them of the defendants' guilt.

Contreras Palacios swore that he and the others, dressed in civilian clothes, left the airport command post at 7:00 p.m., and stopped and searched the churchwomen's van about a half mile from the airport.[119/] He said that they then drove with the van towards El Rosario La Paz, but that they had engine trouble with the jeep, forcing them to leave it in El Rosario, with a guardsman (Rivera Franco) to safeguard it. Thereafter, they drove to a deserted spot several miles southwest of San Pedro Nonualco, where Colindres Aleman ordered them to stop and the churchwomen to get out.

The guardsmen proceeded to rape the women and then, at Colindres Aleman's orders, shot and killed them. They then returned to El Rosario, picked up the guardsman left there, and drove down the coastal highway, where they burned the van. Contreras Palacios stated that he did not know of any other orders that the women be killed and that only Colindres Aleman ordered them to kill the "subversive" nuns. (When Contreras Palacios was reinterviewed, partially at our suggestion, in October, 1983, he altered this last testimony and claimed that Colindres Aleman told him he had been ordered to kill the women, but that Colindres regularly used such explanations to justify his orders.)

On the same day that the working group obtained Contreras Palacios' confession, it began the process of administering polygraph examinations to the suspects. Although polygraph evidence is inadmissible in El Salvador, as it is in the United States, the working group recognized, at the urging of United States representatives, that the skilled use of the polygraph can be an important investigative tool. It can provide a basis for evaluating the credibility of witnesses. More importantly, many a witness, confronted with an impending polygraph examination or the fact that he has failed one, decides to tell the truth. This happened three times during the course of the polygraph examinations in this case, all of which were administered by an experienced Spanish speaking FBI polygrapher.

Three of the suspects did not alter their testimony concerning the murders either before or after the polygraph exam: Guardsman Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos,[120] Guardsman Daniel Canales Ramirez[121] and Guardsman Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura.[122] Nonetheless, the FBI polygrapher concluded that all three--and a fourth, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman[123]--were lying when they denied involvement in the crime. During the polygraph examination, Colindres Aleman was also asked whether he had been ordered by anyone to commit the crime. Significantly, the polygrapher concluded that his denial of receiving higher orders was truthful.[124]

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Although Subsergeant Colindres Aleman did not confess during the course of his polygraph examination, he did alter his previous testimony in an incriminating way.[125] Prior to the polygraph examination, Colindres Aleman had consistently claimed that he and his men were on duty at the airport on the night of December 2. During the course of the pre-examination interview, Colindres Aleman altered his testimony to concede significant incriminating details. For the first time, Colindres Aleman admitted receiving a telephone call from Perez Nieto at about 3:00 p.m. on December 2, 1980, reporting two suspicious persons at the airport, thus conceding he was on notice of the churchwomen's presence at the airport.

Subsergeant Colindres Aleman also altered his testimony to link all the suspects together. He admitted that at about 7:00 p.m. he ordered Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Daniel Canales Ramirez, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, Salvador Rivera Franco and Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura, the remaining suspects, to change into civilian clothes so that they could all drive into El Rosario La Paz. Despite this critical concession, Colindres Aleman claimed that the purpose of the trip was only to get gas for the unit stove, and that they returned at about 10:00 p.m.

Margarito Perez Nieto, the airport guardsman who called Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to report to him the movements of the churchwomen from the airport, had signifi-

In January, 1982 he took and failed a polygraph, and then elected to tell the truth.[126] On January 15, 1982 Perez Nieto confessed that he had been ordered by Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to allow the churchwomen's van to pass through the checkpoint, and that he had done so. He added that he had had no previous instructions to look for the churchwomen at the airport and that he was unaware of any such instructions to anyone in the National Guard unit at the airport.

Salvador Rivera Franco, the guardsman who accompanied Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and the churchwomen to El Rosario La Paz, where he remained behind to guard the jeep, also provided significant additional information upon being confronted with the polygraph.[127] Initially, Rivera Franco had offered no useful evidence in the investigation. At the commencement of the polygraph session, however, Rivera Franco indicated that he wished to make a statement, and did so. Rivera Franco thereupon identified the guardsmen who had accompanied Colindres Aleman and the nuns from the airport access road; described the search of the churchwomen's van on the airport access road; described the return from El Rosario La Paz after the murders along the coastal road to the spot where the van was burned; and stated that several of the suspects had confessed to him that they had killed the women.

Finally, a polygraph examination helped to exonerate another of the earlier accused, Guardsman Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman. Like Ramirez Palacios, he had been imprisoned as one of the original six accused, but then was released upon the development of exonerating evidence, including the confession of Contreras Palacios and the statements of various witnesses excluding Sanchez Guzman from the group of six guardsmen who had abducted the women. As a final test, Sanchez Guzman was submitted to a polygraph examination, which he passed. Thereupon, the working group concluded that his continued denial of participation in the murders was truthful.[128/]

On February 9, 1982, the Medrano working group having completed its activities, Major Medrano forwarded the investigative file to General Vides Casanova.[129/] General Vides Casanova, in turn, forwarded the file, with the jack, tire, and skirt seized during the investigation, to the First Penal Judge in Zacatecoluca on February 10. At the same time, he consigned to the court Colindres Aleman, Contreras Recinos, Moreno Canjura, Contreras Palacios, Canales Ramirez and Rivera Franco, stating that they had been discharged from the National Guard and arrested for their participation in the deaths of the four churchwomen.[130/]

D. The Civil Investigation

The evidence assembled by the Medrano working group remains the principal evidence of the defendants'

guilt. Nonetheless, as the civil authorities created their own record to support the prosecution during the ensuing months, several significant pieces of additional evidence were developed.

Perhaps most important of these was the evidence of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's confession to his superior, Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez. The special Embassy evidence identified Sergeant Martinez in 1981 as one to whom Colindres Aleman had confided his guilt. By January, 1982, Martinez was living in Los Angeles, having left El Salvador and the National Guard in January, 1981. He was located there and interviewed by the FBI, but he denied any knowledge whatsoever about the events of the murder.131/

When the FBI reported these results back to El Salvador, Embassy officials knowledgeable about the special Embassy evidence were unsatisfied. They suggested that the FBI reinterview Sergeant Martinez with the assistance of a polygraph examination.132/ Once again, the threat of the lie detector provoked a change in testimony. Faced with the test, Martinez confessed that, shortly after the killings and during a meeting of the National Guard called by Colonel Vides Casanova to ask whether any guardsmen were responsible, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman approached Martinez and conceded that he was responsible for the "problem regarding the nuns."1 Martinez explained that he had advised Colindres Aleman to kee that information to himself for the moment, but to confess it the Director of the National Guard in accord with the Director request.

Another significant piece of additional evidence was obtained in July, 1983. Judge Rauda had refused, under Salvadoran law, to admit into the trial record evidence obtained outside the territorial boundaries of El Salvador or outside his supervision.[134] For this reason, he rejected the admissibility of both the ballistics and fingerprint evidence obtained by the FBI. As the case was readied for trial in the summer of 1983, and in part at our suggestion, the FBI agreed to transport its ballistics equipment to El Salvador and train a Salvadoran national in the testing process.[135] When this was done, Judge Rauda was able to produce two more weapons, previously unknown, attributable to the defendants. The ballistics test linked one of these newly discovered weapons, that of Contreras Palacios, to the crime, thereby providing another direct link between the defendants and the murder.[136]

Unfortunately, it was impossible to replicate the fingerprint evidence linking Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to the nuns' van. The original fingerprint had been obtained by an FBI technician in December, 1980, shortly after the killings, and processed in Washington.[137] According to Judge Rauda, it was inadmissible for two reasons: (1) the fingerprint had been taken from the van without the authority of the investigating judge; and (2) it had been analyzed

[138] In 1982 an effort was made to

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

duplicate the process in an admissible fashion.[139] The Salvadoran authorities had done nothing, however, to preserve the van and, not surprisingly, the fingerprint could no longer be located some two and one-half years later.

During our trip to El Salvador, we attempted to explore ways in which the fingerprint obtained by the FBI could nonetheless be used. Both the prosecutors and private attorneys retained by the Embassy persuaded us that the fingerprint would not be admitted during the investigatory stage of the proceedings.[140] It is possible, however, as we shall explain below, that the fingerprint could nonetheless be used in the argument section of the trial, when otherwise inadmissible evidence may be presented to the jury.

III. INVOLVEMENT OF HIGHER AUTHORITIES

Since the day the bodies of the churchwomen were found, there has been a widely held suspicion, at least in the United States, that higher officers in the Salvadoran security forces were involved in the murders. Indeed, at the outset of our mission, we shared that suspicion. We frankly doubted that an enlisted National Guard member would have undertaken on his own initiative the rape and murder of four North American women, even in a society as violent as El Salvador. For this reason, we considered it an important part of our mission to do what we could to help resolve the question. The Salvadorans had done little to address it directly. It had taken enough American effort simply to persuade the prosecutors to pursue the murders themselves, and we saw little hope that a full-fledged investigation of possible higher involvement would ever be undertaken, at least absent concrete evidence of the sort used to force the investigation of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and guardsmen under his command.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

We resolved, therefore, to do what we could to urge the prosecuting authorities to gather evidence relevant to the question of higher involvement, while at the same time carefully reviewing the evidence available to us in an attempt to resolve the question for ourselves. In particular, we wished the Salvadorans to reinterview guardsmen Perez Nieto and Contreras Palacios. Perez Nieto had first spotted the churchwomen at the airport and his conversations with Colindres Aleman apparently led to their abduction. We did not believe he had been sufficiently questioned about these subjects. We hoped that new questioning would illuminate Colindres Aleman's specific motivation. Unfortunately, we learned that, after giving his statement to Judge Rauda, Perez Nieto had been reported missing in action since January, 1983.141/

We asked that Contreras Palacios be reinterviewed because, as the sole confessing guardsman, he was in a

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

position to shed light about what, if anything, Colindres Aleman had said about his orders, a subject on which we believed Contreras Palacios had been insufficiently questioned earlier. Contreras Palacios did give new testimony in which he expanded, and contradicted, his earlier testimony by stating that Colindres Aleman had indeed claimed, in directing the guardsmen to kill the women, that the orders came from higher up.142/ Contreras Palacios added that Colindres Aleman regularly used this sort of justification with his troops. For reasons set out below, we ultimately discounted the significance of this testimony, but it served further to underscore the importance of a resolution of the higher-up question.

We also asked the Salvadoran authorities to investigate links between the killers and security forces in Chalatenango and La Libertad, where the churchwomen had lived and worked. We sought to clarify, to the extent possible, whether any of the defendants had contacts with those cities that would suggest their participation in a conspiracy to murder, or whether officers in those cities had had contacts with the airport that would suggest the same. At the same time, we asked that fingerprints of guardsmen in Chalatenango be obtained so that they could be compared with fingerprints found on documents that threatened the churchwomen in Chalatenago. Although fingerprints have

alvador: Human Rights
pecial Project (1993)

now been obtained from the security forces commanders at Chalatenango and analyzed without positive results, to the best of our knowledge, other security forces personnel stationed there have yet to be fingerprinted.

Thus, the record from which we have had to work is not as complete as we would have liked, or as would have been assembled for a comparable murder investigation in the United States. Nonetheless, we deem the issue too important to leave without discussion. We have undertaken to weigh the evidence available to us as best we can. We have analyzed the testimony of the witnesses and the circumstances under which the testimony was taken. We have made judgments about the credibility of particular witnesses. We have applied our various experiences as prosecutors and judge to the facts of this case. And, contrary to our initial supposition, we have concluded that, from the evidence now available to us, it is unlikely that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman received higher orders to commit this crime. We believe that he acted on his own initiative.

An analysis of the higher orders question begins with a definition of terms. In the broadest sense, higher orders could simply mean an understanding among the security forces in El Salvador, fostered by their superiors, that crimes of violence, no matter how outrageous or unjustified, would not be prosecuted. We do not believe that is what concerns those who believe Subsergeant Colindres Aleman was ordered to commit this crime. Nonetheless, the existence of this atmosphere is important in resolving the more particular question, for it is clear to us that in El Salvador in 1980, and perhaps still today, there was a general tolerance of crimes of violence by the military. At the time of this crime, so far as we are aware, few, if any, national guardsmen had ever been civilly prosecuted for murder, even though estimates of murdered civilians ran up to 40,000, many allegedly at the hands of the military. Thus, we conclude that officers of the Salvadoran military forces, whether by direction, inactivity or tolerance, encouraged the notion that their troops were above the law.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

This brings us to the more direct higher-up questions. Did some higher officer (or officers) order Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to murder the women he had abducted at the El Salvador airport, either after hearing of Guardsman Perez Nieto's suspicions or because he had previously planned to murder some or all of the women, knowing that they would be at the airport on the night of December 2?

The most direct evidence that some higher officer ordered the killing comes from the statements of Guardsmen Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa. Contreras Palacios has testified in his second interview that, in directing the guardsmen to shoot the women, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman said he was doing so because of superior orders.[143/] In addition, Valle Espinosa has testified that Colindres Aleman said substantially the same in ordering him to participate

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

In addition to the direct testimony of Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa, there is certain circumstantial evidence as well. To some American observers at least, it seems unlikely that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman would abandon his duty post at the airport, together with five of his troops, unless he had authorization to do so. More generally, there is evidence of hostility between the military and the church in El Salvador and, in particular, between the military and church workers in Chalatenango. Our interviews with Salvadoran officers reinforced this conclusion; their animosity towards the church was obvious. Colonel Monterrosa was perhaps most blunt. He openly speculated that the churchwomen were probably subversives, and that the military might well have wished them dead.[145/]

This hostility manifested itself directly with respect to churchworkers in Chalatenango, where Sisters Ford and Clarke were based. Military personnel stationed there regularly harassed churchworkers by, for example, blocking entry to the church with their cars and haranguing them about their alleged subversive activities.[146/] By the fall of 1980, this hostility had become even more threatening.

In November, 1980, a sign was posted on the parish door in Chalatenango that could be read to threaten the lives of those working with the church there.[147/] On December 2, the day of the murders, Father Efrain Lopez, the parish priest in Chalatenango, reportedly received a letter

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

threatening those working for the church in Chalatenango.[148] Later on December 2, the sacristan of the Chalatenango church allegedly was approached and shown a list of people to be killed that included the names of Sisters Ford and Clarke.[149]

Moreover, a possible opportunity existed for the military to learn that the churchwomen would be at the airport on December 2. In November, 1980, Maryknoll nun Madeline Dorsey sent a telegram to Sister Ita Ford describing her travel plans to the Managua Conference and suggesting that Sisters Ford and Clarke return with her to El Salvador on December 2.[150] If the telegram were intercepted by Salvadoran intelligence officers, the possibility existed for arranging an ambush.

Ominous though the above recital may sound, it is nonetheless quite a ways distant from direct proof of higher involvement. More importantly, upon analysis, we believe some of this evidence is more ambiguous than it may seem, and supports the theory that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman acted on his own initiative as readily as the theory that he received higher orders. The remaining evidence, we believe, is both of dubious probative value and substantially outweighed by the evidence inclining against higher involvement.

First, we believe the testimony of Guardsman Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa to be, upon analysis, neutral. Although both have testified that, in the course of ordering them to participate, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman told them that he had "superior orders" and although we have no reason to disbelieve this testimony, it is not conclusive of anything. It would not be surprising if a non-commissioned guardsman of inferior rank like Colindres Aleman used the guise of "superior orders" to motivate his troops, whether he had such orders or not, particularly when asking his men to commit a blatantly illegal act. Indeed, Contreras Palacios's own statement supports this conclusion. He observed that Colindres Aleman regularly justified his orders on such a basis, and speculated that Colindres Aleman had done so this time so that he would not have to bear the full responsibility for his order. Thus, the testimony of Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa does not necessarily support an inference either way.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

We also conclude that the general animosity between the church and the military does not necessarily support a conclusion of higher-up involvement. The belief, tolerated and even encouraged by officers of the security forces, that the Church and its workers were subversive could well lead lower-ranking soldiers to believe that church workers were fair game for harassment or worse. Thus, we believe the animosity serves as well to explain Colindres Aleman's own motives for the crimes--and his own belief that his acts were justified--as it does to suggest that his superiors were necessarily involved.

RELEASED
Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Colindres Aleman's willingness to abandon his airport post also does not support an inference either way. His action was, we believe, consistent with the structure within the National Guard at the time. As we learned in the course of our mission, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman had wide latitude in the daily functions of the unit he commanded.[151] His superiors visited his post only occasionally, and this lack of command control was and is a major concern of the Salvadoran high command. Until recently, the number of officers was quite low in proportion to the number of posts and guardsmen to supervise.[152] Moreover, transportation and communication facilities were limited, making it difficult for officers to control men in the field.

We also do not accord much weight to Sister Dorsey's telegram as providing an opportunity for the military to learn about the churchwomen's travel plans. As we learned, the intelligence network in El Salvador is quite primitive.[153] There is no reason to believe that the telegram was intercepted and, if it had been, we doubt that it would have been read by anyone with a particular interest in Sisters Ford and Clarke. Moreover, even if the telegram were intercepted and routed to a person interested in securing the demise of the nuns, the telegram did no more than suggest that they travel on December 2. It was, it seems to us, an insufficient basis on which to construct a plan to abduct and murder the women.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Finally, we conclude that there is no likely connection between the Chalatenango death threats and the murders. The threats were not directed at Sisters Clarke and Ford in particular, and thus suggest no reason why those nuns would be singled out for detention and murder at the airport, some distance from Chalatenango. Moreover, if the threats were serious, we see no reason why they would not have been implemented in Chalatenango--where they would have the maximum deterent effect on the local church workers--rather than in another, far-away part of the country. Implementing the threats in a distant military district would have required a level of coordination and cooperation that we have neither observed nor understood to be present in the Salvadoran security forces. At the same time, if such coordination were arranged, it would have necessarily involved additional guardsmen in the killings and thus needlessly increased the chances that the conspirators would be exposed.

If the threats were causally connected with the killings, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman would necessarily have had to be on the alert for the churchwomen. The evidence of Perez Nieto, which we credit and discuss further below, however, demonstrates that Colindres Aleman was not anticipating the arrival of the churchwomen. Finally, in our experience, death threats rarely lead so directly to murder, at least without their authors leaving sufficient

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

If the authors of the death threats truly intended immediately to kill the churchwomen, there was no reason to issue the threats.

In sum, much of the evidence allegedly supporting higher involvement in the murder is, in our view, actually neutral and supports either conclusion. The remaining evidence is of dubious probative value. More importantly, however, there is substantial evidence that, we believe, points the other way.

First, there is the evidence of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's behavior during the crime itself. In this regard, the testimony of Perez Nieto, the airport guard, is crucial. As an initial matter, we regard his testimony as truthful because of the manner in which it was given: an initial deception, followed by significant revelations after failing a polygraph examination. If truthful, his testimony is inconsistent with higher orders. Were there a prearranged plan to abduct the women, it is inconceivable to us that Colindres Aleman would not have warned Perez Nieto to be on the alert for them. Not only did Perez Nieto affirmatively deny any such orders, but he also simultaneously provided a plausible and independent explanation for why the churchwomen were stopped: because he believed they were suspicious. Perez Nieto's report to Colindres Aleman of his suspicions is likewise inconsistent with higher orders. If Colindres Aleman in fact were

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

awaiting the arrival of the women, but for some reason had neglected to warn Perez Nieto of that fact, Perez Nieto's report of their arrival would likely have provoked a more forthcoming response than merely "be careful."

Second, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's statements to his colleagues after the murder are, in our view, inconsistent with higher involvement. The premise for this conclusion is that, if he had been ordered to commit the crime, Colindres Aleman would have felt secure thereafter that his actions would be protected from prosecution. His statements following the crime show no such security. On December 4, 1980, Colindres Aleman told Cruz Piche that "what's done is done" and "if fate is against us, we will have to pay,"[154] or words to that effect. On December 5, 1980, Colindres Aleman told Guardsman Luis Monterrosa "if our turn comes up, we will have to pay for it."[155] On December 7, 1980, Colindres Aleman told Corporal Giron that "they were subversive women. I don't believe there will be any problem."[156] These are not the words of a felon secure in the protection of his patrons. If he acted at the order of superiors, Colindres Aleman would, we believe, not have been so concerned about "fate," having to "pay," or whether he would have a "problem."

Third, Colindres Aleman's confession to Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez is inconsistent with the view that superiors were involved. If Colindres Aleman were ordered

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

to kill the women by a superior, there was simply no reason for him apprehensively to confess his guilt to his immediate supervisor, a sergeant. Or, if he had felt the need to confess, we believe it likely that he would have explained that the "problem" he had created was ordered from above. In making this analysis, like our analysis of Perez Nieto's evidence, we necessarily treat as credible Sergeant Dagoberto Martínez's testimony, and for like reasons.

Fourth, the information obtained from the special Embassy evidence is consistent with the information from Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez. According to the special Embassy information, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman confessed his guilt to Major Zepeda without implicating any higher-ups. This, again, does not seem to us to be a likely course of events if Colindres Aleman's superiors were in fact involved. More definitively, the special Embassy evidence also provided direct proof, which unfortunately we are unable to reveal without endangering lives, that Colindres Aleman has conceded acting on his own.

Fifth, the evidence of the Zepeda/Monterrosa cover-up, which we have outlined above, shows, we think, a clear attempt to cover up a crime committed by lower-ranking soldiers, and no effort that we can discern to prevent the identification of higher-ups.

Sixth, we are convinced that, in light of all the evidence, the polygraph results are worth crediting.

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Subsergeant Colindres Aleman was asked directly, during his polygraph exam, whether the assault had been ordered from above. The polygraph examiner deemed his denial to be truthful. Some critics have suggested that the question was too narrowly phrased to encompass all possible higher orders. After review of the question and careful questioning of the polygrapher, we conclude this criticism is not well-founded. During the pre-examination interview, Colindres Aleman was clearly informed of the scope of the question and, as we understand it, would have indicated an emotional response to the question if there had been any such orders, even if the question were inartfully put.157/

Taken as a whole, we think the evidence of lack of higher involvement is persuasive and the evidence to the contrary largely, if not entirely, speculative. As we noted at the outset, the investigation of this question has not been commensurate with its importance, and all the facts are not known. We welcome the development of further information on this important issue, and would view new evidence with an open mind. Nonetheless, we believe it would be a disservice not to record here our view, based on the evidence now available, that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman acted at his own initiative.

Before we leave the subject of the involvement of others, we should note that there is some indication in the special Embassy evidence that Colindres Aleman may have had

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

communications about the churchwomen with the National Police in La Libertad at some point prior to the murders. This evidence suggested not that higher-ups in La Libertad had ordered the killings, but rather that the police in La Libertad had advised Subsergeant Colindres Aleman of some of the churchwomen's involvement in alleged "subversive" activities.

We have done what we could, with the limited resources available to us, to verify this allegation. We have found nothing to confirm it, and some evidence to refute it. In particular, the special Embassy evidence, contains an unsubstantiated suggestion that the churchwomen might have been previously arrested by the National Police. All those who worked with Ms. Donovan and Sister Kazel in the period prior to their murder, and who would have known of such an arrest, denied to us that any such event had occurred.[158/] Thus, we record some reason to doubt the allegation, but cannot consider it disproved. Nonetheless, from all the evidence known to us, if such a communication occurred, it would have been in the course of an exchange of intelligence information and would not have amounted to orders--higher or otherwise--to kill the women.

IV. FALSE LEADS

We believe that in the course of the investigations described above a coherent picture has emerged of the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

events of the night of December 2, 1980. Even so, in virtually every investigation, and particularly in a well-publicized one such as this, a substantial number of leads, tips, rumors, and apparent facts arise that must be explored, even though the vast majority turn out to be immaterial, incapable of confirmation or refutation, or simply wrong. These are the proverbial "red herrings."

The investigations of the churchwomen's murders have grown their own crop of these issues. Many questions have been resolved by the Salvadoran investigations, with the assistance of the United States Government. Others may be explained by this report. A few undoubtedly will never be explained. In order to reach the conclusions set forth in the preceding sections, we have had to analyze each such false lead as completely as possible. We discuss them below in light of the available evidence.

A. Thomas Bracken

On December 17, 1980, Thomas N. Bracken, a United States citizen, was killed in a shoot-out in the streets of San Salvador. Just one week prior, on December 11, 1980, Bracken had gone to the United States Embassy in San Salvador to offer information about the churchwomen murders. The proximity of the two events has caused some speculation as to whether Bracken's appearance at the Embassy and his subsequent murder were causally connected.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

We have found no such connection. Bracken was interviewed at the Embassy prior to his death, and had no specific evidence concerning the crimes.[159/] He offered the theory that the murders had been committed by a right-wing splinter group, but had no evidence to support the charge. Bracken's stated purpose in coming forward was to trade his vague rumors for dismissal of a criminal warrant outstanding against him in El Paso, Texas. It seems to us clear that his offer of information was merely the act of a desperate man trying to find a way to return to the United States.

An inventory of Bracken's quarters, after his death, revealed twenty-five molotov cocktails, wiretapping equipment, handguns, ammunition and military manuals. He had told the Embassy that he was employed as an instructor for the Salvadoran National Police. It was in this capacity that he appears to have met his death. Bracken accompanied several National Police officers who were chasing armed suspects and, in the process of attempting to make the apprehension, was shot dead by one or more of the suspects. In turn, the National Police shot and killed two of the suspects.[160/] Based on these facts, we find no connection between Bracken's contact with the Embassy and his death.

B. The Canadians

A group of six Canadians together with a Salvadoran priest, Father Britto, was stopped at a military checkpoint

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

outside the San Salvador International Airport on December 2, 1980, between about 6:30 p.m. and 7:00 p.m.[161] Because they provided the first evidence of military activity around the airport, their testimony and their description of the guardsmen were initially thought to be significant. We conclude that their evidence is of little consequence to an understanding of the facts.

The Canadians came to El Salvador to attend the FDR funerals to be held on December 3. At the airport, they met briefly with Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan, who were awaiting the arrival of Sisters Ford and Clarke. The Canadians then left the terminal, before the arrival of Sisters Ford and Clarke, with Father Britto and the others from the Archdiocese, and an American, , to whom they offered a ride.[162]

Down the road from the airport, near a traffic control post, they were stopped by several uniformed, armed guardsmen, who briefly questioned them and searched the vehicles.[163] Because the guardsmen were in uniform, it is fairly certain that they were not Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his civilian-attired accomplices. Likewise, because the stop occurred prior to the arrival of Sisters Ford and Clarke and before Colindres Aleman's orders were issued to stop traffic at the checkpoint (except for the white van) the stop was not connected with the abduction of the churchwomen. Rather, we conclude that the stop was one

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

undertaken by guardsmen at the traffic control checkpoint, consistent with the heightened tensions in the area on the night prior to the FDR funerals. It otherwise has no significance to this case.

C. The Hacienda Police

Father Paul Schindler, the American priest who worked with Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan in La Libertad and who found the burned out van, has alleged that the Hacienda Police may have been involved in the crime because (1) the Canadians were stopped at a roadblock near the turnoff for a local Hacienda Police station, and (2) there is evidence that a red pickup truck belonging to the Hacienda Police was used during the abduction.[164/]

The first point, we conclude, is based on a misapprehension of the facts. The guardsmen have uniformly placed the location of the checkpoint at which traffic was stopped for 10 minutes at a position on the main access road to the airport, near the reinforced concrete guard post (which is permanently maintained in the broad median strip of the access road to provide security for nearby electrical installations). This location is some distance removed from the turnoff to the Hacienda Police station at San Juan Talpa. To verify the guardsmen's testimony, we contacted Patricia Lasbury Hall, at the time of the events in question, United States Consul in El Salvador.[165/] Together with

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Ambassador White, Ms. Hall drove the Canadians to the airport on the day after they were stopped. At that time, Ms. Hall told us, the Canadians identified for her the location of the checkpoint. It was, she said, just as the guardsman had it: near the existing concrete guard post in the median strip of the airport access road.

The claim that a police pickup truck was involved is based on the alleged correlation of a fresh smear of red paint on the burned out van with a red Toyota pickup truck of the same shade at the Hacienda Police station in San Juan Talpa on the day after the murders. Father Schindler noticed the red paint smear on the left front bumper of the van when he found it on the roadside on December 3, 1980. Because he was the person responsible for the maintenance of the church vehicles in La Libertad, he was familiar with the condition of the van and is confident that the smear had not been there before December 2.

In his subsequent search for the women, Father Schindler visited a nearby Hacienda Police station in San Juan Talpa where he saw a red Toyota pickup truck. Although he was unable to inspect the truck thoroughly for paint damage and although none was visible to him, he concluded that the pickup truck and the paint smear were of the same color. As a result, he suggested that the Hacienda Police from that station might have been involved in the church-women murders. We cannot draw that conclusion.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

On December 12, 1980, FBI technicians took scrapings of the paint smear.[166] These scrapings were analyzed in the FBI Laboratory, which concluded that none of the paint particles were of a kind used for the original paint finish on any motor vehicles.[167] Because Father Schindler had identified the pickup truck as a Toyota, the Maryknoll Order sent a copy of the FBI analysis to Toyota. Toyota responded specifically that the paint was not used on their vehicles.[168]

Father Schindler told us that he believes the Toyota pickup truck had been repainted, so that it is possible that a non-standard paint was used. Even if that were so, however, it is likely that particles from the underlying original coat of paint would have been present in the red smear as well. None was found.

We find the connection between the red smear and the red pickup truck to be based entirely on supposition. Moreover, it is inconsistent with testimony that we believe to be truthful from several of the participants in the abduction (Guardsman Rivera Franco and Contreras Palacios), and with the testimony of those who witnessed the activities of December 2. We have found no credible evidence that the Hacienda Police were involved in the murders.

D. Money and Valuables

In the days following the murders, several of the accused were seen with money and valuables.[169] Guardsman

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Cruz Piche reported that another guardsman claimed that Canales Ramirez was seen with 5,000 dollars or colones.[170] The allegation, albeit second hand, is of concern because possession of such a large sum of money, in excess of any amounts conceivably taken from the churchwomen, might suggest that the guardsmen had been paid by some unknown party for participation in the murders.

To clarify the allegation, we asked that Guardsman Cruz Piche be reinterviewed on the subject. At the time of writing this report, Cruz Piche cannot be located by Salvadoran authorities. Nonetheless, based on the evidence available to us, we believe that the churchwomen's missing personal property has been satisfactorily traced to Colindres Aleman and the guardsmen, and that it probably accounts for any perceived increase in Colindres Aleman's personal wealth.

When the nuns left the airport, they had with them the personal belongings of Sisters Clarke and Ford, including clothing and books. Sister Ford was carrying some cash (originally thought to be $900, now apparently only $175)[171] and three checks, two for $1,800 each (to help buy a new jeep to replace one lost earlier that year) and one for $243 (to be used to pay local accounts).[172]

According to several witnesses, the books were burned by the accused soon after the murders, along with articles of clothing and some jewelry.[173] Several witnesses testified that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman was seen

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

selling women's watches, rings, eyeglasses and a tape recorder and buying a television set and furniture.[174] One of the other accused, Guardsman Contreras Palacios, gave Guardsman Sanchez Guzman eighty dollars to exchange into colones for him, and Canales Ramirez offered to sell Sanchez Guzman a woman's watch.[175] The checks were never negotiated and, according to the Embassy's special evidence, were destroyed by Colindres Aleman.

Other than the second hand accounts crediting Guardsman Canales Ramirez with 5,000 dollars or colones, there is no evidence attributing an amount of money to any of the guardsmen in excess of the cash and valuables possessed by the churchwomen. We conclude from this evidence in the record that Colindres Aleman and others of the accused looted the churchwomen's belongings after the murders, taking what they believed to be valuable and burning the rest. There is no credible evidence that Colindres Aleman, Canales Ramirez, or anyone else received payment from an unknown source for his role in the murders.

E. The Moran Letter

Perhaps no red herring has been so patently fabricated as the Moran letter. In the late spring of 1983, the Maryknoll Order received, through an anonymous source, a copy of a letter, purportedly written by Lt. Colonel Antonio Moran, the Chief of the Hacienda Police, to Colonel Vides

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Casanova, the Director of the National Guard, on January 5, 1981.[176] The letter states that six individuals--not the defendants--had been detained by the police and were being referred to Vides Casanova for the murders of the churchwomen. If true, the letter would cast immediate doubt on the validity of the entire prosecution.

The letter is, however, a crude forgery, obviously created by unknown third parties--whether of the right or the left--with an interest in disrupting the prosecution. Colonel Moran has testified he never sent the letter,[177] and Vides Casanova that he never received it.[178] Moreover, the signature and seal are forgeries, according to handwriting experts appointed by Judge Rauda,[179] and the letter does not bear either the code numbers or the formal salutation that a genuine piece of Treasury Police correspondence would include.

F. _____ and Cortez

In September, 1981, an annonymous letter addressed to the United States Congress was received by the State Department.[180] The letter, dated July 21, 1981, stated that the writer was a witness to the killings of the churchwomen, and that if Congress were interested in the identity of the assassins, it should place an advertisement in several Mexican newspapers. The State Department placed the advertisement in late September, which led to a meeting between two United States Embassy officials and [181/] said that he had no direct information concerning the murders. He identified the author of the letter to Congress as one Cesar Cortez, allegedly a driver employed by Hans Crist, a suspect in the January, 1981, murders of the American Institute of Free Labor Development workers. He said that Cortez had fled El Salvador several months before, passing through Mexico City on his way to the United States. On October 6, told the Embassy in Mexico City that Cortez had written to him from Chicago, but that he still had no address for him.

On October 15, 1981, John McAward, Executive Director of the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee, reported to the State Department that he also had met in Mexico City.[182/] According to McAward, claimed that a Cesar Cortez had approached him in Mexico City and described the murders. Cortez allegedly told that he had been instructed by his employer to drive a pickup truck from "the Hacienda" with two Hacienda guards to La Libertad, where he was to pick up three guardsmen, and then proceed to the airport "to do a job"--the abduction of the churchwomen. stated that Cortez denied participation in the rapes and murders, but claimed to have seen what happened.

Thereafter, the State Department and the FBI pursued a number of false leads in attempting to trace the mysterious Cortez.[183] Finally, responding to a suggestion from Representative Mary Rose Oakar, the State Department sought to submit to a polygraph examination concerning Cortez.[184] Despite repeated requests and assurances of safety, repeatedly refused to submit to a polygraph examination.[185] With 's refusal, the effort to locate Cortez and to verify his story reached a dead end.

We are convinced that the /Cortez episode has no bearing on our understanding of the facts. Cortez' alleged story, as described by through McAward, is inconsistent with the facts outlined above. It may be that fabricated the story in an attempt to gain a visa to the United States.[186] Whatever 's motivation, Cortez' alleged story, unsupported even by the existence of Cortez and contradicted by the facts, is of no apparent validity.

G. The Radio Message

In December 1980, it was reported that a witness had overheard a radio transmission at the airport between members of the security forces.[187] There is conflicting information about what was said. According to one version, a guardsman was heard stating, "we missed them on this flight."[188] According to another version, the conversation focused on the fact that the churchwomen were carrying a large amount of money.[189] Any such conversation, if true, would be significant because it could suggest that the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human R
Special Project (19

National Guard was awaiting the arrival of the churchwomen, and thus that a prearranged plot was in effect.

Although the source of the information was fairly quickly identified, he resisted several attempts by Embassy officials to persuade him to come forward and make a formal statement. President Duarte finally prevailed upon the witness to submit to an interview, attended by Embassy officials, in mid-March 1982 by Deputy Fiscal General Benjamin Cestoni.[190] The witness said that he was in the airport terminal on December 2, 1980, awaiting an incoming flight. While there, he claimed he overheard a telephone--not radio--conversation of a uniformed guardsman speaking from a pay telephone in the lobby. He said that the gist of the conversation was "we missed them on this flight." The witness said that he then saw the arrival of two women he believed to be two churchwomen, who were greeted by two others and who departed at about 4:00-4:30 p.m. in a white van. He averred that he was sure about the time because he himself left shortly after 4:30 p.m.[191]

Although Cestoni and the Embassy officials all believed that the witness was not purposely attempting to deceive them, they unanimously concluded that his recollection was nonetheless confused and highly unreliable. Under close questioning, the witness offered varying accounts of what he had heard, at different times claiming that the communication was by radio or by telephone, and that it concerned either money in the churchwomen's possession or their delayed arrival. Indeed, at one point, in the course of three interviews with Embassy personnel, the witness stated that he had only seen a radio being used and had not heard what was said.[192] Moreover, if true, the witness's testimony means that at least Guardsman Perez Nieto and Cruz Piche are lying in giving their accounts of Perez Nieto's telephone conversation with Subsergeant Colindres Aleman. Because of all of this, we discount the report of the witness.

H. Abduction at the Airport

Father Schindler has suggested to us that the churchwomen had been abducted at the airport, not at the roadblock manned by Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his guardsmen.[193] He said he believed this had happened because witnesses to whom he spoke had said they were the last to leave the airport and the white van remained behind. He further told us that Ms. Hall had indicated to him that a secret Embassy source had confirmed that the abduction was actually at the airport. Ms. Hall denied to us making any such statement.[194] Moreover, our review of the Embassy files and our conversations with Embassy officials convinces us that no such source or information exists. Finally, the allegation is completely contrary to all the existing evidence in the case with respect to the location of the abduction.

I. The .22 Magnum

When the bodies of the churchwomen where taken to a local funeral home in San Salvador on December 4, 1980, a Maryknoll priest, Father John Spain, was present to witness the post-mortem examination.[195] Father Spain heard the funeral home attendant say that the wounds of at least one of the women were caused by a .22 magnum, allegedly a favorite weapon of the Salvadoran death squads. Father Spain observed that the wounds of Sisters Ford and Clarke were small, did not disturb their facial features and were in other respects different from those of Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan. The physician and judge present were noncommittal about the wounds, and the subsequent autopsies performed on the churchwomen drew no conclusions about the caliber of the weapons used.

We can give little weight to the opinion of the funeral home attendant. The theory that a small caliber weapon was used does not comport with the confession of Guardsman Contreras Palacios, who testified that he and the others had used their service weapons. It is likewise inconsistent with the ballistics analysis of those shells and casings that were recovered. It is, of course, possible that a guardsman may have had a .22 magnum pistol, and could have used it to kill one or more of the women. Even if such a weapon were used, however, it does not add any evidence one way or the other about the involvement of others in the

J. Sister Maria Rieckelman

On the night of murders, Sister Maria Rieckelman, a Maryknoll nun who attended the Managua conference together with Sisters Ford and Clarke, was questioned by uniformed Salvadorans when her plane landed at the International Airport in El Salvador.[196/] This event had led some to conclude that some coordinated harassment of churchwomen was underway on the evening of December 2, 1980. We do not share that conclusion.

Without more, the questioning of passengers aboard a plane just arrived from Sandinista Nicaragua, suppliers of the rebels fighting the Salvadoran government, on the night before the FDR funeral, does not seem to us extraordinary. Rather, like the stop of the Canadians, it seems to us simply to be further proof of the heightened tensions of the time, tensions that may have caused Colindres Aleman to believe he could abduct and murder the churchwomen.

K. Sister Maura Clarke and the Nicaraguan Connection

Sisters Maura Clarke and Ita Ford were returning from an annual gathering of Central American Maryknolls in Nicaragua at the time of their murder. During our visit to El Salvador, we heard allegations that the Catholic Church, and specifically the Maryknoll Order, are linked in the minds of the military in El Salvador with support of leftist and revolutionary causes in Central America, especially as

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights

exemplified by Maryknoll links to the Sandinista government in Nicaragua. When we learned that a former Sandinista intelligence officer, Major Miguel Bolonas, had testified to at least one subcommittee of Congress (Senator Jeremiah Denton's Subcommittee on Security and Terrorism of the Senate Judiciary Committee that Sister Maura Clarke had a role in those alleged links, we felt obliged to interview Major Bolonas.[197] We did so not because his allegations against a murdered woman could justify such a senseless and wanton act, but to determine whether such charges were likely to have been made known to Subsergeant Colindres, Aleman or his superiors. We found our interview with Major Bolonas largely unhelpful.

Major Bolonas claimed that he met Sister Maura Clarke when she was working in Managua with other Maryknolls and a priest known as Father Miguel in a poor area of the city called "Open Three" in the period 1974-1975. Later in 1979, Bolonas claimed, during his work as an intelligence officer both prior to the revolution in Nicaragua and thereafter for the Sandinistas, he learned from another intelligence officer that Sister Clarke and other Maryknolls, along with Father Miguel, were routinely helpful to the Sandinistas both in their charitable activities and in clandestine activities. Major Bolonas stated that at the time of the murder of the nuns in El Salvador, when news of their deaths and their identities was reported in the Nicaraguan press,

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

stories appeared pointing out Maura Clarke's role in assisting the Sandinista revolution.

We have not had an opportunity to discuss Major Bolonas' charges with members of the Maryknoll Order, although we have learned from the State Department that the Maryknolls believe Major Bolonas to be mistaken in his information. We have been told that Maryknoll records indicate that Sister Maura Clarke was not in Nicaragua during the period 1976-1980, but rather was in Boston. It is our view, in any event, that the truth or falsity of Major Bolonas' charges is irrelevant for our purposes. What could be relevant is whether these charges were known to and believed by the Salvadoran government, and became such a concern that Salvadoran officials, believing that they knew Sister Maura Clarke to be a Sandinista ally, ordered her execution.

We do not believe that this occurred. First, although Major Bolonas' credibility is apparently high with United States intelligence agencies, we have received no other confirmation of his charges. Second, we have no indication that these alleged activities of Sister Maura Clarke were ever brought to the attention of the Salvadoran government or that they became the kind of common knowledge among the Salvadorn security forces that Major Bolonas claimed existed within the intelligence circles of the Sandinistas in Nicaragua. Third, as described in our "Higher-Ups" section, we have concluded that Subsergeant Colindres

Aleman probably acted on his own initiative. With this in mind, it does not appear likely that he somehow became aware of these allegations and decided to carry out the removal of four churchwomen in order to protect the Republic of El Salvador from infiltration by Sister Maura Clarke.

V. PROSPECTS FOR A SUCCESSFUL PROSECUTION

El Salvador is a civil law state. Virtually every step of a criminal investigation and prosecution is specified in the Salvadoran code, and we found the procedures to be formalistic and largely inflexible.

In an effort to understand how the prosecution is likely to unfold, we held discussions with Judge Rauda, Fiscal General Rivera, Dr. Castillo, the coordinating prosecutor, and former Deputy Fiscal General Benjamin Cestoni. We talked as well with members of the private bar in San Salvador, including the Salvadoran legal advisor to the United States Embassy. Finally, we discussed this matter with representatives of the United States Department of Justice, and with lawyers in the office of the Legal Adviser of the United States Department of State.

As we learned, the trial, or plenario, stage of this case will be quite unlike an American trial. There will be no live witnesses. Rather, the evidence will be read to the jury from the written statements taken from the witnesses during the investigatory, or sumario, stage.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Thereafter, the lawyers will argue their respective sides to the jury based on the written record. During this argument stage, the lawyers may refer to any documents they wish, even if they are not part of the record.

We believe that a successful prosecution of this case must include at least the following elements:

(1) a carefully prepared record that demonstrates the guilt of the defendants and negates their defenses;

(2) a capable prosecutor willing to pursue vigorously members of the Salvadoran security forces;

(3) a courageous and astute judge;

(4) a jury well insulated from the potential for corruption or intimidation; and

(5) freedom from efforts by other Salvadorans, whether in or out of government, to interfere with the proceedings of the trial.

A. The Record

In the course of detailing the investigations of this case, we have already catalogued the principal evidence now in the record against Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and the other guardsmen. During the sumario, or investigatory, phase, Judge Rauda took testimony from the five accused and at least twenty-five other witnesses.[198/] He admitted into

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

evidence the spare tire and jack taken from the churchwomen's van and the ballistics evidence linking the guardsmen to the shell casings at the murder site. We believe that the evidence is substantial, and sufficient to convict the five accused guardsmen. We will not recount it again here.

Dr. Castillo, the chief prosecutor, advised us that he anticipates the defendants will rely on two principal defenses. First, he believes they will challenge the prosecution's reliance on extra-judicial confessions, rather than those given before a judge. In El Salvador, prosecutions that do not feature a confession by the defendant to the investigating judge are relatively rare. Although this is a sad commentary on the state of justice in El Salvador, it nonetheless presents a reality: Salvadoran juries are unused to balancing conflicting accounts of a crime.

Salvadoran law permits the admission of a defendant's extra-judicial confession, but only if it is corroborated by another witness. As we understand it, the two witness rule does not mean two witnesses to the same confession, but only two witnesses each reporting a confession. The record should adequately meet this requirement. Of course, there is Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's direct confession to Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez. That confession should be adequately supported by Colindres Aleman's implicit confessions to Guardsmen Cruz Piche ("If fate is against us, we will have to pay"), Aquino Giron ("They were subversives.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

I do not think there will be a problem."), and Luis Monterrosa ("Today it happened; if our time is up, we will have to pay.").

Second, Dr. Castillo believes the defense will argue that there was excessive American involvement in this prosecution. In essence, the argument will be an appeal to nationalism and a suggestion that there has been undue influence from a foreign power. It was for this reason that the prosecutors were anxious to have Salvadoran witnesses even for evidence actually developed in the United States. It is also for this reason that the prosecutors were hesitant to urge aggressively the admission of the fingerprint and the polygraph evidence, when admission of those tests would not be ordinary under Salvadoran law and would only underscore the influence of the United States on this prosecution. In our discussions with Dr. Castillo, he seemed to be cognizant of the problem and able to deal with it effectively in argument.

A third defense suggested by some is that the defendants were acting on higher orders. As Dr. Castillo advised us, such a defense is not available under the Salvadoran code when the order is to commit an illegal act. The depravity of the crime, amply documented in the record, will provide a basis for a strong argument that no guardsman could have thought such an order was justified. We doubt, in any event, that the argument will be seriously pressed because it will necessarily involve an admission of the crime and a disavowal of the defendants' prior sworn statements.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

No experienced prosecutor can confidently predict that an accused's defenses will necessarily be rejected by the jury. We are convinced, however, that there is sufficient evidence in the record from which the prosecutors can argue that the defenses should be disregarded.

B. The Prosecutors

As the sumario stage of the case neared its conclusion, serious questions were raised about the experience and competence of the prosecutors handling the preparations for trial. In September, 1983, in part at the urging of the United States, an experienced prosecutor, Dr. Juan Geronimo Castillo, was assigned to coordinate the prosecution.

We spoke with Dr. Castillo and were, in general, favorably impressed. Dr. Castillo seemed in command of the case and at ease with the tasks he would have to undertake to complete the preparations for the plenario phase. He responded knowledgably to our questions about tactics and about Salvadoran procedures. We believe that Dr. Castillo is capable of doing a competent job in prosecuting the case.

As we describe below, during our visit to El Salvador, we made a number of suggestions concerning the reinterviews that might be necessary to complete the investigation of this case and its preparation for trial. Although we have received reports concerning the follow-up on those suggestions by Dr. Castillo and his team, we do not have a complete picture of how thoroughly he has completed his investigation. From the reports we have seen, however, most of the investigatory work appears to be near completion.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

We understand as well that the Embassy legal advisor, a professor of law and member of the private criminal bar in San Salvador, will assist Dr. Castillo in the preparation of the case. The Embassy legal advisor has advised the United States Embassy about Salvadoran law and procedures throughout the investigation. We believe this cooperation will provide important support for Dr. Castillo's efforts.

C. The Presiding Judge

Judge Rauda has presided over the sumario phase of the churchwomen murders case for most of its life, and has been reasonably thorough about the collection of evidence. Judge Rauda has thrice referred the case to the plenario stage, to be twice overruled by the appeals court. The two reversals resulted from technical difficulties (the first, a failure to give sufficient notice to the defense attorneys and, the second, a concern about additional evidence in support of the theft charges) and in its ruling on the first appeal, the appeals court specifically indicated that there was sufficient evidence to support the murder charges. The judge took the opportunity of each reversal to add more evidence into the trial record. There has been an appeal of Judge Rauda's most recent decision to refer the matter to plenario, and we are advised by a variety of local lawyers that the appeal is likely to be decided quickly because the same appellate court has heard the two previous appeals and is familiar with the facts.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Judge Rauda has shown himself to be a man of considerable courage, capable of resisting pressures brought to bear on him from either side of the case. He is also a diligent worker, and during our visit with him, displayed an encyclopedic knowledge of the contents of the trial record.

D. The Jury

The trial will be held before a jury of five, with a majority vote necessary to convict. Whether a jury can be assembled in El Salvador today that will have the courage to convict five former National Guardsmen of murder is an open question, and one that has concerned us greatly.

The selection of the jury does not differ substantially from our system. The trial judge will chose, from a large body of potential jurors, a panel of twelve whose identities he will (or should) keep secret until the day of trial. Under Salvadoran law, we were told the identities of the jurors will then be made public, although their addresses may be kept secret (if they do not leak out). At the beginning of the trial, defense counsel and the prosecutor may each exercise one peremptory challenge against the panel, and two challenges for cause. Challenges for cause are rarely granted, and there should thus be no difficulty in selecting five jurors from the panel of twelve.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

What will be more difficult, we believe, is guaranteeing the jurors security from intimidation or corruption so that they will be able to vote their consciences without fear. We believe that the notoriety of this case will make the jury (as well as the judge and prosecutor) fair game for those who wish to see the prosecution thwarted, whether because they do not believe the guardsmen should be prosecuted for murder or because they wish to demonstrate that the Salvadoran system is incapable of policing itself. For these reasons, we have discussed at length with the Embassy possible mechanisms to protect the jury.

Our recommendations in this regard have been set forth in detail in an earlier memorandum to the Department of State, and need only be summarized here. Our principal recommendation is that the jurors be accorded anonymity, as is sometimes done with notorious prosecutions in this country where a threat of jury intimidation exists. We have also suggested shielding the jurors, but not the trial, from public view; selecting jurors from a remote province for a trial in another province; offering to relocate the jurors,

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

whether in or out of the country, after trial; providing physical protection to the jurors, and perhaps their families, during the trial and for a reasonable time thereafter; and sequestering the jury during the trial.

This is hardly an exhaustive list of possibilities, but we have not been heartened by the resistance to these ideas by the Salvadoran authorities. The Salvadoran system simply must be flexible enough to adopt novel means when its very integrity is at stake. We must state in the strongest possible terms that we do not believe a successful conviction can occur without the adoption of some adequate means of protecting the jury, and we hope that the Salvadoran authorities continue to consider ways to protect the integrity of the jury system and the physical well being of the jurors themselves.

E. Freedom From Outside Interference

Skeptics have told us that a successful prosecution depends entirely upon the will of the military in El Salvador. In this view, if the military thinks it is to its advantage for the defendants to be convicted, they will be convicted; if the military thinks otherwise, they will be acquitted or never go to trial. Whether that view is correct or not, we must acknowledge that there are many Salvadorans unhappy about this prosecution and, further, that there already have been attempts to influence its outcome.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Major Medrano, we were told, has received multiple threats upon his life for his active role in pressing the investigation. In more recent months, we have learned that a Deputy of the constituent assembly suddenly appeared to observe the proceedings in Judge Rauda's courtroom, an event viewed by Embassy observers as ominous. At the same time, we learned that the Acting President of the Supreme Court may have interceded with Judge Rauda to direct that he not complete his investigation aimed at disproving the bogus Moran letter. To date, Judge Rauda has been remarkably courageous in resisting such efforts at intimidation.

We do not believe that there is much that the United States can do to prevent such internal efforts at disrupting the prosecution. We can only advise the Salvadoran leadership, as others have done, that the ability of its system to prosecute this case will be seen by many as a test of the system's ability to right itself after too many years of lawlessness.

VI. RECOMMENDATIONS

We were asked to determine whether the Salvadoran and United States Governments have done as much as could be done to assure a successful prosecution. If not, we were asked to suggest what might be done. Many of our recommendations have been set forth above. In each case, we have passed them along to the Department of State immediately

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

without waiting for the completion of this report, so that there would be time for action to be taken. To the extent that our conclusions and recommendations have not already been set forth, we include them in this section.

1. An Accusador Particular. In El Salvador, as in many civil law countries, it is possible for the family of the victim of a crime to hire its own lawyer, an accusador particular, to prosecute the case in addition to the government attorney. The device is obviously a desirable one where, as here, there have been doubts regularly expressed about the competence and willingness of the government prosecutors to pursue the case. Accordingly, we have endorsed the State Department's recommendation that the families hire an accusador particular. We have urged that view in several meetings with the families and their representatives and promised the families that, if they agreed, we would press the State Department to pay for the services of the accusador.

To our regret, the families have consistently refused taking this step. As we understand their reasoning, they are distrustful of participating in the Salvadoran system itself and further doubt that a suitable attorney could be obtained. While we understand their reservations, the device provides a rare opportunity for Americans sincerely interested in the prosecution to have direct influence over the way the case is presented in the courtroom.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Thus, we regret the families' refusal to participate in this proposal.

On the other hand, as matters now stand, we think the loss is less serious than it might have been. As noted above, we are generally impressed with Dr. Castillo and believe him to be more competent than some of his predecessors. Moreover, Dr. Castillo has forged a solid working relationship with the Embassy's legal advisor. Through the legal advisor, American views about the prosecution can readily be transmitted to the prosecutor, even if the families lack a direct voice in court.

2. A Special Prosecutor. Rather than hiring an accusador particular, the families and the Lawyers Committee for International Human Rights under Law have suggested the United States persuade the Salvadoran government to name a special prosecutor to handle the churchwomen murders case. We do not endorse this suggestion. We do not believe that, in the Salvadoran system, the label the prosecutor bears is of any significance to his effectiveness or to his freedom from interference. Moreover, in a real sense, Dr. Castillo is essentially a special prosecutor. He was especially reassigned from his duties as head of a separate section of the prosecutor's office to prosecute this case.

3. An American Prosecutor. None of the American Embassy officials in San Salvador with responsibility for this case is a practicing attorney, much less an experienced

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

prosecutor. While these officials have been diligent, successful and often courageous in pushing the Salvadorans to prosecute the defendants, as the case approaches trial it is apparent to us that American views could more usefully be presented by an experienced criminal prosecutor. Such a prosecutor could deal more effectively with the Salvadoran attorneys involved in the case in terms of making useful suggestions, understanding the problems of the prosecution and analyzing the tactics used by both sides. We have therefore suggested that a Spanish speaking Justice Department prosecutor be made available to assist the Embassy during the plenario proceeding.

4. The Fingerprint Evidence. Because the analysis of Colindres Aleman's fingerprint, taken from the churchwomen's van, was done outside of Salvadoran territorial limits and not under the supervision of the trial judge, the Salvadoran code prohibits its introduction into evidence. We were frankly surprised at this result and, because the evidence was so important, sought to explore ways to obtain its admission. Our every suggestion was unavailing, and we ultimately concluded, as Dr. Castillo and the Embassy legal advisor both told us, that we could not expect to achieve formal admission of the fingerprint into the record.

Although the fingerprint will not be part of the trial record, it still may be used at the trial. During the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

vista publica, or public presentation, stage of the proceedings, lawyers may display to the jury and rely upon any documentary evidence, even from outside the record. Thus, it is possible for the fingerprint evidence to be used. Because Dr. Castillo expects the defense to be based upon excessive American involvement in the prosecution, he was nonetheless reluctant to use the fingerprint in this way unless absolutely necessary. An argument based upon a fingerprint taken by United States personnel and inadmissible under Salvadoran law will only reinforce the point that Dr. Castillo expects the defense to make. Thus, he will wait until his reply argument to determine whether the defense is indeed attacking American involvement and whether the fingerprint will be useful. We concur in this analysis.

5. Ballistics Evidence. The initial ballistics tests taken by the FBI were inadmissible for the same reasons as the fingerprint evidence. We encouraged the FBI, as recounted above, to transport its equipment to El Salvador and train a Salvadoran national to duplicate the tests. This was done with success, as set forth above. This proof is a substantial link in the chain of evidence against the accused.

6. Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez' Testimony. Although the record of the trial consists entirely of sworn written statements of the witnesses, the sworn statement of Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez, obtained by the FBI in Los Angeles and sworn to in the Salvadoran Consulate office in that city, was deemed inadmissible by both the judge and the prosecutor. The statement's flaw was that it was not sworn to before the investigating judge. We recommended, as did others, that Sergeant Martinez be flown to El Salvador at American expense so that his statement could be duplicated before Judge Rauda. This was done successfully in July, 1983, and forms another important part of the trial record.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

7. Polygraph Evidence. Although the polygraph evidence is inadmissible in both El Salvador and the United States, we believe that such evidence is useful, when taken together with other available evidence and obtained by a skilled examiner. We considered whether an effort should be made to persuade the court to admit the evidence, and ultimately concluded that this was not the case in which to press El Salvador to accept evidence that would be inadmissible in the United States.

We are told that the polygraph examinations could be used in the vista publica in the same manner as the fingerprint evidence. Dr. Castillo has told us that he will await his reply argument before making a decision with respect to whether to use them. We agree with this decision, but would generally be inclined against using this evidence.

8. The Special Embassy Evidence. The special evidence developed by the United States Embassy is directly probative of the defendants' guilt and, as well, extremely important in explaining our conclusions about the cover-up

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

and the question of higher-up involvement. Accordingly, we believed it desirable, if at all possible, to present this evidence to the court.

At our suggestion, the State Department carefully considered this issue, including contacting those whose lives would be put at risk by disclosure. Based on the information thus collected, both we and the State Department concluded that the risk of loss of life that would result from public release was too great. We also note that the information has already been highly useful to the United States since, without it, we doubt the prosecution would ever have been undertaken.

9. The Cover-up. As we have detailed above, it is clear to us that elements of the Salvadoran military undertook an initial attempt to protect the perpetrators of the crime. In El Salvador such an effort, at least by the active participants, could constitute a separate crime and some have urged that a criminal investigation be initiated. We believe that it would be dangerous to initiate such an investigation prior to a successful resolution of the underlying murder case. The cooperation that the United States has achieved to date with Salvadoran authorities has been hard to win, and could be easily lost. A cover-up investigation would necessarily threaten several high ranking Salvadoran officials. If these officials feel personally threatened, they may well attempt to scuttle the underlying prosecution on the theory that there could be no cover-up prosecution if the defendants were not found guilty. We believe this poses an unacceptable risk to the success of the murder prosecution, and thus have recommended that any effort to pursue the cover-up be delayed.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

10. Additional Interviews. To flush out various gaps or inconsistencies in the record, we recommended last summer that several additional interviews occur:

(a) Margarito Perez Nieto, the National Guardsman who first noticed the nuns at the airport, to obtain more detail about his conversations with Colindres Aleman, and his spotting of the women.

(b) Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, the confessed participant, about details that might reflect or discredit the fact of premeditation.

(c) Salvador Rivera Franco, the guardsman who watched over the malfunctioning jeep, for greater details that might reflect premeditation.

(d) The two guardsmen at the guardpost at El Rosario, La Paz, to determine whether they discussed the women with Subsergeant Colindres and whether he informed them about his plans for the women.

(e) Isabel Aquino Giron, Colindres Aleman's second in command at the airport, for further detail about the substance of his phone conversation late on the evening of December 2.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

(f) Jose Luis Monterrosa, who according to the special Embassy evidence, knew more than he had said about the guilt of Colindres Aleman.

In our discussions with the United States Embassy in San Salvador, and with the Department of State, we also agreed that certain other interviews or reinterviews would be appropriate: Colonel Pena Arbaiza, the Army commander in Chalatenango; Second Lieutenant Daniel Mejia Rivas, the officer who was the acting company commander with overall responsibility for the Airport National Guard detachment; and Lieutenant Colonel Oscar Armando Carranza, an officer currently assigned to National Guard Headquarters staff. We also agreed that additional guardsmen who had been on duty at the airport that night, Jose Vidal Cruz Piche, Rafael Antonio Cornejo, Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman, Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza, Adrian Ramirez Palacios, and Orantes Menjivar, should also be interviewed or reinterviewed.

We have been informed that the two guardsmen at the Guard post at El Rosario have been interviewed, but we have not seen their statements. Guardsman Margarito Perez Nieto has been missing in action for almost ten months, and Corporal Isabel Aquino Giron is dead, killed while on active duty. We also understand, for a number of practical reasons, that the Salvadoran prosecutors have determined that they would not at this time reinterview Salvador Rivera Franco.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Colonel Pena Arbaiza, Lieutenant Mejia Rivas and Lieutenant Colonel Armando Carranza have also been interviewed, as have Guardsmen Contreras Palacios and Luis Monterrosa. Their testimony adds very little to the available evidence concerning the murders. Guardsmen Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman and Jose Vidal Cruz Piche have not been reinterviewed, because they cannot be located, and a planned "confrontation" by the Fiscal General between Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza and Adrian Ramirez Palacios to resolve apparent discrepancies in their testimonies has not occurred because of a refusal by Valle Espinoza to cooperate further. Guardsman Orantes Menjivar, whose reinterview had been planned, is dead, and it has been determined that Lieutenant Antonio Cornejo, whose interview had been planned, was not on duty at the airport on the crucial night.

11. Reinterview of Colindres Aleman. Colindres Aleman, more than any other person, knows whether he is protecting higher officers by his silence. Thus, securing his cooperation would be a key step in any possible higher-up investigation. We suggested that efforts be made in that direction when we returned in September, 1983, from our trip to El Salvador. So far as we were aware at the time of our suggestion, no military or civilian authorities involved with the investigation of the case had spoken with Colindres Aleman since his polygraph examination in January, 1982. We suggested that, if Colindres Aleman heard the totality of the evidence now accumulated against him, he might decide it was in his interest to cooperate.

At first, we were told that Salvadoran procedures do not encourage such reinterviews. The prosecutors agreed, however, that there could be reinterviews for the purpose of clearing up ambiguities in testimony or otherwise explaining previous testimony. On October 11, 1983, Colindres Aleman was reinterviewed and we have reviewed the English language translation of his statement. Unfortunately, we do not find in the reinterview statement the cooperativeness for which we had hoped, nor any further information that would be helpful to us on the issue of the involvement of higher-ups. In his reinterview, however, Colindres Aleman did provide a further indication of his guilt by admitting his discussion with Perez Nieto concerning the churchwomen and by providing a wholly incredible explantion of his whereabouts on the night of the murders.

12. Change of Venue. For some time, the prosecutors have been giving serious consideration to requesting a change of venue to San Salvador for the plenario stage of the trial. We have supported a change of venue. Judge Rauda's small and rustic courtroom in Zacatecoluca has struck us as a less than desirable location for a trial involving a substantial risk of jury intimidation. Moreover, the more cosmopolitan San Salvador jury pool, we have thought, presents a far better opportunity for assembling a jury that could resist such intimidation. If the trial were to be transferred to San Salvador, however, we are told that it would be unlikely, if not impossible, for Judge Rauda to preside over the trial.

Thus, a transfer to San Salvador would necessitate a change of trial judge, which necessarily presents some risk. We were told by both Dr. Benjamin Cestoni and the Embassy's Salvadoran legal advisor that only three San Salvador judges would be desirable, from the standpoint of experience, competence and sophistication, to preside over the plenario stage. Selection of another, less qualified judge could cause problems for the prosecution, although they might be minimized by the extremely low-profile role that the judge plays in the plenario proceeding. On balance, we would have some concern that the selection of the trial judge might be politicized. The selection would be made by the Salvadoran Supreme Court, at least one member of which, we were told, has already tried to restrict Judge Rauda's investigation.

We have learned most recently that Dr. Castillo is leaning against seeking a change of venue because of a growing belief in El Salvador that the United States is interfering unduly in the internal judicial affairs of the country, a feeling that could result in sympathy for the accused as scapegoats, and thus distract the jury from issues of guilt or innocence. In view of this concern and of the conflict-

14/ The exact time of Sister Kazel's and Ms. Donovan's return to the airport is unknown. We estimate their return to be during this period based on the statements of various witnesses at the airport and estimates of others familiar with the events of that day. See, e.g., Letter from Sister Helene O'Sullivan, M.M., to The Honorable William H. Webster, Director, FBI (July 29, 1982), wherein Sister O'Sullivan states that Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan returned to the airport at about 6:00 p.m. Perez Nieto stated that the women returned at about 5:00 p.m., with two men, in a coffee-colored car, and the van was driven by a man alone. We believe that Perez Nieto was confused by the arrival of Father Britto and his group, who arrived at the airport to meet the Canadian delegation to the FDR funerals in a jeep and a white van. See Medrano Report at 44 (Perez Nieto Statement) and Statement of John C. Hilborn (January 14, 1981).

15/ Bowdler/Rogers Report.

16/ Medrano Report at 38 (Giron Statement). Neither Perez Nieto nor Colindres Aleman have admitted to a second telephone call. In fact, Perez Nieto denied seeing the women return to the airport, see Medrano Report at 44. However, Colindres Aleman's second in command, Aquino Giron, swore that Colindres Aleman received a call from Perez Nieto at about 5:30 p.m. (his subsequent court testimony put the time at between 4:30 p.m. and 5:00 p.m., see Appellate Court Decision at 16) concerning suspicious women in the airport. This suggests that there may have been a second call. If Giron was confused as to the times, of course, there may have been only one call, but we do not regard the number of calls from Perez Nieto to be of critical importance.

17/ Medrano Report at 43, 44 (Perez Nieto Statement). Perez Nieto returned to the barracks at some point prior to or at the end of his scheduled duty (7:00 p.m.). In his recent statement, Colindres Aleman admitted that Perez Nieto returned to the barracks about 6:00 p.m. and discussed the earlier departure of Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan. While acknowledging this conversation, he again denied his guilt.

24/ Id. at 70 (Contreras Palacios Statement), and 75 (Rivera Franco Statement). Retired Guardsman Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza, in his testimony of August 9, 1982 (see Cable from United States Embassy, San Salvador, to Secretary of State, Washington, D.C. (September 22, 1982)), stated that he was part of another checkpoint between the traffic control post (which probably was the Cornejo Cubas/Luis Monterrosa/Cruz Piche checkpoint) and Colindres Aleman's position. He testified that several guardsmen boarded the churchwomen's van at the traffic control post, and then drove to his location, where he and two more guardsmen boarded the van. He said that the van proceeded to Colindres Aleman's site, where he (Valle Espinoza) and the other guardsmen in the van left the churchwomen and returned to the airport on foot. Although this testimony is consistent with the churchwomen's abduction by Colindres Aleman, its description of the mechanics of the kidnapping is contradicted by statements of the guardsmen at the checkpoint, and by the two guardsmen with Colindres Aleman who have admitted their roles in the abduction and murders. We thus reject this testimony as, whatever Valle Espinoza's motivations, inaccurate.

THE CHURCHWOMEN MURDERS:

A REPORT TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE

INTRODUCTION

In the early days of December, 1980, four American churchwomen, Ita Ford, Maura Clarke, Dorothy Kazel and Jean Donovan, disappeared and were later found murdered in the Central American Republic of El Salvador. Occurring at a time of increasing concern about the growing violence in that country, the killings and the resulting criminal investigations have provoked intense interest, frequent frustration and occasional dismay in the United States as the citizens of this country have observed the workings of the Salvadoran justice system as it first investigated, and eventually sought to prosecute, those responsible for the killings.

From the outset, the handling of the case by Salvadoran authorities has been caught up in Congressional deliberations about the larger questions of American military, diplomatic and economic involvement with the Republic of El Salvador. But many of the questions, in Congress and out, focused on this case: Have the true killers been identified? Were higher-ups involved? Was there an attempt to cover-up the crime or conceal the murderers? Do the Salvadoran authorities have the will and the capacity to handle the prosecution of this and similar crimes of violence involving members of the security forces?

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

By the spring of 1983, five National Guardsmen had been accused of the crime, but their detention for over two years did not make the prospect of a speedy trial seem propitious. Increasingly, members of Congress, the families of the murdered churchwomen and other citizens asked with legitimate concern whether the Salvadoran government was serious about prosecuting the responsible parties and whether the United States was doing as much as it could to encourage the prosecution.

On April 26, 1983, the Secretary of State reported to the Chairman of the Foreign Operations Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee that he had directed an "independent and high-level review of all the evidence available to the United States government pertaining to the churchwomen's case."[1/] By a letter dated May 23, 1983, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs James H. Michel, on behalf of the Department of State, requested that I conduct this review.[2/] Mr. Michel, and thereafter, the Deputy Secretary of State, Kenneth Dam, pledged the full cooperation of all concerned Federal agencies.

Together with my colleagues, Togo D. West, Jr. and Gregory L. Diskant, I have reviewed the evidence. In the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

process, we have received the cooperation that was pledged to us. Since May, we have had access to pertinent State Department files, both classified and unclassified, including the numerous cables that had been transmitted between the State Department and the United States Embassy in San Salvador on this matter. We have had similar access to the classified and unclassified files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and of other pertinent agencies as well. No documents necessary to our inquiry have been withheld from us.

We have talked extensively with present and former government officials of both countries who have been involved in the various investigations of this unfortunate tragedy. The State Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation have been especially helpful in bringing their personnel from locations far removed from the cities of Washington, D.C. and New York, our principal bases of operations, for whatever interviews we have deemed necessary. Our discussions have included interviews with personnel presently assigned to the United States Embassy in San Salvador and with those who were assigned to that Embassy during the time of the earlier investigations into the murders. We have consulted with Salvadoran prosecutors, with Salvadoran attorneys in and out of government, and with representatives of the Catholic Church in both this country and El Salvador.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

For obvious reasons, we have sought to maintain a particularly close liaison with the representatives of the families of the victims. Our conversations with those representatives, the Lawyers' Committee for International Human Rights Under Law, and with members of the Maryknoll Order, have been characterized by candor and cooperativeness on the part of those who met with us. These groups have made their files available to us and have patiently assisted us in our efforts to determine how we could increase the likelihood that the perpetrators of these crimes will be brought to justice.

Our mission has had both sobering and heartening aspects. To an extent that is impossible to detail in this report, the criminal justice system in El Salvador is in a state of disrepair.[3/] A handful of inexperienced, under-educated, and occasionally corrupt prosecutors represent a society that seems to have lost its will to bring to justice those who commit serious crimes against it. Intimidation and corruption of prosecutors, judges and juries are widespread, and a rigid legal system renders successful prosecutions all the more difficult. The military exerts a pervasive influence over the nation and, as will be documented herein, has sought to shield from justice even those who commit the most atrocious crimes.

There are some bright spots. Some Salvadorans, most notably Judge Bernardo Rauda Murcia and Lieutenant

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Colonel Jose Adolfo Medrano, have exhibited the courage, independence and fortitude to pursue an unpopular investigation of the crime in a country where the price for such vigilance is all too often sudden and brutal death. Representatives of United States Government agencies, particularly the Department of State and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, have been vigorous and effective in pressing the Salvadorans to investigate and prosecute this crime and, when the prosecution was finally underway, in rendering critical investigative and technical assistance. At least one United States Government officer has repeatedly exposed himself to great personal danger to obtain evidence crucial to the investigation. We believe the American public, and the families, can ask no more than that from their representatives.

SUMMARY

Five former members of the El Salvador National Guard are now in custody and charged with the murder of the four churchwomen: Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Daniel Canales Ramirez and Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura. Perhaps our most important conclusion is that these men in fact committed the crime and that the evidence of their guilt is overwhelming. Not all of the evidence is admissible in the Salvadoran courts, but that which is

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

remains compelling. The admissible evidence consists of partially incriminating statements by the defendants themselves, including one complete confession; statements by their former colleagues in the National Guard, including those who participated in the abduction of the women and those to whom the defendants made incriminating statements following the crime; statements of other third-party witnesses; and technical evidence developed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the form of ballistics tests linking two of the defendants' weapons to the crime.

The inadmissible evidence renders the guilt of the defendants even more clear. This consists of polygraph examinations that the defendants failed, a fingerprint of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman found on the van in which the churchwomen were traveling, and highly confidential information collected by the United States Embassy through the efforts of an Embassy official at great personal risk. The reliability of this information has been proved certain, but we are convinced that lives would be endangered by public revelation of this evidence or its sources. (We shall refer to this information in our report as "special Embassy evidence.") With respect to each category of inadmissible evidence, we have explored whether in some manner it could be introduced as part of the prosecution case. In each instance, although with varying degrees of certainty, we have concluded that the evidence cannot be used.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

The evidence taken as a whole shows irrefutably that the five defendants, following the orders of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman, kidnapped the women at a checkpoint outside the El Salvador Airport on December 2, 1980. They rode through the countryside to a remote location some fifteen miles from the airport, where they raped and murdered the women. Thereafter, the National Guardsmen drove the church-women's van to another remote location and set it afire.

The first reaction of the Salvadoran authorities to the murder was, tragically, to conceal the perpetrators from justice. Evidence available to the United States, including the special Embassy evidence, shows beyond question that Colindres Aleman confessed his involvement in the crime to ranking members of the National Guard within days of the murder. They responded by concealing this fact from the outside world, and ordering the transfer of the killers from their airport posts and the switching of their weapons to make detection more difficult.

At a minimum, then Major Lizandro Zepeda Velasco, the National Guard officer in charge of the Guard's internal investigation, was aware of the identity of the killers and participated in these acts. Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez, Colindres Aleman's immediate superior, has admitted that he also knew of Colindres Aleman's guilt. We believe it is probable that Colonel Roberto Monterrosa, head of the government's official investigation of the crime, was aware of the identity of the killers and, further, that he participated in the cover-up by purposely failing to provide Colindres Aleman's fingerprints to the United States for analysis. We believe as well that it is quite possible that Colonel Carlos Eugenio Vides Casanova, then head of the National Guard and now a General and Minister of Defense, was aware of, and for a time acquiesced in, the cover-up.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

The cover-up was shattered in April, 1981, when officials of the United States Embassy identified the killers through their own investigation. This effort, although significantly assisted by ballistics and fingerprint work performed by the FBI, came principally by the development of the special Embassy evidence by an Embassy officer. The special Embassy evidence first provided identification of the perpetrators to the United States. When the Embassy learned the defendants' names, it pressed Salvadoran authorities to arrest them. At that point, Colonel Vides Casanova, the Director of the Salvadoran National Guard, ordered the arrest of the men.

Thereafter, Salvadoran prosecution efforts continued to stall, although the men were at least incarcerated. Finally, in December, 1981, a year after the killings and again responding to United States pressure, the Salvadoran government undertook a serious investigation of the crime. National Guard Major (now Lieutenant Colonel) Adolfo Medrano led a group of detectives from the Salvadoran

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

National Police and others in the first concentrated gathering of evidence by the Salvadoran authorities. With technical assistance from the FBI, the Medrano working group collected statements of witnesses tying the defendants to the crime, including reports of extrajudicial confessions by Colindres Aleman. This evidence supported the discharge of the accused guardsmen from the National Guard in February, 1982, so that they could be tried in the civilian courts and their remand to the custody of the civilian trial judge. The evidence gathered by the Medrano working group remains the principal evidence against the accused.

The technical support provided the Salvadoran authorities by the FBI has been simply outstanding. Fingerprint and ballistics tests by Bureau personnel provided initial corroboration of the special Embassy evidence and directly linked the defendants to the crime. Beyond technical expertise, however, Bureau agents in the United States thoroughly interviewed relevant witnesses and obtained significant information. By the artful use of the polygraph as an investigative tool, the Bureau obtained a statement from Colindres Aleman's former superior reporting a critical confession by Colindres. The FBI sent polygraph examiners to El Salvador, who interviewed the defendants and other witnesses and, again by using the test as an investigative tool, produced important incriminatory statements.

The question whether Colindres Aleman was ordered to commit this crime by higher-ups is a troubling one. To the extent the Salvadoran authorities have investigated this matter, their inquiry is not nearly as complete as we would have liked. There is some evidence suggesting the involvement of higher-ups: most importantly, two low ranking guardsmen have testified that, in ordering them to participate, Colindres Aleman told them he was acting on higher orders.

On the other hand, there is evidence to the contrary, which we tend to credit. As we set forth in detail below, the circumstances of the crime itself and Colindres Aleman's behavior during its commission are, in our view, inconsistent with an assault on the churchwomen ordered from above. Post-murder statements by Colindres Aleman to his colleagues and his superior, along with the special Embassy evidence, provide what we believe to be additional compelling evidence of lack of higher involvement. Although it is unlikely that a dispositive answer will ever be known, we record here our best judgment: on the basis of the evidence available to us, we believe that Colindres Aleman acted on his own initiative.

Although the evidence of the defendants' guilt is, in our view, substantial, we cannot be certain that the case will be successfully prosecuted. In October, 1983, the case was finally elevated to the plenario, essentially the trial

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

stage, after over a year and a half in the sumario or investigative stage. This means that, at best, we can expect a trial by the spring of 1984. The newly-assigned senior prosecutor is a veteran attorney and, based on our discussions with him, appears competent to present the prosecution's case.

Nonetheless, the prosecutor must convince a majority of a jury of five, and in El Salvador juries have, understandably, been routinely subject to intimidation. Moreover, we are told that corruption of both juries and judges is an everyday event. Finally, if the system were not already weak enough, we are under the impression that this case is a relatively rare effort to prosecute members of the Salvadoran military in the civilian courts for crimes committed on duty. For these reasons, we view the likelihood of a conviction of the defendants by a jury of Salvadoran citizens to depend substantially on whether the jurors can be assured that they can vote their consciences without fear.

Under current Salvadoran procedures, the jurors must be publicly identified and hear the evidence in public. These procedures are, of course, desirable in a stable society, but hardly leave a jury with any sense of security in the Salvadoran system. We have pressed the Salvadoran authorities to undertake a variety of novel means to protect the jury or guarantee their anonymity. Unfortunately, for whatever reasons, the authorities have not yet looked with favor upon the introduction of unprecedented methods into their system of jury selection and protection. Thus, we must reluctantly close on a discouraging note: unless the jury can be safeguarded, we would be foolhardy to predict the conviction of these defendants.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

I. THE MURDERS

As in any criminal prosecution, the facts of the crime are disputed, at least by the defendants. Although one of the defendants has confessed, the remaining accused killers maintain their innocence and present a joint alibi. In analyzing the facts of the crime, we have weighed all of the information available to us, whether or not admissible under the Salvadoran system and whether or not public. We have rejected the alibis of the non-confessing defendants as self-serving fabrications. We set forth below what we believe actually happened, resolving differences in the testimony by giving greater weight to the witnesses whose reliability we believe to have been proven. Significant differences between the facts stated herein and the testimony of other witnesses are indicated in the footnotes.

In the fall of 1980, El Salvador was suffering through a period of severe political volatility. Increasing violence by both right-wing and left-wing groups had heightened tensions. Terrorist acts were being committed against

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

government officials, ministry buildings, foreign embassies, universities, churches and factories with growing regularity. Thousands of Salvadorans had been murdered as part of a vicious reign of terror, the majority allegedly by rightist elements.[4/]

On November 27, 1980, yet another outbreak of political killing occurred. Six leaders of the Salvadoran opposition, the Democratic Revolutionary Front (FDR), were tortured and murdered after their abduction from a school in San Salvador by a band of several hundred men. The bodies of the slain leaders lay in state at the Cathedral in San Salvador for several days, and their funeral was to be held on December 3, 1980.[5/] Their supporters urged a large turnout for the funeral, and many in the Salvadoran government and military feared an outburst of public violence, possibly as great as that experienced during the funeral of Archbishop Oscar Arnuldo Romero in March, 1980. The country was gripped by palpable tension and fear.

On November 26, 1980, the day before the FDR assassinations, Sisters Ita Ford and Maura Clarke of the Maryknoll Order had traveled from their station at Chalatenango, El Salvador, to an annual gathering of Central American Maryknolls in Managua, Nicaragua.[6/] Upon their return to El Salvador on December 2, 1980, the day before the FDR funerals, they, along with two other Maryknoll nuns (Sisters Madeline Dorsey and Teresa Alexander), were to be met at the airport by Sister Dorothy Kazel, an Ursuline nun, and Ms. Jean Donovan, a lay volunteer.[7] Sisters Ford and Clarke, returning to El Salvador from Nicaragua in the midst of unprecedented tension throughout El Salvador, never reached their destination; nor did their escorts, Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

From the available evidence, events unfolded on that tragic December 2 as follows. Some time after midday, Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan drove to the International Airport to meet the four Maryknoll nuns in a white Toyota "Hiace" van.[8] They parked in the parking lot in front of the main passenger terminal at about 2:00 p.m.[9] Their arrival was noticed by a Salvadoran National Guardsman patrolling in front of the terminal, Margarito Perez Nieto.[10] His attention, he later stated, was attracted by the fact that one of the churchwomen had returned to the vehicle to retrieve a large bag capable of carrying a weapon, and by their apparently watchful attitude toward him. Perez Nieto mentally recorded their arrival and returned to his patrol.

Inside the terminal, the Lanica flight that Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan were to meet arrived at 2:30 p.m., carrying only two of the four nuns expected, Sisters Madeline Dorsey and Teresa Alexander.[11] Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan determined that they would drive the two nuns to La Libertad and return later to meet the remaining two Maryknoll nuns.[12] Guardsman Perez Nieto observed their departure in the white

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Toyota van at about 3:15 p.m. He telephoned his detachment commander at the airport, Subsergeant Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman, to report that he suspected the women of having weapons in their travel bags. Colindres Aleman told Perez Nieto to be careful.[13/]

Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan returned to the airport to meet Sisters Ford and Clarke, the remaining two Maryknoll nuns, sometime between 4:30 and 6:00 p.m.[14/] Sisters Ford and Clarke arrived on a COPA (Campania Panamena de Aviacion, the Panamanian Airlines) flight at about 6:30 p.m.,[15/] and were met by Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan. At some point, the churchwomen were again observed by Guardsman Perez Nieto, who apparently notified Subsergeant Colindres Aleman again of their activities.[16/] Perez Nieto's tour of duty ended at 7:00 p.m. and at that time (or earlier) he returned to the National Guard barracks. He reported his observations in greater detail to Colindres Aleman.[17/]

At this point, we believe, Colindres Aleman decided that he would stop the churchwomen. Although there is no evidence that he knew their identities, he apparently believed, based on his guard's observations, that they were "subversives." Although in our system these observations would usually not be enough even to justify an airport stop for questioning, in El Salvador in 1980, particularly on the eve of the burial of the FDR leaders, these grounds for suspicion were more than adequate. If Colindres Aleman could obtain

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

evidence that the women were carrying weapons, or even "subversive" literature, his status in the Guard would be enhanced.

There is no reason to believe that Colindres Aleman necessarily had murder on his mind from the outset. At a minimum, however, he knew he was up to no good. He ordered five guardsmen, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Daniel Canales Ramirez, Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura, and Salvador Rivera Franco, to change out of their uniforms into civilian clothes. He instructed the five men to accompany him with their service rifles and ammunition.[18] Shortly after 7:00 p.m., Colindres Aleman, the five guardsmen in civilian attire and Perez Nieto, in uniform, drove in a National Guard jeep to the traffic checkpoint near the airport entrance.[19]

At the checkpoint, Colindres Aleman instructed Perez Nieto to stop all traffic at the checkpoint for approximately ten minutes, but to allow the "white van" carrying the churchwomen to pass without hinderance.[20] Colindres Aleman left Perez Nieto at the checkpoint, along with the uniformed guardsmen already on duty there, Luis Napoleon Cornejo Cubas, Jose Vidal Cruz Piche, and Jose Luis Monterrosa.[21] After rounding a bend in the airport access road, and nearing the first toll station for the as yet unfinished highway between San Salvador and the airport,

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Colindres Aleman and the five guardsmen, all in civilian clothes, took up positions on the road and awaited the arrival of the white van.[22]

Meanwhile, at the airport, the four churchwomen retrieved the luggage of Sisters Ford and Clarke and left the terminal in their white van. At the airport traffic checkpoint, Guardsman Perez Nieto, following instructions, allowed the van to pass through. He detained all other traffic for about ten minutes,[23] and then returned to the National Guard headquarters.

Passing the checkpoint, the churchwomen arrived at Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's position. They were stopped and ordered to vacate the van.[24] The guardsmen searched the van and questioned the women. Thereupon, Colindres Aleman ordered them back into the van together with Guardsmen Contreras Recinos, Canales Ramirez and Moreno Canjura.[25] Contreras Recinos drove the van and, with Colindres Aleman and Guardsmen Contreras Palacios and Rivera Franco following in the National Guard jeep,[26] the small convoy started its journey fifteen miles into the hills of El Salvador.

Shortly thereafter the jeep developed engine trouble. After a brief stop for temporary repair, the two vehicles made it to the National Guard command post at the town of El Rosario La Paz.[27] There, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman telephoned the airport and instructed his second in command, Corporal Isabel Aquino Giron, to send another

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

vehicle to El Rosario to retrieve them.[28] The jeep was then left at the Guard post, with Guardsman Rivera Franco to guard it.[29]

The five other guardsmen crowded into the small van with the four churchwomen and proceeded in the direction of Zacatecoluca. At the intersection of the road to San Pedro Nonualco, the van left the main road and drove for another six kilometers, finally turning off onto a dirt lane.[30] At a deserted site along the lane, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman directed Guardsman Contreras Recinos to bring the van to a halt, and ordered the women out of the van.[31] The guardsmen sexually assaulted the women. Then, at Colindres Aleman's orders, they shot the women dead with their service rifles, leaving the bodies along the roadside as they fell.[32] The guardsmen, upon completion of their grisly mission, then returned to El Rosario La Paz in the van.

In the interim, Corporal Giron had sought from the commander of the Customs Police at the airport, Juan de Dios Barrera Rivera, a vehicle with which to pick up Colindres Aleman and his men.[33] Barrera Rivera assigned Victor Melgar Garay to drive a blue Customs Police pick-up truck[34] to El Rosario La Paz, where, accompanied by Guardsman Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza, Melgar Garay found Guardsman Rivera Franco guarding the disabled jeep.[35] The three were waiting when Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and the other guardsmen returned without the women at approximately 11:00 p.m.[36]

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Climbing into the cab of the truck, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman instructed Melgar Garay to drive back onto the highway in the direction of La Libertad.[37] Followed by the white Toyota Hiace van, the truck proceeded along the coast road until ordered by Colindres Aleman to stop.[38] After the guardsmen had removed several items from the van to the blue Customs pick-up truck,[39] Guardsman Contreras Recinos opened the middle door of the van and, with the help of Contreras Palacios and Moreno Canjura, poured aviation fuel on the inside and outside of the van and set it afire.[40]

Near midnight, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his men returned to the airport in the blue pick-up truck.[41] Upon his return, Colindres Aleman took the van's spare tire and jack, and several articles of women's clothing to the barracks.[42] Later, several of the guardsmen, with Colindres Aleman, burned this clothing and certain other articles taken from the churchwomen.[43] On December 3, Colindres Aleman took the spare tire and jack to a nearby farm camp and left them there with a friend for safekeeping.[44]

Early in the morning of December 3, 1980, villagers from Santiago Nonualco, a remote village fifteen miles northeast of the airport, found the bodies of the four churchwomen sprawled along the roadside.[45] One of the villagers contacted the local Militia Commander, Jose Dolores Melendez, to report the discovery.[46] Shortly thereafter, two National Guardsmen and three Civil Guardsmen

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

arrived at the scene, and ordered the preparation of a common grave.[47] The local Justice of the Peace, Juan Santos Ceron, was summoned by the Militia Commander, and authorized the immediate burial of the women as "unknowns," an unfortunate practice that had become common in El Salvador.[48]

When Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan failed to return to La Libertad, Father Paul Schindler, an American priest working in La Libertad, contacted the United States Consul in San Salvador, Patricia Lasbury (now Patricia Lasbury Hall), on December 3.[49] Ms. Lasbury then informed the Chief of National Police of the women's disappearance. Salvadoran Defense Minister Garcia was also notified.[50] A nationwide search was promised.

In an attempt to locate the women himself, Father Schindler set out to search along the coastal road leading from La Libertad to the airport. On the evening of December 3, he found the burned-out shell of the churchwomen's van where it had been abandoned along the coastal road.[51] Its license plates were missing, and the van could be identified only by the serial numbers on the engine block.[52]

Meanwhile, word began to circulate in the community that four female Caucasian "unknowns" had been found dead and buried in Santiago Nonualco. A local parish priest heard the news and informed the Vicar of the San Vicente diocese. In turn, the Vicar notified the United States Embassy that the bodies of the American churchwomen had been found.[53]

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Upon learning the news, United States Ambassador Robert White went immediately to the murder site, where he found Father Schindler, who also had been notified by the parish priest of the discovery of the bodies.[54] The Secretary of the Justice of the Peace arrived and gave permission for the removal of the bodies from the grave.[55] All four women had been shot in the head; the face of one had been destroyed.[56] The underwear of three of the women was found separately, along with bloody bandanas.[57] Brief medical examinations were performed that day, but no autopsies.[58] Sisters Ford and Clarke were buried in Chalatenango; Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan, in the United States.[59]

II. THE INVESTIGATIONS

Despite the numbing regularity with which innocents in El Salvador have been subjected to crimes of violence, the rape and murder of the four American churchwomen provoked immediate international outrage. The Salvadoran government responded by publicly promising a full investigation, and the United States pledged its complete assistance. The actions of the United States and its representatives to investigate the crime and to bring the perpetrators to justice have been remarkable. Quite simply, we believe that the killers would never have been identified and the evidence of their guilt never properly assembled had it not been for the efforts, often courageous, of United States personnel.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

The efforts of Salvadoran officials, on the other hand, have been mixed. Despite the public promise of a full and complete investigation, the actual initial Salvadoran government response appears to have been to do everything possible to conceal the perpetrators of the crime. The identities of the killers were known to officials of the Salvadoran National Guard within days of the murders. Nonetheless, the official response to this information ranged from indifference to active cover-up. It was only after a year had passed, and the killers had been identified by the United States, that a competent group of Salvadoran officials undertook a thorough investigation of the crime and assembled the evidence that forms the basis for the prosecutions. The men who performed that task, led by Major Medrano, and the judge who inherited the case and completed the investigation, Judge Bernardo Murcia Rauda, performed difficult work under the most dangerous of circumstances. They deserve the praise and gratitude of all those who have sought to see justice done in this case.

A. The Zepeda and Monterrosa Investigations

Within days of the murders, Salvadoran authorities commissioned two investigations, one public and one private, both with apparently the same objective: to create a written record absolving the Salvadoran security forces of responsibility for the murders. The public investigation was in the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

form of a commission headed by Colonel Roberto Monterrosa, then director of the Armed Forces Studies Center and later commander of the Salvadoran Navy. The private investigation, commissioned by the National Guard itself, was headed by Major Lizandro Zepeda Velasco. In his interview with us, Colonel Monterrosa was surprisingly candid about his purpose. He stated that his investigatory commission had flatly rejected the possibility that security forces were involved in the murder, not because of the absence of evidence, but because their involvement, if proved, would cause serious consequences for the armed forces "from a political point of view."60/

The failure of either Zepeda or the Monterrosa Commission to pursue a serious investigation is obvious, for the evidence of the defendants' culpability was readily available for gathering. As we will note below, the murderers made no attempt whatever to conceal their culpability from other National Guardsmen. Not only had several guardsmen witnessed the churchwomen's abduction, but the defendants repeatedly conceded their guilt to their colleagues following the killing. For instance, at a meeting called by Colonel Vides Casanova within days of the murders to ask whether any National Guardsmen were responsible, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman approached his immediate supervisor, Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez and reported that, "the problem regarding the nuns is me." Martinez advised Colindres Aleman to be silent about the crime, but to admit his role if questioned by a National Guard officer.[61]

The National Guard officer assigned in December, 1980 to investigate the crime was Major Zepeda.[62] Zepeda interviewed Colindres Aleman, as well as other guardsmen on duty at the airport on the night of December 2.[63] Although all the witnesses whom Zepeda purportedly interviewed had at least partial knowledge of the facts of the crime--knowledge that they later confessed to Major Medrano--Zepeda blithely reported that no one remembered anything out of the ordinary about that evening. His perfunctory written report, turned over to the United States many months later, concludes "[i]t is not proven in this report that elements of the National Guard had any participation in the death of the four North American religious [sic]."[64]

In fact, the written Zepeda report was a sham. Indeed, it made so little an impression on Major Zepeda himself that, when we interviewed him in September, 1983, he insisted that his reporting had been oral only.[65] He persisted in this position even when we told him that we had seen copies of written reports. Zepeda may have remembered only an oral report because it was undoubtedly only orally that he would have communicated his true findings: that National Guardsmen led by Colindres Aleman had committed the murders.

Information derived by the United States Embassy from the special Embassy evidence shows unequivocably that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman followed precisely Sergeant Martinez' recommendation. When Major Zepeda questioned Colindres Aleman in the days following the crime, he confessed his role in the murders to the National Guard investigating officer.

Major Zepeda did not betray Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's trust. Rather, he undertook a course of action in the winter and spring of 1981 to protect Colindres Aleman and the other killers. Of course, he issued a written report absolving the guardsmen of blame. Moreover, according to the special Embassy evidence, Major Zepeda caused the murderers to be transferred away from their airport post, thus making it more difficult for outsiders to determine who had been in a position to undertake the killings or to interview military witnesses at the airport. Knowing that the FBI had performed ballistics tests on shells and casings associated with the crime, Major Zepeda also, according to the special Embassy evidence, ordered the killers to switch their rifles with others so as to make detection more difficult. (This effort did not ultimately prevent linking the murder weapons with the defendants. Major Zepeda either failed to, or could not, alter the Salvadoran military's written records identifying which rifles were assigned to the defendants.)

Although we have no direct proof, we think it is quite possible that Major Zepeda informed his superior, then Colonel Vides Casanova, of his activities. Vides Casanova appointed Zepeda, and Zepeda reported directly to him. It seems unlikely that a mid-level officer like Zepeda would have undertaken the obstructive actions he did without approval or encouragement from someone higher. Moreover, when we interviewed now General Vides Casanova, we found him evasive; he professed a disturbing lack of knowledge of Zepeda's investigation, despite evidence that he was aware of and received reports concerning Zepeda's efforts throughout the investigation.[66] In his answers to us, General Vides Casanova attempted to distance himself as completely as possible from all investigations of the crime.

We believe it probable that Major Zepeda informed Colonel Monterrosa of his findings. Indeed, in his discussion with us, Colonel Monterrosa asserted that he was responsible for Zepeda's appointment as investigating officer. Certainly the activity undertaken by the Monterrosa Commission--or, more accurately, its inactivity--suggests the absence of any serious interest in identifying the killers. Nonetheless, for the first few weeks of its existence, the commission managed to suggest to the outside world that it was undertaking a serious mission.

The commission's appointment was announced on December 8, 1980.[67] On that day the members of the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

commission received United States Ambassador Robert White and a team of distinguished Americans sent by President Carter to investigate the crime.[68] The commissioners purported to welcome investigative assistance from the United States, including technical expertise and assistance in planning the investigation. The Ambassador willingly agreed. A team of FBI technicians flew to El Salvador and gathered various evidence for laboratory analysis, including fingerprints and debris taken from the white van, and items of clothing found at the gravesite.[69]

Over the next few days the commission requested that autopsies be performed on the two churchwomen buried in the United States;[70] it visited the murder site and questioned residents of the area;[71] it took a statement from a Salvadoran priest, Father Britto,[72] who had been stopped at a military checkpoint near the airport on the evening of December 2, 1980; and it requested the assistance of the United States in locating six Canadians who had also been stopped at that checkpoint with Father Britto.[73]

Despite its initial show of activity, the Monterrosa Commission soon slowed its pace. On December 20, 1980, the commission adjourned for the traditional three-week Christmas recess,[74] and when the commission eventually resumed its "investigation" in January, 1981, its efforts were unimpressive. Consistent with Colonel Monterrosa's statement to us that the commission had no serious interest in connecting

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

security forces with the crime, the commission obtained and relied upon false exculpatory statements from guardsmen on duty, substantially identical to those collected by Major Zepeda.[75/]

Although the United States was, as requested, providing investigative assistance, that assistance was largely ignored. United States suggestions that the most elementary investigative steps be taken were greeted with distrust or disinterest. Thus, the United States repeatedly requested, to no avail, that guardsmen at the checkpoint and the burial site be fingerprinted; that airport guardsmen be vigorously questioned about the events of December 2; that the weapons of guardsmen at the airport be confiscated for testing; and the like.[76/] When pressed to explain his reason for failing to fingerprint the potential suspects, Colonel Monterrosa lamely explained, "one must understand the political situation in El Salvador."[77/] He later claimed that the commission did not have the authority to fingerprint the men in question.[78/]

Thereafter, in February, 1981, Colonel Monterrosa began the first of his many efforts to conclude the commission's activities.[79/] One might be tempted to conclude that the Monterrosa Commission's failure to uncover useful information was the result of mere indifference or fear. We conclude that it is more probable that Major Zepeda informed Colonel Monterrosa of Colindres Aleman's guilt and that

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Colonel Monterrosa purposely chose to conceal the truth. According to Monterrosa himself in his discussion with us, Zepeda reported everything he knew to him.

More telling than the lines of authority, however, was an event that occurred on February 26, 1981. On that date, after much prodding from the United States, Colonel Monterrosa delivered to an Embassy official fingerprints and palm prints of three of the four guardsmen from whom the commission had taken written statements: Jose Luis Monterrosa, Luis Napoleon Cornejo Cubas, and Vidal Cruz Piche, all guardsmen stationed at the airport checkpoint on the day of the murders.[80] Of course, since none of these men was involved in the murders, their fingerprints were essentially meaningless. The significant event of that day, however, was Colonel Monterrosa's pointed failure to produce the fingerprints of the fourth guardsmen who had given a statement: Subsergeant Colindres Aleman.

A month and a half later, after the special Embassy evidence had provided the Embassy an indication of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's guilt, but before the Embassy had revealed that knowledge to the Salvadorans, an Embassy official asked Colonel Monterrosa why Colindres Aleman had not been fingerprinted.[81] Colonel Monterrosa immediately became defensive and claimed he had taken fingerprints only from those persons requested by the Embassy. From all the circumstances, however, we believe that Colonel Monterrosa

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

did not provide Colindres Aleman's fingerprints because he knew--since Major Zepeda had told him--that Colindres Aleman was responsible for the murders. Monterrosa feared that providing Colindres Aleman's fingerprints would enable him to be identified.

In the period between January and April, 1981, frustrated at the inaction of the Monterrosa Commission, and still uncertain that a purposeful cover-up was underway, Embassy officials continued to apply direct and indirect pressure upon Colonel Monterrosa. They asked the ruling junta to press Monterrosa to conduct a meaningful inquiry.[82/] President Jose Napoleon Duarte, whom we interviewed and who appeared to have a sincere interest in the prosecution of this case, complied with the various requests of the United States, and repeatedly instructed Colonel Monterrosa to undertake pertinent investigative steps: to identify all security force personnel near the airport; to fingerprint those personnel; and to collect, secure and test their weapons.[83/] Despite instructions from his civilian superior, Colonel Monterrosa did as little as possible throughout the early spring of 1981. Taken together, the Monterrosa and Zepeda investigations provide distressing evidence of the willingness of the Salvadoran military to protect their own, no matter what the cost.

B. The Cover-Up Is Defeated

Distressed at the apparent inability of the Monterrosa Commission to make substantial progress, and unaware of the cover-up engineered by Major Zepeda, officers of the United States Embassy determined to do what they could to identify the killers. In February, 1981, an Embassy officer developed information that promised eventual discovery of the identity of the killers. Over the next two months, this special Embassy evidence was proven reliable. The Embassy learned the identity of the killers; of other witnesses who could prove the killers' identity in court, most notably Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez; and obtained convincing evidence of the cover-up.

A significant piece of corroboration came from FBI analysis of two cartridge casings and three spent bullets provided to the Embassy by the Salvadoran government on March 2, 1981.[84/] On March 17, 1981, the FBI laboratories identified the casings and bullets as coming from Heckler and Koch G-3 assault rifles,[85/] standard issue to the Salvadoran security forces. Other corroborating evidence cannot be set forth here because it would tend to disclose and thus endanger the nature and sources of the special Embassy evidence. In any event, after several months of testing, through the use of corroborating evidence, the Embassy was convinced that the special Embassy evidence was both genuine and sound.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

By April, 1981, the Embassy had concluded that only extraordinary pressure would result in the arrest and prosecution of the killers, and it determined to inform the Salvadoran authorities of the information it had learned, but not its source. On April 21, 1981, the Embassy identified Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to President Duarte. Several days later the Embassy named to Defense Minister Garcia five other guardsmen identified by the special Embassy evidence.[86] The United States demanded that the killers be arrested. Upon learning this news, Colonel Vides Casanova ordered the arrest of the guardsmen who had been identified. The men were taken into custody on April 29, 1981.[87]

The arrest of the guardsmen enabled the FBI to complete the scientific tests it had begun some months before. On April 30, the FBI obtained the defendants' fingerprints and shortly thereafter matched a thumbprint of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman with a print found on the churchwomen's van.[88] On May 1, the weapons of the guardsmen were seized,[89] and by May 17, the FBI reported that one of the seized weapons, which later was identified as belonging to Guardsman Moreno Canjura, had fired a cartridge found at the murder site.[90]

Although the cover-up had been thwarted, and evidence of the defendants' guilt produced, the military apparently remained ambivalent about the extent to which it would cooperate in the prosecution. Major Zepeda remained

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

in charge of the National Guard's internal "investigation," and the disclosure of the true facts apparently did little to deter him from his course of concealment. In the period following the arrests, Zepeda took two more written statements from Subsergeant Colindres Aleman.[91] In the first, Colindres Aleman again denied participation in the murders. In the second, recorded after the FBI had linked his fingerprint to the nuns' van, Colindres Aleman claimed that he might have touched the van in the airport parking lot and again denied his guilt. Major Zepeda also interviewed Guardsman Moreno Canjura, who blandly claimed that his rifle could not have been involved in the murder because he had possessed it continuously and he had not been involved in the murder.[92]

On July 1, 1981, Major Zepeda submitted a second report to Colonel Vides Casanova.[93] He still concluded that he could not determine the guilt of the guardsmen because of the "difficulty" in resolving a case so "delicate." He concluded that only the civilian courts could make a determination of guilt and that he had exhausted the resources at his disposal. Other than Major Zepeda's meager efforts, Salvadoran attempts to investigate and prosecute the guardsmen were virtually nonexistent throughout the summer and fall of 1981.

C. The Medrano Working Group

By the fall of 1981, the United States Embassy recognized that the Salvadoran authorities were evidently content to let the defendants remain in prison while doing nothing to prosecute the crime. The Embassy determined to press all the harder for a serious investigation, which, for political reasons, would have to come under the aegis of the Monterrosa Commission.

On December 4, 1981, the Commission agreed to the appointment of a working group, composed of professional investigators and backed by technical assistance from the United States, to conduct the investigation.[94] On December 7, 1981, the Fiscal General (the chief Salvadoran prosecutor) and his deputy agreed to this concept as well.[95] The working group was formally established on December 9 by order of Colonel Vides Casanova.[96] National Guard Major Jose Adolfo Medrano was appointed to head the group.

The work of the Medrano working group is one of the encouraging chapters in the Salvadoran handling of the churchwomen murders case. It stands in sharp contrast to the previous two investigations described herein, and was pursued with thoroughness and persistence. The Medrano working group was the first successful attempt by an agency of the Salvadoran government to investigate the murders in a systematic and determined way. In two months time, the working group, under the able leadership of Major Medrano,

RELEASED

was able to question more than a dozen important witnesses, gain a confession, and gather valuable physical evidence.

One of the reasons the Medrano working group was so successful was that, with its establishment, ongoing technical assistance was provided by the FBI at every step. Similarly, Embassy personnel were present for every session of the Medrano working group. Thus, the Medrano working group became an organized, joint effort by Major Medrano of the National Guard, detectives of the National Police, the FBI Regional legal attache and his FBI colleagues who appeared from time to time to carry out special activities such as polygraphing, ballistics, or fingerprint analysis, and representatives from the United States Embassy. Representatives from the office of the Fiscal General also participated in working group sessions.

Within days of his appointment on December 9, 1981, Major Medrano had interviewed two of the airport fuel workers who were on duty on the day of the murders concerning the dispensing of airplane fuel possibly used by the guardsmen in their jeep;[97/] Jose Vidal Cruz Piche, one of the guardsmen stationed at the airport;[98/] the four guards of Hector Herrera's estate, who witnessed the van passing back and forth to the murder site that evening[99/] and Jose Luis Monterrosa, another guardsman stationed at the airport.[100/] These interviews were crucial to the case. They provided the first public evidence of the facts surrounding the crime.

The first important break for Major Medrano was his interview on December 11 of Guardsman Cruz Piche.[101] Cruz Piche, whom Major Medrano had known previously[102] and who apparently felt comfortable with the investigator, confided that on the night of the murders he had seen Colindres Aleman, Contreras Recinos, Moreno Canjura, Canales Ramirez, and two others depart the airport in the post's Toyota jeep shortly after 7:00 p.m., passing through the checkpoint where Cruz Piche was stationed with Guardsmen Luis Monterrosa and Cornejo Cubas. Cruz Piche said that when he returned to the detachment headquarters at the end of his tour, he found that the six who had left earlier were drunk and appeared nervous.[103]

Medrano reinterviewed Guardsman Cruz Piche on December 15, 1981.[104] Cruz Piche amplified his previous statement, saying that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman ordered Guardsman Perez Nieto to remain at the checkpoint to detain all airport traffic for the next ten minutes, and that Perez Nieto had allowed a white microbus to pass without inspection. Cruz Piche reported that he later overheard Colindres Aleman say "What's done is done," and, "If fate is against us, we will have to pay," or words to that effect. This testimony was the first public revelation that Colindres Aleman had ever acknowledged his guilt.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Guardsman Cruz Piche also testified that three days later he heard a guardsman say that he had been told by guardsmen who had accompanied Colindres Aleman that the victims were "subversive nuns," that "we took subversive propaganda from them," and that another guardsman had somehow obtained 5,000 dollars or colones. He said that eight days later he saw Subsergeant Colindres Aleman selling ladies' watches in the airport area.

Guardsman Jose Luis Monterrosa confirmed Cruz Piche's statement to the Medrano group and named the six guardsmen he saw depart the airport: Colindres Aleman, Jose Elias Sanchez, Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura, Adrian Ramirez, and Daniel Canales Ramirez.[105/] Two days after the murders, Luis Monterrosa saw Colindres Aleman with a large amount of money purchasing a television set, furniture, and other items, as well as selling a tape recorder, watches, rings, and eyeglasses. Luis Monterrosa testified that he overheard guardsmen say that "they were subversive nuns and had subversive propaganda," and that Colindres Aleman said "It happened today: if our turn comes up, we'll have to pay for it."

During this period the Medrano group also took statements of Luis Napoleon Cornejo Cubas, the third guardsman at the airport checkpoint, Corporal Isabel Aquino Giron, the deputy commander of the airport National Guard detachment, and Guardsman Perez Nieto, who had been on patrol at

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

the terminal and had spotted the nuns. Taken together, the statements significantly tightened the chain of evidence of guilt and provided a fairly complete picture of the events of December 2, 1980.

In his December 17, 1981 statement,[106] airport Guardsman Luis Napoleon Cornjeo Cubas confirmed the statements of Guardsman Cruz Piche and Luis Monterrosa, and revealed that he had learned that on the night of the murders Colindres Aleman brought back a spare tire, which a few days later he gave to a friend at the nearby "Macondo" cotton plantation. He also saw Colindres Aleman and his five companions burn women's clothing behind the National Guard command post several days after the killings.

Corporal Giron testified that about 5:30 p.m., he overheard Subsergeant Colindres Aleman talking by telephone with Perez Nieto, who was in the airport terminal.[107] Thereafter, Giron swore, Colindres Aleman ordered five guardsmen to dress in civilian clothes, and they departed with him in the detachment jeep at about 7:00 p.m. Giron testified that later that evening he received a telephone call from Colindres Aleman, asking for a replacement vehicle. Giron borrowed a blue pickup truck and a driver from the commander of the airport Customs Police, and directed the driver to proceed to El Rosario La Paz to meet Colindres Aleman.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Giron further stated that he saw the pickup truck return with the guardsmen shortly before midnight, observed the guardsmen remove a tire and several cartons from the truck, and later heard that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman took the tire to a friend at the "Macondo" cotton plantation the next day. Finally, Giron said that on or about December 7, 1980, Colindres Aleman told him that "they were subversive women. I do not think there will be a problem." This implicit acknowledgment of guilt by Colindres Aleman constitutes his third extrajudicial confession in the record.

On December 22, 1981, Margarito Perez Nieto, the guardsman on patrol in front of the airport terminal who had identified the nuns, gave a deceptive statement.[108/] Although Perez Nieto acknowledged reporting to Subsergeant Colindres Aleman that two "suspicious looking foreign women were in the airport terminal," he claimed that Colindres Aleman only ordered him to go to the checkpoint to search all out-going traffic, which he claimed he did for five or ten minutes without singling out any particular vehicle. He stated that one of the three white vans he remembered seeing may have been driven by one of the women he had seen earlier in the terminal. At this initial interview, Perez Nieto failed to reveal that he had seen Colindres Aleman depart with five other guardsmen in civilian clothes to stop the white van. He likewise only obscurely alluded to Colindres Aleman's instructions to him to hold all traffic except for the white van, and his compliance with those instructions.

RELEASED

On December 23, the Medrano working group interviewed the airport Customs commander.[109] He corroborated Corporal Giron's statement that at about 11:00 p.m. on the night of the murders, Giron asked him to loan the Customs Police vehicle in order to pick up Colindres Aleman and the others. He said that he sent his vehicle and driver to get the guardsmen and that his driver later informed him that the guardsmen had put bloodstained women's clothing in the truck. The following day, Christmas Eve, the Medrano group interviewed Mariana Realejeno, the maid at the National Guard airport barracks,[110] who testified that in late December, 1980, a guardsman gave her a woman's skirt as a gift.

Early in January, 1982, the Medrano working group interviewed Victor Melgar Garay, the Customs Police duty driver who had picked up the group of guardsmen in El Rosario La Paz on the night of the murders.[111] Melgar Garay described the unloading and burning of the white microbus on the highway to La Libertad, and testified that he had been warned to keep silent about what he had seen. In the same period, the Medrano group began to amass the physical evidence that linked the six guardsmen to the crime. The wheel, tire, and jack stolen from the church-women's van were recovered by the working group from the nearby plantation where they had been taken by Colindres Aleman.[112]

The working group interviewed Adrian Ramirez Palacios and Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman, guardsmen detained together with the killers, on January 11 and 12, 1982. Each confirmed that he had seen Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his group depart from the airport on the night of December 2, 1980, and that Colindres Aleman had later possessed personal articles from the van.[113/]

Sanchez Guzman added critical incriminating statements he had heard from the defendants during his period of incarceration with them.[114/] He stated that while in prison Guardsman Moreno Canjura had admitted that after the women were shot, Moreno Canjura saw that one of them was still alive and that he had used his own rifle to kill her. Sanchez Guzman swore as well that he and Ramirez Palacios were threatened by the defendants that they would be killed if they talked about the case after they were released. Finally, Sanchez Guzman provided an important clarification about the culpability of Guardsman Rivera Franco, which later enabled the prosecution to use Rivera Franco as a witness against the killers: although Rivera Franco had participated in the kidnapping of the women, he was not one of the killers; he had stayed behind with the disabled jeep at Rosario La Paz.

The various witnesses' statements had regularly identified one guardsmen not in custody, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, as among the six men who had abducted

the churchwomen and, at the same time, had generally omitted mention of one guardsmen in custody, Adrian Ramirez Palacios. This evidence, together with the similarity in names, led the working group to conclude by late December that Ramirez Palacios was not involved in the murders.[115] During the first week in January, 1982 the Medrano working group had located Contreras Palacios for questioning.[116]

On January 14, 1982, the working group received a major break: Contreras Palacios confessed to his participation in the murders.[117] Because Contreras Palacios had been belatedly identified and had not been incarcerated with the other five defendants, he apparently had not been subject to group pressure to present a joint alibi. Rather, remorseful over having raped and murdered women who he later learned were nuns, Contreras Palacios, when apprehended, provided the first participant account of the crime.

Under Salvadoran law (common in many civil law countries), the testimony of a participant in the crime cannot be used against the others.[118] Thus, Contreras Palacios' confession was, technically, admissible only against him. It was significant nonetheless. First, it provided full corroboration of the evidence initially provided by the special Embassy evidence and thereafter painstakingly developed by the FBI and the Medrano working group. Second, the confession would be admissible against Contreras Palacios at the joint trial of all the defendants.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Thus, although it was technically of limited admissibility, it would still have a significant psychological effect on the jurors, assuring them of the defendants' guilt.

Contreras Palacios swore that he and the others, dressed in civilian clothes, left the airport command post at 7:00 p.m., and stopped and searched the churchwomen's van about a half mile from the airport.[119/] He said that they then drove with the van towards El Rosario La Paz, but that they had engine trouble with the jeep, forcing them to leave it in El Rosario, with a guardsman (Rivera Franco) to safeguard it. Thereafter, they drove to a deserted spot several miles southwest of San Pedro Nonualco, where Colindres Aleman ordered them to stop and the churchwomen to get out.

The guardsmen proceeded to rape the women and then, at Colindres Aleman's orders, shot and killed them. They then returned to El Rosario, picked up the guardsman left there, and drove down the coastal highway, where they burned the van. Contreras Palacios stated that he did not know of any other orders that the women be killed and that only Colindres Aleman ordered them to kill the "subversive" nuns. (When Contreras Palacios was reinterviewed, partially at our suggestion, in October, 1983, he altered this last testimony and claimed that Colindres Aleman told him he had been ordered to kill the women, but that Colindres regularly used such explanations to justify his orders.)

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

On the same day that the working group obtained Contreras Palacios' confession, it began the process of administering polygraph examinations to the suspects. Although polygraph evidence is inadmissible in El Salvador, as it is in the United States, the working group recognized, at the urging of United States representatives, that the skilled use of the polygraph can be an important investigative tool. It can provide a basis for evaluating the credibility of witnesses. More importantly, many a witness, confronted with an impending polygraph examination or the fact that he has failed one, decides to tell the truth. This happened three times during the course of the polygraph examinations in this case, all of which were administered by an experienced Spanish speaking FBI polygrapher.

Three of the suspects did not alter their testimony concerning the murders either before or after the polygraph exam: Guardsman Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos,[120/] Guardsman Daniel Canales Ramirez[121/] and Guardsman Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura.[122/] Nonetheless, the FBI polygrapher concluded that all three--and a fourth, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman[123/]--were lying when they denied involvement in the crime. During the polygraph examination, Colindres Aleman was also asked whether he had been ordered by anyone to commit the crime. Significantly, the polygrapher concluded that his denial of receiving higher orders was truthful.[124/]

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Although Subsergeant Colindres Aleman did not confess during the course of his polygraph examination, he did alter his previous testimony in an incriminating way.[125/] Prior to the polygraph examination, Colindres Aleman had consistently claimed that he and his men were on duty at the airport on the night of December 2. During the course of the pre-examination interview, Colindres Aleman altered his testimony to concede significant incriminating details. For the first time, Colindres Aleman admitted receiving a telephone call from Perez Nieto at about 3:00 p.m. on December 2, 1980, reporting two suspicious persons at the airport, thus conceding he was on notice of the churchwomen's presence at the airport.

Subsergeant Colindres Aleman also altered his testimony to link all the suspects together. He admitted that at about 7:00 p.m. he ordered Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, Daniel Canales Ramirez, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, Salvador Rivera Franco and Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura, the remaining suspects, to change into civilian clothes so that they could all drive into El Rosario La Paz. Despite this critical concession, Colindres Aleman claimed that the purpose of the trip was only to get gas for the unit stove, and that they returned at about 10:00 p.m.

Margarito Perez Nieto, the airport guardsman who called Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to report to him the movements of the churchwomen from the airport, had significantly understated his knowledge at his initial interview.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

In January, 1982 he took and failed a polygraph, and then elected to tell the truth.[126] On January 15, 1982 Perez Nieto confessed that he had been ordered by Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to allow the churchwomen's van to pass through the checkpoint, and that he had done so. He added that he had had no previous instructions to look for the churchwomen at the airport and that he was unaware of any such instructions to anyone in the National Guard unit at the airport.

Salvador Rivera Franco, the guardsman who accompanied Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and the churchwomen to El Rosario La Paz, where he remained behind to guard the jeep, also provided significant additional information upon being confronted with the polygraph.[127] Initially, Rivera Franco had offered no useful evidence in the investigation. At the commencement of the polygraph session, however, Rivera Franco indicated that he wished to make a statement, and did so. Rivera Franco thereupon identified the guardsmen who had accompanied Colindres Aleman and the nuns from the airport access road; described the search of the churchwomen's van on the airport access road; described the return from El Rosario La Paz after the murders along the coastal road to the spot where the van was burned; and stated that several of the suspects had confessed to him that they had killed the women.

Finally, a polygraph examination helped to exonerate another of the earlier accused, Guardsman Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman. Like Ramirez Palacios, he had been imprisoned as one of the original six accused, but then was released upon the development of exonerating evidence, including the confession of Contreras Palacios and the statements of various witnesses excluding Sanchez Guzman from the group of six guardsmen who had abducted the women. As a final test, Sanchez Guzman was submitted to a polygraph examination, which he passed. Thereupon, the working group concluded that his continued denial of participation in the murders was truthful.[128/]

On February 9, 1982, the Medrano working group having completed its activities, Major Medrano forwarded the investigative file to General Vides Casanova.[129/] General Vides Casanova, in turn, forwarded the file, with the jack, tire, and skirt seized during the investigation, to the First Penal Judge in Zacatecoluca on February 10. At the same time, he consigned to the court Colindres Aleman, Contreras Recinos, Moreno Canjura, Contreras Palacios, Canales Ramirez and Rivera Franco, stating that they had been discharged from the National Guard and arrested for their participation in the deaths of the four churchwomen.[130/]

D. The Civil Investigation

The evidence assembled by the Medrano working group remains the principal evidence of the defendants'

guilt. Nonetheless, as the civil authorities created their own record to support the prosecution during the ensuing months, several significant pieces of additional evidence were developed.

Perhaps most important of these was the evidence of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's confession to his superior, Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez. The special Embassy evidence identified Sergeant Martinez in 1981 as one to whom Colindres Aleman had confided his guilt. By January, 1982, Martinez was living in Los Angeles, having left El Salvador and the National Guard in January, 1981. He was located there and interviewed by the FBI, but he denied any knowledge whatsoever about the events of the murder.[131/]

When the FBI reported these results back to El Salvador, Embassy officials knowledgeable about the special Embassy evidence were unsatisfied. They suggested that the FBI reinterview Sergeant Martinez with the assistance of a polygraph examination.[132/] Once again, the threat of the lie detector provoked a change in testimony. Faced with the test, Martinez confessed that, shortly after the killings and during a meeting of the National Guard called by Colonel Vides Casanova to ask whether any guardsmen were responsible, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman approached Martinez and conceded that he was responsible for the "problem regarding the nuns."[133/] Martinez explained that he had advised Colindres Aleman to keep that information to himself for the moment, but to confess it to the Director of the National Guard in accord with the Director's request.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Another significant piece of additional evidence was obtained in July, 1983. Judge Rauda had refused, under Salvadoran law, to admit into the trial record evidence obtained outside the territorial boundaries of El Salvador or outside his supervision.[134] For this reason, he rejected the admissibility of both the ballistics and fingerprint evidence obtained by the FBI. As the case was readied for trial in the summer of 1983, and in part at our suggestion, the FBI agreed to transport its ballistics equipment to El Salvador and train a Salvadoran national in the testing process.[135] When this was done, Judge Rauda was able to produce two more weapons, previously unknown, attributable to the defendants. The ballistics test linked one of these newly discovered weapons, that of Contreras Palacios, to the crime, thereby providing another direct link between the defendants and the murder.[136]

Unfortunately, it was impossible to replicate the fingerprint evidence linking Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to the nuns' van. The original fingerprint had been obtained by an FBI technician in December, 1980, shortly after the killings, and processed in Washington.[137] According to Judge Rauda, it was inadmissible for two reasons: (1) the fingerprint had been taken from the van without the authority of the investigating judge; and (2) it had been analyzed by a non-Salvadoran.[138] In 1983, an effort was made to

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

duplicate the process in an admissible fashion.[139] The Salvadoran authorities had done nothing, however, to preserve the van and, not surprisingly, the fingerprint could no longer be located some two and one-half years later.

During our trip to El Salvador, we attempted to explore ways in which the fingerprint obtained by the FBI could nonetheless be used. Both the prosecutors and private attorneys retained by the Embassy persuaded us that the fingerprint would not be admitted during the investigatory stage of the proceedings.[140] It is possible, however, as we shall explain below, that the fingerprint could nonetheless be used in the argument section of the trial, when otherwise inadmissible evidence may be presented to the jury.

III. INVOLVEMENT OF HIGHER AUTHORITIES

Since the day the bodies of the churchwomen were found, there has been a widely held suspicion, at least in the United States, that higher officers in the Salvadoran security forces were involved in the murders. Indeed, at the outset of our mission, we shared that suspicion. We frankly doubted that an enlisted National Guard member would have undertaken on his own initiative the rape and murder of four North American women, even in a society as violent as El Salvador. For this reason, we considered it an important part of our mission to do what we could to help resolve the question. The Salvadorans had done little to address it directly. It had taken enough American effort simply to persuade the prosecutors to pursue the murders themselves, and we saw little hope that a full-fledged investigation of possible higher involvement would ever be undertaken, at least absent concrete evidence of the sort used to force the investigation of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and guardsmen under his command.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

We resolved, therefore, to do what we could to urge the prosecuting authorities to gather evidence relevant to the question of higher involvement, while at the same time carefully reviewing the evidence available to us in an attempt to resolve the question for ourselves. In particular, we wished the Salvadorans to reinterview guardsmen Perez Nieto and Contreras Palacios. Perez Nieto had first spotted the churchwomen at the airport and his conversations with Colindres Aleman apparently led to their abduction. We did not believe he had been sufficiently questioned about these subjects. We hoped that new questioning would illuminate Colindres Aleman's specific motivation. Unfortunately, we learned that, after giving his statement to Judge Rauda, Perez Nieto had been reported missing in action since January, 1983.[141/]

We asked that Contreras Palacios be reinterviewed because, as the sole confessing guardsman, he was in a

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

position to shed light about what, if anything, Colindres Aleman had said about his orders, a subject on which we believed Contreras Palacios had been insufficiently questioned earlier. Contreras Palacios did give new testimony in which he expanded, and contradicted, his earlier testimony by stating that Colindres Aleman had indeed claimed, in directing the guardsmen to kill the women, that the orders came from higher up.142/ Contreras Palacios added that Colindres Aleman regularly used this sort of justification with his troops. For reasons set out below, we ultimately discounted the significance of this testimony, but it served further to underscore the importance of a resolution of the higher-up question.

We also asked the Salvadoran authorities to investigate links between the killers and security forces in Chalatenango and La Libertad, where the churchwomen had lived and worked. We sought to clarify, to the extent possible, whether any of the defendants had contacts with those cities that would suggest their participation in a conspiracy to murder, or whether officers in those cities had had contacts with the airport that would suggest the same. At the same time, we asked that fingerprints of guardsmen in Chalatenango be obtained so that they could be compared with fingerprints found on documents that threatened the churchwomen in Chalatenago. Although fingerprints have now been obtained from the security forces commanders at Chalatenango and analyzed without positive results, to the best of our knowledge, other security forces personnel stationed there have yet to be fingerprinted.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Thus, the record from which we have had to work is not as complete as we would have liked, or as would have been assembled for a comparable murder investigation in the United States. Nonetheless, we deem the issue too important to leave without discussion. We have undertaken to weigh the evidence available to us as best we can. We have analyzed the testimony of the witnesses and the circumstances under which the testimony was taken. We have made judgments about the credibility of particular witnesses. We have applied our various experiences as prosecutors and judge to the facts of this case. And, contrary to our initial supposition, we have concluded that, from the evidence now available to us, it is unlikely that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman received higher orders to commit this crime. We believe that he acted on his own initiative.

An analysis of the higher orders question begins with a definition of terms. In the broadest sense, higher orders could simply mean an understanding among the security forces in El Salvador, fostered by their superiors, that crimes of violence, no matter how outrageous or unjustified, would not be prosecuted. We do not believe that is what concerns those who believe Subsergeant Colindres Aleman was ordered to commit this crime. Nonetheless, the existence of this atmosphere is important in resolving the more particular question, for it is clear to us that in El Salvador in 1980, and perhaps still today, there was a general tolerance of crimes of violence by the military. At the time of this crime, so far as we are aware, few, if any, national guardsmen had ever been civilly prosecuted for murder, even though estimates of murdered civilians ran up to 40,000, many allegedly at the hands of the military. Thus, we conclude that officers of the Salvadoran military forces, whether by direction, inactivity or tolerance, encouraged the notion that their troops were above the law.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

This brings us to the more direct higher-up questions. Did some higher officer (or officers) order Subsergeant Colindres Aleman to murder the women he had abducted at the El Salvador airport, either after hearing of Guardsman Perez Nieto's suspicions or because he had previously planned to murder some or all of the women, knowing that they would be at the airport on the night of December 2?

The most direct evidence that some higher officer ordered the killing comes from the statements of Guardsmen Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa. Contreras Palacios has testified in his second interview that, in directing the guardsmen to shoot the women, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman said he was doing so because of superior orders.[143/] In addition, Valle Espinosa has testified that Colindres Aleman said substantially the same in ordering him to participate in the roadblock.[144/]

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

In addition to the direct testimony of Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa, there is certain circumstantial evidence as well. To some American observers at least, it seems unlikely that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman would abandon his duty post at the airport, together with five of his troops, unless he had authorization to do so. More generally, there is evidence of hostility between the military and the church in El Salvador and, in particular, between the military and church workers in Chalatenango. Our interviews with Salvadoran officers reinforced this conclusion; their animosity towards the church was obvious. Colonel Monterrosa was perhaps most blunt. He openly speculated that the churchwomen were probably subversives, and that the military might well have wished them dead.[145/]

This hostility manifested itself directly with respect to churchworkers in Chalatenango, where Sisters Ford and Clarke were based. Military personnel stationed there regularly harassed churchworkers by, for example, blocking entry to the church with their cars and haranguing them about their alleged subversive activities.[146/] By the fall of 1980, this hostility had become even more threatening.

In November, 1980, a sign was posted on the parish door in Chalatenango that could be read to threaten the lives of those working with the church there.[147/] On December 2, the day of the murders, Father Efrain Lopez, the parish priest in Chalatenango, reportedly received a letter

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

threatening those working for the church in Chalatenango.[148] Later on December 2, the sacristan of the Chalatenango church allegedly was approached and shown a list of people to be killed that included the names of Sisters Ford and Clarke.[149]

Moreover, a possible opportunity existed for the military to learn that the churchwomen would be at the airport on December 2. In November, 1980, Maryknoll nun Madeline Dorsey sent a telegram to Sister Ita Ford describing her travel plans to the Managua Conference and suggesting that Sisters Ford and Clarke return with her to El Salvador on December 2.[150] If the telegram were intercepted by Salvadoran intelligence officers, the possibility existed for arranging an ambush.

Ominous though the above recital may sound, it is nonetheless quite a ways distant from direct proof of higher involvement. More importantly, upon analysis, we believe some of this evidence is more ambiguous than it may seem, and supports the theory that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman acted on his own initiative as readily as the theory that he received higher orders. The remaining evidence, we believe, is both of dubious probative value and substantially outweighed by the evidence inclining against higher involvement.

First, we believe the testimony of Guardsman Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa to be, upon analysis, neutral. Although both have testified that, in the course

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

of ordering them to participate, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman told them that he had "superior orders" and although we have no reason to disbelieve this testimony, it is not conclusive of anything. It would not be surprising if a non-commissioned guardsman of inferior rank like Colindres Aleman used the guise of "superior orders" to motivate his troops, whether he had such orders or not, particularly when asking his men to commit a blatantly illegal act. Indeed, Contreras Palacios's own statement supports this conclusion. He observed that Colindres Aleman regularly justified his orders on such a basis, and speculated that Colindres Aleman had done so this time so that he would not have to bear the full responsibility for his order. Thus, the testimony of Contreras Palacios and Valle Espinosa does not necessarily support an inference either way.

We also conclude that the general animosity between the church and the military does not necessarily support a conclusion of higher-up involvement. The belief, tolerated and even encouraged by officers of the security forces, that the Church and its workers were subversive could well lead lower-ranking soldiers to believe that church workers were fair game for harassment or worse. Thus, we believe the animosity serves as well to explain Colindres Aleman's own motives for the crimes--and his own belief that his acts were justified--as it does to suggest that his superiors were necessarily involved.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Colindres Aleman's willingness to abandon his airport post also does not support an inference either way. His action was, we believe, consistent with the structure within the National Guard at the time. As we learned in the course of our mission, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman had wide latitude in the daily functions of the unit he commanded.[151] His superiors visited his post only occasionally, and this lack of command control was and is a major concern of the Salvadoran high command. Until recently, the number of officers was quite low in proportion to the number of posts and guardsmen to supervise.[152] Moreover, transportation and communication facilities were limited, making it difficult for officers to control men in the field.

We also do not accord much weight to Sister Dorsey's telegram as providing an opportunity for the military to learn about the churchwomen's travel plans. As we learned, the intelligence network in El Salvador is quite primitive.[153] There is no reason to believe that the telegram was intercepted and, if it had been, we doubt that it would have been read by anyone with a particular interest in Sisters Ford and Clarke. Moreover, even if the telegram were intercepted and routed to a person interested in securing the demise of the nuns, the telegram did no more than suggest that they travel on December 2. It was, it seems to us, an insufficient basis on which to construct a plan to abduct and murder the women.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Finally, we conclude that there is no likely connection between the Chalatenango death threats and the murders. The threats were not directed at Sisters Clarke and Ford in particular, and thus suggest no reason why those nuns would be singled out for detention and murder at the airport, some distance from Chalatenango. Moreover, if the threats were serious, we see no reason why they would not have been implemented in Chalatenango--where they would have the maximum deterent effect on the local church workers--rather than in another, far away part of the country. Implementing the threats in a distant military district would have required a level of coordination and cooperation that we have neither observed nor understood to be present in the Salvadoran security forces. At the same time, if such coordination were arranged, it would have necessarily involved additional guardsmen in the killings and thus needlessly increased the chances that the conspirators would be exposed.

If the threats were causally connected with the killings, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman would necessarily have had to be on the alert for the churchwomen. The evidence of Perez Nieto, which we credit and discuss further below, however, demonstrates that Colindres Aleman was not anticipating the arrival of the churchwomen. Finally, in our experience, death threats rarely lead so directly to murder, at least without their authors leaving sufficient time for the threat to have its desired intimidating effect.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

If the authors of the death threats truly intended immediately to kill the churchwomen, there was no reason to issue the threats.

In sum, much of the evidence allegedly supporting higher involvement in the murder is, in our view, actually neutral and supports either conclusion. The remaining evidence is of dubious probative value. More importantly, however, there is substantial evidence that, we believe, points the other way.

First, there is the evidence of Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's behavior during the crime itself. In this regard, the testimony of Perez Nieto, the airport guard, is crucial. As an initial matter, we regard his testimony as truthful because of the manner in which it was given: an initial deception, followed by significant revelations after failing a polygraph examination. If truthful, his testimony is inconsistent with higher orders. Were there a prearranged plan to abduct the women, it is inconceivable to us that Colindres Aleman would not have warned Perez Nieto to be on the alert for them. Not only did Perez Nieto affirmatively deny any such orders, but he also simultaneously provided a plausible and independent explanation for why the churchwomen were stopped: because he believed they were suspicious. Perez Nieto's report to Colindres Aleman of his suspicions is likewise inconsistent with higher orders. If Colindres Aleman in fact were

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

awaiting the arrival of the women, but for some reason had neglected to warn Perez Nieto of that fact, Perez Nieto's report of their arrival would likely have provoked a more forthcoming response than merely "be careful."

Second, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's statements to his colleagues after the murder are, in our view, inconsistent with higher involvement. The premise for this conclusion is that, if he had been ordered to commit the crime, Colindres Aleman would have felt secure thereafter that his actions would be protected from prosecution. His statements following the crime show no such security. On December 4, 1980, Colindres Aleman told Cruz Piche that "what's done is done" and "if fate is against us, we will have to pay,"154/ or words to that effect. On December 5, 1980, Colindres Aleman told Guardsman Luis Monterrosa "if our turn comes up, we will have to pay for it."155/ On December 7, 1980, Colindres Aleman told Corporal Giron that "they were subversive women. I don't believe there will be any problem."156/ These are not the words of a felon secure in the protection of his patrons. If he acted at the order of superiors, Colindres Aleman would, we believe, not have been so concerned about "fate," having to "pay," or whether he would have a "problem."

Third, Colindres Aleman's confession to Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez is inconsistent with the view that superiors were involved. If Colindres Aleman were ordered

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

to kill the women by a superior, there was simply no reason for him apprehensively to confess his guilt to his immediate supervisor, a sergeant. Or, if he had felt the need to confess, we believe it likely that he would have explained that the "problem" he had created was ordered from above. In making this analysis, like our analysis of Perez Nieto's evidence, we necessarily treat as credible Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez's testimony, and for like reasons.

Fourth, the information obtained from the special Embassy evidence is consistent with the information from Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez. According to the special Embassy information, Subsergeant Colindres Aleman confessed his guilt to Major Zepeda without implicating any higher-ups. This, again, does not seem to us to be a likely course of events if Colindres Aleman's superiors were in fact involved. More definitively, the special Embassy evidence also provided direct proof, which unfortunately we are unable to reveal without endangering lives, that Colindres Aleman has conceded acting on his own.

Fifth, the evidence of the Zepeda/Monterrosa cover-up, which we have outlined above, shows, we think, a clear attempt to cover up a crime committed by lower-ranking soldiers, and no effort that we can discern to prevent the identification of higher-ups.

Sixth, we are convinced that, in light of all the evidence, the polygraph results are worth crediting.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Subsergeant Colindres Aleman was asked directly, during his polygraph exam, whether the assault had been ordered from above. The polygraph examiner deemed his denial to be truthful. Some critics have suggested that the question was too narrowly phrased to encompass all possible higher orders. After review of the question and careful questioning of the polygrapher, we conclude this criticism is not well-founded. During the pre-examination interview, Colindres Aleman was clearly informed of the scope of the question and, as we understand it, would have indicated an emotional response to the question if there had been any such orders, even if the question were inartfully put.[157/]

Taken as a whole, we think the evidence of lack of higher involvement is persuasive and the evidence to the contrary largely, if not entirely, speculative. As we noted at the outset, the investigation of this question has not been commensurate with its importance, and all the facts are not known. We welcome the development of further information on this important issue, and would view new evidence with an open mind. Nonetheless, we believe it would be a disservice not to record here our view, based on the evidence now available, that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman acted at his own initiative.

Before we leave the subject of the involvement of others, we should note that there is some indication in the special Embassy evidence that Colindres Aleman may have had

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

communications about the churchwomen with the National Police in La Libertad at some point prior to the murders. This evidence suggested not that higher-ups in La Libertad had ordered the killings, but rather that the police in La Libertad had advised Subsergeant Colindres Aleman of some of the churchwomen's involvement in alleged "subversive" activities.

We have done what we could, with the limited resources available to us, to verify this allegation. We have found nothing to confirm it, and some evidence to refute it. In particular, the special Embassy evidence contains an unsubstantiated suggestion that the churchwomen might have been previously arrested by the National Police. All those who worked with Ms. Donovan and Sister Kazel in the period prior to their murder, and who would have known of such an arrest, denied to us that any such event had occurred.[158/] Thus, we record some reason to doubt the allegation, but cannot consider it disproved. Nonetheless, from all the evidence known to us, if such a communication occurred, it would have been in the course of an exchange of intelligence information and would not have amounted to orders--higher or otherwise--to kill the women.

IV. FALSE LEADS

We believe that in the course of the investigations described above a coherent picture has emerged of the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

events of the night of December 2, 1980. Even so, in virtually every investigation, and particularly in a well-publicized one such as this, a substantial number of leads, tips, rumors, and apparent facts arise that must be explored, even though the vast majority turn out to be immaterial, incapable of confirmation or refutation, or simply wrong. These are the proverbial "red herrings."

The investigations of the churchwomen's murders have grown their own crop of these issues. Many questions have been resolved by the Salvadoran investigations, with the assistance of the United States Government. Others may be explained by this report. A few undoubtedly will never be explained. In order to reach the conclusions set forth in the preceding sections, we have had to analyze each such false lead as completely as possible. We discuss them below in light of the available evidence.

A. Thomas Bracken

On December 17, 1980, Thomas N. Bracken, a United States citizen, was killed in a shoot-out in the streets of San Salvador. Just one week prior, on December 11, 1980, Bracken had gone to the United States Embassy in San Salvador to offer information about the churchwomen murders. The proximity of the two events has caused some speculation as to whether Bracken's appearance at the Embassy and his subsequent murder were causally connected.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

We have found no such connection. Bracken was interviewed at the Embassy prior to his death, and had no specific evidence concerning the crimes.[159] He offered the theory that the murders had been committed by a right-wing splinter group, but had no evidence to support the charge. Bracken's stated purpose in coming forward was to trade his vague rumors for dismissal of a criminal warrant outstanding against him in El Paso, Texas. It seems to us clear that his offer of information was merely the act of a desperate man trying to find a way to return to the United States.

An inventory of Bracken's quarters, after his death, revealed twenty-five molotov cocktails, wiretapping equipment, handguns, ammunition and military manuals. He had told the Embassy that he was employed as an instructor for the Salvadoran National Police. It was in this capacity that he appears to have met his death. Bracken accompanied several National Police officers who were chasing armed suspects and, in the process of attempting to make the apprehension, was shot dead by one or more of the suspects. In turn, the National Police shot and killed two of the suspects.[160] Based on these facts, we find no connection between Bracken's contact with the Embassy and his death.

B. The Canadians

A group of six Canadians together with a Salvadoran priest, Father Britto, was stopped at a military checkpoint

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

outside the San Salvador International Airport on December 2, 1980, between about 6:30 p.m. and 7:00 p.m.[161] Because they provided the first evidence of military activity around the airport, their testimony and their description of the guardsmen were initially thought to be significant. We conclude that their evidence is of little consequence to an understanding of the facts.

The Canadians came to El Salvador to attend the FDR funerals to be held on December 3. At the airport, they met briefly with Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan, who were awaiting the arrival of Sisters Ford and Clarke. The Canadians then left the terminal, before the arrival of Sisters Ford and Clarke, with Father Britto and the others from the Archdiocese, and an American, Heather Foote, to whom they offered a ride.[162]

Down the road from the airport, near a traffic control post, they were stopped by several uniformed, armed guardsmen, who briefly questioned them and searched the vehicles.[163] Because the guardsmen were in uniform, it is fairly certain that they were not Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his civilian-attired accomplices. Likewise, because the stop occurred prior to the arrival of Sisters Ford and Clarke and before Colindres Aleman's orders were issued to stop traffic at the checkpoint (except for the white van) the stop was not connected with the abduction of the churchwomen. Rather, we conclude that the stop was one

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

undertaken by guardsmen at the traffic control checkpoint, consistent with the heightened tensions in the area on the night prior to the FDR funerals. It otherwise has no significance to this case.

C. The Hacienda Police

Father Paul Schindler, the American priest who worked with Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan in La Libertad and who found the burned out van, has alleged that the Hacienda Police may have been involved in the crime because (1) the Canadians were stopped at a roadblock near the turnoff for a local Hacienda Police station, and (2) there is evidence that a red pickup truck belonging to the Hacienda Police was used during the abduction.[164/]

The first point, we conclude, is based on a misapprehension of the facts. The guardsmen have uniformly placed the location of the checkpoint at which traffic was stopped for 10 minutes at a position on the main access road to the airport, near the reinforced concrete guard post (which is permanently maintained in the broad median strip of the access road to provide security for nearby electrical installations). This location is some distance removed from the turnoff to the Hacienda Police station at San Juan Talpa. To verify the guardsmen's testimony, we contacted Patricia Lasbury Hall, at the time of the events in question, United States Consul in El Salvador.[165/] Together with

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Ambassador White, Ms. Hall drove the Canadians to the airport on the day after they were stopped. At that time, Ms. Hall told us, the Canadians identified for her the location of the checkpoint. It was, she said, just as the guardsman had it: near the existing concrete guard post in the median strip of the airport access road.

The claim that a police pickup truck was involved is based on the alleged correlation of a fresh smear of red paint on the burned out van with a red Toyota pickup truck of the same shade at the Hacienda Police station in San Juan Talpa on the day after the murders. Father Schindler noticed the red paint smear on the left front bumper of the van when he found it on the roadside on December 3, 1980. Because he was the person responsible for the maintenance of the church vehicles in La Libertad, he was familiar with the condition of the van and is confident that the smear had not been there before December 2.

In his subsequent search for the women, Father Schindler visited a nearby Hacienda Police station in San Juan Talpa where he saw a red Toyota pickup truck. Although he was unable to inspect the truck thoroughly for paint damage and although none was visible to him, he concluded that the pickup truck and the paint smear were of the same color. As a result, he suggested that the Hacienda Police from that station might have been involved in the church-women murders. We cannot draw that conclusion.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

On December 12, 1980, FBI technicians took scrapings of the paint smear.[166] These scrapings were analyzed in the FBI Laboratory, which concluded that none of the paint particles were of a kind used for the original paint finish on any motor vehicles.[167] Because Father Schindler had identified the pickup truck as a Toyota, the Maryknoll Order sent a copy of the FBI analysis to Toyota. Toyota responded specifically that the paint was not used on their vehicles.[168]

Father Schindler told us that he believes the Toyota pickup truck had been repainted, so that it is possible that a non-standard paint was used. Even if that were so, however, it is likely that particles from the underlying original coat of paint would have been present in the red smear as well. None was found.

We find the connection between the red smear and the red pickup truck to be based entirely on supposition. Moreover, it is inconsistent with testimony that we believe to be truthful from several of the participants in the abduction (Guardsman Rivera Franco and Contreras Palacios), and with the testimony of those who witnessed the activities of December 2. We have found no credible evidence that the Hacienda Police were involved in the murders.

D. Money and Valuables

In the days following the murders, several of the accused were seen with money and valuables.[169] Guardsman

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Cruz Piche reported that another guardsman claimed that Canales Ramirez was seen with 5,000 dollars or colones.[170] The allegation, albeit second hand, is of concern because possession of such a large sum of money, in excess of any amounts conceivably taken from the churchwomen, might suggest that the guardsmen had been paid by some unknown party for participation in the murders.

To clarify the allegation, we asked that Guardsman Cruz Piche be reinterviewed on the subject. At the time of writing this report, Cruz Piche cannot be located by Salvadoran authorities. Nonetheless, based on the evidence available to us, we believe that the churchwomen's missing personal property has been satisfactorily traced to Colindres Aleman and the guardsmen, and that it probably accounts for any perceived increase in Colindres Aleman's personal wealth.

When the nuns left the airport, they had with them the personal belongings of Sisters Clarke and Ford, including clothing and books. Sister Ford was carrying some cash (originally thought to be $900, now apparently only $175)[171] and three checks, two for $1,800 each (to help buy a new jeep to replace one lost earlier that year) and one for $243 (to be used to pay local accounts).[172]

According to several witnesses, the books were burned by the accused soon after the murders, along with articles of clothing and some jewelry.[173] Several witnesses testified that Subsergeant Colindres Aleman was seen selling women's watches, rings, eyeglasses and a tape recorder, and buying a television set and furniture.[174] One of the other accused, Guardsman Contreras Palacios, gave Guardsman Sanchez Guzman eighty dollars to exchange into colones for him, and Canales Ramirez offered to sell Sanchez Guzman a woman's watch.[175] The checks were never negotiated and, according to the Embassy's special evidence, were destroyed by Colindres Aleman.

Other than the second hand accounts crediting Guardsman Canales Ramirez with 5,000 dollars or colones, there is no evidence attributing an amount of money to any of the guardsmen in excess of the cash and valuables possessed by the churchwomen. We conclude from this evidence in the record that Colindres Aleman and others of the accused looted the churchwomen's belongings after the murders, taking what they believed to be valuable and burning the rest. There is no credible evidence that Colindres Aleman, Canales Ramirez, or anyone else received payment from an unknown source for his role in the murders.

E. The Moran Letter

Perhaps no red herring has been so patently fabricated as the Moran letter. In the late spring of 1983, the Maryknoll Order received, through an anonymous source, a copy of a letter, purportedly written by Lt. Colonel Antonio Moran, the Chief of the Hacienda Police, to Colonel Vides

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Casanova, the Director of the National Guard, on January 5, 1981.[176/] The letter states that six individuals--not the defendants--had been detained by the police and were being referred to Vides Casanova for the murders of the churchwomen. If true, the letter would cast immediate doubt on the validity of the entire prosecution.

The letter is, however, a crude forgery, obviously created by unknown third parties--whether of the right or the left--with an interest in disrupting the prosecution. Colonel Moran has testified he never sent the letter,[177/] and Vides Casanova that he never received it.[178/] Moreover, the signature and seal are forgeries, according to handwriting experts appointed by Judge Rauda,[179/] and the letter does not bear either the code numbers or the formal salutation that a genuine piece of Treasury Police correspondence would include.

F. Moran and Cortez

In September, 1981, an annonymous letter addressed to the United States Congress was received by the State Department.[180/] The letter, dated July 21, 1981, stated that the writer was a witness to the killings of the churchwomen, and that if Congress were interested in the identity of the assassins, it should place an advertisement in several Mexican newspapers. The State Department placed the advertisement in late September, which led to a meeting between

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

two United States Embassy officials and Ingeniero Juan Jose Moran, a former city manager of San Salvador.[181] Moran said that he had no direct information concerning the murders. He identified the author of the letter to Congress as one Cesar Cortez, allegedly a driver employed by Hans Crist, a suspect in the January, 1981, murders of the American Institute of Free Labor Development workers. He said that Cortez had fled El Salvador several months before, passing through Mexico City on his way to the United States. On October 6, Moran told the Embassy in Mexico City that Cortez had written to him from Chicago, but that he still had no address for him.

On October 15, 1981, John McAward, Executive Director of the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee, reported to the State Department that he also had met Moran in Mexico City.[182] According to McAward, Moran claimed that a Cesar Cortez had approached him in Mexico City and described the murders. Cortez allegedly told Moran that he had been instructed by his employer to drive a pickup truck from "the Hacienda" with two Hacienda guards to La Libertad, where he was to pick up three guardsmen, and then proceed to the airport "to do a job"--the abduction of the churchwomen. Moran stated that Cortez denied participation in the rapes and murders, but claimed to have seen what happened.

Thereafter, the State Department and the FBI pursued a number of false leads in attempting to trace the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

mysterious Cortez.[183] Finally, responding to a suggestion from Representative Mary Rose Oakar, the State Department sought to submit Moran to a polygraph examination concerning Cortez.[184] Despite repeated requests and assurances of safety, Moran repeatedly refused to submit to a polygraph examination.[185] With Moran's refusal, the effort to locate Cortez and to verify his story reached a dead end.

We are convinced that the Moran/Cortez episode has no bearing on our understanding of the facts. Cortez' alleged story, as described by Moran through McAward, is inconsistent with the facts outlined above. It may be that Moran fabricated the story in an attempt to gain a visa to the United States.[186] Whatever Moran's motivation, Cortez' alleged story, unsupported even by the existence of Cortez and contradicted by the facts, is of no apparent validity.

G. The Radio Message

In December 1980, it was reported that a witness had overheard a radio transmission at the airport between members of the security forces.[187] There is conflicting information about what was said. According to one version, a guardsman was heard stating, "we missed them on this flight."[188] According to another version, the conversation focused on the fact that the churchwomen were carrying a large amount of money.[189] Any such conversation, if true, would be significant because it could suggest that the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

National Guard was awaiting the arrival of the churchwomen, and thus that a prearranged plot was in effect.

Although the source of the information was fairly quickly identified, he resisted several attempts by Embassy officials to persuade him to come forward and make a formal statement. President Duarte finally prevailed upon the witness to submit to an interview, attended by Embassy officials, in mid-March 1982 by Deputy Fiscal General Benjamin Cestoni.[190/] The witness said that he was in the airport terminal on December 2, 1980, awaiting an incoming flight. While there, he claimed he overheard a telephone--not radio--conversation of a uniformed guardsman speaking from a pay telephone in the lobby. He said that the gist of the conversation was "we missed them on this flight." The witness said that he then saw the arrival of two women he believed to be two churchwomen, who were greeted by two others and who departed at about 4:00-4:30 p.m. in a white van. He averred that he was sure about the time because he himself left shortly after 4:30 p.m.[191/]

Although Cestoni and the Embassy officials all believed that the witness was not purposely attempting to deceive them, they unanimously concluded that his recollection was nonetheless confused and highly unreliable. Under close questioning, the witness offered varying accounts of what he had heard, at different times claiming that the communication was by radio or by telephone, and that it concerned either money in the churchwomen's possession or their delayed arrival. Indeed, at one point, in the course of three interviews with Embassy personnel, the witness stated that he had only seen a radio being used and had not heard what was said.[192] Moreover, if true, the witness's testimony means that at least Guardsman Perez Nieto and Cruz Piche are lying in giving their accounts of Perez Nieto's telephone conversation with Subsergeant Colindres Aleman. Because of all of this, we discount the report of the witness.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

H. Abduction at the Airport

Father Schindler has suggested to us that the churchwomen had been abducted at the airport, not at the roadblock manned by Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and his guardsmen.[193] He said he believed this had happened because witnesses to whom he spoke had said they were the last to leave the airport and the white van remained behind. He further told us that Ms. Hall had indicated to him that a secret Embassy source had confirmed that the abduction was actually at the airport. Ms. Hall denied to us making any such statement.[194] Moreover, our review of the Embassy files and our conversations with Embassy officials convinces us that no such source or information exists. Finally, the allegation is completely contrary to all the existing evidence in the case with respect to the location of the abduction.

I. The .22 Magnum

When the bodies of the churchwomen where taken to a local funeral home in San Salvador on December 4, 1980, a Maryknoll priest, Father John Spain, was present to witness the post-mortem examination.[195/] Father Spain heard the funeral home attendant say that the wounds of at least one of the women were caused by a .22 magnum, allegedly a favorite weapon of the Salvadoran death squads. Father Spain observed that the wounds of Sisters Ford and Clarke were small, did not disturb their facial features and were in other respects different from those of Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan. The physician and judge present were noncommittal about the wounds, and the subsequent autopsies performed on the churchwomen drew no conclusions about the caliber of the weapons used.

We can give little weight to the opinion of the funeral home attendant. The theory that a small caliber weapon was used does not comport with the confession of Guardsman Contreras Palacios, who testified that he and the others had used their service weapons. It is likewise inconsistent with the ballistics analysis of those shells and casings that were recovered. It is, of course, possible that a guardsman may have had a .22 magnum pistol, and could have used it to kill one or more of the women. Even if such a weapon were used, however, it does not add any evidence one way or the other about the involvement of others in the murders.

J. Sister Maria Rieckelman

On the night of murders, Sister Maria Rieckelman, a Maryknoll nun who attended the Managua conference together with Sisters Ford and Clarke, was questioned by uniformed Salvadorans when her plane landed at the International Airport in El Salvador.[196/] This event had led some to conclude that some coordinated harassment of churchwomen was underway on the evening of December 2, 1980. We do not share that conclusion.

Without more, the questioning of passengers aboard a plane just arrived from Sandinista Nicaragua, suppliers of the rebels fighting the Salvadoran government, on the night before the FDR funeral, does not seem to us extraordinary. Rather, like the stop of the Canadians, it seems to us simply to be further proof of the heightened tensions of the time, tensions that may have caused Colindres Aleman to believe he could abduct and murder the churchwomen.

K. Sister Maura Clarke and the Nicaraguan Connection

Sisters Maura Clarke and Ita Ford were returning from an annual gathering of Central American Maryknolls in Nicaragua at the time of their murder. During our visit to El Salvador, we heard allegations that the Catholic Church, and specifically the Maryknoll Order, are linked in the minds of the military in El Salvador with support of leftist and revolutionary causes in Central America, especially as

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

exemplified by Maryknoll links to the Sandinista government in Nicaragua. When we learned that a former Sandinista intelligence officer, Major Miguel Bolonas, had testified to at least one subcommittee of Congress (Senator Jeremiah Denton's Subcommittee on Security and Terrorism of the Senate Judiciary Committee) that Sister Maura Clarke had a role in those alleged links, we felt obliged to interview Major Bolonas.[197/] We did so not because his allegations against a murdered woman could justify such a senseless and wanton act, but to determine whether such charges were likely to have been made known to Subsergeant Colindres Aleman or his superiors. We found our interview with Major Bolonas largely unhelpful.

Major Bolonas claimed that he met Sister Maura Clarke when she was working in Managua with other Maryknolls and a priest known as Father Miguel in a poor area of the city called "Open Three" in the period 1974-1975. Later in 1979, Bolonas claimed, during his work as an intelligence officer both prior to the revolution in Nicaragua and thereafter for the Sandinistas, he learned from another intelligence officer that Sister Clarke and other Maryknolls, along with Father Miguel, were routinely helpful to the Sandinistas both in their charitable activities and in clandestine activities. Major Bolonas stated that at the time of the murder of the nuns in El Salvador, when news of their deaths and their identities was reported in the Nicaraguan press,

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

stories appeared pointing out Maura Clarke's role in assisting the Sandinista revolution.

We have not had an opportunity to discuss Major Bolonas' charges with members of the Maryknoll Order, although we have learned from the State Department that the Maryknolls believe Major Bolonas to be mistaken in his information. We have been told that Maryknoll records indicate that Sister Maura Clarke was not in Nicaragua during the period 1976-1980, but rather was in Boston. It is our view, in any event, that the truth or falsity of Major Bolonas' charges is irrelevant for our purposes. What could be relevant is whether these charges were known to and believed by the Salvadoran government, and became such a concern that Salvadoran officials, believing that they knew Sister Maura Clarke to be a Sandinista ally, ordered her execution.

We do not believe that this occurred. First, although Major Bolonas' credibility is apparently high with United States intelligence agencies, we have received no other confirmation of his charges. Second, we have no indication that these alleged activities of Sister Maura Clarke were ever brought to the attention of the Salvadoran government or that they became the kind of common knowledge among the Salvadorn security forces that Major Bolonas claimed existed within the intelligence circles of the Sandinistas in Nicaragua. Third, as described in our "Higher-Ups" section, we have concluded that Subsergeant Colindres

Aleman probably acted on his own initiative. With this in mind, it does not appear likely that he somehow became aware of these allegations and decided to carry out the removal of four churchwomen in order to protect the Republic of El Salvador from infiltration by Sister Maura Clarke.

V. PROSPECTS FOR A SUCCESSFUL PROSECUTION

El Salvador is a civil law state. Virtually every step of a criminal investigation and prosecution is specified in the Salvadoran code, and we found the procedures to be formalistic and largely inflexible.

In an effort to understand how the prosecution is likely to unfold, we held discussions with Judge Rauda, Fiscal General Rivera, Dr. Castillo, the coordinating prosecutor, and former Deputy Fiscal General Benjamin Cestoni. We talked as well with members of the private bar in San Salvador, including the Salvadoran legal advisor to the United States Embassy. Finally, we discussed this matter with representatives of the United States Department of Justice, and with lawyers in the office of the Legal Adviser of the United States Department of State.

As we learned, the trial, or plenario, stage of this case will be quite unlike an American trial. There will be no live witnesses. Rather, the evidence will be read to the jury from the written statements taken from the witnesses during the investigatory, or sumario, stage.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Thereafter, the lawyers will argue their respective sides to the jury based on the written record. During this argument stage, the lawyers may refer to any documents they wish, even if they are not part of the record.

We believe that a successful prosecution of this case must include at least the following elements:

(1) a carefully prepared record that demonstrates the guilt of the defendants and negates their defenses;

(2) a capable prosecutor willing to pursue vigorously members of the Salvadoran security forces;

(3) a courageous and astute judge;

(4) a jury well insulated from the potential for corruption or intimidation; and

(5) freedom from efforts by other Salvadorans, whether in or out of government, to interfere with the proceedings of the trial.

A. The Record

In the course of detailing the investigations of this case, we have already catalogued the principal evidence now in the record against Subsergeant Colindres Aleman and the other guardsmen. During the sumario, or investigatory, phase, Judge Rauda took testimony from the five accused and at least twenty-five other witnesses.[198/] He admitted into

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

evidence the spare tire and jack taken from the churchwomen's van and the ballistics evidence linking the guardsmen to the shell casings at the murder site. We believe that the evidence is substantial, and sufficient to convict the five accused guardsmen. We will not recount it again here.

Dr. Castillo, the chief prosecutor, advised us that he anticipates the defendants will rely on two principal defenses. First, he believes they will challenge the prosecution's reliance on extra-judicial confessions, rather than those given before a judge. In El Salvador, prosecutions that do not feature a confession by the defendant to the investigating judge are relatively rare. Although this is a sad commentary on the state of justice in El Salvador, it nonetheless presents a reality: Salvadoran juries are unused to balancing conflicting accounts of a crime.

Salvadoran law permits the admission of a defendant's extra-judicial confession, but only if it is corroborated by another witness. As we understand it, the two witness rule does not mean two witnesses to the same confession, but only two witnesses each reporting a confession. The record should adequately meet this requirement. Of course, there is Subsergeant Colindres Aleman's direct confession to Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez. That confession should be adequately supported by Colindres Aleman's implicit confessions to Guardsmen Cruz Piche ("If fate is against us, we will have to pay"), Aquino Giron ("They were subversives.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

I do not think there will be a problem."), and Luis Monterrosa ("Today it happened; if our time is up, we will have to pay.").

Second, Dr. Castillo believes the defense will argue that there was excessive American involvement in this prosecution. In essence, the argument will be an appeal to nationalism and a suggestion that there has been undue influence from a foreign power. It was for this reason that the prosecutors were anxious to have Salvadoran witnesses even for evidence actually developed in the United States. It is also for this reason that the prosecutors were hesitant to urge aggressively the admission of the fingerprint and the polygraph evidence, when admission of those tests would not be ordinary under Salvadoran law and would only underscore the influence of the United States on this prosecution. In our discussions with Dr. Castillo, he seemed to be cognizant of the problem and able to deal with it effectively in argument.

A third defense suggested by some is that the defendants were acting on higher orders. As Dr. Castillo advised us, such a defense is not available under the Salvadoran code when the order is to commit an illegal act. The depravity of the crime, amply documented in the record, will provide a basis for a strong argument that no guardsman could have thought such an order was justified. We doubt, in any event, that the argument will be seriously pressed because it will necessarily involve an admission of the crime and a disavowal of the defendants' prior sworn statements.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

No experienced prosecutor can confidently predict that an accused's defenses will necessarily be rejected by the jury. We are convinced, however, that there is sufficient evidence in the record from which the prosecutors can argue that the defenses should be disregarded.

B. The Prosecutors

As the sumario stage of the case neared its conclusion, serious questions were raised about the experience and competence of the prosecutors handling the preparations for trial. In September, 1983, in part at the urging of the United States, an experienced prosecutor, Dr. Juan Geronimo Castillo, was assigned to coordinate the prosecution.

We spoke with Dr. Castillo and were, in general, favorably impressed. Dr. Castillo seemed in command of the case and at ease with the tasks he would have to undertake to complete the preparations for the plenario phase. He responded knowledgably to our questions about tactics and about Salvadoran procedures. We believe that Dr. Castillo is capable of doing a competent job in prosecuting the case.

As we describe below, during our visit to El Salvador, we made a number of suggestions concerning the reinterviews that might be necessary to complete the investigation of this case and its preparation for trial. Although we have received reports concerning the follow-up on those suggestions by Dr. Castillo and his team, we do not have a complete picture of how thoroughly he has completed his investigation. From the reports we have seen, however, most of the investigatory work appears to be near completion.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

We understand as well that the Embassy legal advisor, a professor of law and member of the private criminal bar in San Salvador, will assist Dr. Castillo in the preparation of the case. The Embassy legal advisor has advised the United States Embassy about Salvadoran law and procedures throughout the investigation. We believe this cooperation will provide important support for Dr. Castillo's efforts.

C. The Presiding Judge

Judge Rauda has presided over the sumario phase of the churchwomen murders case for most of its life, and has been reasonably thorough about the collection of evidence. Judge Rauda has thrice referred the case to the plenario stage, to be twice overruled by the appeals court. The two reversals resulted from technical difficulties (the first, a failure to give sufficient notice to the defense attorneys and, the second, a concern about additional evidence in support of the theft charges) and in its ruling on the first appeal, the appeals court specifically indicated that there was sufficient evidence to support the murder charges. The judge took the opportunity of each reversal to add more evidence into the trial record. There has been an appeal of Judge Rauda's most recent decision to refer the matter to plenario, and we are advised by a variety of local lawyers that the appeal is likely to be decided quickly because the same appellate court has heard the two previous appeals and is familiar with the facts.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Judge Rauda has shown himself to be a man of considerable courage, capable of resisting pressures brought to bear on him from either side of the case. He is also a diligent worker, and during our visit with him, displayed an encyclopedic knowledge of the contents of the trial record.

D. The Jury

The trial will be held before a jury of five, with a majority vote necessary to convict. Whether a jury can be assembled in El Salvador today that will have the courage to convict five former National Guardsmen of murder is an open question, and one that has concerned us greatly.

The selection of the jury does not differ substantially from our system. The trial judge will chose, from a large body of potential jurors, a panel of twelve whose identities he will (or should) keep secret until the day of trial. Under Salvadoran law, we were told the identities of the jurors will then be made public, although their addresses may be kept secret (if they do not leak

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

out). At the beginning of the trial, defense counsel and the prosecutor may each exercise one peremptory challenge against the panel, and two challenges for cause. Challenges for cause are rarely granted, and there should thus be no difficulty in selecting five jurors from the panel of twelve.

What will be more difficult, we believe, is guaranteeing the jurors security from intimidation or corruption so that they will be able to vote their consciences without fear. We believe that the notoriety of this case will make the jury (as well as the judge and prosecutor) fair game for those who wish to see the prosecution thwarted, whether because they do not believe the guardsmen should be prosecuted for murder or because they wish to demonstrate that the Salvadoran system is incapable of policing itself. For these reasons, we have discussed at length with the Embassy possible mechanisms to protect the jury.

Our recommendations in this regard have been set forth in detail in an earlier memorandum to the Department of State, and need only be summarized here. Our principal recommendation is that the jurors be accorded anonymity, as is sometimes done with notorious prosecutions in this country where a threat of jury intimidation exists. We have also suggested shielding the jurors, but not the trial, from public view; selecting jurors from a remote province for a trial in another province; offering to relocate the jurors,

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

whether in or out of the country, after trial; providing physical protection to the jurors, and perhaps their families, during the trial and for a reasonable time thereafter; and sequestering the jury during the trial.

This is hardly an exhaustive list of possibilities, but we have not been heartened by the resistance to these ideas by the Salvadoran authorities. The Salvadoran system simply must be flexible enough to adopt novel means when its very integrity is at stake. We must state in the strongest possible terms that we do not believe a successful conviction can occur without the adoption of some adequate means of protecting the jury, and we hope that the Salvadoran authorities continue to consider ways to protect the integrity of the jury system and the physical well being of the jurors themselves.

E. Freedom From Outside Interference

Skeptics have told us that a successful prosecution depends entirely upon the will of the military in El Salvador. In this view, if the military thinks it is to its advantage for the defendants to be convicted, they will be convicted; if the military thinks otherwise, they will be acquitted or never go to trial. Whether that view is correct or not, we must acknowledge that there are many Salvadorans unhappy about this prosecution and, further, that there already have been attempts to influence its outcome.

Major Medrano, we were told, has received multiple threats upon his life for his active role in pressing the investigation. In more recent months, we have learned that a Deputy of the constituent assembly suddenly appeared to observe the proceedings in Judge Rauda's courtroom, an event viewed by Embassy observers as ominous. At the same time, we learned that the Acting President of the Supreme Court may have interceded with Judge Rauda to direct that he not complete his investigation aimed at disproving the bogus Moran letter. To date, Judge Rauda has been remarkably courageous in resisting such efforts at intimidation.

We do not believe that there is much that the United States can do to prevent such internal efforts at disrupting the prosecution. We can only advise the Salvadoran leadership, as others have done, that the ability of its system to prosecute this case will be seen by many as a test of the system's ability to right itself after too many years of lawlessness.

VI. RECOMMENDATIONS

We were asked to determine whether the Salvadoran and United States Governments have done as much as could be done to assure a successful prosecution. If not, we were asked to suggest what might be done. Many of our recommendations have been set forth above. In each case, we have passed them along to the Department of State immediately

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

without waiting for the completion of this report, so that there would be time for action to be taken. To the extent that our conclusions and recommendations have not already been set forth, we include them in this section.

1. An Accusador Particular. In El Salvador, as in many civil law countries, it is possible for the family of the victim of a crime to hire its own lawyer, an accusador particular, to prosecute the case in addition to the government attorney. The device is obviously a desirable one where, as here, there have been doubts regularly expressed about the competence and willingness of the government prosecutors to pursue the case. Accordingly, we have endorsed the State Department's recommendation that the families hire an accusador particular. We have urged that view in several meetings with the families and their representatives and promised the families that, if they agreed, we would press the State Department to pay for the services of the accusador.

To our regret, the families have consistently refused taking this step. As we understand their reasoning, they are distrustful of participating in the Salvadoran system itself and further doubt that a suitable attorney could be obtained. While we understand their reservations, the device provides a rare opportunity for Americans sincerely interested in the prosecution to have direct influence over the way the case is presented in the courtroom.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Thus, we regret the families' refusal to participate in this proposal.

On the other hand, as matters now stand, we think the loss is less serious than it might have been. As noted above, we are generally impressed with Dr. Castillo and believe him to be more competent than some of his predecessors. Moreover, Dr. Castillo has forged a solid working relationship with the Embassy's legal advisor. Through the legal advisor, American views about the prosecution can readily be transmitted to the prosecutor, even if the families lack a direct voice in court.

2. A Special Prosecutor. Rather than hiring an accusador particular, the families and the Lawyers Committee for International Human Rights under Law have suggested the United States persuade the Salvadoran government to name a special prosecutor to handle the churchwomen murders case. We do not endorse this suggestion. We do not believe that, in the Salvadoran system, the label the prosecutor bears is of any significance to his effectiveness or to his freedom from interference. Moreover, in a real sense, Dr. Castillo is essentially a special prosecutor. He was especially reassigned from his duties as head of a separate section of the prosecutor's office to prosecute this case.

3. An American Prosecutor. None of the American Embassy officials in San Salvador with responsibility for this case is a practicing attorney, much less an experienced

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

prosecutor. While these officials have been diligent, successful and often courageous in pushing the Salvadorans to prosecute the defendants, as the case approaches trial it is apparent to us that American views could more usefully be presented by an experienced criminal prosecutor. Such a prosecutor could deal more effectively with the Salvadoran attorneys involved in the case in terms of making useful suggestions, understanding the problems of the prosecution and analyzing the tactics used by both sides. We have therefore suggested that a Spanish speaking Justice Department prosecutor be made available to assist the Embassy during the plenario proceeding.

4. The Fingerprint Evidence. Because the analysis of Colindres Aleman's fingerprint, taken from the churchwomen's van, was done outside of Salvadoran territorial limits and not under the supervision of the trial judge, the Salvadoran code prohibits its introduction into evidence. We were frankly surprised at this result and, because the evidence was so important, sought to explore ways to obtain its admission. Our every suggestion was unavailing, and we ultimately concluded, as Dr. Castillo and the Embassy legal advisor both told us, that we could not expect to achieve formal admission of the fingerprint into the record.

Although the fingerprint will not be part of the trial record, it still may be used at the trial. During the

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

vista publica, or public presentation, stage of the proceedings, lawyers may display to the jury and rely upon any documentary evidence, even from outside the record. Thus, it is possible for the fingerprint evidence to be used. Because Dr. Castillo expects the defense to be based upon excessive American involvement in the prosecution, he was nonetheless reluctant to use the fingerprint in this way unless absolutely necessary. An argument based upon a fingerprint taken by United States personnel and inadmissible under Salvadoran law will only reinforce the point that Dr. Castillo expects the defense to make. Thus, he will wait until his reply argument to determine whether the defense is indeed attacking American involvement and whether the fingerprint will be useful. We concur in this analysis.

5. Ballistics Evidence. The initial ballistics tests taken by the FBI were inadmissible for the same reasons as the fingerprint evidence. We encouraged the FBI, as recounted above, to transport its equipment to El Salvador and train a Salvadoran national to duplicate the tests. This was done with success, as set forth above. This proof is a substantial link in the chain of evidence against the accused.

6. Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez' Testimony. Although the record of the trial consists entirely of sworn written statements of the witnesses, the sworn statement of Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez, obtained by the FBI in Los Angeles and sworn to in the Salvadoran Consulate office in that city, was deemed inadmissible by both the judge and the prosecutor. The statement's flaw was that it was not sworn to before the investigating judge. We recommended, as did others, that Sergeant Martinez be flown to El Salvador at American expense so that his statement could be duplicated before Judge Rauda. This was done successfully in July, 1983, and forms another important part of the trial record.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

7. Polygraph Evidence. Although the polygraph evidence is inadmissible in both El Salvador and the United States, we believe that such evidence is useful, when taken together with other available evidence and obtained by a skilled examiner. We considered whether an effort should be made to persuade the court to admit the evidence, and ultimately concluded that this was not the case in which to press El Salvador to accept evidence that would be inadmissible in the United States.

We are told that the polygraph examinations could be used in the vista publica in the same manner as the fingerprint evidence. Dr. Castillo has told us that he will await his reply argument before making a decision with respect to whether to use them. We agree with this decision, but would generally be inclined against using this evidence.

8. The Special Embassy Evidence. The special evidence developed by the United States Embassy is directly probative of the defendants' guilt and, as well, extremely important in explaining our conclusions about the cover-up

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

and the question of higher-up involvement. Accordingly, we believed it desirable, if at all possible, to present this evidence to the court.

At our suggestion, the State Department carefully considered this issue, including contacting those whose lives would be put at risk by disclosure. Based on the information thus collected, both we and the State Department concluded that the risk of loss of life that would result from public release was too great. We also note that the information has already been highly useful to the United States since, without it, we doubt the prosecution would ever have been undertaken.

9. The Cover-up. As we have detailed above, it is clear to us that elements of the Salvadoran military undertook an initial attempt to protect the perpetrators of the crime. In El Salvador such an effort, at least by the active participants, could constitute a separate crime and some have urged that a criminal investigation be initiated. We believe that it would be dangerous to initiate such an investigation prior to a successful resolution of the underlying murder case. The cooperation that the United States has achieved to date with Salvadoran authorities has been hard to win, and could be easily lost. A cover-up investigation would necessarily threaten several high ranking Salvadoran officials. If these officials feel personally threatened, they may well attempt to scuttle the underlying prosecution on the theory that there could be no cover-up prosecution if the defendants were not found guilty. We believe this poses an unacceptable risk to the success of the murder prosecution, and thus have recommended that any effort to pursue the cover-up be delayed.

10. Additional Interviews. To flush out various gaps or inconsistencies in the record, we recommended last summer that several additional interviews occur:

(a) Margarito Perez Nieto, the National Guardsman who first noticed the nuns at the airport, to obtain more detail about his conversations with Colindres Aleman, and his spotting of the women.

(b) Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, the confessed participant, about details that might reflect or discredit the fact of premeditation.

(c) Salvador Rivera Franco, the guardsman who watched over the malfunctioning jeep, for greater details that might reflect premeditation.

(d) The two guardsmen at the guardpost at El Rosario, La Paz, to determine whether they discussed the women with Subsergeant Colindres and whether he informed them about his plans for the women.

(e) Isabel Aquino Giron, Colindres Aleman's second in command at the airport, for further detail about the substance of his phone conversation late on the evening of December 2.

(f) Jose Luis Monterrosa, who according to the special Embassy evidence, knew more than he had said about the guilt of Colindres Aleman.

In our discussions with the United States Embassy in San Salvador, and with the Department of State, we also agreed that certain other interviews or reinterviews would be appropriate: Colonel Pena Arbaiza, the Army commander in Chalatenango; Second Lieutenant Daniel Mejia Rivas, the officer who was the acting company commander with overall responsibility for the Airport National Guard detachment; and Lieutenant Colonel Oscar Armando Carranza, an officer currently assigned to National Guard Headquarters staff. We also agreed that additional guardsmen who had been on duty at the airport that night, Jose Vidal Cruz Piche, Rafael Antonio Cornejo, Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman, Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza, Adrian Ramirez Palacios, and Orantes Menjivar, should also be interviewed or reinterviewed.

We have been informed that the two guardsmen at the Guard post at El Rosario have been interviewed, but we have not seen their statements. Guardsman Margarito Perez Nieto has been missing in action for almost ten months, and Corporal Isabel Aquino Giron is dead, killed while on active duty. We also understand, for a number of practical reasons, that the Salvadoran prosecutors have determined that they would not at this time reinterview Salvador Rivera Franco.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Colonel Pena Arbaiza, Lieutenant Mejia Rivas and Lieutenant Colonel Armando Carranza have also been interviewed, as have Guardsmen Contreras Palacios and Luis Monterrosa. Their testimony adds very little to the available evidence concerning the murders. Guardsmen Jose Elias Sanchez Guzman and Jose Vidal Cruz Piche have not been reinterviewed, because they cannot be located, and a planned "confrontation" by the Fiscal General between Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza and Adrian Ramirez Palacios to resolve apparent discrepancies in their testimonies has not occurred because of a refusal by Valle Espinoza to cooperate further. Guardsman Orantes Menjivar, whose reinterview had been planned, is dead, and it has been determined that Lieutenant Antonio Cornejo, whose interview had been planned, was not on duty at the airport on the crucial night.

11. Reinterview of Colindres Aleman. Colindres Aleman, more than any other person, knows whether he is protecting higher officers by his silence. Thus, securing his cooperation would be a key step in any possible higher-up investigation. We suggested that efforts be made in that direction when we returned in September, 1983, from our trip to El Salvador. So far as we were aware at the time of our suggestion, no military or civilian authorities involved with the investigation of the case had spoken with Colindres Aleman since his polygraph examination in January, 1982. We suggested that, if Colindres Aleman heard the totality of

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

the evidence now accumulated against him, he might decide it was in his interest to cooperate.

At first, we were told that Salvadoran procedures do not encourage such reinterviews. The prosecutors agreed, however, that there could be reinterviews for the purpose of clearing up ambiguities in testimony or otherwise explaining previous testimony. On October 11, 1983, Colindres Aleman was reinterviewed and we have reviewed the English language translation of his statement. Unfortunately, we do not find in the reinterview statement the cooperativeness for which we had hoped, nor any further information that would be helpful to us on the issue of the involvement of higher-ups. In his reinterview, however, Colindres Aleman did provide a further indication of his guilt by admitting his discussion with Perez Nieto concerning the churchwomen and by providing a wholly incredible explantion of his whereabouts on the night of the murders.

12. Change of Venue. For some time, the prosecutors have been giving serious consideration to requesting a change of venue to San Salvador for the plenario stage of the trial. We have supported a change of venue. Judge Rauda's small and rustic courtroom in Zacatecoluca has struck us as a less than desirable location for a trial involving a substantial risk of jury intimidation. Moreover, the more cosmopolitan San Salvador jury pool, we have thought, presents a far better opportunity for assembling a jury that could resist such intimidation. If the trial were to be transferred to San Salvador, however, we are told that it would be unlikely, if not impossible, for Judge Rauda to preside over the trial.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

Thus, a transfer to San Salvador would necessitate a change of trial judge, which necessarily presents some risk. We were told by both Dr. Benjamin Cestoni and the Embassy's Salvadoran legal advisor that only three San Salvador judges would be desirable, from the standpoint of experience, competence and sophistication, to preside over the plenario stage. Selection of another, less qualified judge could cause problems for the prosecution, although they might be minimized by the extremely low-profile role that the judge plays in the plenario proceeding. On balance, we would have some concern that the selection of the trial judge might be politicized. The selection would be made by the Salvadoran Supreme Court, at least one member of which, we were told, has already tried to restrict Judge Rauda's investigation.

We have learned most recently that Dr. Castillo is leaning against seeking a change of venue because of a growing belief in El Salvador that the United States is interfering unduly in the internal judicial affairs of the country, a feeling that could result in sympathy for the accused as scapegoats, and thus distract the jury from issues of guilt or innocence. In view of this concern and of the conflicting factors outlined above, we are inclined to rely on

Dr. Castillo's on-the-spot resolution of this sensitive issue of local trial tactics.

14/ The exact time of Sister Kazel's and Ms. Donovan's return to the airport is unknown. We estimate their return to be during this period based on the statements of various witnesses at the airport and estimates of others familiar with the events of that day. See, e.g., Letter from Sister Helene O'Sullivan, M.M., to The Honorable William H. Webster, Director, FBI (July 29, 1982), wherein Sister O'Sullivan states that Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan returned to the airport at about 6:00 p.m. Perez Nieto stated that the women returned at about 5:00 p.m., with two men, in a coffee-colored car, and the van was driven by a man alone. We believe that Perez Nieto was confused by the arrival of Father Britto and his group, who arrived at the airport to meet the Canadian delegation to the FDR funerals in a jeep and a white van. See Medrano Report at 44 (Perez Nieto Statement) and Statement of John C. Hilborn (January 14, 1981).

15/ Bowdler/Rogers Report.

16/ Medrano Report at 38 (Giron Statement). Neither Perez Nieto nor Colindres Aleman have admitted to a second telephone call. In fact, Perez Nieto denied seeing the women return to the airport, see Medrano Report at 44. However, Colindres Aleman's second in command, Aquino Giron, swore that Colindres Aleman received a call from Perez Nieto at about 5:30 p.m. (his subsequent court testimony put the time at between 4:30 p.m. and 5:00 p.m., see Appellate Court Decision at 16) concerning suspicious women in the airport. This suggests that there may have been a second call. If Giron was confused as to the times, of course, there may have been only one call, but we do not regard the number of calls from Perez Nieto to be of critical importance.

17/ Medrano Report at 43, 44 (Perez Nieto Statement). Perez Nieto returned to the barracks at some point prior to or at the end of his scheduled duty (7:00 p.m.). In his recent statement, Colindres Aleman admitted that Perez Nieto returned to the barracks about 6:00 p.m. and discussed the earlier departure of Sister Kazel and Ms. Donovan. While acknowledging this conversation, he again denied his guilt.

24/ Id. at 70 (Contreras Palacios Statement), and 75 (Rivera Franco Statement). Retired Guardsman Julio Cesar Valle Espinoza, in his testimony of August 9, 1982 (see Cable from United States Embassy, San Salvador, to Secretary of State, Washington, D.C. (September 22, 1982)), stated that he was part of another checkpoint between the traffic control post (which probably was the Cornejo Cubas/Luis Monterrosa/Cruz Piche checkpoint) and Colindres Aleman's position. He testified that several guardsmen boarded the churchwomen's van at the traffic control post, and then drove to his location, where he and two more guardsmen boarded the van. He said that the van proceeded to Colindres Aleman's site, where he (Valle Espinoza) and the other guardsmen in the van left the churchwomen and returned to the airport on foot. Although this testimony is consistent with the churchwomen's abduction by Colindres Aleman, its description of the mechanics of the kidnapping is contradicted by statements of the guardsmen at the checkpoint, and by the two guardsmen with Colindres Aleman who have admitted their roles in the abduction and murders. We thus reject this testimony as, whatever Valle Espinoza's motivations, inaccurate.

2. CHARGE MET WITH THREE MEMBERS OF THE UPD AT THEIR REQUEST ON NOVEMBER 29. THE VISITORS WERE SAMUEL MALDONADO, SECRETARY OF ORGANIZATION OF THE UCS; JORGE CAMACHO, PRESIDENT OF ACOPAI AND HIS DEPUTY, MARCOS SALAZAR. ALSO PRESENT AT THE MEETING WERE THE POLITICAL [redacted] AND THE LABOR OFFICER.

WITH THE AGRARIAN REFORM: THE UPD SEES THE NEW CONSTITUTION AS A MEANS OF ENSHRINING (AND THEREFORE PROTECTING) THE AGRARIAN REFORM. HE SAID THAT THE UPD WILL CONTINUE TO URGE RETENTION OF THE CONCEPT OF 100--150 HECTARES AS THE LIMIT FOR RESERVE RIGHTS, AS SPECIFIED IN DECREE 153 (SEE REFTEL A). MALDONADO EXPLAINED THAT THE UPD SEES THE UPCOMING ELECTIONS AS A MEANS OF FURTHERING THE DEMOCRATIZATION PROCESS AND THEREFORE STRENGTHENING LAND REFORM AND ENSURING ITS CONTINUATION. FOR THIS SAME REASON, HE SAID, THE UPD BELIEVES THAT THE ELECTIONS SHOULD BE GENERAL (E.G., FOR DEPUTIES AND MAYORS AS WELL AS FOR PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT). QUERIED BY THE CHARGE ON THIS POINT, MALDONADO STATED THAT THE UPD BELIEVES THAT IF NEW DEPUTIES ARE NOT ELECTED ALONG WITH A NEW PRESIDENT, THE LATTER WILL BE POWERLESS IN OFFICE, NO MATTER HOW STRONG HIS POPULAR BASE TURNS OUT TO BE.

4. AT THIS POINT, CAMACHO UNFOLDED AN ALMOST UNINTELLIGIBLE ACCOUNT OF A DIFFICULT MEETING HE RECENTLY HAD WITH PDC LEADER NAPOLEON DUARTE. APPARENTLY CONCERNED, CAMACHO EXPLAINED THAT HE BELIEVES THAT DUARTE IS SO ANXIOUS TO BRING THE PCN AND AD PARTIES OVER TO HIS SIDE OF THE ASSEMBLY THAT HE WILL BEGIN PLAYING POLITICS TO THE DETRIMENT OF THE PDC'S STANDING COMMITMENT TO DEFEND THE UPD'S 100-150 HECTARES LIMIT FOR RESERVE RIGHTS. CAMACHO SAID THAT THE UPD POSITION ON AGRARIAN REFORM COULD BE ITEMIZED AS FOLLOWS: (1) 100--150 HECTARES MAXIMUM RESERVE RIGHTS, (2) 72,000 PHASE III BENEFICIARIES TO RECEIVE PERMANENT TITLES (WITHOUT LEGAL OPPOSITION), AND (3) THE EXTENSION OF DECREE 207 (THE LAND TO THE TILLER PROGRAM) BEYOND DECEMBER 31, 1983 -- WHEN IT IS SCHEDULED TO EXPIRE.

CAMACHO TOLD CHARGE THAT THE UPD WOULD BE WILLING TO LIMIT THE EXTENSION OF 207 TO THOSE CONFLICTIVE AREAS WHERE IT HAS BEEN IMPOSSIBLE TO IMPLEMENT IT YET.

2. DURING A LUNCHEON YESTERDAY IN THE CLUB DE UNION, WE SPOKE BRIEFLY WITH FOREIGN MINISTER SCHWEITZER. AS REQUESTED IN REFTEL WE EXPRESSED VICE PRESIDENT BUSH'S SINCERE REGRET THAT HE IS UNABLE TO ACCEPT THE FOREIGN MINISTER'S KIND INVITATION TO VISIT CHILE AFTER THE ALFONSIN INAUGURATION DUE TO TIGHT SCHEDULING COMMITMENTS AND TRAVEL PLANS. SCHWEITZER ASKED IF ASSISTANT SECRETARY MOTLEY WOULD BE ABLE TO VISIT SANTIAGO. WE EXPLAINED THAT HIS SCHEDULE MADE IT IMPOSSIBLE BUT THAT AMBASSADOR MOTLEY HOPED TO BE ABLE TO TRAVEL TO CHILE IN THE FUTURE.

3. THE FOREIGN MINISTER STATED THAT HE WAS VERY DISAPPOINTED THAT CHILE'S FRIENDS NEVER SEEM TO HAVE TIME TO VISIT WHILE CRITICS ALWAYS ARE ABLE TO COME. HE SAID THAT IT IS IMPORTANT FOR SENIOR ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS TO VISIT SANTIAGO TO SEE FOR THEMSELVES THE SYSTEMATIC DISTORTION OF CHILEAN REALITY BY GOVERNMENT CRITICS. IN REPLY WE POINTED OUT THAT AMBASSADOR WALTERS, WHO HAS THE CONFIDENCE OF SECRETARY SHULTZ AND PRESIDENT REAGAN, WAS ARRIVING NEXT WEEKEND FOR CONVERSATIONS WITH THE PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS OF THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT. SCHWEITZER SAID THAT US-CHILEAN RELATIONS WERE ENTERING A PERIOD OF FRICTION AND TENSION. HE SAID THE GOVERNMENT WAS DISTURBED AT THE NEGATIVE US VOTE AT THE IDB ON THE CODELCO LOAN. NOW, THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION WAS ABOUT TO CERTIFY ARGENTINA, WHICH ADVERSELY AFFECTED CHILE'S NATIONAL SECURITY.

4. COMMENT WE HAVE NOTICED A HARDENING OF OFFICIAL ATTITUDES TOWARDS THE UNITED STATES IN RECENT WEEKS, PARTICULARLY ON THE PART OF THE FOREIGN MINISTER. DURING THE DELICATE PERIOD AHEAD, WE MUST ALL BE ESPECIALLY ALERT TO AVOID ACTIONS AND STATEMENTS, (E.G. BY ANONYMOUS US OFFICIALS) THAT COULD CONTRIBUTE UNNECESSARILY TO THE GROWING STRAIN IN OUR BILATERAL RELATIONS. THEBERGE

THE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDMENTAL FREEDOMS FOR ALL, AND RESOLVED TO REMAIN VIGILANT WITH REGARD TO VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS WHEREVER THEY OCCUR,

STRESSING THE OBLIGATION OF GOVERNMENTS TO PROMOTE AND PROTECT HUMAN RIGHTS AND TO CARRY OUT THE

RESPONSIBILITIES THEY HAVE UNDERTAKEN BY VIRTUE OF VARIOUS INTERNATIONAL INSTRUMENTS,

RECALLING ITS RESDLUTIONS 3219 (XXIX), OF NOVEMBER 6, 1974, 3448 (XXX) OF DECEMBER 9, 1975, 31/124 OF DECEMBER 16, 1976, 32/118 OF DECEMBER 16, 1977, 33/175 OF DECEMBER 20, 1978, 34/179 OF DECEMBER 17, 1979, 35/188 OF DECEMBER 15,, 36/157 OF DECEMBER 16, 1981 AND 37/183 OF DECEMBER 17, 1982 ALL OF THEM RELATED TO THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, AS WELL AS ITS RESOLUTION 33/173 OF DECEMBER 20, 1978 ON DISAPPEARED PERSONS,

RECALLING ALSO, THE RESOLUTIONS OF THE COMMISSION OF HUMAN RIGHTS ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE AND IN PARTICULAR THE RESOLUTION 1983/38 OF MARCH 8, 1983, IN WHICH THE COMMISSION DECIDED INTER ALIA TO EXTEND FOR A YEAR THE MANDATE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE,

DEPLORING ONCE AGAIN THE FACT THAT THE REPEATED APPEALS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, OF THE COMMISSION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND OTHER INTERNATIONAL BODIES FOR THE RESTORATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS HAVE NOT BEEN HEEDED BY THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES, WHO CONTINUE TO REFUSE TO COOPERATE WITH THE COMMISSION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND ITS SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, EXPRESSING ITS PROFOUND CONCERN THAT, ACCORDING TO THE CONCLUSIONS OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, THE PERFORMANCE OF THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES WITH REGARD TO THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS HAS BEEN GENERALLY NEGATIVE AND THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN RESPONSIVE IN THE RESOLUTIONS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND THE COMMISSION OF HUMAN RIGHTS,

OBSERVING THAT THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES HAVE PERMITTED A LIMITED NUMBER OF CHILEAN NATIONALS TO RETURN TO THEIR COUNTRY BUT NOTING THAT THE MEASURES TAKEN TO THAT EFFECT HAVE BEEN ARBRITRARY AND RESTRICTIVE,

- 1. COMMENDS THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR HIS REPORT ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE PREPARED IN ACCORDANCE WITH RESOLUTION 1983/38 OF MARCH 8, 1983 FOR THE COMMISSION OF HUMAN RIGHTS;

- 2. REITERATES ITS GRAVE CONCERN AT THE

PERSISTANCE AND INCREASE OF SERIOUS AND SYSTEMATIC VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, AS DESCRIBED IN THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR;

- 3. EXPRESSES ONCEN ITS CONCERN AT THE DISRUPTION OF THE TRADITIONAL DEMOCRATIC LEGAL ORDER AND ITS INSTITUTIONS THROUGH THE MAINTENANCE OF EXCEPTIONAL LEGISLATION, THE INSTITUTIONALIZATION OF VARIOUS STATES OF EMERGENCY AND THE EXISTENCE OF A CONSTITUTION WHICH OOES NOT REFLECT A FREELY EXPRESSED POPULAR WILL AND THE PROVISIONS OF WHICH NOT ONLY FAIL TO GUARANTEE THE ENJOYMENT OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS BUT ALSO SUPPRESS, SUSPEND OR

December 4

-- Three individuals identified as members of the Manuel Rodriguez Revolutionary Front robbed a gunstore owned by Oscar Ricci and escaped with approximately 70,000 pesos worth of arms.

-- The state of incommunication has been lifted in the case of Mario Candelaria Acevedo Saez. She remains in the Centro de Orientacion Femenina in Concepcion. (She is the daughter of the self-immolated man.)

-- In Concepcion, a group of professors, in a public declaration, protested the arrest of academic Miguel Aurelio Cid Gonzalez.
-- A bomb located in a courthouse building in Concepcion caused minor damage.
-- In Valparaiso: A special investigating judge has been requested by the Human Rights Commission of the Fifth Region to investigate the case of Abraham Munoz Bustos.

December 5

-- Intendant Guillard presented charges before the Court of Appeals against four students accused of violating the Internal Security Law. The four are identified as: Viviana Hortensia Diaz, Gema del Rosario Montiel, Victor Manuel Lorenzo Seladier and Patricio Ernesto Peralta.

December 6

-- In Iquique, a bomb explosion partially destroyed a kiosk owned by the Corporacion de Proteccion a la Ancianidad CONPRAN. The responsibility of the crime was claimed by a group called "Martyrs of Pisagua."

-- Five PEM workers were arrested during the incidents in La Granja. The workers were holding protests asking for the majority of their salaries as a result of the abolishment of the PEM program.

-- Five individuals assaulted and threatened the Administrative Director of Radio Carrera, Pedro Salas. The attackers intended to assault Oscar Pizarro, who is the radio station's General Manager of radio broadcasts, accusing him of only giving air time to "anti-patriots."

December 7

-- The Court of Appeals has agreed to consider a write of habeas corpus on behalf of POJH member Sergio Soto Lopez, who was arrested on December 3 by Investigaciones.

UNCLASSIFIED

SS RIM RM 1.1

-- Five individuals attacked a truck carrying copies of the daily newspapers "Las Ultimas Noticias" and "El Mercurio," setting fire to the papers.

-- The Court of Appeals has requested that four individuals be placed at its disposition rather than the Investigaciones. The four individuals, who were arrested during POJH disturbances in Renca, are: Manuel Valenzuela Camus, Maria Cruz Sandoval, Gato Cruz Ibarra and Sergio Soto Lopez.

December 8

-- The Court of Appeals has accepted a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Socialist Party member Tomas Fernando Inostroza Catalan, who has been residing in Mexico since September 1981.

-- The Supreme Court has declared that a Council of War during peacetime is unconstitutional. This decision is in relation to the case of the assassination of Gen. Carol Urzua and his two bodyguards.

-- Ambassador to the UN, Jean Kirkpatrick stated that she believed that the assassins of Gen. Urzua were Cuba-trained.

December 9

-- Considerable damage was caused by a powerful bomb explosion placed by unknown persons in the Quinta Vergara near Vina del Mar.

-- The Ministry of Interior has appealed the decision by the Court of Appeals which had previously accepted a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Socialist Party member Fernando Inostroza Catalan, who has been living in exile in Mexico and wishes to return to Chile.

-- The Association of Radio Broadcasters of Chile presented a public declaration condemning the attack against Pedro Salas, the Administrative Director of Radio Carrera who was assaulted by five unknown people on December 6.

-- In Vallenar, the body of Juan Menares Menares was found after he had been missing since November 29, after having allegedly participated in disturbances in that city.

-- A bomb exploded at a light tower near Vina del Mar, causing considerable damage.

-- The Ministry of Interior appealed a resolution handed down by the Court of Appeals involving exiled Socialist Party councilman Fernando Inostroza Catalan. A writ of habeas corpus has now been accepted by the Appellate Court on his behalf. Inostroza is currently living in Mexico.

December 10

-- The Alianza Democratica announced plans for 4 demonstrations the weekend of December 17 & 18. The proposal will be brought before the Intendant for approval. The locations are San Miguel, La Cisterna, Conchali, Nunoa, La Reina and Pudahuel.

-- Three leaders of the Youth Department of the Coordinadora Nacional Sindical were arrested and placed at the disposition of the Ministry of Interior for reading a document of greetings to the new Argentine President in public. The arrests took place when the group refused to relocate from in front of the Argentine Embassy. The three arrested were Enrique Nunez Estrella, Raul Sanchez Reballedo and Gerardo Hormazabal Lagos.

-- The Group of Families of Political Prisoners clarified that the arrests of Claudio I. Saavedra Leiva, Sergio M. Godoy Troncoso, Heriberto Ossandon and Ema Norma Coronel Barredo were arrested when they attended a church ceremony with the relatives of Abraham Munoz Bustos, and not because of any connection with the assault and assassination of a carabinero for which Munoz had been arrested. The four have since been released.

-- Beginning December 12 for two days, Pres. Pinochet will hold meetings with high government officials.

SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR WALTERS' MEETING WITH PRESIDENT PINOCHET

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. AT 7:30 AM ON 12 DECEMBER I HAD BREAKFAST ALONE WITH PRESIDENT PINOCHET IN HIS OFFICE AT MONEDA PALACE. WE SPOKE FOR AN HOUR IN SPANISH.HE GREETED ME WITH "WELL OLD FRIEND, WHAT ARE YOU AMERICANS TRYING TO DO TO ME?". I REPLIED THAT WE ARE TRYIING TO HELP HIM BUILD A FREE AND PROSPEROUS CHILE.

2. HE THEN BEGAN IN A GOOD NATURED AVUNCULAR WAY TO COMMENT ON US POLICY. "YOU ADVISED THESHAH TO HOLD ELECTIONS AND TO BE MORE OPEN TO HIS OPPOSITION AND YOU HAD TRAGEDY. YOU TOLD BANZER TO HOLD ELECTIONS AND BOLIVIA IS IN CHAOS. YOU ADVISED BELAUNDE TERRY TO HOLD ELECTIONS AND THEY PROVED A ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

DISASTER AND BROUGHT VICTORY TO A MARXIST SOCIALIST AS MAYOR OF LIMA. BY PRESSURING FOR SUCH ELECTIONS WITHOUT REGARD TO THE NATURE OF THE SOCIETY AND THE TIMING OF EVENTS, YOU ARE BRINGING TO POWER ENEMIES OF THE UNITED STATES. LOOK AT BUENOS AIRES. YOU CERTIFIED THE ARGENTINES AND VICE PRESIDENT BUSH WAS BOOED IN THE STREETS OF BUENOS AIRES. ALFONSIN IS NO FRIEND OF THE UNITED STATES AND YOU WILL HAVE A GREAT DEAL OF TROUBLE WITH HIM. BY CONTRAST WE HAVE ALWAYS SUPPORTED THE US IN THE UN AND ELSEWHERE. NO ONE BURNS AMERICAN FLAGS BEFORE YOUR EMBASSY HERE. CHILE HAS ALWAYS BEEN YOUR FRIEND SINCE I HAVE BEEN PRESIDENT. YOU HAVE NOT RECIPROCATED. YOUR POLICY TOWARDS CHILE IS REALLY NOT MUCH DIFFERENT FROM THAT OF THE CARTER ADMINISTRATION.

4. I PAUSED FOR A MOMENT TO TAKE IN HIS COMMENTS AND THEN REPLIED, "MR PRESIDENT, YOU HAVE MORE FRIENDS IN THE US GOVERNMENT THAN YOU THINK. I ASSURE YOU THAT THE UNITED STATES IS NOT TRYING TO UNDERMINE YOUR GOVERNMENT AND THERE ARE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE POLICIES OF PRESIDENT REAGAN AND THOSE OF PRESIDENT CARTER". I THEN SUMMARIZED FOR HIM SEVERAL INSTANCES OF US SUPPORT FOR CHILE IN THE UN AND OTHER INTERNATIONAL BODIES. I DID POINT OUT THAT AMBASSADOR JEANNE KIRKPATRICK HAD SPOKEN OUT VERY FORTHRIGHTLY ON THE MEXICAN AND CUBAN SPONSORED RESOLUTION CONDEMNING CHILE IN THE UNITED NATIONS. HE SAID THAT HE HAD READ HER SPEECH IN GREAT DETAIL AND FELT IT WAS A POSITIVE ONE. HE COMMENTED IRONICALLY ON MEXICO AND CUBA - "TWO GREAT REPRESENTATIVE DEMOCRACIES" - SPONSORING SUCH A RESOLUTION. I POINTED OUT THAT CERTIFICATION OF ARGENTINA DOES NOT MEAN THE US INTENDS TO SELL ARMS TO THE ARGENTINES INDISCIMINATELY. WE WILL WEIGH EACH ARMS REQUEST CAREFULLY. IN THE MALVINAS, WE OPPOSED ARGENTINA IN THE END ON THE PRINCIPLE OF THE NON-USE OF FORECE TO SETTLE TERRITORIAL DISPUTES.

5. HE POINTED OUT THAT AN ARTICLE IN THE MORNING PAPER QUOTED VICE PRESIDENT BUSH AS SAYING THAT IF ARGENTINA ATTACKED CHILE OVER THE BEAGLE CHANNEL, THE AFFAIR WOULD BE NONE OF THE US GOVERNMENT'S BUSINESS. I SAID I HAD READ THE ARTICLE AND UNDERSTOOD THE VICE PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT TO BE THAT

THE US WOULD NOT BE RESPONSIBLE IF ARGENTINA RESORTED TO FORCE OVER THE BEAGLE DISPUTE. PINOCHET NODDED AND DID NOT DISPUTE MY INTERPRETATION.

6. PRESIDENT PINOCHET THEN SAID THAT HE DID NOT BELIEVE THAT ALFONSIN WOULD REMAIN IN POER IN ARGENTINA FOR LONG. THE PERONISTAS AND THE MILITARY WILL BRING HIM DOWN SOONER OR LATER; PROBABLY SOONER. CONCEIVABLY THE NEW ARGENTINE PRESIDENT COULD, IN THE DUPHORIA OF HIS FIRST DAYS IN POWER, ACCEPT THE PAPAL MEDIATION ON THE BEAGLE CHANNLE ISSUE. IF HE DOES NOT DO SO QUITE QUICKLY, HOWEVER, IT WILL BECOME INCREASINGLY DIFFICULT FOR HIM TO ACCEPT IT LATER. PINOCHET EXPRESSED THE BELIEF THAT THE ARGENTINES ARE CARRYING OUT A FULL RANGE OF NUCLEAR ACTIVITIES THAT WILL LEEAD TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF NUCLEAR WEAPONSM I SAID THAT WE HAVE THE MEANS OF ASCERTAINING THAT. IF THAT PROVES TO BE THE CASE, EXISTING US LEGISLATION WILL PREVENT FURTHER ASSISTANCE TO THE ARGENTINES.

7. PRESIDENT PINOCHET SAID THAT THE ARGENTINES CAN NOT BE TRUSTED AND HE WILL HAVE TO SPEND CONSIDERABLE FUNDS TO DEVELOP CHILEAN LIGHT ARMS INDUSTRY. VERY SHORTLY CHILE WILL BE MANUFACTURING LIGHT INFANTRY AUTOMATIC WEAPONS, MORTARS, AND MACHINE GUNS. HE SAID THAT THE POOR ARGENTINE MILITARY PERFORMANCE IN THE FALKLANDS IS ONE OF THE FEW ELEMENTS OF REASSURANCE THE CHILEANS HAVE HAD RECENTLY.

8. PRESIDENT PINOCHET THEN TOOK OUT SEVERAL SHEETS OF CONFIDENTIAL

YELLOW PAPER WICH HE CLAIMED TO BE AN INTELLIGENCE REPORT FROM AN INFORMANT IN SPAIN. HE SIAD THIS MAN CLAIMS TO HAVE PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE THAT THE US GOVERNMENT THROUGH ITS VARIOUS BRANCHES, IS ACTIVELY ENGAGED IN DE-STABILIZING HIS GOVERNMENT. I REPLIED THAT THIS IS FALSE. I HAD CHECKED INTO SUCH REPORTS AND GAVE HIM MY WORD OF HONOR THAT THERE IS NO TRUTH IN THIS ACCUSATION. HE REPLIED "THAT IS GOOD ENOUGH FOR ME".

MR. MONTGOMERY, THE WHITE HOUSE FOR VICE PRESIDENT BUSH

9. RETURNING TO ARGENTINA, HE SAID THAT THEU.S. WAS MISTAKEN TO CERTIFY ARGENTINA ON THE SIMPLE BASIS OF HOLDING AN ELECTION, MUCH MORE IMPORTANT IT WHAT THE NEWLY ELECTED PRESIDENT WILL DO. IN AGENTINA THERE ARE 20,000 DISAPPEARANCES AND IN CHILE THERE WERE 475. THERE IS A CERTAIN INEQUITY BETWEEN THE TWO CASES. IN ANY EVENT HE PROMISED NOT TO MAKE ANY DIFFICULTIES FOR THE UNITED STATES IN AN ELECTION YEAR. HE WILL NOT CARRY ON A POLEMIC WITH US AS THE RESULT OF THIS CERTIFICATION. CHILE HAS STOOD WITH THE UNITED STATE BEFORE AND WILL DO SO AGAIN. ANYTHING WE WANT DONE IN CENTRAL AMERICAN, THE CHILEANS WILL TRY TO DO. I SAID THAT I HOPED THEY WILL CONTINUE THEIR PROGRAM OF TRAINING CNETRAL AMERICAN MILITARY PERSONNEL IN CHILE. HE SAID THEY WOULD DO SO.

10. HE SAID THAT CIRCUMSTANCES WOULD, OF COURSE, COMPEL HIM TO MOVE CLOSER TO THE BRITISH, SINCE BOTH THEY AND HE FELT THREATENED BY THE ARGENTINES. HE SAID THAT HE HAD RENDERED THE UK SOME SERVICES.

11. I THEN ASKED HIM HOW HE SAW THE INTERNAL SITUATION IN CHILE. HE SAID THAT THE TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE REVOLUTION AND THE CURRENT ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES HAD BEEN USED TO MOBILIZE THE OLD LEFT AND SOME FRUSTRATED NON-LEFTIST AGAINST HIM. THEY HAD SUCCEEDED IN MOUNTING SEVERAL LARGE DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST HIM THAT HAD UNFORTUNATELY LED TO SOME BLOODSHED AND VIOLENCE. HOWEVER, THE PEOPLE ARE GROWING TIRED OF THIS. THE MIDDLE CLASS WAS INITIALLY AGITATED BY ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES. HAVING SEEN THE BANNERS AND HAVING LOOKED AGAIN INTO THE FACE OF ALLENDISM, THE MIDDLE CLASS HAD DRAWN BACK FROM OPPOSITION TO HIM. HIS OWN VIEW IS THAT AFTER REACHING A LOW POINT, ACCEPTANCE OF HIS GOVERNMENT IS ON THE RISE AGAIN. THERE ARE GREAT ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES BUT THEY ARE IN NO WAY INSUPERABLE. CONFIDENCE MUST BE RESTORED AND HE WILL DO EVERYTHING IN HIS POWER TO DO SO. THE OPPOSITION IS ATTACKING HIS PROPOSED MINING LAW, BUT THE ATTACK IS SIMPLY TO EMBARASS HIM AND TO FRIGHTEN OFF FOREIGN INVESTORS. THEY REALLY DO NOT THINK IT TO BE A BAD LAW.

12. I THEN ASKED HOW HE SEES THE FUTURE IN CHILE. HE REPLIED THAT HIS POLICY IS TO OPEN ALL THE DOORS WIDELY. THERE COULD BE SOME ADVANCE ON THE RETURN OT DEMOCRACY FORSEEN IN THE CONSTITUTION. THERE ALREADY IS IN CHILE FREEDOM OF SPEECH, FREEDOM OF THE PRESS, AND FREEDOM OF RELIGION. ALL I HAD TO DO WAS TO READ "HOY" (A PRO CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT NEWS MAGAZINE) TO REALIZE THAT IS INDEED A FACT. WHAT CHILE DOES NOT HAVE IS A CONGRESS, BUT THAT WILL COME IN ITS TIME. HOWEVER, EACH OF THE MEMBERS OF THE JUNTA HAS AROUND HIM SOME SIXTY PEOPLE REPRESENTATIVE OA MANY TENDENCIES. IN THESE GROUPS LEGISLATION IS PROPOSED AND MEASURES ARE DEBATED. I SAID THAT THIS IS PART OF HIS PROBLEM. THE ABSENCE OF A REPRESENTATIVE BODY IS A TARGET FOR HIS OPPONENTS

NOT JUST IN THE U.S., BUT ALL OVER THE WORLD. HE ACCEPTED THIS WITHOUT COMMENT AND SEEMED TO UNDERSTAND ITS MEANING.

13. HE SAID THAT HE HAS THE OVERWHELMING LOYALTY OF THE ARMED FORCES AND MANY OTHER CHILEANS WHO REMEMBER THAT THE COUNTRY HAD BEEN TO THE EDGE OF THE ABYSS IN 1973 AND HAVE NO DESIRE TO RETURN THERE. HE THEN SAID "SOY EL JEFE Y SIGO SIENDOLO". (I AM THE CHIEF AND WILL REMAIN SO.)

14. I SAID THAT THE LACK OF A REPRESENTATIVE PUBLIC BODY IS ONE OF HIS MAIN PUBLIC IMAGE PROBLEMS IN THE UNITED STATES AND ELSEWHERE. HE SAID THAT THE COMMUNISTS AND SOCIALISTS ARE ATTEMPTING TO PROVOKE HIS GOVERNMENT INTO MAJOR REPRESEEIVE ACTION SO THAT THEY CAN PILLORY HIM BEFORE WORLD OPINION. HE WILL NOT FALL INTO THIS TRAP. HE PROMISED TO GIVE ME, THIS AFTERNOON, A LIST OF THE ACTS OF TERRORISM COMMITTED BY THE FAR LEFT IN CHILE IN THE LAST FEW MONTHS.

HOPED THAT I WOULD BRING IT TO THE ATTENTION OF THE PRESIDENT, VICE PRESIDENT, AND SECY SHULTZ. WE SHOULD REMEMBER THAT THE SAME CONDITIONS DO NOT PREVAIL IN CHILE AS IN THE UNITED STATES.

15. HE THANKED ME FOR COMING AND ASKED ME TO CONVEY HIS FRIENDLY GREETINGS TO THE PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY OF STATE. I COULD TELL THEM THAT HE WOULD DO NOTHING TO ADD TO THE ENORMOUS BURDENS THEY BEAR, EVEN THOUGH HE REGARDS U.S. CERTIFICATION OF ARGENTINA AS ONE SIDED AND UNFAIR. HE UNDERSTANDS THAT THIS IS AN ELECTORAL YEAR IN THE UNITED STATES AND THAT THE ENEMIES OF PRESIDENT REAGAN WOULD USE ANY EXCUSE TO ATTACK HIM. HE CLOSED BY SAYING "CHILE IS YOUR FRIEND AND WILL REMAIN YOUR FRIEND, BUT WE WILL NOT BEG."

16. COMMENT: PRESIDENT PINOCHET APPEARED IN GOOD HEALTH AND UNCHANGED SINCE I LAST SAW HIM A YEAR AND A HALF AGO. HE DID TAKE THREE SMALL WHITE PILLS WITH A GLASS OF WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST. HE SEEMED CALM AND ASSURED. HE CERTAINLY CONFIDENTIAL

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

DID NOT GIVE THE IMPRESSION OF A MAN UNSURE OF HIMSELF OR FEARFUL FOR HIS FUTURE. THERE WAS NO TREMOR IN HIS HAND BUT HE DID TALK IN A LOW ALMOST CONSPIRATORIAL VOICE, AND DID NOT SPEAK WHILE A WAITER WAS IN THE ROOM. HE SPOKE IN A QUOTE MORE IN SORROW THAN IN ANGER TONE UNQUOTE AND WAS PERSONALLY VERY CORDIAL IN DEALING WITH ME. I BELIEVE HE TOOK CAREFUL NOTE OF WHAT I TOLD HIM ABOUT THE LACK OF PUBLIC REPRESENTATIVE BODY, BUT GAVE NO DIRECT COMMITMENT ON THIS SCORE. CERTAINLY HE APPEARED MUCH MORE MEASURED THAN IN HIS INITIAL REACTION TO THE NEWS OF ARGENTINE CERTIFICATION REPORTED LAST WEEK BY AMBASSADOR THEBERGE. THEBERGE

TAGS: UNGA, SHUM, CI, ES, GT
SUBJECT: 38TH UNGA: THIRD COMMITTEE ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS ON HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATIONS IN CHILE, EL SALVADOR, AND GUATEMALA

1. (C) SUMMARY: THIRD COMMITTEE ADOPTED RESOLUTIONS ON HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATIONS IN CHILE (A/C.3/38/L.63), EL SALVADOR (A/C.3/38/L.62, AS AMENDED), AND GUATEMALA (A/C.3/38/L.57) DECEMBER 9 BY VOTES OF 86-15(US)-32, 78-13(US)-41, AND 80-14(US)-36 RESPECTIVELY. TWO IMPROVEMENTS WERE MADE IN EL SALVADOR DRAFT PRIOR TO VOTE. US VOTED AGAINST ALL THREE RESOLUTIONS AS BEING TOO BIASED AND ONE-SIDED. US POSITION WAS FORCEFULLY SET FORTH BY AMBASSADOR KIRKPATRICK IN DECEMBER 8 STATEMENT ON HUMAN RIGHTS SO NO SEPARATE EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE WERE MADE. NONETHELESS, THE RESOLUTIONS ON EL SALVADOR AND GUATEMALA CAN BE CONSIDERED MORE BALANCED THAN THOSE CONSIDERED AT THE 37TH UNGA. AS A RESULT TEN COUNTRIES SWITCHED FROM AN ABSTENTION TO A YES VOTE ON THE EL SALVADOR RESOLUTION WHILE THE FRG WAS ONE OF FOUR COUNTRIES WHICH MADE A SIMILAR SWITCH ON THE GUATEMALA RESOLUTION. SEVERAL WESTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES WERE CO-SPONSORS OF THE RESOLUTIONS THIS YEAR, INCLUDING FRANCE WHICH WE ARE INFORMED PLAYED ROLE IN RESISTING INTRODUCTION OF FURTHER BALANCE INTO CERTAIN RESOLUTIONS. OVERALL, CONSIDERATION OF THESE ISSUES WAS CONFIDENTIAL

LESS CONTENTIOUS THAN LAST YEAR. END SUMMARY

2. (C) THIRD COMMITTEE CONSIDERATION OF REPORTS ON HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATIONS IN CHILE, EL SALVADOR AND GUATEMALA FEATURED A LARGE EUROPEAN ROLE IN DRAFTING THE THREE RESOLUTIONS. THUS IN CONTRAST TO 37TH UNGA WHEN SEVERAL AMENDMENTS WERE OFFERED TO IMPROVE THE TEXTS, SEVERAL EUROPEAN COUNTRIES WERE AMONG THE MOST ACTIVE PARTICIPANTS IN DRAFTING THE RESOLUTIONS AND THE DRAFTS UNDERWENT RELATIVELY LITTLE CHANGE AFTER THEY WERE TABLED. SWEDEN MAINTAINED ITS POSITION AS DRAFTER OF THE GUATEMALA RESOLUTION AND HAD AS CO-SPONSORS AUSTRIA, CANADA, DENMARK, FRANCE, GREECE, NETHERLANDS, NORWAY AND SPAIN. MEXICO AGAIN WAS THE SPONSOR OF THE RESOLUTIONS ON CHILE AND EL SALVADOR (WE ARE TOLD THAT MEXICO DOES NOT PLAY THE SAME LEADING ROLE ON GUATEMALA RESOLUTIONS BECAUSE OF A PRESIDENTIAL DECISION BASED ON THEIR GEOGRAPHIC PROXIMITY.) CO-SPONSORS FOR CHILE WERE ALGERIA, CUBA, DENMARK, FRANCE, GREECE, IRELAND, ITALY, NETHERLANDS, SPAIN, SWEDEN AND YUGOSLAVIA AND FOR EL

SALVADOR WERE ALGERIA, DENMARK, FRANCE, GREECE, NETHERLANDS, NORWAY, SPAIN, SWEDEN AND YUGOSLAVIA. MEXICO (MONTANA) WAS MORE MODERATE IN ITS APPROACH TO THE RESOLUTIONS THAN LAST YEAR WHEN GONZALEZ DE LEON DID EVERYTHING IN HIS POWER TO MAKE THE RESOLUTIONS MORE SEVERE. ON THE OTHER HAND, WE UNDERSTAND FRENCH DELEGATION, WHICH PLAYED ACTIVE ROLE THIS YEAR, RESISTED EFFORTS TO INCREASE BALANCE IN TEXTS ESPECIALLY THAT ON GUATEMALA. MISOFF WAS TOLD THAT FRENCH DELEGATION SUCCESSFULLY RESISTED BOTH EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION TO GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT FOR ITS COOPERATION WITH SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR IN EC STATEMENT AND WARMER THANKS IN TEXT OF RESOLUTION. PARTICIPATION OF SPAIN (WHICH IS ABOUT TO BECOME A MEMBER OF THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS) AS CO-SPONSOR INDICATES A SPECIAL INTEREST IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN LATIN AMERICA.

3. (C) THE LIST OF CO-SPONSORS IS PARTICULARLY INTERESTING SINCE IT WAS CLEAR THROUGHOUT THE DRAFTING PROCESS THAT THERE WAS LITTLE OR NO INTEREST IN NEGOTIATING DRAFTS THAT WOULD HAVE ENABLED US TO ABSTAIN OR VOTE YES, DESPITE THE PREPONDERANCE OF WESTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES. SWEDEN WAS FAIRLY GOOD ABOUT GIVING US TEXTS AND WAS COURTEOUS ENOUGH TO PROVIDE A COPY OF THE DRAFT ON GUATEMALA RIGHT AFTER IT WAS TABLED. THE SAME COULD NOT BE SAID ABOUT THE OTHER TWO RESOLUTIONS AND THE DELAY IN TABLING THEM AND HAVING THEM PUBLISHED MAY HAVE BEEN PARTIALLY INTENTIONAL. MISOFF ALONG WITH DELEGATES FROM UK AND AUSTRALIA FINALLY GOT TEXTS OF CHILE AND EL SALVADOR RESOLUTIONS FROM COMMITTEE SECRETARIAT AT 7 P.M. TUESDAY DECEMBER 6 -- AND VOTING ON THESE RESOLUTIONS WAS THEN SCHEDULED FOR DECEMBER 8. WE SUBMITTED CHANGES SUGGESTED BY DEPARTMENT ON EL SALVADOR AND GUATEMALA TO CO-SPONSORS MORNING OF DECEMBER 8 BUT MET WITH LITTLE INTEREST IN REVISING DRAFTS ACCORDINGLY. (ONE SUGGESTION ON EL SALVADOR TEXT WAS SUBSEQUENTLY ACCEPTED IN PART.) WE ALSO PROVIDED SELECTED OTHER DELEGATIONS WITH OUR SUGGESTED CHANGES SO THEY COULD SEE WHAT WOULD HAVE MADE THESE RESOLUTIONS ACCEPTABLE TO US.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

4. (C) UNGA CONSIDERATION OF SPECIFIC HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATIONS IS LARGELY BASED ON REPORTS BY SPECIAL RAPPORTEURS APPOINTED BY THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS. THUS THERE WERE THREE REPORTS BEFORE THE THIRD COMMITTEE, I.E. A/38/385 (CHILE), A/38/503 (EL SALVADOR), AND A/38/485 (GUATEMALA). THE QUALITY OF THE REPORTS VARIED A GREAT DEAL, RANGING FROM THE THOROUGH AND BALANCED DOCUMENT PRODUCED BY LORD COLVILLE IN HIS FIRST YEAR AS SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON GUATEMALA TO THE CUT AND PASTE JOB OF INORDINATE LENGTH PRODUCED BY THE NEW RAPPORTEUR ON CHILE. THE LATTER APPEARS LARGELY BASED ON MATERIAL LEFT BY THE PREVIOUS -AND HOSTILE -- RAPPORTEUR PRIOR TO HIS DEATH. UNFORTUNATELY, NEGATIVE COMMENTS APPEAR TO BE IMMEDIATELY ACCEPTED WHILE MORE FAVORABLE COMMENTS ARE DISCOUNTED. THUS, FOR EXAMPLE, THE DRAFT RESOLUTION ON GUATEMALA IS NOT AS BALANCED AS THE REPORT NOR IS THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA ADEQUATELY PRAISED FOR ITS COOPERATION. AMBASSADOR KIRKPATRICK DETAILED MANY OF OUR PROBLEMS WITH THE RESOLUTIONS IN HER DECEMBER 8 STATEMENT (WHICH IS BEING TRANSMITTED SEPTEL TO MANY ADDRESSES OF THIS CABLE.) SHE ALSO ADDRESSED THE OVERALL FRAMEWORK IN WHICH THESE RESOLUTIONS ARE CONSIDERED INCLUDING A DESCRIPTION OF THEM AS PART OF AN EFFORT TO FURTHER WEAKEN GOVERNMENTS THAT HAVE BEEN TARGETED BY TOTALITARIAN GROUPS. THIS PARTICULAR ASPECT OF HER SPEECH ELICITED SOME CRITICAL COMMENTS FROM DELEGATES OF DENMARK, NETHERLANDS AND NORWAY AND HAS BEEN ESPECIALLY NOTED BY OTHER WESTERN CO-SPONSDRS. (MISOFF HAS BEEN INFORMED THAT THE NETHERLANDS MAY BE REEVALUATING ITS POLICY ON THESE HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTIONS.)

5. (U) THE ONLY TEXTUAL CHANGES IN THE TEXTS AS TABLED WERE MADE IN THE EL SALVADOR RESOLUTION (AS REPORTED IN USUN 3698) JUST BEFORE THE VOTE. THE MOROCCAN DELEGATE

(WARZAZI) HAD PROPOSED TWO AMENDMENTS. ONE WOULD HAVE ALTERED OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 10 TO READ AS "DEPLORES THE SUFFERING CAUSED TO THE POPULATION OF EL SALVADOR BY ACTS OF SABOTAGE AGAINST PRIVATE PROPERTY AND THE ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE ATTRIBUTABLE FOR THE MOST PART, ACCORDING TO THE SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE'S REPORT, TO THE OPPOSITIDN FORCES." THE OTHER WAS TO ELIMINATE "OR WITH ITS PERMISSION" FROM OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 11. WHEN THE CO-SPONSORS ACCEPTED THE LATTER SUGGESTION, SHE WITHDREW HER OTHER AMENDMENT BUT SAID SHE MIGHT INSIST ON THE POINT IN THE FUTURE. (MOROCCO SUBSEQUENTLY ABSTAINED ON THE RESOLUTION AFTER VOTING NO LAST YEAR.) IT SHOULD BE NOTED THAT OPERATIVE 10 WAS THE ONLY ONE PLACING PRIMARY BLAME ON THE GUERRILLAS. WE UNDERSTAND THAT THE USSR WAS SEEKING ITS DELETION. MEXICO ON BEHALF OF THE CO-SPONSORS ALSO ANNOUNCED THAT THE PHRASE "REPRESENTATIVE POLITICAL FORCES" IN OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 6 SHOULD BE CHANGED TO "OTHER POLITICAL FORCES." WHILE CONFIDENTIAL

FALLING SHORT OF OUR SUGGESTION, I.E. THE SUBSTITUTION OF "INSURGENTS," THE CHANGE DID RECOGNIZE OUR OBJECTION TO CHARACTERIZING THE GUERRILLAS AS REPRESENTATIVE.

6. (U) AN ANALYSIS OF THE VOTES SHOWS SOME SHIFTS FROM LAST YEAR. WE HAVE USED THE VOTES IN PLENARY RATHER THAN COMMITTEE FOR THIS COMPARISION BECAUSE THERE WAS GREATER THAN USUAL VARIATION BETWEEN VOTES IN COMMITTEE AND PLENARY DURING THE 37TH UNGA DUE TO AMENDMENTS ADOPTED IN COMMITTEE (WHICH LEFT SOME DELEGATIONS UNSURE HOW TO VOTE) AND REJECTED THEREAFTER IN PLENARY. OTHER THAN VOTE CHANGES DESCRIBED BELOW, DIFFERENCES IN THE TOTAL CAN BE ASCRIBED TO THE ABSENCE OF DELEGATES FROM SMALL DELEGATIONS, ESPECIALLY THOSE OF SMALL CARIBBEAN COUNTRIES WHOSE RESOURCES ARE STRETCHED TO THE FULL IN COVERING THE UNGA BUT WHO ARE OFTEN PRESENT TO VOTE IN PLENARY. THESE DELEGATIONS NORMALLY ABSTAIN ON THESE RESOLUTIONS ALTHOUGH ANTIGUA AND BARBUDA HAS VOTED NO.

A) GENERAL OBSERVATIONS: BOLIVIA JOINED VENEZUELA IN ANNOUNCING THAT THEY WERE NOT PARTICIPATING IN THE VOTE; BOLIVIA HAD ABSTAINED ON ALL THREE RESOLUTIONS LAST YEAR. ARGENTINA WAS PRESENT BUT NEITHER VOTED NOR OFFERED AN EXPLANATION, WE SUSPECT BECAUSE THEY LACKED INSTRUCTIONS DUE TO THE CHANGE IN GOVERNMENT. LAST YEAR THEY VOTED AGAINST ALL THREE RESOLUTIONS. IT WILL THEREFORE BE INTERESTING TO SEE HOW THEY VOTE IN PLENARY. LIBERIA, SAUDI ARABIA AND UPPER VOLTA SHIFTED

FROM ABSTENTIONS TO AFFIRMATIVE VOTES ON ALL THREE RESOLUTIONS. SEVERAL DELEGATIONS ABSTAIN ON ALL THREE RESOLUTIONS SINCE THEY DO NOT APPROVE OF SINGLING OUT ONLY A FEW COUNTRIES FOR SPECIAL ATTENTION. A VARIATION ON THIS MOTIVATION IS THAT OF MANY LATIN COUNTRIES WHO

OBJECT TO SINGLING OUT ONLY COUNTRIES FROM THEIR REGION. THERE ARE ALSO SOME DELEGATIONS WHO VOTE NO OR OPPOSE THESE RESOLUTIONS OUT OF FEAR THAT THEIR COUNTRIES MIGHT LIKEWISE BE SINGLED OUT IN THE FUTURE.

B) ON CHILE, LIBERIA, SAUDI ARABIA AND UPPER VOLTA SHIFTED FROM ABSTENTIONS TO YES, WHILE GUINEA AND THE SUDAN ABSTAINED RATHER THAN VOTING FOR THE RESOLUTION. (A SUDANESE DELEGATE TOLD MISOFF THEY HAD DECIDED TO ABSTAIN ON ALL THREE RESOLUTIONS IN PROTEST AGAINST SELECTIVE APPROACH; THE GUINEA VOTE WAS NOT EXPLAINED AND MIGHT SIMPLY MEAN LACK OF INSTRUCTIONS.)

C) MOROCCO ABSTAINED ON THE EL SALVADOR RESOLUTION RATHER THAN VOTE NO. THE FOLLOWING VOTED FOR THE RESOLUTION AFTER ABSTAINING LAST YEAR: AUSTRALIA, BELGIUM, CANADA, JAMAICA, LIBERIA, NEW ZEALAND, PORTUGAL, SAUDI ARABIA, TUNISIA, AND UPPER VOLTA. GUINEA ABSTAINED INSTEAD OF VOTING FOR THE RESOLUTION.

D) FOUR COUNTRIES WHICH HAD ABSTAINED ON THE GUATEMALAN RESOLUTION LAST YEAR VOTED FOR THIS YEAR'S RESOLUTION. THEY WERE THE FRG, LIBERIA, SAUDI ARABIA AND UPPER VOLTA. CONFIDENTIAL

SUBJECT: APPRECIATION FOR AMBASSADOR WALTERS' VISIT TO CHILE

1. CONFIDENTIAL ENTIRE TEXT.

2. I WISH TO EXPRESS MY APPRECIATION FOR YOUR HELP IN AVOIDING SERIOUS EROSION OF US RELATIONS WITH CHILE DURING THE MORE COMPLEX AND SENSITIVE PHASE WE HAVE ENTERED AFTER US CERTIFICATION OF ARGENTINA. YOU SUCCEEDED IN ESTABLISHING CLOSE RAPPORT WITH PRESIDENT PINOCHET AND SENIOR GOC OFFICIALS AT A MOST DELICATE MOMENT. YOU WERE ABLE TO OVERCOME THE TENSENESS THAT WE HAVE NOTED CREEPING INTO OUR RELATIONS OVER CERTIFICATION ISSUE. NEVERTHELESS, AN UNDERLYING UNEASINESS REMAINS. FOREIGN MINISTER SCHWEITZER TODAY (DECEMBER 13) SAID YOUR PERFORMANCE LAST NIGHT WAS A MASTERFUL ONE. YOU MAINTAINED CORDIAL ATMOSPHERE. AGREED TO LOOK INTO SOME TROUBLESOME (FOR THE CHILEANS) QUESTIONS, AND YET GAVE NOTHING AWAY. THE IMPACT OF YOUR VISIT, BOTH IN MEETINGS WITH THE PRESIDENT AND GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND IN YOUR DEPARTING PRESS CONFERENCE WAS ALTOGETHER POSITIVE AND CONSTRUCTIVE.

3. AGAIN, MANY THANKS FOR YOUR HELP. I LOOOK FORWARD TO A RETURN VISIT NEXT YEAR.

MEMORANDUM

TO: PM/MC - Mr. Robinson

FROM: L/PM - Mary E. McLeod

SUBJECT: Licenses for Arms Exports to Chile under Section 38 of the Arms Export Control Act (AECA)

As I have indicated to you over the telephone, I have been contacted by a Mr. Laskin at the National Science Foundation concerning the denial of a license to NSF's contractor, Aura, for export of a Cincinnati Electronics Model 3201 element InSb/multiplexor evaluation system to Chile. This item is on the Munitions Control List. Aura operates the Cerro Tololo Inter-American Observatory in Chile as NSF's contractor.

Mr. Laskin told me that your office had informed him that the license was denied pursuant to Section 726 of the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981. He indicated that he was puzzled by this rationale, because section 726 appears to bar only the issuance of licenses "to or for the Government of Chile" and the license in question was not to or for the Government of Chile.

After receiving Mr. Laskin's call, I looked into the legislative history of section 726. While it is true that its predecessor, section 406 of the International Security Assistance and Arms Export Control Act of 1976, barred the issuance of export licenses under section 38 for any defense article destined to Chile, whether or not the license was to or for the Government of Chile, the express language of section 726 is limited to exports to or for the Government of Chile. Moreover, there is no indication in the legislative history of Section 726 that Congress, despite Section 726's narrower language, intended to maintain the breadth of the section 406 prohibition. In addition, it is my understanding that identical language in the Argentina certification provision, section 725 of the International Security and Development Cooperation Assistance Act, has been interpreted as not constituting a legal bar to the issuance of licenses for

96F002 BOX 3

Munition Lists items when such licenses are for non-governmental parties and not to or for the Government of Argentina (i.e., the non-governmental parties are not acting on behalf of the Government of Argentina).*

We know of no legal bar to issuing Article 38 licenses for the export of Munitions List items to Chile which are not "to or for the Government of Chile." Of course, there may nonetheless be policy reasons in individual cases for denying such licenses. In addition, we understand that no such licenses have been granted since section 726 was adopted, based on a perception that Congress, although the language did not expressly say so, intended the section 726 bar on Article 38 licenses to apply to any export to Chile, whether or not the export was to or for the Chilean Government. A change in practice might, of course, invite Congressional scrutiny of licensing policy toward Chile.

Based on the legal analysis set forth above, you may wish to propose to NSF that they resubmit (or reactivate) their application so that a policy determination may be made as to whether a license should be granted. Please let me know if you have any questions or require further information.

*The legislative history of the predecessor to Section 725, Section 620C of the Foreign Assistance Act, contains this interpretation. The Conference Report on the International Security Assistance Act of 1977 provided:

> The committee of conference adopted the Senate provision with an amendment specifying that the prohibition on granting of export licenses is intended to apply only to licensed sales of defense articles or services to or for the Government of Argentina (which would include any agency or representative of the Government of Argentina).

Since I've been gone for the past 44 days travelling almost 48,000 miles to thirteen countries, I thought I should offer you a brief summary of my conclusions and observations during the trip. Knowing your time limitations I will stick to the highlights but am, of course, ready to discuss any point in more detail at your convenience.

South America

1. The situation in Chile is strikingly similar to that in the Philippines. The opposition can probably command fairly wide support but is so divided that Pinochet struck me as secure and confident.

2. Pinochet is upset about the certification of Argentina but intends to make no trouble for President Reagan whom he considers the best President of the U.S. for Chile's interests.

3. Freedoms of speech, press, and within limits, assembly are generally in evidence in Santiago. Chile still lacks the elected Congress or Parliament although

UNCLASSIFIED

Pinochet did receive considerable support in the last election. Pinochet says he is committed to returning to civilian control but in a disciplined Chilean way.

4. If we push Chile too hard, too fast, and too publicly, we run the risk of violating Sun Tsu's maxium, "Never completely surround an enemy; he will fight to the death." Pinochet considers himself a loyal, proven friend of the U.S. We could run the risk of surrounding a friend who will fight as tenaciously as a foe.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. ROBERT C. MCFARLANE
THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: Chilean Request for Presidential Appointment to Deliver Personal Letter from President Pinochet

On instruction from the Foreign Ministry in Santiago, the Chilean Embassy has delivered a diplomatic note requesting that Ambassador Enrique Valenzuela be granted a brief appointment with President Reagan. The purpose of the call would be to deliver personally President Pinochet's reply to the President's letter of December 7 (attachment), informing the Chilean leader of the United States decision to certify Argentina. At Embassy Santiago's request, President Pinochet personally received Ambassador Theberge on December 6 for a brief meeting to deliver President Reagan's message.

The Department believes that a short meeting between President Reagan and Ambassador Valenzuela to receive President Pinochet's reply would be an appropriate and reciprocal response which would help ease the current strains in our bilateral relations resulting from sole US certification of Argentina. It would also demonstrate our interest in maintaining cooperative relations with Chile and maintain the access we need to encourage a return to democracy.

Ambassador Valenzuela has resigned his position as Chilean Ambassador in Washington and would appreciate this opportunity to bid a personal farewell to President Reagan. Since the purpose of the call is to deliver President Pinochet's reply to the President's letter, the appointment, if approved, should be scheduled as soon as possible.

Charles Hill
Executive Secretary

TO: HONORABLE HOWARD M. METZENBAUM
U.S. SENATE
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

1. I AM RESPONDING TO YOUR LETTER OF NOVEMBER 29, 1983, CONCERNING THE CASES OF JORGE HERNAN MULLER SILVA AND CARMEN BUENO CIFUENTES, BROUGHT TO YOUR ATTENTION BY YOUR CONSTITUENT OF COLUMBUS, OHIO.

2. WE HAVE CHECKED THE SUBJECT CASES WITH THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, WHICH HAS ACTIVELY FOLLOWED CASES OF DISAPPEARED PERSONS AND WHICH IN 1979 PUBLISHED "DONDE ESTAN" (WHERE ARE THEY?), A SERIES OF BOOKS DESCRIBING THOSE CASES WHICH THE VICARIATE CONSIDERED ADEQUATELY DOCUMMENTED BY SWORN STATEMENTS OF WITNESSES. ACCORDING TO "DONDE ESTAN?", MR. MULLER AND MISS BUENO WERE ARRESTED ON NOVEMBER 29, 1974. BOTH WERE ALLEGEDLY SEEN ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS IN THE DINA DETENTION CENTERS VILLA GRIMALDI AND CUATRO ALAMOS IN EARLY DECEMBER 1974, BUT WERE NEVER SEEN THEREAFTER.

The Honorable
James D. Theberge
American Embassy

Dear Jim:

In addition to the fallout from Argentine certification, the LAN Chile civil suit promises over the next several weeks to become a visible issue in our relations with Chile. We have communicated to you telegraphically all the relevant documents and memoranda of conversation. I am enclosing with this letter, per your request, copies of the December 10, 1976 circular diplomatic note explaining how the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act of 1976 would be implemented. Also enclosed is the letter from then-Legal Advisor Monroe Leigh, currently counsel for the Republic of Chile in this case, to the Attorney General explaining how the Department would interpret the FSIA.

Our decision to respond in the negative to the GOC request that we intervene with the court to contest jurisdiction is well-founded, legal in character and consistent with the 1976 note and the accompanying interpretation. Paragraph six of the note clearly states that "the new statute precludes the Department of State from making determinations on state immunity. Such decisions must be made exclusively by the courts...." Paragraph 5 notes the provisions of Section 1610 permitting attachment for judgment (as opposed to jurisdictional attachment). Monroe Leigh's letter states that after January 19, 1977 "...execution may be obtained against foreign government property only upon court order...."

Leigh's letter goes on to note that the Department will continue to play a role in sovereign immunity litigation appearing as amicus curiae. Such appearances, however, are not designed to contest the court's jurisdiction or to usurp the role assigned by the FSIA to the court in sovereign immunity decisions, but rather, to communicate to the court how the issue under discussion affects U.S. relations with the government in question.

This then, brings up the question of whether we would appear in court as amicus curiae in the LAN Chile suit. We cannot do so unless and until the GOC addresses the court directly. If the GOC continues to refuse to respond to the suit we can play no role. Monroe Leigh, having authored the relevant interpretations of the FSIA, is certainly aware of the requirement that the GOC appear and of the possibility that the

DECL: OADR
UNCLASSIFIED

Department would appear as amicus curiae. In reviewing our response to their diplomatic note I would hope that these considerations will be carefully weighed.

The Department, in the interim intends to maintain a scrupulously neutral posture in this case. If Chile does not address the court there is no reason to believe that the court will reverse its clear intention to execute judgment against LAN. We must, therefore, be prepared over the next several weeks for a finding by the court and for a probable appeal by LAN to the Circuit court for a stay of execution of judgment. If the GOC still refuses to appeart in court I see little reason to be optimistic that the Circuit court will block execution. I do not believe that Mrs. Letelier and Mr. Moffitt want to go this far . It appears that they will settle out of court for a cash award for damages. I also do not think that the GOC will agree to this.

We have just wrapped up the latest customs violation incident. I have to tell you that this is absolutely the last straw for Customs and the Office of Munitions Control. We were able to resolve this problem informally but in the future there are likely to be more drastic consequences. After the several previous episodes the Chilean Embassy assured us that they were completely familiar with the Munitions Control licensing requirements. That they brought in Munitions Control licensable items without without advising us in advance was both provocative and naive. Had they discussed this question at the time of seeking overflight clearance we would have had the opportunity to remind them that we cannot issue an in-transit license because of the same legal restrictions we cannot issue a Munitions Control export license. That they did not so inform us sugests some duplicity on their part. We intend to make it perfectly clear to the Chilean Embassy here that no item on the Munitions Control List to or for the Government of Chile may be exported from the United States, either directly or in-transit. In the future, Customs intends to seize any Munitions Control licensable item which enters the United States.

On a more positive note, we should have completed by next week the necessary steps to revise the Munitions Control licensing procedures which have prevented all munitions control exports to Chile, not just those to or for the Government of Chile. Since the International Security and Development Assistance Act of 1981 was passed, L has interpreted the statute as applying to both Chile and the Government of Chile. The law clearly states that the restrictions only apply to the Government of Chile. The broader interpretation was based on what I believe was an erroneous interpretation of the legislative history. This change will permit resolution of the immediate problem of the equipment for Cerro Tololo and in the future, other exports not to or for the Government of Chile. I am passing on to you a copy of the memo we requested that L prepare on this issue. The memo will be sent to PM/MC once it has PM front office approval which we expect next week.

I mentioned the growing copper problem in my previous letter. We successfully turned around Eximbank on the Fluor and Bechtel loans but had to go all the way to Eagleburger for help. As the U.S. Presidential election heats up, I anticipate several moves against Chile by key Republican legislators designed to pacify the copper lobby. It is clear that Chile will take a back seat to domestic Republican interests. The decision of Treasury Secretary Regan to oppose the CODELCO IDB loan and Eximbank Chairman Draeper's effort to substitute financial guarantees for direct subsidized financing are only the first indications. USTR head Bill Brock has now agreed to accomodate the industry's request for an investigation and an inter-agency working group has been established. Having set up this group there will be tremendous pressure for recommendations to be made as well as analysis of the copper market. At a minimum I expect that in 1984 we will see a U.S. delegation in Chile talking about production policy. It is noteworthy that attention is focussed on CODELCO, totally ignoring the private (American) producers. We intend to raise this anomaly in the inter-agency group. I am enclosing the Bureau of Mines analysis of the IDB loan which should help in the long run to address some of the concerns about Chilean production policy.

On December 14 the President approved a $1 billion increase in the CCC budget. State and USDA had requested a $5 billion allocation. Treasury supported a $2.6 billion increase and OMB opposed any increase. The President's decision was a positive gesture but will not go very far. As you know, we had Chile primed at the top of the list for any additional funds which might become available. Lowell Kilday has personally pursued this matter with the various agencies involved. Of the $1 billion increase, the Department is recommending that Latin America get $625 million. Of this amount, Brazil will receive $350 million. After initially proposing that Mexico receive an equal amount, their allocation was cut to a proposed $125 million, one-third of their original request. This reduction would permit greater allocations for the rest of the bureau, including $40 million for Chile. ARA/ECP argued that Chile should get $20 million. Lowell helped to boost this to $40 million, which would bring their total for the year to $75 million.

We are meeting later today with Ambassador Walters for a de-briefing on his meetings in Chile. I am pleased that the timing of this visit worked out in terms of the certification announcement. He appears to have established a good rapport with Pinochet and to have set the right tone we wanted to establish in terms of our non-certification decision. I assume from the comments I saw in your reporting cables that the GOC now understands that there will be no certification of Chile in the near future and that they fully understand what has to be done to obtain certification. If and when political parties are legalized next year, and if other steps toward the transition to democracy are taken, we might have a basis to review the issue. In the interim, we have now established the new parameters for our relationship in the southern cone and will have to be sensitive in our execution of the policy. Per your request, I am sending you the Symington and Glenn amendments concerning nuclear related restrictions on arms exports. Our evening note to Tony Motley summarizes where we are on the Glenn/Symington requirements.

With warm personal regards,

Sincerely,

Robert B. Morley
Director
Office of Southern Cone Affairs

Easter Island, Santiago: December 10-12, 1983

Purpose: The stop on Easter Island was merely a transit point on the way to Santiago. Objectives of my visit to Chile: (1) The primary objective is to urge Pinochet to commit himself to a peaceful transition toward democratic government. (2) Another key objective is to reassure Pinochet that U.S. certification of Argentina does not imply a U.S. tilt toward Argentina and that we do not intend to follow certification with actions that will endanger Chilean security interests. (3) Objective three is to restate our reasons for non-certification of Chile; the point being that we would have preferred to certify both countries at once, but the simple fact of the matter is that with its return to elected government and substantial progress in the human rights area,

UNCLASSIFIED

Argentina has met the requirements of U.S. law while Chile has not. (4) Finally, it is important that you reassure Pinochet that our inability to certify Chile in no way alters our desire to maintain and, where possible, improve our cooperative relationship with Chile or our intention to continue to support Chile where possible in coping with its difficult debt and economic situation.

At 0730 on 12 December I had breakfast alone with President Pinochet in his office at La Moneda Palace. We spoke for an hour in Spanish. He greeted me with "Well, old friend, what are you Americans trying to do to me?" I replied that we are trying to help him build a free and prosperous Chile.

He then began in a good natured avuncular way to comment on U.S. policy. "You advised the Shah to hold elections and to be more open to his opposition and you had tragedy. You told Banzer to hold elections and Bolivia is in chaos. You advised Belaunde Terry to hold elections and they proved a disaster and brought victory to a Marxist socialist as Mayor of Lima. By pressuring for such elections without regard to the nature of the society and the timing of events, you are bringing to power enemies of the United States. Look at Buenos Aires. You certified the Argentines and Vice President Bush was booed in the streets of Buenos Aires. Alfonsin is no friend of the United States and you will have a great deal of trouble with him. By contrast we have always supported the U.S. in the UN and elsewhere. No one burns American flags before your Embassy here. Chile has always been your friend since I have been President. You have not reciprocated. Your policy towards Chile is really not much different from that of the Carter Administration.

I paused for a moment to take in his comments and then replied, "Mr. President, you have more friends in the U.S. Government than you think. I assure you that the United States is not trying to undermine your Government and there are differences between the policies of President Reagan and those of President Carter. I then summarized for him several instances of U.S. support for Chile in the UN and other international bodies. I pointed out that certification of Argentina does not mean the U.S. intends to sell arms to the Argentines indiscriminately. We will weigh each arms request carefully. In the Malvinas, we opposed Argentina in the end on the principle of the non-use of force to settle territorial disputes.

I asked him how he saw the internal situation in Chile. He said that the 10th anniversary of the revolution and the current economic difficulties had been used to mobilize the old left and some frustrated non-leftist against him. They had succeeded in mounting several large demonstrations against him that had unfortunately led to some bloodshed and violence. However, the people are growing tired of this. The middle class was initially agitated by economic difficulties. His own view is that after reaching a low point, acceptance of his government is on the rise again. There are great economic difficulties but they are in no way insuperable. Confidence must be restored and he will do everything in his power to do so.

I then asked how he sees the future in Chile. He replied that his policy is to open all the doors widely. There could be some advance on the return to democracy foreseen in the Constitution. There already is in Chile freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of religion. What Chile does not have in a Congress, but that will come in time. However, each of the members of the Junta has around him some sixty people representative of many tendencies. In these groups legislation is proposed and measures are debated. I said that this is part of his problem. The absence of a representative body is a target for his opponents, not just in the U.S., but all over the world. He accepted this without comment and seemed to understand its meaning.

He said he has the overwhelming loyalty of the Armed Forces.

I said that the lack of a representative public body is one of his main public image problems in the U.S. and elsewhere. He said that the Communists and Socialists are attempting to provoke his government into major repressive action so that they can pillory him before world opinion. He will not fall into this trap.

He thanked me for coming and asked me to convey his friendly greetings to the President and Secretary of State. I could tell them he would do nothing to add to the enormous burdens they bear, even though he regards U.S. certification of Argentina as one-sided and unfair. He closed by saying, "Chile is your friend and will remain your friend, but we will not beg."

Comment: President Pinochet appeared in good health and unchanged since I last saw him a year and a half ago. He did take three small white pills with a glass of water before breakfast. He seemed calm and assured. He certainly did not give the impression of a man unsure of himself or fearful for his future. There was no tremor in his hand but he did talk in a low almost conspiratorial voice, and did not speak while a waiter was in the room. He spoke in a "more sorrow than in anger tone" and was personally very cordial in dealing with me. I believe he took careful note of what I told him about the lack of public representative body, but gave no direct commitment on this score. Certainly he appeared much more measured than in his initial reaction to the news of Argentine certification reported last week by Ambassador Theberge.

UNCLASSIFIED

Ambassador Walters had a second meeting with President Pinochet on December 12 in the company of key Cabinet Ministers. Ambassador Walters assured the President and assembled Ministers that certification of Argentina did not automatically commit the USG to arms sales to Argentina. He emphasized U.S. opposition to the use of force to settle border disputes, U.S. interest in maintaining a military balance, discouraging conflict and commitment to a solution to the Beagle Channel dispute. The President reaffirmed his commitment to a steady, orderly transition to democracy, he refused to establish a concrete political plan with dates because it would fail to satisfy the opposition and set off more political haggling and demands.

NR

Chilean Christian democracy was severely criticized for cooperating with the Communists and Marxist Socialist, in a joint effort to overthrow the Chilean Government, a sharp distinction was made between the anti-Communist Christian Democratic Parties in Italy and Germany and the Chilean Christian Democratic Party's traditional sympathy for alliances with anti-democratic Communist and Marxist Socialist parties. Foreign Minister Schweitzer complained that the numerous State Department public declarations about the internal Chilean political process were excessive, and constituted interference in Chile's internal affairs. The last Department declaration on dialogue and democracy in Chile just prior to Counselor Derwinski's visit was singled out as particularly unfortunate and ill-timed, causing confusion about the state of U.S-Chilean realtions.

Ambassador Walters established sympathetic rapport with his interlocutors and clearly explained and persuasively defended U.S. policy towards Chile and Argentine certification. Sensitive issues were discussed in friendly spirit. Ambassador Walter's visit was especially timely coming as it did immediately after U.S. certification of Argentina. It made an important contribution to strengthening U.S.-Chilean relations by providing reassurance about U.S. intentions and constancy of U.S. policy towards Chile.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

During the course of December 12, local radio reports based on unidentified GOC sources revealed the visit of Ambassador Walters. Later in the day, Secretary of Government Alfonso Marquez de la Palta confirmed that Ambassador Walters had met with President Pinochet that morning and would be meeting again with the President and part of his cabinet that afternoon. Consequently, reporters were waiting at La Moneda when Ambassadors Walters and Theberge arrived for the afternoon meeting. Ambassador Walters responded briefly to reporters' questions on departure.

At a separate meeting (on December 13) with Ambassador Theberge (after Ambassador Walters' visit) the Foreign Minister said that he wished to warn against interpreting the friendly atmosphere of the discussions as an indication that the Chilean Government and Armed Forces were not deeply disturbed about U.S. certification of Argentina, and the continued unfair and discriminatory treatment of Chile by the Reagan Administration. He did not want Ambassador Walters to return to Washington with a misleading impression of how the Chilean authorities felt about the failure of the United States to certify Chile, a country that is a consistent friend and supporter of the Reagan Administration's struggle to contain Soviet expansionism.

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT

From: The Secretary

Subject: Visit to ASEAN Countries and to Chile by Ambassador-at-Large Vernon A. Walters

In Chile Walters met with President Pinochet and his cabinet. Pinochet is upset about the certification of Argentina but intends to make no trouble for the U.S. because of his high regard for you and his belief that you are the best President of the U.S. for Chile's interests. Pinochet's situation is similar to that of Marcos. The Chilean opposition is divided and Pinochet struck Walters as secure and confident. Pinochet considers himself a loyal, proven friend of the U.S.

I believe it would be helpful to you to have Ambassador Walters brief you in more detail on his impressions.

Recommendation:

That you agree to briefing by Ambassador Walters on his trip to ASEAN countries.

2. (C) THE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN VOTING TOTALS ARE LARGELY EXPLAINED BY THE PRESENCE OF COUNTRIES IN PLENARY WHICH HAD BEEN ABSENT IN THE THIRD COMMITTEE. TWO COUNTRIES, HOWEVER, DID CHANGE THEIR VOTES ON ALL THREE RESOLUTIONS. LIBERIA CHANGED ITS YES VOTES TO ABSTENTIONS FOLLOWING CALL FROM USUN TO LIBERIAN DEL. BANGLADESH VOTED NO AFTER ABSTAINING IN COMMITTEE; THIS ALSO REPRESENTS A SHIFT FROM LAST YEAR'S ABSTENTIONS. YEMEN, WHICH HAD NOT VOTED IN COMMITTEE ON GUATEMALA, CHANGED ITS YES VOTES ON EL SALVADOR AND CHILE TO ABSTENTIONS. PRESENT FOR THE PLENARY VOTE AND ABSTAINING ON ALL THREE RESOLUTIONS WERE BELIZE, CENTRAL AFRICAN REPUBLIC, CHAD, DOMINICA, AND EQUITORIAL GUINEA. SAINT LUCIA VOTED NO ON EL SALVADOR AND ABSTAINED ON THE OTHER TWO RESOLUTIONS. PRESENT AND VOTING IN FAVOR OF ALL THREE RESOLUTIONS WERE GRENADA (TAYLOR OCCUPYING THE CHAIR), MALTA, MAURITIUS AND VANUATU. FINALLY, ARGENTINA DID NOT VOTE ON THESE RESOLUTIONS IN PLENARY BUT AGAIN DID NOT EXPLAIN ITS POSITION. BOLIVIA AND VENEZUELA MAINTAINED THEIR POLICY OF NON-PARTICIPATION.

ABSTENTION TO A NEGATIVE VOTE AND THE FACT THAT QATAR, WHICH HAD VOTED YES IN COMMITTEE, DID NOT PARTICIPATE IN THE PLENARY VOTE.

B) EL SALVADOR: IN ADDITION TO CHANGES ABOVE, ISRAEL DID NOT PARTICIPATE IN VOTE IN PLENARY, COSTA RICA ABSTAINED AFTER NOT VOTING IN COMMITTEE, WHILE GUINEA, BOTSWANA AND SWEDEN VOTED YES AFTER ABSTAINING EARLIER. MISOFF LEARNED THAT ISRAEL DID NOT VOTE IN PLENARY TO INDICATE DISPLEASURE WITH SEVERAL EL SALVADOR VOTES ON ANTI-ISRAELI ISSUES DURING THE COURSE OF THE UNGA. IN THE CASE OF SWEDEN, ABSTENTION IN COMMITTEE WAS MISTAKE -- GIVEN SWEDISH CO-SPONSORSHIP OF RESOLUTION -- NOTED JUST AFTER VOTE SO CHANGE WAS EXPECTED.

C) GUATEMALA: THE ONLY VARIATION FROM THE GENERAL CHANGES WAS THAT GUINEA ABSTAINED AFTER NOT VOTING IN COMMITTEE.

BJECT: - DRAFT REPORT TO CONGRESS - PART II.

1. THIS IS PART II OF THE ROUGH, UNCLEARED DRAFT OF THE PORT TO CONGRESS. PART I TRANSMITTED SEPTEL WITH QUEST FOR EMBASSY COMMENT. TEXT FOLLOWS: DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE:

ECONOMIC SUPPORT FUNDS (ESF)
HAS BECOME THE SINGLE MOST IMPORTANT ELEMENT OF OUR NOMIC ASSISTANCE PACKAGE FOR EL SALVADOR, ACCOUNTING R APPROXIMATELY 60 PERCENT OF OUR TOTAL BILATERAL NOMIC ASSISTANCE IN FISCAL YEARS 1982 AND 1983, WITH SAME RELATIONSHIP PLANNED FOR FY 1984. FROM FY 1981, N WE BEGAN PROVIDING SIGNIFICANT AMOUNTS OF ESF FOR

[redacted]

E 02 STATE 363427

ANCE OF PAYMENTS SUPPORT, THROUGH THE END OF FY 1983, OUR MAIN PURPOSE IN PROVIDING ESF WAS TO STABILIZE THE ECONOMY (I.E. ARREST THE PRECIPITATE FOUR-YEAR DECLINE IN GDP).
THE PRINCIPAL USE OF ESF HAS BEEN TO FINANCE IMPORTS FROM THE US OF RAW MATERIALS, INTERMEDIATE GOODS, PARTS AND EQUIPMENT NEEDED TO MAINTAIN PRIVATE BUSINESS ACTIVITY AND EMPLOYMENT. OUR STRATEGY HAS BEEN PARTIALLY SUCCESSFUL: THE PROVISION OF $220 MILLION IN FY 1982 AND 1983 AS EMERGENCY CASH TRANSFERS TO ADDRESS THE BALANCE OF PAYMENTS CRISIS IS EXPECTED TO PERMIT EL SALVADOR TO RECORD ZERO GDP GROWTH IN 1983. HOWEVER, SINCE THE ECONOMY CONTRACTED BY 25 PERCENT BETWEEN 1978-1982, STABILIZATION AT THE CURRENT LOW LEVELS OF ECONOMIC ACTIVITY IS NOT A SATISFACTORY RESPONSE. OUR IMMEDIATE OBJECTIVE IS TO ACHIEVE POSITIVE REAL GROWTH BY PROVIDING INCREASED BALANCE OF PAYMENTS SUPPORT AND BY ENCOURAGING THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR TO IMPLEMENT POLICY CHANGES CONDUCIVE TO INCREASED PRODUCTION, EMPLOYMENT AND EXPORTS.

A SECONDARY BUT VITALLY IMPORTANT USE OF ESF IN EL SALVADOR HAS BEEN TO FINANCE THE RESTORATION AND REPLACEMENT OF VITAL INFRASTRUCTURE. THUS FAR, $28 MILLION HAS BEEN USED FOR THE REPAIR OF THE ELECTRICAL DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM, ROADS AND BRIDGES, RAILROADS, TELECOMMUNICATIONS, AND MUNICIPAL WATER SYSTEMS DAMAGED OR DESTROYED BY GUERRILLAS. THIS ASSISTANCE COVERS ONLY A FRACTION OF THE TOTAL AMOUNT OF INFRASTRUCTURE DAMAGE, BUT, BECAUSE IT IS QUICKLY DISBURSED, IT ALLOWS THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT TO QUICKLY ADDRESS ITS MOST URGENT INFRASTRUCTURE PRIORITIES. AN ADDITIONAL $12 MILLION IS

BUDGETED FOR THIS PURPOSE IN BOTH FY 84 AND FY 85.

2. A.I.D. DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY

IN RECENT YEARS, A.I.D. FINANCIAL SUPPORT HAS PROVIDED KEY ASSISTANCE IN ARRESTING THE DECLINE OF THE SALVADORAN ECONOMY. NEVERTHELESS, THE DECLINE HAS CONTINUED AND, GIVEN THE CURRENT DIMINISHED STATE OF THE ECONOMY, STABILIZATION (MINIMALLY DEFINED AS A ZERO RATE OF GROWTH) IS NO LONGER AN ATTAINABLE TARGET. LACK OF SECURITY, LOW COMMODITY PRICES AND LACK OF BUSINESS CONFIDENCE PRESENT FORMIDABLE OBSTACLES TO ACHIEVING SIGNIFICANT MEASURABLE GROWTH IN EL SALVADOR'S ECONOMY. CURRENT PROJECTIONS INDICATE THAT THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT WILL REQUIRE ABOUT $283 MILLION IN BALANCE-OF-PAYMENTS SUPPORT TO ACHIEVE ZERO OR MINIMAL POSITIVE GROWTH IN FY 1985. U.S. ECONOMIC SUPPORT FUNDS AND P.L. 480 CONCESSIONAL CREDITS FOR FOOD IMPORTS WILL HELP SATISFY PART, BUT NOT ALL, OF THIS REQUIREMENT. A.I.D.'S STRATEGY IS TO COMBINE THIS BALANCE-OF-PAYMENTS SUPPORT WITH PROMOTION OF MACROECONOMIC POLICIES THAT ENCOURAGE PRODUCTION, EMPLOYMENT, FOREIGN EXCHANGE GENERATION, INDUSTRIAL STABILIZATION AND RECOVERY, AND CONTINUED SUPPORT FOR THE AGRARIAN REFORM PROGRAMS. A.I.D. ALSO WILL SUPPORT THE GRADUAL EXTENSION OF THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT'S COMBINED SECURITY AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM INITIATED IN SAN VICENTE DEPARTMENT AND DESIGNED TO BRING SECURITY, REACTIVATE THE ECONOMY, AND RESTORE BASIC SERVICES. GIVEN THE LEVELS OF A.I.D. SUPPORT REQUESTED BY THE ADMINISTRATION, SIGNIFICANT INCREASES IN THE ASSISTANCE PROVIDED BY THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND AND WORLD BANK, INCREASED PRICES FOR SALVADORAN EXPORT CROPS, AND AN IMPROVED WORLD ECONOMY, POSITIVE GROWTH WOULD BE A DIFFICULT, BUT ACHIEVABLE GOAL.

DETERIORATING SOCIAL SERVICES REQUIRE IMMEDIATE ATTENTION, PARTICULARLY IN THE HEALTH AND EDUCATION SECTORS. A.I.D. ASSISTANCE IS ESSENTIAL TO HELP STRENGTHEN THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT'S PRESENCE AT THE GRASS-ROOTS LEVEL, TO PROVIDE FOR THE BASIC HUMAN NEEDS OF THE MAJORITY OF SALVADORANS, TO ARREST FURTHER INSTITUTIONAL DETERIORATION, AND TO PROTECT PRIOR INVESTMENTS IN THESE SECTORS. A.I.D.'S STRATEGY IS TO DEAL IMMEDIATELY WITH THE SYMPTOMS (E.G., ABSENCE OF MEDICINES AND SUPPLIES, CLOSED SCHOOLS AND LACK OF TEXTBOOKS) WHILE STRENGTHENING WEAK POINTS OF THE SYSTEMS (E.G., HEALTH LOGISTICS AND EDUCATION ADMINISTRATION).

[redacted]

A.I.D. THUS PROPOSES TO COMBINE A PROGRAM WHICH SLOWS THE RATE OF ECONOMIC DETERIORATION WITH INITIATIVES TO IMPROVE THE QUALITY OF SOCIAL SERVICES. WHILE THIS PROGRAM TAKES EFFECT, A.I.D. INTENDS TO EXPAND AND

UNCLASSIFIED

IMPROVE CURRENT HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS, INCLUDING THE RESTORATION OF STRIFE-TORN AREAS AND THE RESETTLEMENT OF DISPLACED PERSONS.

ECONOMIC STABILIZATION AND RECOVERY: AS THE CURRENT ECONOMIC CRISIS IN EL SALVADOR THREATENS SOCIAL AND POLITICAL STABILITY, THE A.I.D. PROGRAM IS DESIGNED TO DIRECT RESOURCES TO MAINTAIN AND EXPAND ECONOMIC ACTIVITY. SPECIFICALLY, A.I.D. PROGRAMS ARE DESIGNED TO:

--MAINTAIN OR INCREASE IMPORTS WHICH SUPPORT AGRICULTURAL AND INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION;

--GUARANTEE FOOD STOCKS;
--RESTORE DAMAGED INFRASTRUCTURE;

--ENCOURAGE DEVELOPMENT OF EXPORTS AND EXPANDED

[redacted]

PRODUCTION OF PRIVATE BUSINESSES, BOTH SMALL AND LARGE, EMPHASIZING ENTERPRISES WHICH CONTRIBUTE TO FOREIGN EXCHANGE EARNINGS AND GENERATE EMPLOYMENT;

--UTILIZE TO ADVANTAGE THE SPECIAL OPPORTUNITIES PRESENTED BY THE CARIBBEAN BASIN INITIATIVE; AND

--SUPPORT KEY PUBLIC SECTOR EFFORTS IN EMPLOYMENT, AGRARIAN REFORM, SERVICES RESTORATION, AND HUMANITARIAN EFFORTS.

HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE. WHILE SUPPORTING EFFORTS TO ADDRESS THE IMMEDIATE PROBLEM OF HUMAN SUFFERING, A.I.D.-SUPPORTED PROGRAMS SEEK TO:

--PROVIDE EMERGENCY FOOD AND HEALTH CARE TO THE POOR OR DISPLACED WHO CANNOT PROVIDE FOR THEMSELVES OR THEIR FAMILIES;

--PROVIDE WORK FOR DISPLACED AND UNEMPLOYED HEADS OF HOUSEHOLDS ON PROJECTS OF IMPORTANCE TO THE COMMUNITIES IN WHICH THEY RESIDE OR WHICH IMPROVE THE HEALTH AND SANITATION OF REFUGEE CAMPS OR RESETTLEMENT SITES; AND

--HELP DISPLACED PERSONS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OPPORTUNITIES

FOR PERMANENT RESETTLEMENT BY PROVIDING FOR FOOD, LOANS, BASIC TOOLS AND EQUIPMENT, ACCESS TO LAND, AND LOW-COST HOUSING.

A.I.D.'S STRATEGY ALSO EMPHASIZES EXPANDED PARTICIPATION OF PRIVATE VOLUNTARY ORGANIZATIONS (PVOS) TO HELP ADDRESS PROBLEMS OF DISPLACED PERSONS.

SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT. EL SALVADOR IS FACED WITH THE NEED TO CORRECT HISTORICAL IMBALANCES IN ITS ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL STRUCTURE. THE COUNTRY'S HIGH POPULATION DENSITY

[redacted]

AND CONTINUED HIGH FERTILITY RATES (SEE SECTION F BELOW), ITS DEPENDENCE ON A FEW EXPORT CROPS, HIGHLY SKEWED INCOME LEVELS, AND A LACK OF NATURAL RESOURCES PRESENT A FORMIDABLE CHALLENGE TO SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT.

AN IMPROVED ECONOMIC ENVIRONMENT AND GREATER ACCESS TO PRODUCTION INPUTS OFFERS GREATER PROMISE FOR PARTICIPATION BY POOR SALVADORANS IN A FREE, MODERNIZING ECONOMY. ACCESS TO BASIC SOCIAL SERVICES -- AND TO THE POLITICAL RIGHTS WHICH GUARANTEE THIS ACCESS -- ARE ESSENTIAL TO ACHIEVING THIS PARTICIPATION. THE A.I.D. STRATEGY THUS SUPPORTS PROGRAMS WHICH:

--RESTORE HEALTH AND EDUCATION SYSTEMS AND INFRASTRUCTURE IN AREAS WHERE GUERRILLA ACTION HAS DESTROYED OR JEOPARDIZED THE VIABILITY OF THE SYSTEMS WHICH EXIST, AND RESTORE THE QUALITY AND EFFICIENCY OF THOSE SYSTEMS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY TO PRE-CONFLICT LEVELS OR BETTER;

--PROVIDE INFORMATION ON AND ACCESS TO MATERNAL HEALTH AND FAMILY PLANNING SERVICES;

--PROVIDE IMPROVED HOUSING AND COMMUNITY SERVICES FOR PEOPLE WHOSE ACCESS TO START-UP CAPITAL HAS BEEN LIMITED; AND

--STRENGTHEN DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS, SUCH AS THE CENTRAL ELECTIONS COUNCIL, WHICH HELP ASSURE EQUAL ACCESS TO ECONOMIC, SOCIAL, AND POLITICAL BENEFITS.

IN CONCERT WITH THIS EFFORT, A.I.D. WILL CONTINUE TO

UNCLASSIFIED

SUPPORT SALVADORAN EFFORTS TO ASSURE THE POOR A GREATER STAKE IN THE ECONOMY THROUGH:

[redacted]

--CONSOLIDATION OF THE LAND REFORM PROGRAM DESIGNED TO GIVE FARMERS THE OPPORTUNITY TO OWN THE LAND THEY FARM;

--CREDIT PROGRAMS WHICH PROVIDE CAPITAL TO SMALL FARMERS AND BUSINESSMEN WHO ARE PARTICIPATING, OFTEN FOR THE FIRST TIME, AS FULL PARTNERS IN THE PRIVATE ENTERPRISE ECONOMY;

--TRAINING AND EXTENSION SUPPORT TO INCREASE THE ACCESS OF POOR PEOPLE TO APPROPRIATE MODERN TECHNOLOGIES;

--DEVELOPMENT OF INFRASTRUCTURE, SUCH AS SMALL IRRIGATION SYSTEMS AND ACCESS ROADS, TO PERMIT MAXIMUM YIELDS, BETTER MARKET ACCESS AND MAXIMUM PROFITS FOR NEW LAND AND BUSINESS OWNERS; AND

--MARKETING EFFICIENCIES WHICH MAKE LOCAL PRODUCERS MORE COMPETITIVE.

A.I.D.'S DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY IN EL SALVADOR INCORPORATES TO A CONSIDERABLE EXTENT THE ASSISTANCE OF U.S. AND LOCAL PVOS. THESE AGENCIES BRING TO THE DEVELOPMENT EFFORT TECHNICAL SKILLS AND PROGRAM APPROACHES WELL ADAPTED TO THIS SOCIETY, AND THEY PROVIDE AN ACCESS TO THE PERSPECTIVES AND ASPIRATIONS OF ELEMENTS OF THE SOCIETY WHICH FORMAL GOVERNMENT RELATIONSHIPS CANNOT PROVIDE.

3. CARIBBEAN BASIN INITIATIVE

THE CARIBBEAN BASIN ECONOMIC RECOVERY ACT (CBERA), WHICH WILL COME INTO EFFECT ON JANUARY 1, 1984, ELIMINATES DUTIES ON VIRTUALLY ALL US IMPORTS IF THEY ORIGINATE IN DESIGNATED CARIBBEAN BASIN COUNTRIES. THE PRESIDENT DESIGNATED EL SALVADOR AS A BENEFICIARY ON DECEMBER..., 1983.

[redacted]

[redacted]

DECLASSIFIED

DECLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED
RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

THE IMMEDIATE BENEFITS OF THE ACT FOR E. SALVADOR WILL BE MODEST. SALVADORAN PRODUCERS OF PRESENTLY DUTIABLE EXPORTS TO THE US WILL RECEIVE HIGHER REVENUES AS A RESULT OF THE DUTY ELIMINATION. HOWEVER, OF THE PRODUCTS WHICH E. SALVADOR NOW EXPORTS ($310 MILLION IN 1982), MOST ($217 MILLION IN 1982) ALREADY ENTER THE US FREE OF DUTY UNDER EITHER THE GENERAL PROVISIONS OF THE US TARIFF SCHEDULE (I.E. MFN -- MOST FAVORED NATION) OR THE SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR DEVELOPING COUNTRIES (I.E. GSP - THE GENERALIZED SYSTEM OF PREFERENCES).

OVER THE LONGER-TERM, THE EFFECTS OF THIS TRADE BENEFIT COULD BE VERY SIGNIFICANT. THE OBJECTIVE OF THIS PROGRAM IS TO STIMULATE NEW INVESTMENT AND PRODUCTION, AND HENCE CREATE NEW JOBS. THOUSANDS OF PRODUCTS NOT NOW PRODUCED IN OR EXPORTED FROM E. SALVADOR HAVE BECOME DUTY-FREE AS A RESULT OF THE CBERA. HOWEVER, IT WILL BE UP TO INVESTORS IN EACH OF THE BENEFICIARY COUNTRIES TO IDENTIFY WHICH NEW PRODUCTS THEY CAN EXPORT EFFICIENTLY TO THE US, GIVEN LOCAL CIRCUMSTANCES. FOR THE FULL EFFECT OF THE CBERA'S TRADE INCENTIVE TO BE REALIZED, OTHER CONDITIONS RELEVANT TO INVESTMENT DECISIONS (E.G., REASONABLE POLITICAL STABILITY, APPROPRIATE GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMIC AND LABOR POLICIES, ETC.) WOULD ALSO HAVE TO BE POSITIVE. IT IS CLEAR, HOWEVER, THAT IMPORTANT NEW OPPORTUNITIES HAVE BEEN OPENED UP BY THE CBERA, PARTICULARLY FOR EL SALVADOR IN THE AREAS OF HORTICULTURE, PROCESSED AGRICULTURAL GOODS AND LIGHT MANUFACTURING.

THE OTHER SIGNIFICANT BENEFIT OF THE CBERA IS "NORTH AMERICAN TAX TREATMENT" FOR CONVENTIONS. THIS SECTION OF THE ACT PROVIDES THAT EXPENSES INCURRED BY US CITIZENS

ATTENDING BUSINESS CONVENTIONS IN ELIGIBLE CARIBBEAN BASIN COUNTRIES ARE TAX DEDUCTIBLE IN THE SAME WAY AS IF THE CONVENTIONS WERE HELD IN THE US. THIS HAS THE POTENTIAL TO BOOST TOURISM, BUT WILL PROBABLY NOT HAVE MAJOR REPERCUSSIONS IN E. SALVADOR IN THE NEAR TERM. TO QUALIFY FOR THIS BENEFIT, A COUNTRY MUST NEGOTIATE AN AGREEMENT WITH THE US TO EXCHANGE INFORMATION RELATING TO ENFORCEMENT OF TAX LAWS. EL SALVADOR HAS NOT YET BEGUN

[redacted]

DISCUSSIONS OF THIS ISSUE WITH US.

F. IMPLICATIONS OF POPULATION GROWTH

EL SALVADOR, WITH 225 PEOPLE PER SQUARE KILOMETER, IS THE MOST DENSELY POPULATED COUNTRY IN LATIN AMERICA. ITS POPULATION OF 4.8 MILLION IS GROWING RAPIDLY (2.4 PERCENT ANNUALLY) AND IS EXPECTED TO REACH 7.8 MILLION BY THE YEAR 2000. CONTINUED HIGH GROWTH IN POPULATION WILL EXACERBATE SOCIAL AND POLITICAL TENSIONS AND UNDERMINE DEVELOPMENT EFFORTS. GOVERNMENT GOALS TO PROVIDE PUBLIC SERVICES, CLASSROOMS, HOUSING, AND BASIC HEALTH CARE ARE MADE INCREASINGLY DIFFICULT BY THE GROWING NUMBERS. GAINS IN AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION, FOR EXAMPLE, ARE NOT EXPECTED TO KEEP PACE WITH THE RAPID GROWTH IN DEMAND FOR FOOD. LIKEWISE, INCREASING DEMAND FOR FIREWOOD WILL ADD TO THE DEPLETION OF FORESTS AND DETRACT FROM COMMERCIAL LUMBER USES. PERHAPS MOST DRAMATIC IS THE GROWTH IN THE LABOR FORCE. WITH NEARLY HALF OF EL SALVADOR'S POPULATION UNDER AGE 15, GROWTH OF THE LABOR FORCE WILL BE RAPID. THE RESULTING UNEMPLOYMENT, URBANIZATION, AND MIGRATION ARE POTENTIAL SOURCES OF POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC INSTABILITY.

RAPID GROWTH ALSO AFFECTS THE HEALTH OF MOTHERS AND CHILDREN. CHILD SPACING, MATERNAL AGE, AND ORDER OF BIRTH ARE ALL RELATED TO INFANT MORTALITY. IN EL SALVADOR, INFANT MORTALITY RANGES FROM 60 TO 80 DEATHS PER THOUSAND LIVE BIRTHS FOR THE FIRST FOUR CHILDREN.

[redacted]

PAGE 10 STATE 363427

FOR THE FIFTH AND SUBSEQUENT BIRTHS, THE INFANT MORTALITY RATE MORE THAN DOUBLES TO 160 DEATHS PER 1,000 LIVE BIRTHS. ON AVERAGE, EL SALVADOR'S WOMEN HAVE OVER 6 CHILDREN.

SINCE THE EARLY 1970'S, SALVADORAN LEADERS HAVE RECOGNIZED THE IMPACT OF RAPID POPULATION GROWTH ON DEVELOPMENT. AMBITIOUS GOVERNMENT PROGRAMS HAVE BEEN LAUNCHED THROUGH THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH, BUT HAVE BEEN PLAGUED BY IMPLEMENTATION PROBLEMS AND POLITICAL DISRUPTIONS.

IN RECENT YEARS, THE PRIVATE SECTOR, LED BY THE SALVADORAN DEMOGRAPHIC ASSOCIATION (THE INTERNATIONAL PLANNED PARENTHOOD AFFILIATE), HAS GREATLY STRENGTHENED ITS PROGRAM, DESPITE THE CIVIL STRIFE. HOWEVER, EVEN

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED
DECLASSIFIED

WITH THE SUCCESS AND THE CONTINUITY OF THE PRIVATE SECTOR EFFORT, ONLY ABOUT 35 PERCENT OF MARRIED WOMEN OF CHILDBEARING AGE USE FAMILY PLANNING METHODS.

U.S. POPULATION ASSISTANCE, THROUGH THE AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT, BEGAN IN 1966. BILATERAL ASSISTANCE, WHICH EQUALLED ABOUT $1.8 MILLION IN 1983, IS EXPECTED TO INCREASE TO $2 MILLION IN 1984. IN ADDITION, NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS RECEIVE U.S. SUPPORT FOR SUCH INNOVATIVE PROJECTS AS COMMUNITY BASED DISTRIBUTION OF CONTRACEPTIVES AND CONTRACEPTIVE RETAIL SALES. EL SALVADOR ALSO RECEIVES MULTILATERAL POPULATION ASSISTANCE FROM THE UN FUND FOR POPULATION ACTIVITIES (TO WHICH THE U.S. IS A MAJOR CONTRIBUTOR).

V. SECURITY

IN ORDER FOR DEMOCRATIC AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT TO TAKE PLACE, THE ARMED FORCES OF EL SALVADOR (ESAF) MUST BE

[redacted]

CAPABLE OF ESTABLISHING A SECURE ENVIRONMENT WITHIN WHICH THE SALVADORAN PEOPLE CAN PEACEABLY MOVE TOWARD SOCIO-ECONOMIC REFORM AND RESOLUTION OF THEIR POLITICAL DIFFERENCES THROUGH DEMOCRATIC AND PLURALISTIC PROCESSES. IN THE PURSUIT OF THIS GOAL, THE ARMED FORCES AND SECURITY FORCES OF EL SALVADOR FACE A FORMIDABLE CHALLENGE. THE EXERCISE OF POLITICAL POWER BY THE DEMOCRATICALLY CONSTITUED GOVERNMENT IS BEING CONTESTED BY VARIOUS GURRILLA GROUPS DIFFERING SOMEWHAT IN IDEOLOGY AND METHODS BUT UNITED UNDER THE UMBRELLA OF THE FMLN.

THE ULTIMATE GOAL OF THE FARABUNDO MARTI NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT-(FMLN) IS TO BRING DOWN THE EXISTING GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR AND REPLACE IT WITH AN FMLN GOVERNMENT. THE FMLN IS PURSUING ITS GOAL THROUGH A TWO-PRONGED APPROACH:

-- (1) GUERRILLA WARFARE, AND

-- (2) A COORDINATED POLITICAL STRATEGY TO GAIN INTERNATIONAL SYMPATHY AND RECOGNITION.

THE MILITARY STRATEGY HAS CONSISTED OF A WAR OF ATTRITION

[redacted]

AGAINST THE SALVADORAN ECONOMY AND ARMED FORCES. THE GUERRILLAS HAVE TARGETED KEY INSTALLATIONS AND LINES OF COMMUNICATION (BRIDGES, HIGHWAYS, PROCESSING PLANTS, TELECOMMUNICATIONS, AND ELECTRICAL INFRASTRUCTURE) AS WELL AS EXPORT CROPS AND COMMERCIAL TRANSPORT VEHICLES. THEIR MILITARY TARGETS HAVE BEEN SMALL, ISOLATED MILITARY AND SECURITY FORCE OUTPOSTS AND, MORE RECENTLY, LARGER AND BETTER TRAINED, BUT UNSEASONED, GOVERNMENT UNITS AND GARRISONS. THEY HAVE ALSO FREQUENTLY OVERRUN HIGHLY DEFENDED URBAN AREAS, AND HAVE RECENTLY (SEPTEMBER) ATTACKED A DEPARTMENT CAPITAL. THE ULTIMATE AIM IS TO BRING DOWN THE GOVERNMENT THROUGH EITHER TOTAL ECONOMIC COLLAPSE OR DISINTEGRATION OF THE MILITARY FROM THE

[redacted]

BOTTOM UP. AS AN INTERMEDIATE STEP, THEIR STRATEGY IS DESINGED TO IMPROVE THE BARGAINING POSITION OF THE FMLN POLITICAL LEADERSHIP.

MOREOVER, THEIR POLITICAL STRATEGY HAS CONSISTED OF ATTEMPTING TO DISCREDIT THE ELECTORAL PROCESS AND FORCE POWER-SHARING WITH THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT. THEY HAVE AGREED TO NEGOTIATE WITH THE GOVERNMENT, BUT INSIST ON POWER-SHARING RATHER THAN PARTICIPATION IN THE ELECTIONS AS THE CONDITION FOR A NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT. THIS IS PROBABLY DESIGNED AS A DELAYING TACTIC TO GAIN TIME FOR THE MILITARY EFFORT AND TO PROMOTE AN IMAGE OF THE DEMOCRATIC SALVADORAN AND U.S. GOVERNMENTS AS INTRANSIGENT. POWER-SHARING IS SEEN AS AN INTERMEDIATE STAGE AS A PRELUDE TO THE CONSOLIDATION OF POWER BY THE FMLN.

THE SUCCESS OF THE FMLN POLITICAL STRATEGY IS DEPENDENT UPON TWO ELEMENTS:

-- (1) THE ATTAINMENT OF SUCCESSES ON THE BATTLEFIELD SUFFICIENT TO FORCE THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT INTO POWER-SHARING AS ITS ONLY CHANCE FOR SURVIVAL.
(2) THE FMLN'S ABILITY TO USE PROPAGANDA EFFECTIVELY TO CREATE ADDITIONAL PRESSURE ON THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR.

A. MILITARY SITUATION
SALVADORAN MILITARY STRATEGY SINCE JUNE 1983 HAS CENTERED

UNCLASSIFIED

DECLASSIFIED

DECLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

AROUND THE IMPLEMENTATION OF A NATIONAL CAMPAIGN PLAN, - ESPECIALLY IN THE AREA OF CURRENT NATIONAL PRIORITY -- SAN VICENTE AND USULUTAN. PRIMARY MISSIONS INHERENT IN THIS STRATEGY HAVE BEEN, UNTIL RECENTLY, TO DISLODGE THE

[redacted]

GUERRILLAS FROM STRONGHOLDS, DISRUPT THEIR LOGISTIC NETWORKS, SECURE THE GUERRILLA-CONTROLLED AREAS, AND, IN COORDINATION WITH CIVILIAN AGENCIES INTITIATE A CIVIC ACTION PROGRAM TO REBUILD THE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE. THIS CIVIC ACTION PROGRAM CONSISTS OF REOPENING SCHOOLS, ROAD BUILDING, ESTABLISHING PUBLIC HEALTH AND VACCINATION PROGRAMS, DISTRIBUTION OF FOOD, CONDUCT OF OUTREACH AND AMNESTY PROGRAMS, AND TRAINING LOCAL CIVIL DEFENSE FORCES TO PROTECT THEMSELVES FOLLOWING THE DEPARTURE OF THE MILITARY.

WHEN THE MILITARY HAS CONDUCTED AGGRESSIVE PATROLLING, IT HAS HAD SUCCESS; HOWEVER, WHEN THIS HAS NOT OCCURRED, THE FMLN GUERRILLAS HAVE BEEN ABLE TO MASS AND MOVE UNNOTICED AND UNCONTESTED. THE COMMAND AND CONTROL SYSTEM HAS EXHIBITED SOME COORDINATION BREAKDOWNS AND A LACK OF DETAILED PLANNING AND TIMELY RESPONSIVENESS AT THE GENERAL STAFF AND DEPARTMENTAL LEVEL. OTHER SHORTFALLS EXIST IN THE AREAS OF MOBILITY AND TRANSPORT, MEDICAL CARE, AND OPERATIONAL AND LOGISTIC PLANNING.

THE MILITARY STRATEGY OF THE INSURGENTS HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL IN SERIOUSLY DAMAGING THE SALVADORAN ECONOMY. HOWEVER, THE GUERRILLAS CONTINUE TO BE AN INFERIOR COMBAT FORCE WHEN COMPARED TO U.S.-TRAINED GOVERNMENT UNITS. ALTHOUGH MORALE WITHIN THE SALVADORAN MILITARY HAS FLUCTUATED WITH THE ERRATIC PERFORMANCE ON THE BATTLEFIELD, THE ARMED FORCES ARE NOT JUDGED TO BE IN ANY DANGER OF DISINTEGRATING.
DURING THE SUMMER AND EARLY FALL OF 1983, THE ESAF MANAGED TO ACT WITH INITIATIVE AND VIGOR ON THE BATTLEFIELD AND SAW A GREAT MEASURE OF SUCCESS FROM THE NATIONAL CAMPAIGN IN SAN VICENTE. THIS WAS DUE IN LARGE PART TO ACTIVE PATROLLING AND A VISIBLE MILITARY PRESENCE THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRYSIDE. BEGINNING IN EARLY SEPTEMBER, THE GUERRILLA FORCES MOUNTED A

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

COUNTEROFFENSIVE IN OCTOBER/NOVEMBER WHICH DID MEET WITH LIMITED SUCCESS AND CREATED CONFUSION AND HESITATION WITHIN THE ESAF.
THE OVERALL RESULT ON THE BATTLEFIELD HAS BEEN A STALEMATE. GOVERNMENT FORCES, WHILE ABLE TO DEPLOY ANYWHERE IN THE COUNTRY, HAVE NOT BEEN ABLE TO DEAL A DECISIVE BLOW TO THE GUERRILLAS. RECENT KEY COMMAND AND STAFF CHANGES, HOWEVER, HAVE IMPROVED GOVERNMENT COMMAND AND CONTROL. BY THE GENERAL STAFF AND MORE VIGOROUS OPERATIONS UNDER NEW AND AGGRESSIVE COMMANDERS ARE BEING CARRIED OUT IN THE EARTERN PART OF THE COUNTRY. IF THESE OPERATIONS ARE SUCCESSFUL, THE GOVERNMENT FORCES MAY BE ABLE TO RETAKE THE INITIATIVE AND SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCE INSURGENT CAPABILITIES. THE ORGANIZATION OF THE SALVADORAN MILITARY FOR UNCONVENTIONAL WARFARE IS AT PRESENT INADEQUATE, BUT A REORGANIZATION IS UNDERWAY TO AUGMENT EXISTING FORCES WITH ADDITIONAL U.S.-TRAINED IMMEDIATE REACTION BATTALIONS AS WELL AS LIGHT INFANTRY, "COUNTER-SUBVERSION" BATTALIONS.
AT THE PRESENT LEVEL OF MANNING AND SUPPORT, THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES CAN, AT BEST, ONLY MAINTAIN A STATUS QUO WITH THE INSURGENTS. THE GROWTH IN THE OVERALL STRENGTH HAS NOT BEEN ACCOMPANIED BY AN ATTENDANT INCREASE IN THE UPPER LEVELS OF THE OFFICER CORPS. THE U.S. TRAINING OF OVER 950 CADETS HAS BEGUN TO ALLEVIATE THE PROBLEMS ASSOCIATED WITH A LACK OF JUNIOR OFFICERS. HOWEVER, THE SHORTAGE OF FIELD GRADE OFFICERS TO RUN STAFF AND LOGISTICSACTIVITIES CONTINUES TO BE ACUTE. THE PERCENTAGE OF FIELD GRADES/EXERCISES IN THE MILITARY HAS DECLINED FROM ABOUT FIVE PERCENT IN 1979 TO ABOUT ONE PERCENT CURRENTLY (COMMENT: AS DRAFTED, CLARIFICATION BEING SOUGHT. END COMMENT). AT PRESENT, SALVADORAN INSURGENT STRENGTH IS ESTIMATED AT 6,000 OR ABOVE.

INCLUDING FULL AND PART TIME FORCES. ALTHOUGH COUNTERINSURGENCY CAPABILITIES HAVE IMPROVED GREATLY SINCE 1981, ADDITIONAL FORCE EXPANSION AND TRAINING IS STILL NEEDED TO CONTINUE TO IMPROVE THE GOVERNMENT'S FORCES.

B. ASSISTANCE REQUIREMENTS

THE FY 1984 SECURITY ASSISTANCE PROGRAM HAS BEEN DESIGNED TO ASSIST THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES IN THEIR GOALS OF DESTROYING THE GUERRILLAS' WILL AND CAPABILITY TO FIGHT, WHILE PROTECTING THE ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE AND REESTABLISHING PUBLIC ORDER. THE ECONOMIC RECOVERY OF EL SALVADOR HAS BEEN COMPLICATED BY THE GUERRILLA'S SABOTAGE CAMPAIGN WHICH IS DESIGNED TO DESTROY THE COUNTRY'S ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE AND PERPETUATE A CLIMATE OF FEAR, UNCERTAINTY, AND LOSS OF CONFIDENCE IN THE GOVERNMENT AMONGST THE POPULACE.

PROPOSED ACQUISITIONS, WITH U.S. ASSISTANCE, OF MILITARY MATERIEL AND SERVICES WOULD HAVE A DIRECT IMPACT ON THE ECONOMY BY IMPROVING THE SECURITY SITUATION AND PROTECTING THE ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE FROM ATTACK. IN ADDITION, BY CONTRIBUTING TO ESTABLISHING A SECURE ENVIRONMENT CONDUCIVE TO DEVELOPMENT, MILITARY ASSISTANCE HELPS THE GOVERNMENT CONTINUE THE PROCESS OF SOCIAL, POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC REFORM.

THE PROGRAM IS INTENDED TO HELP CORRECT SUBSTANTIAL DEFICIENCIES WHICH CURRENTLY PREVENT THE ARMED FORCES FROM CONTROLLING ALL OF THE COUNTRYSIDE ON A SUSTAINED BASIS. THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES ARE FULLY COMMITTED TO A SUCCESSFUL NEW SALVADORAN-DESIGNED STRATEGY TO TAKE THE WAR TO THE GUERRILLA, PACIFY THE COUNTRYSIDE AND REDEVELOP THE NATION ALONG DEMOCRATIC LINES. DURING

[redacted]

FY-83, THE ARMED FORCES INCREASED BY NEARLY 7,000 MEN AND IN FY-84 THE PROJECTED INCREASE IS ABOUT 6,500. THESE INCREASES ARE PERMITTING THE REORGANIZATION OF THE TOTAL FORCE TO INCLUDE 36 HIGHLY MOBILE, SMALL AND EASY-TO-CONTROL "COUNTER-SUBVERSION" BATTALIONS. SUFFICIENT FUNDING FOR SECURITY ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS IS CRITICAL FOR ACHIEVING THESE GOALS, AND EVEN THE FULL LEVELS OF THE ADMINISTRATION'S REQUESTS NEITHER-ALLOW A MARGIN FOR NEW CONTINGENCIES NOR PERMIT FULL EXPLOITATION OF SUCCESSES.

THE SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES TO BE SERVED BY ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS ARE TO:

[redacted]

-- ASSIST THE ARMED FORCES IN OVERCOMING THE FOREIGN-SUPPORTED, MARXIST GUERRILLAS;

-- PROVIDE CRITICAL RESOURCES NECESSARY TO MAINTAIN A VIABLE FIGHTING FORCE;

-- CONTINUE TO MODERNIZE, STANDARDIZE AND PROFESSIONALIZE THE FORCE;

-- HELP THE MILITARY TO SUCCESSFULLY PROJECT THE NATIONAL CAMPAIGN PLAN TO THE ENTIRE COUNTRY THROUGH CONTINUED FORCE EXPANSION, INCREASED OPERATIONAL CAPABILITY, EFFECTIVENESS AND EFFICIENCY; AND

-- PROVIDE SUFFICIENT SUPPLIES OF AMMUNITION AND OTHER MATERIEL TO ENABLE THE ESAF TO MAINTAIN TROOPS ACTIVELY PATROLLING IN THE FIELD RATHER THAN IN A DEFENSIVE POSTURE.

[redacted]

DURING A PERIOD OF EXPANSION OF THE CAMPAIGN PLAN INTO OTHER DEPARTMENTS OF EL SALVADOR, RESUPPLY OF AMMUNITION, SPARE PARTS AND CONSUMABLES NEEDED FOR HEAVILY COMMITTED COMBAT TROOPS COULD TAKE PRIORITY OVER TRAINING AND HUMANITARIAN SERVICES SUCH AS MEDICAL EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES. DURING FY-83, AMMUNITION USAGE ALONE WAS $22.8M.

PROGRAM COMPONENTS SUCH AS IMPROVEMENT OF THE GROUND FORCE, TRAINING AND SUSTAINING SUPPORT ARE CURRENTLY FACED WITH REDUCED FUNDING. PROGRAMS WITHIN THESE COMPONENTS, SUCH AS PROVIDING IMPROVED COMMUNICAITON CAPABILITIES, WILL ALSO BE AFFECTED. THE QUICK REACTION CAPABILITY OF THE ESAF COULD BE REDUCED BY THE FAILURE TO DEVOTE SUFFICIENT FUNDING TO THE ACQUISITION OF HELICOPTERS, TROOP TRANSPORT AIRCRAFT AND VEHICLES. THESE FACTORS ARE OF CONSIDERABLE IMPORTANCE TO MAINTAINING COMMAND AND CONTROL OVER TROOPS IN THE FIELD, WITH IMPLICATTIONS FOR BOTH THE COUNTER-GUERRILLA EFFORT AND THE EFFORT TO CONTROL HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES.

C. CONTROL OF THE ARMED FORCES

-- INCIDENTS OF HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSE ATTRIBUTED TO THE -- ARMED FORCES

THE ARMED FORCES OF EL SALVADOR HAVE BEEN IN COMBAT WITH THE GUERRILLAS SINCE 1979. FROM THAT TIME TO THE PRESENT, THEY HAVE TRIPLED IN STRENGTH. THE ESAF NOW CONSISTS OF AN ARMY OF ABOUT 26,000; A NAVY OF 500 WHICH INCLUDES A NAVAL COMMANDO COMPANY; AND AN AIR FORCE OF

APPROXIMATELY 500 PERSONNEL. THE PUBLIC SECURITY FORCES (NATIONAL GUARD, NATIONAL POLICE AND TREASURY POLICE) ARE APPROXIMATELY 10,000 IN NUMBER. THE WAR BEING FOUGHT BY THE ARMED FORCES HAS BEEN BLOODY AND, AT TIMES, BRUTAL. CHARGES OF INDISCRIMINATE AND POLITICALLY MOTIVATED VIOLENCE HAVE BEEN LEVELED AGAINST THE ARMED FORCES.

SOME OF THESE CHARGES, SUCH AS WERE LEVELED AGAINST THE ATLACTL BATTALION IN A NOVEMBER 3 ACTION NEAR CINQUERA IN CABANAS DEPARTMENT, HAVE BEEN FOUND TO BE EXAGGERATED AND PERHAPS MISLEADING. IN THIS PARTICULAR CASE, AFTER THE ALLEGED MASSACRE WAS PUBLICIZED BY THE GUERRILLAS' RADIO VENCEREMOS, JOURNALISTS VISITED THE VILLAGE OF COPAPAYO, WHERE GOVERNMENT TROOPS WERE ACCUSED OF HERDING 20 CIVILIANS INTO A HOUSE AND THEN MURDERING THEM. ALTHOUGH THE TRUTH IS STILL FAR FROM CLEAR, THERE WAS APPARENTLY NO EVIDENCE OF GUNFIRE WITHIN THE HOUSE WHERE THE BODIES WERE FOUND, GIVING CREDIBILITY TO THE GOVERNMENT'S ACCOUNT OF A MAJOR MILITARY ENGAGEMENT -- NOT WHERE THE HOUSE WAS LOCATED BUT IN A NEARBY AREA.

INVESTIGATIONS ARE STILL UNDERWAY ON THE INCIDENTS AT LAS HOJAS (SEE SECTION III.B.3), WHERE THERE IS EVIDENCE THAT AN ARMY UNIT KILLED UNARMED CAMPESINOS. IN ZARAGOZA, LA LIBERTAD DEPARTMENT, THERE ARE INDICATIONS THAT THE LOCAL CIVIL DEFENSE FORCE MAY HAVE BEEN INVOLVED IN THE RECENT KIDNAPPING OF SEVEN MEN AND TWO WOMEN LATER FOUND DEAD IN A NEARBY RAVINE. THIS INCIDENT IS UNDER INVESTIGATION.

UNCLASSIFIED

WHAT IS EVIDENT, HOWEVER, IS THAT THE FREQUENCY OF SUCH

OCCURRENCES ATTRIBUTED TO THE ARMED FORCES HAS DECLINED. MINISTER OF DEFENSE VIDES CASANOVA SPOKE TO EL SALVADOR'S COMMAND AND GENERAL STAFF COLLEGE GRADUATES. IN HIS

SPEECH, HE MADE AN APPEAL FOR THEIR ASSISTANCE IN STRENGTHENING THE ARMED FORCES. HE HIGHLIGHTED SEVEN PROCLAMATIONS WHICH HAVE THE FIRM AND SOLID SUPPORT OF THE HIGH COMMAND. THESE PROCLAMATIONS INCLUDE SUPPORT FOR THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS; MAINTAINING OF THE ABSOLUTE APOLITICAL NATURE OF THE ARMED FORCES; AND SUSTAINING OF THE OBLIGATION OF ALL MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES TO PROFESS FULL RESPECT FOR THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE. THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE HAS ALSO ASKED KEY MEMBERS OF THE INVESTIGATIVE AND INTELLIGENCE STAFF SECTIONS THROUGHOUT THE ARMED FORCES AND SECURITY FORCES TO SEEK OUT ALL INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO DEVELOP PROOF ON ABUSES BY THE UNIFORMED SERVICES. THESE RECENT STATEMENTS ARE ALL ENCOURAGING. (FURTHER WORK REQUIRED TO FILL IN ANY FOLLOW-UP TO THE WORDS.)

-- ACCUSATIONS OF SECURITY FORCE INVOLVEMENT IN RIGHT WING TERRORISM ACTIVITY.

BEGINNING IN THE FALL OF 1983, THE VIOLENT RIGHT BECAME MORE ACTIVE, PERHAPS FEARING THAT THE NEW CONSTITUTION WOULD DEFINITIVELY LEGALIZE THE LAND REFORM AND CARRY FORWARD THE OTHER REFORMS BEGUN FOLLOWING THE 1979 COUP D'ETAT. DURING SEPTEMBER AND OCTOBER 1983, SEVERAL RIGHT WING DEATH SQUAD KIDNAPPINGS AND MURDERS TOOK PLACE. INCREASINGLY, INFORMATION BECAME KNOWN THAT SOME MEMBERS OF THE MILITARY COULD BE IMPLICATED IN THESE TERRORIST ACTIVITIES. AS PREVIOUSLY DISCUSSED, U.S. AND SALVADORAN OFFICIALS HAVE ROUNDLY CONDEMNED RIGHT-WING TERRORISM, AND THE MILITARY HIGH COMMAND AND HEADS OF ARMED AND SECURITY FORCE ORGANIZATIONS ROUNDLY ENDORSED THE PARTICULARLY STRONG WORDS OF THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE (APPENDICES ... AND ...), AND VISITS ARE BEING MADE TO MILITARY UNITS IN THE COUNTRYSIDE TO APPRAISE THEM OF THEIR COMMANDERS' VIEWS.

MORE IMPORTANTLY, SOME PRELIMINARY ACTIONS HAVE BEEN TAKEN. OFFICERS SUSPECTED OF INVOLVEMENT IN TERRORIST ACTIVITIES WERE REMOVED FROM THEIR POSITIONS. -THE NATIONAL POLICE ACTED ON 30 NOVEMBER TO ARREST, WITHIN 48 HOURS OF THE CRIME, THREE MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY PERSONNEL SECTION OF THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY CHARGED WITH KIDNAPPING AND HOLDING FOR RANSOM A PROMINENT SAN SALVADOR BUSINESSMAN. TWO OF THOSE ARRESTED WERE FORMER MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL POLICE AND NATIONAL GUARD RESPECTIVELY. (THIS SECTION WILL NEED FURTHER STRENGTHENING.)
IT IS (MAY BE) TOO EARLY TO ASSESS THE EXTENT TO WHICH THE STRONG WORDS OF SALVADORAN MILITARY LEADERS WILL RESULT IN STRONG ACTIONS. EVEN IF THE WILL IS THERE, THE TASK IS INEVITABLY COMPLICATED BY THE DIFFICULTY OF PROVING COMPLICITY OF INDIVIDUALS IN ABUSES AND TERRORIST ACTIVITY. THE SAME PROBLEMS PLAGUING THE LEGAL SYSTEM IN OTHER CASES INEVITABLY AFFECT CASES OF RIGHT WING TERRORISM. NEVERTHELESS, THE TREND BEGUN DURING THE END OF LAST YEAR IS A HEALTHY SIGN AND WILL HAVE THE ADMINISTRATION'S CLOSE ATTENTION.

D. REFUGEES AND DISPLACED PERSONS

THE POLITICAL STRIFE IN EL SALVADOR CONTINUES TO DISPLACE LARGE PORTIONS OF THE POPULATION. AN ESTIMATED 58,000-67,000 SALVADORANS HAVE TAKEN REFUGE OUTSIDE THEIR COUNTRY. THIS IS APPROXIMATELY 42 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL REFUGEE POPULATION IN THE REGION. OF THESE, 18-20,000 SALVADORANS HAVE CROSSED THE BORDER INTO HONDURAS; 10-12,000 ARE IN MEXICO; 15-18,000 ARE IN COSTA RICA, AND 15-17,000 ARE IN NICARAGUA.

AN ADDITIONAL 465,000 SALVADORANS, OR NEARLY TEN PERCENT OF THE POPULATION, ARE INTERNALLY DISPLACED. MOST OF THE DISPLACED PERSONS RESIDE WITH FRIENDS AND RELATIVES AWAY FROM AREAS OF CONFLICT. OTHERS HAVE BUILT TEMPORARY SETTLEMENTS ON UNOCCUPIED LAND THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. SOME LIVE IN SPECIAL CAMPS ADMINISTERED BY THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH OR OTHER ORGANIZATIONS. APPROXIMATELY SEVENTY FIVE PERCENT OF THE ESTIMATED DISPLACED POPULATION RECEIVES ASSISTANCE FROM THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR THROUGH ITS NATIONAL COMMISSION FOR DISPLACED PERSONS (CONADES). PRIVATE LOCAL AS WELL AS INTERNATIONAL CONTRIBUTORS ARE HELPING THESE DISPLACED. THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS (ICRC) ASSISTS DISPLACED PERSONS IN AREAS INACCESSIBLE TO OTHER RELIEF ORGANIZATIONS BECAUSE OF THE CONFLICT.

THE LIVING-CONDITIONS OF THE DISPLACED PERSONS VARY GREATLY, DEPENDING ON FACTORS SUCH AS THEIR WILLINGNESS TO REGISTER FOR ASSISTANCE WITH CONADES, THEIR ECONOMIC WELL-BEING PRIOR TO DISPLACEMENT, AND THE PUBLIC INFRASTRUCTURE IN THE AREA WHERE THEY HAVE SETTLED. SIMILARLY, INFRASTRUCTURE AND AVAILABLE MANAGEMENT HELP EXPLAIN SOME OF THE DIFFERENCES EVEN AMONG CAMPS RUN BY THE SAME GROUP. IN GENERAL, HOWEVER, THE LIVING CONDITIONS OF THE SALVADORAN DISPLACED PERSONS ARE CONSIDERED THE WORST OF ALL THE GROUPS UPROOTED BY THE CONFLICT IN CENTRAL AMERICA.

THE ADMINISTRATION, THROUGH THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE AND A.I.D., HAS BEEN WORKING TO IMPROVE CONDITIONS IN THE CAMPS. CONGRESS HAS EARMARKED $10 MILLION OF FY 1984 FUNDS FOR THE DISPLACED PERSONS OF EL SALVADOR. WORKING THROUGH THE UN WORLD FOOD PROGRAM, CONADES, AND INTERNATIONAL AND LOCAL PRIVATE VOLUNTARY ORGANIZATIONS, THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HAS PROVIDED SOME OF THE BASIC NECESSITIES FOR THE REFUGEE POPULATION WHICH IS REGISTERED WITH CONADES.

THE PRINCIPAL U.S. HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE EFFORT IS THE EMERGENCY HEALTH AND JOBS FOR DISPLACED PERSONS PROJECT OF A.I.D. AND THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE'S REFUGEE BUREAU. THIS PROJECT PROVIDES PREVENTATIVE HEALTH AND OTHER MEDICAL ASSISTANCE AND EMPLOYMENT IN PUBLIC WORKS PROJECTS. PL 480 COMMODITY ASSISTANCE PROVIDES BASIC FOODSTUFFS TO DISPLACED PERSONS, FOOD FOR WORK PROGRAMS, AND MATERNAL CHILD CARE PROGRAMS.

THE ULTIMATE GOAL OF ADMINISTRATION POLICY REMAINS THE

SPEEDY AND VOLUNTARY RETURN OF REFUGEES AND DISPLACED PERSONS TO THEIR HOMES. IN THIS RESPECT, EFFORTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR TOWARD DEMOCRATIZATION AND ENDING THE GUERRILLA THREAT ARE IMPORTANT REQUIREMENTS FOR ESTABLISHING A CLIMATE OF PEACE AND DEVELOPMENT IN THOSE AREAS FROM WHICH THE DISPLACED AND REFUGEES AND FLED.

IN THE SHORTER TERM, MUCH REMAINS TO BE DONE TO IMPROVE HEALTH FACILITIES, TO PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT, TO REACH THOSE PEOPLE WHO DO NOT CURRENTLY RECEIVE ADEQUATE ASSISTANCE, AND TO IMPROVE THE DELIVERY OF BASIC COMMODITIES TO DISPLACED PERSONS.

SPECIFIC INITIATIVES CURRENTLY BEEN PURSUED BY THE US ARE:

-- TO HELP DEVELOP EFFECTIVE PUBLIC HEALTH PROGRAMS IN THE AREAS WHERE DISPLACED PERSONS HAVE SETTLED,

-- TO ENCOURAGE COORDINATION AMONG THE 26 DIFFERENT

GROUPS PROVIDING ASSISTANCE TO DISPLACED SALVADORANS, AND

-- TO ENCOURAGE AN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION OR A PRIVATE NON-GOVERNMENT GROUP TO ASSUME THE ROLE OF

OVERALL COORDINATOR OF THE PROGRAMS FOR SALVADORAN DISPLACED PERSONS.

THE US GOVERNMENT WILL CONTINUE TO WORK THROUGH INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS SUCH AS THE UN AND THE ICRC, AND THROUGH PRIVATE VOLUNTARY ORGANIZATIONS TO AMELIORATE THE SITUATION OF REFUGEES AND DISPLACED PERSONS BY ADDRESSING THEIR OVER-ALL LIVING CONDITIONS.

VI. DIALOGUE

THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR HAS UNDERTAKEN A MAJOR INITIATIVE TO PROMOTE A PEACEFUL, DEMOCRATIC POLITICAL SOLUTION TO THE ARMED CONFLICT IN THAT COUNTRY. THE GOVERNMENT AND THE POLITICAL PARTIES OF WHICH IT IS COMPOSED AGREE THAT THE POLITICAL FUTURE OF EL SALVADOR SHOULD BE DETERMINED THROUGH DEMOCRATIC ELECTIONS IN WHICH THE ENTIRE POPULATION CAN EXPRESS ITS POLITICAL PREFERENCES. THEY ARE OPPOSED, HOWEVER, TO A DIVISION OF POLITICAL POWER ON THE BASIS OF A DEAL WITHOUT POPULAR ELECTIONS (I.E., THE GUERRILLAS' DEMAND FOR POWER-SHARING).

IN ORDER TO ESTABLISH FAIR CONDITIONS FOR DEMOCRATIC ELECTIONS, THE SALVADORAN PEACE COMMISSION (COMPOSED OF A PROMINENT BUSINESSMAN AND PARTY LEADER, A LEADING BISHOP, AND AN EX-FOREIGN MINISTER) WAS CREATED BY THE GOVERNMENT'S POLITICAL COMMISSION TO SERVE AS A VEHICLE FOR DIALOGUE WITH THE ARMED AND UNARMED ELEMENTS IN OPPOSITION TO THE GOVERNMENT. THE PEACE COMMISSION REPORTS DIRECTLY TO THE AUTHORITATIVE POLITICAL COMMISSION (A GROUP COMPOSED OF THE PRESIDENT, THREE VICE-PRESIDENTS, DEFENSE AND FOREIGN MINISTERS, AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE MAJOR PARTIES).

THE ADMINISTRATION FULLY SUPPORTS EL SALVADOR'S DETERMINATION TO ALLOW ITS POPULATION TO DECIDE ITS OWN POLITICAL FUTURE. TO THIS END, PRESIDENT REAGAN HAS CHARGED HIS SPECIAL ENVOY FOR CENTRAL AMERICAN NEGOTIATIONS, AMBASSADOR RICHARD B. STONE, WITH THE TASK OF SUPPORTING AND FACILITATING DIALOGUE BETWEEN THE SALVADORAN PEACE COMMISSION AND OPPOSITION ELEMENTS. AMBASSADOR STONE IS ALSO TASKED WITH CONSULTING WITH PARTICIPANTS IN THE CONTADORA PROCESS -- A REGIONAL DIPLOMATIC EFFORT DESIGNED TO ADVANCE PEACE, DEMOCRATIZATION AND ECONOMIC COOPERATION IN THE REGION.

A. INTERNAL DIALOGUE

ON JULY 9, 1983, PURSUANT TO A REQUEST OF THE SALVADORAN POLITICAL COMMISSION, AMBASSADOR STONE SOUGHT TO MEET IN SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GUERRILLA FMLN COALITION AND THE FDR POLITICAL COALITION WHICH HAS ALLIED ITSELF WITH THE GUERRILLAS. THE PURPOSE OF THE SAN JOSE CONTACT WAS TO FACILITATE A MEETING BETWEEN THE FMLN/FDR AND THE PEACE COMMISSION. THE STONE MEETING, HOWEVER, DID NOT TAKE PLACE BECAUSE OF UNACCEPTABLE PRE-CONDITIONS POSED BY THE FMLN/FDR FOR

WHAT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE A MEETING WITHOUT CONDITIONS.

ON JULY 3L, L983, AMBASSADOR STONE, WITH THE AUTHORIZATION OF THE SALVADORAN POLITICAL COMMISSION, HELD A PRELIMINARY CONTACT IN BOGOTA, COLOMBIA WITH A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE FMLN/FDR. AS A RESULT OF THIS MEETING, THE FMLN/FDR DROPPED ITS EARLIER PRE-CONDITIONS FOR A MORE FORMAL MEETING.

ACCORDINGLY, ON AUGUST 30, 1983, AMBASSADOR STONE MET WITH AN FMLN/FDR DELEGATION IN SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA TO DISCUSS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF DIRECT CONTACT BETWEEN THE FMLN/FDR AND THE PEACE COMMISSION. SIMULTANEOUSLY, ON AUGUST 29, L983, IN BOGOTA, COLOMBIA, THE PEACE COMMISSION HELD ITS FIRST PRELIMINARY CONTACT WITH THE FMLN/FDR TO WORK OUT PROCEDURES FOR A SUBSTANTIVE MEETING.

THE SUBSTANTIVE MEETING OF THE PEACE COMMISSION AND THE FMLN/FDR WAS HELD IN BOGOTA, COLOMBIA ON SEPTEMBER 20, L983. THE PEACE COMMISSION OFFERED TO BEGIN DISCUSSIONS WITH THE FMLN/FDR ON ALL RELEVANT ISSUES (SUCH AS CANDIDATES' SECURITY AND ACCESS TO MASS MEDIA) RELATED TO THE HOLDING OF DEMOCRATIC ELECTIONS. THE FMLN/FDR REJECTED THE OFFER AND RESPONDED WITH ITS VIEW THAT IT SHOULD BE GIVEN AN IMMEDIATE SHARE OF POLITICAL POWER. MOREOVER, IT DEMANDED THAT ITS GUERRILLA FIGHTERS BE INTEGRETATED INTACT INTO THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES WHILE RESERVING FOR ITSELF THE RIGHT TO PURGE AND REORGANIZE THE GOVERNMENT'S MILITARY. THE LEFTISTS' DEMANDS WERE CONSIDERED COMPLETELY UNACCEPTABLE AND ANTI-DEMOCRATIC BY THE GOVERNMENT.

WITH THE EXCEPTION OF INFORMAL COMMUNICATIONS, THERE HAVE BEEN NO FURTHER MEETING OF AMBASSADOR STONE OR THE PEACE COMMISSION WITH THE FMLN/FDR. THE SALVADORAN PEACE COMMISSION HAS INDICATED, HOWEVER, THAT IT IS READY TO RESUME DIALOGUE AS SOON AS THE FMLN/FDR ALTERS ITS CURRENT OPPOSITION TO DISCUSSION OF ELECTIONS AND THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS.

B. THE CONTADORA PROCESS

THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR HAS BEEN AN ACTIVE

PARTICIPANT IN THE CONTADORA PROCESS ALONG WITH ITS FOUR CENTRAL AMERICAN NEIGHBORS (INCLUDING NICARAGUA) AND THE CONTADORA GROUP (MEXICO, VENEZUELA, COLOMBIA, AND PANAMA). THE UNITED STATES HAS SUPPORTED SUCH PARTICIPATION, AND AMBASSADOR STONE HAS CONSULTED REPEATEDLY WITH THE SALVADORAN AND OTHER GOVERNMENTS ON DESIRABLE STEPS IN THE CONTADORA PROCESS. IN THESE CONSULTATIONS AND THE CONTADORA MINISTERIALS AND TECHNICAL GROUP MEETINGS, THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR HAS PRODUCED A NUMBER OF CONSTRUCTIVE SUGGESTIONS FOR FACILITATING PROGRESS.

THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR APPROVED THE DOCUMENT OF OBJECTIVES WHICH EMERGED FROM THE CONTADORA MINISTERIAL OF SEPTEMBER 7-10, L983. UNDER THE 21 POINTS INCLUDED IN THE DOCUMENT, THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT AND THE OTHER GOVERNMENTS OF CENTRAL AMERICA COMMIT THEMSELVES TO AGREE ON VERIFIABLE MEASURES TO END SUBVERSION OF ONE STATE BY ANOTHER, LIMIT ARMS AND FOREIGN ADVISORS, AND PROMOTE DEMOCRATIZATION AND NATIONAL RECONCILIATION.

CURRENTLY, THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR IS PARTICIPATING IN EFFORTS WITHIN THE CONTADORA PROCESS TO ELABORATE A TREATY OR TREATIES COMPREHENSIVELY IMPLEMENTING THE 2L OBJECTIVES. THE ADMINISTRATION HAS FULLY SUPPORTED, THROUGH THE STONE MISSION AND IN OTHER FORUMS, COMPREHENSIVE IMPLEMENTATIONM OF THE CONTADORA 2L OBJECTIVES ON A REGIONAL BASIS. THE ADMINISTRATION VIEWS SUCH A REGIONAL, COMPREHENSIVE, PEACEFUL SOLUTION AS THE BEST FORMULA FOR ENSURING LONG-TERM STABILITY IN THE AREA.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOLLOWED A DECEMBER 21 PRESS INTERVIEW BY LT.COL. HUMBERTO JULIO, UNDERSECRETARY FOR FOREIGN RELATIONS, IN WHICH HE MADE THE FOLLOWING COMMENTS ON THE LETELIER/ MOFFITT CIVIL SUIT

--JULIO SUGGESTED THAT LAN "SHOULD" POST THE FOUR MILLION

DOLLAR BOND FIXED BY THE JUDGE.

--HE DISCLAIMED ANY KNOWLEDGE OF WHAT ACTION LAN WOULD TAKE BUT NOTED THAT POSTING THE BOND WOULD PERMIT LAN TO APPEAL THE JUDGEMENT.

--JULIO WENT ON TO COMMENT THAT THE CASE WAS BEING HANDLED BY THE COUNCIL FOR THE DEFENSE OF THE STATE, A GOVERNMENT GROUP WHICH DEFENDS GOC INTERESTS BEFORE THE COURTS. (THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL SUBSEQUENTLY DENIED JULIO'S STATEMENT, SAYING THAT THE COUNCIL ACTED ONLY AS REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GOC IN CHILE AND DID NOT INVOLVE THEMSELVES IN PRIVATE CASES. ON DECEMBER 22, JULIO CLARIFIED HIS STATEMENT, SAYING THAT THE COUNCIL WAS NOT PART OF THE JUDICIAL PROCESS, AS LAN HAD ITS OWN LEGAL REPRESENTATIVES, BUT ADDED THAT THE COUNCIL "COULD OFFER ADVICE WHEN CONSULTED".)

--HE SAID THE CASE WOULD AFFECT US/CHILEAN RELATIONS ONLY WITH RESPECT TO OUR DIFFERING INTERPRETATIONS OF JUDICIAL IMMUNITY IN THIS CASE. HE THEN WENT ON TO REITERATE THE GOC POSITION THAT THE DOCTRINE OF SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY DID NOT ALLOW ONE GOVERNMENT TO BE BROUGHT BEFORE THE COURTS OF ANOTHER GOVERNMENT, ADDING THAT IT WAS ALSO UNCLEAR WHY LAN CHILE WAS BEING TREATED AS AN EXTENSION OF THE GOC, RATHER THAN AN AUTONOMOUS COMPANY.

GUATEMALA

Guatemala remained under a de facto military Government in 1983. On August 8, military officers ousted General Efrain Rios Montt, who had become President in March 1982, and General Oscar Humberto Mejia Victores, Minister of Defense, was designated Chief of State.

Serious human rights problems continued in Guatemala in 1983, but there were improvements in some important areas. Most importantly, reports of violence and political deaths, especially in the countryside, continued but registered a significant drop compared to levels in 1982. Also, in March the Rios Montt Government announced a 60-day amnesty for the guerrillas. The Rios Montt Government, however, maintained some restrictions on civil and political liberties, including freedoms of the press and association, and continued to operate the controversial special courts which had been established to try individuals charged with crimes against the state or public order.

After the new Government of General Mejia assumed power on August 8, it ended the state of emergency, under which political and civil liberties had been restricted, abolished the special courts, announced a 90-day amnesty on August 11, and then extended it in November for 60 more days. However, incidents of politically related disappearances increased somewhat after August, although they remain well below the 1980-1982 period.

The Rios Montt Government revised the law governing political parties and established a Supreme Electoral Tribunal to supervise Constituent Assembly elections in 1984 and subsequent national elections. Under the new law, 37 groups have formed committees which have begun pursuing the required procedures to register themselves formally as political parties on the ballot for the Constituent Assembly elections. The date for these elections was announced by Rios Montt as July 1, 1984, and was reconfirmed by General Mejia. A draft electoral law was issued in December 1983. The Mejia Government has also announced that it will hold national elections and transfer power to an elected civilian government in 1985 after the Constituent Assembly drafts a new constitution.

Both military governments in power during the year cooperated with human rights investigators.

Guatemala continued to suffer from a guerrilla conflict in which four distinct Marxist-Leninist guerrilla groups sought to overthrow the Government. Nevertheless, the Government made significant gains in reestablishing control over extensive areas where the guerrillas had been previously entrenched. For much of the year guerrillas were concentrated in the western highlands. The Government countered them in part by providing to rural Indian communities the alternative of limited amounts of food and shelter, along with work and security, rather than violent warfare, which association with the guerrilla groups entailed.

The military also established a Civil Defense patrol system that totaled an estimated 700,000 members and was still expanding in late 1983. This self-defense force assumed much of the burden for making local communities secure against attack, while at the same time patrolling to search for and engage guerrillas. The patrols themselves became targets of the guerrillas. Although service in Civil Defense patrols is voluntary, members were frequently pressured into joining. UN Special Rapporteur Lord Colville said in his November 1983 report that "where recruitment was needed and a man was reluctant, he was more likely to be shamed into joining by his community than compelled." There have been credible reports of incidents in which the patrols abused their authority and participated in illegal killings. However, Lord Colville concluded that these patrols generally functioned properly.

One Agency for International Development (AID) contract employee, two employees of the Ministry of Education, and the mother of one of the latter were killed following their detention by security forces in February. The Government failed to provide an accounting of these killings that was fully consistent with well-known facts.

Besides continuing their military operations in rural areas, the guerrillas also returned to urban terrorism in 1983. In September, for example, they exploded a powerful bomb in Guatemala City along a major thoroughfare, destroying a telephone facility. Overall, guerrilla activities have increased since the August 8 change in government.

Guatemala is primarily an agricultural country. Commercial and peasant agriculture together comprise the leading economic sector in terms of output, employment, and foreign exchange earnings. While the country has experienced substantial economic growth during the past 30 years, this growth has accentuated the contrast between the modern sector and the largely Indian rural population, which has experienced relatively little economic progress. Between these two groups there has existed traditional animosity which has resulted in violence.

RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

Section 1 Respect for the Integrity of the Person, Including Freedom from:

a. Unlawful or Arbitrary Deprivation of Life

Approximately 1,600 persons are believed to have been killed for political reasons in 1983, less than half the number of persons estimated to have been killed for these reasons in 1982. Of this total, approximately 500 were civilians while the other 1,100 were military and guerrilla casualties. Most of the deaths attributable to the Government were guerrillas killed by security forces in combat. It is not clear who was responsible for each of the estimated 500 civilian deaths, although some were persons clandestinely arrested and then killed by Guatemalan security forces. A few others were persons killed by members of the Civil Defense forces who charged that the victims were guerrilla supporters. Some of the civilian deaths were attributable to the guerrillas.

Reports of massacres and other atrocities continued. However, there was a dramatic decline in reports of violence and political deaths in the countryside, in sharp contrast to 1982 when there were many allegations of abuses against Guatemala's Indian population, some of which were confirmed. Most of the alleged incidents reported in 1983 occurred in isolated areas of the western highlands where Guatemalan Government forces continued to engage hostile guerrillas. Some reported incidents were investigated at the site and determined to have been exaggerated or false.

UN Special Rapporteur Lord Colville in his report said that some stories of massacres were "intentionally selective" and called one report a "total fabrication." He cited the widespread allegations that a massacre took place in the village of Parraxtut in Quiche on December 22, 1982. An onsite investigation by reliable foreign observers determined that no massacre had taken place. Lord Colville also concluded that the Civil Defense patrols generally functioned correctly and denied that there was a government genocide campaign directed at the Indian population.

There was another report in 1983 of the slaughter by the Guatemalan military of 100 peasants in Xoraxaj, Quiche. The first report of this alleged massacre was published by a Canadian human rights group. Later, a proguerrilla publication printed the same story. An onsite investigation by diplomatic officials proved the story to be false; no massacre had taken place. Indeed, the villagers stated that their major problem was roving guerrilla bands.

Nevertheless, Government security forces, including the Army, were responsible for an unspecified number of arbitrary deaths and disappearances in 1983. One notable case resulted from the detention of Patricio Ortiz Maldonado, a Guatemalan employee of an American company holding an AID contract for work with the Ministry of Education. He, two employees of the Ministry of Education, and the mother of one of the employees were detained on February 9 by a military patrol and, according to a press communique issued by the Ministry of Defense on March 8, were killed by rifle fire while attempting to escape down a river bank. The circumstances concerning this incident have never been clarified, and the explanations offered by the Government have been contradictory and not fully consistent with other aspects of the known record.

Three other apparently politically related killings in November received considerable attention. On October 7, Maria Julieta Esperanza Sanchez Castillo, a Ministry of Education employee, and her adult daughter, Piedad Esperanza Barrios Sanchez, were abducted by unidentified armed men. Jose Felipe Ralac Xiloj, an anthropologist/linguist working on a project to improve bilingual primary education, disappeared on or about October 18 together with his wife, Celia Chet de Ralac. On November 11 the bodies of Sanchez Castillo and Ralac were found in a burned-out automobile and that of Barrios Sanchez next to the car. The whereabouts of Celia Chet de Ralac is unknown. Although the Guatemalan Government has maintained that the three persons died in an automobile accident after a trip to Mexico, there are major discrepancies in this explanation which raise serious questions as to the possible involvement of members of the Guatemalan security forces in these deaths.

There were four self-proclaimed Marxist-Leninist guerrilla groups operating in Guatemala during 1983 dedicated to the violent overthrow of the government. These groups are the Revolutionary Organization of the People in Arms, the Guerrilla Army of the Poor, the Rebel Armed Forces, and the Guatemalan Communist Party. The four groups are nominally under an umbrella command, the Guatemalan National Revolutionary Union.

Many of the victims of the guerrilla violence were members of the Government security forces, but the guerrillas continued killing municipal workers, farm owners and managers, and other civilians. In September in several towns in the department of Quiche, guerrilla ambushes of military vehicles killed civilian bystanders. In May, villagers near the Mexican border in Agua Zarca, Huehuetenango, fought off a band of guerrillas; four villagers were killed. Villagers near Xeabaj, Quiche, also reported in April that guerrillas had killed 13 people in and around the small farms near their village.

Killings were also committed by some of the 700,000 members of the Civil Defense patrols, sometimes in clashes between neighboring patrols or between Civil Defense members and civilians over land disputes and personal vendettas. In one case, a Civil Defense patrol killed 25 men between May and August near Chichicastenango, El Quiche, allegedly because the victims had had connections with the guerrillas. There were also reported incidents where military personnel turned over guerrillas or suspected guerrillas to Civil Defense patrols for summary punishment.

There is no evidence that the Government has punished members of the security forces for arbitrary killings. However, it has tried to increase awareness of human rights among the military. The military academy, for instance, has integrated human rights concerns into its curriculum.

Often it is not clear who was responsible for some of the deaths that occurred in 1983. The guerrillas and the army on occasion used the same weapons, tactics, and uniforms in an effort to place blame on the other. Bodies also frequently appeared with no evidence of who was responsible for the murders or whether there were any political motives.

b. Disappearances

During the year more than 300 people disappeared. The majority of them have not reappeared and are presumed dead.

After the Government of Rios Montt assumed power in March 1982, it disbanded several groups which had reportedly been responsible for disappearances during the previous regime of General Lucas Garcia. After General Mejia came to power in August 1983, there was an initial increase in the number of disappearances, but this trend reversed itself at the end of the year. These kidnappings were carried out by Guatemalan security forces, the guerrillas, private gangs demanding ransom, or narcotics traffickers. The security forces have for a long time taken suspects for questioning about subversive activities, while officially denying that they have done so. They have usually also denied knowledge of the whereabouts of the disappeared persons when family or friends inquired about them. People sometimes have disappeared either temporarily or permanently after business, family, or neighborhood rivals accused them of being subversives. In some instances, suspects have reappeared after they convinced their abductors that they had no connections with the guerrillas.

Many of the most notable disappearances occurred at the National University of San Carlos. University officials charged that 45 persons disappeared between September 1982 and the overthrow of President Rios Montt in August 1983. Eight of these subsequently reappeared. The fate of the rest is unknown. University leaders charged that at least eight more victims disappeared after the August change in government. Some of these disappearances were widely attributed to Government security forces acting against suspected leftist sympathizers or their supporters.

In 1983, the guerrillas abducted prominent businessmen, farmers and farm managers, a newspaper publisher, and the sisters of former President Rios Montt and of current Chief of State Mejia. One of the businessmen was killed by his captors, purportedly members of the outlawed Guatemalan Communist Party, after security forces discovered the house where he was being held. Another young businessman was killed by his captors in August after his ransom was not paid immediately.

In August 1983, the Acting Archbishop of Guatemala announced that Spanish priest Carlos Perez Alonso had been captured, killed, and buried in 1981. This announcement was intended to end speculation that the Spanish priest was still alive. The Church conducted its own investigation and said that Perez Alonso had been "another victim of the 1979-81 period during which 12 priests, including foreigners, were killed."

c. Torture and Cruel, Inhuman, or Degrading Treatment or Punishment

Although Guatemalan civil and criminal codes expressly prohibit physical or mental torture, torture continues. The Guatemalan press has reported the discovery of bodies showing evidence of such treatment. In only a few cases has the identity of the perpetrators been established, but it appears that torture is employed by many groups, including Guatemalan security forces.

The Statute of Government, which guarantees individual rights, provides for the punishment of public officials or employees who engage in torture. Under the Government of General Rios Montt (March 1982-August 1983), military orders were issued that officers would be prosecuted if they practiced or condoned torture or degrading punishment. No one was ever prosecuted, however.

There are also reliable reports that guerrilla groups resorted to torture and harsh treatment to prevent peasants from cooperating with the Government.

The main prison, Granja Pavon, near Guatemala City was designed to house 700 prisoners but currently contains about 2,100. In October prisoners went on hunger strikes, complaining mainly about the lack of decent food and overcrowding. There was no policy of physical punishment of prisoners at Pavon or the other prisons. The treatment individual prisoners receive is based on their behavior, the crimes of which they were convicted, and whether they have money to buy extra food and incidentals.

d. Arbitrary Arrest, Detention, or Exile

During 1983 the security forces were responsible for the arbitrary arrest of a number of persons for alleged involvement with leftist forces. The Statute of Government provides protection against arbitrary arrest or detention and provides that a person can only be detained on the basis of a warrant issued by a judge. During most of 1983, however, these rights were suspended in security cases under the provisions of a state of siege and later of a state of emergency. After General Mejia came to power in [illegible] August, he lifted the state of emergency, abolished the special courts, and reinstated due process of law. Nevertheless, [illegible] security forces continued to detain suspected subversives without warrants and to hold them for interrogation [illegible]

e. Denial of Fair Public Trial

Guatemala's civil court system is headed and administered by the country's Supreme Court of nine members. Since the March 1982 coup, the justices of the Supreme Court have been named by the [illegible] state. In general practice, however, the independence of the civil judiciary has been respected. [illegible]

Persons arrested have the right to legal counsel at all hearings, and lawyers are provided by the state if defendants cannot afford them. In practice, however, since the overwhelming majority of the country's lawyers reside in or near the capital city, it is difficult to retain legal counsel in the countryside.

Defendants in some cases may be released after posting bail. Magistrates are charged with determining the guilt or innocence of the accused and, in addition to hearing from government prosecutors and private parties, may undertake their own investigations toward this end.

The system of special courts established in July 1982 was abolished on September 1, 1983. Since proceedings in these courts were secret, there was widespread concern about the possible absence of due process. The courts were established principally because the Government believed that judges and their families were frequently threatened, thereby making it difficult to hold fair public trials for subversives or prominent criminals.

In March 1983 eleven persons were executed by the Rios Montt regime after being convicted by the special courts. The Inter-American Human Rights Commission denounced the executions, as did many Guatemalan lawyers who were troubled by the apparent absence of due process.

f. Arbitrary Interference with Privacy, Family, Home, or Correspondence

Although the state of siege imposed in July 1982 was lifted in March 1983, a state of emergency was decreed in June. Under this decree the Government could restrict movement within the country, examine correspondence and private documents, and enter private residences without search warrants. Chief of State General Mejia lifted the state of emergency in August.

Government roadblocks were set up periodically along highways to check documents of travelers and carry out vehicle searches for kidnapped persons. Security forces have searched neighborhoods and entered homes without warrants looking for guerrilla safehouses or arms caches. Mail was randomly opened and examined even after the state of emergency was lifted.

There is no organized system of Government neighborhood informers. Guerrilla groups killed a number of persons, however, whom they accused of being government informers.

Section 2 Respect for Civil Rights, Including:

a. Freedom of Speech and Press

Under the Mejia Government, freedom of press and speech was not abridged by legal restrictions, and criticism of the Government did occur. The press was free to report on events and editorialize, although in practice a certain measure of self-restraint and self-censorship did limit the exercise of this freedom. Under the state of siege (June 1982 to March 1983) and subsequently under the state of emergency (June 1983 to August 1983), the Government enjoined the media from reporting on political news or guerrilla activities and from commenting on domestic politics.

Despite the restrictions during the Rios Montt Government, criticism of the Government was expressed and opposition views were published. Since General Mejia assumed power, the media has regularly published opposition views and has focused on the need for guarantees for freedom of the press. The media, however, has generally refrained from editorial criticism of government policies.

There was some violence against journalists during the year. Prensa Libre publisher Pedro Julio Garcia was kidnaped by the Guatemalan Communist Party on October 8. The kidnapers demanded the publication in the Guatemalan media of a party manifesto as one of the conditions for his release. The manifesto's publication on October 13 was in violation, however, of a 1963 law prohibiting the publication of subversive materials. To avoid a confrontation with the press, the Government repealed some articles of the law. Garcia was freed on October 22 after the kidnapers' demands had been met.

Morales Mull, owner of Radio Fraternidad, a station in Quezaltenango, his son, and an employee, were murdered in May 1983. Morales Mull, a Christian Democrat, had refused several times to broadcast propaganda materials of both the extreme left and right.

The Guatemalan Government operates one television station and two radio stations. There are four privately owned television stations in the country and two independent television news programs which buy space on two of these stations. The privately owned radio stations also carry some independent news programs. In addition, six major daily newspapers are published in the capital, and the Government also publishes a daily which contains news items and official announcements and decrees.

There are three major private universities and a fourth small one, in addition to the National San Carlos University.

San Carlos, with a student body of over 40,000, is autonomous. Persons associated with the University of San Carlos continued to be victims of disappearances and killings in 1983.

There is no censorship of either local or foreign books.

b. Freedom of Peaceful Assembly and Association

The Statute of Government, issued in April 1982, restored the rights of petition, assembly, and political association. However, under the state of siege, in effect from July 1982 to March 1983, the rights of peaceful assembly and association were banned. The Government also had the authority to suspend the functioning of any group whose actions were deemed contrary to public order and security. The state of emergency declared in June 1983 again prohibited the publication of "politically-related news, manifestos, or declarations." It also suspended various provisions of the Statute including those dealing with freedom of travel, trade union activity, political activity, habeas corpus, and the right to petition the government. General Mejia lifted the state of emergency in August 1983, thus reinstating the freedoms which had previously been restored in the April 1982 Statute of Government.

Officially, no political parties operated legally in Guatemala in 1983, but 37 groups have registered and begun meeting the requirements of the electoral law. With the ending of the state of emergency, restrictions on political activity were also removed. Political activity in areas of continuing guerrilla operations was considered by the groups to be dangerous, however.

Only 10 to 15 percent of the Guatemalan labor force has ever been organized. According to government statistics compiled in May 1983, 645 unions were legally inscribed, but only 327 were active. The remainder were inactive because of the repression against left-wing unions by the Lucas Garcia Government prior to 1982 and also because of the declining economy.

Trade union organizations run the gamut from the communist Autonomous Labor Union Federation of Guatemala (FASGUA) to the democratic Confederation of Trade Union Unity of Guatemala (CUSG) organized in May 1983 and legalized in November. The Confederation is composed of 11 federations (urban and rural) with 275 locals and approximately 100,000 members.

In a September 22 press communique, FASGUA asserted that the disappearance and murder of two of its leaders in December 1982 illustrated that the Guatemalan government did not permit "freedom of association." Four trade union leaders connected with extreme leftist unions have disappeared since December 1982. Some of these disappearances have been brought to the attention of international labor organizations and are currently under investigation.

The Statute of Government recognizes the right to strike in conformance with the labor code but only after negotiations and conciliation procedures have failed. These procedures make it difficult for a legal strike ever to take place. Moreover, the Government restricted normal trade union activities under the state of siege and the state of emergency. During that time, however, a decree law permitted the executive boards of legally inscribed unions to remain in office and to negotiate collective bargaining agreements with employers.

Trade unions and professional associations are free to maintain relations with international bodies. Guatemalan trade union confederations have been affiliated with the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions (ICFTU) and the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU), as well as with the Latin American Labor Confederation and the regional organizations of the ICFTU and WFTU.

There are numerous professional and trade associations in Guatemala. Trade associations representing agro-industry, commerce, and industry have great political influence. There were no reports in 1983 of intimidation or persecution of any professional groups.

c. Freedom of Religion

The Statute of Government recognizes the individual's right to freedom of conscience and to the free exercise of religion. These rights are respected in practice. The Statute of Government also grants legal recognition to all denominations.

At least 75 percent of the population adhere to the Roman Catholic faith. Many Indians, however, practice a religion which combines Roman Catholic tenets with elements of the traditional Mayan religion. Evangelical churches have grown rapidly, especially among Indians, and their followers number about 20 percent of the population. In addition, there is a small Jewish community.

On November 7 unknown assailants murdered a Franciscan priest, Father Augusto Rafael Ramirez Monasterio, the first time a priest had been killed since the Lucas regime was overthrown in 1982. Although some officials of the Catholic Church condemned the Government as responsible for the crime, no evidence came to light to substantiate this belief, and the Government denied involvement. There were no reliable reports that any clergy have been threatened since the death of Father Ramirez. However, on December 12, a Catholic seminarian was shot and killed by a Civil Defense patrol in Huehuetenango when he failed to heed a warning to stop. In late December an American priest in the Peten area was briefly detained by the Army, questioned, and released unharmed into the custody of the Church. In addition, on December 18 two evangelical pastors were kidnaped in the Peten area after preaching to a youth convention held in an area of intense guerrilla activity. They have not been heard from since, and no evidence has come to light regarding the identity of the perpetrators.

Rios Montt was Guatemala's first evangelical president, and some of his closest advisors were also evangelicals. In 1983 many leaders in the Roman Catholic Church began to complain that Protestants received preferential treatment from the Rios Montt Government. There were also allegations that many rural residents were being pressured to join, or to identify with, Protestant churches in their area as proof that they opposed the guerrillas. One of the principal reasons the military gave for its August 1983 coup was that "a religious, fanatical, and aggressive group, taking advantage of the positions of power held by its highest members, has used and abused the means of government for its own benefit, ignoring the essential principle of separation of church and state." Evangelicals denied this.

In testimony before the Inter-American Human Rights Commission, Roman Catholic officials charged that, under Rios Montt, immigration officials had blocked visas and work permits for Catholic religious workers from abroad. In addition, Roman Catholic Church authorities said that under Rios Montt the army had burned, or appropriated and occupied, many of its churches --especially in El Quiche. Roman Catholic bishops also complained that many military commanders in the areas of fighting had granted permits for religious gatherings to Protestant evangelists but not to Roman Catholic missionaries.

After the August 8 change in government, there were some Protestant complaints of harrassment by the authorities. Evangelicals charged that immigration officials were now blocking the entry of foreigners from their churches. Some Protestant churches claimed that their ministers and followers had been subject to intimidation by the National Police. Subsequently, the National Police declared that instructions had been sent to police chiefs throughout Guatemala ordering them not to interfere with any leaders of evangelical sects.

While religious tensions between Roman Catholics and evangelicals increased in 1983, there does not appear to have been a deliberate pattern of discrimination against the Roman Catholic Church by the Rios Montt Government or against the evangelicals by the Mejia Government. Foreign Roman Catholic clergy and religious workers continued their work and travels within the country under the Rios Montt Government, and foreign evangelical clergy remained in Guatemala and continued their missionary work after General Mejia came to power. Scattered petty acts by minor officials against both Roman Catholic and evangelical clergy under the two governments have not hindered the free exercise of religion.

d. Freedom of Movement Within the Country, Foreign Travel, Emigration, and Repatriation

After declining in 1982 and the first half of 1983, guerrilla activity increased after the August change of military leaders. As a consequence, travel was not totally safe in all parts of such departments as Huehuetenango, San Marcos, Quiche, Alta and Baja Verapaz, Solola, and Chimaltenango. Usually military patrols were the targets, but buses and cars were also stopped and the occupants robbed.

There were no restrictions imposed by the Government on foreign travel.

Guatemalan Indians from areas of conflict continued to move back and forth across the Mexican border. The United Nations High Commission for Refugees (UNHCR) has estimated that there are approximately 35,000 displaced persons in Mexican camps. Others have claimed that there are hundreds of thousands, while the Guatemalan Red Cross, whose representatives toured the camps in Mexico, has estimated that there were only about 13,000. A much smaller number of displaced persons was in Honduras. The Guatemalan Government's policy was to encourage the voluntary return of all refugees and to assist in their resettlement in their villages of origin, to the extent that it was safe to do so. The Government has publicly offered to cooperate with the UNHCR in effecting repatriation from Mexico. UN Special Rapporteur Lord Colville said in his November 1983 report on Guatemala that he believed that there was continuing contact with Guatemalan guerrillas and Guatemalan refugees now living in Mexican camps near the border. There have also been some reports that Guatemalan troops have crossed the border to enter these camps.

In May, a relief organization associated with the Catholic Church estimated that there were 300,000 displaced persons within Guatemala. Although estimates vary widely, the best estimates place the number of displaced persons between 300,000 and 400,000.

Some persons, including professionals and members of the clergy, who had lived in voluntary exile before the Rios Montt Government took office in 1982, returned to the country in 1983. It was charged that one labor activist who returned subsequently disappeared. Normal immigration continued, and exiles from other Central American countries were granted asylum in Guatemala.

Section 3 Respect for Political Rights: The Right of Citizens to Change Their Government

In 1983 Guatemala continued to be ruled by a de facto military-controlled government. General Rios Montt ruled with the support of the group of junior officers who had started the March 1982 coup. Following the August 1983 military coup, General Mejia assumed the title of Chief of State, rather than that of President, and retained his position as Minister of Defense. Both civilians and military officers occupy ministerial posts in the Government, but the real basis of power is the Military Commanders Council.

One of the main reasons Rios Montt was ousted was that members of the military reportedly believed that he was not committed to a date for a return to constitutional government. Rios Montt had set July 1, 1984, as the date for a Constituent Assembly election, but had not announced a timetable for the steps leading to an elected government and had not provided the budget resources necessary to finance the process. His Government did, however, issue a new political parties law, and it permitted the resumption of political organizational activities.

General Mejia announced to the political groups on assuming office that the Government would honor the previously agreed dates of July 1, 1984, for holding Constituent Assembly elections, and September 15, 1984, for installing the new body. His actions since then point toward the carrying out of this pledge. The Constituent Assembly will be charged with drafting a new constitution but will not be empowered to act as a legislature or elect a provisional president. The current de facto military regime will continue governing the country until an elected government takes office. The Mejia Government promised that national elections for President and Congress will take place in 1985, although the Constituent Assembly is to set the exact election schedule.

The election process will be administered by a Supreme Electoral Tribunal, established in March 1983. Over 600,000 Guatemalans out of an estimated voting population of 3 million had registered to vote by December.

Section 4. Governmental Attitude Regarding International and Non-governmental Investigation of Alleged Violations of Human Rights

Throughout the year the Government of Guatemala permitted human rights groups to visit Guatemala to investigate the human rights situation. Government officials facilitated these visits by meeting with the representatives and allowing them to tour Guatemala without hindrance.

During 1983, such visitors included delegations from the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee, the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, the European Parliament, the National Conference of Catholic Bishops of the United States, Lutheran bishops, the American Anthropological Association, and Americas Watch. In September, the Guatemalan Vice Minister of Foreign Relations traveled to Europe and met with a chapter of Amnesty International in Belgium.

The Government facilitated the visits of the United Nations Human Rights Commission Special Rapporteur on Guatemala, Viscount Colville of Culross, in June and November 1983. Lord Colville met with both government officials and numerous private citizens and visited rural areas to prepare a report on the human rights situation in Guatemala.

In this report, which was transmitted to the United Nations General Assembly in November, Lord Colville specifically cited the cooperation and assistance given him by the Guatemalan Government. Lord Colville asserted that some allegations of massacres were without any foundation and noted that efforts were made by the Guatemalan military to curb and correct abusive behavior. The report pointed out that the Guatemalan Government had introduced a "credible program" to improve civil, political, and human rights, and that the Mejia Government had "indicated an intention to continue on this path." The report concluded that "in 1983 there has been a marked improvement" in the human rights situation, while recognizing that "the fundamental right to life has unquestionably been violated, even since March 1982, in circumstances where confrontation in the civil war cannot provide an excuse." The Special Rapporteur's report recommended that the "international community look with benevolence" on the Government's plans and projects as they affect human rights and "recognise the signs of a sincere intention to fulfill them."

In October 1983, the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights published the results of its September 1982 investigation in Guatemala. Its major conclusions were that the Government of Guatemala had done nothing to prosecute those responsible for illegal executions prior to March 23, 1982; that fewer lives were lost under Rios Montt than under previous governments; and that the special courts condemned 15 men to death for crimes that did not justify the imposition of capital punishment. The Commission also stated that the guerrillas were responsible for many acts of violence in rural areas and that government security forces also shared responsibility for such incidents. The Commission said that habeas corpus was not respected by the Government and that arbitrary detentions continued to occur at the hands of security forces. The report charged the government with conducting a campaign of torture, not only of individuals detained arbitrarily, but also of peasants suspected of collaboration with the guerrillas in rural areas. The report also discussed the plight of the thousands of displaced persons who had fled Guatemala and those within the country.

In 1982, the International Labor Organization (ILO) Conference Committee on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations removed Guatemala from a special citation reserved for countries that fail to comply with a ratified convention, in this case, Convention 87 on "Freedom of Association." Guatemala had been so cited for a number of years. In 1983, the Committee noted that, while Guatemala continued to make progress in its compliance with ILO conventions on organized labor, the ILO still had reservations. It did note, however, that Guatemala had removed the prohibition on the reelection of trade union leaders.

At present, the ILO is investigating three complaints against Guatemala, all concerning the recent disappearances of trade union leaders.

Freedom House in its 1983 report described Guatemala as "not free". In its 1983 report Amnesty International expressed concern that in 1982 there were widespread extrajudicial executions, arrests often without warrants, disappearances, and torture. Amnesty International concluded that official security units, sometimes in plain clothes, were responsible for the vast majority of abuses.

ECONOMIC, SOCIAL, AND CULTURAL SITUATION

While a few Guatemalans enjoy a high standard of living, the majority of the population of 7.8 million (mid-1983) lives in rural areas where peasant agriculture, seasonal agricultural labor, and cottage industry provide little more than basic necessities. The economic growth under a free enterprise economic system that raised the Gross National Product per capita to $1,141 in 1981, combined with the rapid population growth rate of 3.1 percent in 1983, has increased the gap between the modern and traditional sectors of Guatemalan society. The contrast involves race, language, and culture, as well as income. Employment dropped sharply from 1981 to 1983, and official figures stated that unemployment and under-employment were above 40 percent in 1983.

In 1977 the calorie supply available for consumption was 92.2 percent of nutritional requirements. Health services and sanitation are generally poor in rural areas. Despite considerable public investment in potable water projects, medical centers, and clinics, many in rural areas still do not have access to these services. In 1976, 40 percent of the total population, but only 14 percent of those in rural areas, had access to safe drinking water. The infant mortality rate was 62 per 1,000 live births in 1983, and the life expectancy at birth was 58.9 years in 1981.

The adult literacy rate may have increased from the figure of 44.1 percent in 1973, but primary school enrollment in 1980 was still only 69 percent. Literacy is a particularly great problem in Guatemala because half the population are Indians who learn Spanish as a second language. The Government has initiated a bilingual education program to address the educational needs of the Indian populace and to attack the literacy problem.

For the most part, the Government has not interfered with the Indian culture. While population growth, economic development, and other pressures are causing a steady drift away from the traditional Indian society, the incorporation of the rural Indian population into the political, economic, and social mainstream of the modern sector remains a difficult and slow process. This situation is made more difficult by the long-standing, traditional animosities which separate the Indians and the Ladinos, who are at least partly of European descent.

Guatemala is a Latin society in which most women play the traditional roles of mother, household manager, and income provider in rural areas. There is no discrimination against women by law although de facto discrimination is rooted in centuries of cultural practice.

Only 14 percent of women in Guatemala are considered to be employed in non-traditional labor markets. The vast majority of these work in the service sector as maids, cooks, or laundry women. In general, women occupy the lowest paying unskilled jobs. According to a 1978 study, women earn an average of 44 percent less than do men working in comparable positions.

The majority of Guatemalan women live in rural areas where they engage in cottage industries such as textile weaving, sell handicrafts and agricultural produce, garden and raise animals, and do agricultural field work. Their dominance in the textile industry has led one woman to be chosen secretary general of the National Federation of Textile Workers.

It is estimated that one quarter of the students enrolled in Guatemalan universities are women. They generally study psychology, law, teaching, or nursing and go on to careers as health workers, teachers, or office workers. The number of women occupying professional and managerial positions is very small.

Some women university graduates have risen to high positions. General Mejia appointed Isabel Tejada de Putzeys as Minister of Education, making her Guatemala's first woman cabinet minister. A woman also serves in the dual role as a member of Guatemala's Supreme Court and as Dean of the Law Faculty at Francisco Marroquin University, and other women serve as judges of lower courts, principally in the area of family law. The Council of State, an appointed national consultative body created by former President Rios Montt and abolished by Chief of State Mejia, included representatives of Guatemalan women's organizations and of the Indian population.

The participation of women in politics has been limited. In 1976, for example, it is estimated that only 16 percent of the eligible women voted. In the last 35 years, only three women have been elected to the National Congress, and women have not played major roles in the country's political parties.

In 1973 it was estimated that 55 percent of all women in the country were illiterate, but this figure was 78 percent in rural areas. Over half the female population of Guatemala has not been educated and 94 percent of the women residing in rural areas had less than three years of schooling in 1978.

EO 12356 : DECL: 1/6/90
TAGS : OREP, PGOV, PREL, NU, CU, ES
SUBJ : SENATOR KASTEN'S MEETING WITH COMANDANTE BORGE

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~-ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: INTERIOR MINISTER BORGE TOLD SENATOR KASTEN THAT ALTHOUGH THE FSLN FAVORED THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS, IT DID NOT BELIEVE THEY COULD WIN IN THE NEAR TERM. THE GRN THEREFORE ADVOCATED A NEGOTIATED SOLUTION AND WAS WILLING TO HAVE A CONTROL MECHANISM ESTABLISHED UNDER THE CONTADORA PROCESS WHICH COULD VERIFY THAT THE GRN WAS NOT TRAFFICKING IN ARMS. BORGE SAID NO SALVADORAN GUERRILLA LEADERS WERE PRESENTLY IN NICARAGUA. HE ALSO SAID 1,200 OF THE 2,000 CUBAN TEACHERS HAD BEEN WITHDRAWN PERMANENTLY. NICARAGUA NEEDED ITS 200 CUBAN MILITARY ADVISERS, BUT WAS WILLING TO SEE THEM LEAVE AS PART OF A COMPREHENSIVE REGIONAL SETTLEMENT. HE INSISTED NICARAGUA DID NOT POSE A THREAT TO ITS NEIGHBORS, AND SHOULD IT ATTACK THEM, IT WOULD PROVOKE IMMEDIATE U.S. INTERVENTION. BORGE INSISTED THAT CUBA AND THE SOVIET UNION DID NOT DICTATE NICARAGUA'S POLICIES, BUT HE ADDED THAT THEY TOO DESIRED A POLITICAL SETTLEMENT IN CENTRAL AMERICA. BORGE SAID THAT ELECTIONS WOULD TAKE PLACE IN ABOUT ONE YEAR

BIGGEST PROBLEM WAS MAKING PLURALISM WORK WHEN THE OPPOSITON PARTIES WERE SO WEAK. END SUMMARY.

3. ON JANUARY 3, SENATOR ROBERT KASTEN, ACCOMPANIED BY SENATE STAFF MEMBER JAMES BOND, CAPTAIN HENRY DAVIS, AND THE AMBASSADOR, CALLED ON INTERIOR MINISTER TOMAS BORGE. IN THE PRESENCE OF THE PRESS, BORGE WELCOMED THE SENATOR AND EXPRESSED HIS HOPE THAT THE VISIT WOULD ALLOW HIM TO SEE THE REALITY OF THE NICARAGUAN REVOLUTION. HE ASSERTED THAT NICARAGUA DESIRED PEACE BUT WAS DETERMINED TO DEFEND ITSELF. HE NOTED THAT DESPITE THE POLICIES OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT, THE NICARAGUAN PEOPLE RESPECTED THE AMERICAN PEOPLE. BORGE STATED THAT NICARAGUA WANTED TO ESTABLISH A RELATIONSHIP OF MUTUAL RESPECT WITH THE USG. HE INSISTED THAT IT WAS NOT TOO LATE TO ACHIEVE THIS; THE SITUATION WAS NOT IRREVERSIBLE, AND A WAY COULD BE FOUND TO COEXIST.

4. KASTEN TOLD BORGE THAT HIS STATE OF WISCONSIN HAD LONG ENJOYED A SPECIAL RELATIONSHIP WITH NICARAGUA THROUGH THE PARTNERS OF THE AMERICAS PROGRAM. THE PEOPLE OF WISCONSIN HAD SPONSORED A VARIETY OF PROJECTS SUCH AS ARADIO STATION ON THE ATLANTIC COAST, A SEAMSTRESS SHOP, AND PROVISION OF MEDICINES. BORGE REPLIED THAT HOPEFULLY SOMEDAY ALL THE U.S. WOULD BE SUCH GOOD FRIENDS WITH NICARAGUA. KASTEN THEN NOTED THAT THESE PROGRAMS DID NOT MEAN THAT EVERYONE IN HIS STATE SUPPORTED THE WAY IN WHICH THE REVOLUTION WAS DEVELOPING. BORGE COMMENTED THAT NEIGHBORS CAN DISAGREE, BUT THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THEY NOT RESORT TO VIOLENCE TO SETTLE THEIR DISPUTES, ESPECIALLY IF ONE WERE FAR LARGER THAN THE OTHER. AT THIS POINT, BORGE'S AIDES USHERED OUT THE PRESS.

5. KASTEN EXPLAINED THAT HE WAS ON A FACT-FINDING MISSION.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

AS CHAIRMAN OF THE FOREIGN OPERATIONS APPROPRIATIONS SUB-COMMITTEE, HE WAS HEAVILY INVOLVED WITH U.S. EXPENDITURES IN CENTRAL AMERICA. HE ANTICIPATED THAT AID TO THE AREA WOULD EXPAND SIGNIFICANTLY, PARTICULARLY IN VIEW OF THE EXPECTED RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE KISSINGER COMMISSION. THEREFORE, KASTEN SAID, HE HAD UNDERTAKEN THIS TRIP TO LEARN ABOUT THE REGION. ONE AREA OF PARTICULAR CONCERN WAS NICARAGUA'S RELATIONSHIPS WITH THE SALVADORAN INSURGENTS. KASTEN HAD HEARD REPORTS THAT THE SANDINISTAS WERE CUTTING BACK ON THEIR CONTACTS WITH THE GUERRILLAS AND THAT THE POLITICA

LEADERS OF THE FDR/FMLN HAD LEFT NICARAGUA. HE ASKED IF THIS DISTANCING WOULD CONTINUE AND IF THE GUERRILLA COMMAND AND CONTROL CENTER IN NICARAGUA WOULD BE CLOSED. BORGE REPLIED THAT IT WAS IMPERIATIVE TO BE SERIOUS AND RESPONSIBLE. THE SANDINISTAS FAVORED THE GUERRILLAS, HE READILY ACKNOWLEDGED, AND WOULD WELCOME THEIR VICTORY. HOWEVER, THE FSLN JUDGED THAT SUCH VICTORY WAS NOT IN THE OFFING. THUS, THE ONLY SOLUTION TO THE CONFLICT IN EL SALVADOR WAS A NEGOTIATED POLITICAL SETTLEMENT. BORGE CONCEDED THAT SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS VISITED NICARAGUA, AND SAID THAT THE CASE OF COMANDANTE ANA MARIA AND SALVADOR CAYETANO CARPIO WAS WELL KNOWN. HE HASTENED TO ADD THAT GUERRILLA LEADERS ALSO OPERATED IN NUMEROUS OTHER COUNTRIES, SUCH AS MEXICO AND PANAMA, WHERE THEY WERE DEVELOPING A POLITICAL BASE. HE STATED FLATLY THAT THERE WERE NO SALVADORAN GUERRILLA LEADERS IN NICARAGUA AT THE PRESENT TIME. BORGE SAID HE WOULD NEITHER CONFERN NOR DENY ALLEGATIONS THAT NICARAGUA WAS TRANSPORTING ARMS TO THE GUERRILLAS. HE ADDED THAT THE IMPORTANT THING WAS TO ESTABLISH A CONTROL MECHANISM, THROUGH THE CONTADORA PROCESS, TO MONITOR THE BORDERS AND VERIFY THAT NO ARMS TRAFFICKING TOOK PLACE.

6. KASTEN THEN BROACHED THE SUBJECT OF THE GRN'S RELATIONSHIP WITH CUBA. HE SAID THAT LARGE NUMBERS OF CUBANS HAD DEPARTED NICARAGUA; WERE THEY LEAVING PERMANENTLY OR JUST FOR THEIR ANNUAL VACATION? HE FOLLOWED UP BY ASKING IF CUBAN MILITARY ADVISERS WOULD ALSO BE WITHDRAWN. BORGE REPLIED THAT THE TEACHERS AND MILITARY ADVISERS WERE TWO DISTINCT ISSUES. SOME 1,200 OF THE 2,000 CUBAN TEACHERS HAD RETURNED PERMANENTLY TO CUBA AND WOULD BE REPLACED BY NEWLY-TRAINED NICARAGUAN TEACHERS. THE OTHER 800 WOULD PARTICIPATE IN THE 1984 SCHOOL YEAR. BORGE E PLAINED THAT THE ISSUE OF MILITARY ADVISERS WAS FAR MORE COMPLEX. ANY UNDERDEVELOPED COUNTRY NEEDED FOREIGN EXPERTS TO ADVISE ITS ARMY. THIS WAS PARTICULARLY THE CASE IN NICARAGUA, WHERE AFTER 1979 THE GRN HAD TO CONVERT A GUERRILLA BAND INTO A PERMANENT ARMY. NICARAGUA HAD SOLICITED HELP FROM A VARIETY OF COUNTRIES, INCLUDING THE U.S. WHILE THE U.S. HAD REJECTED THIS REQUEST, CUBA HAD OFFERED GENEROUS HELP. NEVERTHELESS, THE GRN WAS WILLING TO SEND THE CUBAN ADVISERS HOME AS PART OF A GLOBAL NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT. BORGE INSISTED THAT UNLIKE OTHER COUNTRIES IN THE REGION, NICARAGUA DID NOT NEED AN ARMY TO SUPPRESS INTERNAL OPPOSITION BUT ONLY TO COMBAT EXTERNAL AGGRESSION.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

7. BORGE SCOFFED AT THE NOTION THAT NICARAGUA'S ARMY POSED A THREAT TO ITS NEIGHBORS. NOT ONLY DID THE GRN HAVE NO

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ UNCLASSIFIED

DESIRE TO BE AGGRESSIVE, HE INSISTED, BUT IT RECOGNIZED THAT ANY ATTACK ON HONDURAS WOULD PRECIPITATE IMMEDIATE U.S. INTERVENTION. HE ADDED THAT IF HONDURAS ATTACKED NICARAGUA, THE U.S. MIGHT ALSO INTERVENE, BUT NOT TO PROTECT NICARAGUA. THE GRN EARNESTLY DESIRED TO AVERT SUCH A CONFLICT AND HAD PROPOSED A NON-AGGRESSION PACT WITH HONDURAS AND THE WITHDRAWA OF FOREIGN MILITARY ADVISERS. KASTEN ASKED IF THIS TRANSLATED INTO TRADING OFF CUBAN ADVISERS FOR AMERICAN ADVISERS, NOTING THAT THE NUMBERS WERE DISPROPORTIONATE. BORGE REPLIED THAT THERE WERE ONLY 200 CUBAN MILITARY ADVISERS IN NICARAGUA. KASTEN PRESSED BORGE ON THIS MATTER, AND BORGE INSISTED THAT THERE WERE NO SOVIET, EAST GERMAN, OR BULGARIAN MILITARY OR SECURITY ADVISERS IN NICARAGUA. HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT TWO VIETNAMESE HAD BEEN IN NICARAGUA PREVIOUSLY, BUT NOTED THAT IT WAS PANAMA WHO HAD PROVIDED ADVISERS TO TRAIN THE SANDINISTA POLICE. HE REITERATED THAT THE GRN WAS WILLING TO SEE THE CUBAN ADVISERS GO, BUT SUGGESTED THAT IT WOULD BE STUPID TO WITHDRAW THEM WITHOUT NEGOTIATIONS. BORGE ADDED THAT HE WAS NOT TERRIBLY CONCERNED BY THE MERE PRESENCE OF U.S. ADVISERS IN THE REGION; THE IMPORTANT THING WAS THAT THES ADVISERS NOT BE USED TO PROMOTE AGGRESSION.

8. KASTEN STATED THAT THE AVOIDANCE OF A WIDER CONFLICT WAS A GOAL WHICH HE SHARED AND WHICH MANY MEMBERS OF CONGRESS FELT STRONGLY ABOUT. HOWEVER, THERE WAS A GENERAL PERCEPTION THAT NICARAGUA WAS A PART OF THE PROBLEM OF INSTABILITY, AND THAT CUBA AND NICARAGUA WERE ACTIVELY SUPPORTING THE SALVADORA GUERRILLAS. HE RETURNED TO THE QUESTION OF THE FMLN COMMAND AND CONTROL CENTER WHICH OPERATED INSIDE NICARAGUA AND SAID THAT THE CONGRESS WANTED THESE LINKS SEVERED. BORGE ASSURED THE SENATOR THAT THE SANDINISTAS WERE VERY JEALOUS OF THEIR

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NATIONAL DIGNITY AND INSISTED THAT ADVISERS ONLY GAVE ADVICE, AND IT WAS NICARAGUANS WHO MADE THE DECISIONS. HE CLAIMED SOME TEACHERS WHO HAD VIOLATED THE PROHIBITION ON POLITICAL ACTIVITY HAD BEEN RECALLED. BORGE INSISTED THAT REVOLUTIONS COULD NOT BE EXPORTED NOR COULD THEY BE CONTROLLED FROM ABROAD SUCCESSFULLY. CUBA CERTAINLY DID NOT CONTROL WHAT WENT ON IN NICARAGUA, AND NEITHER DID THE SOVIET UNION. HE SAID THAT THE KREMLIN DESIRED A NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT EVEN MORE THAN THE GRN, SINCE THE STRIFE IN THE REGION COULD LEAD TO A GENERALIZED CONFLICT.

9. KASTEN, WHO HAD BEEN IN GRENADA ONLY A FEW HOUS EARLIER,

NOTED THAT DURING HIS BRIEF VISIT TO THE ISLAND HE HAD OBTAINED THE IMPRESSION THAT IT WAS THE CUBANS WHO WERE BEING CONSERVATIVE AND THE SOVIETS WHO WERE AGGRESSIVE. MAURICE BISHOP HAD BEEN CLOSE TO THE CUBANS, BUT HE HAD BEEN OUSTED BY COARD AND AUSTIN, WHOSE TIES WERE TO MOSCOW. BORGE RESPONDED THAT THE SITUATION WAS ACTUALLY MORE COMPLEX THAN KASTEN HAD SUGGESTED. HE EXPLAINED THAT WHILE COARD AND AUSTIN WERE INDEED RADICALS AND PRO-MOSCOW, THEY WERE NOT UNDER THE CONTROL OF THE SOVIET UNION. HE COMPARED THIS WITH THE SITUATION IN NICARAGUA, WHERE THE COMMUNIST PARTY WAS STRONGLY PRO-SOVIET, BUT MOSCOW CHOSE TO MAINTAIN ITS TIES WITH THE FSLN. COARD AND AUSTIN WERE PRONE TO VIOLENCE, AND ON THEIR OWN THEY TOOK ACTIONS WHICH HAD KILLED THE REVOLUTION. BORGE RECALLED THAT CASTRO HAD RECENTLY TOLD HIM THAT HE HAD URGED BISHOP TO BE CAUTIOUS. ACCORDING TO CASTRO, BISHOP HAD NOT EVEN MENTIONED THE TROUBLE THAT WAS BREWING, AND THAT MEANT THAT HE UNDERESTIMATED THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE THREAT.
